GYM FOR OVERFLOW AT LAUGHTON LECTURE

Announcement was made this week that arrangements have been completed to wire the high school gymnasium on the evening of Thursday, November 16, when stage and film star Charles Laughton comes to Winchester to tell his famous stories under the auspices of the Winchester Mothers' Association for the benefit of the town's Scholarship Foundation.

With a public address system carrying Mr. Laughton's voice from the auditorium to the gymnasium, it will be possible for many more to enjoy this dramatic event than could be accommodated if just the auditorium were used.

Primarily the use of the gymnasium is to afford school children the opportunity to hear Mr. Laughton, but adults, who are not fortunate enough to secure auditorium tickets, will also be accommodated there.

The Mothers' Association advertisement with full lecture details appears on the Theatre Page of this week's Star. Advance interest in Mr. Laughton's Winchester appearance makes the committee feel that auditorium seats will not be long available. If you want to enjoy this outstanding event don't wait too long!

BILLING'S SHOP IN WINCHESTER PROVING POPULAR

Winchester candy [illegible] are finding the confections at the new Billing's Shop on Thompson street very much to their liking, and wondering what there is about these tempting sweets that makes them different.

A secret blend of the chocolate used to coat Billing's chocolates is a part of the reason their candies are so delicious, with the manufacturing know how that comes from more than thirty years of experience also playing an important part.

Billing's has shops in Brockton and at Scituate Harbor as well as outlets on the Cape. It's most recently opened shop, that at 22 Thompson street, was opened September 15.

It really looks as if something will have to be done about the old bleacher seats that have been in use for 20 years or more at athletic contests on Manchester Field and elsewhere in town. The State has given them a green light for the remainder of the present football season, but it isn't likely that they can be used another year, particularly if they sit out all winter as they have in the past. Something in the nature of concrete and steel based seats should be erected when these present bleachers go by the board, and whatever became of the idea of putting up permanent seats on the Main street banking beside the junior high school! The use of that banking for seating was the reason for the placing of the regular gridiron on the easterly side of the field where there wasn't sufficient room to enclose it with the running track as the high school athletic authorities wished. The plan for permanent seats on the banking and the possibility of an addition to the junior high school extending into the playing surface of the playground (apparently no longer contemplated) prevented a much better layout of the athletic field than that we now have!

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Winchester residents may be interested in the following notice of the School Committee's policy concerning school attendance. Copies of this notice have been given to pupils to take home to their parents.

Important: Please Read Carefully

To All Patrons:

In order to prevent any misunderstandings, and to assure our patrons of our desire to do the best thing for individual pupils and the school system as a whole, the School Committee desires to state publicly its policy concerning school attendance.

I - The School Committee is interested in the safety and health of the children, as well as in their regular, well planned instruction.

II - The schools will be kept open every day possible. In case of unusually severe weather or travel conditions, the Superintendent may, at his discretion, close the schools.

III - There are many competent observers who believe that the safety of our children is greater when they are in school than when they are not. However, the schools may be open on days when the parent feels it inadvisable to send the child for reasons of health or safety. On such days, the parent should decide on what he thinks is for the best interests of the child.

IV - Sometimes, the weather may improve to such an extent soon after the opening of school that the pupil can reach school safely and without danger to his health. Although he may be tardy, the parent should send him with a note to the school explaining the tardiness.

V - When a large percentage of pupils is absent, the teachers will not take up any new work. In any case, every effort will be made to help pupils make up the work that has been missed.

VI - Whenever a self [illegible] for any reason, the pupil must present a note from the parent [illegible]

FINE ATHLETE LEAVING WINCHESTER

When Francis J. Tansey of Nelson street leaves town soon to take up residence in Buffalo, N. Y., there will depart one of Winchester's greatest pitchers and an exceptionally versatile athlete who could play well about any game he chose.

Tansey was a substitute back on Winchester High School's championship elven of 1922, being a shifty runner and an excellent pass receiver. He gave up football because of his baseball ability and from a breaking-in lefthanded shortstop he developed into perhaps Winchester's greatest left handed pitcher, a hurler who almost single handed brought two championships to the high school while hanging up the amazing record of pitching and winning four games in one week.

After high school Francis pitched a lot of semi-pro ball, but overwork in high school had taken its toll and he never fulfilled the promise he gave as a schoolboy.

Next to baseball Francis is best remembered as a basketball player, a canny forward with a fine shot, smooth ball handling, good court sense and the ability to make opposing players foul him a lot during action on the court. Tansey would rank with the best of Winchester basketball just as he would among the top flight ball players of the town.

When Francis was breaking in at high school he was overshadowed by his older brother, Joe, a brilliant all around athlete, who later starred in football and baseball at Norwich, captaining the varsity eleven.

It didn't take the smaller and younger of the two Tansey brothers long, however, to win stardom in his own right and those who watched him on the pitching rubber and the forecourt of a basketball floor will long remember him.

In recent years Francis has played a bit of soft ball but never appeared to take the game too seriously. He has headed Winchester Lodge of Elks and has twice been elected a constable of Winchester. He will take with him to Buffalo the best wishes of a host of friends, including all those who remember his great work in the field of sports.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB SUPPER MEETING

On Saturday, October 14 at 7 o'clock the Wednesday Night Club of the First Congregational Church will have a covered dish supper followed by a square dance.

Here is an opportunity for those who like a home cooked meal and enjoy a good old fashioned square dance. Come and store up your energy at the supper table and then work it off in the Parish Hall as you "Take your partner."

The price of admission is only fifty cents for the gentleman and a casserole or dessert for his lady. No one is too old or too young to join in the fun so mark off the date on your calendar and come to join us at the Wednesday Night Club's first party of the year. You can't beat the price, the food, or the fun.

For reservations, please call Margaret Pexton WI 6-1233-M or Charlotte Jason WI 6-1230-M.

The previously planned picnic outing was canceled because the weather in late September was so cold.

METCALF UNION

The High School age young people of the Winchester Unitarian Church will meet at the church on Sunday evening to go in a group to Melrose where they will attend a Fall Conference of the American Unitarian Youth. Plans for an active Fall season have been made. Miss Martha Hewins is chairman of the supper committee and Darrell Harvey is chairman of the refreshment committee for a dance to be held on October 28th. Floor show numbers will be featured during the intermission of the dance which promises to be an original affair. A Junior High Fellowship is in the process of being organized.

CHURCH SCHOOL

Mrs. Richard D. Bolster, Director of the Upper School of the Winchester Unitarian Church School announces the following new teachers who have been added to the staff to accommodate the increased enrollment. Mrs. Antonio Mezzacappa, Mr. Henry Wilson Nenn, Mr. Bradford Darling, Mr. Manning Morrill and Mr. Herbert Black. Courses of study include the life of Moses and the Ten Commandments, the Life of Jesus, One God, The Church Across the Street and the Old Testament for High School students. Announcement of the Lower School activities will be made later.

RELIGION AND BUSINESS

This coming Sunday morning at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will preach on the problem of business and religious relationships. Disputing the idea that "religion and business do not mix" the pastor will endeavor to present concrete evidence of the success of men in business who have endeavored to hold the high standards of Christian ethics. He will also stress the value of any endeavor in its relationship to Christian standards, whether [illegible]

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The first Fortnightly Meeting of the season will be held next Monday, October 9th, at Masonic Hall at 1 o'clock with a reception to new members. Mrs. Ragnar Brandt and Mrs. Kenneth Lamprey will be hostesses at the Dessert hour which will be held from 1 to 2 o'clock. The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe, president, presiding.

Arrangements will be discussed for the main money-raising event of the year which is the Rummage Sale to be held on October 17th, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Lora Rhodes who is assisted by her many tireless workers. Much remains to be done to complete plans for this huge undertaking, and an army of Fortnightly volunteers will soon be taking over the small Town Hall for this sale. Each member is urged to contribute to the success of this undertaking.

A musical program by Mr. H. Whipple Abbott and Miss Margaret F. Abbott promises to provide delightful entertainment for the afternoon. A large membership is expected to be present.

WHY CONTRIBUTE MORE?

The United Community Services has pledged its support to civil defense plans in Boston and Region 5, which includes Winchester.

The Executive board also voted to include, in the coming Campaign, Metropolitan Boston's share in Associated Services for the Armed Forces Inc. This is a patriotic agency, founded in April, to serve men and women in the Armed Forces, both in this country and abroad.

What does this mean to you? It is well known that Boston is one of 20 cities most likely to be bombed and Red Feather Services in this area would be called upon to face the shattering possibilities of atomic attack or the grave crisis of another world war. The effectiveness of the Red Feather's help depends upon sound continuation and expansion of its social and health agencies, which means we all must contribute a little more this week.

On top of all the regular expenses, the funds for Armed Forces Inc., will be considerable and out of gratitude alone for what the Service People are doing it's not asking too much that we contribute directly to their benefit.

Whether you realize it or not you are benefiting from the Red Feather Services. Example: The Winchester Hospital gets some funds, if they didn't get those funds they would have to get the money from some other source, hence you would pay slightly more for a room or other services and based on the latest figures we have that additional cost per admittance would have been $7.00!!! Can you afford to give part of that as an additional pledge this year?

We hope you will all do your best, this year, if you made just one donation last year, when the solicitor came around, how about matching it with a pledge and giving the same amount in six months. Remember, the Red Feather Services are working 365 days a year.

TAXES

The Star has on display in its window an original cartoon by Elder Moll which appeared at the beginning of the Second World War in the Washington Post. The drawing is loaned by Mr. James T. Haslam of Winchester terrace.

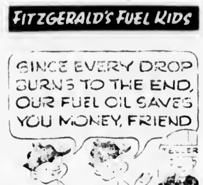

It will be remembered that the First World War ended with a big debt, and it will be remembered that President Roosevelt stated that it would not happen again. It will be further remembered that the debt after the Second World War made the first debt look like peanuts.

At this time, with the possibility of a Third World War and the great tax burden being imposed upon the people, this cartoon is interesting.

MID-KOREA: THE NEW BATTLEGROUND

AREAS OF BOLD UN COUNTEROFFENSIVE ILLUSTRATED BY NEW GEOGRAPHIC MAP

With the development of the long awaited, all-out counteroffensive in Korea, United Nations forces are fighting their way into the peninsula's battered but highly strategic heartland.

The locale of these operations, which usher in the fourth month of fighting, is illustrated in easy-to-grasp detail by a new map of central Korea, especially prepared for newspaper use by the National Geographic Society. This cartographic study portrays an area which includes the nation's chief centers of communication, its two most populous cities, and many of the most important industrial concentrations.

The map is the second to be issued by the Society presenting operational theaters in Korea. The first, released in July, covered the southern part of the peninsula where for many bitter weeks the hard pressed UN troops fought a [illegible] against [illegible] odds.

[illegible] September 17.

Central Assault May Trap Reds

Significantly, the west coast amphibious assault brought UN troops ashore on one flank of the Korean peninsula's relatively narrow "waist." If the southern part of the peninsula could be sealed-up by a line from Seoul eastward across to the Sea of Japan, the Red aggressors would be caught in a [illegible] bottle.

Readers studying the new map will note at a glance the importance of Seoul as a communication center. It can almost be said of this city, as of ancient Rome, that "all roads lead to Seoul." It is the capital of the Republic of Korea (South Korea), and many of the major highways and railroads converge there. On the map these transportation arteries seem to form a number of spidery "X" shapes with their cross points at the capital.

A lesser but similar concentration of rail and road lines can be observed farther north at Pyongyang, the communist capital in North Korea.

The two seats of government are the largest metropolitan centers in Korea. Seoul, with a 1940 population of more than 935,000, is the No. 1 city in size, followed by Pyongyang with 286,000. Other relatively [illegible] centers in the map area [illegible] Kaesong, Haeju, Chinnampo, Taejon, and Kyomipo.

Transport Facilities Inadequate

[illegible] However, [illegible] standards, [illegible] Most highways are [illegible] the double-track railroad. This line begins at Pusan in the south and runs northwest to the Manchurian border. Vital intermediate points are Taegu, Taejon, Seoul, and Pyongyang. There is also a double-track spur from Inchon to Seoul.

The Japanese practice of depicting as realities highways and railroads yet in the planning stage has resulted in some misrepresentation on existing maps of Korea which depended upon Japanese information. The new map issued by the Society corrects these inaccuracies as regards the central area, just as the earlier map presented correct current information on the transportation network of the peninsula's southern extremity.

Popular usage has resulted in frequent misspellings of two important Korean place names. Kimpo, site of the big airfield near Seoul, often is labeled "Kimpo"; the east coast town of Ulchin is familiarly but incorrectly known as "Utchin." For the sake of clarity, the popular usages are indicated on the map in parentheses after the geographically correct names.

There are a total of 164 place names on the map, representing all of the more important locations in an area that includes innumerable small villages and hamlets.

Flat Rice Basket in West

Central Korea, like nearly all the rest of the nation, is hilly or mountainous. An exception is the relatively narrow coastal strip along the Yellow Sea where there are many flat areas given to rice cultivation, with drainage and irrigation ditches criss-crossing the fields. [illegible]

[illegible] South Korean marines seized a number of strategic coastal islands. Notable among them were Tokchok, Soijak, and Yonghung.

Industrial Plants Leveled

Most of the strategic industrial plants in central Korea have been devastated by the hard-hitting bomb strikes of the UN air forces. Among the noteworthy industrial areas are the Seoul-Inchon sector, with its railroad shops, ordnance plants, and tool factories, and the Pyongyang-Chinnampo-Kyomipo sector, site of steel, light metal and chemical plants, a Japanese-built arsenal, and a variety of heavy industry.

Until struck by B-29 raids, the east coast city of Wonsan was a large refining center with an annual capacity in excess of two million barrels of petroleum products. Samchok, coastal town farther south, has been a center of Korea's anthracite production.

In unleashing a counteroffensive, the allied forces are powering their way into areas initially overrun by the Reds in the fateful aggression which, like Pearl Harbor, began on a Sabbath morning. Armored spearheads first attacked in the Ongjin, Kaesong, and Chunchon sectors, just below the 38th parallel, on Sunday, June 25.

Red Hordes Outflanked Defenders

Then, with overwhelming numerical superiority, the Communist forces began a series of enveloping movements which time after time outflanked the South Korean defenders [illegible] line of U. S. After a series of stubborn holding actions, a successful defensive position ultimately was stabilized along the Pohang-Taegu-Masan line, roughly rectangular "box" protecting the vital southern supply port of Pusan.

SHORT BUT EXCITING RADAR STORY GAINS NEW CHAPTER IN KOREA WAR

Radar, the wonder weapon of World War II, is in the van of battle action on the Korean front.

Reports that radar equipment is aiding B-29's to pierce the overcast above North Korean targets are adding new adventures to the short but drama-packed story of this electronics gadget whose very existence was almost unknown a decade ago, notes the National Geographic Society.

The young science and industry, grown to astronomical proportions, now caters to both civilian and military demands. Under Congressional authorization of $160,000,000, a U. S. - encircling radar network, to warn of approaching hostile planes or missiles, is being rushed toward completion.

Yet the bare official statement that the Army and Navy were using such a device was news in 1942. And it was not until V-J Day that an account of radar's extraordinary wartime role was published in detail.

Uses Echo Principle

The word radar is made up of the first letters of the phrase radio detection (the direction of the target sought), and ranging (its distance away). Radiolocation is another word for the technique.

The principle behind radar is the same as that involved in estimating one's distance from a cliff by the time it takes a shout to return in the form of an echo. The echo's return, gauged by the speed of sound, is measured in seconds on a stop watch. In radar the measuring stick is ultra short, high-frequency radio waves, sent out electronically in pulses that strike some distant object and return to the mechanism. With advanced equipment, a maplike picture of such objectives as harbors, rivers, or factory concentrations is revealed on a fluorescent screen.

The possibility that radio waves might be used to pierce fog or darkness was hinted at back in 1886, when it was proved that solid objects reflect such waves. By the 1930's, various nations, including the United States, Great Britain, France, and Germany, were independently investigating the military potentialities.

The world's first operational radar system was set up in 1935 by British pioneers, who established a chain of stations on the east coast of England.

Major War Factor

The superiority of the Allies in radar operation, including counter measures that offset the Axis use of radar and tricks to jam and confuse Allied signals, is credited with being the chief single factor in the winning of World War II.

In the desperate Battle of Britain, the valiant few were able to turn back the hordes of German bombers because of radar information on the enemy's course and strength. Radar made it possible to track down vital objectives regardless of clouds and darkness; to guide searchlights to enemy planes; to aim with absolute accuracy antiaircraft and other guns; to distinguish between friendly and hostile planes by automatic code signals.

With these and other capacities, radar played a leading role in practically every major action of the war, from fighting the Atlantic submarine menace and shooting down flying bombs over London, to the invasion of Europe and the dropping of A-bombs in Japan.

Civilian Use Growing

Since the big war's end, constantly improving radar has been turned to many civilian needs. Set up at airports, it brings commercial transports down through the heaviest overcast, and in foggy harbors clears safe lanes for congested traffic. It is used to prevent collisions between planes and ships. It is valuable to weathermen in tracking storms; to whalers in warning of icebergs; to physicists in studying meteors streaking through the earth's atmosphere.

By adding to the safety and efficiency of "Operation Vittles," radar was an important element in the spectacular success of the Berlin Airlift which flew supplies to the German capital over the Russian land blockade.

Even the moon is within range, as was proved in 1946 when scientists of the U. S. Army Signal Corps timed the round trip of radio waves bounced off the surface of that celestial body for the first time.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Circus attendants say that the polar bear suffers less from extreme heat than do the cat animals — tigers, leopards, and lions.

The legend of Paul Bunyan, the giant who used trees for toothpicks, lives on in natural and man-made wonders of the West, notes the National Geographic Society. At Hells Canyon, the gorge of the Snake River between Oregon and Idaho is America's deepest chasm. The world's largest earthfill dam is Fort Peck, in Montana. The three highest dams, Hoover, Shasta, and Grand Coulee, are respectively in Arizona-Nevada, California, and Washington.

New England, in an area which is considered to be generally unsusceptible to earthquakes, has felt an average of one fairly severe shock every year since colonial times, notes the National Geographic Society.

The goldenrod (genus Solidago) is claimed by more states as their official state flower than any other American plant. Nebraska adopted the goldenrod by legislative act in 1895, with Kentucky following in 1926 and Alabama in 1927. North Carolina claims "the flower by common consent."

A single silkworm cocoon may yield 400 to 1,000 yards of filament. So delicate is this strand that some 2,000 to 3,000 cocoons are required to produce one pound of silk.

WAR DOGS CALLED UP AGAIN FOR DUTY ON KOREAN FRONT

U. S. war dogs are headed back into action. The report that "K-9" (canine) warriors are being sent to the Korean front from a California Army base is a reminder that fighting dogs, like ground troops, have not yet been replaced by "push-button" warfare.

From prehistoric times, the dog's acute sense of smell and hearing, his watchfulness, speed, and above all his devotion to man, have made this animal a valuable military ally, notes the National Geographic Society.

By World War I, practically all the major belligerents, except the United States, were training many thousands of dogs for sentinel, messenger, rescue and other duties. During World War II, Uncle Sam put into effect his first war-dog program, an extensive operation in which more than 10,000 American "Wags" were prepared for military service. Many of these K-9 soldiers performed deeds of heroism in battle theaters that ranged from snowy fields of the Far North to the tropic jungles of Pacific islands.

Altogether some 18,000 dogs were donated for military duty by American owners. Among the 30-odd suitable breeds were Doberman Pinschers, Airedales, Boxers, German Shepherds, and Giant Schnauzers, along with such sturdy pack dogs as Alaska Malamutes and Siberian Huskies.

The selection, training and distribution of the canine enlistees was a responsibility of the Quartermaster Corps, which was aided in early recruitment by the volunteer civilian agency "Dogs for Defense, Inc." Special centers were set up to develop expert dog handlers drawn from Army, Marine and Coast Guard ranks. This was as essential to the program as the dogs, since man and beast were trained as teams.

Incoming four-footed GI's were required to pass stiff physical examination before induction, and later subjected to careful psychological tests to determine their adaptability for specific types of service.

Aggressiveness, combined with obedience to orders, for instance, was a "must" for attack dogs trained to hold prowlers and fugitives. On the other hand, perseverence and underaggressiveness were outstanding requirements for such work as carrying secret codes, new orders, or frantic appeals for more ammunition over difficult terrain; for establishing advance communication lines, and especially for the humane task of locating and reporting on the wounded.

In general — besides scenting power, alertness to sounds, and endurance intelligence, willingness, and reliability under gunfire were the traits looked for in picking the war dog "most likely to succeed." Today, in the often Indianlike struggle going on in Korea, it has been suggested that such trained assistants might be especially useful in checking the enemy's guerilla infiltration of UN lines.

At the outbreak of Korean hostilities, the U. S. Army was maintaining on active duty only one platoon of war dogs, stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas. Most K-9 warriors of World War II had long since been returned to civilian life. All the four footed veterans were conscientiously de-trained before demobilization, in order to insure proper peacetime behavior.

When many of the dogs returned to their dognj,ftaintainyfbwl TH to their prewar masters, they had won their title as "man's hest friend." They proved it hy citations for valor under fire; for carrying messages while hurt; for leading an enemy-surrounded party safely back to base; for scaling walls and squeezing past barbed wire entanglements to seek out the wounded.

BETTER WEATHER AHEAD IN KOREA AS SUMMER MONSOON SEASON ENDS

Korea's summer monsoon period, with its frequent torrential downpours, is on the wane, ushering in a season of good operational weather over the war-torn peninsula.

In September Korean weather begins its shift to the winter monsoon, notes the National Geographic Society. Winter is the dry season when skies generally are clear and visibility excellent. By November the change should be complete, but meanwhile the weather can be expected to improve somewhat from week to week, gradually freeing roads and fields from the summer mire.

The winter monsoon season promises to be of more benefit to the United Nations forces than to the Communist aggressors. The defenders have had overwhelming air superiority, but operations frequently have been hampered by bad weather. In the new season, this handicap should disappear, facilitating the fullest employment of UN air might.

July Weather Troublesome

Flight operations were reported curtailed for two or three days at a time on several occasions during July, the month of heaviest rainfall. In periods of adverse weather the number of sorties flown sometimes was reduced 15 to 20 per cent. One particularly bad spell of weather early in September virtually deprived the ground forces of critically needed air support for 48 hours.

Korea's seasonal weather change results from a shift in the prevailing winds. In summer the air flow is from the Pacific, and heavily laden with moisture. In winter the winds come from the Asiatic continent, bringing cold, dry air masses.

In winter the temperatures in North Korea often are much colder than in the States. The average annual temperature in the northern part of the peninsula is 38 degrees, whereas it is 58 degrees in the southern portion, now the scene of the fighting. Korean winter temperatures average about six degrees lower than those of the Eastern Seaboard of the U. S. from Portsmouth, N. H., to Charleston, S. C., an area which approximates the latitude of the peninsula.

Most of Korea experiences some snow during the winter. However, precipitation is relatively light in these months. Many sections receive ten times as much moisture in July as in January, which is the driest month of the year. The dry season lasts until March or April when the weather again begins changing to the summer monsoon.

Icing is not a serious hazard for airplanes operating over Korea in winter. Although the weather frequently is cold, the air is dry, particularly in the North. Cloud amount is at a minimum, with an average of 10 to 15 clear days during each of the winter months.

WINTHROP HERE TOMORROW

Winchester High plays its annual football game with Winthrop High tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field, with the kickoff at 2 o'clock, or half an hour earlier than the previous games.

Winthrop dropped a 13 - 0 decision to Amesbury last week and surely should not prove as formidable opposition as Watertown furnished last week.

Winchester's chief difficulty this week is likely to be overconfidence, or the letdown which often follows a tough game for which a team has been highly keyed.

Winthrop has generally given Winchester [illegible] exception [illegible] to do a lot of passing [illegible] connection they should not [illegible] better than Watertown, [illegible] Lopez has one of the better [illegible] boy chuckers.

Don't forget the new starting time, 2 p. m. There will again be a section reserved for adults.

Mr. Kenneth F. Caldwell, a member of the Park Board and former member of the School and Finance Committees, has reportedly sold his home on Bushcliff road and is moving into an apartment on Mt. Vernon street in Boston.

WINCHESTER SCORED UPSET

Fighting Indians Edged Favored Watertown, 7 - 6, in Grid Thriller

Winchester's fast improving young football team confounded the experts and sent home a big crowd of faithful rooters delirious with joy last Saturday by edging a highly favored Watertown High eleven, 7 - 6, in a stubbornly contested and thrilling battle at Victory Field, Watertown.

A crowd estimated as about 4000 saw the game with partisans of both teams limp at the finish. Watertown rooters were stunned as they saw their vaunted team, with a big weight advantage, outplayed most of the way by an inspired Winchester team that had been equipped with an excellent defense to stop the Scarlet, both in the air and on the ground, and that had the plays and drive to gain consistently when in possession of the ball.

Most Winchester rooters went to Watertown hoping for the best. At the end of a scoreless half, during which Winchester completely dominated play, they were still doubtful, but as the game wore on and the local youngsters showed no signs of cracking, their supporters took heart and even after Watertown had scored there was no [illegible] in the Winchester stands [illegible] with the locals [illegible] the Watertown 14, [illegible]

[illegible] 118 yards [illegible] of 14 [illegible] yards. The Scarlet lost 60 yards in penalties, including three 15 yarders for illegal use of the hands, while Winchester lost 25 yards to the white pants, including one 15 yarder for holding. Watertown recovered one of its two fumbles while Winchester got back three of its five loose balls.

Winchester had a great scoring chance in the opening minutes of the game. Johnson ran the kickoff back to the 33 and Johnson and O'Brien made it first down at the 48. Donlon picked up five and Johnson bucked to within inches of a second first down, which O'Brien quickly made at the Watertown 42.

Here Johnson lost a yard, but on the next play Johnson got out into the left flat all alone at the 20, only to have Donlon's pass overshoot him by a good 10 yards.

Watertown lost 15 yards for slugging on the next play, but Winchester couldn't capitalize, fumbling the ball away to Watertown's Vlachos at the 30.

The second quarter wasn't far along when Lopez kicked to Donlon and big Joe tripped and fell as he caught the ball at his 29.

O'Brien immediately broke through for a first down at the 40, only to have a handoff play to Johnson lose 8 long yards. On the next play Donlon took a pitchout from Michelsen and tossed off a pass on which Cirurso made a circus catch just inside the touch line at the Watertown 45.

After Johnson had picked up two, Donlon again passed down the field, this time to Billy Walden who was downed on the six.

Donlon passed out in the flat to Cirurso, who again made a great catch which was ruled out of bounds on a very, very close decision indeed! A decision the other way would have given the locals the ball at the two.

With the ball at the six O'Brien was stopped with a yard and Errico was dumped [illegible] on the 10 where a Donlon [illegible] pass went bad, Watertown taking over.

The Scarlet [illegible] and Lopez got off a [illegible] spiral that carried 67 yards [illegible] line of scrimmage at the Watertown 2[illegible] Winchester [illegible] where Donlon [illegible] Winchester [illegible] yards.

The half ended [illegible] plays [illegible] Winchester didn't cool off during the intermission. The locals stopped the Scarlet after the kickoff and Lopez booted another good punt to the Winchester 4 with Donlon [illegible] the 17.

Johnson and O'Brien made it first down at the 27, with Johnson busting through for another first down at the 37. Donlon added three, but O'Brien lost a yard, before Donlon again arched off a long pass, on which Walden made a great catch over his head about the Watertown 25.

In trying to get the ball into the crook of his arm, Walden hit the oval with his hip pad and the ball squirted from his arms after Billy had run about 10 yards. It was of course a free ball, and Billy succeeded in scooping it up and reaching the six before he was brought down from behind.

Watertown sent in a flock of subs at this point and Winchester scored in two plays, O'Brien bucking for one and Michelsen sneaking up the middle for six yards and the touchdown that sent the Winchester stands into transports of delight.

Big Langdon Smith put one right through the middle from placement with a perfect kick, high, strong and right on the beam.

Through the remainder of the longest third quarter we can remember Winchester held Watertown safely, and in the opening minutes of the last period the locals had a first and ten at the Watertown 22.

The Indians, however, lost five for off-side and on the next play Lopez intercepted a pass to get back to the Watertown 26.

The Scarlet was passing at this point and heaves from Lopez to Stackpole and then to O'Hara, advanced the ball to Watertown's 48.

[illegible]

[illegible] wheeling away [illegible] a Winchester tackler who had him trapped behind the scrimmage line.

Watertown elected to pass for the extra point and the middle of the local line knocked down the quarterback, killing the ball at that spot, even though the toss was gotten away. There was no completion anyhow, and an attempted short kickoff that didn't go the legal yardage gave Winchester the ball at the Watertown 44.

The tired locals couldn't get through the big Watertown frontier and Griffin kicked to Lopez who was downed by Johnson at the Watertown 27.

Then with every Winchester rooter holding his breath, Watertown took to the air, trying five successive passes when a Winchester offside gave the Scarlet an extra chance.

When the sprinting Stackpole just failed to hold the last aerial Winchester took over at the 27, Johnson busting through to the 17 and Donlon reaching the 14 as the game ended.

WINCHESTER HARRIERS BEATEN AT WOBURN

Winchester High School's cross country team dropped a 24 to 32 decision to the Woburn Harriers at Woburn last Friday afternoon, with the Orange captain, "Eddie" Dineen winning individual honors and breaking the course record.

Lack of a fifth scorer hurt Winchester's chances, as did the fact that Captain Johnny Foley was well off his usual form. To offset this, however, Dick Rush ran his best race, finishing 8th.

Dineen was clocked in 14m 31s, winning as he pleased. Dave Ryan, another Woburn boy, finished second with Charlie Murphy, first home for Winchester in third place, followed by Peter Coon, running fourth.

The Winchester Junior Varsity's long winning streak was terminated by the Woburn Jay Vees, who won decisively, 20 - 35.

The summary:

Won by Dineen (Wob) 2nd, Ryan (Wob); 3rd, Murphy (Win); 4th, Coon (Win); 5th Hanlon (Wob); 6th, Bird (Win); 7th, Forrester (Wob); 8th, Rush (Win); 9th, Gonsalves (Wob); 10th, Dalesio (Wob); 11th, Foley (Win); 12th, Godwin (Win); 13th, Linehan (Wob); 14th, Bratt (Wob); 15th, Moroney (Win). WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Mr. Edward H. Kenerson, President of the Hospital's Board, is presiding at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of Winchester Hospital's new wing at four o'clock on Wednesday, October 8th. Guests will include Dr. A. Daniels Rubenstein, representing the Division of Hospital Survey and Construction and the State Department of Health, and Mr. James H. Ritchie, head of the architects of the project. Officials of the Mass.-achusetts Hospital Association and the Hospital Council of Metropolitan Boston will also be present, as will administrators of several neighboring hospitals.

The event has special interest to this community because the cornerstone being used is the one laid in the First Winchester Hospital on May 18, 1916, by the group pictured above: Miss Kate Pond, Mrs. Ellen Metcalf, Mrs. Joshua Cott, Mrs. Henry L. Houghton, Mrs. Edwin C. Gilman, Mrs. Mott A. Cummings, Miss M. Alice Mason, Mrs. Owen G. Sanborn, Mrs. William I. Palmer, and Mrs. Frederic S. Snyder. On that historic day Miss Pond presided, the stone was laid by Mrs. Cott and Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. Houghton read the historical address, and the endowment gift of $50,000 from the will of Mrs. Sophronia Harrington was announced by Mrs. Metcalf at the conclusion of the program. The widow of Mrs. Harrington's gift had been well spent, and its announcement gave welcome confidence to the group who were committed to the total expenditure of $86,178.26 for the land at the corner of Highland avenue and Fairmount, for the purchase of a residence to serve as a Nurses' Home, and for the construction of a 50-bed hospital. $19,000 remained to be raised when the cornerstone was laid, and Mrs. Harrington's bequest became final only when the total sum had been raised.

For the ceremony this week, the original board will be represented by the presence in person of two of its members: Miss M. Alice Mason and Mrs. William I. Palmer. Others will be represented as follows: Miss Kate Pond by her nephew, Mr Kenneth Pond; Mrs. Joshua Cott by her great-granddaughter Miss Amy Cott and her great-grandson Mr. Robert Cott; Mrs. Henry L. Houghton by her daughter Miss Harriet Houghton, Mrs. Sanborn by her daughter Mrs. Edward Hamlin, and Mrs. Snyder by her sister Miss Grace Wills.

The proceedings will be reported in full in next week's Star.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department's first call over the past week-end came at 9:55 last Friday morning for a flooded range burner at the home of Mr. Carl Thomas, 9 Water street.

At 1:56 p. m. Sunday, Box 271 was sounded for a smoke-filled house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James St. Clair, 6 Bacon street. The firemen found that a piece of steak burning in the oven of the kitchen was responsible for the smoke.

At 3:59 Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Pietro Provinzano, phoned that a shed was afire at her home, 37 Florence street. Box 37 was put on for this fire, which was found to have been set by an eight-year-old boy, who was rounded up by Chief James E. Callahan, and warned about further playing with matches.

Shortly after this call the department was called to the new town dump for a brisk fire there. More help was needed to fight this fire and a squad call, 7 - 7 - 35 was put on at 6:05.

Past National Commander of the American Legion, Daniel J. Doherty, 247 Highland avenue, left Wednesday, October 4, for the National Convention at Los Angeles, California. He was accompanied by his son Daniel, Jr., a 10 year old sixth grade pupil at St. Mary's School. En route they will visit Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City, Denver and other points of interest.

LET SUNDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN USE THEIR IMAGINATION

"Never lecture or read to a Sunday School class for more than eight minutes at a stretch, because they won't listen anyway. Give them something to do. Let them exercise their enormously fruitful imagination." Such was the advice of Prof. Edwin Wells, exponent of the Creative Method of teaching, at the Community School of Christian Education Monday evening at the Unitarian Church. The course continues through the next two Mondays. Mrs. Edwin Wells, who conducts the course for teachers of Grades 5 through 8, then gave a practical demonstration of some of the handwork which pupils love to do, either for themselves, as gifts to friends, or gifts to the Kindergarten groups. She led a spritely discussion of how Mary and Joseph may have used the gifts of the three Wise Men, all the while she was whipping up a palm tree out of crepe paper, or fashioning woolly lambs out of pipe cleaners and cotton.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Jost Michelsen, the congregation of well over a hundred "pretended" to be members of the Primary Department, and joined in the appropriately simple but impressive worship service which she had arranged. After the service the group visited the primary department chapel of the Unitarian Church, an ideal setting for quiet reverence for young children.

During the coffee hour, arranged by Mrs. Ray Manger and her committee, a remark was overheard, "This was 'one of those Winchester days', but even though I'm not a teacher I wouldn't miss the opportunity of hearing Dr. Ashton really make the Bible come alive. It's the best possible ending to a hectic day."

Rev. Donald Tarr acted as Dean in the absence of Dr. Forbes Norris. Mrs. Edward Winn aided in the circulation of the books from the Winchester Library.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The first meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Monday evening, October 2, in the American Legion Home, with the recently installed officers presiding. Our new President, Mrs. Charles Meek, Jr., conducted a most interesting and enlightening meeting for the large group of members who attended. We were honored to have two guests with years of experience in American Legion Auxiliary work. Mrs. Mary Norton, Department 2nd Vice President and chairman of Rehabilitation and Training Courses, gave a very descriptive talk on "Girls' State", a most worthwhile project that is sponsored by the Auxiliary for High School girls [illegible] Past State President and [illegible] told of her [illegible] conducting Auxiliary work in [illegible] Alaska and of the differences between [illegible] and those held in the [illegible] Territories [illegible] Northwest. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Lou Bennett served a delicious dessert and coffee.

Remember the Hallowe'en Party and Dance at the American Legion Home on Saturday evening October 28. The Auxiliary invites all its members and their friends to come and enjoy this evening of Fancy Costumes, games and refreshments. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes and there will be plenty of time for dancing too. For tickets contact either Frances Burr or Barbara Murphy, co-chairmen of the evening.

A MYSTERY

A resident of Ardley place gave the police something to think over when she reported that upon arriving home after a week-end away the family found an automobile which they had left in the garage to have been damaged about the right rear in their absence. Officer Parsons, who investigated, found the car had been damaged by striking the center upright of the garage. How the accident occurred is what is puzzling the authorities since the car was locked and so were the garage doors. Neighbors reported hearing a crash in the neighborhood while the owners of the machine were away.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB SINGING AT CONVENTION

The Mystic Glee Club will appear before its first national audience Saturday evening when it will sing in the Hotel Statler Ballroom in Boston for delegates attending the National Convention of the American Institute of Laundering. An audience of such proportions is expected that seats for the public are not available, even for the wives and families of the glee club. Preceding the club on the program for the evening is Governor Dever.

Keith Snyder will lead the singers in three groups of four numbers each and Barre will be piano interludes by Jack Gilbert, a member of the club. Mary Louise Middleton will be the accompanist.

Selection of the Mystic Glee Club to sing for the convention of the Laundry Institute is considered a distinct compliment and an index of the high standing the Winchester choir has achieved among musical groups in Greater Boston.

NOTICE

Police Chief Charles J. Harrod has asked the Star to caution residents who are asked to buy "tickets" purporting to aid local veterans' causes and families of the glee club. Preceding the club on the program for the evening is Governor Dever.

If local persons buy tickets for some function and learn later that they did not know what they were buying, or from whom, they should not appeal to the police, who can do nothing to straighten out mistakes of that kind.

WHERE THE STAR'S MONEY GOES

Why, that's simple.

With a small exception all the Star's money goes to Winchester.

Everything entering into the publication of the Star which can be bought in Winchester IS bought in Winchester.

This pertains to everything except some essential items not purchasable in Winchester.

The Star employees, from the Boss down, purchase in Winchester.

When Winchester merchants advertise in the Star — or have their printing done at the Star Office — their money comes back to them.

VOL. LXX NO. 8 THE WINCHESTER MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1950 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

WINCHESTER ANNOUNCES GOAL!

Within another fortnight tens of thousands of Red Feather volunteers will be pulling at the heart strings of neighbors and fellow workers to assure success of this year's most critical campaign.

Campaign Chairman Forrester A. Clark has announced a realistic goal of $7,000,000, an increase of $1,200,000 over the amount raised last year. He cites as the three major objectives for 1951: strengthening of Red Feather health, social and recreational services of Metropolitan Boston; adequate reserves to meet any war emergency; and providing services to the armed forces through Associated Services to the Armed Forces, the reactivated USO.

Here in Winchester, Community Chairman Charles W. Butler announces a local goal of $58,000. In order to meet this he proposes a "fair share" plan whereby solicitors suggest to contributors the amount each might reasonably be expected to pledge in order to bring his neighborhood within a consistent range.

"The purposes of the plan," he said "is to assure each individual contributor, and the community as a whole a fair distribution of the responsibility of maintaining these essential services. It is estimated that one-third more this year is needed from all givers to meet the goal.

"With our Red Feather services seriously under-financed and with our democratic voluntary method under attack from many quarters, it's up to us," he declared, "to prove that our American system really works."

Meanwhile high school students in more than 30 metropolitan communities are doing their fair share spreading the good word of the Red Feather by competing in the Junior Leader Speaking Contest.

High schools have already selected their local winners. Top winners chosen in the five metropolitan divisions, North, East, South, West and Central, will enter the semi-finals, October 23, at 3:30 p. m. at campaign headquarters, 14 Somerset street, Boston. The leading contestant will then compete against the two top junior speakers from the Boston Public Schools and parochial schools of the Archdiocese.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY MEETING

The guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Blessed Virgin Sodality of St. Mary's Parish on Tuesday evening, October 17th will be the Rev. John P. Tierney of St. Peter's Parish in Cambridge.

Fr. Tierney has recently returned from a pilgrimage to Rome and made an extensive trip throughout Europe. He will address the members on the following subjects: "The Grotto at Lourdes" and "Blessed Catherine Laboure." The Catherine Laboure Center on the Rue du Bac in Paris was one of the highlights of his travels. Today this is the Mother-house of the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, and the present widespread devotion to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal had its origin here. Fr. Tierney's intimate descriptions of these and other shrines of Europe will certainly prove most interesting, instructive and of great spiritual benefit.

The services will begin at 7:45 p.m. Regular meetings of the Sodality are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in the lower Church. The large number of new members who attended the opening meeting on October 3rd will be a compelling factor toward making St. Mary's Sodality one of the most active organizations in the Archdiocese. Members are asked to bring along any friends who may be interested. A large attendance is anticipated.

This coming Sunday will be Communion Sunday for the Sodality, and the members will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass. The newly appointed officers for the year are: Mrs. Margaret Murray, Prefect; Mrs. Marion Manoli, Asst. Prefect; Mrs. Elizabeth Connor, Treasurer; Mrs. Mary Gorman, Secretary; Rev. Charles Anadore, Spiritual Director.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE

The George Washington School Building Committee met with the School committee last Monday evening, and the conclusion was reached that redistricting will not solve the overcrowded condition at the George Washington School.

The committee submitted to the School Committee for their consideration a detailed plan, at nominal cost, to increase the classrooms on the second floor from three to four rooms during the Christmas holidays, thereby shifting the kindergarten from the auditorium back back to its own room, and thus temporarily relieving a badly overcrowded condition.

In order to proceed with a permanent solution to the problem, the Building Committee is immediately forwarding plans of the present building to at least seven architects, as a basis for a considering several possibilities of additions to the school, ranging from a four room addition, to converting the school to a fourteen room building with gymnasium and auditorium, with all proper facilities to make the school one of the most modern in this part of the country.

The Committee has scheduled dates to meet all selected architects not later than December 18th. A conclusion will be reached shortly after the New Year, at which time public hearings will be scheduled, so that the public will be fully informed.

BILLE — FERRERA

Large white chrysanthemums decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Thursday morning, October 12, when Miss Marie Margaret Ferrera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ferrera of 111 Highland avenue, became the bride of Joseph John Bille, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bille of 5 Gloucester street, Boston. Rev. Father Peter Caruso of St. Leonard's Church, Boston, performed the marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Miss Mabel Coty, soprano, sang the "Ave Maria" and other appropriate selections.

Miss Ferrera was given in marriage by her father, and had for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Edna M. Ferrera of Winchester. Miss Carol Ann Ferrera, another sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride wore a gown of white Skinner satin, trimmed with seed pearls and having a long train. Her full length veil of illusion was caught to a white satin headdress trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a white mother-of-pearl covered prayer-book with matching orchids and streamers of stephanotis.

The honor maid wore a peacock blue velvet dress with matching hat and carried a bouquet of long-stemmed yellow rosses. The junior bridesmaid wore a frock of rust colored velvet with hat to match and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Peter Bille of Somerville was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Michael Bille of Wollaston, brother of the bridegroom; John Fumefreddo of Boston, and two brothers of the bride, Leonard A. Ferrera and Rudolph R. Ferrera, both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. After a motor trip through Canada Mr. and Mrs. Bille will live in Dorchester at 46 Bowdoin street.

The bride is a graduate of Girls' High School in Boston and of Burdett College. WINCHESTER MADE SALVATION ARMY QUOTA

The local drive of the Salvation Army has ended and it is gratifying to report that our quota was made. Of the $6500 collected, $1300 will remain in the local treasury to be dispersed to many deserving cases. As in the past the local committee is prepared to give aid to those in distress. Children or adults in need of clothing, essential items for the home, or financial aid in paying hospital bills are helped freely and generously.

My sincere thanks to the chairmen of the committees and to each and every one of their loyal workers.

Forbes Norris, Chairman

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL CORNERSTONE LAID

Crisp autumn weather replaced the previous days' unseasonable warmth when one hundred and fifty friends and staff members of Winchester Hospital gathered on Wednesday, October fourth, at four o'clock for the laying of the cornerstone of the new wing. A roof terrace of the ground floor at the northwestern corner of the wing offered clear space for the ceremony, which was accompanied by the sound of carpenters and brick layers at work in the rapidly rising structure. The presiding officer, Mr. Edward H. Kenerson, President of the Board of Directors, opened the program by asking The Reverend Dwight W. Hadley to give the invocation.

In reviewing the need of enlargement and modernization of the Hospital and the successful completion of the building project, Mr. Kenerson spoke in substance as follows:

"Today marks a step forward in providing the health facilities this community needs. After ten years of overcrowding and strain, we can now look ahead to the completion of the enlarged and remodeled Winchester Hospital with 160 adult beds and forty bassinets, and thoroughly modernized facilities and equipment. The intangible assets to support this Hospital - a loyal, informed, and appreciative public and a skilled staff of physicians and surgeons - we have had ever since the Hospital's doors were opened on this site thirty-four years ago. The tangible expression of the public's loyalty together with federal funds made available under the Hill-Burton Act - have made possible this new construction and remodeling. More than 4,500 contributions brought in by 850 workers are thereby making their investment in greater health security for Winchester and twenty-one of its neighboring towns."

As representative of Dr. Vlado Getting, Commissioner of the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and in his own capacity as Director of the Division of Hospital Survey and Construction, Dr. A. Daniel Rubenstein congratulated Winchester Hospital for qualifying for federal aid under the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act. "This grant," said Dr. Rubenstein, "was made on the basis of the Hospital's service throughout its thirty-four years to neighboring towns as well as to its own community, and of its present ability to support this service on a high level of medical and surgical excellence. The Hospital and its friends can take special satisfaction that the grant from federal funds to this project was made from the enrollment of the program of federal aid which has now been found necessary."

On behalf of the Hospital Staff, of which he is President, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy spoke of the privilege of having one of the physicians and surgeons whose patients make up the nearly four thousand admissions to Winchester Hospital each year. He paid a tribute to the skill of his colleagues who maintain the standards of the Hospital and pledged the Board and the community that the younger generation of doctors will be so trained in this fine tradation that the future Winchester Hospital will be equally distinguished.

WILSON — LOWRY

At St. Patrick's Church in Cambridge on Saturday morning, October 7, Miss Margaret Phyllis Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Lowry of 26 York street, Cambridge, became the bride of George Joseph Wilson, son of Mrs. Rex Wilson of 698 Main street. Rev. Oscar R. O'Gorman officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. White chrysanthemums made an attractive floral setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a colonial style gown of ivory satin with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a gathered skirt caught at the front with lace crescents. Her bridal loom veil was held in place with a satin bonnet and she carried an ivory covered prayer-book with an orchid.

Miss Claire M. McClellan of Cambridge was her cousin's only attendant. She wore a dress of honey-colored satin with a matching headpiece and carried a cascade of autumn leaves with baby chrysanthemums.

MRS. ANNA T. O'SULLIVAN

Was Teacher in Winchester Schools for Nearly 50 Years

Mrs. Anna (Annie) T. O'Sullivan, widow of Neleus O'Sullivan and formerly for many years a teacher of mathematics in the Wadleigh School, died Saturday morning, October 7. She had been making her home with her son, N. Eugene O'Sullivan at 11 Woodrow avenue, Malden, and had not been in good health following a fall which she had there about a month ago.

Mrs. O'Sullivan was born in Winchester December 1, 1861, the daughter of Patrick and Catherine (Murphy) Holland. The family homestead was on Holland street, which was named for her father, who was a large owner of real estate in that vicinity.

Mrs. O'Sullivan commenced her schooling in the old Adams School on Swanton street, which was replaced by the Chapin School. No longer in use as a school, the old Chapin building now houses the Winchester Door and Window Company.

She graduated from the Wadleigh Grammar School and from Winchester High School in the class of 1879, the latter school being then located on Church street at the corner of School street and later known as the Prince School until it was torn down.

Mrs. O'Sullivan graduated from Salem Normal School in 1881, being a member of one of the school's early classes. She first taught for a year in the Woburn schools at a salary of $350 a year, returning to her native Winchester in 1882 as teacher of first, second and third grades at the Chapin School and instructor of Music. She was the first teacher in Winchester to teach children to read script, an innovation introduced by the then superintendent of schools, Prof. Tweed, a retired Harvard professor.

Mrs. O'Sullivan was married in 1889, and for seven years following her marriage she lived in the west, in Nebraska and Oregon. After her husband's death in 1897 she returned to Winchester and resumed teaching, being assigned to the old Wadleigh building and remaining there until the building was demolished to make way for the present Wadleigh School which now houses the high school freshman class. During the destruction of the building she taught in temporary quarters in the high school, and in April of 1900 began work in the present Wadleigh building as a member of the teaching staff under the then Principal George Fiske, who later was principal of Noble and Greenough School.

From 1901 through the school year of 1932 she taught in the Wadleigh School, teaching for the most part mathematics and winning the reputation of being both an excellent teacher and a strict, but understanding disciplinarian in the days when teachers were allowed much more latitude in maintaining discipline than they are today.

Noted for her sense of humor and poise, she will always be remembered by her pupils for her wit and her courage, for though on the smallish side she would not hesitate to correct the largest pupils in the school and she once went so far as to lay hands upon a new instructor, whose youthful appearance caused her to mistake him for one of the boys. Hours meant nothing to her and she worked until dark on many days, often with as many as 60 boys, with whom she was universally popular.

Reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70 years in 1932, Mrs. O'Sullivan gave up active teaching and it is an interesting phase of her long and faithful service to the town that she retired in the year that the Wadleigh ceased to house the junior high grades and the new Junior High School on Main street was opened. Mrs. O'Sullivan locked the Wadleigh building for the last time as a junior high school and was given the honor of opening the new Junior High School for its first classes in the fall of 1932. She was tendered a testimonial reception in the town hall upon her retirement and presented with a purse and other gifts.

Though retired, Mrs. O'Sullivan continued to teach as a substitute and was very active about town. Her home was for many years at 129 Mt. Vernon street, and she was a familiar figure around the center as she delighted to stop and chat with friends and former pupils. For the past 10 years she had made her home with her son and daughter-in-law in Malden.

Mrs. O'Sullivan was the last of her family, her son surviving, with two grandsons.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Charles Anadore. Representatives of the School Department attended the service with teachers who had known her during the years of active service.

Interment was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

At the time of her retirement the Star said editorially: "Winchester lost a valued public servant, the schools lost a particularly capable teacher and the community a strong friend, when Mrs. Anna T. O'Sullivan of the Wadleigh faculty resigned the year after serving in our schools since 1882. Here is the satisfaction of one who comes only after service well rendered, has been the joy known only by those who love their work and those for whom they labor."

The Board of Selectmen, at its meeting Monday evening, formally accepted the new Main pumping engine for the Fire Department and the new pump went into active service Tuesday.

EDWIN N. KNOWLTON

Edwin N. Knowlton of 6 Blind Bridge street, retired railroad man and long time resident of Winchester, died Wednesday morning, October 11, at the Winchester Hospital. Mr. Knowlton was the son of Edwin Henry, and Josephine (Elmore) Knowlton. He was born February 23, 1882, in Boston, spending his early life there and in Charlestown, and coming to Winchester in 1897.

For more than 40 years Mr. Knowlton was in the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad as a trainman and at the time of his retirement a few years ago, as an assistant yardmaster. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

On June 21, 1905, Mr. Knowlton married Lottie Mills, who survives him, with three daughters, Mrs. Herman Jang of Peabody, Mrs. Vincent O'Meara of Salem and Mrs. Richard Sweeney of Charlestown; three sons, Henry T., director of Athletics at Winchester High School; Lawrence, of Philadelphia; and Hal F. Knowlton of Stoneham; eight grandchildren, a brother, Charles Knowlton of Winchester; and three sisters, Mrs. Josephine McLaughlin, Mrs. Mae Reardon, both of Woburn; and Mrs. Pearl Fogg of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Comins, well known Boston attorney, and for more than thirty years had been a resident of Winchester.

Miss Stillings was born in Boston. She was a graduate of Swampscott High School in the class of 1919 and the Simmons College School of Business, Class of 1923. She was a past officer of the Boston Simmons Club and was at the time of her death president of the Simmons College Alumnae Association.

SENIOR FORUM DANCE SUCCESSFUL

The Stag Dance sponsored by the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church was a very successful affair and the committee who carried out the plans are to be congratulated. The hall was beautifully decorated with fall colors and the lighting effect on the dance floor was unusually effective. A large scarecrow was spotlighted on the stage. The Town Criers quartet rendered the music were especially received by the dancers. Tina Tonon and Norman Makechnie were chairmen of the committee which planned the dance and a large group of young people worked with them. Two combos and fifty High Schoolers attended and had a wonderful time.

The Senior Forum has planned an all-day outing at Liberty Hill Farm for the October 14 holiday. It will be combined with a service project, the admission being used clothing or soup for overseas relief. Inquiries for Charles-town State Prison.

The Philathea are mighty famous for the fine supper they have provided for the event over a number of years and this one will be no exception. Mrs. Leon E. LAYMEN'S SUNDAY AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church will have its first breakfast of the season in the Social Hall of the Church at 8:45 Sunday morning, October 15th. Following the meal a short business meeting will be held, when the Nominating Committee, Mr. Leonard O. Waters, Chairman, will present the new slate of officers for the coming year. There will be the usual singing so heartily enjoyed by the men, and the Pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, will speak to the men on "The Church Thinks of Her Laymen."

At the Morning Sanctuary service at 10:45 Laymen's Sunday will be observed, and the men of the church will conduct the Service. The speaker is to be Mr. William C. Bicol, President of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, and an outstanding Boston layman. His subject will be "A Layman Thinks of His Church." A Men's Chorus and Duet quartette will furnish the music.

The Church School Sanctuary service will be a special program prepared by the young people. Mr. Curtis W. Nash is the Church School Superintendent. Every member is urged to be present, and it is hoped a large attendance will help to make this Laymen's Sunday a memorable day.

WORK DAY FOR CHRIST

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church has set aside Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4, as Work Days for Christ. This is part of a national movement among the youth of Congregational churches. On one of those days, each Forum boy or girl pledges to get a job of some kind, washing windows, raking leaves, cleaning screens and putting up storm windows, washing cars, washing and waxing floors, baby-sitting, cleaning house, raking yards, running errands, cleaning out cellars, or whatever is needed, and then plans to give all his earnings for that day to Christian work. The Forum has pledged their earnings to the Boston City Missionary Society.

A committee of the young people under the leadership of Dorothy Brandt, who is very enthusiastic about the work they propose, met last Friday to map plans for promoting it. Janet Archibald, Dan Blanchard, Judy Higgins, Carson Sawyer, Janet Macaulay, and Norman Makechnie were present. They set as a goal 100% participation by Forum members and an amount to be earned of $250. To set the plans in motion, Janet Archibald spoke briefly at the Sunday morning chapel service. Next Sunday every Forum young person will have an opportunity to sign up as being willing to participate in the project, and the committee hopes the 100 goal will be reached soon.

Jennifer Meigs and Helen Lunsford are making attractive bulletin board displays for the cloisters where the young people gather, and Bouldin Burbank is chairman of the Poster Committee who will put the posters on the Work Day for Christ during the month ahead.

It is hoped that the community will see the possibilities of using the energy of these young people and give them employment for those days, November 3 and 4. Anyone who has work to be done can contact Dorothy Barndt, WI 6-1233. Or call the Church School office, WI 6-1056.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The Shareholders of the Winchester Co-Operative Bank will hold their Annual Meeting for the election of directors and a clerk at the banking rooms, 19 Church street, Winchester, on Monday, November 6, 1950 at 2 p.m.

CURTIS W. NASH, Clerk

FOR THE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The presentation of Charles Laughton, movie star, in a night of readings on November 16 by the Mothers' Association for the benefit of the scholarship fund has again highlighted the important work, which, almost anonymously, the members of the scholarship fund have been doing in recent years.

In 1944 need for improving the administration of scholarships in Winchester was recognized by the executive board of the Central Mothers' Association. This board thereupon appointed a committee of five — three men and two women — to study the problem.

Stated simply, it was felt that there was an unnecessary duplication of work by various groups which had the laudable desire to raise money for Winchester boys and girls who needed assistance to enter or to continue their studies in college.

The purpose of The Winchester Scholarship Foundation is "to award or aid in the award of scholarships to seniors or graduates of the Winchester High School, to gather and provide data for others proposing to award such scholarships, to receive, invest, and distribute funds for those purposes or for purposes incidental to them, and otherwise to stimulate, recognize, and reward scholastic excellence or other outstanding merit in the Winchester High School."

The result of the study by this committee was to recommend the meeting of all scholarship groups into one and to have this one a community organization. An Instrument of Trust was drawn up which stipulated that such an organization be called The Winchester Scholarship Foundation. This Foundation has a General Committee made up of a representative of each participating organization. The duties of the General Committee are the election of Three Trustees, each of whom serves six years with one retiring every two years. These Trustees administer the funds of the Foundation. The General Committee also selects the Scholarship Committee. This committee is made up of four members, each serving four years with one retiring each year. The fifth member of this committee is the Principal of the High School. This is the committee which chooses the recipients of the scholarships.

As a matter of general interest, since the committee first organized in 1944 over $14,000 has been awarded to local residents. Of this amount, $3,450 was awarded last June; and the institutions attended by the scholarship holders include Harvard, Simmons, Jackson, Wellesley, University of Massachusetts, New England School of Art, University of New Hampshire, Boston University and the nursing school attached to Carney Hospital.

Last winter, as an innovation, the Foundation decided to accept memberships from anyone who asked to contribute to the General Fund and it is now possible to qualify for membership by paying one dollars for annual dues.

Nevertheless, as in a matter of concern for the membership that some appear only to still no great evidence that participation in the work of the Foundation has been widespread. Motivations for the objectives are and unselfish as the members have been in giving their time and effort to advance the work, there is still reason to believe that a great many residents do not understand what is being done and how the funds are raised.

The presentation of Charles Laughton to benefit the fund obviously is an event of major importance in the town's history; but to be appreciated in its proper perspective, it is important that all understand the significance of the event in connection with raising money for the scholarship fund.

Mr. Kenneth W. Lamprey of 116 Wildwood street has been elected treasurer of the Alumni Association of Northeastern University's School of Business Administration. He was graduated from Northeastern in the class of 1944.

CHAMOIS SKI CLUB 1ST MEETING

On Wednesday night, October 4, the Chamois Ski Club held its first business meeting of the year in Chandler's Barn on Forest street. Phil Dennett, president, read the minutes of the last meeting; suggestions were made towards improving the snow in the barn which either works too well or not at all; and tentative plans were made for a square dance to be held either November 17 or December 1; this to definitely decided at the next meeting. It was also decided that each month there will be a business meeting on the first Wednesday evening.

After the business meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served, followed by a movie on skiing in Switzerland, which left all present hoping we'd have a long, cold, deep winter ourselves.

Logy Locals Given Hard Time By Aggressive Visitors

Winchester High staggered by a hard-rocking, stubborn, defensive Winthrop High eleven last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field, finally winning, 13 - 6, after Winthrop had threatened repeatedly during the second half to register a tying touchdown.

Apparently Winchester didn't take Winthrop too seriously while the visitors' town team just as apparently didn't stand many awesome Indians adding up to much of a threat. Winchester had the ball most of the first quarter, but couldn't get going. Winthrop had the ball most of the second quarter, but couldn't get going.

Winchester just wasn't up for Winthrop and its reputation, and the Indians, playing with record to date behind them, the Green and Gold, at very easily might have been and very probably would have been if Winthrop had had more zip to offensively. Defensively the visitors were tough, and their packed defense prevented Winchester from opening up the middle, with pony backing raising hob with the Indians' outside running plays. In the air, the locals, very effective against vaunted Watertown, couldn't complete a single pass, primarily because the aerials were invariably thrown to a well-covered receiver, while another eligible man stood all alone biting his fingernails in a position to score.

Despite what was by comparison a sorry showing, Winchester had the edge in statistics, making eight first downs to seven for Winthrop and rushing for 188 yards to 80. In the air Winthrop completed the surprising total of five of nine passes good for 120 yards and a touchdown, while Winchester threw seven passes, all incomplete. Two of Winthrop's incomplete passes were intercepted. Each team lost five yards in penalties and each team fumbled three times, Winchester recovering all its fumbles and two of Winthrop's, both times when it looked like the visitors were on their way.

Winchester scored the second time it was in possession, Donlon running back a Winthrop punt ten yards to his 48. O'Brien picked up only a yard, but Johnson on a reverse made first down at the Winthrop 41 and Donlon made eight yards on a sweep. Johnson was stopped short, but O'Brien on two tries made first down at the 31.

Johnson got only two, but on O'Brien, running very hard, made first down at the 17 and this time Johnson rammed through the line for an additional seven.

Johnson banged through again for a first down at the six, and then Michelsen skirted his own right end to score, pulling away from two Winthrop boys who had him trapped behind the line. Langdon Smith split the uprights with a perfect placement shot and Winchester led, 7 - 0.

Perhaps that touchdown came too easily, for Winchester faded after the score and Winthrop, starting with a partially blocked Griffin kick at Winchester's 45, moved down the field to Winchester's five where big Joe Donlon stopped the visitors' offense by intercepting a Miles pass in the end zone.

The second half was a nightmare for the Winchester rooters as they watched their floundering club outplayed by the visitors who several times seemed definitely on their way.

Paced by a fine 25 yard dash by O'Brien, Winchester moved from its 46 to the Winthrop 18 with O'Brien and Johnson doing the carrying. In two rushes the locals were thrown back on the 24 yard stripe and two forward passes fell incomplete, Winthrop taking over.

From this point on aggressive visitors rushed to set in the Winchester 20, aided by a shovel pass behind the line, good for first down and the last 15 yards of the sequence. Miles balled through for four, but Winthrop fumbled on the next play and Winchester recovered on its 20.

Griffin kicked high with the ball bouncing back ten yards to midfield. Winthrop again drove goalward, a pass from Miles to Connor advancing the ball from the Winchester 15 to the 37, and Ruggerio getting outside for another first down at the 27.

Here a loosely carried ball was knocked from a Winthrop back's hands and Winchester again recovered at its 31.

The locals had to kick again and Griffin's boot only reached the local 49. Merlino picked up a yard, but a Miles pass to Connor fell incomplete and it was third and nine at Winchester's 48.

Here Miles faded back to his right and flung a literally perfect pass far down the field to Merlino, who gathered in the ball at the 10 and easily loped over. Crowley knifed through the line to cut down Miles on an attempt to rush for the extra point, and thereafter began a long conference among the officials.

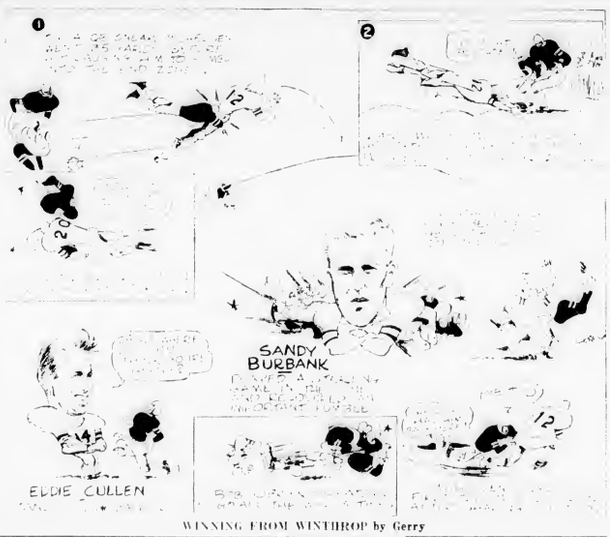

Both teams had been guilty of rules infractions on the play, but it was finally decided that Winthrop had made two mistakes and Winchester only one, so the touchdown stood.

Winchester kicked deep to Winthrop following the touchdown, and Winthrop began its aerial attack. Miles passed to Merlino for a first down at the Winchester 40, but Donlon intercepted the next pass and returned to the 11, but Donlon was offside.

O'Brien on an attempt at play stopped just inches from a first down at the 20 and Winthrop decided to sneak for the necessary yardage. Joe Donlon broke right through the Winthrop center and, splitting the secondary, raced down the field, being thrown from behind at the five yard line.

As he fell the ball squirted away from the runner and into the end zone, where a couple of Winthrop boys, thinking no doubt that it fell on the goal line, it would be safety, watched Merlino race over and fall on the ball for the touchdown. Smith's kick, apparently sent on its merry way by Merlino, failed. Miles.

After this score Coach Knowlton sent in an entirely second string team, with the exception of Miles on a pass play and on punts, and finally ending any scoring threat when safety man Tommy Thomson made a fine leaping catch of a Miles aerial at his 40 early in the third stripe. The summary:

SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS NEW SCHOOL

Mrs. A. Alice Kimball, Chairman of the Junior Senior High School Building Committee, reported on the Committee's work to a capacity audience of members and friends of the League of Women Voters at the League's Opening Tea at the home of Mrs. Neil H. Borden on October 2. In view of the time not far off when the present school buildings will simply not hold the pupils enrolled, the Committee recommends that in 1951 a new Junior High School be built on the Town owned land on Palmer street, to be ready for the larger classes entering the secondary school in the fall of 1952. Within a few years the present Junior High School could be converted into a High School by adding the necessary classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria, auditorium, etc. The sum of money involved is naturally large, but the facilities so provided are not in the Committee's opinion extravagant and but fulfill the directive to the Committee by the Town to consider not only present but future needs.

The League, long committed to support an adequate building program for Winchester schools, listened with great interest to Mrs. Kimball's account of the advantages of the Palmer street site for a Junior High School. Not only does this plan provide excellent secondary school facilities for the Town in the foreseeable future, but it provides them in the order in which they are needed, on a 6-3-3-3 basis long dearred by the School Committee, and without interfering with the school program during construction. It was evident from questions asked that many were impressed by the increased playing field facilities offered on the ten acre Palmer street site. To quote Mrs. Kimball, "Today one of the objects of a first rate school system is to have every pupil participate in some sport or outdoor physical education. Unless new playfields are provided, an expanded program of physical education, particularly for pupils in the Junior High, will not be possible."

Members of the League felt strongly the gratitude due the Committee from the townspeople for its prolonged, intense and devoted study and work in the Town's interest. Individual Committee members have spoken at 35 meetings and the Committee itself has met as a whole more than 50 times.

Mrs. Robert A. Drake of the League's Education Committee, which arranged the program for the October meeting, presented a brief resume of the legislative aspects of the nursery school problem.

Mrs. Alexander M. Clark outlined Voters' Service plans for the fall. These include a meeting (in the evening) for new voters and an Information Booth in Peck and Peck at election time. These dates will be announced soon.

In a very effective manner, Mrs. Clark launched in Winchester the League's drive to defeat the State Lottery Referendum, Vote No on Question 4. This proposal, which is most dangerous because it would automatically become law if given an affirmative vote, would establish a state Lottery Commission of 3 members appointed by the Governor with consent of Council to conduct a lottery not more than once a month, with one chance to value not more than one dollar. The net receipts would be divided 50% for prizes, 35% assistance to the aged, 7½% for dependent children, 7½% for the needy blind. Attention was called to the World Set. It has been the experience of the Irish Sweepstakes that operating expenses are 60% of the gross. If this were true here, your dollar would be used as follows: 60 cents for expenses, 20 cents for prizes, 14 cents for the aged, and 3 cents each for dependent children and needy blind. Certainly this method of raising revenue for these worthy causes is not only undesirable and unsound but also ineffective. One hundred and seventeen years ago lotteries were prohibited in Massachusetts as "crimes against public policy." Mrs. Clark reminded us that if we had a State Lottery every citizen of Massachusetts would be in the gambling business.

Mrs. Olcott Hooper's Hospitality Committee had made arrangements for a very pleasant social hour after the meeting. Leaguers were delighted to see the familiar face of their past President Mrs. Harold A. Hall, presiding at the cider bowl. Mrs. Hall is at present living in South Glastonbury, Conn., and made a visit here especially for the League meeting.

Miss Mary Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Durand Johnston, 50 Fletcher street has been enrolled as a freshman at Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio. Miss Johnston is a graduate of the Brimmer-May School, Boston.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL

One hundred and seventeen people attended the Community School of Christian Education on Monday evening, October 9 at the Unitarian Church.

The worship service was in charge of Mr. John Hunt Chappell, a student at Tufts College School of Religion and director of Young People at the First Baptist Church, Winchester. The following young people led the worship: Russell MacLeod, Sherman Josephson, Madeline Nelson, Donald MacFeeley played the organ.

Rev. Donald Tarr acted as Dean in the absence of Dr. Forbes Norris. Mr. Tarr invited each person present to bring a guest next Monday evening, the closing session of the Community School.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

Wednesday, October 4 was a highlight for the first meeting of the Fall season of the Winchester Home and Garden Club, because of a delightful program and a delicious tea in the Social Hall of the Baptist Church, enjoyed by a large number of members and friends, including our special guests from the Home for the Aged.

The President, Mrs. Frank J. Robinson, welcomed the gathering and then outlined the projects for the year. She said the Club was most grateful to the Boy Scouts for their help in the garden at the Home for the Aged.

Mrs. Norman Mitchell gave a timely Horticultural suggestion that this is the time to plant all bulbs before the end of October, with the exception of tulips that could be put in anytime until the ground freezes. She recommended planting the latter 6" to 8" deep, and added that large bulbs were more economical over the years.

A class in Flower Arrangement will be conducted again this year for any members of the Club under the direction of Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell at the home of Mrs. Everett Gray, 21 Mason street at 10 a. m. on the following dates: Thursday, October 19, November 9 and December 7, and thereafter on the 2nd Thursday of every month.

Mrs. Frederick Cole introduced our distinguished speaker, Mrs. Olivia Ure of Nashua on "Adventures 'Round the Calendar." Her slides were very beautiful and varied, and her comments interesting and instructive. There were pictures taken in snow and ice backgrounds, flowers of our common trees, bog and wild Alpine flowers.

Tea was served by Mrs. George French and her Social Committee.

WINCHESTER EPISCOPALIANS PREPARING FOR MISSION LECTURE

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, and Mr. Francis E. Booth of 61 Oxford street are the Winchester active leaders for a series of special meetings in preparation for the Bryan Green Mission launched this week by every Episcopalian Parish in Eastern Massachusetts, according to announcement by the Right Reverend Raymond A. Heron, Suffregan Bishop of Massachusetts and Chairman of the Department of Evangelism which is sponsoring the nine day preaching Mission to be held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, from October 29th through November 6th.

The parish meetings vary in form from place to place, some having an old fashioned family supper, others meeting in the church for informal prayer services; some are being addressed by visiting laymen and ministers from New York where Bryan Green held a successful mission one year ago, while others are being addressed by local leaders. Regular meetings of parish organizations and clubs are featuring a discussion of the Mission as a part of their program and directing the enlistment of a transportation corps as well as a large group of ushers to serve the nights of the mission

MORE POWER FOR NEW ENGLAND

KILOWATTS OF NEW ELECTRIC POWER IN THE BUILDING PROGRAM OF NEW ENGLAND'S BUSINESS-MANAGED ELECTRIC COMPANIES SINCE WORLD WAR II.

Right now New England has nearly 45% more electric generating capacity than was available at the beginning of World War II. By the end of next year that figure will be over 60%! Proof again that in the field of electric power, as in every other field, management gets things done.

Sunday School is held at the same hour in the church services.
Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room - 7 Winchester Terrace off Thompson Street. Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Man's spiritual oneness with God proved by Jesus' mighty works to be the basis for gaining freedom from sickness and sin . . . will be dealt with in next Sunday's service in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Doctrine of Atonement."

The Golden Text is from I John 4:10: Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible - King James Version - include II Corinthians 5:17:

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort to flee from every good thought and deed, will help to subdue, and finally banish, sin. Every offering to the senses, if it be entertained, only increases and augments sin, and adds more to the burden of the sinner. Sin is not pardoned nor taken away but by the destruction of sin. Pardon is not God's act, but the result of divine law operating in the destruction of sin and the reformation of the sinner. (p. 32)

Mr. Kenerson introduced other guests, including Mr. James H. Ritchie of the architectural firm of James H. Ritchie and Associates; Mr. Herrick O. Tappan, representing the general contractors, the Daniel Cunningham Construction Company; Mr. Paul J. Spencer, Vice President of the Massachusetts Hospital Association; Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, Director of the Hospital Council of Metropolitan Boston; administrators from other hospitals, including Mr. Tucker M. Vye from Gloucester and Mr. Harold S. Fuller from Peterboro, New Hampshire, present and former members of the Boards of Directors and Trustees; and the leaders of the Winchester Hospital Building Fund, Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell, Mrs. George A. Marks, Mr. Frank E. Crawford, and Mr. Howard Bartlett.

"The women who built the first Hospital were officers of the Visiting Nurse Association organized in Winchester in 1899 and granted a charter by the Commonwealth in 1906. The organization's statement of purpose in the charter concludes with the phrase, "to establish and maintain a hospital." The heroic story of the decade 1906-16 shows hard work and the facing of times of discouragement, but no wavering in the purpose of the individuals or of the group. In the photographs of May 18, 1916, we see the unselfish sterling qualities of the founders of this Hospital. They are present today in the persons of many members of the first committee - Miss M. Alice Mason and Mrs. William I. Palmer, and there is also living in Winchester the accomplished singer, Mrs. Charles H. Mason, who led the Doxology following the first laying of this stone. Other members of the 1916 group are represented here today as follows: Miss Kate Pond, who presided on May 18, 1916, as President of the Board of Directors, by her nephew, Mr. Kenneth Pond; Mrs. Joshua Coit, first President of the Visiting Nurse Association, by two great-grandchildren, Amy Coit and Robert Coit; Mrs. Oren Sanborn, the inspired chairman of the Building Committee, by her daughter, Mrs. Gordon H. Hanlin; Mrs. Henry L. Houghton, who read the historical address, by her daughter, Miss Harriet Houghton; and Mrs. Frederic S. Snyder by her husband and her sister, Miss Grace T. Wills. This event becomes, therefore, the symbol and the actual expression of the past, present, and future service of Winchester Hospital."

Previous to the ceremony a new copper box had been placed in a rectangular space on the lower surface of the cornerstone, and had been securely sealed and cemented in place. The contents of the original box, inserted in the stone thirty-four years ago, were transferred to the new box, and appropriate additions were made.

The box now contains:

Blueprints of architects' plans-1916 and 1949-50

Coin of 1916 and one of 1950

Names of architects and contractors, 1916 and 1950

Hospital Reports: 1899-1915; 1947-1950

Mr. Kenerson then took a mason's trowel and placed mortar upon the upper surface of the stone, with these words:

"It is now my duty as President of the Board of Directors to lay the cornerstone of the enlarged Winchester Hospital in the name of our town and the other communities whom we serve, adding by this ceremony another page to the proud record of our Hospital."

The benediction was pronounced by the Reverend Dwight W. Hadley in place of the Reverend John P. O'Riordan, whom an unexpected pastoral duty prevented from attending the ceremony.

FRANCES WILLARD AUXILIARY

The Frances Willard Auxiliary was fortunate to have a beautiful Fall day to honor its founder and first President, Mrs. E. C. Filler at the monthly meeting last Thursday in the home of Mrs. H. Reed in Lexington.

The auxiliary presented Mrs. Filler with two silver tea tiles in appreciation of her interest and devoted service to the auxiliary.

After delicious dessert and coffee, the meeting adjourned to Mrs. Reed's charming living room to hear a brief business meeting and a report by Mrs. Edith Birch of her trip abroad this summer.

Mrs. Filler leaves October 15th for Greenfield, Mass., discontinuing active membership in the auxiliary for the present.

HOLY NAME HELD FIRST MEETING

A new season with a pronounced increase in membership, was ushered in at St. Mary's Church on Sunday at 8:00 a. m., when the Holy Name Society attended Mass and corporate Communion followed by Benediction. Under the direction of Edward J. McDevitt there was hymn singing by the men during church services.

Both in his remarks at church and at Lyceum Hall later, Fr. William Walsh, spiritual leader, emphasized the wonderful benefits of belonging to the Society and urged the Holy Name would continue to be as vital. He stressed the need for unity. He stressed the need for attending the meeting after the church services, declaring that the church services did come first but that the business meeting was important also to enable the men to have a voice in the formulation of plans and the regular conduct of a meeting.

Annual dues were collected at the business meeting and with the Holy Name membership booklet slated to be issued this year as it was two years ago, it would behoove all members to contact Treas. Albert T. McDougall so that their names will be sure to be included.

Light breakfast at Lyceum Hall was under the direction of Coleman G. Foley, Jr., assisted by Delegate Michael J. Connolly, and Leonard Hurley. The latter as Asst. Marshall teamed also with Marshall Philip O'Rourke in the seating of the men at church. During the breakfast Norvell Purrington, with his beautiful accordian, and Herbert J. Cleary at the piano favored the members with many selections.

President Arthur W. Hall expressed his gratitude at the opportunity of serving the men for the coming year. He introduced his fellow officers who were warmly applauded. Secretary Robert Barstow read the minutes of the last meeting of the former season and Treas. Albert T. McDougall then made his report to the society.

The invited speaker for the occasion was J. Henry Higgins, Asst. Supt. of Schools in Peabody, who chose for his topic, "The Catholic Citizen in the World Today." He deplored the omission of Almighty God in the Peace Conferences, first at Versailles and then at San Francisco. He commended the President of the United States for his invoking of God's aid on many occasions, but pointed out the gross neglect of seeking divine aid by the various nations at many conferences. He pointed out how our early framers of the constitution always invoked God's aid in their undertakings. The fact that this bedrock of Faith and Morality as exemplified by our early settlers and framers of the country, aided their doings is cause for its adoption today.

The call to arms has been issued to all Holy Name men in this Diocese in the coming membership drive ending on November 12th, while the Speaker quoted from the famous Holy Name Hymn, written by the late Cardinal O'Connell, with the words, "All o'er the land, rebellion's flag is flying" . . .

Until all men return to the fundamental beliefs in God, the Holy Name Societies must of necessity, be Crusaders with their men emphasizing the Holy Name Principles, by their fine example and practice. Spontaneous applause greeted Mr. Higgins who was right at home in quoting from Tennyson, Cicero and Longfellow frequently.

Recently, the officers and committee heads met at President Hall's home to formulate plans for speakers for the coming season. A fine worthwhile roster of entertaining and informative invited guest speakers has been drawn up and it is hoped that all members will take advantage of this planning by the officers and attend every meeting.

MYSTIC SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION NEWS

The series of Grade Teas at the Mystic School continued this week with a tea for each of the 4th grades. Both were held on Tuesday, October 10th at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ralph Pingree, 50 Allen road, assisted by Mrs. Sumner Goodwin, entertained Mrs. Margaret McLean and her 4th Grade mothers. Following an interesting talk by Mrs. McLean, tea was served with Mrs. Melvin Sears and Mrs. Clifton Keane pouring.

Mrs. Velma Thompson and her 6th Grade mothers were entertained by Mrs. Nelson Brown, Room Mother, at the home of Mrs. William Campbell Ross, 11 Madison avenue. Mrs. Henry Dellicker was door hostess and Mrs. Donald Dalrymple was tea chairman. Mrs. Maude Dover, Administrative Assistant, shared the laurels with Mrs. Thompson as guest of honor. After an informal but enlightening explanation by Mrs. Thompson of the plan for the year's work, tea was served. Those pouring were Mrs. Colver Dyer and Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee.

Plans have been announced for the fall meeting of the Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association to be held on Tuesday, October 24th at 3 o'clock in the Mystic School Assembly Hall. Children will be cared for in one of the Kindergarten rooms, while the mothers enjoy seeing colored movies and slides of the Girl Scouts' trip to England this summer. Mrs. Barbara Metcalf and two girl scouts will speak on their experiences in England.

On Friday, October 6th, from 3:30 to 4:30 the first of the 6th Grade Dancing Classes was held in the enlarged and newly decorated Mystic School Assembly Hall under the competent direction of Mr. Russell Curry. Mrs. Henry Dellicker is chairman of Sixth Grade Dancing and reports the excellent attendance of thirty-eight children, all of whom seemed to enjoy thoroughly their first class. In the receiving line with Mrs. Dellicker were two hostesses, Mrs. Russell Symmes and Mrs. Samuel McNeily.

Mystic School Notes

The children of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades at Mystic School were shown a film on Thursday, October 5th, on the very important subject of "Safety to and from School."

A new Bulletin Board has just been installed at the Mystic School, and a glass showcase outside of the Teachers' Room is already in use. It contains a doll exhibit from Mrs. Hartwell's 2nd grade room, the dolls having been brought in by the children. The collection is part of a Unit on the Home and Family. It helps to illustrate both toys and clothing, and is being used in conjunction with Social Studies and Language Activities. Telling the story of each doll helps to develop the children's language abilities.

The Mystic School Banking and Milk Lunch Programs are underway; money for banking is due on Tuesday mornings throughout the year, and for milk and crackers on Friday mornings, or on the last day of the school week.

Miss Virginia French, Art Supervisor, has been visiting the Mystic School once a week. With the lovely fall weather she has taken some of her classes outside for their drawing and sketching lessons. The 3rd, 4th and 5th grade children have enjoyed this out-of-doors art work, and they have made wonderful strides in texture and color of the brilliant autumn foliage.

Good seats for the Clare Tree Major plays, "Rip Van Winkle" and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" are still available. Please call Mrs. R. Richard Carven, WI 6-1357, Mrs. Donald J. Lowrie, WI 6-2817-W or Mrs. John R. Ghirardini, WI 6-2431.

HEADS WINCHESTER RADIO OPERATORS

Mr. Rupert B. Richmond W1RRA, 14 North Gateway, has been selected to set up an organization of Winchester amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communication in time of disaster, it was announced today by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Mr. Richmond's assignment, which carries the title of Emergency Coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. Mr. Richmond, as ARRL Emergency Coordinator, will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include liaison planning with the local chapter of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies, as suggested in the working understanding the ARRL Emergency Corps has with the national headquarters of the American Red Cross and other agencies. Already a small group of Winchester Country Club members have pledged nearly $20,000 or about half of the sum necessary to install a swimming pool at the club.

Of those favoring the venture 81 have pledged the $20,000, leaving by far the greater majority of members of the club still to be heard from.

The directors, in a letter to the membership, are urging everyone to make known his pleasure, and the extent to which they stand willing to support a club swimming pool, before the next directors' meeting on October 17.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? — the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- General Federation of Women's Clubs
- American Farm Bureau Federation
- National Grange
- Veterans of Foreign Wars
- National Conference of Catholic Charities
- American Protestant Hospital Association
- American Legion
- National Association of Small Business Men
- United States Chamber of Commerce
- National Association of Retail Grocers
- National Retail Dry Goods Association
- American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mrs. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science and author of its textbook says in her book, Miscellaneous Writings, (182:13-14) "Whatever is possible to God, is possible to man as God's reflection." We have scriptural authority for this statement in Jesus' own words where he said, (John 5:19) "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise."

Our lecturer this evening, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, will explain to us how men and women are today working the works of God by applying the teachings of Christian Science to their everyday living.

It gives me great pleasure to present to you Edmund Carroll Saxe of Memphis, Tenn.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Working the Works of God

According to the Gospel of John, those who followed Jesus, seeing the divine power exemplified in his healing, once asked him (John 6:28) "What shall we do that we might work the works of God?"

This question expresses the conscious or unconscious yearning of thousands today — individuals who wish to express the power of good, who yearn to know a God upon whom they can rely and whose power they can prove as they go about the everyday affairs of life. It is typical of the thoughtful human being who is dissatisfied when he seems to find life slipping away from him without any worthy accomplishment. He is asking if there is not something that will lift him from the monotonous and trivial routine of which his life apparently consists, something that will awaken his thought and help him to realize his own latent capacities for being and doing good. He is searching for a power that will enable him to accomplish great and noble things, because he feels that he is capable of accomplishing such things.

Christian Science, given to the world by its Discoverer and Founder, and Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, has a satisfying answer for this man. Through its teachings he can find in God the spiritual power which will free him from limitation and frustration, which will enable his life and lift it above the sordid and trivial. Through the teachings of Christian Science the power of God is again made available as it was centuries ago when Jesus gave sight to the blind and feet to the lame because Christian Science reveals a God who supplies all good.

In Christian Science all our thinking begins with God. In our textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" its author, Mary Baker Eddy, states (p. 275) "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other power nor Mind—that God is Love an" therefore He is divine Principle." From this statement it can readily be seen that God is the foundation or basis of Christian Science work. The Principle from which all healing power comes. Christian Science starts from the Biblical promise, "I am the Lord, and there is none else" (Isa. 45:5).

An exact science must rest upon an exact truth or principle, and this truth must be the foundation of the science the basis upon which it rests. In order to demonstrate any science the principle must be understood. Christian Science is no exception to this rule. It is as important indeed it is as necessary for the student of Christian Science to understand its divine Principle God as it is for the mathematician to understand the principle of mathematics.

In response to the question "What is the Principle of Christian Science" in her book "Rudimental Divine Science" Mrs. Eddy says (p. 1) "It is God, the Supreme Being infinite and immortal Mind the Soul of man and the universe. It is our Father which is in heaven. It is substance Spirit, Life, Truth and Love: these are the deific Principle."

This divine Principle, God is absolute fundamental basic to all being. It is primal cause. This Principle is divine intelligence the Mind which includes all good and knows no evil. It is Life the animating sustaining power of all existence the source of all activity and continuity, the only substance of being. This divine Principle is immaculate omnipotent undeviating in its perfection and therefore it can best be defined as eternal and changeless Love.

Because God, Principle is Spirit, Christian Science maintains that man and the universe are spiritual. Our textbook says (p. 275), "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is."

God Reckoned as Man's Principle

When we reckon God as the Principle of all, we see that .le is the Principle of man and that man is the reflection or expression of this omnipotent Principle. According to Science and Health (p. 471), "Man is, and forever has been, God's reflection."

Christian Science differentiates clearly between sinning mortal man and the real or God-created man. The God-created man is the expression of God. He is individual and spiritual, inseparable from God, his divine Principle. Mortal man is just a misconception masquerading as man to get rid of the misconception, we must gain the true concept of man and so disassociate ourselves and others from this false belief of an incomplete or mortal man.

The man created by God necessarily like God. It is a truism that like produces like. What does this mean? It means that the nature of God determines the nature of man and therefore all man, who exists in God divine Mind, as the direct expression of this Mind, has as his only consciousness the eternal Mind which is Spirit unlimited, infinitely active. It means that divine Love which is always and universal, permanent characterizes his true nature. It means that man is spiritually eternal because he is like unto Mind, that the real man is created by and in God, divine Life, his life has no beginning or end that he is ageless and timeless, coexistent with the God he reflects. Christian Science teaches that God is the absolute Life and man and the universe are proof of immortal practical value in healing supposedly incurable disease. I should like to tell of an instance in which it restored one to health after I had given up years of mortal activity.

One who had been told upon excellent medical authority that he had only a short time to live came to Christian Science. He was told that the doctors had assured him that God is the Life of man and that nothing can interfere with this Life that no supposed material condition could alter it the truth about the man for this was what he was advised to read. Christian Science textbook and to apply the truths we found therein to himself. This he did faithfully and after some months was completely healed and since has been instrumental in healing others.

Several years later, this man applied for life insurance, and was sent for a physical examination to the office where the case had been diagnosed. The head physician then sent for the record of the man's case and listened as one of his assistants read it to him. The physician said to the assistant: "You see what was the matter with this man. I see him up to die. I shall never give up another man, for this man is healed, though I did not heal him. I could not, but in some way he got right with God and God healed him." The former patient said "Yes, God healed me through Christian Science, for Christian Science gave me the understanding of God as my Life and this understanding healed me."

Beloved, now are we the sons of God" (I John 3:2), the beloved disciple tells us. And Christian Science also assures us that we do not have to accept our sonship in terms of mortals. On the contrary it promises us that as we become rooted and grounded in God, our divine Principle, we can learn to understand the real man and begin to demonstrate man's likeness to God and to manifest His power in other words to do the works of God.

We are moving even now man's likeness to Him in the measure that we express the divine qualities, progressively as purity, mercy, tenderness, and love characterize our thought and impel our action, and he who manifests the qualities of God cannot fail to manifest God's power.

Students of Christian Science love and cherish the Bible; their religion is founded upon its teachings. Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 126) "The Bible has been my only authority. I have had no other guide in the straight and narrow way of Truth." And the first religious text of our Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts to which all members subscribe says (I quote from our textbook), "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life" (Science and Health, p. 497).

The Christian Scientist finds Biblical authority for accepting the fact that man has been given dominion, endowed all, unlimited power, for the Bible is filled with accounts of Jesus and prophets who used this divine power to deliver themselves and others from discordant or even destructive conditions.

An outstanding example of the utilization of man's God-bestowed dominion is that of Moses. When faced with the Red Sea on the one hand and the might of Pharaoh on the other, Moses was so assured of man's God-given dominion that he could say to the children of Israel, "Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you to day" (Ex 14:13) And you all know how the Red Sea parted and the Israelites were saved. Moses looked to God for deliverance—salvation—and found it in exercising divine power.

Christian Science Teaches Salvation a Present Possibility

In carrying on the healing work demanded in the Gospels—in working the works of God—human beings find that they are actually working out their own salvation as Jesus commanded.

The teaching of Christian Science in regard to salvation is very simple. Mrs. Eddy defines "salvation" in the Glossary of Science and Health (p. 593) as "Life, Truth, and Love understood and demonstrated as supreme over all sin, sickness, and death destroyed."

Strange beliefs have been entertained in regard to salvation. None stranger, perhaps, than that of a young boy in a class where I taught in an orthodox Sunday School. He told me that when he was baptized his sponsors, to insure his salvation, had renounced, as he said the pomps of the world for him. I asked him if he knew what pomp were, and he replied, "Oh, yes they are large fish which follow boats in the ocean." I said, "Billy, you have renounced these fish?" And he answered "He certainly have." "And now feel it will insure your salvation?" "I suppose so," he replied. That is perhaps the most extraordinary belief about salvation ever voiced.

Men have always been deeply concerned about salvation and have gone to extraordinary lengths in the hope of attaining it in some distant future. In Christian Science we are taught to find it now.

Christian Science teaches that salvation is within the reach of everyone here and now, everyone who will need Jesus command to work out his salvation by demonstrating man's unity with God. Jesus statement, "I and my father are one" (John 10:30), is the greatest statement of salvation ever made for when we understand Life, Truth, and Love as the motive power of man and begin to demonstrate the facts of being in our own lives, we shall be progressively at one with God—we shall be in the process of attaining full and complete salvation.

Prayer Is Power

We learn to work the works of God by praying as Jesus prayed. He told us "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you" (John 15:7). And our textbook assures us that his prayers and I quote "were deep and conscientious protests of Truth against error and Life against death." (Science and Health, p. 12). At the hours of God's allness in the face of anything that would deny it.

This does not mean that one can declare God's allness and at the same time admit the reality of evil. The sincere declaration of God's allness requires thinking from the basis of His oneness and wholeness. Merely casual protestations of the perfection of God and of man His image and likeness without proof in practice, are of little effect if thought does not really abide in God.

Every right-minded human being certainly every Christian, understands the need of prayer and has received comfort and peace from lifting his thought to God. Any student of Christian Science will tell you that Christian Science has shown him how to pray with a confidence and assurance never before known to him. He will tell you that he finds in Christian Science a practical method of demonstrating true Christianity, namely, the love of God brought to earth—the power of God made available to mankind.

Christian Science is teaching men today to prove the truth of Jesus' saying, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, nothing shall be impossible unto you" (Matt. 17:20). Christian Scientists take these words of Jesus literally. They believe that if they pray with trust and absolute confidence in God's omnipotence no belief of discord or disease can withstand such prayer.

Christian Scientists are praying people, and Christian Science teaches them how to pray effectually.

Prayer in Christian Science shows us how to speak the word which heals. There are times when the spoken word is as prompt in bringing about the healing as it was in Jesus' time.

I knew of such a case. It was that of a young child whose arm hung useless. The parents of this child were not students of Christian Science, but after much unavailing treatment by material means, they decided to turn to Christian Science for help and the child was taken by the mother to a Christian Science practitioner.

The practitioner spoke to the mother of God's love and power, and told her that this divine Love was as present and available to heal now as it was in the time when Jesus restored the withered hand. She turned to the child and said, indicating the Christian Science textbook, "Hand me that book, dear." The child did so and the practitioner opened the book and began to read. Then she realized the mother was weeping. "What is it?" she asked; and the mother replied, "She handed you the book with the hand she could not use." The child was instantaneously healed.

Right where sickness, disorder, tyranny, and lac appear to be, the practitioner of Christian Science, the scientific right thinker, can establish health, order, freedom, and abundance, for these are humanly established where God's presence is realized. His power acknowledged, and His law declared operative. In Christian Science practice we stress three things: he allness of God, divine power, the availability of this divine Principle to meet the human need; and the receptivity of every individual to the influence of divine good.

As an illustration of the availability of divine Principle there is the experience of a young aviator, student of Christian Science, who was navigator of a large plane. On one occasion when the plane was crossing the Atlantic the pilot and the crew were prevented by adverse weather conditions from landing the destination; their gasoline supply was almost exhausted. With no material means of navigation within several hundred miles, those on the plane felt they had no alternative but to crash into the ocean. Preparations were made to abandon the plane.

The student of Christian Science, who had been working silently, began to declare audibly that the plane was under the unerring direction of Mind, divine Principle. He repeated understandingly the wor.. o. one of the hymns in the Christian Science Hymnal (No. 53):

> "Everlasting arms of Love
> Are beneath, around, above;
> God it is who bears us on,
> His the arm we lean upon."

This released him from a sense of being personally responsible for saving the plane or navigating its course. The there followed the recognition that God, divine Principle, was present and His power available to save them.

Within a very short time the heavy mist which had obscured their vision and obstructed their course lifted sufficiently for them to see the faint white outline of land below, which indicated that land was at hand. Just before their supply of gasoline was exhausted, they were able t. land safely.

It is sometimes easier to realize that God is ready to help those who trust in Him than it is to recognize that every individual, no matter how degraded he may seem is receptive to and can have God's help. An event in the experience of a Christian Science practitioner may prove helpful in showing how the facts relative to the God-created man lifted one human being from degradation.

This practitioner received a letter from a woman asking for help. Her husband, she said, was a professional gambler, a slave to drink and frequently threatened her life and that of their child. As requested, the practitioner maintained for this woman the correct concept of man, a declared the truth of man's being. She saw that man in his true identity is created and sustained by God, in a state of freedom and satisfaction, is created to bless his fellow men and to express love to them.

This correct concept of man so effectually denied the sense presentation of a cruel mortal in bondage to false appetite that after some weeks of this treatment, the prayer the woman's husband came o timself. Just as in Jesus' parable the prodigal son came to himself amid the husks and the swine, so this man was aroused to the sense of his true individuality. His first words were: "What am I doing to myself? Unless I change I shall destroy myself." From that moment he did change, and he became completely The false appetites dropped away from him; he obtained honest work and became a loving father and a useful citizen.

Our textbook says (p. 6): "Divine Love corrects and governs man. Men may pardon, but this divine Principle alone reforms the sinner." God, divine Principle, reached this sinful man and reformed him, released him from that degrading habit which it had found him and restored to him, in the measure he was then ready to receive it, his birthright as the son of God.

Evil Overcome, Not Ignored

The teaching of Christian Science in regard to the unreality of evil has not been generally understood. In her book "No and Yes" Mrs. Eddy says (p. 24), "There was never a moment in which evil was real." Christian Science, starting with the premise that God is All-in-all, follows this premise to its logical conclusion, namely that evil has no actual existence. Contrary to the belief of some, Christian Science never ignores evil. Through the all-might of God, of divine Principle, this Science overcome evil. It overcomes, it does not overlook it. It heeds the Scriptural admonition, "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good" (Romans 12:21).

Because Christian Science teaches that evil is nothing, it is proving that it can do nothing, and because Christian Science recognizes that evil is neither God created nor God-sent, it can and does redeem men from the claims of evil and nullify the evil effects that go with these claims.

In Christian Science we cling to spiritual reality in the face of all sense testimony to the contrary. Regardless of what the sense testimony may present, the Christian Scientist has the courage to stand with this spiritual reality. He clings to the fact that because there is one God there can be but one power; therefore he recognizes that evil is unreal and cannot assert itself—or be asserted as true thought or thinking, cannot operate in human experience as poverty, heartache, disease, or fear when God's omnipotence and omnipresence are realized.

The Psalmist says, "I will call upon the Lord who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies" (Psalms 18:3)—from anything that would deny the power and activity of good in individual experience.

Jesus Demonstrated the Power of Christ

Jesus' earthly career was a triumphant demonstration of divine power. Mrs. Eddy says in the Christian Science textbook (p. 18) "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated Science with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage." Because he recognized God, divine Mind, as the only power presence, or activity in the universe and knew himself to be at one with God, Jesus could and did exercise the power of God without measure. The varied presentations of evil were only opportunities for him to prove the availability of divine power in overcoming them.

In bringing out the healings in obedience to Jesus command and which Christian Science again makes possible, it is important that we understand that we are actually doing the will of God.

When the leper said to Jesus "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." Jesus replied, "I will; be thou clean" (Matt. 8:2-3). It was the will of God that Jesus was manifesting in the healing. At another time, he said, "My meat is to do the will of him that sent me" (John 4:34) and he showed in providing for the multitude by feeding the sinner, and healing the sick that the will of God was the will of Love to all men; thus he confuted the false belief that God sends evil to punish or afflict man.

His earliest recorded words were, "I must be about my Father's business" (Luke 2:49) and throughout his earthly experience he was engaged solely in the business of the Father. He worked the works of God.

Jesus illustrated and expressed the Christ, the divine manifestation of God. He claimed no identity separate from God. He identified himself so completely with God—"I and my Father are one"—he expressed God to such a degree that he could say, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 10:30, 14:9). Because he identified himself with God he spoke with the authority of God and exercised the power of God and could prove the truth of his words. "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth" (Matt. 28:18).

Not only did Jesus exercise God's power, he revealed God in His innermost nature. He interpreted divinity to humanity, not only by his own time, but for all time. He showed to the men of his day, who believed in a God of wrath and vengeance the example of a tender shepherd who searched for one sheep which had gone astray a shepherd who knew that no matter how far the sheep wandered, its ownership remained unchanged because the sheep still belonged to the shepherd, no matter how far it had roamed.

To those who believed in retribution, "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth" (Matt. 5:38), he related the parable of a father who ran to meet the son who had left his house and wasted his substance in riotous living; a father who restored this son immediately to the full prerogatives of sonship when once he turned his face to the father's house (Luke 15).

Jesus revealed the Christ to humanity. While Jesus individually proclaimed and demonstrated the Christ, the Christ Truth was not and is not exclusive to Jesus, for the Christ is never apart from man, for it is the manifestation of the divine Principle, God, which man reflects and so it is ever with man. Mrs. Eddy says in Science and Health (p. 332), "Christ is the true idea voicing good the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease, and death."

It is the Christ which enabled Jesus and enables us to do the works of God. To express the nature of Christ is your work and I.. work. The power of the Christ is ours to understand and to manifest dominion over every phase of evil.

Mrs Eddy Impelled by Love for God and Man

Jesus expected his work to continue; he told his disciples, "Behold, I give unto you power . . over all the power of the enemy" (Luke 10:19), and he expected this power to be exercised to an increasing degree. He said that even greater works than those he had done should be performed by all who followed after him. "Ie said, "Verily verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do" (John 14:12).

For more than two hundred years this expectation of Jesus was unfilled; his followers healed the sick and even raised the dead. Irenaeus, one of the early Christian writers, speaks of raising the dead as a not uncommon event and he mentions that there were instances in the church many who had been brought back to life through the prayers of their fellow Christians. However, this spiritual power disappeared through growing materialism, until it was temporarily lost to the world.

It was not fully restored until our own times. Then, through the pure spirituality of one who lived among us, the healing power of Truth was again brought to earth—Mary Baker Eddy loved God with singlehearted devotion, and felt for her fellow men the same Christlike compassion which had been expressed by Jesus centuries before. These qualities fitted her to receive the revelation of Truth. Her closeness to God brought God close to her.

From her earliest youth, Mrs. Eddy's first desire was to know and serve the God She says in her textbook (p. 1), "Desire is prayer," and her desire to know God was a prayer so pure, so absolute, so singlehearted that it received an answer beyond human measure and beyond hope that expressed her own hope or expectation, for to her was given the full and final revelation of Truth—she discovered Christian Science. To use her own words in her Science and Health, p. 107) Mrs Eddy's discovery of these divine laws brought them again into operation in human experience. It restored the power of Christ to humanity, for it brought to the world the practical, scientific knowledge of the One the real Comforter—which Christ Jesus promised the Father would send in his name.

The Science of Truth set forth in the "hristian Science textbook and Mrs Eddy's other writings is destined to redeem humanity for it brings dominion over every phase of evil. It can readily be seen that an understanding of its redemptive message naturally brings with it an understanding of the love and unselfishness which characterized the messenger.

Nothing is more characteristic of Mrs Eddy than an experience she had at the early age. When considering church membership it came to her that she herself was unwilling to be saved while her brothers and sister not yet church members were to be banished forever from the presence of God.

This tender love for her fellow men characterized all the years of the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science throughout her human experience.

Jesus always pointed to the works he did as a sufficient proof that the Messiah had appeared (Matt. 11:4-5). According to John he said "The works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me" (John 5:36).

Many Christians have been troubled that the proofs of Christian healing were lacking in modern times, and this is why so many of them, once they understand it, accept readily Christian Science, for today throughout the world Christian Science is repeating the works of Jesus' time and is daily affording proof that this Science is the Comforter promised by Jesus.

Is it then surprising that the gratitude honor, and reverence of Christian Scientists go out to the one who brought the Science of Christianity to them? For we cannot forget that this healing Truth was restored to humanity through the spirituality, self-sacrifice, and devotion of Mary Baker Eddy. We accord her the God-appointed place as the revelator of Truth the one who brought the final revelation. God Himself revealed the Truth to her and the truth revealed shall as Christ Jesus promised, abide with men forever.

No one was more humble than Mrs. Eddy. She tells us in one of her Messages to The Mother Church (Message for 1901, p. 34), "Finally brethren, wait patiently on God; return blessing for cursing; be not overcome of . . . but overcome evil with good; be steadfast, abide and abound in faith, understanding, and good works; study the Bible and the textbook of our denomination; obey strictly the laws that be, and follow your Leader only so far as she follows Christ." But no one could follow her who does not follow the Christ, for she herself followed Christ or Truth wholeheartedly and unreservedly. Loving God supremely, she found, her church upon the basic truth that God is All-in-all and that His power can be demonstrated here on earth by mankind.

If you wish to know more of Christian Science read our textbook; one can be borrowed from the Reading Room of this church or from any other Christian Science Reading Room in this city. Study the book. Perhaps there may be much in it which you will immediately understand. This was the experience of most of us when we began our study. But as one continues to ponder Science and Health and to assimilate its ideas Christian Science becomes increasingly clear to him.

Human beings need to be healed of the belief that they are weak and helpless in a none too kindly world. All fear stems from this belief, and fear is the foe of both righteous activity and righteous self-expression—it prevents men from trying their wings. Jesus said, "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom" (Luke 12:32).

Fear keeps men in bondage to unscientific routine and prevents them from advancing into new areas of usefulness; it holds them to the village they know, the job with which they are familiar. They fear to venture forth, lest they find themselves unprepared to meet new and higher demands made upon them. Yet we know that as they learn to trust God and refuse to be governed by fears which would inhibit, they find that God, divine intelligence, is always with them, and they find His power is adequate to take care of any situation and to meet every need.

Because Christian Science is a religion of power, a practical religion, it is also a religion of joy. The Bible says, "The joy of the Lord is your strength" (Neh. 8:10). And Christian Scientists learn to rely upon this strength. Their religion is one of happiness; it introduces and maintains harmony in human relations. The application of its teachings makes useful citizens, intelligent businessmen, and happy homes.

The student of Christian Science does not retire, in the usual sense of the word, from the world; he is taught to bring into the world—into the everyday affairs of life—the order, harmony, and good will which Christian Science inculcates.

One must understand the oneness and allness of God in order to exercise God's power. All power, might, and dominion belong to God. Our textbook says (p. 228), "There is no power apart from God." Human being, express the divine power in the measure that they express the divine nature. It can be said with truth that men express God's power in the proportion that they express His tender, changeless love.

Science and Health says (p. 454), "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way." The way of power is always the way of Love; not the human sense of love which is here today and gone tomorrow, but the imparting and unvarying Love based upon eternal Principle, which is ever itself—too sure of the infinitude of the God who is Love to admit an unlikeness to Him anywhere.

The world has need of Godlike men those who know God and use their knowledge of Him; for only those who know God, only those who are themselves Godlike, can exercise dominion over the world's ills, and lead mankind out of its confusion, its perplexities and its fears.

Christian Science shows us that we, each one of us can help meet humanity's need, for it shows us that as children of God we have God-bestowed ability to do the works of God to cast sickness, to heal, and to bring harmony into consciousness and experience and help others to overcome these false beliefs.

In complete and joyous reliance on the infinitude of God good, Christian Science disposes of evil and shows everyone who will heed the teachings how to exercise the power of God and so bring harmony to the world.

Mrs. Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science points the way for humanity to exercise this power. She says "The First Church of Christ Scientist and Miscellany, p. 160) "To live so as to keep unbroken consciousness of constant relation with the divine, the spiritual, and the eternal is to individualize infinite power; and this is Christian Science."

Centuries ago Isaiah prophesied (Isaiah 62) of him who lives so as to keep human consciousness in constant relation with God. "Thou shalt be called by a new name which the mouth of the Lord shall name. Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God."

WINCHESTER HARRIERS BEAT WELLESLEY AND ESSEX AGGIES

Winchester High's cross country team beat both Wellesley High and Essex Aggies last Friday afternoon for its first victories of the season, besting Wellesley, 17-38, and Essex Aggies, 16-47. Competition was over the home course, both races being run simultaneously, but with separate scores being kept.

Fifty starters got off in a mad scramble for position as the race got under way, but four Winchester runners soon worked their way into the lead and increased their advantage as the race wore along, taking the first four places with individual honors going to Charlie Murphy.

Murphy, junior star, ran the 2.3 miles in 14m 58s, which is good going, with Co-Captain "Buzzy" Bird, second; Peter Coon, third; and Co-Captain John Fuley, fourth. These places held for both races with Pierce of Essex Aggies finishing 5th, and Rush, Maroney and Plumpen of Winchester finishing in that order behind Pierce.

Hooper, 11, and Godwin, 12, were next home for Winchester in the Aggie race behind Tilton and Martineau. Moriarty and Florence of the Aggies were 13th and 14th and Hawkins of Winchester, 15th.

Wellesley took 5th and 6th in the Winchester-Wellesley competition, with Rush of Winchester, 7th, followed by three more Wellesley men. Maroney and Phippen finished 11th and 12th, followed by three Wellesley runners.

Winchester junior varsity returned to the win column by having a perfect 15-50 score in its meet with the Essex Aggies jay vees, and also beat Wellesley by the close score of 28-29. Hank Hooper and Leo Godwin were outstanding for the local seconds.

WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK,
By William E. Priest, Treasurer

SEEING THE SIGHTS!

With his older brother, Billy, in school and things a bit quiet around home, Charles Thoms, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thoms of Maxwell road, decided to take a bit of a trip for himself Monday forenoon. Against the advice of "Bob" Abrahamson, caretaker at Manchester Field, Charles proceeded downtown, where he was picked up crossing Main street at Thompson street by Officer James E. Farrell.

Meanwhile Charles' mother, missing her youngest, instituted a search, both in the family car and afoot, without results.

The Police had trouble getting identification data from Charles, who would give his first and middle names, but not his last name. He was also a bit vague about the location of his home.

Officer William Cassidy, however, cruised about Lloyd street with the little wanderer and finally found a neighbor who identified Charles and volunteered to see him safely home.

Charles, himself, was quite unexcited about it all, and brought home with him some candy which he informed his relieved mother he had gotten "in a store".

Last Friday afternoon the Police rounded up three boys, two aged seven and one six, responsible for pulling a quantity of shingles from the barn at the Parkhurst estate on Oak Knoll. Their parents were notified and agreed to make restitution.

MISS ROBERTS RETURNS FROM GERMANY

Miss Phyllis Roberts, grade six teacher at the Washington school, a Winchester teacher since 1940, resumed her teaching there as school reopened in September.

On leave of absence last year, Miss Roberts taught in the Hoechst Dependents school at Hoechst, a suburb of Frankfort, Germany. Beginning as a teacher of grades five and six at the school for one hundred and twenty-five children, Miss Roberts eventually found herself teaching grades four, five, and six as well as serving as principal of the school.

Hoechst Dependents school is for the children of army officers and sergeants, of State Department officials, and of civilian representatives of business firms.

On holiday from her teaching and during the summer, Miss Roberts was able to visit thirteen European countries before returning to the United States on August 22.

FORMER RESIDENT INJURED

Miss Gertrude L. Davis, former owner of the Hobby and Crafts Nook, had a very serious accident October 10 in Hillsboro, N. H. where she conducts her summer business. Miss Davis had driven her car up to a grease pit at a garage to have it winterized. It was raining so she had an umbrella open. As she stepped back to be out of the rain she fell backwards into a 6 ft. grease pit. She fractured both bones in her lower left leg, bones in her ankle besides dislocations and back injury. She was taken to the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in Concord. It is believed that the open umbrella acted as a parachute and prevented further injury.

The title of his talk will be "The Critic on the Hearth," consisting of anecdotes of people of the theater, music and movies, with some talk about criticism and writing in general. WORK DAY FOR CHRIST

The 170 members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church are looking for jobs throughout the Parish Nov. 3 and 4, days which they have set aside as Work Days for Christ. All the money they earn those days will be given to the City Missionary Society at a special dedication service on November 5. Already 111 members have signed up that they will give a day's work on one of those days and the committee in charge is contacting the rest of the membership, hoping to reach their goal of 100% participation soon.

Audrey Clark spoke briefly at the chapel service last Sunday about the plans, and Betty Lou Martensen is making a poster with all the names inscribed on it of young people who have pledged to participate in the project. Janet Macaulay will be the speaker this Sunday. Jennifer Meigs and Helen Lunsford arranged the bulletin board with silhouettes of various jobs to be done by the young people.

Anyone who needs work done on one of those days may call Dorothy Brandt, WI 6-1233-W, or the Church School office WI 6-1056.

RUSSELL FRANKLIN KEEHN

Russell Franklin Keehn, a native and former resident of Winchester, died, following a heart attack, Thursday, October 5, at his home in La Plata, Argentina, South America. He was the brother of Miss Pauline H. Keehn and Arthur R. Keehn of Hancock street and will be remembered by older residents of the town.

Mr. Keehn was the son of Frank J., and Alice V. (Hodge) Keehn. He was born February 2, 1891, in Winchester, and was educated in Winchester schools and at Harvard University, from which he was graduated with the degree of A. B. cum laude, in 1913, working his way through college. He graduated from high school in 1909 with high-est honors and was prominent as a student in his senior class and editor-in-chief of the old Winchester High School "Recorder", the student publication in those days. He played first base on the St. Mary's baseball team which won championship honors in the years following 1909, and was, during his school and college days, a correspondent for the Star.

After college Mr. Keehn learned cotton and worsted textile manufacturing with the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., in Manchester, N. H. During the last three years of his six years in Manchester he taught the theory and practice of weaving and elementary designing in the textile night school there.

On New Years eve, 1920, Mr. Keehn sailed for South America to organize export sales in that market. Later he was appointed agent for the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., with headquarters in Buenos Aires.

He returned to the United States in 1922 and married Ann Charron of Manchester, N. H., in St. Stephen's Church in New York, returning to South America as representative of Amoskeag and several other firms. In 1924 he refused an offer to return to New York as export manager for Amoskeag and commenced manufacturing underwear in Buenos Aires, first with a small mill and organization, of which he was director, secretary and treasurer.

The business prospered and within two years it was necessary to build a new modern plant in La Plata, capital of the Province of Buenos Aires, situated about 40 miles southeast of Buenos Aires, adding a complete installation for the manufacture of knitted meat wraps for the exportation of packing plant products.

This reorganized company, known as "The Cia Harder Ltda, S. A.", proved so successful it was purchased by English interests in 1925 with the provision that Mr. Keehn remain in full charge of plant operations, under the name of "The Patent Knitting Co., B. A. Ltda", with controlling interest in Manchester, England, the new company expanded rapidly and built a much larger mill, increasing its capital from 500,000 to 1,000,000 pesos. Adding the knitting of fine wool and cotton and wool mixtures as well as artificial silk cloths and garments, the company became one of the few outstanding manufacturers of knitted garments in the Argentine, adding a small but successful mill in Montevideo, Uruguay and in 1935, a spinning plant to supply their requirements for cotton thread.

Mr. Keehn was the first North American to manufacture textiles in South America with American capital and he experienced the satisfaction of seeing his pioneering develop into one of the important industries of South America.

In 1936 Mr. Keehn entered the employ of Swift & Co., of Chicago, and sailed south to organize, install preparing and operate three knitting units for wraps for the export of meat. The largest plant was at LaPlata with others in Montevideo, and in Rio Grande do Sul, Southern Brazil. He was later appointed supervisor of supplies for Swift & Co., in South America, making much night flying necessary. He had not recently returned from a flying trip through Brazil before his death.

Prior to 1938 Mr. Keehn had been appointed by the Governor of the Province of Buenos Aires as technical advisor to serve on a commission of five to organize and install textile workshops in Government schools and penal institutions. He had also been a textile surveyor in the Argentine Republic for the United States Chamber of Commerce.

He was a member of the American Club of Buenos Aires, Rotary International, Jockey Club of La Plata, Swift Golf Club, Mannuel Gomez, La Plata, Sud, Argentina; and United States University's Club of Buenos Aires.

Besides his brother and sister in Winchester, Mr. Keehn leaves his wife.

A requiem high mass will be celebrated Saturday, October 21, at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock.

DR. CHIDLEY HONORED AT BANQUET

DR. CHIDLEY HONORED AT BANQUET

[illegible] House Supper at the [illegible] Congregational Church Wednesday evening was marked [illegible] surprise visit on Dr. and Mrs. [illegible] by the Deacons and Parish Ministers' Association of Winchester.

Mr. R. Gilman Wallace presided as toastmaster and in speaking of Dr. Chidley's pastorate of fifteen years, called attention to the fact that when Dr. Chidley became pastor in 1935 the membership of the church was 577, while today it is 1561. The budget in 1935 was $14,000; this year it is $15,000. In 1935 there was a net gain in membership of only 2, while this year the net gain will be more than 80. Mr. Wallace referred also to the unusually fine service which Mrs. Chidley had rendered the church as being an effective right arm to Dr. Chidley. Mr. James Coon, head deacon, then presented Mrs. Chidley with a bouquet of roses.

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, of the First Baptist Church, then took over, as representative of the Protestant Ministers' Association of Winchester, and called on the pastors of the Winchester Churches, one at a time, to present the official greetings of their churches. These ministers then added their own personal greetings.

When it came Mr. Bailey's own turn, he described Dr. Chidley's dynamic personality by saying that if he was riding a streak of lightning, he would ask for a whip and spur to increase his speed! He complimented Mrs. Chidley on her valuable services to the church and presented her with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums from the Association, and Dr. Chidley with a beautiful greeting card, from the Association, designed and executed by Mr. Ernest Dudley Chase, bearing the words:

"In recognition of the brave and devoted leadership of Howard J. Chidley for the past thirty-five years in promoting the welfare of our beloved community, the Ministers of Winchester are honored to present him this testimonial of our deep respect and abiding affection."

In responding to these greetings, Dr. Chidley preceded his remarks by expressing his great indebtedness to Rev. Donald Tarr for the hard work he had done behind the scenes to make a part of the occasion a successful surprise to Dr. Chidley. Dr. Chidley then said that the credit for forming the Winchester Ministers' Association belongs to Dr. Ward, the broadminded pastor of the Epiphany Church thirty five years ago. Two results had come from the formation of the Association, according to Dr. Chidley. The first was a fine spirit of community cooperation, and thanked God that the town was not overchurched. He complimented the Protestant Churches of the community on the calibre of their present ministers, never finer during the past thirty-five years.

Dr. Latourette then gave an address on "Our Times and Our Response."

The meeting closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne, Mr. J. Albert Wilson at the piano.

A resident of Rockport, he had been living in Winchester since last August, though he had previously made his home in this town, first at 993 Main street and later at 173 Forest street. He leaves his wife, Etta, two sons and two daughters, his mother and several brothers and sisters, all residents of Rockport.

CLAIMED CIRCULATION

A CLAIMED circulation is much different from a SWORN circulation.

The STAR could CLAIM to print more papers than there are dwellings in Winchester.

It could CLAIM a circulation larger than the Boston Herald.

This would not be true of course.

Yet no one would question it and SOME would believe it.

But a SWORN circulation is different.

It is a true statement made under oath.

The number of copies of the STAR printed on Friday, October 13, 1950 was 4,150

UNITARIAN GOOD LUCK BAZAAR NOVEMBER 8

The season of fairs starts off early with the women of the Unitarian Church Alliance, under the special chairmanship of Mrs. Henry E. Worcester and Mrs. William Davis, launching their Annual Bazaar. The date is Wednesday, November the 8th at the Friendly Church at the corner of the Parkway and Main Street. You are hereby invited to come and look at our gifts, eat at the food stall and purchase of the good food that will be served throughout the day.

The focal point of the hall will be decorated by Mrs. Frederick Cutting, as always - the garden table. Mrs. Charles Young and her group have been working and planning since some time before last Christmas, besides attending to their own household duties, to produce a wonderful array of useful articles for everyone.

Another spot that is visited time and time again is Mrs. Horace Ford and Mrs. Clifford Tourgee's White Elephant Table. Such an array of big bargains as she collects each year!

The Dress Parade, as every [illegible] and ladies' dress to be [illegible] and [illegible] Mrs. Walter Davis and Mrs. Warren [illegible] Mrs. Cutting, Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Tourgee.

Mrs. [illegible] Monday and Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. [illegible] Lunch will be served again after the session of Mrs. Clark Morrison and Mrs. James Beale, veterans of the successful occasion of last year. Mrs. Dermot Bowles-Tilson is planning a delightful Tea Party and the supper will be the by now justly famous Smorgasbord - so popular request with Mrs. Ford Mellvien the expert chairman.

After supper the auction will go on. Mrs. Clark Collins and Mrs. John Wallace are in charge of this laugh-provoking routine and this year they need generous contributions.

So there is a full day of fun ahead for the older folks plus a children's entertainment in the afternoon. More about this later from Mrs. James Joslin and Mrs. Robert Low. The date to remember is Wednesday, November the 8th from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

BAPTIST YOUNG ADULTS

The Young Adults (above High School, of College) and above the College aged of the First Baptist Church are gathering at the Church Sunday evening, October 22nd, at 7 o'clock, for an exploratory meeting to organize and promote a program of activity and interest to their group and of service to the church and community. Mr. John Hunt Chapple, Director of Youth Activities, is the advisor for this group. Following the discussion and planning part of the meeting there will be fellowship and refreshments.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

A large membership attended the opening meeting of the Fortnightly Monday, October 9, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hisone, president, greeted new members as well as old friends at the Dessert and Reception which preceded the meeting.

It was voted unanimously that annual contributions be made to the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the International Institute. Also it was agreed to contribute toward activities in cooperation with the League of Women Voters for the forthcoming United Nations Week.

Federation Meetings

Mrs. Hisone gave a report on the General Federation Meeting held at Boston during the week of May 20th, which was attended by seven members of the Fortnightly. Many Fortnightly members are to be appointed to responsible places during the convention. Some serving on Information, others as Tour Guides, the Press and Meetings Committee.

Mrs. Stevens reported on the Annual Meeting of the State Federation which held for its theme "Building For Peace." The need for women to take an even more active interest in government was stressed, and that between now and November club-women should help themselves and their neighbors to understand the coming issues and get out the vote. It was reported that in Idaho in 1948 at the last big election only one third of the registered voters went to the polls.

Red Cross

Once again the Red Cross has called for volunteer workers, and Mrs. Ruth S. Priest announced that rooms at the Town Hall have been reserved each Wednesday on the top floor for sewing and every Tuesday on the first floor for surgical dressings. Those who plan to knit sweaters for the Navy (sleeveless or coat style) may obtain the wool from Mrs. Priest, 75 Church street.

Music

A program of beautiful music was presented by Mr. H. Whipple Abbott on his unique instrument which he plays without human touch. The piano accompaniment was played by his sister, Miss Margaret Abbott. These gifted artists provided a very delightful hour.

Federation Fall Meeting

Representing the Fortnightly at the fall meeting of the State Federation at the Totem Pole, Norumbega Park, October 16th, were Mrs. Marion Symmes, Miss Louise Bancroft, Mrs. Eleanor Bancroft, Mrs. Elizabeth Hisone, Mrs. Ruth Priest, Mrs. Aggie Given, Mrs. Lillian Whitman, Mrs. Beatrice Budd, Mrs. Lora Rhodes, and Mrs. Lillian Barr. A very interesting and timely program included talks on current world affairs by distinguished speakers, among whom were Mrs. Frederick W. Beggs, Chairman of International Relations of the General Federation; Mr. Harry Ellis of the Christian Science Monitor; and Mr. Pierre Van Paassen the well known author.

There will be a food sale preceding the November 13th regular meeting and reserved orders for hot dishes may be placed with Mrs. Beatrice Budd, Mrs. Ruth Priest and Mrs. Lora Rhodes.

SCALPING STONEHAM by Gerry

WINCHESTER, 39; STONEHAM, 2

Visitors' Errors Big Factor in Top-Heavy Score

Winchester High won its fifth straight football game last Saturday afternoon, beating Stoneham High School on Manchester Field, 39 - 2, before a crowd that was considerably smaller than was expected. Stoneham brought its student band to the game with uniformed color-bearers and guards and a large group of drum-majorettes and cheer-leaders. It is too bad that the field could not have been kept clear, especially on the Winchester side, while the visiting musicians and twirlers attempted to do their stuff. They quickly got tired of competing with the crowd of teenagers on the Winchester sidelines and retired to their own side of the field where they put on quite a show.

The visiting football team didn't do as well. The Stoneham boys had plenty of size and were expected to give Winchester a hard game. Perhaps over-eagerness made the big blue-clad visitors tight and jittery. Perhaps they were just having an off day. At all events they were completely outclassed, and they contributed largely to their own downfall by loose handling of the ball and by making many mistakes, both of omission and comission.

Stoneham is surely a much better team than it appeared last Saturday, but on that day the boys from the hockey town just couldn't do anything right, and to make things even worse for Coach DeTeso and his followers, practically all the breaks went to Winchester, the team in the driver's seat.

Coach Knowlton used his entire bench against Stoneham, the fourth and fifth touchdowns of the first half being scored by the second and third teams, while after the varsity scored the sixth touchdown in the third quarter the scrubs took over and played out the game. It was the first time this year Winchester has enjoyed a lead commanding enough to permit Coach Knowlton to try out his reserves and several of the substitutes looked quite promising.

Heading the list was big "Jocko" Scrieka, reserve fullback, who contributed a touchdown jaunt of 27 yards shortly before half time, and later at the start of the final quarter reeled off a 32 yard run that would have gone all the way with just one good block.

Flaherty showed a lot of speed at reserve end and "Tommy" Thomson showed flashes of good quarterbacking when he relieved Mechelsen. Peluso, who replaced Burbank, played well at guard and Wheaton looked like a real speedboy out in the open, despite his loss of a sure-enough touchdown pass from Thomson.

Burbank sustained a painful knee injury on the kickoff and played no more during the game, being helped off the field at half time. A lateral ligament pull in his knee will bench the capable guard for at least this week.

The pattern of the game was set in the first few minutes when Stoneham fumbled deep in its own territory after the kickoff and had to kick. Winchester also had butterfingers after advancing the ball to the Stoneham 10, and the visitors racked up a first down at the 24 before being forced to kick.

Winchester was offside on the kick and the five yard penalty gave Stoneham less than a yard to go for first down at its 34.

The visitors chose to gamble and rush instead of kick. They failed to make it and the game seemed to hinge on that one poor play. From then on in it was all Winchester, except for a short time just before the half and again at the start of third period when the visitors fumbled away a touchdown chance on the Winchester 2.

Starting from the Stoneham 34, Winchester scored in five plays, despite a 15 yard penalty for holding.

This set the ball back from the Stoneham 33 to the 48. Donlon wiped out this deficit when he hit Capt. Cirurso with a pretty pass, on which Tony made a great catch and nice carry to the Stoneham 19. O'Brien cracked off the left to the 11 and Johnson busted up the middle to the one foot line.

On the next play Johnson bulled over. Smith's kick was ruled no good by the White Pants, but both Smithy and Mechelsen kicked lustily on the ball.

Winchester was back rushing again shortly after the kickoff when Peluso recovered a Stoneham fumble at the visitors' 33. On second down O'Brien skirted his own left end and went all the way from the 28, but White Pants saw him outside at the Stoneham 17. From there Johnson and Donlon advanced the ball to the 6. Donlon picked up 2 and O'Brien went over inside tight tackle through a hole big enough to accommodate a Mack truck. Smith's kick was no good, a bad pass-back from center not helping any.

Right after the kickoff Stoneham fumbled again and Winchester recovered at its 49. The locals couldn't go, but had another chance when the Stoneham safety bobbled Griffin's towering punt and Walden recovered at the Stoneham 16.

Johnson picked up 8, and Donlon quickly bulled through for the touchdown, banging through the line. Smith converted this time.

Casey ran Errico's kickoff back to his 22, but the visitors lost 15 for illegal use of hands, and two plays later another 15 yarder for holding put the ball a yard from the Stoneham goal. Scammon's kick was hurried and reached only the 32. Three ties got only five yards with the seconds operating, but on fourth down Scrieka circled his own right end and flew down the sidelines from the 27 yard line to score. Smith again converted.

Luckless Stoneham gave Winchester another scoring chance on the kickoff, when its boys apparently forgot that the kicking team is onside and permitted the alert Mr. Scrieka to fall on the ball at the Stoneham 29.

Errico bucked for a yard, and then "Tommy" Thomson tossed a wobbly pass down the middle that bounced around on a couple of Stoneham boys' and high into the waiting hands of Flaherty, speedy Winchester reserve end, who legged it into the end zone, pulling away from the Stoneham defenders like Man O'War from a selling plater. Smith converted for a 32 - 0 count and one of the biggest single period totals in Winchester's history.

Errico's kickoff was short and Casey ran it to the Stoneham 39. Here Scammon, hard running fullback took a pitch-out from Picano and raced to the Winchester 29, only to have the alert Thomson intercept a pass on his 11 at the next play.

"Tommy" elected to send Wheaton wide on first down against a packed Stoneham outside defense and the runner was hurled back just a yard short of the Winchester goal line.

Scrieka went into his end zone to kick, but the whole Stoneham team was in on him to block his boot, the ball rolling beyond the end zone for an automatic safety.

The half ended soon after Smith's booming kick from the 20 yard marker, and with the resumption of play it looked for a minute as if Stoneham had started.

Big Joe Donlon fumbled on the second play after the kickoff and Stoneham recovered at Winchester's 37. Picano passed to Casey for a first down at the 16, and Scammon on a sweep was finally brought down by Donlon on the two yard line.

Abruptly Lady Luck deserted the visitors as Crowley recovered a Stoneham bobble at the 4, and O'Brien hot-footed it out to the 25. Mechelsen and O'Brien made it first down at the 39 and then Johnson on a baffler broke through the line and into the clear, galloping to the Stoneham 19 before being pulled down from behind.

Donlon swept for four and O'Brien made it first down at the nine. On the next play Donlon smashed up the middle for the score with Smith converting.

That ended the scoring, though Scrieka didn't miss by much on his long run from the Winchester 29 to the Stoneham 39. Stoneham attacking forces was threatening to get going at the end of the game but a passing flurry went bad and Scammon kicked to Thomson at Winchester's 21 to end the threat.

WINCHESTER AT FRAMINGHAM TOMORROW

Winchester's football team, riding the crest of a five-game unbeaten streak, meets a tough test tomorrow afternoon when the Indians meet Framingham High at Bowditch Field, Framingham, at 2 o'clock.

Framingham has lost its last two starts, dropping last Saturday's game to Dedham, 19 - 0, and the Saturday before going down before Belmont, 6 - 0. The Blue and Silver has a 6 - 6 tie game with Milton to its credit.

Winchester will carry the better record into tomorrow's meeting, but by that same token may have the harder time of it. Framingham will be hungry and with nothing to lose, can be depended upon to wage a hard relaxed fight against the locals, who may be a bit tight in view of their unblemished slate. It is several years since Framingham won from Winchester and the boys from the Bulger show town would dearly love to knock the Indians out of the unbeaten class.

Coach Knowlton is making no bones about being worried over tomorrow's game. Winchester's chief claim to being the favorite tomorrow lies in the locals' win over Watertown, a team that whipped Dedham badly. Dedham in turn trounced Framingham, 19 - 0.

Comparative scores, however, mean little in schoolboy football, and tomorrow's game looms as a tossup, with the breaks very probably entering heavily into the final decision.

Winchester has been getting its share of the breaks this year for a change, but many of them have been the result of the locals' hard aggressive play.

The Indians didn't benefit too much from the Stoneham game last Saturday and very probably lost their ace guard, "Sandy" Burbank, who left the game in the first play with a pulled ligament in his knee. Burbank and Cirurso are the most experienced of the Winchester linemen and without either, the locals will be handicapped.

WINCHESTER HARRIERS BEAT CONCORD AND ESSEX AGGIES

Winchester High beat Concord and Essex Aggies over the home course last Friday afternoon in another meet in which the races were run simultaneously but with separate scoring.

Winchester beat Concord, 20 to 37 and had a 17 to 45 advantage over the Aggies, whom the locals were beating for the second time this season.

Individual honors in the Concord meet went to Bob Hammond, Concord's as yet unbeaten hill and dale, but Mr. Hammond had a race on his hands all the way to edge Peter Coon of Winchester, who ran the best race of his career, leading all the way until the final sprint to the tape when he fell at the finish line to be edged by Hammond.

Bird, Murphy, Foley and Rush followed Coon in that order with Gilburn and Hayford of Concord leading Godwin of Winchester and MacWilliams of Concord. The winning time was 12m 6s.

In the Aggie meet Coon was the individual winner, being clocked in 12m 6.5s. Bird and Murphy placed second and third in this race, with Pierce of Essex Aggies, fourth, followed by Foley, Rush and Godwin of Winchester in that order. Tilton of Essex was 8th and Wilder and Hawkins of Winchester, 9th and 10th.

This marks the third season in which Winchester has been unbeaten on its home course.

The Winchester jay vees shut out Concord, 15 to 50, and beat Essex Aggies, 15 to 48. Doug Hawkins, a newcomer to the squad was the first Winchester runner home in the second team competition.

Kenneth M. Dickson, electronics technician, third class, USN, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. Earl Dickson of 9 Wilson street, participated in the recent amphibious assault against the Communist Forces on Korea's west coast as a member of the crew of a destroyer in the U. S. Navy attacking forces.

WILDE AND MRS. CLARK BROWN TROPHY WINNERS

Mrs. Marion Reynolds Clark and Doug Wilde won the Maurice E. Brown Memorial Trophy annual golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club last Sunday, defeating Mr. and Mrs. David W. Shean, Jr., in the final round of the championship flight, 2 and 1.

It was a good match with the winners jumping to an immediate three-hole lead and holding this advantage through the first nine. The Sheans cut the lead on the second nine but could get no more than a single hole and the match ended at the 17th, 2 and 1. Mrs. Clark's excellent putting was a strong factor in her team's victory.

In the first flight competition Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Donnell beat Captain and Mrs. R. R. Marken in the final round, 4 and 3. Mrs. Donald Belcher and Horace Ford won the championship consolations from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher, 3 and 2, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stengle beating Mrs. Harold French and Francis E. FOOTBALL COACH ON TV

Football Coach Henry Knowlton, with his current grid captain, Tony Cirurso, varsity right end; and fullback Bob O'Brien, were guests of Sportscaster "Bump" Hadley on the Winchester television program Monday evening over Station WBZ-TV. Accompanying the Winchester group was Sports Editor "Jimmy" Haggerty of the Woburn Daily Times, who is associated with the Station and chose Coach Knowlton and his two players to accompany him to the Hadley program Monday evening.

The Winchester trio proved quite photogenic with Bob O'Brien's bone tie adding eclat to their appearance. Coach Knowlton answered questions about his unbeaten team, the schedule and the new Winchester athletic field, while the boys gave their physical statistics and told of various outstanding teams and players they had met, along with their hope to go on from high school to college.

Captain Cirurso got a hand from Sportscaster Hadley when he said he thought Carone from "Bump's" home town of Swampscott was the hardest back to stop he has met this season.

"Jim" Haggerty, in reply to questioning, paid high tribute to Winchester sports followers for the support they give their teams and said he believes the fine spirit at Winchester High is responsible in no little measure for Winchester's outstanding athletic records.

Perhaps the highlights of the interview, particularly from the standpoint of O'Brien and Cirurso, was when Sportscaster Hadley asked them how they would like to adjourn to the Hotel Kenmore for a steak dinner as guests of the local Chevrolet dealers. The boys' gains bore eloquent testimony to their approval of that particular idea, and they were only slightly wider than Coach Knowlton's smile of appreciation, for there are few with a keener regard for a good steak than the Winchester A. D.

Subsequent reports of the dinner are to the effect that the steaks were thick and succulent, and the accompanying viands fully in keeping with the main dish. Many many local sports followers were watching the TV show and got a big kick out of seeing Coach Knowlton and his boys in "pictures." If all else fails, they should be able to carve a career for themselves on the silver screen.

FIELD HOCKEY NOTES

With Coach Helen Jay Carroll working her charges every good day since September 8, the Winchester High School field hockey team is rapidly rounding into shape for the games which are to come.

With the season's opener against Malden rained out Winchester finally got to play a game October 5 with Stoneham, playing an interclub series with the visitors at Gun Field.

Winchester won the senior match, 6 - 1, with Bette Kneeland tallying three of the goals, Jane Kneeland two, and Harris MacDonald, one. Jean Farquhar, ace team goaler, captained the senior team.

The Winchester juniors blanked the Stoneham third-year players, 4 - 0, Jan Easton scoring three of the goals, and Sona Smith, a sophomore subbing for Gretchen Daschbach, poking through the other.

Stoneham upset the Winchester sophomores, 2 - 1, in the third game, Winchester's goal being scored by Althea Hersey.

Coach Carroll has Bette Kneeland, Harris MacDonald, Moe O'Connell and Captain Jean Farquhar for veteran players this year, backed by a squad, including Jinny Dyer, Jan Collins, Gretchen Daschbach, Janet Easton, Anna Fiorenza, Bette Nelson, Sona Norian, Margaret Smith, Becky Benson, Cally Callahan, Joan Connors, Elizabeth Curtis, Louise Gray, Althea Hersey, Helen Hertig, Ann Hooper, Chris McKay, Joan McNeill, Cynthia Moses, Kinky Nichols and Sonnie Smith.

This year's club seems to have plenty of speed, a strong defense and a good scoring threat in Bette Kneeland.

A tentative lineup has Joan Neiley and Mary O'Connell at wings, Jane Chiswell and June Kneeland inners, with Bette Kneeland, center. Ruth Peel and Lynn Stevens are teaming with the veteran Harris MacDonald at the important halfback slots, with Louise Kugler, Marcia Flaherty and Lorraine Callahan, fullbacks. Captain Jean Farquhar will be in the sticks and should be hard to beat this year.

Sue Ordway is managing the team, assisted by Carole Crockett and Nancy Farquhar.

The schedule follows:

October 17 - At Concord
October 19 - Lexington
October 21 - High School and Private School Playday at Concord High School
October 26 - Belmont
October 30 - At Arlington
November 4 - Winsor Private School 10:00 a. m. Saturday
November 7 - At Melrose
November 9 - At Watertown

This Sunday Dr. Booth will again address the young people, this time on the subject of "Paul." A beautiful service has been arranged by Dan Cameron, Tina Tonon, Carolyn Padelford, Sue Melanson, and Judy Lamptey. Ushers will be Douglas Hawkins and Carle Zimmerman. WHEN THE BOYS LEARNED SEWING

Editor of the Star:

As you are aware, I am prone to reminisce about old school days in Winchester, and on one subject I have received so many snorts of disbelief that I am beginning to wonder if my recollection is true or whether I have just been dreaming.

On occasion I recall, or seem to, something like the following: I think it would have been in the old Wadleigh School, along about 1907 or '08, that we had a sewing class which included all of the boys in the class. It seems to me that about a half an hour or an hour every week we retired to a room down in the basement and were duly instructed in the mysteries of needlework. I think we had little green bags, with drawstring tops, which I think we had been instructed to make ourselves. I don't recall whether the school committee furnished the materials. In these little bags I think we had two or three spools of white, black, and some other color of cotton thread, a package of needles, a thimble which had to be a little larger for the boys' sizes, a small tape measure, a little thing that looked like a strawberry, one of these fold-up packages of pins, and a little hunk of bee's wax. And I don't recall if we had any crochet needles or not.

I think the taxpayers furnished us with little squares, about 6"x6", of some kind of cloth which we attacked each lesson on one side for hemstitching, the next side for featherstitching, and some kind of scalloped effect of which I don't know the name. I think from a practical standpoint we were very diligent about fashioning bean bags, and there was something, I am sure, that we made that we had to put our initials on. And I recall that was a very fancy job.

I have been trying to think of the instructress — could it have been Mrs. Holcomb?

Knowing that the font of all knowledge of Winchester resides in the Star office, I am asking you to either confirm or disprove the foregoing details. I just simply can't make anyone believe the story, and before I tell it again I would like to know whether it was really true or just a figment of my imagination.

Yours,
Lowell R. Smith

KEEP THE LAWRENCE TOWER

Editor of the Star:

I have heard that plans are underway to tear down that old landmark of the Fells, the Lawrence Observatory Tower.

This structure dominates the skyline from my windows. It furnished a focal point for many of the walks my children take in the Fells. I know that we would miss it if it were to be removed.

If I have heard correctly, and it is to be taken down, I have no doubt that there are good and compelling reasons for the decision. I went over there last Sunday, however, and as far as I could see, the structure is still sound. The steel is in good condition, and the woodwork, with the exception of a board or two that needs replacement, is not bad at all.

I'm sure that residents of Winchester, Medford and Stoneham will agree with me if they wake up one morning and find the landmark gone.

Yours very truly,
Clarence S. Boggard

ENDORSES MISS DERRO

Editor of the Star:

It was with considerable interest that I came across in last week's Star an announcement of the opening of the Margo school of Dancing under the direction of Marguerite Derro. For the past three years Miss Derro has coached the girls' tap choruses for the Winchester High School Vaudeville Show, as a voluntary contribution to the success of the show. (As director of the show) I have observed her work in teaching a group of younger girls, and I should like to take this opportunity to say that in my opinion she possesses the highest qualifications of an excellent teacher — a thorough knowledge of dancing, wide experience, patience with beginners, and creative imagination. I recommend her highly to the parents of prospective dance pupils.

WHY TAKE IT OUT ON POSTERS

Editor of the Star:

I noticed today that two posters located at the railroad station have been grossly defaced. These posters advocate the re-election of Governor Dever.

I moved into Winchester recently and although I had heard "stories" as to political feelings, I frankly did not expect that such un-American actions would be countenanced by the fair-minded citizens of the town. I trust that other posters will be let alone.

Very truly yours,
Edward McPartlin

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester held its first fall meeting on Wednesday, October 11th, at the Masonic Hall.

At that meeting the public were invited to hear the successful nominees of the Republican party present their opinions and policies.

Representative Charles Gibbons, from Stoneham, represented the Hon. Arthur W. Coolidge, who is the gubernatorial candidate. Rep. Gibbons minced no words in describing the whole-scale murder of jobs, all political, that have been handed out by the present administration on Beacon Hill. He cited numerous instances of men holding down two jobs simultaneously, of others who have never done a day's work, yet still are on the State pay-roll. He pictured the Republican party as no longer a silk stocking party, as Negroes, Italians, Polish, and men of many other nationalities are now being elected to office.

The Hon. Lawrence Curtis, formerly State Treasurer, spoke with authority, concerning the frightful extravagance and waste resulting from the gross mismanagement and inefficiency of the Dever regime.

Mr. Nathaniel B. Bidwell, a lawyer, represented Mr. Frederick Ayer, Jr., who is running for Attorney General. He claimed that Mr. Ayer's integrity, ability, and experience with the F. B. I. made him the sensible choice for that important office. He said "His ancestors may have been green but they were not red, pink or yellow."

Mr. Robert P. Campbell, from neighboring Medford, who is the Representative nominee for State Senator from the Middlesex District, urged that the Republicans throw off their lethargy and do something about the existing bad government. He said the duty of any public servant in office was to protect the people against legislature detrimental to the interests of the majority.

Mr. George S. Thompson, District Attorney from Middlesex County who is up for re-election, spoke against the handling of cases by a client against the State, by a public official of the State.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick of Winchester, from the 29th Middlesex District spoke in favor of the entire slate.

Mr. Fred J. Burrell, the nominee for State Treasurer was unable to be present.

Mr. Arthur C. Conley, of Arlington, spoke briefly on the Referenda on Flat Rates as regards Question No. 5 on the ballot on November 7. He stressed the importance of voting "No."

Mrs. Pauline Nason, Chairman of the Social Committee and her Committee were in charge of the delicious tea which followed the program. Mrs. Alonzo F. Woodside and Mrs. William I. Palmer were the pourers.

WINCHESTER MAN INJURED

John T. Burdett, 39, of 25 Stone avenue sustained severe face injuries and a bad scalp laceration when the automobile in which he was riding with Leo Higgins, 26, of 56 Water street, Medford, lost out of control and crashed into a signpost on an MTA safety island near Brigham Circle in Roxbury early last Saturday morning. Mr. Burdett was thrown against the windshield and badly cut.

Mr. Higgins, owner of the car involved, a new Mercury sedan, was driving when the accident occurred. The machine was completely wrecked.

Mr. Higgins and Mr. Burdett were taken to the City Hospital for treatment. It was reported Tuesday that the latter would probably be confined to the hospital for the remainder of the week, at least.

TOOK DOG FROM LONGO ROME

But Turnquist, dog trainer, finally took King, big German shephard dog, from his long vigil at the Longo home last Saturday, taking him to his dog training center at 194 Heath street, Jamaica Plain.

Following the death of his master, Paul Longo, early last fall, of injuries sustained in an explosion at his drive-in theatre in Medford during the summer, King remained on the front porch of the Longo home at 51 Wedgemere avenue, vainly waiting for his master's return.

All attempts to lure the dog away had failed and even when Mrs. Longo and Paul, Jr., moved away, King maintained his solitary vigil. Neighbors fed him and were good to him, but could not get the dog to leave his self-imposed post. A veterinarian had tried to dope King, but to no avail.

Turnquist could get nowhere with the dog either, until he frightened him by exploding a toy torpedo on the pavement. King got into his box, and from this place of refuge the trainer took him, after bandaging his jaws as a precautionary measure.

Whether King will recover from his longing for his dead master is problematical. Sunday he was taken to a retreat for neurotic dogs in Scituate where he will be treated for his nerves.

THE OLD GASOMETER

The excavation for a new house at the corner of Fletcher and Church streets has uncovered the brick foundation of the old gasometer which stood there for many years. While it was undeniably an ugly structure it was a landmark just the same for many years. The mortar and brick placed in position nearly 100 years ago were in perfect condition during the wild and woolly days of Fourth of July it was the custom to fire bullets at this gasometer. Those were the days of lead bullets instead of steel jacketed ones and none went through but the ventilator at the top got badly punctured. One person who later became wealthy and famous fired a Civil War musket at it and was knocked flat by the discharge. He then discovered he had neglected to remove the ramrod from the gun barrel and a search the next day uncovered it in the field. Guns almost always explode in such cases with fatal results.

Life adjudication through research of temptation and spiritual growth out of mortal beliefs of sin, sickness, and death will be the topic of the Lesson-Sermon to be read next Sunday in all Christian Science churches. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Probation After Death."

The Golden Text is from James 1:12: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible include: King James Version: include Proverbs 23:26, 27.

The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead. He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"If the change called death destroyed the belief in sin, sickness and death, purpose would be seen at the moment of dissolution, and be forever permanent; but this is not so. As death finds mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change." (pp. 290, 291)

Children will be cared for in one of the Kindergarten rooms, and tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

To end the series of Grade Teas at the Mystic School was concluded. On Tuesday, October 17 at 3:30 o'clock Mrs. Charles C. Bond, of 83 Main street, entertained Miss Lillian Salice and the 3rd Grade mothers. Mrs. Kenneth Shorey assisted and Mrs. Melvin Sears poured.

PARKHURST FIFTH GRADE TEA

The Parkhurst fifth grade tea for Mrs. Jane Kirkpatrick took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dana M. Cotton at 5 Oneida road.

The large group of mothers attending were very much interesting in hearing Mrs. Kirkpatrick report on a typical school day, the need to educate the whole child, and what the school is doing to help teach the recommendations of the School Courtesies Committee. At the close of her talk, Mrs. Kirkpatrick graciously answered questions posed by the mothers.

Tea was served by Mrs. Cotton and her committee including Mrs. Sawyer, B. Kirkwood, Mrs. William Wedels, Mrs. Lyndon B. Barnacle, Mrs. Walter T. Hall, Mrs. Lockie O. Whittaker, and Mrs. Theodore Bolster. Mrs. Whittaker poured.

EPIPHANY CHURCH FAIR

Holland and the Dutch people will be featured in the all day Bazaar which the ladies of the Parish of the Epiphany are planning on Friday, November 10th inside the Parish Hall, beginning with luncheon under the supervision of Mrs. Ray Mauger and Mrs. Roland Fletcher, and ending with a delicious turkey dinner served by Mrs. Hollis A. Dyer and Mrs. Theodore Hultgren.

Indoors, the theme will be carried out in decorations and costuming under the inspired direction of Mrs. John Page and Mr. William Holdich.

Always a highlight of the bazaar is the Antiques and What-not Table presided over by Mrs. Edward Boyd. Hand-painted trays will be featured at the Gift Table where Mrs. Herman Shane and Mrs. Alan Farquhar have assembled an attractive collection.

"Sweetest" spot at the Fair is the home-made candy table promise Mrs. Alvin Maneib and Miss Dorothy Hall. At the home-made baked goods table Mrs. Howard Richardson and Mrs. Clarence Perkins will preside.

Mrs. P. Stewart Newton, Mrs. William Buracker and their busy committee have worked all summer and fall to complete the many beautiful hand-knits this year. Likewise, Mrs. Davenport Brown, Mrs. Avery Dunn and their committee promise to provide many useful and beautiful hand-made articles for exhibition.

Mrs. Donald Heath and Mrs. Frank Booth are in charge of the kitchen table this year, while Mrs. Stewart Chaffe and Mrs. Donald Bowman promise a profusion of flowers and plants to delight all nature lovers.

Christmas wrappings will be a gala display, says Mrs. A. S. Crockett, as well as the ever-popular New England calendar. A new feature this year is children's out-grown clothing supervised by Mrs. Alfred Denley.

Mrs. George Marks promises some intriguing corsages for milady's shoulder. And an always popular booth, new and second hand books, will be the browsing place for many and is presided over by Mesdames Paul Roeray and Robert Thomson.

For the carriage trade there are mysterious "Grabs" headed by Mesdames Herbert Wadsworth and Frederick Aseltine; Ice Cream awaits the lucky tots dispensed by Mrs. Harry Benson; Pony Rides will again be a feature supervised by Mrs. John Page; late afternoon movies are in charge of Mrs. Alfred Hartridge; and a display of toys under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Kern Folkers will delight young, younger and youngest alike.

Afternoon tea is being planned by Mrs. O. W. Merrow. The Sunday School table will offer a beautiful display of handkerchiefs for Christmas giving and receiving.

Others serving on the large and active committee are Mr. William Holdich and Mesdames Victor Moses, Kenneth Morris and Warren Haley. Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken and Mrs. William Holdich are co-chairmen in charge of the enormous undertaking.

COLLEGE CLUB ART STUDY GROUP

The first meeting of the 1950 - 51 season of the Art Study Group of the Winchester College Club was held at the Library Friday morning, October 13. This was a preparatory meeting for a visit to the Currier Gallery of Art in Manchester, New Hampshire, on Friday, October 20.

Mrs. James S. Allen told of the founding of this delightful, friendly museum, and of its most cherished possessions, Mrs. George A. Marks, unable to be present in person, left a very interesting paper, read by Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, on the work of Professor Gyorgy Kepes and his theories regarding the treatment of interior walls. Dr. Kepes, Associate Professor of Visual Design, Department of Architecture, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, planned the unusual wall colorings of both the Currier Gallery and our own Parkhurst School. Mrs. John Chipman told us of two of the special exhibitions we shall see at the Currier: The singular print-paintings by one of Holland's leading contemporary artists, Hendrik Nicolaus Werkman, who was shot by the Nazis in 1945 for his activity with the Dutch Underground Movement; also the fascinating display of "Children's Books of Yesterday" dating from 1556, loaned by Good Housekeeping Magazine.

A representative loan exhibition of 25 paintings from the Whitney Museum in New York will be one of the most important things seen at the Currier Gallery on October 20. Our enjoyment and understanding of these paintings has been greatly enhanced by Mrs. John L. Lobingier's informal talk about the three painters illustrated by color reproductions of their works. Miss Molly Hodge gave an account of the development and unique place of the Whitney Museum in the art world of today.

If you would like to know more of this study group or wish to enroll, write or phone Mrs. Murray S. Moore, 69 Wedgemere avenue, telephone Winchester 6-1466.

PARKHURST GRADE TWO TEA

The first of a series of teas to be given for the Parkhurst teachers was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, 58 Swan road, for Miss Constance Savard, teacher of the second grade.

Nearly all the mothers were present and all enjoyed meeting and hearing Miss Savard, who explained what she is doing with the second graders and what she plans to do later this year.

Mrs. Reynolds and her committee, consisting of Mrs. William F. Morton, Mrs. Lawrence Barker, Mrs. Robert Gray, Mrs. George Herrick, Mrs. John Tutty, and Mrs. Paul Comins served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Comins and Mrs. Herrick presided at the tea table.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Do you need the services of a visiting nurse? When sickness strikes your home, the Winchester District Nurse is as near as your telephone, WInchester 6-0730.

With the case load for September showing fewer visits than the nurses made during the summer, the three-nurse staff of the Winchester District Nursing Association is now ready to add more patients and daily visits to its schedule. At the October board meeting of the Association last Friday in Town Hall, General Assembly Room, Mrs. Doris Wiklund, Executive Director, explained that in September, 383 visits were made. To date this year, 3,649 visits is the total. The decreasing number of cases at the present time has, however, given the nurses more time to do vital follow-up work and health supervision — a most important phase of public health nursing.

The WDNA, a Red Feather Agency, depends upon fees collected for nurses' visits for about 80% of its support. The more widespread is the support given it by townspeople, the greater service it can render. No one must go without proper nursing care when illness is need, but the problem of collecting fees from patients has been a pressing one for the Nursing Committee to work out. Mrs. Guy Livingston, chairman, presented a form to the board last Friday, which will be filled out by nurses and patients, to help the family receiving part-pay assistance to determine what is a fair payment for the nursing service. The form is one used most successfully in Boston and other towns.

The Nursing Committee recommended that the guide be adopted in Winchester, and it was so voted. It is a confidential card, listing the cost per person per week in a family with children or an adult family, exclusive of rent and other factors (food, clothing, fuel, household supplies are included only in that listing). By helping a family to determine what it can pay for nursing assistance, the nurse must consider what other bills the family has, long illnesses, unemployment, and expenses. The main factor in nursing care is to see that all those who need it can receive it those who can pay the fee or part of it should do so, in order that the organization may continue.

The staff nurses have decided on navy blue nylon uniforms, all alike, and when needed, they will also purchase the new uniform coats and raincoats. They will wear smart new navy blue berets.

Thursdays from 1 to 2 will be set aside by the nurses as "staff meeting hour", to exchange news of conferences attended, problems on the district, case findings, and relevant material. The nurses are now using the Boston Visiting Nurses' Manual, with a few changes, so that their methods of caring for patients will be uniform.

At the close of Mrs. Wiklund's interesting report on the nurses' work, she told of a challenging case which faced a nurse recently, and which they worked out successfully. Such cases and stories, always carefully disguised to protect the patient, make the board and the townspeople realize how much a district nurse does than merely bathe a patient or administer treatment. There is psychology involved — and a great deal of understanding of human beings, plus common sense!

Mrs. Alexander Aitken reported on her attendance at the third Annual Conference in Atlantic City of the American Women's Hospital Association. Miss Helen Monroe presented the proposed budget for 1950 - 51, which was discussed at this meeting. Many Association members were present at this October meeting, and were welcomed by Mrs. Henry Moffette, president.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB LUNCHEONETTE

A capacity audience filled Metcalf Hall, of the Unitarian Church, on Wednesday afternoon to attend the Luncheonette put on by the Ways and Means Committee of the Club, and the Fashion Show with Maud Preston as guest artist.

Mrs. Ernest R. Cruickshank with Mrs. Samuel D. Cole as Co-Chairman headed the large committee responsible for the delectable sandwich loaf luncheon.

Great credit was due Mrs. Vera McKenzie and Mrs. Charles Lovejoy who were in charge of the menu. Mrs. Alvin Maneib was responsible for the decorations. Mrs. John Cummings donated the lovely baskets used by the salesgirls of chances, who were Mrs. Charles W. Blanchard, Mrs. James Lane, Mrs. Courtney Crandall and Mrs. George Snow. The door prize, a most attractive old fashioned bouquet, was won by Mrs. Ralph Vinal of 9 Lewis road. Mrs. Francis Hamilton and Mrs. Abel Pride were in charge of tickets. Others on the committee who worked unflaggingly were Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Mrs. Donald C. Davis, Mrs. W. Allan Wilde, Mrs. John M. Murray, Mrs. William C. Pusack and Mrs. Woodford L. Wilcox.

Following the luncheon the President Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes introduced some of the guests. They were Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, Vice Chairman of the Republican State Comm., Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts, State Committee Woman of the 6th Middlesex District from Medford and Mrs. N. S. Baxter, President of the Medford Women's Republican Club.

Maud Preston then took over the meeting and held her audience spellbound with her vibrant personality, her friendliness and ready wit. She introduced the 14 pretty models in stunning dresses of good taste. Modeling many changes of costume she demonstrated how to achieve loveliness and how to make the most of one's personality and natural charm. The members were unanimous in their appreciation of Maud Preston and felt Mrs. Creelman was to be congratulated for the fine program which she had made available to Winchester women.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Nine activities — classes in the Friends of the Winchester Hospital are open to some of all ages, all interests — and each one offers a friendly way to put an hour or two to social and worthwhile use.

These classes were outlined in detail last week. Wednesday at the spring meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, held in the Music Hall, with Mrs. Gladney Kaufmann presiding. Membership in the Friends, an organization dedicated to the services of Winchester's excellent hospital, is open to all women.

Mrs. Howard Morrison, Volunteer Service Chairman with Mrs. Everett Stone, outlined the nine services, requested by the Hospital, which urgently needs volunteers immediately. Although many members of the Friends have signed for various tasks, there is still great need for more volunteers. The work is all most interesting, most satisfying. These are the services:

1. Help for the nurses on blood bank records is needed Monday and Thursday, 6 to 8 p. m., under Mrs. Dominic Runci. In this department, accuracy is the first requisite, and Mrs. Runci will instruct volunteers. This will be a very rewarding job. Call Mrs. Runci WI 6-2142.

2. Clerical assistance, under Mrs. Clarence R. Wickerson (WI 6-0407-W) is needed Monday and Thursday, 9 to 11 a. m. Typing is much needed.

3. Favors to be made for patients' trays is the third service field, for women with good ideas, who like to use their hands. Mrs. Theodore Burleigh (WI 6-0773-J) is chairman. On each holiday (and Mass. has plenty of them!) this group will make attractive tray favors. Meeting will be at the chairman's home, once a week.

4. Flowers to be changed, rearranged, and placed in the patients' rooms each morning, Monday through Friday, 10 to 11:45 a. m.) to carry on this week so that expensive flowers will last and give the patient more pleasure, this group needs women who like to work with flowers. Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth (WI 6-0005) and Mrs. Earl Currier are chairmen and work starts today, Friday.

5. The Winton Club Gift and Coffee Shops can use two women on Monday and Thursday each week, 2 to 4:30, with Mrs. Bruce W. Young (WI 6-3555) or Mrs. Ben Schneider in charge. If you like gift or coffee shop work in a pleasant setting, this service should appeal to you.

6. Gray Ladies — under Mrs. T. Parker Clarke, will be hostesses during visiting hours at the hospital, daily and on week ends. These ladies, through their training and experience, should be able to provide a gracious welcome for visitors and new patients. If you are a Gray Lady and enjoy meeting people, do call Mrs. Clarke, WI 6-1500.

7. Mending — a red starred and most vital volunteer service that can be given to any hospital, to make its material last as long as possible, will be carried on under Mrs. Robert Cummins, WI 6-1418-J. She hopes to have three other hostesses, opening their homes once a month, for weekly meetings and sewing sessions. If you like to sew or mend with congenial women, in pleasant surroundings, why not call Mrs. Cummins, or get your neighborhood friends together and form your own group?

8. The making of surgical dressings and sponges, to save the Hospital a good sum annually, will be made by volunteers under Mrs. Thomas Kirwan. The group meets the second Thursday of the month, 2 p. m., at her home, 30 Glen road. This is a vital job — and you are welcome to the group.

9. Supplies, second and third floor, creates a highly specialized and important field in which volunteers may truly be of service. Those who wish to work on supplies must first take a three-evening course under Miss Loftus, and will then be ready for work. Mrs. Donald MacLean is chairman (WI 6-3162-R). If you have been in nursing or hospital work, you will find this an excellent niche for your talents!

If you would like further information on any of these fields of volunteer service, call Mrs. Everett Stone, WI 6-1089. And do it today!

Friends' Meeting Events

At the meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital last Wednesday Miss Elmina L. Snow, Administrator of the Emerson Hospital, Concord, was the key speaker. Her first talk was a series of challenging questions on what made a hospital function, who, and how — questions that demand that the audience find its own answers.

Miss Snow's second talk concerned "Ethics," to help set forth common sense suggestions for women who plan to do volunteer work in any hospital.

Mrs. Macmillan announced six "Know-Your-Hospital" evenings, the first to start October 26, open to all Friends, men and women alike in the living room of the Nurses' Home. Mrs. George A. Marks is chairman.

Ways and Means co-chairman, Mrs. Sanford Moses, announced a series of monthly bridge parties to raise money for the Friends, a performance in February of the Parish Players' winter show, and a possible Pops Night.

Coffee preceding this meeting was served by Mrs. Joan I. Donovan and her capable committee, with lovely tall garden flowers on the table, and home-made sauce and cookies served. Pourers were Mrs. Frank d'Eseaux and Mrs. Wayne Thompson.

The Winchester Country Club is holding an informal Harvard-Dartmouth dancing party after the game between these old rivals, October 28, with drinks being served from 8 to 9 o'clock, and dancing from 9 to 1. Ruby Newman's Orchestra will play.

PRESIDENT ELDER TO SPEAK LAYMEN'S SUNDAY, FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

President Elder, of North Carolina College, at Durham, N. C., has been engaged as speaker for Laymen's Sunday, First Congregational Church, next Sunday, 10:45 a. m.

The Church Service will be preceded by a Laymen's Breakfast at 9:00 a. m., under the auspices of the Men's Club, after which the members will attend the Church Service.

Dr. Elder was chosen as president of North Carolina College after the death of Dr. James E. Shepard, and is one of the youngest College presidents in the United States. The college now has over 2,000 students. Dr. Chidley was chairman of the Board of Trustees for ten years previous to the death of Dr. Shepard, and delivers a series of lectures at the college annually.

President Elder will speak on: "The Negro in a Changing World." Dr. Chidley will conduct the worship.

BAPTIST YOUTH ACTIVITIES

The Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church is fully organized and will meet regularly on Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock at the Church. All young people of High School age are welcome.

The Baptist State Youth Convention will be held in the Arlington Baptist Church on November 3rd and 4th. A number of the young people from the Winchester Church are planning to attend.

Next Sunday morning, October 22nd, Mr. Arnold Marshall Brown, a theological student at Tufts College of Religion and director of Youth work in the Medford Hillside Congregational Church, will be the speaker for the Senior High Class of the Church School. He will show slides of his summer's work with the Unitarian Service Committee in England. We urge all the class to be present to catch some of the missionary spirit that Mr. Brown has gained by his experience.

Girls from the Senior High class will serve as waitresses at the Harvest Home Supper this Friday evening.

The first Youth Fun-Nite of the season will take place in the Recreation Hall of the Church at 7 o'clock, Friday, October 27th. A cordial invitation is extended to all Junior and Senior High young people. Coach Muerling will be on hand to direct the fun.

Mrs. J. H. McManus of 21 Harrison street left this week for Chicago, where she will visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Dealy (Mary G. McManus).

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

We hear a great deal these days about the American way of life, and it is all to the good. It would be difficult indeed to think of another subject so infinitely varied or so richly rewarding. Yet it is not enough simply to go on talking about it. If the American Way is to have any valid meaning, we must live it. And before we can live it, we must understand it.

It is in this conviction that we welcome the arrival of Oil Progress Week, October 15 - 21. The men and women of oil have set aside this time to report to their fellow townsmen and the consumers of their products on their contributions to our well-being and their plans for the future.

Starting less than a century ago with only a hole in the ground, the oil men of this country have helped change the face of our civilization. They have given us the power for mobility and flight. Not only have they provided the lubricants for our vast industrial machine but today they are providing more than half of the total energy used in this country. They have helped make possible untold hundreds of good things — from lipsticks to wonder drugs. Moreover they have established comfortable reserves of oil which add greatly to our national security. They have, in short, done much to transform the existence of yesterday to the good life of today.

However, Oil Progress Week is designed not only to remind us of what oil industry has produced, but what has produced the oil industry. Gasoline and plastics and wax for bread wrappers are simply the evidence of a deeper, driving force — the force that has made possible our whole industrial structure. This is the American way — the determination, the initiative, the opportunity to create more and better things for all of our people everywhere. We call it Freedom.

In setting aside this week to tell their fellow-citizens about their industry, the 1,800,000 men and women of oil are performing a valuable service. In showing how progress in industry and the whole American dream have been realized, their efforts merit our attention and good will.

REPUBLICAN 21 CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Winchester Republican 21 Club of Massachusetts will be in the form of a rally held at the Masonic Hall on Friday, October 27, 1950 at 8:00 p. m.

The theme of the rally is the importance of the young people in the November election. The guest speaker of the evening will be the dynamic Chairman of the Republican State Committee, Daniel Tyler, Jr.

On the social side of the meeting, there will be a Vic-Dance and refreshments following the speakers.

This is your opportunity to come down and find out just what you as an individual can do in this very crucial election.

ODD FELLOWS NOTES

Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows will install their officers for the coming year on Monday, October 23rd at eight o'clock in their quarters in Waterfield Hall. D. D. G. M. Gordon of Arlington will be the installing officer. All Odd Fellows are cordially invited to be the guests of Waterfield Lodge to witness the impressive installation ceremonies. A social hour and collation will follow the meeting.

ST. MARY'S H. N. S. AT RETREAT

St. Mary's Holy Name Society was represented at the joint K. of C. and Holy Name Society Retreat held this year on the grounds of "Campion Hall" in North Andover on beautiful Lake Cochichewick, nestled in the hills. Autumn in all her splendor graced the men all of whom received every minute of this gifted Jesuit, Leo O'Keefe S. J. conducted the Retreat and will be remembered as having addressed the H. N. S. at one of the Sunday meetings last season.

Arthur Hall, president of the society, was accompanied by the following Holy Name members, many of whom are also K. of C. members: Frank Rogers, Coleman Foley, Frank Hurley, Luke Glendon, Vin Erhard, Henry Longfield, Dr. R. McDonough, William Murray, Charles Donohue, Harry Bennett, Robert Fiore, Michael Connolly, Joseph Russo, and William Murray, Jr.

All of the men took part in the many services; for example, chapel prayers were conducted by Frank Hurley, mass servers were Frank Rogers and Vin Erhard, grace at meals was said by Arthur Hall; Michael Connolly was cross bearer at Stations, with Coleman Foley and Vin Erhard as torch bearers; Robert Fiore was bell ringer for all functions; Harry Bennett was leader and appointed the men for the various duties and Henry Longfield led the men in the recitation of the Rosary.

The Stations of the Cross and the Rosary were conducted outside with the Stations of our Lord's Journey to Calvary, mounted on trees through a wooded path which was inspiring to the men. Charles Donohue also said grace at meals with Joseph Russo and all others taking a turn in the prayers at each Station of the Cross in the recitation of these prayers aloud.

It is hoped and expected that next year a larger group will take advantage of this two religious exercise. The surroundings were most pleasant, the food excellent and the talks very uplifting. The men all came away very refreshed.

Mrs. Elsie Finnegan of Woburn, Toastmistress for the evening, will introduce the speakers as follows: Mrs. Olive Anderson of Winchester who will talk on "School at 'Dale Carnegie'," Miss Orrie Grant of Winchester will speak on "Definition of a Toastmistress", and Mrs. Emeline Woods of Wakefield who has chosen for her subject, "Dogs and Children Not Wanted".

Mrs. Virginia Gargosian of Arlington will be the interviewer on a mock radio program, Mrs. Frances Ewing of Swampscott will be the timer, and Mrs. Edna Crede and Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Winchester will evaluate the speakers.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Lillian Last of Medford Hillside, Vice-President of the Winchester Toastmistress Club, gave a talk on England at the Medford Council of Church Women on Friday afternoon, October 13, and she also spoke at the Medford Women's Club to aid the Community Fund Drive on Tuesday afternoon, October 17.

SECOND CHANCE

A film of beauty, distinction and heart-gripping interest entitled, "Second Chance", featuring Ruth Warwick, motion picture and Broadway stage star, with a professional cast including screen actors John Hubbard and Hugh Beaumont, will be shown at 8:00 p. m., Thursday, October 26, at the Second Congregational Church, Winchester.

WINCHESTER GIRLS IN TUFTS PLAY

Two sisters are participating in the current production of "Excursion" by Pen, Paint and Pretzels of Tufts College. Nancy and Charlotte Nutter, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Nutter of 3 Blackhorse terrace, Winchester, are members of the supporting cast.

Nancy, the elder of the two, is a member of the junior class at Jackson College, women's division of Tufts, where she is majoring in Speech and Drama. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and of the honorary undergraduate dramatic society.

Charlotte, although still attending the Winchester grammar schools, is quite accustomed to making her appearance on the Arena stage at the Tufts campus theater. Whenever a part in a play demands the services of a younger girl, the call goes out for Charlotte who displays great stage presence and ability.

This revival of Victor Wolfson's hearty comedy marks the beginning of the 41st year of play production by Three P's and of the 76th year of dramatic activities at the college. The story of two salty old sea-captains who attempt to shanghai their ferry boat passengers to a happier life on a Caribbean island instead of returning them to New York City, offers not only an evening's entertainment but a hopeful message for these troubled times.

Directed by Dr. John Woodruff of 8 Sheffield road, Winchester, Assistant Head of the Tufts Drama and Speech Department, the play will open its run on Friday, October 20, at 8:30 p. m. at the Tufts Arena Theater. Subsequent performances will be given on October 21, 26, 27 and 28.

Robert E. Johnson of 7 Ainsworth road, will be among the account managers of the Parker Pen Company to attend a marketing conference in Albany, New York, this Friday.

MOUNT HOLYOKE BOOK TALKS

Tuesday, October 10, at the Winchester Library Alice Dixon Bond opened another series of her interesting Book Talks under the auspices of the Winchester Mount Holyoke Club, which takes this way of raising money for its Scholarship Fund with which it has helped a number of Winchester girls to go through Mount Holyoke. The Club feels it is offering the women of Winchester expert assistance in the solution of their problem of what books to read and of what books to give for Christmas to various kinds of people.

Mrs. Bond began by speaking of revivals of earlier authors such as Anthony Trollope and Ford Maddox Ford. Four of Ford's novels have been reprinted together under the title "Parade's End". Ford was an intimate of the Rossetti Circle and collaborated with Joseph Conrad. Then she remarked that new books are "pouring from the press" and that she would present fiction and non-fiction together, moving somewhat at random from Essays like the entertaining "Nuts in May" in which you could just about see Cornelia Otis Skinner visiting the Pope, to novels, way books and adventure. "Afternoon in the Attic" by John Kobler, illustrated by Charles Addams of New Yorker fame, is another example of the essay group but if you know the ghoulish pictures of Addams you can imagine how different this is from "Nuts in May". Mrs. Bond mentioned Robert Nathan's latest offering from his thirty years of writing, "The Married Look", a poignant and fanciful book on the theme that the memory of youth and love must not be lost. Two long novels were recommended for leisurely reading: "Owen Glen" by Ben Ames Williams, portraying the growing up of America into a sense of social responsibility; and "Champion Road" by Frank Tilsley, a vivid story of a self-made man and of the early strugglers of the miners for better conditions. "Little World of don Camillo" by Guareschi is a book of satire and fantasy to read for fun. The war book mentioned was "Our Jungle Road to Tokyo" and the adventure book is "Kon-Tiki" by Thor Heyerdahl, the story of six men on a raft.

Representing the science books for the layman is "Secret" by Michael Armine, which is a novel because it is written as the life of a professor working at the atomic bomb, but the facts are there. "Belles on Their Toes" by Ernestine Gilbreth Carey and Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr., is a must for everyone, as it is even better than "Cheaper by the Dozen".

The next book talk will be given on November 7 at 10 a. m. in the Library. The December 5th talk will be on books to give for Christmas and the March one will be in the evening in order to give the professional women and the men a chance. Mrs. Martin Swanson is chairman of the Book Talk Committee and Mrs. Charles E. Greene is its Treasurer.

"KNOW-YOUR-HOSPITAL" COURSE OPEN TO PUBLIC

An informal series, "Know-Your Hospital", will be given for six evenings, one a month, in the Nurses' Home, the first meeting to be held Thursday, October 26, at 8 p. m. All residents are invited to the series, both men and women, and especially those who are sincerely interested in the work of the Hospital. Members of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital plan to attend, believing that only those who are aware of the work and functions of a hospital can truly serve it.

The first meeting will be on "The Housekeeper, the Storeroom, and the Laundryman", with hospital personnel explaining their work, answering audience questions. Printed material on the hospital set-up and news of its current activities will be provided for all present. Regular attendance at the whole series is urged, for the six-lecture course, panel-style, will give the public a most accurate picture of what the Winchester Hospital is doing, how its citizens may help. The last speaker in the series will be Mr. Harlan Paine, director. Mrs. George A. Marks will be chairman of the series.

Other series dates will be November 21, January 18, February 15, March 15, and April 9. Save the list of dates! This is an unusual opportunity to see your Winchester Hospital at work!

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, president of the Winchester College Club, entertained the members of the executive board of the club at her home at a luncheon on Tuesday of last week.

Among those present were Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Mrs. Martin S. Swanson, Mrs. Henry B. Harris, Miss Alice Main, Mrs. Isaiah A. Bullard, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. John Chipman, Mrs. John Phelan, and Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong.

Arrangements were completed for the various groups which will meet during the year, — the Art, History, and Home Management Daytime Study Groups, and the five Evening Study Groups, all of which are open to guests as well as to members.

The Fall Guest Night meeting will be held Monday, October 30, at 7:45 p. m. in the Parish House of the Church of the Epiphany. President Bancroft Beatley of Simmons College will be the speaker. All Simmons graduates living in Winchester, whether members of the College Club or not, and the parents of all Simmons undergraduates from Winchester, are most cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Among those who spent the holiday and week end in New York City were Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, Mr. and Mrs. William Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balsin, Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, Miss Lucia McKenzie and Mrs. Winnifred Joyce of Watertown, formerly of this town.

TEACHERS' PICNIC ON RAINY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Unquestionably qualifying as an outstanding hostess, Mrs. Henry Dellicker of Grove street, Winchester, literally saved the annual fall picnic of the Winchester Teachers' Club last Tuesday afternoon.

When the long-sought rain descended in torrents on the unsuspecting vegetation and inhabitants, the picnic seemed doomed for indefinite postponement or permanent cancellation when Mrs. Dellicker gave the signal to come anyway, though she must have realized that over a hundred teachers would be accompanied by unmistakeable signs of unpleasant walking conditions.

However, the visitors took over the house. Otis Leary charcoaled hamburgers in one indoor fireplace and Raymond Dickman charred frankfurts in another, while President Tom Morse, Myrtle Dodge, Everett Bolster, and Claire Fitzpatrick perked the coffee, and loaded the tables with salads, rolls, doughnuts and other comestibles ordinarily eaten at an affair similarly planned but rarely executed in like manner.

Besides the principals of all schools and Superintendent of Schools Forbes H. Norris, members of the Club anyway, guests noted in the spacious rooms were Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Raymond Dickman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett, Mrs. Marion Chandler, and Mr. Charles Jellison.

The committee consisted of Chairman Myrtle Dodge, A. Louise Cone, Everett Bolster, Claire M. Fitzpatrick, and Marian E. Phipps.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Lyceum Hall was the scene of the opening event of our Twentieth Anniversary Year. Despite the inclement weather a large and enthusiastic group of members and their friends attended the dessert bridge party on Tuesday afternoon.

Much of the success of this initial affair is attributed to the efforts of the members of the board who served as the Committee in charge, with Mrs. Vincent Scanlon and Mrs. Daniel J. Doherty as co-chairmen.

Mrs. William Buckley, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, and her able assistants were hostesses at the Dessert Hour. Cards were enjoyed by our older members and many of our new members. Mrs. Arthur E. Cassidy, one of our out-of-town visitors from Winthrop succeeded in capturing top honors at Bridge.

The Door Prize was awarded to Mrs. William Coulton.

The following were among the lucky prize winners:

Mrs. William Buckley
Mrs. Owen J. Logue
Mrs. Normand Phaneuf
Mrs. Charles Flynn
Mrs. Peter Murphy

PARISH PLAYERS PRESENT "BLITHE SPIRIT" NOVEMBER 2, 3, 4

Opens 25th Anniversary as Little Theatre Group

When the curtain parts on "Blithe Spirit" Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 2, 3 and 4, the Parish Players of Winchester will celebrate their 25th anniversary of Little Theatre activity. The production will be given in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire, First Congregational Church, at 8:25 promptly.

In marking its silver anniversary with appropriate pride — for the Parish Players are one of the few Little Theatre groups in the country with such a long record of uninterrupted performance— "Blithe Spirit" will have an excellent cast to do justice to the lively Noel Coward lines. Mrs. Thomas Worthen, who has not been with the Players since "The Whole Town's Talking", plays the "spirit", with Mr. Henry K. Fitts as Charles, Mrs. Robert P. Blake as the second wife, and Mrs. Manning Morrill as the incredible Madame Arcati. Miss Barbara Hammond, Mrs. Ormond Hessler, and Mr. Robert P. Blake have important parts in the play, which takes place in the author's home in Kent. The setting for the play has been designed by John B. MacLellan. Mrs. Otis F. Hammett is chairman of production, and the play is under the direction of Mr. Harlan F. Grant.

The three-act play, with a number of scene time lapses, is a most amusing one, designed to give the audience pleasant entertainment, and a feeling of "celebration". The hall for the three performances will be decorated in silver anniversary theme, as will the coffee table for "Between the acts coffee". Mrs. J. Waldo Bond is in charge of tickets.

Working with Mrs. Hammett on the production staff will be the following: stage crew, George H. Gowdy, Raymond J. Carter, George E. Connor, Richard K. Gould, Dr. Seymour W. Russell, John B. MacLellan. Furniture, Mrs. Daniel Roop, Mrs. James H. Coon, Jr., Miss Frances Peirce; costumes, Mrs. John W. S. Hammond, Miss Ruth Coulson, Miss Mary Jane Hooper; make-up, Mrs. Florence Grant; publicity, Mrs. George E. Connor; small properties, Miss Ruth Albee, Mrs. William B. Lunsford, Miss Virginia Yardley.

Decoration for the hall will be done by Mrs. John B. Wills, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. George E. Connor.

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE IS HERE!

Where? At the Lincoln School Friday night October 20th at 8:00 p. m. Come on down and see what Socialized Medicine looks like in action — versus our own American way of doing things. Elinor Hughes and Ann Burnham, popular and successful writers of last year's Winton Club Play, have done it again! Reports have it that you can't afford to miss this hilarious skit, with a cast of local "Oscar" winners!

Sharing the limelight will be Forrester "Tim" Clarke, head of the Greater Boston Community Chest, who is going to tell us, briefly, about the plans for the 1951 drive.

Mrs. Esther Borden has been working like a beaver to have all the kits ready for you solicitors, so we'll be looking forward to seeing you at the show. You will have a grand time, pick up your kits and be all set to put us over the top.

Charlie Butler, local head of the drive says "This is going to be one of the most entertaining and eventful nights we have had in Winchester in some time. I am looking forward to a big turnout."

This evening is to start your neighbor — your Red Feather solicitor — on his 1951 work. Make it enough!!

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL BRIEFS

It added as a worthy successor to Leland Hazzes, tenor George Mathews pleased a capacity audience in the high school auditorium last Friday morning.

Opening with a French number "Observation" by de Fontenailles, Mr. Mathews sang a complete program of well selected numbers including three creole songs, negro work songs and spirituals and ending with a significant religious note and a "Song of Peace" written to the music of "Finlandia" by Sibelius.

A visible card system has recently been added to the office equipment of the high school. On cards specially prepared by Norton E. Dennett, Guidance Director, teachers will have a completely modern system for the recording of students' marks. Greatly simplifying the task of recording marks, the new file is a compact, portable unit which can furnish a maximum of information in a minimum of time.

Kindergarten Tea

Mothers of the Kindergarten children were entertained at the home of Mrs. Thomas Morison, 4 Highland Terrace on Tuesday, October 3rd. Tea was served from a very beautiful table where Miss Rich and Miss Mary Cullen, Kindergarten teacher, presided. Miss Leary, Miss Cullen's assistant, was unable to be present.

The Mothers, most of them new mothers were name tags which added greatly to the sociability.

Following the tea, a brief but very active discussion was carried on by the mothers. Miss Rich and Miss Cullen. It was pointed out that Kindergarten is not merely a play - school but a planned developing of the child to prepare him for first grade mental work and to teach him to mingle in harmony with others.

Arrangements for the tea were under the direction of:

Room Mother - Mrs. Alexander Korwatch

Assistant Room Mother - Mrs. Robert Gardner

Committee - Mrs. Warren Osborne, Mrs. Gerald Howard, Mrs. Eric Johnson and Mrs. Robert Foley

Second Grade Tea

On Thursday, October 5th, Mrs. Frances Parsons, 2 Euclid avenue, entertained the Mothers of the second grade, and Miss Barbara Haley, second grade teacher.

After a delicious afternoon tea, planned by Room Mother, Mrs. Joseph Bugue, and her Assistant, Mrs. Richard Keppler, an open discussion period followed.

The main topic was "Growth of Reading Ability" i. e. interpretation of reading as it affects the child.

Also generally discussed, and explained by Miss Haley, was the place of phonics in the second grade reading. The affect of comic books on a child's interest in reading was also discussed. It was pointed out that the Winchester Public Library is an excellent place for the child to obtain valuable advice and material for outside reading.

The room mothers were assisted by: Mrs. George Neville, Mrs. Neil Borden, Mrs. William Urmson, and Mrs. James deRevere.

Miss Rich, and Mrs. Thomas Purtle, President of the Mothers' Association poured.

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN IN RUSSIA

Ed was walking down Main street the other day and bumped into his neighbor, John. "Good Morning, John! Haven't seen you for some time, but I will be over to see you in a couple of weeks." "What for, Ed, pleasure I hope." "Primarily business, John, I am the solicitor in our neighborhood for the local Community Chest Drive and I have you on my list." Ed raised his right eyebrow and said to John; "I always give something to the community chest, but these drives are getting me down! Seems like every time I turn around I have some one else banging at my door, you solicitors must think I have a printing press in my cellar!" "Not at all, John, but we have a big quota to meet this year and your Community Chest is actually helping you right now, whether you know it or not!" "How do you figure that out?" "Well, the Winchester Hospital, for example is a Red Feather Service. If they had a separate drive they probably wouldn't do as well as by this consolidated one and furthermore if they didn't have the funds from the Red Feather that they do, then they would have to make up the deficit somewhere along the line, consequently it would cost us more every time we had to use the Hospital." "Gosh Ed, never looked at it that way, but guess you are right." "Another thing, John, everyone asks why we are always asking for more they say 'Things are better now than they ever were, yet you are asking me for more money.' The answer to this is simple, bacon, for example, has gone from 25 cents a pound to 75 cents a pound and everything along the line has gone up, we need more money to do just what we were doing, and as we hope and endeavor to better our services, necessarily our costs go up." "John asked, "Do the contributions stay here in Winchester, or do they all go to Boston?" "That is a good question, John. A large percentage of it stays here in Winchester, helping the Boy and Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurse ." "Does the Visiting Nurse Come under the Red Feather?" interrupted John. "Yes", replied Ed. "That Agency did a wonderful job for my neighbor Al, down the street. Al's wife was in the hospital and the visiting nurse came in every day and saw that the kids were fed and taken care of while Al was at work, and then when Al's wife got out of the hospital the Visiting Nurse checked here every day, really did a grand job!" "All the agencies do a grand job," concluded Ed, "see if you can't help out a little more this year, John, spread your payments over the twelve months, no interest charge, you know!" "You can count on me doubling my pledge" said John, "good seeing you, Ed, and thanks for the information!"

Keep the home front strong! Put some more money aside this week, Do It The American Way. Contribute Willingly and Generously. It's Still The Best Way!

WINCHESTER WELLESLEY CLUB

The Music Hall, attractively decorated by Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, was the scene on Friday, October 6th, of the first of the 1950 Winchester Mornings, sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club. Approximately 175 subscribers gathered to enjoy coffee and doughnuts before hearing John Coolidge, Director of the Harvard University Art Museums, give a delightful talk. Mrs. Parker Hench and Mrs. Arthur T Rogde were hostesses.

Mrs. Albert D Swazey, Winchester Wellesley Club President, gave the audience a cordial greeting and presented Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, Chairman of the 1950 Mornings Committee. In her introduction of the speaker, Mrs. Swazey mentioned his position at Harvard, his wide experience as a lecturer, and his many publications on art and architecture.

Professor Coolidge began his talk, entitled "The Function of the Art Museums", with a quotation written by Ward to "Mr. Punch" in the 1860's. Ward described the art museum as being free, "fun but improving", and something that did not exist in America. Prof. Coolidge pointed out that these facts are greatly changed today, as America now has many museums, and they are by no means free, as their operating expenses amount to $1.25 for each visitor. By giving the people a well-rounded concept of the past, however, they justify this vast expenditure. Upon this concept of the past, said Coolidge, are based our dreams of the future.

He spoke of the acuteness of the financial crisis now facing the museums and of the three possible lines of action to be taken. The museums could store the lesser works of art, making them available to those who wished to see them. It costs $10.00 per year to store a painting as against $150.00 per year to exhibit one. There are too many galleries at present and not enough storage space, resulting in overworked museum staffs. Another approach, he said, is the didactic one — the segregation of different periods of art into different museum rooms and the emphasis of art for history's sake rather than for its own. Coolidge's third answer to the problem of what to do about the American art museums was for them to use art to illustrate differences between East and West, good and evil, and other differences in our civilization, exhibiting the masterpieces and putting aside the lesser works. He suggested following the excellent example of the Gardner Museums by creating temporary arrangements of paintings and sculptures. He spoke of exhibits being transferred from one art museum to another and of bringing art in touch with our daily lives by exhibiting works in railroad stations, store windows, and churches.

The second of the Mornings series will take place on Friday, October 27th, when Rudolph F. Elie, Jr., will give a talk on people of the theatre, movies, and radio and discuss literature and criticism in general.

TROOP 12, B. S. A., NOTES

With meeting nights changed to Wednesdays Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church is now rolling along towards a successful season. Norman Doucette is back in the Marines and therefore unavailable as Scoutmaster this year, but the Troop is very fortunate in being able to have for Scoutmaster, Robert Fiore, who has served as Asst. Scoutmaster and who is very popular with the boys. Bob took the Troop on several hikes and the boys will remember his enthusiasm and determination. At the meeting on Wednesday, October 11th, Scoutmaster Fiore announced to the boys that advancement was to be emphasized this year and urged all of them to work hard to get the most out of Scouting. He promised many hikes during the year.

Three boys passed their Tenderfoot tests, namely, Billy McCormack, Dave DeCourcy and Dave Fortiere. Scoutmaster Fiore introduced the Committee to the assembled scouts: Rev. Francis O'Neil, Troop Chaplain; and Mr. Albert T. AFTER KOREA WHAT?

Ten Winchester High School students of history and their teacher, Mrs. Ella M. Stacy, will attend on Monday an all-day conference sponsored by the United Council on World Affairs and Beaver Country Day School at the Beaver Country Day School in Newton.

The representatives from many schools in this area will hear addresses by Representative Christian Herter and by Admiral Chester Nimitz, who will aid in the celebration of United Nations Week, October 16-24, by considering the topic "After Korea What?" Winchester High School will be represented by David Archibald, Martha Whiting, Robert Surtees, Betty Kneeland, Robert Mirak, Harris MacDonald, who will present a school program on Friday of this week, and by Phyllis O'Neil, John Foley, Archie Bolster, and Carolyn Edgar, who complete the list of ten.

ACTORS EVERYWHERE MIMIC LAUGHTON

Unusual interest is attached to the appearance of Charles Laughton at High School Hall on Thursday evening, November 16, under the auspices of the Central Mothers' Association.

If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, Laughton ought to be the next Academy winner for Hollywood's most flattered actor. But it hasn't gone to Laughton's head.

"Captain Bligh" as created by Laughton for "Mutiny On The Bounty" has practically become a night club and radio mimic's classic routine. Top performers like Milton Berle, Romo Vincent, Arthur Blake, among others, have borrowed the famous Laughton accent to panic audiences from Maine to Mocambo. In Australia a comic named Sam Slowings made a name for himself with a takeoff of Laughton as "Rembrandt." In England a chap named Tom Wells murdered them in the Music Halls doing Laughton as "Henry VIII." In Mexico City a newcomer named Juan Garcia clicked just last season with a "Beachcomber" impression of Laughton. And the list grows all the time.

"At first it was annoying," confesses Laughton, who admits he can be sometimes easily annoyed. "It seemed as if I couldn't turn on a radio or see a night club act, without catching a caricature of myself. A couple of those went a long, long way. It grew to such a point that when I went into a restaurant I even had waiters doing a variation of 'Captain Bligh' whom I grew to loathe almost as thoroughly as movie audiences did."

After a few years of viewing his mimics, Laughton says, "I became by degrees tolerant, then I found myself actually enjoying the performances. Objectively I realized it was a kind of compliment. But that wasn't the only reason for my getting to like the impersonations. I discovered after seeing and hearing maybe two hundred of these mimics, some excellent and some just horrible, I became so detached that I didn't identify it with myself at all. I even began to understand, remotely, of course, why audiences would like these imitations."

The payoff on the Laughton impersonators, says Charles, came when he was making "Man On The Eiffel Tower," in Paris. "There, seeking a little relaxation in a Montmartre cafe one night after eight hours before the camera, I saw an informal variety show. Piece de resistance of the evening was a performer who gave his enthusiastic audiences Laughton as "Ruggles" of "Red Gap" fame.

"If you can imagine the spectacle of a very typical French performer doing an impression of an Englishman doing his interpretation of an American, you may have an idea of what I went through. Actually, though, it was hilariously funny, at least to me."

Laughton has his own personal ideas about how he may [illegible] one day at his imitators. "I have a small project," he says [illegible]. "And one day when I get time I'm going to do my own takeoff [illegible] Berle, Blake and others, stealing my act. Only problem is, who'll fool me?"

WASHINGTON SCHOOL MOTHERS' FASHION SHOW

The George Washington Mothers' Association wishes to thank Ronel's — local shopping centre for children's wear and toys — for their generous assistance in the very successful fashion show held at the Washington School on Tuesday, October 10th. They not only showed a wardrobe complete, but also had an attractive array of toys on display.

Thanks also go to:

Winchester Appliance who loaned a record player and records which added greatly to the professional atmosphere of the show.

Mouradian's — who very kindly laid carpeting for the run-way.

Winchester Conservatories who donated palms for a beautiful background.

Mrs. Arthur Cochran of the John Robert Powers Modeling School who added glamor to the show — as well as serving as an efficient and interesting commentator.

The 36 models — most of them pupils of the school were:

The entire show planned and carried out by Mrs. Frank Carver, Chairman of Ways and Means, and her Committee, assisted by Ronel's was a great success in spite of the downpour of rain.

Following the show — Mrs. Carver and her Committee, consisting of Mrs. John Coakley, Mrs. Warren Osborne, Mrs. Bogue, Mrs. James deRevere, Mrs. John Gleason, Mrs. Charles Washburn, Mrs. Roland Hanson, Mrs. Henry Fitts, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. James Wakefield, and Mrs. Richard Caldwell, provided a delicious afternoon tea served by Mrs. Donald Abbott, Chairman of the Social Committee, and her assistants: Mrs. John Swift, Mrs. Avery Cutter, Mrs. Warren Saunders, Mrs. Eric Johnson, Mrs. Lewis Bravacos, Mrs. John Van Dyke, and Mrs. Richard Cronin.

The next project of the George Washington Ways and Means Committee follows closely on the heels of the fashion show. It is to be a gay Hallowe'en Dance — on Friday, October 27th starting at 8 o'clock.

Heavenly music provided by an all-father Orchestra should be incentive enough for anyone to attend and be gay.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

At long last the girls who have been dieting all summer were rewarded for their sacrifices when the price of admission at the "Kitchen Social," last Saturday night was their waist measurements, plus of course, the article for the Home kitchen. The members who could not attend missed an evening of surprises and fun, not to mention the attractive prizes.

Bill McGrail and Bob Burr were the envy of all the ladies when their artistic talents in making hats from strips of crepe paper won them suitable prizes. Refreshments and dancing completed a very gay evening.

Make plans now for the Hallowe'en Costume Party on October 28th and do not miss another evening of fun and dancing.

Donations for the Rummage Sale on November 14 may be left at the Legion Home any evening after 7:30 p. m. or contact Dot McCormack or Ruby McKee if you wish them to be collected. Start cleaning out the closets and attics now so that you will not forget this worthwhile affair. Proceeds are to be used for Veterans' Rehabilitation.

RYAN — NOEL

Bouquets of white chrysanthemums on the altar with white flowers and green at the ends of the pews made an attractive setting for the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Noel and James Alexander Ryan at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, October 21. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, St. Mary's pastor, performed the ceremony at 10 o'clock and a nuptial mass followed.

Miss Noel, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noel of 244 Washington street, was given in marriage by her father, and had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Charlotte Noel of Winchester. Another sister, Miss Frances Noel of this town was one of the bridesmaids, the others being two sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Ann and Miss Jane Ryan, both of West Newton.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, styled with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls and a court train. Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a satin cap matching her dress and she carried a satin-covered prayer-book with a matching orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

The honor maid wore a dress of pale green brocade with a dark green velvet hat matching her velvet sash. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums arranged in a cascade bouquet.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of lavender brocade with dark purple sashes and hats. Their cascade bouquets combined chrysanthemums in shades of lavender, bronze and rust.

William Ryan of West Newton was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Santo Luizzo and J. Richard Dugan, both of West Newton, Walter Adler of Chestnut Hill and James Troy of Waltham.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Shaker Glen House with the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants.

After a honeymoon spent touring Canada by motor Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will make their home in New Britain, Conn.

The bride is a graduate of the Pierce Secretarial School. Mr. Ryan, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ryan of 319 Cherry street, West Newton, is associated with Swift and Company, and is a graduate of Boston College.

REUBEN LEVINE

Reuben Levine of 551 Main street, well known tailor with shop at 3 to 5 Shore road, died early Monday evening, October 23, at the Winchester Hospital, following a brief illness. He was at his place of business as usual during Monday forenoon and became ill while at home for lunch. His death is attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been for several years in poor health and was hospitalized in Boston just about a year ago.

Mr. Levine was born in Russia October 15, 1883. He came to this country in 1905, settling in Boston. He had learned the tailor's trade in Russia and for several years worked in Boston tailoring and clothing establishments, including the then popular clothiers, McCullar, Parker and Williams.

Thirty-three years ago Mr. Levine came to Winchester, having purchased the Rubins' Tailor Shop, then located on Main street on the site of the present F. W. Woolworth Company store. He remained at that location for several years, then crossed the street to the Locatelli Building where he remained until he moved to his present shop on Shore road six years ago.

Mr. Levine was a member of Mystic Valley Lodge of Masons and of the Custom Tailors' Association. He had been a member of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E., and was well liked by a wide circle of friends.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Bessie Levine; a son, Abraham Levine of Newton; two grandchildren and a brother, Morris Levine of Dorchester.

Funeral services were held Wednesday forenoon at the Stanetsky Funeral Chapel, Grove Hall, Dorchester. Interment was in West Roxbury.

NEW CHASE MAP

A new map by Ernest Dudley Chase of Lakeview terrace, president of the Rustcraft Greeting Card Company and a talented artist in his own right, is always an event, particularly for his Winchester admirers who have had his maps in the past.

His latest effort, "World Freedom," based on Mercator's Projection, is a map with world distances. Blowups of Korea, Formosa, Indo-China, Burma, Siam, Iran, Iraq and Turkey, with a clear outline of the Iron Curtain and a list of the important conferences leading up to the formation of the United Nations, the North Atlantic Treaty and the Council of Europe. There are also pictures and other pertinent facts together with a well worded, yet brief article on the United Nations.

The Star acknowledges gratefully Mr. Chase's gift of one of his new maps which reached the office Monday. It is attractive in form and size, beautifully designed, artistically colored and costs, incidentally, in its mailing tube and special gift wrapper, an even dollar. There are undoubtedly many on your Christmas list who would be delighted with one of these maps!

Robert A. Johnston, Chief

AN INVITATION

The trustees and librarians of the Winchester Public Library are happy, proud, and grateful to announce the opening of the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room on Friday, November 3, at 8 o'clock in the evening. There will be a short dedication program in the Art Gallery at the Library, to be followed by three motion picture films on music and art. This program is arranged so that visitors may feel free to come and go as they please. There will be music in the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room during the evening. All adults are very cordially invited to visit the room and to become acquainted with the advantages it has to offer to the student and lover of music and the fine arts.

This room has been made possible by the generous bequest of Jere A. Downs who in 1936 bequeathed to the library the sum of $43,000 unrestricted as to use of income or principal. Mr. Downs lived in Winchester for about 35 years, always having a very strong interest in the civic, social, and religious life of the community. In 1924, with his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Downs Wadsworth, he presented to the Unitarian Church in memory of his mother a Westminster chime of bells. He was instrumental in bringing players from the Boston Symphony Orchestra to Winchester. Because of his interest in music and his desire to share this interest, it seemed especially fitting to the library trustees that some of his generous gift be used for a music and fine arts room in the library. It was their desire to make this room as perfect a memorial as could be accomplished.

Even while Mr. Edgar J. Rich, long a personal friend of Mr. Downs, was chairman of the trustees, plans were begun for a whole new unit in the library. There was to be a collection of records, and there was to be a fitting room to house this collection where it could be used to give enjoyment and inspiration to everyone in Winchester. It was advisable to begin in a small way and 2 years ago some of the interest from the Jere A. Downs bequest was used to buy a good basic list of recordings as the nucleus of the record library.

Almost a year ago work was actually begun on the room itself. There is special shelving to house the large record albums and oversize music and art books. There is a catalog index for the albums. There are 3 record players to accommodate all sizes of records, equipped with earphones similar to those in the Lamont Library at Harvard. There is especially designed lighting intended to give bounteous light without glare. There are comfortable chairs and many strategically placed tables.

Everything has been done to make this music and fine arts room a thing of perfection, because the trustees wanted it to be a fitting memorial to Jere A. Downs and also because they wanted to make available to Winchester the very best that could be obtained and assembled for the study of music and the fine arts.

The room is to be put to use at once and already programs have been printed for the "Hours of Recordings" through November. These are to be held on Wednesdays at 3:00 p. m. and again in the evening at 7:30. All adults are very cordially invited. The music room will be open during library hours, and the librarians will be very glad to show visitors where to find things and how to use the equipment.

PRE-ARMISTICE DAY BALL

Winchester Post No. 97 of The American Legion has been fortunate to secure the well-known Bernie Gould dance band of Boston to play for the Pre-Armistice Day Military Ball to be held in the Town Hall on Friday night, November 10. This ball will be one of the outstanding social events of the fall season. The entire Post is working to this end with the same enthusiasm which made Post No. 97 State Champions in the recent American Legion Blood Donor Campaign.

The local Legion post donated 212 pints of whole blood in this campaign, surpassing even the largest cities of Massachusetts.

Festivities will begin at 8:15 with a concert by the Winchester High School Band. A very colorful part of the ceremonies will be the posting of colors by the color guards of a number of American Legion posts from neighboring towns and cities.

Dancing will begin at 9 p. m. and will continue until 1 a. m. with special prizes being awarded to several lucky couples. There will be a gala grand march led by dignitaries of Post 97 and state and county officers of the American Legion.

While one feature of the Pre-Armistice Ball will be the large number of participants in uniforms of the Armed Services and the American Legion, the local committee would like to make it clear that all citizens of Winchester are cordially invited whether or not they are in uniform.

TOWN MANAGER COMMITTEE HELD HEARING

If the hearing held Monday evening by the Committee studying the town manager form of government for Winchester is any criterion of the interest the town as a whole has in this matter, there surely is no strong demand for any change from the system under which the town has functioned for so many years.

Twenty-six persons, including members of the committee studying the problem and several town officials were present when the meeting was called to order by Mr. William C. Cusack of the Committee, taking the place of the committee chairman, Mr. Elliott F. Cameron, who was ill. The 26 present increased after the start of the meeting to between 35 and 40. One breakdown given the Star was five members of the committee and 12 town officials, leaving the remainder of those at the hearing as citizens at large.

Mr. Cusack opened the hearing by stating that the Committee was not attempting to influence any one either for, or against the town manager plan. The hearing was held to afford citizens an opportunity to express opinions upon the plan and to ask any questions about this form of government which might be puzzling them.

He explained that 987 cities and towns in the United States now have the manager form of government and added that the committee found this form was generally instituted because of graft or corruption in the municipal government it replaced, or to improve the existing government by effecting savings in municipal expenditures and coordinating the various governing departments to promote greater efficiency of operation. Generally speaking, Mr. Cusack informed the hearing, town managers have nothing to do with the School Departments or the Town Moderator or the Library Trustees.

He explained that a special act of legislature is necessary to enable a town to have the town manager form of government, and gave the principal objections to it which the committee has encountered. They are that under a town manager the individual initiative of capable citizens is killed, and that there is too much power placed in the hands of one individual. Mr. Cusack in this connection also explained that when the Legislature is petitioned for permission to have the town manager form, it is possible to write into the charter any restrictions in the matter of manager control which the community may feel to be desirable. He frankly admitted that he did not know how a town manager would work in Winchester, but stated that it has worked well in such places as Saugus, Cambridge and Lowell, and speaking generally again, he felt that in most places where the town manager form had been adopted, municipal savings have been effected and tax rates have gone down.

In reply to a direct question Mr. Cusack said that the committee had not compared such communities as have introduced the town manager form successfully with Winchester at the time when this form was introduced, and he also freely admitted that the committee has found a "fair" amount of cooperation between the various departments in this town. In reply to another question as to the savings effected under town managers as opposed to the cost of the plan, Mr. Cusack stated that those who know most about the plan seem to think that the cost of the plan is more than covered by the savings effected.

Speaking for the plan were Mr. Percy Bughee and Mr. Arthur Hewis. Heard against the plan was Mr. Arthur Keehn. Others who were heard without stating their preferences were Mrs. Antonio Mezzacappa, of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Richard Fish, Mr. Frank E. Rowe of the Planning Board, Assessor Ernest B. Dade and Mr. Alexander Clark, chairman of the Finance Committee.

After some little debate as to the propriety of a vote by those present, a standing vote was taken, resulting in an even split of opinion, nine of those present favoring the town manager plan and nine being recorded in opposition. Lantern slides showing the town and city manager setup in various cities and towns were shown by Mr. Thomas Drapeau of the School Department. The hearing closed shortly after nine o'clock.

In 1898 she and her husband came to Winchester and lived for many years at 7 Nelson street. Mr. Lloyd died in 1916.

HEMROULLE REMEMBERS!

Hemroulle, the little Belgian village saved from Nazi hordes during the Battle of the Bulge in 1944 by air-borne troops commanded by Winchester's Lt. Col. Jack Hanlon, has not forgotten its American friends and their assistance during the dark days of World War II.

As an expression of their gratitude and to perpetuate the international friendship between the people of Hemroulle and Winchester, the inhabitants of the little Belgian village are sending tokens of appreciation to their friends in this town, word of their action having been given by the Belgian Consul in Boston to Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye of Mystic Valley Parkway, who headed the Winchester committee assisting Col. Hanlon in his effort to collect sufficient sheets to replace those lent his troopers as camouflage during the Battle of the Bulge.

As his troops prepared to meet the Nazis on a ridge at Hemroulle the day before Christmas, Col. Hanlon asked the Burgomaster of the village to get for him sheets from the inhabitants to reduce his outnumbered troopers' visibility in the snow.

The Burgomaster rang the bell of the Village Church and the village brought their sheeets to Col. Hanlon there, receiving his promise that they would be returned.

The Americans were successful in beating off the Nazis and the sheet camouflage saved many lives. Col. Hanlon, however, had to lead his troops away from Hemroulle right after the battle and it was impossible for him to fulfill his promise to return the villagers' sheets.

After the war Col. Hanlon was reminded of his promise and instituted a campaign to secure sheets in his home town of Winchester to replace those borrowed during the battle. A committee headed by Mrs Toye backed his efforts and at the meeting at the high school during the fall of '47 Winchester townspeople brought sheets which were subsequently returned to Hemroulle, delighting the townsfolk there, many of whom had given their only sheets to help their American friends.

Now the Hemroulle people want to give presents to their friends here in Winchester. Arrangements are being made to receive them at a suitable ceremony to be held during December. It is hoped that the exact date and more complete information can be given in next week's Star.

IDA RICHARDS ARMSTRONG

Ida Richards Armstrong, widow of William J. Armstrong and a native of Winchester, died Sunday, October 22, at her home, 180 George M. Cohan Boulevard, in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Armstrong was the daughter of J. Henry, and Louisa (Preble) Richards, being through her mother connected with the Church family, prominent in Winchester years ago. She was born May 19, 1879, in Winchester and spent her girlhood in town, being educated in the Winchester schools and graduating from high school here in the class of 1898.

On November 20, 1898, she and Mr. Armstrong were married at the old Baptist Church by Rev. William E. Schliemann. She and her husband lived for several years after their marriage on Mt. Vernon street, later living in Cambridge. They moved to Providence when Mr. Armstrong's business was transferred there twenty years ago. Mr. Armstrong died January 28, 1946. His wife left no near relatives, being the last of her family.

The funeral was held Wednesday forenoon at Mrs. Armstrong's late residence in Providence. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

REV. ROBERT A. STORER

UNITARIANS PLAN INSTALLATION SERVICE

The large and active parish of the Winchester Unitarian Church had its first informal introduction to its new minister, the Reverend Robert A. Storer, at its eighty-third annual meeting and supper last Thursday evening, and accorded him a most enthusiastic welcome to Winchester. Plans were announced for his formal installation at a special service on Sunday afternoon, November 5, at which time many well known Unitarians, including the Reverends Dana MacLean Greeley, Charles E. Park, and Vivian Pomeroy, as well as leaders of other Winchester churches will come together to assist at the installation.

Mr. Storer moved into the Glen Green parsonage of the church during August, and has been fast in making friends among the community at large as well as becoming acquainted with his already growing parish. He comes to Winchester direct from twelve years as minister of the busy parish on Meeting House Hill, Dorchester, where he was very active as a Conference Member of the Family Society, a board member of Dorchester House and the Traveler's Aid Society, and an advisor in the Dorchester Juvenile Court. He brings to Winchester a new vigorous point of view, a great deal of enthusiasm, and long record of interest in the activities of young people - particularly in the fields of drama and the dance. For several summers he has given courses in religious drama at the Isles of Shoals Conferences in New Hampshire, and he is a pioneer in the field of the sacred dance or what is known as "Motion Choir." The young people throughout Winchester will find in him a keen supporter of their many theatre interests, for immediately following his own graduation from high school he enjoyed a successful period of work in the professional theatre.

Mr. Storer was born in Waltham and educated in the Waltham schools through high school. He graduated from the University of Chicago and the Meadville Theological School; and he went from Meadville directly to his parish in Dorchester.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

In spite of rainy weather a large number attended last Tuesday's meeting of the Fortnightly. Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe, president presided and a very interesting session was held.

Mrs. Walter Winship gave an able summary of the accomplishments of the United Nations organization to date, stressing the pioneering leadership that this organization has achieved in endeavoring to build world peace.

Details of a special Christmas project sponsored by the Peace Service program were presented by Mrs. Forbes Norris. Special packages containing appropriate articles are to be provided for needy children and elderly people in Europe who otherwise would not be remembered at Christmas. This program will be under the direction of Mrs. William E. Priest.

The eight Referendum issues in the coming election were discussed by Mrs. Clifton S. Hall. Mr. Wilde gave a complete and informative explanation of the insurance referendum, pointing out how very few communities would benefit by its passage in comparison to the large number of cities and towns that would be adversely affected.

Members are reminded that on Tuesday, November 7th, at 1:15 p. m., there will be a conducted tour through the Gardner Art Museum. Those wishing to go should telephone Mrs. Lester P. Leathers as soon as possible so that she can arrange for transportation. During Art Week - November 1st to 7th - the Fortnightly will have an exhibit of pictures in Filene's window.

Mrs. Earle Andrews, Chairman of Antiques, reminds members of the meeting to be held at Mrs. John Wills' home, 2?8 Highland avenue, on Wednesday, November 1st, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Tarbox will discuss many interesting items used in presidential campaigns from 1840 to the present.

Because of an appeal to Mrs. Adele Emery in a letter from an American soldier stationed in Korea, the usual flower collection was voted to be used to provide bibles for the use of Korean boys in the army.

The Fortnightly was well represented at the Eighth District Conference on October 18th at Wakefield. Attending were Mesdames:

Clifton S. Hall, William E. Priest, Sidney A. Burr, George Budd, Harold H. Given, Adele E. Emery, Kenneth B. Hiscoe, T. H. Rhodes, Warren C. Whitman, Marshall W. Symmes. Among the fine speakers heard was Mrs. Lewis C. Stevens who told of her recent trip to Europe. She spoke of how the women overseas are working together for world peace and unity, and of how grateful they are for the inspiration they receive from reports of the work of American women.

Miss Marian H. Clark, prominent lecturer on radio and television, provided an entertaining and educational hour, taking her audience behind the scenes with amusing anecdotes of radio programs and the people who make them. Miss Clarke discussed the informative values of several net-work programs, recommending among others, "American Forum of the Air," as a typical testing ground of public opinion.

Mrs. Granville Flagg has returned to her home on Lloyd street from the Winchester Hospital where she has been undergoing treatment for a shattered heel which she sustained in a fall on September 25. It will be some time around the first of the New Year before the cast can be taken from her injured heel.

THE VISITING NURSE

Visiting Nurse — A Red Feather Agency in Action

The trim Visiting Nurse whom you meet coming out of the headquarters at 540 Main street early in the morning, familiar black bag in hand — or whom you see bringing comfort and care to your sick neighbor — is a familiar symbol of mercy in most towns, and especially here in Winchester.

The three-nurse staff of this Red Feather Agency is a busy one. Looking at the day's schedule doesn't half tell the story of the work the nurses do, the little extra comforts and friendliness they bring to patients. Nor does it tell the many hours of extra work and study involved, to keep these nurses constantly and currently informed.

But peek, for a moment, at Mrs. Doris Wiklund's calendar for Monday! She arrives at the office at 8 o'clock, and by 8:30 has her schedules made out, and is at her Red Cross "Home Care of the Sick" class.

The class at the Town Hall basement is attended by 16 Junior and Senior girls from the High School — a challenging group. (And on top of the job of teaching, Mrs. Wiklund must attend the Instructor's Course in Medford Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 10 p. m.)

After class, the nurse is back at the office, picking up sterile goods, [illegible] about new calls, being told [illegible] two cases are on [illegible] calls. This Mrs. Wiklund [illegible] her to a Monday call — to bathe a five day old baby whose [illegible] feeding would be at eleven [illegible]. In addition to the bath, [illegible] teaches the mother how to prepare his formula (as arranged by telephone earlier, the mother has the necessary articles out, sterilized, and boiled water ready. Tomorrow the mother will bathe her baby under Mrs. Wiklund's supervision.)

Mrs. A's home is the next call. This patient is 92 years old, in bed most of the time, and thoroughly enjoys the "outside world" touch which the nurse's visit brings — enjoys it almost as much as her soothing bath! The nurse confers with the patient's daughter-in-law about reddened areas on the patient's feet, and teaches her how to make "doughnuts" from old socks, to prevent pressure on these points. Mr. A. has not had time yet to make wooden bed blocks, so the nurse shows how tomato cans, filled three-quarters with sand, on which the cut-out cover is placed, provide make-shift but quite adequate bed blocks, (and for this, Mrs. A is grateful, for it is hard on her, bending low over the elderly woman's bed.) The nurse leaves the old lady in a chair, quite happy.

Monday is the day for Mrs. B's liver extract injection, and for this Mrs. Wiklund uses the hypodermic, previously prepared at the office.

(Home to lunch at 12:30. Nurses get hungry, too!)

Back at the office at 1:30, Mrs. C. arrives for her hypodermic medication, bringing with her a written, signed order from her physician. (For an office visit, this Red Feather agency makes a charge of one dollar.)

The nurse then phones Dr. X to report the case of Baby D. Dr. Z calls the office to request that special treatment be given Mr. E. at [illegible] [illegible]. The [illegible].

Mrs. F [illegible] to prepare dinner [illegible] family, as she is ill in [illegible]. She is told regretfully that the District Nurse cannot offer her that service, but can give nursing care to the patient only, and always under physicians' orders.

The hospital switchboard is called, to ask for any new calls that might have come in through that source. Mrs. Wiklund finds that the Metropolitan Life Insurance agent has phoned in a request for a nurse to visit the G . . . child, 24 S . . . street.

At 2:10 p. m., Mrs. Wiklund, bag in hand, leaves the office.

First afternoon visit is to Mr. E. Treatment is given as ordered by the doctor, and the patient made as comfortable as possible — and the results phoned back to Dr. Z.

[illegible] a little girl five [illegible] to have a [illegible] degrees, a sore [illegible] and [illegible]. The nurse advises [illegible] put to bed immediately, away from the rest of the family, and given plenty of fluids. As there is no telephone in the home, the nurse, at the mother's request, phones for a doctor.

Mrs. H. is the next on the list of this busy Winchester District Nurse. She is a middle-aged mother of a large family, who has recently been discharged from a large Boston Hospital. General nursing care is given, and her legs dressed in accordance with written orders from the hospital. She is progressing well, and is sincerely grateful for the helpful visit of the nurse.

Now there is just time to give Mr. K's daughter her first lesson in how to give her elderly father his insulin. Dr. L. has requested about six teaching visits to this family — and from then on, the daughter can administer the insulin and free the nurse for other and pressing cases.

There is a rush for Mrs. Wiklund to get into Boston University for her class from 5 to 7.

And thus ends a typical busy Monday, just one day in the life of a Winchester District Nurse!

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Third Grade Tea

Mrs. Carl Segerstrom of 2 Maple road was hostess to the 3rd grade mothers and teachers, Mrs. Judy Brown, and Mrs. Ruth Graham, on October 17th. The tea was very well attended.

After a social hour, highlighted by a delightful afternoon tea, at which Mrs. Thomas Purtle, President of the Mothers' Association, and Miss Rich poured. The mothers joined in an open forum with the teachers and Miss Rich, the principal.

The main topic of discussion was the developing of the child's ability to follow directions accurately and pursue a problem to its conclusion which would develop elementary research technique. There was a great deal of discussion by the parents concerning the necessity for accuracy in following verbal directions.

Preparation and serving of the tea was under the direction of Mrs. Edward Morse, room-mother, and her assistant, Mrs. Henry Fitts, assisted by Mrs. Carleton Clagston, Mrs. Jerome Foster, Mrs. Warren Osborne, Mrs. Robert Turpin, Mrs. Paul Eaton, Mrs. Richard Huff and Mrs. Russell Leafe.

Fourth Grade Tea

The 4th grade tea was held on Tuesday, October 19th, at the home of Mrs. Ronald King of 12 Hillcrest Parkway.

After a social hour, the mothers and teachers, Mrs. Mathews, and Ruth Graham carried on an animated discussion focused on the methods of evaluating of pupils, by the teachers.

The very beautiful and well-served tea was planned and served by room mother Mrs. Charles Crede, and her assistant Mrs. Charles Adams and their committee, Mrs. Robert Farnham, Mrs. Charles Hackins, Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. Ralph Bonnell and Mrs. Robert Gardner.

Mrs. Thomas Purtle, President of the Mothers' Association and Miss Rich, Principal poured.

The Dads are Really Doing It

The Dads' Club, organized by fathers of the George Washington School, to be of assistance in general to the Mothers' Association, has already finished project No. 1. On one side of the playground, they have erected a fine basketball post and paid for this equipment with first prize money from their centennial float. This equipment being so popular, the fathers themselves contributed a second set, to be erected opposite the first, and they plan to lay an asphalt area between the two.

Last week members of their committee presented each room of the school with a Hallowe'en pumpkin to add color and good old Hallowe'en spirit to the classrooms.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Sunday, October 22, the planning committee of the Methodist Youth Fellowship met and planned their program. They were unable to have the guest speaker but still had an interesting evening.

Next Sunday, October 29, at 4:00 p. m. they will meet at the church. They will go to the Lawrence Observatory in cars and go on a hike. After the hike they will return to the Frizzel's home for a wienie roast and then to the church for their evening service.

WINCHESTER, 26; FRAMINGHAM, 6

Indians Strong in Second Half for Sixth Straight

Winchester High won its sixth straight football game of the season from Framingham last Saturday afternoon at Bowditch Field, Framingham, outclassing the opposition over the second half. The Indians led at the half, 7 - 0, with Framingham threatening to score in the final two minutes, having advanced from its 10 to the Winchester 16 in six plays.

Both teams showed plenty of ability to advance the ball in the first half with neither having too strong a defense for the running game of its opponent. Winchester, minus Joe Cox, who is out for the season, with his safetyman guard, Sandy Ray, and his first replacement, Jim Polcari, on the sidelines, seemed vulnerable up the middle and Framingham was really tearing when the whistle blew to end a fast half, played with almost no letup.

The second half was all Winchester, Framingham's only threat coming through the air as the local boys held the Blue and White to three yards on the ground.

Winchester made 11 first downs and 324 yards by rushing, rounding one of seven passes for a single yard and a touchdown. The Indians lost 55 yards in penalties, including three 15 yarders for illegal use of hands. They recovered their only fumble, O'Brien making 19 yards on the play and setting up the second Winchester touchdown.

Framingham made eight first downs and 108 yards on the ground, completing four of six passes for 81 yards, with one being good for the losers' only touchdown. Framingham lost 70 yards in penalties, one 15 yarder for unnecessary roughness leading directly to Winchester's first touchdown. Framingham recovered one of its three fumbles.

Winchester drove after the kickoff to the Framingham 11 where on third down with a yard to go Donlon and Michelsen collided in the backfield, losing six yards. A pass to Grimso fell incomplete with Framingham boy riding Tony on the play and the home team took over at its 20.

The big Blue ground out two first downs, advancing to just become midfield before being obliged to punt. Donlon muffed the kickoff but managed to recover the ball in his end zone for a touchback, Winchester starting at its 20. O'Brien a few plays just before the teams changed goals for the second quarter.

From the 24 Winchester moved steadily up the field, O'Brien being the big meal ticket, reeling off runs of 13 and 12 yards, as well as consistently picking up shorter distances.

With the ball at the 17, Framingham threw a 15 yarder for numerous substitutes, placing the ball at the two yard line. Two bucks gained only a yard and on third down Michelsen flipped a pass over the goal to Jim Griffin, who made a great leaping catch of the ball for the touchdown. Langdon Smith converted and then Framingham started.

A kicking game of punts, 13 and 16 yards, interspersed by shorter gains, followed, the Big Blue advanced to the Winchester 16 as the quarter ended.

An interested Winchester team answered the whistle for the second half. Errico kicked off and went downfield to hit the ball receiver like a thousand of bricks, Winchester recovering the resulting fumble at the Framingham 26.

The locals couldn't go and Framingham took the ball on downs, trying to make it an even battle. Winchester recovered a Framingham fumble on the 50. O'Brien scooted up the ball on the run and with a real burst of speed, got around the Framingham left flank for a first down at the 10, a great individual effort, though a couple of nice blocks helped plenty.

From the 10 Johnson bucked twice to the three and then Donlon shoved his way over. Smith again converted.

Giruso broke up Framingham's attempt to advance after the kickoff when he made a great tackle of Captain Fox after only a four yard gain on a pass play, bringing the towering end down hard on the Framingham 29.

Framingham kicked outside at the Winchester 42 and the Indians started again, with Donlon, O'Brien and Johnson moving the ball to the Framingham 27, where Michelsen broke through on a sneak to the 15.

Two plays lost two yards, but from the 17 Michelsen on a "Sally Rand" circled his own left end and bulling between two Framingham boys at the five scored easily. Smith's kick was squarely blocked.

The final quarter had begun just before Michelsen scored, and both teams fiddled around, exchanging kicks with Griffin contributing a 22 yard gallop on a fake kick before punting to the Framingham 27. Winchester had a team of subs on the field.

A successful pass from Dexter to McGrath made it first down at the 15 and then an underhand pass from Dexter to Carter on what started as a sweep resulted in a 13 yard gallop to the Winchester 12, where Griffin crossed fast to knock Carter outside.

Two line plays got only a yard and on third down Errico met the ball carrier hard at the line of scrimmage and the ball bobbled away from him, being finally recovered by Framingham at the 20.

Here Dexter faded and arched off a pass to Carter, who had gotten behind the Winchester defenders and grabbed the ball about the five to score easily. The try for point by placement was wide.

With its lineup of second and third stringers Winchester was holding Framingham and after a short kick by Griffin had reached only the Winchester 33, the locals held for downs at their 32.

After picking up three yards on a buck, Sericka was sent into the line and the reserve fullback broke through. Then literally exploding past the Framingham secondaries he legged it 65 yards for a touchdown pulling away from the final Framingham defender who dove futilely for "Zucker" about the Framingham 15.

The crowd was filing out of the field when Sericka made his sparkling run and they missed a spectacular performance. Smith's kick attempt was blocked again, and the final whistle blew as Smith lofted a towering kickoff into the Framingham end zone.

WINCHESTER AT READING

Winchester journeys to Reading Saturday afternoon to meet Reading High in the annual football game between the two schools at the Junior High School Field. This game is always well attended and as conditions for handling admission are not ideal at the field the Winchester management has made arrangement as a public service to sell tickets for the game today and Saturday morning, either at McCormack's Pharmacy or at the high school. Adult tickets are .65c, student's tickets, .40c, Children's tickets are .10c but these have to be bought at the gate.

Most local fans feel that Reading will be the toughest foe Winchester has faced since Watertown, with not a few of the opinion that the Indians' unbeaten streak, now stretching through six games, is in real danger tomorrow.

A year ago Reading won from Winchester, 14 - 7, bringing an alert, hard hitting, well drilled team to Manchester Field and simply outclassing the sluggish, lackadaisical Indians, though it took a circus catch of a forward pass late in the game to decide the issue.

This year's Winchester team is definitely better than last year's eleven. It has no star like "Paulie" Amico, but it has a much better balanced backfield playing behind a line that is much more spirited and aggressive than last year's big frontier.

So far this year's group hasn't made things too easy for the opposition and against Watertown and during the second half of the Framingham game Winchester's all-round play was the best seen by a local team for several seasons.

Whether Reading is better than a year ago remains to be seen. If so, Winchester will be in for a busy time of it tomorrow. As a matter of fact the local coaches have been working their charges with the idea of a really rugged game, as Reading has apparently made Winchester its season's objective game and will be "up" for the contest.

There is nothing in the Reading record to suggest a super-team up north. Danvers played a 13 - 13 tie with Reading and both Wellesley and Punchard won from Reading, Wellesley, 15 - 7, and Punchard, 21 - 6. Reading has beaten Swampscott, 12 - 0, and won from Woburn and Johnson High of Andover, the scores respectively of 32 - 12 and 33 - 0. It is on the basis of these scores that many are rating Reading so highly. Woburn, however, was riddled with injuries for Reading and Johnson is not one of the strongest teams hereabouts.

On its record Winchester surely rates no worse than an even choice at Reading tomorrow if the Indians play ball. A repetition of their showing against Winthrop will be fatal, but play such as the Indians turned in against Watertown and Framingham will give the Reading boys, good as they may be, an interesting afternoon.

WINCHESTER DID WELL IN HOCKEY PLAY DAY

The Winchester High School field hockey team was one of twenty-five public and private school teams from Greater Boston to take part in the Play Day held at the Concord High School field last Saturday. Under the sponsorship of the Boston Field Hockey Association, the play day is organized so as to give the teams a chance to meet some new competition. Each team has a schedule of three or four schools to play with, each scrimmage lasting twelve minutes. The meet serves a dual purpose since officials are given their ratings on the basis of their judging of these games.

Winchester looked very good against Marblehead in the locals, first match, which they won 3 - 0. Bette Kneeland scored two goals and Jane Chiswell accounted for the third.

The private schools' stickwork was noticeably better than that of the public schools and it was this factor, more than any other, which enabled Dana Hall and Abbott Academy to defeat Winchester with scores of 1 - 0 and 2 - 0.

The Winchester squad that went to Concord was as follows:

Jean Neiley	LW
Jane Chiswell	LI
Jan Easton
Bette Kneeland	C
June Ryan	RI
Gretchen Daschbach
Mary O'Connell	RW
Ruth Peel	LH
Harris MacDonald	CH
Marcia Flaherty	RH
Ann Hooper
Lynn Stevens	LF
Louise Kugler	RF
Joan Farquhar	G
Kay Callahan

After the regular periods were played, an All Star and an All Star Reserve team were chosen with members of the Boston Field Hockey Association acting as judges. These two teams played each other in an exhibition game but it ended in a scoreless tie. Winchester's plaid uniform's really stood out on the field and many admiring comments were overheard among the onlookers at this game.

Members of the All Star team were:

Jean Neiley, lw	Winchester

Hallowe'en comes next Tuesday, and with it a certain trepidation on the part of property owners who haven't forgotten the wholesale destruction and devilry which were pretty likely to occur on that night. There have been no grounds for such fears in recent years, the conduct of the youth of the town having been on the whole very exemplary. It is expected that this year will prove no exception to the general rule, and it is much to be hoped that such will be the case. There are too many real worries harassing the average citizen to have destruction of his property added to the list. Police Chief Harrold is making provision for special policing of the town Hallowe'en, but only as a precautionary measure and not because he is actually looking for trouble. As long as the boys and girls do not permit their merry-making to deteriorate into malicious mischief there will be no police interference, but the police will stand for no real disturbance or property damage. Parents and teachers should remind the youngsters of this fact, and as last minute hints to householders: Have you taken in the porch furniture and clotheslines, and shut off the silcock. And how about that Hallowe'en candy?

VOTERS' INFORMATION MEETING

Voters new and old are cordially invited to a Voters' Information Meeting sponsored by the Voters' Service Committee of the League of Women Voters to be held at the Mystic School on Thursday, November 2 at 8 p. m. The eight questions on the ballot will be discussed pro and con, and the state officers' duties and salaries will be explained. Among the speakers will be Mr. Harrison Chadwick, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. William Spaulding, and Mr. Arthur Conley. Everyone is welcome.

MARILYN DRAKE

FORUM AT CHURCH

The Senior Forum, high school age group of the First Congregational Church, will attend the morning church service at 10:45 on Sunday, sitting as a group in the balcony. Dr. Howard J. Chidley will preach a special youth sermon, "Living With Ourselves." The Junior and Senior Choirs will sing under the direction of Mr. J. Albert Wilson.

At 5:30 in the evening Forum will have their regular supper meeting with Miss Marilyn Drake, a Forum graduate, as the speaker. She will show Kodachrome colored slides about a work project with which she was affiliated last summer in Europe for the American Friends' Service Committee. The Work Day for Christ will be discussed. Stephen Dunn, Carter Tallman, Edward Tarr, trumpeters, will be accompanied by Scott Cunningham as they present a special musical number. The supper will be planned and prepared by Judy Lamprey and Janet Macaulay, assisted by Mrs. Edward Zinn and Mrs. Gordon Bird. The decorations will be provided by Nancy Deters and Harris MacDonald, assisted by Mrs. Carl G. Richmond. A candle light service will close the evening meeting.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road had as their guest recently Mr. Rafael Buscaglia, former treasurer of Puerto Rico as well as acting Governor of that place and creator and president of the Government Development Bank of Puerto Rico. He is currently in charge of financing for the Puerto Rican Government, both at home and in the United States.

While Mr. Buscaglia was in Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. Cusack held an informal reception for him at the Music Hall, about 100 residents of the town meeting the distinguished visitor and enjoying both a motion picture and general discussion of Puerto Rican affairs.

In that Latin country they have coined the phrase, "Operation Bootstraps," meaning that lack of assistance from other countries has made it necessary for the Puerto Ricans to help themselves. Incidentally the country has never defaulted either in the matter of principal or interest on any financial obligation.

Presently, to attract American business, Puerto Rico is offering tax exemption on business ventures there for twelve years.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO THE A. S. M. E.

The Boston Section of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet at the Phillips Brooks House, Harvard Yard, at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Kirkland street on Thursday, November 2, at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Frank M. Gunby and Mrs. Harold M. King are in charge of arrangements for the tea which will follow the lecture.

The guest speaker, Dr. William J. Pinard, will speak on the subject "Darkest Africa — Land of Destiny."

NEEDLE-WORK GUILD OF AMERICA

"Social-Service is Everybody's Business"

For forty years this unique Guild has been functioning to help other welfare groups by distributing new garments to the needy families in a district. Its aim and purpose is to "clothe afresh the naked and garment in their wealth of helping" to build a bridge from those in need, to those who have not. The one annual meeting this season under the auspices of the Guild, President, Mrs. Wm. B. Thompson will have as a speaker Miss Watford G. Willard, supervisor of Winchester Visiting Nurses.

All directors, members and friends are cordially urged to come to the Methodist Church, Wednesday, November 8 at 2:30 p. m. to sew and help distribute the many useful gifts.

Tea will be served by the hostess group.

Watch next week's Star.

WHS STUDENTS HEAR ADMIRAL NIMITZ

To celebrate United Nations Day, Mrs. Ella Stacy and ten students of Winchester High School attended a conference at Beaver Country Day School sponsored by the United Council on World Affairs. The conference, held on Monday, October 23, was attended by over 750 high school and private school students from the vicinity of Boston. A well-known speaker, Chester William Nimitz, Admiral, U. S. Navy, Retired, Member of Congress-at-Large, addressed the group. The theme of his address was the student change in the country's attitude to foreign affairs brought on by the Korean situation.

After hearing Mr. Hester, the delegates divided into nine discussion groups treating such subjects as The Communist Threat in North and South America, How Does the Cold War Affect You? Germany, Palestine, Korea, and other topics. These discussions were led by adult speakers and proved very lively when the students began asking questions and challenging opinions.

In the afternoon the main speaker was Admiral Chester Nimitz. He told the Korean story and spoke of the many important accomplishments of the U. N. saying that the reason many people think of the U. N. as a failure is that they expected too much of it at the beginning.

Those who attended the conference were Mrs. Ella Stacy, David Archibald, Archie Bolster, Carolyn Edgar, John Foley, Bette Kneeland, Harris MacDonald, Bob Mirak, Phyllis O'Neil, Bob Surtees, and Martha Whiting.

HARRIS RICHARDSON HONORED

At the Fourth General Assembly of the United World Federalists, held in Washington, D. C., October 13 - 15, an anonymous gift of $50 of Winchester origin was presented in honor of State Senate Leader Harris S. Richardson of this town memorializing his leadership and support in behalf of a world federation resolution which was introduced in the Massachusetts Legislature last winter. This resolution urged Congress . . . "to expedite and insure the participation of the United States in a world federal government, open to all nations, with powers which, defined and limited, shall be adequate to preserve peace."

Presentation of the $50 gift was made at a banquet featuring Justice William O. Douglas and Raymond Swing, both now are among the vice-presidents of the United World Federalists, Inc. This organization is dedicated to the development of the United Nations into a world federal government, open to all nations, with powers which, defined and limited, shall be adequate to preserve peace. The Massachusetts Branch of the United World Federalists is under the co-chairmanship of Henry B. Cabot and Thomas H. Mahoney; its office is at 10 State street, Boston.

A One-Day New England Conference of the United World Federalists is being held at the Hotel Bradford tomorrow, Saturday, October 28th. Citizens desiring further information may call on the officers of the recently formed Winchester Chapter: Chairman, Robert B. Williams; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Greene; Secretary, Mrs. John L. Lobingier; and Treasurer, Mr. Robert Lowry.

REP. CHADWICK ADDRESSED PTA CONVENTION

Rep. Harrison Chadwick was one of the panel speakers at the annual state convention of the Massachusetts Parent Teachers Association, held last week in the Copley Plaza Hotel. The subject under discussion was: "Problems of the State Teachers' Colleges". Rep. Chadwick told the convention that our goal should be an adequate number of trained teachers, and adequately trained teachers in every class room. He contended that the teachers' colleges, as presently organized, are not filling the needs of the public schools in the Commonwealth, nor is the educational level in the teachers' colleges as high as we have a right to expect.

Mr. Chadwick proposed a two-fold solution. "In the first place," he told the audience, "the responsibility for higher education in this State should not be divided. The authority over the teachers' colleges should be transferred from the Department of Education to the programs of the two groups integrated under the School of Education at the University." Mr. Chadwick went on to say that with this arrangement the cost per pupil would be less, the quality of training would be better, and a degree from the University of Massachusetts would be more advantageous to the future teachers.

"In the second place," Rep. Chadwick continued, "the present teachers' colleges should be utilized as junior colleges, open to all qualified high school graduates for two years of higher education. These junior colleges should be branches of the University of Massachusetts. This is the only way that hundreds of our boys and girls, who are now barred from collegiate training for financial reasons, can get the education they want and that the progress of society requires they should have."

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the evil forces of communism, in seeking to enslave the free peoples of the earth, have presented a deadly challenge to the American way of life which necessitates an all-out program of preparedness for defense and adjustment in our national economy, and

Whereas, the local transit industry will inevitably have a vital place in that program, as it did in World War II, and recognizes its responsibility to be prepared therefor; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the American Transit Association, acting through the Board of Directors and War Program Committee, duly assembled at an emergency meeting in Chicago on this 19th day of September, 1950, does hereby dedicate itself and its constituent members to the great task which lies ahead; that it proceed promptly to the formulation of adequate plans to meet the local and suburban transportation needs of the armed and civilian forces and the general public; that it cooperate to the fullest extent with the federal, state and local governments in the development of their plans for national and civil defense; and that it pledges all of its managerial and material resources to the attainment of the foregoing objectives; and be it

Further Resolved that copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the members of Congress, the Governors of the various states and the Mayors of the communities served; and to such of the governmental agencies as may be concerned herewith.

The gaining of spiritual freedom through the destruction of sin by obeying the first commandment in daily life will be dealt with in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text is from Proverbs 10:29: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include Mark 12:29, 30:

"And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"No final judgment awaits mortals, for the judgment-day of wisdom comes hourly and continually, even the judgment by which mortal man is divested of all material error" (p. 291).

WINCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

Complying with the request from the Parochial School for transportation of pupils, the Committee instructed the Superintendent to check the distance from school of certain families and to start on October 30 the transportation to St. Mary's school of those pupils living two miles from that school.

Representatives of the school custodians met with the School Committee to discuss the question of a wage adjustment due to increased costs and increased demands on the men.

The Teachers' Club salary committee met with the School Committee to discuss a recent petition signed by the teachers and to consider further adjustments in the present salary schedule.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL FALL MEETING

The regular fall meeting of the Winchester Women's Council will be held in the Art Gallery of the Public Library on Friday, November 3, 1950 at 10:15 a. m.

The guest speaker Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Director of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, will tell of the Scouts' trip to England this past summer.

Any organization in Winchester may be represented at this meeting by its President and one other representative.

The Council's purpose is to provide a means of co-operation among Women's Organizations and exchange of information.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

In answer to several inquiries on Question No. 5 on the ballot for the coming State Election regarding the flat rate for automobile insurance, the Board has been informed that if this question is accepted it will mean an increase of approximately $5 per car for residents of Winchester.

Mr. John W. Smith, Jr., 28 Fells road, has been appointed by the joint boards of selectmen and park commissioners to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Kenneth F. Caldwell from the Park Board. Mr. Caldwell is moving to Boston shortly.

WYMAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Fall Meeting and Tea of the Wyman School Mothers' Association was held on the afternoon of Thursday, October 19, in the Wyman School Auditorium.

A special welcome to the 60 new mothers was given by Mrs. Virginia Dickey, the new president, during which the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Interesting plans for the coming year were outlined and members of the executive board were introduced. Since last spring, there was one change in the board, that of the resignation of Mrs. Albert Dietz, recording secretary, elected in her place was Mrs. Richard Bateman.

Mrs. Paul White, chairman of room mothers, introduced the room mothers of each room for this school year, and asked each to rise as her name was called.

Immediately following, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf and two girl scouts showed beautiful colored slides of the Girl Scouts' trip to England, which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Mabel Lowry, the principal gave one of her inspiring talks which are so helpful in bringing about a spirit of co-operation and understanding between school and parents. She then introduced the teaching staff which includes three new members.

At the conclusion, coffee and sandwiches were served in the kindergarten room by Mrs. Robert Lewis and her very able committee. Those who poured were Mrs. Charles Jellison and Mrs. Albert Buffum.

Room teas are now under-way. This year the teachers are stressing courtesy in their talks to the mothers.

Hostesses for October are: Mrs. Malcolm Bennett, Mrs. George Cary, Mrs. Bernard Chapin, Mrs. Joseph Dolben, Mrs. Llyod Godwin, Mrs. George Gowdy, Mrs. Edwin Hall, Mrs. Evan Kibbe, Mrs. Clarence Luitweiler, Mrs. Howard Ulfelder.

For November: Mrs. Roger Newton, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Vaughn Harmon, Mrs. Frank D'Elseaux.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB OF WINCHESTER

The Executive Council of the Women's Republican Club met at the home of the President, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, on Tuesday morning, October 24th.

At the suggestion of the president it was decided to have as guest speaker, on November 8th, Rep. Francis A. Harding, from Dedham. Representative Harding has had considerable experience in public affairs. He has served two terms in the Legislature, as a member of the Comm. of Labor and Industries, and on the committee of Military Affairs and Public Safety. His subject will be "Highlights of the Election."

On the same program, but in a lighter vein, will be Mr. Edward F. Payne, of the Boston Globe. Mr. Payne is famous as the original cartoonist of the comic strip "Billy the Boy Artist". His subject will be "Neighbors". His program will provide an afternoon of fun and laughter.

An added attraction will be his sketches of colored drawings 24x36 inches which will be on sale.

The president announced that the next entire Board meeting will be on Wednesday, November 15th at 9:45 a. m.

DR. MURRAY BANKS TO SPEAK IN WINCHESTER

On the 1st of December Winchester will have the opportunity to hear Dr. Murray Banks, who will be presented here under the auspices of the Winchester Women's Republican Club. Dr. Banks is a Professor of Psychology, author of the well-known book "How To Live With Yourself", and numerous articles on personality, marriage, mental hygiene and better living.

It is not quite accurate to term the program which Dr. Banks will present a lecture. It is far from that. Psychology springs alive as Dr. Banks dramatizes his subject in an unforgettable way. Sparkling humor highlights his highly entertaining program entitled: "Life, Love and Marriage".

The evening of December 1st is an important date in Winchester. Further information will appear in next week's Star. This unique program has been described as one of the most successful ever to be presented. Audiences all over the country have found it absorbing, exciting, always thought-provoking, and have never failed to be amused and inspired.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

President Bancroft Beatley of Simmons College will discuss "Another Look at Women's Education" when he speaks at the Parish House of the Church of the Epiphany at 7:45 p. m. on Monday, October 30, before the Winchester College Club and their guests.

Mr. Beatley was at the Harvard School of Education before he became president of Simmons College in 1933, and so is an authority on the part women play in a changing world and the education which fits them for it.

All graduates of Simmons, whether or not members of the College Club, and the parents of all Simmons undergraduates whose home is in Winchester are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Coffee will be served before the talk, with the Simmons College members of the Club and the members of the executive board as hostesses.

LEARNING TO HANDLE LIFE'S BURDENS

Due to several requests, Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist church will preach on the problem of handling the tremendous burdens which seek to beset individuals. The message will tend to strike resources available to help people who seem to find it difficult to adjust to the strains which come from present day living.

FALL MEETING AT MYSTIC SCHOOL

The Fall meeting of the Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association was held on Tuesday, October 24th at 3 o'clock in the Assembly Hall. Mrs. Colver Dyer, vice-president, was in charge of the meeting which was an extremely interesting one, and was well attended. After a brief business meeting, Mrs. Melvin Sears, President, introduced Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Executive Director of the Winchester Girl Scouts, and two Winchester Girl Scouts, Tina Tonon and Dorothy Parker, who gave a fascinating account of their bicycle trip through England and Scotland last summer. A small part of it was a preview of a show which they are to present on television on November 1st, and was illustrated with excellent colored slides. Mrs. Metcalf told of the extensive preparations which were made for the trip, emphasizing the fact that this group of seventeen American Girl Scouts was the first ever to go abroad on such a trip. She mentioned their crossing on the Georgia, of landing in Liverpool and of going to out-of-the-way places never visited by the average tourist, as well as to the better known cities such as Stratford, Oxford, Southampton. The Isle of Wight, a seven day stay in London, where the girls visited Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey and other places of note; then on to Eton, Windsor Castle, Hampton Court, Cambridge, St. Ives, Lincoln, Edinburgh, through the Trossachs and Loch Lomond to the Lake Country, Keswick, Windemere, and finally back to Liverpool and home again on the Georgia.

After the fare of $385 for transportation on the Georgia was paid, the five weeks in England cost each girl only 115, because of the devaluation of the Pound, and of the wonderful opportunity for students to stay in Youth Hostels. The cost was twenty-one cents a night, and, after their nightly chores were done, the girls had the opportunity to meet students from all over the world. The girls covered a thousand miles in England, four hundred and fifty on their bicycles, and six hundred on trains. They rode about twenty-five miles a day, which allowed them time for taking pictures, and every third day they either stopped in some special town or city or went on by train. The four day stay in Winchester, England was made especially pleasant for them there, as well as all along their route by the English Girl Guides.

Hallowe'en was the theme of the attractively decorated table where cider and tiny doughnuts were served after the talk. Mrs. W. Campbell Ross and Mrs. Nelson Brown were in charge of decorations: bright orange pumpkins, gourds, bittersweet and gay maple leaves were arranged on a long table covered with crinkly black cellophane, and black and orange cups and plates and Hallowe'en napkins completed the color scheme. Mrs. Donald Dalrymple assisted Mrs. George Blair, Social Chairman and her committee, Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell, Mrs. Nicholas Grand and Mrs. Harmon Hall. Those pouring were Mrs. Clifton Keane and Mrs. Everett Tisdale.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION GROUP

Questioning is the basis of growth . . . no religion can grow without it," said Pro. Eugene Ashton at the closing session of the Community School of Christian Education held at the Unitarian Church. More than 150 people from all the Protestant Churches of Winchester have met together for five sessions to learn how to stimulate in children and young people that questioning spirit, and how and were to look for some of the answers.

"Winchester children today are getting an excellent education in the public schools," Professor Edwin Wells pointed out. "Church School teachers must remember to start where the child is and continue Sunday teaching on the same level with weekday teaching. If a seventh grader is making bar graphs in school, have him make some in Sunday School to drive home a point. If they are learning to trace maps, let them draw the Mediterranean area with both its ancient and modern names and borders. If they like to sail, or do shop work let them make a ship model of Paul's times and tack with him on his journeys. Don't let our children lose out on the vital lessons of the Bible and the Church just because the material is presented in a way that bores them."

Dr. Forbes Norris, Dean of the School, expressed his gratitude over the fact that so many people were seeking practical and inspirational help in strengthening the religious education programs in their own churches and homes. Dr. Cecil Pride, accompanied by Mrs. Anna Lichman, led a joyful hymn sing. It was with earnest mutual conviction that the group swelled the strains of "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."

The "special refreshments" were special indeed. Mrs. Earle Haney, Mrs. Harley Hart, Mrs. Kenneth Reed, and Mrs. Harry Clark proved that juicy apple pie a la mode is as much fun as a whole church supper — and not half the work!

The planning committee of the School will hold its final meeting on November 1 at the home of Mrs. Burton A. Miller.

NEED HELP WITH BLOOD DONOR HISTORIES

Mrs. James B. Conn, Chairman of the Blood Program, Mrs. George Dutting, Executive Director of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, and Mr. S. Kendrick Tilley, Jr., Co-Chairman for the Blood Program, were among the chapter's five delegates who attended a special meeting of the program committee of the Greater Boston Service Command of the American Red Cross, held at Red Cross Headquarters, 99 Brookline Ave., Boston, Tuesday, October 17th.

One of the topics discussed by Mrs. Conn at the recent Blood meeting was the pile-up of business people during the Staff's supper hour. It was decided to recruit Registered Nurses to be trained in taking medical histories on the donors. Very short courses are now being given at the Regional Blood Center for recently retired Registered Nurses who can volunteer for a few hours when the Bloodmobile is in Winchester. Actually this is not much to ask of our retired nurses, as the Bloodmobile only comes to Winchester four or five times a year.

With the help of a few volunteer nurses, the donors could be processed much faster, and we could handle quite a few more. Last month, due to the increasing needs of the Army and the stepped-up publicity to get more blood, 6,251 pints were collected in Massachusetts.

Will all registered nurses interested in taking a refresher course on medical histories please call our local Chapter: WI 6-2200. With a good response, we can stagger the Staff and handle 6 donors every 15 minutes.

Rev. Fr. Samuel Mathews, who has been spending several weeks in Winchester following an extended trip through New Hampshire, is leaving next week for the South.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Our first regular meeting of the season will be held at Lyceum Hall on Tuesday, October 31st at 2 p.m.

Following the business meeting the Reverend Edward B. Flaherty of the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury will speak on "Rome and the Holy Years." Father Flaherty, a former Lyceum lecturer, is back in the United States after a visit to the Holy Land. Many of us have enjoyed hearing Father Flaherty and are looking forward to hearing him again.

Program Chairmen Mrs. Edward E. Ferris and Mrs. Joseph A. Bonanno have arranged a delightful afternoon for us, starting at 1 p.m. with a social hour to commemorate the Feast of All Saints, the beginning of the Holy Year celebration in the Holy City.

You won't want to miss the worthwhile afternoon so we urge you to plan now to come along and bring your guests. Tea will be served as usual at 4 p.m. by Mrs. William R. Buckley and her hospitality committee. That's Tuesday, October 31st. We'll see you then.

PARKHURST FOURTH GRADE TEA

The Parkhurst fourth grade tea for Miss Martha Cunningham took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald King Lewis, 56 Emerson road.

The large group of mothers attending were very interested in hearing Miss Cunningham discuss the School Courtesies Report. Her description of the outstanding personality and character traits of a typical 9-year-old fourth grader and what the parents should expect was very entertaining and informative.

Later Miss Cunningham answered questions asked by the mothers.

Tea was served by Mrs. Lewis and her committee including Mrs. Frank Kelley, Mrs. Howard Bates, Mrs. Paul Comins, Mrs. Joseph Mais and Mrs. John McLean. Mrs. George Herrick and Mrs. John McLean poured.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The meeting at Chelsea Naval Hospital on October 18 considered transportation for families of servicemen. Mrs. George R. Dutting represented the Winchester Red Cross Chapter.

Decem- the date of the next [illegible] of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in Winchester.

The Red Cross Motor Service made two Winchester Hospital calls to the Chelsea Naval Hospital, and three calls to the Massachusetts General Hospital. Mrs. James H. Conn, Mrs. S. Kendrick Tilley, and Mr. George R. Dutting attended the regular monthly meeting of the Red Cross Motor Service.

A new group of Gray Ladies is needed for the Winchester Hospital. Those interested should call Mrs. T. Parker Clarke, Winchester 6-1500, or the Red Cross office.

It is still possible to take First Aid or Home Nursing courses. The Home Nursing course is a short course in caring for the sick at home. No charge is made for either course.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Elaborate plans have been made for the Gala Hallowe'en Costume Party and Dance to be held on next Saturday evening, October 28 at the American Legion Home. Come early and enjoy the games and dancing and compete for the excellent prizes that will be awarded for the best costumes.

Write in your engagement book the following important dates of activities to be held next month: The "Weenie Roast" and Party on Saturday, November 4 and the Rummage Sale for the benefit of the "Veterans' Rehabilitation," on November 11. Please bring in your donations for this to the Legion Home as soon as possible or call to have them collected.

THE SARAH FULLER FOUNDATION

At the October meeting of the Social Agencies group, held at the Boy Scout Headquarters, Miss Harriette Smith of Winchester, who is the Director of the Sarah Fuller Foundation for little deaf children gave an informal talk and demonstrated some of the methods used in teaching the very young deaf or hard of hearing child.

This Foundation is a unique organization as it is the only agency in the world that sends trained teachers into the homes where there are deaf babies.

The age of the pupils range from two to seven years.

In 1888 the Sarah Fuller Home was started in West Medford, where young deaf children went to live and be taught. It was the first school in the country to teach speech and lip reading to Pre-School deaf children.

Then in 1927, the home was sold and a far better way started to teach these little children. Trained teachers of the deaf are sent directly to the homes of the children so that both the child and his parents are helped.

The main purpose of the Foundation is to teach young deaf children lip-reading, speech development, and curricular training during early formative years when the mind is receptive and habits are easily formed.

To acquaint parents with teaching methods will help them to a better understanding of the child's special needs.

Sense Training and Educational Toys develop Observation and Concentration which are necessary for Speech and Lip-reading.

Advanced Nursery School Principles induce Social Adjustment and Self Reliance.

Curricular training stimulates and helps speech development.

Speech and Lip-reading are taught through the Tactile, Visual and Auditory approach. The territory covered by these teachers reaches throughout Greater Boston. The service is rendered without compensation, but contributions to help defray expenses are always welcome.

Rebecca Jackson and Barbara Harding are members of the freshman class at Lasell Junior College in Auburndale. Miss Jackson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Addison Jackson of 17 Pine street, is a student in the retail training course. Miss Harding, who is taking the medical secretarial course, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell W. Harding of 24 Hancock street.

WILL YOU MAKE IT ENOUGH?

It seems fitting that the younger generation should have an important part in the 16th annual Red Feather campaign which is now in full swing in Winchester and other sections of Metropolitan Boston which make up the 48 affiliated communities. Not only as the citizens of tomorrow, but as actual shakers in the Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, the "Y's", as well as needed health and social services, young people of today have a real stake in the Red Feather.

In the schools this year the youngsters are being recognized as junior partners in the campaign. High schools are contributing of their talents as junior speakers for the Red Feather. Boys and girls in the secondary schools are responding to a request from Campaign Chairman Forrester A. Clark to write him a letter of 25 to 50 words telling what the Red Feather means to the families in their neighborhoods.

Pennies, too, are being welcomed from school children as a token of their share in the community life. In many of the suburban schools children have made voluntary gifts over the years, but the first time this year they will be joined by their brothers and sisters in the Boston public schools and parochial schools of the Archdiocese.

Viewing the campaign on a confident note, Chairman Charles W. Butler is encouraged by reports from several communities showing early returns with increases up to 50 per cent over last year. It is imperative that the community as a whole "Make it Enough" this year, $7,000,000, to do the same job as in the past. Because of inflation, it is necessary "to give more to give as much", as one town puts it.

Several members of the Council with their ladies attended Archbishop Cushing's Ball, sponsored by Bishop Cheverus Council, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus and held last night at Norumbega Park Ballroom. K. of C. Held 68th Annual Meeting

The 68th annual meeting of the Supreme Council was recently held during which Supreme Knight Judge John E. Swift vigorously denounced Russia in no uncertain terms, as follows:

"It was true unjust aggression practiced by Russia against the Korean Republic established by the United Nations that have brought America into the present conflict. We pledged our honor to uphold the principles enunciated in the charter of the United Nations at San Francisco. For five years we have been using every ounce of our national strength in the interest of peace. We have tried and are still trying to rehabilitate the countries that have been affected by the ravages of war in order that they might regain their economic balance.

"The very history of the United States is the story of the ceaseless struggle to keep alive the ideas and ideas of liberty and democracy and to defend them from enemies within and outside of our borders. We Americans must awaken to the truth that our country is not immortal. To live, to love and if need be to fight and to die for God's glory, our country and our brother should be the self-imposed command of every American citizen and patriot, a truth avowed by Christ to His faithful disciples. GOOD LUCK BAZAAR UNITARIAN CHURCH

On Wednesday, November 8th the women of the Unitarian Alliance open the doors at 10 a. m. for their annual project. This year it is to be a Good Luck Bazaar where fun and friendliness, horseshoes, and 4-leaf clovers will combine to make this the big Fall event.

Besides all the regular tables such as household, gifts, white elephant, books, flowers, mystery packages plus the tea and the Smorgasbord Supper and the Evening Auction here are some special news items that have come to our attention this week.

We hear that a Gypsy Queen is going to read palms, if you cross her hand with silver. She'll tell you what your good luck will be for the coming year.

The grapevine tells us also that there are to be samples of a super Italian dish called LaSagna on the food table. Orders are to be taken. It is a complete meal in itself, rich with meat — so filling that a green salad is all that is needed to serve your most special guests.

More details about the luncheon are now available. Mrs. Charles Weiner and Mrs. James Beale say it is to be served from 12 to 1 and tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Harold Meyer WI 6-1748. A simple nourishing meal will be available for the children.

Mrs. George Redding and Mrs. Russell Symmes have tipped us off about something very special on the candy table — to wit — chocolate taffy — sounds good.

Word comes from Mrs. Robert Low, Mrs. James Joslin, and Mrs. Frani Barnes that they and their young energetic committee are planning three big items to please the young-sters. First, little presents to select for themselves; second, thoughtful gifts for them to buy for their families; and thirdly, there is to be a marionette show in the afternoon for their very own entertainment.

By popular demand, it is official that there will be a Dress Exchange during the Bazaar on the main floor of the church. Children's and adults' clothing will be received on Monday, November 6th and Tuesday, November 7th only or call WI 6-1336 for pick-up. Mrs. William Davies and Mrs. William Wolsey, co-chairmen say that November 9th is the absolute deadline for recovering your unsold articles.

Well this is the news for this week. More bulletins to follow. The date again is Wednesday, November 8 from 10 to 10.

PARKHURST FIRST GRADE TEA

The third in a series of teas to be given for the Parkhurst teachers was held last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Abbott, 75 Arlington street, for Miss Nerissa Purington, the first grade teacher.

Miss Purington explained the School Courtesies Committee Report to the mothers and told which of the recommendations she plans to stress this year at the first grade level. At the close of her talk Miss Purington mingled with the mothers and discussed their individual problems with them.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Abbott and her committee consisting of Mrs. Stanley Neill, Mrs. Richard Trainer, Mrs. Benjamin Wild, Mrs. Malcolm Dodge, Mrs. Daniel Barnard and Mrs. John Stevens. Mrs. Neill and Mrs. Trainer presided at the tea table.

UNITARIAN CHOIR TO SING

For their first Choral Vespers of the year, the Unitarian Church Choir announces today that they will present at the church on the afternoon of Sunday, December 3rd, "The New Earth," an ode written for mixed voices, soli, and orchestra by Henry Hadley, the well known contemporary American composer. This rarely performed work has not been sung in Winchester for twenty years; and its beauty, along with the significant message of its libretto, a poem by Louise Garnett make its performance here this fall an important occasion for all Winchester music lovers.

Mrs. Morris B. Kerr of 9 Lewis road underwent a major operation last week Friday at the Phillips House. It is expected that she will be in the hospital for about two weeks.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NOTES

ROTARY NEWS

Among the more cheerful things at last week's meeting was the reappearance of Harry Benson somewhat thinner but able to see some patients in his office.

The speaker for the day was the new minister at the Unitarian Church, Mr. Robert A. Storer. He opened his remarks by saying that the only interesting things he could tell us were confidential so he proceeded to tell his very interesting experiences during the war as volunteer orderly at the Masachusetts General Hospital. A group of ministers went in there in a group and as Mr. Storer said "were just little men in white coats." But he received an invaluable amount of experience both in the medical line and in his own field. An altogether interesting and well delivered talk. The town is fortunate to have added him to an already fine group of religious leaders.

The Star office staff wish to thank our friend, Mr. John Bushell of Salisbury street for some especially toothsome Baldwin apples he kindly brought to the office last Thursday afternoon. It was our long afternoon and the apples helped a lot to keep the "inner man" from too great a craving for the postponed evening meal!

LEWIS PARKHURST MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The first meeting this year of the Lewis Parkhurst Mothers' Association will be held in the school Auditorium on Wednesday, November 1st at 2:00 p. m.

Miss Martha Cunningham will be the speaker of the afternoon. Voluntary dues of fifty cents per family will be welcomed. Small children will be cared for in the Kindergarten for 25 cents.

A social hour for the teachers and mothers will follow the meeting. Tea will be served by Mrs. George Herrick and her committee.

THE LAUGHTONS' RECIPE FOR MARITAL HAPPINESS

Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester have their own unique recipe for how to be happy though married in Hollywood, where careers and wedlock so often have head-on collisions.

Laughton, who arrives with his "one man show" at Winchester High School on November 16 speaks with the authority of 21 years of marriage.

It's strife enough, Charles points out, if you figure out what happens to most marriages that land on the rocks in Hollywood. It's that old delusion "frustration" that gets most actors and artists people down. It's "frustration" if one or the other person in a Hollywood marriage that usually leads to quarrels, lawyers, and eventually divorce courts.

Says Charles: "No two careers in Hollywood can proceed exactly the same level. Sometimes the wife may be very much in demand. Her career may be booming while the husband sits and waits for work. Sometimes it's the other way around. But most people are creative human beings with a need for some outlet for their artistic energies. When one of them sees other people in his profession busy while he's thumb-twiddling, it's bound to cause great unhappiness. So he takes it out on the person nearest him — his wife. That is, unless he has some other avenue to express his talents."

Elsa agrees with this point of view's precisely. Result: The Laughtons came to the decision that in Hollywood where pictures tend to be the focal point of everyone's life, it's a good idea to have at least one or more full time activities outside films that you don't engage in for money.

Elsa seven years ago found a newly started revue theatre in Hollywood called the "Turnabout" which invited her to work for a week as guest artist. No salary was mentioned since it was apparent that the small theatre could not pay a star's wage. So Elsa remained on for a week, which came to a year, and only recently she celebrated her 2,000th performance with the Turnabout. They've still never discussed salary and Elsa has received not one penny in a pay envelope.

"I've been paid in a much rarer coin," she says. "The satisfaction of keeping busy and knowing I have found some useful way to keep in acting 'trim.' People used to find that attitude hard to believe before the war. Since then hundreds of Hollywood actors have taken up painting and other hobbies to keep their own energies occupied. I like to think I was something of a pioneer in that field."

Laughton himself, encouraged by the amount of pleasure Elsa derived from her theatre work, started tentatively reading to disabled servicemen in veterans' hospitals. He was so well received that he went on to read on Ed Sullivan's television show, which appearance was followed with such enthusiasm that it led to Laughton's first tour in '49.

More than this, Charles organized what started as a modest group of actors to read Shakespeare. He was deluged with applications when the project was announced. Actually over 1,500 actors stood for admittance to the Laughton group. He was dazed and pleased by the response, but three months to weed out requests, seeing every worthy applicant. The group is now composed of fifteen actors and actresses and made its debut early this year with a highly successful production of "The Cherry Orchard," directed by Laughton in Hollywood. So well was the production received that there have been numerous offers for "The Cherry Orchard" players, both to go on tour this coming year and to appear on Broadway.

Laughton, who is currently repeating his personal appearance tour of last year, plans now to make this tour an annual event. "For as long as my voice and legs hold out."

The star is also seen locally under the auspices of the Central Mothers' Association and for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

TO RECEIVE BELGIAN GIFTS

Present plans for receiving the gifts being sent to Winchester from Hemrouille, Belgium, are to accept them at a simple public ceremony to be held at the high school auditorium on the afternoon of the day before Christmas, the anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge of World War II fame. The gifts are being sent in recognition of American aid in saving the village during the battle and in appreciation of Winchester's returning the sheets lent at that time by Hemrouille householders to Lt. Col. John D. Hanlon of this town to camouflage his paratroopers.

The villagers of Hemrouille have taken from their little war-torn church the paintings symbolizing the Stations of the Cross and are sending them, through their Councillor Communal, Victor Gaspart, to Winchester, to be given, in Gaspart's words, to the "churches that sang the bells", meaning the Winchester churches whose bells announced the meeting at the high school in 1775, to which sheets were brought to be returned to Hemrouille to pay "Jack" Hanlon's debt. The paintings are being presented by, and through the cooperation of the Belgian Consul in Boston. Many show Nazi bullet holes and other war damage.

The committee planning the acceptance ceremony are arranging to have each Winchester church receive one of the paintings, which came originally from an old Belgian abbey and have hung in the Hemrouille church for more than 65 years.

Ministers and priests of the local churches have been contacted and are assisting with the program.

It is planned to keep the affair on a simple town-wide level, a true acceptance of gifts from the "little people" of Hemrouille by the "little people" of Winchester.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The Winchester Hospital will soon have a staff of Gray Ladies manned by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter. Mrs. T. Parker Clarke has been appointed co-chairman of the Gray Ladies in charge of the Winchester Hospital division. Mrs. Edward Feeley is the co-chairman in charge of the Winchester Gray Ladies at the Bedford Hospital.

Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. George R. Dutting, Winchester Chapter Chairman, attended a meeting of the Friends of Winchester Hospital on October 26. Red Cross activities at the hospital were discussed. It is expected that the Gray Lady activity will begin early this month. This in addition to the volunteer services of the Nurses' Aides and Motor Corps which the local Red Cross has been staffing at the Hospital. This past week, on October 26, the Motor Corps made one call for Winchester Hospital and on October 26 took a child to Children's Hospital in Boston. Motor Corps driver Charles Farrar took a group of veterans from the Bedford Hospital to visit the Telephone Building on Milk street in Boston on October 23.

Volunteers from the Winchester Red Cross Chapter staffed the Blood Bank Center in Boston on Wednesday. Mrs. Edward Feeley was the Gray Lady; Mrs. Richard Fenno, the Motor Corps driver; Mrs. James Beal, Mrs. George Field, Mrs. Hollis Dyer and Mrs. Harold Ekstrom, Nurses' Aides; Mrs. Clifton Linnell and Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, Staff Aides; and Mrs. William L. Thompson, Mrs. William O. Thompson, and Mrs. Kingman Cass, Canteen.

Since blood is the most important factor used to combat the effects of the atom bomb, one cannot overestimate the importance of preparing now to cache sufficient quantities throughout the State to be used in time of disaster.

Houston, another prominent citizen, whose homestead, later the Winchester Light Guard armory and located on Main street next to the Station Cleansers, was recently torn down.

FALL MEETING OF EN KA SOCIETY

On Tuesday, October the thirty-first the En Ka Society was once again most fortunate to enjoy the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield of 8 Niles Lane.

Barrington, Mrs. Virginia Dickey, Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy, Mrs. E. Ober Pride and Mrs. Robert B. L. Singer received much praise. Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke and Mrs. Vera McKenzie presided at the coffee urns.

Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., our capable President had everything as usual at her fingertips and as the plans for the busy year ahead unfolded it was amazing to hear of the work already accomplished by the various committees.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

The guest speaker for the November 7th meeting of the Blessed Virgin Sodality of St. Mary's Parish will be the Rev. John Gainey, Assistant Director of the Boys Guidance Center, The Fenway, Boston.

Otherwise known as "The Boystown of Boston", the Guidance Center is a unit, whose purpose is the study and rehabilitation of problem boys without distinction as to race or creed. The Center has gained for itself an enviable reputation in the development of these young men in a spiritual, recreational and educational way. In spite of their limited facilities, Fr. Gainey will address the members of the Sodality on the origin, growth, purpose, and outstanding accomplishments of the "Boystown" in his usual interesting manner.

Because of the exceptionally large number of new members who have joined the Sodality since its opening meeting this fall, together with the faithful return of former members, the ranks of the organization have been swelled to such a large representative membership that it bids fair to remain among the leaders of Archdiocesan Sodalities.

Members may bring along any of their friends who may be interested. Judging from the favorable comment that resulted when the news of the Guidance Center's topic was announced, a banner attendance is expected on that evening, Tuesday, November 7th at the lower church at 7:45 p. m.

WINCHESTER AT BELMONT

Winchester High meets Belmont High tomorrow afternoon at Belmont in a football game that means much to the Indians, who have been nursing the wounds of their first defeat of the season at Reading last Saturday.

Tomorrow will tell whether the locals are going to rebound and play like football they showed us in the early season, whether they are going to continue to flounder in the doldrums.

Belmont has had a tough season. In its last five games it has won two, lost two and tied one; beating Brookline, 19-6, and Framingham, 6-0; tying Norwood, 6-6, and losing to Taunton, 32-0, and to Cambridge Latin, 20-6.

BACKWARD GLANCE AT 25 YEARS OF PLAYS

Twenty-five years in a community Little Theatre group is a long time — a long time to keep enthusiasm high, and to present good shows with good local talent. With "Blithe Spirit," to be presented November 2, 3 and 4 in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire, the Parish Players open a silver anniversary year.

It all started, the Winchester Little Theatre, back in 1927 when men and women of The First Congregational Church presented a most ambitious Gilbert and Sullivan production, "The Gondoliers," in the Town Hall, to raise money towards the new Parish House. G. Wallace Woodworth directed the music for this production, Mr. Henry Dale the acting. If your memory permits a 25 year span, perhaps you will recall the splendid performances by Helen Barr, Paul R. Bennett, Alden Symmes, Winfield S. Hanson, Gertrude Nason, Lisle Burroughs, Annette Symmes Hughes, Olive Page, Arthur A. Howe, and so many others. Costumes, scenery, decorations, were all made by the huge committee under Mrs. Howard J. Chidley. And it was a bang-up show!

In fact, it was such a splendid show, and it gripped the enthusiasm of so many people, that out of this production grew a permanent dramatic group in Winchester. And when the Parish House was built, with an excellent stage and dramatic facilities, the group went into action. On May 11, 1929, in the new Parish Hall, the Dramatic Society put on, as its first play, "The Lamp and the Bell," by Queen Mother noted poet who died this past week, Edna St. Vincent Millay.

For that first play on the new stage, George McFadden designed special scenery. In the cast were Rossabel Dodge, Harry Rigelson, Bertha Kelley Blanchard, Hubert Barnard, Dorothy Worthen, and Margaret Randall. Looking over old scrapbooks, the reviews given this play were most heartening — most encouraging. Isabelle W. Lawrence coached.

Then came "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and "Dover Road." Remember Wayne E. Davis, Clifford Cunningham, Lillian and Warren Whitman, Donald Bates, Jay Adriance?

"Lady Windemere's Fan" was the next ambitious project of the Society, and among the talented players were Norma Skene, Margaret Wynn, F. Milne Blanchard, Morris J. Butler. This was an Oscar Wilde play at its best, with a lively cast, Harold Downes directing.

"Tons of Money" starred Bertha Kelley, F. Milne Blanchard, Mary Kent Snell, Donald Waugh, Oscar W. Cowers. In February 1932, the Society tackled Sheridan's "The Rivals," coming through with flying colors when its cast included Kenneth Caldwell, Mervin E. Stevens, Dorothy Ostlarg, Elouise T. Graves, Esther Caldwell (who was the delightful Mrs. Malaprop), Samuel Graves, William Higgins, George T. Davidson, Jr., and William H. Andrews.

"Enchanted April" was notable for the performance of Joy Adriance who stepped into the lead in a last-minute emergency, for Mrs. John Wills. Kenneth Caldwell in a dual role, and Ruth Mallory Smith. February of 1933, the Society had presented "Arms and the Man," with Herbert Wadsworth making his first appearance with the Players.

So the years went along. "Perfect Alibi" had such entertaining people as Barbara L. Locke, Carl W. Wood, J. Gordon Hindes, M. Elizabeth Allardice. "The Queen's Husband" brought to the footlights Jerome B. Foster, Pauline E. Mountain, Elouise, and Samuel Graves, May B. Thompson, Hersilia Elmer, Edmund A. Merriam, Jr., George L. Witham. "The Middle Watch," romance of the British Navy, permitted the audiences to sit back and enjoy T. Parker Clarke, Alice L. Bowie, Virginia Emmons, M. Lenore Thrift, the R. H. B. Smiths, F. Milne Blanchard.

And so the calendar moved to November 1934. With "The Middle Watch," the dramatic group became "Parish Players," and was entrenched on another era of theatrical adventure. "Under Cover" had such actors as Bradford Hill, Hiss Gammage, Margery W. Smith, the Caldwells, and, at twelve a week, Louise Graves cried at cradle-snatching part so that the "show could go on." "Outward Bound" is one of the Parish Players' productions still best remembered by old-timers who remembered for its unusual scenery and properties made by committees of which Mr. and Mrs. George Budd and a cast with Oscar Cowers, Henrietta Bretton, Ivar Halanson, Eugene M. Pollard, Hersilia Elmer, Robert Beers, Janet Nichols (Dalrymple), Nathan Thumin, William Spaulding.

Then there was "The Man Who Came to Dinner," adding Edith Chamberlin, W. Roy Harris, Priscilla Morrill, Elizabeth Swazey, Harold E. French, Roland Carter, Mary Worthen and many other spirited actors to the Players' roll call.

Yes, twenty-five years is a long time in the life of a town's little theatre group. Perhaps some of the people we've told you about have moved, married, died, had great adventures since the days of the Dramatic Society; but it is pleasant sometimes to look back and then turn eyes again to the present, and future.

This year the Parish Players plan to celebrate their silver anniversary so that its audiences may participate in the occasion. The winter production in February will turn over remaining Thursday night seats for the benefit of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. The spring production will bring back many "old timers" to the Parish Players, and will climax the Silver Anniversary year.

Of the first board of Parish Players directors (which included Clifford H. Cunningham, Mrs. Harold S. Fuller, Mrs. John Wills, Kenneth D. Hutchinson and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, Mrs. Chidley and Mrs. Wills are on the present board.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO HEAR BARNUM TALK

Dr. Russell T. Carpenter, Professor of Zoology and Curator of the Barnum Collection at Tufts College, will present an illustrated talk on "The Life and Times of P.T. Barnum" Thursday evening, November 9, in the Gallery, Winchester Public Library, before members and guests of the Winchester Historical Society. The meeting will open promptly at 7:45 p. m. Dr. Carpenter is a delightful speaker, with a fascinating and ever-young hobby, so his talk should be of keen interest to both men and women.

As a study at Tufts, Dr. Carpenter worked in the Barnum museum. Later, returning to Tufts to teach, he began to acquire other momentos of Barnum to add to the museum's fund. Gradually the collection grew, and today it is the largest collection of Barnumiana in existence. Assembling this collection further stimulated Dr. Carpenter to find out more of the mighty Barnum himself; one of the City Trustees of Tufts.

Like Barnum, Dr. Carpenter is a Connecticut Yankee. From old documents, members of the Barnum family, and endless research, he has gathered fabulous material for his Barnum talk. His lecture, which opens the 1950-51 season for the Historical season, promises to be a thrilling one for all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Max W. Beam (Miriam Moulton) of 30 Oxford Court, are the parents of a daughter, Pamela Carroll, born October 27 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Moulton, of Winchester and Woodsville, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Beam of Dorchester.

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church will meet jointly with the Social Service Guild of that church on Tuesday, November 7th. Regular activities for the morning will include the usual sewing meeting at 10:00 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Grace Pound and Miss Margaret Sands, in behalf of the Mission Union project, and the Board meeting of the Mission Union Guild at noon.

Luncheon will be served at 1:00 o'clock in the Social Hall by Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mrs. William Lunsford, and their committee. The meeting at 2:00 p. m., in the Ladies' Parlor, will be conducted by Mrs. Frederic B. Withington, director of Mission Union, and the worship service will be led by Mrs. Murray S. Moore. The speaker of the afternoon will be the Reverend Earl Douglas, executive secretary of the Boston City Missionary Society.

Under the leadership and direction of Mr. Douglas, the City Missionary Society does a tremendous work in the Boston area, continuing its tradition of having provided service unlimited to Boston since 1816. The Boston City Missionary Society is the first city missionary society in the world. Through its missionary staff, the Society contributes to solving the problems which confront the churches and welfare agencies in a changing urban life, it administers to the cares of the needy aged, and it has organized a far reaching vacation church school program.

In addition to its Boston service, the City Missionary Society operates the Farrington Memorial property in Lincoln, Mass. Here Mr. Douglas supervises the program which provides for year-round conferences and retreats, and which offers through the Rosemary Inquiry vacations, rest, and treatment for city mothers and their small children. Besides this, Mr. Douglas directs the City Missionary Society Camps Andover and Waldron in Moredyn, N. H. which furnish camping experiences to the older city children.

Mrs. Douglas is one of the ablest young men in our Greater Boston ministry, and he can be counted upon to bring a vital message about missionary needs within our own area. His subject will be "Our City Mess on Churches."

HOWARD FILMS NOVEMBER 8

Mr. Frank Howard of Washington street will show his colorful and adventurous films, taken in the Grand Canyon region, at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Guild, First Congregational Church, Wednesday evening, November 8, at 8 o'clock in the Ladies' Parlor. All women are cordially invited to attend, and a coffee hour will follow the program. Miss Helen Monroe, director, will preside.

Mr. Howard had planned this Grand Canyon trip for a good many years, and a year ago last Spring, he and his son, Paul and a friend made a trip through the Grand Canyon, the Monument Valley, and then embarked on a seven day trip through the Canyon to the San Juan River. On this trip, Mr. Howard took films and slides of taintingly beautiful and ultimate pictures of the majesty, color and vistas of that part of America. The river trip is considered a very dangerous one thrilling, but fraught with great personal danger — and it is an excursion not often taken by travelers.

Because the river trip was not a "tourist jaunt," the pictures Mr. Howard obtained are not "travel pictures." Rather they are films which actually share an adventure with those who see them. The pictures, which Mr. Howard presents with his own commentary, offer a delightful evening's entertainment and the Business and Professional Women's Guild feels proud to have Mr. Howard as their guest speaker on the 8th.

John E. Fuller, a senior at Colgate University, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Fuller, 9 Madison avenue west, has been elected vice-president of the Winchesters' Manager's Council for the coming year.

LO! THE POOR INDIAN! by Gerry

READING, 13; WINCHESTER, 0

Indians' Unbeaten String Ends at Six

Winchester High's unbeaten string of football games ended at Reading last Saturday afternoon when an alert hard hitting Reading High eleven broke the Indians' skein at six games with a 13 - 0 victory.

Winchester made a ballgame of it over the first half which ended in a scoreless stalemate with whatever edge there was belonging to the locals. The Indians made five first downs and 65 yards rushing over the first two periods, completing one of five passes for an additional 12 yards.

Reading made two first downs, both at the end of the second quarter, and rushed for 10 yards, throwing three passes and completing none.

The second half however was a horse of a different color with Reading in the driver's seat all the way.

Final statistics were eight first downs each with Reading rushing for 150 yards to Winchester's 81. The Indians completed four of 16 passes for 60 yards while Reading made two of five passes good for 11 yards. Reading lost 30 yards in penalties to 20 for Winchester, though many more than two penalties were called against the locals, with Reading taking the downs instead of the yardage. Winchester recovered two of its four fumbles with Reading recovering both its bobbles, one for a gain of seven yards.

That little item gives some idea of the way things went all afternoon. Winchester just couldn't do anything right the second half, while everything was going well for the Rockets, even fumbles.

Reading deserved its victory. Its boys were lean, and hungry, and eager, aggressive and hard hitting, blocking crisply and tackling hard. Winchester faded badly the second half for no apparent reason. There was nothing about the first half to indicate Reading was the better team, but the Indians left the field at the half with feathers trailing and they never did come back, while Reading returned to the fray like a bunch of wildcats, raring and clawing and just bound they were going to win.

Of course the ugly die shed no tears in Illinois with the local line soon being badly outplayed over the second half. The hard hitting aggressive Reading boys were constantly in the Winchester backfield when the locals had the ball and trapping the mischief out of the center of the Indians' line when the Scarlet was in possession.

The big crowd from Winchester saw their favorites completely outplayed the second half, though in fairness to the Indians it can be said that a little better luck on a couple of pass plays would have made a lot of difference.

Both were deep field passes and on both occasions big Joe Donlon had gotten behind the Reading secondaries. Both times Michelsen slipped as he got set to pass and the ball didn't have the necessary distance to reach Donlon, who was in excellent scoring position both times. The same thing happened to "Tommy" Thomson late in the game as he attempted to throw a long one. A couple of long completions would have made Reading abandon the five four defense they used most of the afternoon, which was really a nine man line, a rough alignment to run against.

A fifteen yard penalty for illegal use of the hands stopped the only dangerous drive Winchester put together in the first half, a drive that carried from the Winchester 15 to the Reading 25. It was second and five at the time and the Indians were really rolling, but a couple of passes fell incomplete and the locals had to kick the ball away.

Reading made its scoring drive at the end of the second quarter but Winchester stopped the Scarlet at the 15 and Gadbois kicked a low twisting kick that Griffin fumbled and Reading recovered at the Indians' 20, luckily as time ran out.

Gibson took Ettrick's second half kickoff at the goal line and drove out to the 26 where he was hit with a smashing tackle by Joe Donlon. The Reading boy shook off the bruising crash and immediately reeled off a first down at the 38. That was the second time Reading players shook off jarring bumps, Johnson banging two with a terrific smash on a bull-like rush of 18 yards in the first half.

McNabola picked up four at center and then Lyons hit Surdam with a pass, the tall end reaching the Winchester 31. A pass fell incomplete, but McNabola added four and Gibson streaked outside to the Winchester 21.

McNabola picked up nine yards in three tries and then took a pitchout from Lyons to scamper outside the anchored Winchester right end for a first down at the one.

Two ones Winchester held a plunge up the middle, but on second down with a buck as a fake, Gibson bicycled over for the touchdown and Gadbois kicked the goal.

Reading's second touchdown came in the early minutes of the final quarter. Just before the teams changed goals Reading intercepted a Winchester pass at the locals' 20, and three wins no stopping the Scarlet.

Gibson and Goglia made it first down at the 18. Two running plays carried to within a foot of the goal line and then Lyons, after a fake handoff pitched out again to McNabola and the little halfback once more scampered outside Winchester's stationary right flank for score standing up. Gadbois muffed the pass from center on the attempted conversion kick and tried to run for the point, being knocked outside inside the five.

On the ensuing play Winchester had a brief chance to cheer when O'Brien ran the kickoff back from the 10 to the Winchester 46 and just missed going all the way by a single block. Donlon failed to hit Cirurso with a long pass, but a second heave across the field from Michelsen to Donlon carried to the Reading 25.

Again Michelsen dropped back to pass but as he cocked his arm to throw a Reading defender came through very fast, knocked the ball from his hand and recovered at the Reading 41.

Winchester's last chance went glimmering with this play, the only thing left for the Indians' supporters to cheer over being a swell kick by Griffin, the ball carrying 55 yards in the air and sailing over the Reading safety man's head, being good from the line of scrimmage for 17 yards, from the Winchester 17 to the Reading 36.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FAIR

The Women's Association of the First Congregational Church are making gala plans for their two-day fair on N ovember 15th and 16th under the capable hand and able direction of Mrs. Earl C. Zenkerman and Mrs. Everett P. Stone, with Mrs. Daniel Mace acting as treasurer.

The theme of the decoration will be Winchester Centennia, celebration and Mrs. Clifford Hamlet and Raymond Buchanan are superintending to create the proper atmosphere.

The food table under the supervision of Mrs. Harvey Macaulay promises tempting harvests with more mouth-watering delicacies than ever before. The candy table chairman, Miss Alfreda Kearney and Miss Cassie Sands will have sweets to suit every taste.

Mrs. Frank Knight and Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge have spent months collecting unusual and choice articles for the gift table. The Children's table presided over by Mrs. Willis Barrows and Mrs. Clifford Hamlet will have articles for youngsters up to twelve years. A special feature at this table will be well chosen inexpensive Christmas stocking gifts. The household table will have gifts for the practical minded, carefully selected by Miss Grace Pound and Miss Margaret Sands.

Mrs. Harry Wood will be ready to take orders for records and books on the book table. Mrs. Wood will also take subscriptions for magazines and will have a well filled used book section. Mrs. Gilbert Hood and Mrs. Richard Johnson on the paper table will have fascinating and unusual wrappings.

Mrs. Harry Easton and Mrs. Harold Smith will be in charge of the parcel post table, something extremely new and different, a surprise in every package. Mrs. Philip Johnson will display and take orders for Christmas greens for coming holiday decorations.

The opportunity shop under the direction of Mrs. James B. Harlow and Mrs. Alan A. Swetzer, promises splendid bargains in slightly used clothing, and the white elephant table with Mrs. George Gomo and Mrs. John Hammett in charge will have many treasures.

An unusually fine children's entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Warden Hersey and Mrs. W. Carmichell Ross. The small fry will find a special table where they can purchase low priced gifts. A tempting children's luncheon will be served by Mrs. Edgar Hunton and Mrs. Robert Scott at 12:00, November 15 only.

Shopping appetites will be pleasantly satisfied by Mrs. Walter Winship and Mrs. Ralph Mega at the snack bar and Mrs. Arthur Cameron and Mrs. Carl Morse will preside at the afternoon tea table. Mrs. Richard Davenport will offer delicious coffee at the coffee bar between lunch and tea, and Mrs. Theodore Atkinson will supervise the plant table.

Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes and Mrs. Wellington L. Caldwell are planning an unusually fine supper to be served Wednesday, November 15th.

Through the endeavor of Mrs. Frank Hawkins, the bazaar is able to present exquisite hand-made glass, fashioned by a delicate process which has been handed down through one family, originating in France. These lovely pieces are just the gift for the most discriminating person on your Christmas list.

The forum group, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Butler, are preparing attractive posters as their contribution to the project.

Endless committees are striving to make the fair a pleasant social occasion as well as a financial success.

Ken Pratt, custodian of the Mystic School, is nothing if not versatile. Long known as a square dancer who can really "stomp that floor", he added corn bussing to his repertory last Friday night when he capped second prize for men at the Corn Husking Bee and Square Dance held under the auspices of the Young Farmers and Homemakers of Middlesex County at the Concord Armory. (Anyone who can't husk corn has no business at a Husking Bee, so he claims, because as good husker as he is, he can't husk corn as good as he can square dance.)

FOR A "NO" VOTE ON 5

Representing a cross-section of business and social activity in Winchester, 22 individual citizens have allied themselves with the Committee for Community Automobile Rates in opposition to the flat rate scheme for compulsory automobile insurance, it was announced today.

As well-known citizens of the community, they are expected to sponsor most Winchester activities seeking to educate the voters to the fact that a flat rate for compulsory insurance would cost Winchester more money every year for the [illegible] $5,000-$10,000 bodily injury liability insurance that every car owner is required by law to carry.

The voters and car owners of Winchester should be warned, however, that there are a large number of voters in the Greater Boston area and towns that would benefit from a flat rate.

Members of the local group, which will spearhead the fight here to defeat Question No. 5, the flat rate scheme on the ballot at the state election, November 7, are: Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, Mr. Leslie L. Soper, Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell, Mr. Hiram F. Moody, Mr. Wade L. Grindle, Mr. Thomas E. Duddy, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hesse, Leo F. Garvey, Esquire, Mr. Franklin A. Flanders, Philip P. Wadsworth, Esq., Mr. Herman F. Pike, Charles E. Jellison, Esq., Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., Harry E. Chiafelo, Richard L. Cunningham, Mrs. William C. Casack, Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, Harris S. Richardson, Luther W. Puffer, W. Allan Wilde and John B. Mercurio.

Vote NO On Question 5

Let us urge you to VOTE NO on Question No. 5, Election Day. If you don't, you're going to have to pay more for your compulsory automobile insurance!

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

1. Car-owners in our community have earned low rate for their compulsory automobile insurance — because, on the average, people living around here drive carefully and are responsible for fewer automobile accidents.

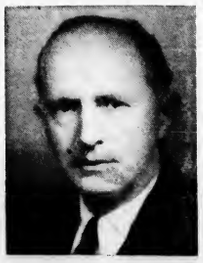

2. Car-owners in some communities — like Boston, Chelsea, and Revere — cause more automobile accidents than we do. As a result, the Insurance Commissioner fixes higher rates for them.

3. Accidents are charged against the community in which the drivers LIVE who cause them. They are NOT charged against the community in which they happen. This system is fair.

Unless you VOTE NO on Question No. 5, you're going to be paying more for your compulsory automobile insurance— to cover the cost of accidents caused by drivers from other communities!

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

The first Know-Your-Hospital evening at Winchester Hospital was attended by fifty-eight men and women interested in hearing and in questioning the heads of the Housekeeping, Stores, and Laundry Departments. Included in the audience were several members of the executive and supervisory staff of the Hospital. Introduced by Mrs. Fulton Brown, President of the Friends of Winchester Hospital, and under the Chairmanship of Mrs. George A. Marks, the ten-minute talks by Mrs. Walter Doyle, Miss Katherine Lynch, and Mr. Walter Notemyer were followed by a panel discussion of the part played by the three departments in the overall functioning of the Hospital. In the panel period, there was a consideration of possible volunteer service in the routine work of the departments or in emergency situations. The program proved a promising introduction to the series, which will be continued on one evening each in November, January, February, March, and April. On the evening of Tuesday, November 21st, the Chief Engineer, Mr. Edward F. Hart, and Mr. Ernest Fitzsimmons of the Maintenance staff will speak on the power plant, explaining how steam, electricity, and water serve the Hospital, and on the daily and seasonal care of the buildings and grounds.

In their introductions last Thursday, Mrs. Fulton Brown and Mrs. Marks laid special stress on the importance of giving the friends of the Hospital a background of accurate information as a basis for their continued support. Only on such a foundation of fact, they said, can the community build the future financial support and volunteer service which are vital to the Hospital's full usefulness.

Three doctors from the staff have been called to the armed services. Drs. Gustav G. Kaufmann and Nelson C. Fontneau are in the Navy, and Dr. Albert E. Morris has returned to the Army. It is hoped that Drs. Kaufmann and Fontneau will be released within a few months to return to their practice in Winchester. From the Nursing Staff, Miss Jean Mosher and Miss Helen McGowan have been re-called to the Navy Nurse corps. From the non-professional employees, two janitors have been called into service. Replacements have been found for the nurses and the janitors.

DANCING CLASS BEGINS 5TH AND 6TH GRADES

Mr. Curry, of the Curry School of Dancing held his first of a series of dancing classes for the 5th and 6th grades, on Monday afternoon, after school. There was practically an 100% attendance, and the children seemed to enjoy the session.

ART ASSOCIATION

Taos, New Mexico, with its pueblos and rich colors is the recent background of Jack Berkman who started his art career as a conservative artist but is now painting in the modern forms. He will open the November 7 meeting speaking before the Winchester Art Association. R. H. Ives Gammell the conservative artist and muralist spoke before the Winchester art group two years ago on the trend toward modern forms in art. Mr. Gammell's book, "The Twilight of Painting", finds him rather disturbed by this recent trend in art. Mr. Berkman will speak on his own development as a painter from conservative to modern forms of expression. He will open the exhibition with a lecture explaining the reasons why the contemporary artist turns to modern forms. This lecture and exhibition is a transitional sequence and important.

Mr. Gammell writes of shapes, values and color in the picture. How will Mr. Berkman handle this triad?

"We believe," states Mr. Berkman, "that there is a great need for this type of educational exhibition, which together with an explanation by the artist of his transition should do much towards clearing the confusion regarding modern art." The man from Taos will speak also on the possibilities of greater community expression in the arts with the active participation of the professional artist.

Well known in the southwest and in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia Jack Berkman has an interesting background in art education and exhibitions as the record shows:

Art education: Corcoran School of Art, George Washington University, University of New Mexico.

Scholarships: Tiffany Foundation, 1937 and 1938

One Man Shows: Georgetown Gallery, Washington, D. C., 1938; Little Gallery, Washington, D. C., 1940; Whyte Gallery, Washington, D. C., 1943, 1948; Galeria Escondida, Taos, New Mexico, 1948; New Mexico Art Museum, 1948 and 1949.

Also exhibitions in such national shows as the Corcoran Biennial, Richmond Biennial, and he is represented in many private collections such as the Rammond Collection, Fox Collection, Aden Collection and others.

Mr. Berkman now lives in Winchester where he is making his home with his family.

Much credit is due to Miss Pauline Goodrich, chairman of the Exhibition Committee of the Winchester Art Association for working out the separation from the comedy piece artist and artist of the next level and in so doing it appears to be the artist's location group for the coming exhibition. Not only did she do much toward clearing the confusion but she also added to her work to Mrs. Laura Tennant of the Exhibition Committee and Miss Suzanne Gleason of the Spectators' Committee. Mrs. Reginald H. Frazier, chairman of the Membership Committee, announces that Mr. Grace B. Asselin will be in charge at Le Petit Gourmet after the lecture and invite the members of the art association view the pictures and discuss them, gaining knowledge to the educational background of Winchester artists.

FIELD HOCKEY MASCOT

The Winchester High School girls' field hockey team has a new mascot this year in Bette Nelson's stuffed cotton dog. Also is equipped with a Winchester blanket in the school colors and attends all the games.

Apparently the mascot is working out well for the girls have been having a good season.

THE JERE A. DOWNS ROOM AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Editor of the Star:

The citizens of Winchester are again reminded of their indebtedness to Jere Downs by the new lounge recently opened in his memory at our Public Library. It was his generosity which made it possible.

As one enters the room, he is struck by the restfulness of the low-level lines of the comfortable divans, lamps, tables, and other luxurious furnishings. Low bookcases also line the walls. There is not even a picture to break the sweep of space above them. The light from without is softened by beautiful hangings, which also adds a restful note.

It would please Jere, I'm sure, for he loved beautiful things, from landscapes, flowers, and works of art, to his artistically furnished great hall, in which he revelled On fishing trips to Maine, he was more interested in the beauty of nature than in fishing, and would wander off alone from the rest of us to be with nature. The appreciation of beauty was instinct to with him.

His room at the Library will invite to those who love beautiful music and will to browse among the books on art, which fill two bookcases.

The room will be reserved for adults who wish to have the quiet repose which it affords. There is great need for such a room in Winchester. We have no hotels, with their comfortable lounges, and it was an inspiration on the part of the Library trustees to have memorialized dere Downs in this way. We owe them a debt of gratitude.

AN EXCELLENT SOLUTION

Editor of the Star:

The September twenty-ninth issue of your paper devoted a full page to the illustrated comments and suggestions of Mr. Jerome B. Fosters, home town architect, relating to our perennial railroad crossing problem and the equally important problem of providing adequate secondary school facilities.

Mr. Foster's road reconstruction plan seems to be an excellent solution of existing traffic problems and at the same time should be entirely adequate to handle the increased traffic that may reasonably be expected in the future.

The suggestion that the existing Senior High School and Junior High School be integrated to produce one enlarged, improved, and modernized building is, in my opinion, a courageous and sound solution of our problem, that should be relatively economical if adopted and carried to completion.

Please understand that the opinions expressed herein are my personal opinions as a citizen of Winchester with no claim to specialized knowledge as an authority on either traffic or school facilities.

What amazes me, and has aroused my curiosity, is that such a comprehensive plan representing, as it must, a tremendous amount of study and effort on the part of several town local architect was not considered worthy of editorial support and comment. Also that, so far as I know, no citizens have written to express their views.

I'd so much interested in an expression of

HE TOOK SEWING

Editor of the Star:

It was very interesting to read Lowell Smith's article "When The Boys Learned Sewing."

I well remember it but as to the grade it was started, not certain. As I recall it was either the first or second grade which would be in the years 1900 or 1901.

Well do I remember the six inch squares upon which we had to show our skill in the various stitches. It took me the whole year to produce six different stiches, and that pure white piece of cloth had turned a dirty gray.

I believe Lowell is right, our teacher was Mrs. Holcomb. As I remember this class lasted one year only. Someone decided, and very wisely, it was not for us Kids.

I have always felt that I received some benefit from those boring hours, for when in the Service I stood many a good "Inspection" because I was able to sew a button on rightside up.

TOO LATE

Editor of the Star:

The coordination of Winchester's Grade Crossing problem with other needs such as the provision of a new school site and a unified and safer play-ground area, has not caused much interest among the taxpayers of this town.

The Coordinated Plan, as shown by scale model in McCormack's Apothecary window, would probably save a million dollars, but not an eyelash flickers. Not even a howl of protest refutes the claim.

On another corner at the Center we see a beautiful drawing, setting forth much the same idea of a unified play-ground and school enlargement; made possible by closing part of south Main street and diverting through-traffic away from our Shopping Center. These ideas are not new, as the writer started some five years ago to publicize these points along with others such as the great beauty and natural possibilities of Skilling's Hill property just north of the old Town Hall.

But the Town Fathers have never shown the slightest interest. The Planning Board has never bothered to ask the author of the Coordinated Plan to present his case. The Selectmen refused to exhibit the Model because it does not agree with their personal point of view.

Very few citizens seem to visualize what raising the tracks will mean in ugliness and discomfort. Every train passenger will curse the icy ramps and wind-swept platforms. But that will be Too Late.

WHERE WILL IT END?

Editor of the Star:

With many other citizens of our town and doubtless countless other towns I have been greatly disturbed over the increasing disinclination on the part of voters to go out on Election Day and exercise this very precious Right of Franchise!

With the entire Globe in the state which it is in and with many millions robbed of this right to vote as they wish, it would seem that every thinking man and woman would make certain that this right in his or her case will be exercised, come "Hell or High Water!"

Recently I read some figures produced by the city clerk of one of our large mid-western cities. It showed that in the last 50 years our participation in the exercise of this right to vote has shrunk from a high of 83 out of 100 eligible voters to 51 out of 100 in 1948, a Presidential year!

What, may I ask, are we thinking of, and just where will it end?

CAN HE SEW NOW?

Editor of the Star:

In a recent issue of the "Star" there appeared a letter from a person, saying that he had taken sewing lessons while attending the primary grades of the Winchester Public School, this being in the Curriculum for the boys.

In a reply to this inquiry, am happy to state that I took sewing lessons when I was a pupil in the sixth grade of the Rumford School on Salem street. The sewing teacher was Mrs. Stone, whom I feel sure a great many readers of this column will remember.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Remember the Christmas Gift Shops for the Veterans' Hospitals. If you have not already donated your gifts for the Veterans, bring them to the next meeting on Monday evening, November 6, they must be in the Gift Shops this month.

Due to conflicting dates, the Weenie Roast scheduled for November 4, has been postponed until further notice.

Barbara Murphy and her committee are making elaborate plans to have the Turkey Bridge and Whist Party one of the most successful events of the year. Bring your friends to the American Legion Home on Monday November 20, and have an enjoyable evening and an opportunity to win your Thanksgiving Turkey and many other excellent prizes.

There is still time to send or bring in articles for the Rummage Sale on November 14, from 10 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. If you are unable to deliver them call Dot McCormack and they will be called for anything that is usable we will appreciate very much. Old Veterans Rehabilitation needs funds more than ever right now, and if you cannot go to the Hospitals to work actively, you have a great opportunity to give assistance in this important work by supporting Legion functions at Lobdell Post Hospital Program.

FIRE AT INTERNATIONAL COOPERAGE

The alarm, from Box 55 at 9:27 Monday forenoon was for a fire at the International Cooperage plant on Swanton street. The firemen found upon arrival an area of shingles afire extending about eight feet from the ground on the side of the plant facing the Winchester Door and Window factory. The fire was quickly extinguished and did relatively little damage. Careless disposal of cigarettes is believed responsible for the fire.

THE VALUE OF ONE VOTE

Through the courtesy of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester the Star is able to print the following extremely pertinent article.

"We salute the men and women of that firm who have pledged that all eligible parties have registered to vote. Whether a person is Republican, Democrat, or Independent, he enjoys the sacred right to cast his ballot, and should never believe that by forfeiting his right it makes no difference; because when he shirks his duty, he gives up the greatest privilege of a Democracy even though he may say that one vote will do no good. Let us not forget that Thomas Jefferson was elected President by one vote in the electoral college; so was John Quincy Adams. Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by one vote; his election was contested and was referred to an electoral college. Again he won by a single vote. The man who cast that deciding vote for President Hayes was a Congressman from Indiana, a lawyer who was elected to Congress by a margin of just one vote, and that one vote was cast by a client of his who, though desperately ill, insisted on being taken to the polls to vote. Let us not forget that it was just one vote which gave statehood to California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington, and today all the millions living in those five states are Americans by just one vote. The Draft Act of World War II passed the House by just one vote."

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL IMPORTANT

Clarence P. Kidder, Belmont Republican whose advertisement as a candidate for Governor's Council appears in another column of the Star, states that this office is one the importance of which is likely to be overlooked.

The Governor's Council endorses or rejects action by the State's chief executive on many matters. As a consequence unless the Governor has sufficient strength in his Council to assure the consent of that body he will be unable to put over many projects of vital interest.

Mr. Kidder suggests that everyone vote carefully for Governor's Councillor, and if voting for a Republican gubernatorial candidate, make sure also to vote for Councillors who will aid his program.

PROF. SOROKIN FINDS THE ANSWER TO THE ATOM BOMB

The answer to the Atom Bomb is in the "Sermon on the Mount," according to Prof. Pitirim A. Sorokin, Harvard sociologist and resident of Cliff street, who believes that in the happy home is generated the force which can overcome the world hates which have led nations to past wars and are presently tending to produce a new world struggle for supremacy. Love, the love of friend for friend and neighbor for neighbor, is the only thing which can overcome the fears and suspicions which beget the hatred which lead eventually to world conflict.

Prof. Sorokin tells of his belief and what he and others are doing to promote greater love between men in the world in an article in the November "American Magazine."

At Harvard Prof. Sorokin is directing a project with a modest grant of $20,000 a year which he hopes will be the forerunner of an ever-growing conquest of hate that will save mankind from the destructive wars. He has become increasingly aware through the years that while men spend untold sums to guard against destruction by wars they have as yet taken no concrete steps to promote the love that will prevent such catastrophes.

It is good deeds, done to family, friends and neighbors which make for the happiness that gradually permeates a nation and makes that nation beloved by other nations. And there is always a return to the individual for the good deed he does.

Prof. Sorokin should know, for good deeds done by him while he was teaching in Russia before the Revolution there resulted in saving his life when he was twice condemned to death by the Communists. Communists who appreciated his kindness, in one instance to a son, in another to themselves, got him out of prison and away from the firing squad, after he found that the communists were as bad as, or worse than, the Czars he helped to overthrow.

The money which is making possible Prof. Sorokin's work for international good will at Harvard came to him from a man whom he did not know who became a follower of the Harvard savant through reading his books.

In his project he and his co-workers have studied more than 4,000 persons in the United States who were recommended in various ways as "good neighbors," studied them to see what made them do their good deeds.

In most instances the "good neighbors" were above the age of youth, came from happy homes and had been brought up to do good to others as a regular thing. They were neither wealthy, nor better educated than the average. Few very important people were among them.

Interesting facts brought to light thus far in Prof. Sorokin's project are that most criminals are young, and that the really fine people through the ages have generally lived longer than those whose lives have been stunted by hatred or envy. A friendly approach generally begets a friendly answer while an aggressive dominating approach generally results in opposition.

Harvard and Radcliffe students, 547 of them, have been studied and it has been found that the happy, well oriented students come from happy homes where the golden rule and not "get all you can" is the accepted precept.

Projects similar to that under Prof. Sorokin at Harvard have been started at Columbia, Princeton and Cornell Universities in this country and at the University of Olso in Norway and the University of Leiden in Holland.

CORRECTION

The newly issued Winchester Guide and Directory lists Mrs. Barbara Metcalf as living at 10 Wildwood street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Metcalf.

Mrs. Barbara Metcalf is, of course, the executive director of the Winchester Girl Scouts. As such she receives numerous phone calls and other communications, many of which are now going to the Robert Metcalfs' home. Much as they like to help the Scouts the Metcalfs also think it a kindness to advise the friends and business associates of Mrs. Barbara Metcalf that she is not living at their address!

TROOP 12 HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A rousing, jolly and fun-provoking Hallowe'en Party was held by Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church on Saturday evening at St. Mary's School. The following Scouts attended and had a wonderful time: Scoutmaster Robert Fiore; Junior Asst. Scoutmaster Thomas Gallagher; Robert Thorne, Laurence Erhard; Thomas Morrissey; Dennis Doucette; David Flaherty; Bob Winn; Joe Russo; Dick Diminico; Jack DiBona; Henry Quill; Owen Reardon; Ernest Reardon; David DeCourey;; Jim Gibbons; Dave Fortiere; Bill McCormack; George Wheaton; Fran Bees; Tim Sullivan; Jack Fentros and Charles Allen and Peter Cullen. Thomas Grace who was present also is shortly moving to California and the Troop wish him luck out there.

Present for the Committee were: Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, who sponsors the Troop; Rev. Francis O'Neil, Troop Chaplain and C. Y. O. Director; Chairman of the Committee Albert T. McDougal; and Committeemen Albert Thorne, James Whelton, Albert Thorne, Jr., and Vin Erhard.

The ice cream was donated by Committeeman Sam Vangel who was unable to be present, due to the illness of his wife, and the boys showed their appreciation to this fine man by giving three loud cheers for him though absent.

The cider was a gift from the Pastor, Fr. O'Riordan, and there were hot dogs galore, rolls, brownies, doughnuts, cakes, candies, apples, and ice cream to round out a fine evening. The scouts brought many of the goodies themselves, teaming up individually beforehand so that there wouldn't be a duplication of too many of the items.

The hot dogs were cooked on the premises by Jr. Asst. S. M. Gallagher with Committeemen Al Thorne, Jr. and Jim Whelton aiding him. Chairman McDougal and Al Thorne, Sr. prepared the splendid looking table with its gay decorations.

Scoutmaster Fiore directed the party and quickly got the boys singing Camp Fellsland songs. Tommy Morrissey led the scouts in the famous "Allouette" with its many choruses while Tommy again, Dennis Doucette, Laurie Erhard, Peter Cullen, John DiBona, Jim Gibbons, and Bob Thorne teamed to oblige Fr. O'Riordan, who keenly enjoyed the affair, with some lusty singing.

Henry Quill and Tommy Grace did "Clancy Lowers the Boom" at Fr. O'Riordan's request and Denny Doucette did the popular "Maggie." Little Alan McDougal favored the gathering with a brief piano solo, he having accompanied his dad to the meeting.

For Comedy there were Bob Thorne garbed as "Sad Sack" John DiBona as a "Thing." Dave Fortiere as a "Swords-man" and John Fentross as a "Li'l Gal."

Scoutmaster Fiore announced that the prizes for the various contests would be awarded at the next meeting, which will be on Friday, November 3rd at 7:30 p. m.

Then Scoutmaster Bob narrated a very interesting story concerning a wounded G I who was given first aid by an enemy Jap soldier who had searched inside the wounded man's belongings and found a worn and faded scout membership card. The Jap left a note for the unconscious soldier to read when he awakened which told how the Jap himself had been a member of the boy scouts and could not bring it upon himself to kill a brother scout though they were fighting on opposite sides.

John DiBona and Bob did a duet together with an Italian flavored song which brought down the house. Scout DiBona's solo of "I Ate With Laurd" was also a howl. Scout Laurie Erhard then played the new song, "Lady of Fatima," on the piano with Bob Fiore, Jim Whelton, Denny Doucette and Vin Erhard as a quartette.

In the apple bobbing or ducking contests the following emerged the winners in their respective heats:

Tommy Grace, Henry Quill, Laurie Erhard, John DiBona (2), Owen Reardon, George Wheaton, Bill McCormack and Dick DiMinico. In the "pin the donkey" contest which was a riot of fun, the following emerged in a three way tie: George Wheaton, Dave DeCourcy and Fran Bees. John DiBona got the "booby prize, he having wandered far from the donkey to wind up in a corner. Even Fr. O'Neil got in the fun and tried his skill at the game to the merriment of the scouts.

Fr. O'R. [illegible] was not able to stay the entire evening due to Pastor [illegible] shortly before 10 o'clock [illegible] far much [illegible] up the [illegible] that they [illegible] Scouts [illegible] charged [illegible] troop that [illegible] to Winchester and urged them to [illegible] from to [illegible] them all to be [illegible] the best in the entire Diocese.

Chairman McDougal announced that scouts Fortiele, Thorne and Gibbons had attended the swimming program at the Charlestown Boys' Club last week for their first time and enjoyed it. He also announced that Fr. O'Neil, Scoutmaster Fiore and Committeeman Vangel with himself had attended the Scout Conclave at the Copley Plaza last week which they enjoyed immensely.

The fraudulent nature of the belief that man is purely material and the fact of his spiritual nature will be discussed in next Sunday's services in all Christian Science churches. The topic of the Lesson-Sermon is "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (13:14): O death, I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. (King James Version) Include I Corinthians 15:22.

The [illegible] as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"As in Adam persons all die, even so in Christ Truth shall all be made." The mortality of man is a myth, for man is immortal. This false belief that spirit is now submerged in matter, at some future time to be emancipated from it, this belief cannot be mortal (p. 535).

SECOND WINCHESTER MORNING HELD

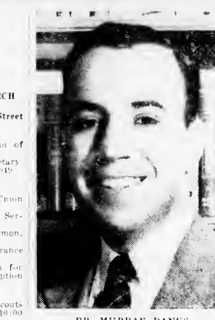

The Winchester Wellesley Club was favored with another beautiful fall day for the second of its Winchester Mornings on Friday, October 27th. Rudolph F. Elie, Jr., columnist and music critic on the Boston Herald, gave an entertaining talk. Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard and Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor were pourers at the coffee period preceding the lecture, and Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood was in charge of decorating the Music Hall with colorful fall flowers. Mrs. Kirkwood introduced the speaker after a greeting by Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, President of the Winchester Wellesley Club.

The third and final Winchester Morning will take place on Friday, November 17th, when Saville R. Davis, American News Editor on the Christian Science Monitor, will speak on our status in war and peace.

DR. MURRAY BANKS

UNIQUE PROGRAM PLANNED

A morning coffee was held at the home of Mrs. George W. Cary on Thursday, at which enthusiastic plans were laid for the program by Dr. Murray Banks to be presented by Winchester Women's Republican Club on the evening of Friday, December 1st.

Dr. Banks is a psychologist who speaks on the problems of life, love and marriage in a unique way. Because he blends psychology and humor so expertly, Dr. Banks' reputation as a humorist is equal to his reputation as a clinical psychologist.

Dr. Banks will soon be conducting a regular three times weekly radio show, sponsored by Funk and Wagnall's New Encyclopedia. It will be called the "How To Live With Yourself" program, and will present ways to better living in the style that has made his presentations so unusual.

Mrs. Maxwell R. McCreery and Mrs. George W. Cary are in charge of the lecture to be presented in Winchester in December.

Among those present Thursday morning were Mrs. Charles W. Blanchard, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Donald C. Davis, Mrs. Colver P. Dyer, Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mrs. James M. Hoslin, Mrs. William F. Morton, Mrs. Paul K. Nason, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, Mrs. Harrison B. Simpson, Mrs. Charles M. Vanner, Mrs. R. Gilman Wallace, Mrs. Barnes Young, Mrs. Robert B. Singer, Mrs. Alfred W. Drew, Mrs. Vera L. Makenzie, and Mrs. J. Girard Chandler. Coffee was poured by Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

What a wonderful turnout we had for our first regular meeting of the season on Tuesday, October 31st! Following the business meeting and reading by Mrs. Virgil Ghiradini of an "Anniversary Prayer", written especially for our Winchester Chapter by Agnes Carr, the president turned the meeting over to the chairman of the day, Mrs. John M. Ryan. Mrs. Ryan then introduced our guest speaker, Reverend Edward H. Flaherty, who gave a most interesting talk on his tour of Europe, including Fatima and Rome, and concluded by showing the beautiful films taken on his travels.

Tea was served by Mrs. William Buckley, Hospitality Chairman, and hostesses for the day were Mrs. John E. Barr, Mrs. Joseph Barzatti, Mrs. John W. Holmes, Mrs. Joseph Hughes, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Albert T. McDougall, Mrs. James C. Marchant and Mrs. Dominic Runci.

Highlights of our Twentieth Anniversary Party held at The Meadows in Framingham on October 25th — first, the attendance — with close to two hundred members and friends present this was one of the most pleasant and successful parties we have had in a long time. The many congratulations and good wishes bestowed upon us by our honored guests, Reverend Thomas R. Kennedy, Spiritual Director of the Guild of the Infant Saviour, Reverend Frederick Buckley, Assistant to Father Kennedy, Reverend John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church and Mrs. William C. Hamilton, vice-president of the Boston Guild. The well written and inspiring twenty year history of our Winchester chapter by Mrs. Theodore Dessell. Telling of our growth from 41 members to our present 241, of our work through the war years in entertaining service men in our homes and selling the magnificent sum of $291,121.95 in War Bonds and Stamps, of our many educational and social activities through the years and our ever-increasing contributions to the Catholic Charitable Bureau; this is indeed a history of which to be proud and one to which we hope to add more glory in this, our twentieth year. Father Buckley's delightful impersonation of Monsignor Sheen. The amusing story by Mrs. Feeney, one of our oldest members, of her "first day at the Guild." The lovely poem composed and read by our poetess, Mrs. James B. Gaffney and, of course, the delicious luncheon and beautiful birthday cake lighted with twenty candles.

Much credit is due Mrs. Virgil Ghiradini and her committee and Mrs. John J. Gorman and her committee for the success of this party and we feel sure that everyone came away proud and honored to be a member of the organization referred to by Father Kennedy as the "right arm" of the Catholic Charitable Bureau and determined to get that one new member he asked for.

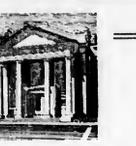

Our all important Annual Bazaar will be held on Tuesday, November 14, starting at 10:00 a. m. More news about this next week but, for the present, reserve that day, Tuesday the 14th. Plan to come along and have lunch with us and get a head start on your Christmas shopping. See you at the Bazaar.

REV. D. B. TARR

REV. TARR TO ADDRESS FORUM

The Senior Forum, High School youth group of the First Congregational Church, will convene in Ripley Chapel at 9:30 Sunday morning when they will have as their speaker their own Director of Religious Education, Rev. Donald Tarr. He will have as his subject, "Christian Stewardship". This will be especially fitting for the Sunday on which the young people are dedicating their earnings from the Work Days for Christ which they are observing on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Don Cameron, Chairman of the Worship Committee, will be the chaplain. He also planned the service assisted by Marcia Cunningham. Edward Tarr will read the Scriptures. Ushers will be John Beggs and Thomas Ordway, and the offering will be taken by Robert Gaffney and Alan Thomas. The Forum choir will sing a special number under the direction of Dorothy Brandt, and the offertory will be a flute duet by Jennifer Meigs and Marcia Cunningham.

Mrs. Joseph J. Derro of 433 Washington street has joined the clerical staff at the Winchester Cooperative Bank. She was employed at the bank before her marriage and old customers will be pleased to see her back.

FORUM PLAY AND SQUARE DANCE

The Dramatic Club of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church is presenting the play, "The Tryst ing Place" by Booth Tarkington on November 11 at 8:00. The club under the coaching of Dr. Eugene Pollard and the chairmanship of Janet Archibald and Paul Leverette is sure to present an excellent performance.

After the play a square dance will be held. Dan Briggs, a professional caller, will be there to give the calls. Mr. Briggs is especially used to working with young people of High School age and will add the country style to the fun.

The Decorations Committee consists of Nancy Doten, Barbara Hamnett, Judith Lamprey, Jennifer Meigs, Jacqueline Sturtevant, Catherine Goss, George DeCamp, Thomas Wilder, Daniel Blanchard, Donald Cameron, Susan Melanson, and Beadie Goodwin. The Games Committee, - Barbara Hammett and Nancy Barnard - has rounded up a good many table games such as checkers, cards, chess, pingpong, and the like for the enjoyment of those who may run out of breath after the Virginia Reel has been run through a few times. These two committees are subcommittees of the Social Committee headed by Tina Tonon and Norman Makechnie who planned the dance.

The Square Dance Club is having a meeting on Wednesday, November 8, to learn the dances and calls so that they may help out on the 11th. Christine McKay and Alan Thomas, co-chairmen of this club, will lead the practise.

Of course we can't leave the Social Hall in the mess it naturally will be after this get-together, so the Clean-up Committee of Winthrop Smith, Thomas Wilder, George DeCamp, and Donald Cameron will make the place spic and span, and will set up the equipment for the Nursery and Intermediate Department which will use the hall on Sunday morning.

This affair is open to the public and a large crowd is expected.

LEGION "AUXIES" CHRISTMAS SHOPS!

The American Legion Auxiliary in the State of Massachusetts is once again conducting Christmas Gift Shops in the five Veterans' Administration Hospitals of this Commonwealth and in the John Adams (Mass.) Hospital, Chelsea, where every hospitalized man or woman at these facilities will receive, gratis, a remembrance for every member of his immediate family.

The members of Winchester Unit are busily engaged in raising their quota. Last year several outside organizations and individuals sent articles to Auxiliary Headquarters for this huge project. Mrs. Ruby McKee Rehabilitation Chairman of the local Unit will be glad to receive any contributions and will furnish additional details to other groups and organizations interested in this work. Bring gifts to McKee's Service Station on Main street, where they will be displayed.

The only price tag on these gifts is happiness and good cheer from the American Legion Auxiliary who try in this small way to show their appreciation for the service these men and women have rendered their country.

Winchester Unit's gifts will be sent to Cushing Hospital early in November in preparation for the Gift Shop to be held there on December 4th and 5th.

W. H. S. ONCE-A-MONTH FORUM

The first in a series of meetings designed to help upperclassmen at Winchester High School choose a career wisely was held last Thursday morning as an assembly of the three upper classes.

Organizer of the program and guest panel member was Roland Dailing, Counsellor at Bryant and Stratton Business School.

Presiding was Student Council President Paul Boyle. Other members of the panel were students Phyllis O'Neil, Thomas McElhinney, Shirley Frotton, Betsey Freeman, and Steve Yale. Director of Guidance Norton E. Demsey and Dean of Girls Gretta Rowe Catozzi were the other adult members of the panel.

Sponsored by Mr. Demsey, the panel discussion took up such subjects as the effect of universal military training or service, the value of a high school diploma, the need for engineers, on-the-job training, aircraft personnel, and others.

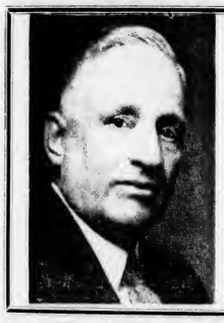

Asking "When has there been a normal year?", Mr. Darling encouraged students not to delay planning their careers regardless of required military service, for, said he, a good start now will produce better results later. Cautioning students to look for extra things to do, he said that there will be more job opportunities for the Class of 1951 than for the past four or five years.

The November panel will discuss the topic "How to Choose a School or College." Outside speakers will participate in the discussion. Parents are urged to attend. Adequate seating will be available.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Committee Activities-Literature

"Behind every great book is a man, greater than the book itself, that he ever wrote." With this expectation in mind, from the pen of George Lanahan Fitch, the Literature Committee of The Fortnightly with Mrs. Gertrude M. Hall as chairman is prepared for this season as a study of "Books" under the general topics: Notable Recent Biographies of Famous Literary Figures of the Nineteenth Century. These biographies with modern approach and with source material perhaps, should make this literary course both vibrant and impressive.

The first meeting of the year will be held at Winchester Public Library on Monday, November 6, at 2:00 p. m. The subject of discourse: "The Life of Ralph Waldo Emerson" by Ralph Leslie Rusk, and "Henry David Thoreau, 1817-1862" by Reginald Lansing Cook. Mrs. Caroline Everett and Mrs. Flora Dissell will be in charge of the program.

All Fortnightly members are cordially invited and urged to bring guests to the Literature meetings which are held on the first Monday of each month, excepting January, when it is held on Tuesday, the third Monday, November 7 April.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Carl W. Wood was hostess for the Winchester Garden Club, Thursday, October 26. This beautiful spacious home was resplendent with beauty, its accent of flower arrangement throughout the house completed a harmonious theme. The potters were: Mrs. William W. Goodhue and Mrs. Herbert T. Wood.

On the outside of the front door in an Alpine Hunt was a striking arrangement of small polka dot crêpe apples, wild oats, Artemesia and pussy nuts. It was without doubt, the work of Mrs. Herbert T. Wood's creation. Entering the hallway, the arrangement caught your fancy immediately and Artemisia in an Antique glass Compote, a wedding gift of the hostess' parents, Mr. Mrs. Edward H. Stone, Franklinia and Mattonadia in an Antique pewter milk glass. The living room contained a swag of purple and gold grapes on the piano was a duo arrangement in brown and chartreuse colors in an old Mexico and Pewter. Fall Cosmos in a delightful arrangement in a white container was made by Mrs. Mildred Stone. On the serving table was a dramatic arrangement of Fall Chrysanthemums with berries of Callicarpa Japonica in colors of purple and white in a grey pottery container.

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. William W. Goodhue, president, presiding. Mrs. Goodhue turned the afternoon over to Mrs. Herbert T. West, Program Chairman, who presented Mr. John B. Kennedy of the "Paint Pot" of Concord, who spoke on "Color." Mr. Kennedy who is an authority on Color and has a keen sense and knowledge of its use, presented his subject in an interesting and illuminating manner. Music and color being closely related with their tones and vibrations can blend harmoniously or be discordant. Mr. Kennedy suggested having the colors you like with harmony as the keynote. He suggested cool and calm colors in the home.

The speaker's charts were unusual - combinations of harmonious colors; showing charts with the colors preferred by babies, school children, college men and women.

One important fact was stressed by Mr. Kennedy in renovating your home, work with what you have - it is only worn.

The beautiful velvet, prints and rug samples with wall papers were combined to make a perfect setting in a home. Mr. Kennedy was assisted by Mr. B. Bedford in displaying these articles to the members.

Listening to Mr. Kennedy's talk on Color, he keenly showed his humanitarian objective in life-to help everyone who would show advisory interest in color. Everyone is surrounded by color, surroundings and especially young people who have limited talents, and the following proves this. Mr. Kennedy makes available the use of borrowed expensive paintings and gives technical service to these young people.

October's meeting of the club with the hostess where color was in harmony with the season's autumnal shades, where at the end of the Hall one caught a glimpse of a large field of tinted foliage reaching toward a skyline of tree-tracery, I bought a benediction of harmony.

MRS. LOBINGIER EXHIBITS

At the invitation of the Marblehead Arts Association, Elizabeth M. Lobingier of Manchester road is the guest exhibitor for the month of November at the Association's attractive headquarters in the King Hooper House of Marblehead.

The exhibition opened on Sunday afternoon, October 29th, when a large group gathered for tea, to see the pictures, and to hear Mrs. Lobingier speak on "Realism and Abstraction in Art." Her thirty-one paintings include water-colors, oils, and pastels and illustrate both the realistic and the abstract interpretation.

The Marblehead Association is one of the really thriving organizations of this section, with about six hundred members, including at least one hundred artists. It owns the King Hooper House, a three story dwelling, two centuries and a quarter old, with facilities for many activities. The present exhibition is open to the public every day except Monday, from two to five o'clock.

LINCOLN SCHOOL NEWS

For the third successive year, the Mothers' Association gave a Hallowe'en Frolic, on October 27th, for the children of Lincoln School. Starting right after the afternoon was taken at one-fifteen, it lasted until three-fifteen.

The children thronged the gaily decorated rooms, and the Assembly Hall, where Grahs, Cocoa-Cola, a food table and freedom to show off their costumes could be found. Outdoors, since it was a perfect day for it, relay races were held for the older pupils.

Every mother contributed to the event, through donations or service in one of the activities during the afternoon. A table, decorated for Hallowe'en, offered cakes and doughnuts to teachers and mothers who needed momentary time out.

The entire party was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Cullen, with Mrs. John Manto as co-chairman. Serving actively during preparations were: Mesdames Joseph Battilo, John Gazdisso, Henry Hansen, Robert Joyce, Michael Bellitto, Erwin Hutchings, Arthur Hennis, Robert Dauphinais, Paul O'Neill, George Mulcahy, Austin Nanny, John Mitchell, Anthony Vespucci, John Russell, Stillman Williams, George Johnston, Ralph Webster, Michael Colucci, Anthony Gillotte, John McGraw, John DeMinico, Randolph Kazanian, Stanley Mullen, Dominick Runci, Joseph Horvath, Olcott Hooper, Francis Amico, Salvatore Puma, Vincent Carroll, Charles Fish, Alexander Clark, Joseph Battilo, William Sweet, Charles O'Connor, George Carter, Eugene Pollard, George Govostes, Henry Fulton, Richard Carr, and Frank Ferrina.

JUNIOR HIGH HELD OPEN HOUSE

On Monday night, October 23rd, Open House was held at the Junior High School. Despite the inclement weather more than 100 enthusiastic parents enjoyed a typical school day in the various classrooms. Each parent had a definite schedule to follow, giving the time of class, subject and room number. The classes were arranged for ten minute periods starting at 7:30. An informal talk outlining the program of study and teaching methods was given by the teachers. It was inspiring to see such interest shown by the parents-especially the fathers.

Hosts and hostesses to the teachers at the Open House were:

Dr. and Mrs. Richard J. Clark, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Burton Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nason, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Marshall, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. JOIN THE PLUS CLUB!

Join the "Plus Club" is the catchword in one of the 18 participating cities and towns as the Red Feather campaign gets into high gear the second week of its annual drive. A unique device identifying the "plus" powers in the 1951 Red Feather agency is to be attached to the "Wet Wash" window sticker.

"Watch the windows as you cruise around Metropolitan Boston," campaign officials suggest, "and watch for the sign that says to the people of the community as they turn to make a concerted success of this most critical of years."

Substantial increases over last year are noted in early returns from advance gifts and residential subscription drives, with substantial increases all along the line. The "plus" sign of the plan everyone doing its best, at the rate of 2% per cent more wherever possible, suggests a solution to the grave problem facing the whole metropolitan community.

Doing one's best means more and better service by Red Feather agencies; providing recreation for the increasing number of service men and women through the Associated Services to the Armed Forces (the new USO); and through the new preparedness program of Red Feather stores it may well mean the saving of one's life in time of emergency.

Few people realize how far their dollars can go. Five dollars will pay for the milk one child drinks during five months of all-day care in a Red Feather nursery. It will pay for three weeks of a day camp for a little girl. It will buy five grams, equal to five days' treatment, of the new anti-biotic germ killing drug, streptomycin.

Ten dollars will pay for a baby's layette and week in a family foster home. Or it will meet the cost of electroencephalograms in diagnosing heart trouble for two patients. A $500 gift may change a child's entire life through the skilful diagnosis and care given him during several weeks' stay at New England Home for Little Wanderers, to quote an outstanding example of what a Red Feather service means to the community.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Mrs. Harry Fessenden of 55 Wildwood Street and Mrs. Arthur Pratt of 1 Sanderson Street were Wednesday members of the evening team in charge of "Operation Dunce" at Cabot School, a program could under the auspices of the Massachusetts Antique Club. Mrs. Fessenden is a graduate of Simmons College for Women, Boston. Previously, at one B. U. Mrs. Pratt expects to graduate in June 1951 from the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts.

Flat Rate Applies to Only Part of Your Auto Insurance

Here's a section of the insurance policy you'll have to pay for next year if Question No. 5 is put over on the Commonwealth by politicians from cities like Boston, Chelsea and Revere, according to the Committee for Community Automobile Rates. The scheme for a flat rate would not cover the five or six other insurance coverages commonly carried by prudent car-owners.

The black area on the map shows how a tiny portion of the state would stand to gain under the flat rate scheme. That's one reason why everyone in the rest of the state should vote "NO" on Question No. 5, Tuesday, November 7.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Mrs. William Abbott, 59 Middlesex street, was hostess to the Kindergarten mothers of the Noonan School at a tea held at her home on Wednesday afternoon, October 18th. Miss Lenore Rich, principal of the School, and Mrs. Clarence Donaghey, President of the Association, poured.

Instead of having the teacher Miss Mary McAuley, speak on any particular subject, the mothers asked questions about the mental and physical development of children this age and just what was expected of a kindergarten youngster. Everyone seemed to have a question to ask and it really turned out to be a most interesting discussion.

Mrs. Francis Mahan is the Kindergarten room mother and she was assisted by Mrs. Robert Cheever, Mrs. Paul Howard, Mrs. Jane Dewar and Mrs. Arthur Donovan.

WINCHESTER'S WELFARE AGENT AGAINST OLD AGE REFERENDA

William P. Supple, agent for the Board of Public Welfare in Winchester as well as president of the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work and of the Public Assistance Administrators' Association, is opposed to the referenda in the coming State ballot, the first of which would increase the minimum payment to old age recipients to $75 per month while reducing the eligibility age from 65 to 62 years, eliminating all legal responsibility of children for contributing to the support of their parents and extending old-age assistance to aliens. The second referendum is that proposing a state lottery to pay for aid to the needy aged.

Because of his first-hand judgement in administering old-age assistance, Mr. Supple's opinion of the coming referenda is believed especially timely and in an interview given Frederick W. Carr of the "Christian Science Monitor" recently, he made the following pertinent comments:

Termed Unsound

"I believe these referendum propositions are unsound and that eventually they would hurt the people they propose to help," he said.

"Massachusetts is the third highest paying state in its grants of money to the aged, and I think we have one of the most generous laws making provision for old people.

"I firmly believe that the recipients of old-age assistance here are receiving adequate monthly grants, and I doubt very much if they would enjoy having their relief paid out of a lottery.

"The budget system we have is the finest way of meeting the needs of elderly people, much better than picking a figure out of the air, like the $75 minimum proposed in the referendum. Under our budget plan, grants are based on needs under a standard worked out by the Department of Public Welfare and in many cases exceed $75 a month. In most nursing home cases, the grant would be more than $100 a month."

Lottery Deplored

On the state lottery, the voters will pass on, Mr. Supple observed that the people of Massachusetts would have to buy a fantastic number of tickets to make it go. If tickets were a dollar apiece, millions of them would have to be sold to finance the old-age payments ordered in the referendums. These are not only higher than at present, but the referendums would add about 45,000 more recipients to the rolls.

"If we can't operate on a sound tax basis, I don't think we should get into that," he commented.

"I should like to see first of all where the money is coming from to finance such an expansion. We are not adequately supporting our old-age assistance program as it now is. We should have pretty sound finances before going further with a great enlargement of the old-age program.

"The money is coming out of the taxpayers' pocket. The financing really emanates from the grass roots of the people.

"Where is all this money to be found? The taxpayer is being milked enough as it is right now, and heavier taxes due to the Korean war are already on their way. These referendums call for further taxes — and give elderly persons more than they need for adequate care."

Turning to the specific provisions of the referendum increasing and extending payments to the aged, Mr. Supple continued, "I am not willing to believe that the children of Massachusetts are willing to further break down the moral structure of family life by throwing their parents on the public assistance rolls.

"This referendum would remove all legal responsibility of children to make contributions for the support of parents who are receiving old-age assistance. On the contrary, I find from my experience that children are willing to contribute in some way to support their parents if financially able to do so."

At State Expense

Of the proposal to lower the eligibility age for old-age assistance from the present 65 years to 63, Mr. Supple said: "The cost of those persons between the ages of 63 and 65 would be entirely borne by the state. The federal government would not participate as it does in sharing the expense of recipients of 65 years and over.

"Also that share of the cost which the towns and cities now pay would be transferred to the state. This is a very questionable project. The local communities now carry the administration of the old-age assistance program. They make the decisions as to who shall receive these grants. Obviously when they exercise this most important function, they should continue to have a financial stake in the program.

"Why stop at 63? Let's go down to one year of age and treat everybody equally alike.

"When we boil this thing down old-age assistance as presented in these referendums seems to be the concept of a pension, rather than a grant of public assistance based on need.

Class Preference Issue

"It is obviously a cause of objection to the referendums that they would be setting up a class preference for one group of people very likely to be of detriment to the other categories of assistance, such as aid to dependent children, the children's program, and general assistance."

Of the referendum plan to make aliens eligible for old-age assistance, Mr. Supple said this was unpracticable unless some proper method of financing the new costs was provided. The only means of financing offered by the sponsors of the referendum is the lottery.

Local welfare offices now take care of the alien under general assistance if the alien has need, Mr. Supple added. Thousands of aliens in Massachusetts are so being provided for at the present time.

"My comments on the referendums 3 and 4 are, I know, very elementary, and yet it seems that I would be remiss if I failed to point out the pitfalls in such referendums. I hope these comments will serve to make the voters of Massachusetts give serious thought to how they mark their ballots on November 7.

"Voting for referendums 3 and 4 could well mean the breakdown of the public assistance program in Massachusetts."

The people of her district are likewise proud of her general record in the past quarter century, a record that typifies the highest in public service. She has been a real representative at all times.

Now that the American Legion has paid tribute to her service, it will probably follow that her constituents will also pay tribute at the voting booths next month by giving her a hearty endorsement as she seeks another term in the House of Representatives. Once again her record of distinguished service will be recognized.

In these times of speculation when the international picture is so muddled that no one dares predict with any degree of accuracy what may happen within the next several years, a representative of the experience, ability and loyalty of Congressman Rogers is needed in Washington. She may be depended upon to understand the needs and interests in the capital, the seasoned statesman that she is and to use her influence and her office at all times to keep this great nation on the right course at all times. Again and again in the past she has demonstrated her devotion to loyalty to her country and has repeatedly defeated all who may have attempted to sell the United States short.

This high honor that has been conferred by the American Legion is but one of many impressive honors that have been given to Congressman Rogers in the past quarter century.

She is deserving of them all. She is also most deserving of a magnificent endorsement by all voters of the Fifth District next month.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

There was never a dull moment during the successful dancing party planned and carried out by Mrs. Frank Carver, enegetic Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and her equally alert assistants. It was held Friday, October 27 in the Assembly Hall of the school, and was largely attended.

There were few decorations except a 'coke bar', and absolutely no wall-flowers. There was everything imaginable to promote sociability from a round of "get-togethers" before the dance and the strict informality at the dance. The small-fry might well sit up and take notice.

The Orchestra had everything in the line of harmony, and "gun out" with plenty of variety. Considering that each member of the orchestra had, at one time or another, played in 'big-name' bands, the parents were justified in being proud of them. The orchestra had very fine vocal assistance from Winnie Watkins and Jim deRevere, both heartily applauded. The mothers, fathers, and their delighted guests are still asking each other, "Why Don't We Do This More Often?"

Special thanks are tendered:

1. 'Al' McKenzie genial and popular custodian who contributed greatly to the success of the party.
2. The Winchester police, for traffic assistance.
3. Our Orchestra.

The tables and hall were beautifully decorated for Hallowe'en by Nancy Doten and Harris MacDonald when the Forum group of 122 young people and 14 adults arrived for the monthly supper last Sunday. A delicious supper had been prepared by Mrs. Gordon Bird, Mrs. Vaughn Harmon, Mrs. Percival Smith, Mrs. Carle Zimmerman, and Mrs. Edward Zinn. Janet Macaulay and Judy Lamprey assisted with the supper plans and were in charge of the waitresses.

David Archibald presided at the meeting and introduced the Forum Instrumental Music Club who presented two numbers. The officers sang a song composed by Dorothy Brandt urging everyone to get a job and do his part for the Work Day for Christ. The group then went to Ripley Chapel for the rest of the meeting.

Gordon Bird, Jr., Treasurer of Forum, gave a financial report, and the group made a pledge of $150 toward the church budget for the coming year. Richard Phippen reported for the Race Relations Committee, stating that trips to the International Student Center in Cambridge on Sunday evenings would start soon. Mr. Tarr reported on the plans for the Spring Conference which are in the making. Christine McKay spoke briefly about the Dramatic Club Play and Square Dance which are coming November 11. Don Cameron urged everyone to attend the Woburn Association Pilgrim Fellowship Rally November 12. It will be held in Stoneham.

The speaker of the evening was Marilyn Drake, Forum graduate '41, who had been in Europe during the past summer at a work camp for the World Council of Churches. She showed Kodachrome slides of her work and her bicycle trip through the Alps. She held her audience spellbound as she told of the rich experiences of working with an international group of workers, building a playground area for a small town in Belgium. She spoke of the needs of the church in that town which is in great need of repair.

A brief, very moving service of worship was led by Dorothy Brandt in which Dave Archibald also spoke of the needs of children and young people in Boston, needs which can be met by the City Missionary Society if each Forum member does his part on the Work Day for Christ November 3 and 4. The challenge was made to give one day of work for someone else, to "earn all you can, give all you earn," to this project. The young people are very anxious to reach the goal they have set for themselves of $350. The money will be presented to Dr. Earl Douglas, Secretary of the City Missionary Society when he comes to speak to the young people on November 19.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

The Fifth Grade Tea held at the home of Mrs. John Coakley, 108 Highland avenue on Tuesday, October 24th had a large representation of mothers in attendance.

Following a social hour which enabled the mothers to meet and talk with Mr. Nault, fifth-grade teacher, an open discussion period followed in which most of the mothers took an active part.

Mr. Nault gave an interesting and informative talk on the occupations of a fifth-grade pupil during the day, starting with the morning devotional period, conducted entirely by the pupils. He also explained the teaching of fundamental facts, particularly those of arithmetic.

The tea was planned and served by room mother Mrs. John Coakley, Mrs. Richard Huff, her assistant, and their committee, Mrs. Edward Snell, Mrs. Joseph Donavan, Mrs. Carl Marten, Mrs. John Wakefield, and Mrs. James Wakefield.

Pourers: Mrs. Thomas Purtle, President of the Association, Miss Rich, Principal of the School.

W. H. S. OPEN HOUSE WELL ATTENDED

Careful check of attendance at the annual Open House at Winchester High School held a week ago last night revealed the largest turnout on record. Considerably more than five hundred parents followed their boys' and girls' programs through the abbreviated schedule.

Since students in secondary school travel from room to room and teacher to teacher, the parents found themselves somewhat hurried but usually in the right place as teachers explained the items in the course of study.

Teachers of physical education were in the gymnasium, music supervisors were in the auditorium, and teachers of industrial arts, printing, mechanical drawing, and so on were in their rooms.

Room mothers assisted by calling the homes, supplying sandwiches and assorted pastries to go with the coffee, and by serving the large numbers who found the cafeteria a good meeting place.

Interested parents went out of their way to compliment Principal Wade L. Grindle and his staff on the instruction and training provided at Winchester High School.

Dr. Otis E. Alley, head of the Winchester High School science department, has been invited by Professor B. A. Thresher, Director of Admissions at M. I. T., to discuss with a group of school and college administrators and teachers the possibility of establishing a curriculum for training science teachers in the course in general science at M. I. T.

Included in the discussion are Professor Dana M. Cotton of Harvard; Mr. John C. Hogg, Phillips Exeter Academy, collaborator with Dr. Alley on their text for high schools, "Chemistry A Course for High Schools"; principals of Brookline and Gloucester high schools, and Tabor Academy; science department heads and other college officials.

Cassidy rounded up three boys, the oldest 14 and the youngest, 11, who admitted throwing apples at the truck. Hallowe'en in Winchester passed quietly with few instances of malicious mischief and destruction of property reported to the Police. Two streetlights, one on a private way, were broken and the light on the verandah of the Myopia Hill road home was smashed. Garbage was strewn over the porch of a house on Stowell road, but generally speaking the youngsters out around town played down destructive activity. There were no false alarms and no arrests.

WINCHESTER STILL REPUBLICAN

Town Votes Rent Control and Against Liquor, Flat Rate Auto Rates and Lottery.

Winchester voted Republican as usual at Tuesday's election, giving Governor Paul A. Dever, titular head of the Democratic Party in Massachusetts, 115 votes less than he polled against Bradford two years ago. Tuesday's vote was larger than it was in 1948, the totals being 7,537 to 7,182, with the edge in percentage also slightly larger, 84 percent of the town's electorate casting ballots Tuesday in an off year against 82 percent in the presidential year of 1948.

Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson believes Tuesday's vote a record for an off year election in Winchester, so the size of the Dever vote would seem to indicate that a majority of the new voters cast ballots as Republicans.

Totals were available at the town hall at midnight, with Precinct 5 having its totals ready first at 9:50, and the last precinct coming in at 11:15. Voting was heavy all day with the 1,597 votes cast at 9:30 in the morning being slightly larger than in 1946. At 2 in the afternoon the vote was running 225 ahead of '46 and this advantage was maintained until the polls closed at 8 p. m. A total of 1,600 votes was cast between 6 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

A nice big vote from Precinct 6, a preponderantly Democratic precinct, enabled Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers to lead the Republican ticket in Winchester, running more than 1,200 votes ahead of Mr. Coolidge with 6,222 votes.

John E. Hurley led the Democratic standard bearers, polling 3,135 votes in his campaign for treasurer against the controversial Republican candidate, Fred J. Burrell.

At the local level Winchester gave its Representative in the General Court, Harrison Chadwick, a larger vote than his party's candidate for Governor, casting 5,415 votes for Mr. Chadwick to 1,971 votes for the Democratic Philip P. Dever of Woburn.

The town didn't do quite so well by Robert P. Campbell of Medford, candidate for Harris Richardson's seat in the State Senate, though Mr. Campbell did lead the Democratic candidate, Selectman Joseph A. Purcell of Arlington, 4,977 to 2,329.

GYM TICKETS FOR LAUGHTON AVAILABLE

Those who have been unable to secure tickets for the readings of Charles Laughton, stage and screen star, who is to appear in Winchester Thursday evening, November 16, at the high school auditorium, will be glad to learn that 500 tickets admitting to the school gymnasium may still be secured, in advance at McCormack's Apothecary or at the door.

The gymnasium has been wired for sound and Mr. Laughton's readings will be transmitted there. This service was originally planned to accommodate school pupils who would care to hear the famous actor, but so many adults are finding auditorium tickets so difficult to procure that undoubtedly many grownups will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the transmitted readings in the gym.

Mr. Laughton is coming to Winchester under the auspices of the Mothers' Association. Proceeds from his readings benefit the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

TRACEY JONES

METHODIST LEADER TO SPEAK

Listed and recommended as one of the outstanding and dynamic speakers on the affairs of China as of the moment Tracey Jones Missionary to China will occupy the pulpit of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church this coming Sunday.

Few men have been more successful than Tracey Jones in helping Americans to understand the present situation in Communist China. Widely informed and intellectually keen, Tracey is also a brilliant speaker. Looking like a successful young executive, he is an enthusiastic and deeply convinced worker in the world mission of the Church today.

Tracey returned from Nanking, the former capital of China, just last year. His work there, aside from his time in the pulpit, was spent largely in relief and rehabilitation among the thousands of refugees from all parts of China. He was also engaged in evangelistic work in the city of Nanking. Although now under communist control, the work of both foreign missionaries and Chinese Christians continues there.

Tracey is an ordained minister of the Methodist Church, and a member of the California Conference. His service in China has been under the Methodist Board. Following this year's furlough in the States, he expects to return, with his wife and two children, if not to China, to another country in Southeast Asia.

The Methodist Church is happy to have been chosen and recommended by Bishop John Westley Lord for such a special occasion.

SCHOOL COMMITTEES MET HERE

Dr. John Mahoney and Dr. Henry Holmes Speakers

"The task of American Education is to develop those understandings, whatever they may be, which are needed in order to turn out good American citizens," declared Dr. John Mahoney of Everett avenue, retired Boston University professor, before a gathering of School Committee members and School Superintendents from twenty-five nearby towns at the Parkhurst School last Thursday evening.

Dr. Mahoney and former Dean Henry Holmes of the Harvard School of Education, chief speakers of the evening, made a strong plea for civic education as a necessary part of every class taught in the United States today. The aim of civic education, as distinguished from the school subject civics, is teaching people how to live well together, not only social studies teachers, but every teacher in every school must aid civic education.

How to participate in community efforts and how to perpetuate democracy are the two main items in civic education according to Dean Holmes, who is currently collaborating with Dr. Mahoney in preparing materials for classroom teachers of the six upper grades. "Teachers and administrators favor civic education and will put the program into operation as soon as materials of instruction are made available," he said.

Some of the pamphlets already prepared and others being made ready are entitled "The Isms and You", "They Made a Nation", "Law and the Citizen", "Work Without Strife", and "In God We Trust." Of the last named pamphlet Dr. Holmes said, "A nation without faith can have no successful education."

Guests of the Winchester School Committee and Dr. Forbes H. Norris were Mr. Vincent Farnsworth, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Selectman Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mr. Alexander Clark, Chairman of the Finance Committee, Miss Martha Cunningham, head of the Parkhurst School, Mrs. George Marks, President of the Central Mothers' Association, Miss Mabel C. Lowry, Principal of the Wyman School, Miss Leonor Rich, Principal of the Washington and Noonan Schools, and Mr. Wade Grindle, Principal of Winchester High School. Mrs. Edwin Trowbridge, Chairman of Area 2, presided.

On the agenda for future meetings of Area 2, Massachusetts Association of School Committees, are such topics as the 12-month School, Relation of the School System to the Town Manager Plan, Lengthening the School Day, Extra-curricular Activities, Auto Driving Instruction, and other thought-provoking topics, one of which is chosen at the previous meeting. Recently the one hundred and twenty-five or so active members have been studying the 180-day school year and the problem of seniors, particularly commercial students, leaving school early to accept positions.

Towns and cities represented by the Winchester gathering are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Burlington, Canton, Concord, Dedham, Everett, Framingham, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Lincoln, Malden, Melrose, Needham, Quincy, Somerville, Stoneham, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Winchester, and Woburn.

EDWARD B. LADD

Edward B. Ladd of 48 Yale street, retired vice president of the New England Trust Co., died Wednesday, November 8, following a heart attack at his home.

Mr. Ladd was the son of Edward A., and Almira B. (Baldwin) Ladd. He was born August 4, 1869, in Charlestown and lived for some years in Somerville before coming to Winchester in 1921. He was educated at Boston English High School and was associated with the New England Trust Company for half a century.

Mr. Ladd was a Mason, and past District Deputy G. M. of the Arlington 6th Masonic District. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge and Soley Lodge of Somerville; also of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, Orient Council, R & SM; DeMolay Commandery, Knights Templar; and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He also held membership in the Bankers' Association, Winchester Historical Society, University Club of Boston, Boston City Club, Republican Club of Massachusetts, the English High School Associates and the First Congregational Church.

Mr. Ladd's wife, Susan (Sayles) Ladd died in Peterboro, N. H., May 31, 1949. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes of this town.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. CATHERINE MAWN

Mrs. Catherine Mawn, widow of James Mawn and mother of Mrs. Antonio Juliana of 6 Holland street, died Wednesday afternoon, November 8, at an out-of-town hospital after a long illness. Born in Ireland she had been a resident of Winchester for 50 years. Besides her daughter she leaves three grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home at 7:30 with requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 8 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH HONORS DR. CHIDLEY

At the morning service last Sunday, the First Congregational Church recognized the thirty-fifth anniversary of Dr. Chidley's pastorate.

While the people stood, Mr. Robert N. Oxford, acting for Mr. James H. Coon, Head Deacon, read the following resolution:

Resolution

"Commemorating the thirty-fifth Anniversary of Dr. Howard J. Chidley as Pastor of the First Congregational Church in Winchester, Massachusetts.

Whereas

"Since the year 1915 it has been the good fortune and privilege of the members of the First Congregational Church in Winchester, Massachusetts, to have Howard J. Chidley as their spiritual leader, counselor, minister and preacher, and

Whereas

"During these many years of his ministry Howard J. Chidley has been one of the great voices of the Christian Church, an outstanding and courageous builder, administrator, prophet and preacher of the Church of the living God;

"Through war and adversity, peace and victory, he has guided the spiritual life of our people and the destiny and growth of our Church to ever increasing heights and visions of Christian service, opportunity and responsibility;

"His wisdom and influence have extended outside the walls of our Church to the councils of Christian leaders near and far, and have overflowed into the life of our community, and into the daily lives of our people wherever they may be;

"Over the years, serving three generations of many of our people, he has shared our joys and our sorrows; administered to those in want and distress; furnished inspiration and vision to the youth of our Church, hope and comfort to untold numbers burdened and heavy of heart; and has given strength and courage, midst doubts and fears, to hold to the course, to fight the good fight and to keep the faith;

"Now, therefore, on this the thirty-fifth Anniversary of his ministry as our Pastor, be it resolved that:

"We, the members of this Church, hereby affirm our deep affection and esteem for him, our recognition of his able, devoted and eloquent leadership, and our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for his help and guidance given and to be given; and

"We ask, in the name of the Father, that along the road ahead for many years to come he may have health and happiness, and the contentment and peace of mind that comes from faithful devotion and service to God and His people.

"Adopted unanimously by the First Congregational Church in Winchester at a meeting held October 28, 1950."

James H. Coon, Head Deacon
Gilman Wallace, Chairman, Prudential Committee
Everett W. Goss, Clerk
William L. Parsons, Moderator

Dr. Chidley, in his reply, said that he felt that the resolutions applied not only to him, but to the Church, because a church either made or unmade its minister by the quality of its support. He thanked the Church on its hearty cooperation during his pastorate, and praised it for providing a "free pulpit" for its minister.

Dr. Chidley added that the Church had suffered "growing pains" during his entire pastorate, as the membership had increased from 577, when he came, to 1877 as of this date; and the Sunday School had grown from 300 to 750 during the same period. The Parish now includes 2700 people, including children. He reminded the people that when a Church ceased having growing pains, it was on the way to extinction, but said that he saw no evidence of any such decline in the enthusiasm and vigor of the First Church.

MAKE IT MORE THIS YEAR

By making it more this year thousands of Red Feather givers are living up to the slogan, "Make it Enough", in the current annual campaign. As in Winchester led by Charles W. Butler the importance of a smashing victory is being recognized by the people who make up the 18 metropolitan cities and towns dependent every day of the year on Red Feather services.

Valiant volunteers are bent on reaching the 70 per cent goal set for tomorrow's fourth report at the Mason Memorial building, Boston. They are finding it difficult to reach everyone who wishes to give and it is suggested that those who have not had this opportunity get in touch with their local campaign headquarters under police headquarters.

The difference between success and failure means untold suffering and hardship next year for the people of this area. It takes little imagination to picture the stricken child in need of emergency hospital care . . . the orphaned baby left homeless . . . the wayward teenager needing a guiding hand . . . the penniless oldster facing eviction . . . the husband and wife at the crossroads . . . the out-of-town service man or woman looking for a friendly welcome.

A special appeal is made to the newcomers in town who may not be reached and who undoubtedly will want to have a share in supporting the agencies their families will use — the hospitals, the visiting nurses, the youth and family services and the many others without which no community is self-sustained.

Will You Be There With Enough — or will you turn away, uncaring, unheeding?

REV. ROBERT A. STORER INSTALLED

With the words "We, the congregation of the Winchester Unitarian Society do hereby install you as our minister," a very large and intent parish congregation gave office to the Reverend Robert A. Storer as their minister at the Winchester Unitarian Church last Sunday afternoon.

After the act of installation, the "Charge to the Congregation and to the Minister" was given by the Reverend Charles E. Park, Minister Emeritus of the First Church in Boston, who last year served the parish as interim minister, and who, at the morning service on installation day, had received from them a hand illuminated scroll in expression of their esteem and gratitude. Dr. Park's talk was the main one of the afternoon, and he imbued the hearts and minds of his audience with the spirit and meaning of the interdependent responsibilities shared by minister and parish. With his own inimitably humble, humorous, and gentle wisdom he drew an analogy between the relations of a minister and his parish to those of a man and wife, beginning with the similarities of the marriage and installation ceremonies; pointing out the potential pitfalls and disillusionments that often follow immediately after either ceremony; remarking on the monotony and real humdrum quality of the greatest and most important part of both relationships; and emphasizing the overall importance of keeping in view the main objective of the inter-church "marriage" - to worship God in the spirit of Christ and to serve mankind.

Other leading Unitarians greeted Mr. Storer for their own organizations, and the Winchester churches were officially represented by the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, Church of the Epiphany, who gave the invocation, and by the Rev. Howard J. Chidley, Congregational Church, who welcomed Mr. Storer to the family of Winchester churches in a very brotherly manner. As a background for the service the choir was heard three times, performing with especial excellence the anthem, "Bless The Lord, a cappella, and augmented in their singing of the Finale from Saint-Saens' "Christmas Oratorio" by the junior choir.

After the service the many who attended met together socially at a most gracious reception for the ministers. Tea was served in the Metcalf Union Room, where the setting was enhanced by the fine piano playing of Miss Grace Norian.

LeROYER — CUTHBERTSON

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at Trinity Episcopal Church in Melrose on Friday evening, October 27, when Miss Joan Rose Cuthbertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Stone Cuthbertson of Lincoln street, Melrose, became the bride of Henry Louis LeRoyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillip LeRoyer of Glen road. Palms and white chrysanthemums made an attractive setting for the 8 o'clock service, which was read by Dr. David L. Wilson of Bath, Me., assisted by the Rev. Warren C. Herrick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight satin with a lace bodice, sleeves of matching lace and a Peter Pan collar. Her full length veil of illusion was caught to a cap of lace and satin and her bouquet combined white spoon chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Miss Betty-Ann Cuthbertson was her sister's honor maid, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald R. Howe and Miss Marion E. Gardner, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Philip Coleman and Miss Joan E. Haslam, all of Melrose.

The honor maid was gowned in American Beauty satin and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of peacock blue satin with semi-picture hats and carried baby roses with yellow spoon chrysanthemums.

Dr. Charles P. LeRoyer, Jr., of Hartford, Conn., was best man for his brother, and the usher corps comprised Maxime F. LeRoyer of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; Alan W. Cuthbertson of Melrose, brother of the bride; Warner J. Clifford of Arlington, Charles W. Butler and Harris S. Richardson, Jr., both of Winchester and Percy A. Goodale of Darien, Conn. Mrs. Blair C. Wilson was in charge of the guest book.

A reception was held after the service at the Bear Hill Country Club in Stoneham with the parents of both the bride and the bridegroom assisting in receiving. After a wedding journey through the White Mountains, northern New Hampshire and the northern New England States and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoyer will live in Taunton.

The bride is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire. Mr. LeRoyer, who is newly associated with the Machinists' National Bank in Taunton, is a graduate of Bates College.

WELLESLEY CLUB

Friday, November 17th, is the date of the third and final Winchester Morning, at which Mr. Saville R. Davis, American News Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will speak. His subject will be "Where do we Stand on War and Peace?" Last year's Mornings ticket holders will recall the interesting talk he gave in 1949 about the situation in Western Europe. His speech this year should be even more enlightening considering the present disturbance in Korea. Coffee will be served at 10 o'clock at the Music Hall, and the program will follow at 10:30.

CONRAD THIBAULT

CONRAD THIBAULT SINGS HERE NOVEMBER 13

THE SECRET WAS REVEALED

The secret was revealed on Monday, the day before the election. The Republican Town Committee of Winchester did have headquarters here. Replying to the host of inquiries received at the Star office, it may be authentically stated that according to a card addressed to our home in Rangely on Monday anyone desiring transportation to the polls could call these headquarters at WI 6-3180. This information proves conclusively that the Committee really did have headquarters — somewhere.

WAKEFIELD HERE TOMORROW

Winchester finally gets to play at home for a change tomorrow when Wakefield comes to Manchester Field for a football game at 2 o'clock.

Wakefield has had a poor season, its principal accomplishment being a 7 - 7 tie with weak Melrose, which is however a Class A team. The visitors have also tied Portsmouth, N. H., 7-7, and lost to Lexington, 21 - 7, Fitchburg, 21 - 6, and Waltham, 32 - 6.

Winchester's record is better, and on paper the Indians ought to win. Whether O'Brien and Griffin will be ready is problematical and Sandy Batbank probably won't play until the Woburn game, if then.

The Indians looked pretty good and very bad at Belmont Monday, and they can drop the Wakefield game unless they decide not to play football for forty minutes instead of just now and then. The visitors have nothing to lose and may explode tomorrow.

TO DISCUSS SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM

A public forum to discuss the secondary school housing problem is scheduled for Monday evening, November 20, at the Winchester High School Auditorium beginning at seven thirty.

Eager to reach everyone in Winchester, the School Committee is sponsoring the public forum.

The scale model of a proposed Junior High School which has been on display in the window of Winchester Hardware store was prepared for the Building Committee's architects.

Citizens of the Town are urged to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion.

UNITARIAN CHORALE VESPERS

The Winchester Unitarian Choir have added extra rehearsal days and are all working hard to prepare the exciting "The New Earth," by Henry Hadley, which they will present for their annual Fall Chorale Vespers on the afternoon of December third, in their church. Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, their director, announces today that this afternoon by two well-known pianists, Mr. Frank Hoag, tympanist, of Winchester and Mrs. Weston L. Brannen, organist, of Stoneham. In addition to this they will be augmented by the Mary Witham Singers.

MRS. GHIRARDINI HONORED AT TEA

Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini was honored at a tea on Thursday, November second, in observance of her twentieth anniversary as founder and first president of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour.

Mrs. Edward J. McDevitt opened her home on Everett avenue for the gala occasion.

Mrs. John Lennon, president, and Mrs. McDevitt assisted Mrs. Ghirardini in receiving the hearty felicitations of a large group of friends and associates in the charitable work of the Guild.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes need help at Thanksgiving and Christmas if these holidays are to be more than mockery instead of days of good cheer in accordance with the American tradition.

To help our less fortunate Winchester friends during the holiday season gifts of money, clothing, coal, food and clothing are earnestly solicited.

Gifts may be sent to the Winchester Community Relief Committee.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

One of the first Volunteer Service Groups of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital to swing into action is the clerical group, under Mrs. Clarence Wickerson. The women in this division have volunteered their time on either Monday or Thursday, 9 to 11 a. m., to assist in the typing needs at the hospital.

Under Mrs. Wickerson, the women are receiving a schedule for Monday or Thursday, and report at the hospital for "duty" on that day. It is a most worthwhile service they are performing, and one which aids the Winchester Hospital greatly. There is still need for several more women who can type accurately to work in this group on either of those days. If you can help, will you call Mrs. Wickerson, WI 6-0507-W? In charge of the Volunteer Services are Mrs. Howard A. Morrison and Mrs. Everett Stone, chairmen. The Friends of the Winchester Hospital is a Women's service organization, and all women are most cordially invited to membership.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The fall meeting of the Women's Council was held Friday morning, November 3rd at the library. President Mrs. Leo T. Manoli welcomed the representatives of the various women's organizations and then introduced Miss Corinne Mead, who spoke briefly on the opening and dedication of the beautiful new Jere A. Downs Memorial Room at the library.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye then addressed the group and told of the gift paintings of the Stations of the Cross to be presented to the churches of Winchester by the people of Hemrouille, Belgium. Mrs. Toye also expressed her willingness to talk over, at any time, the problems and anxieties of parents of boys in the service or about to enter the service.

Mrs. George R. Dutting, Chairman of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter, announced that the Mobile Blood Donor Unit will be in Winchester on December 1st and urged all present to bring notice of this back to their organization. Mrs. Dutting also announced the start of a new Red Cross Gray Lady training course.

Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, Supervisor of the District Nursing Association, gave an interesting and informative talk on the many services the Nursing Association has to offer the people of Winchester. For example, they maintain a "loan closet" from which you may rent a hospital bed for as little as $1.00 a week, as well as crutches, wheelchairs and all manner of sickroom supplies.

Principal speaker of the morning was Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Executive Director of Girl Scouts, who gave a very interesting and detailed account of the Girl Scouts' trip to England last summer. We were proud and happy to hear of the favorable impression our girls made everywhere they visited and everyone agreed that the next best thing to actually going on the trip was hearing Mrs. Metcalf's report of it.

Again this year the Women's Council has its calendar at Mary Spaulding's and all member organizations are urged to use it for noting dates of meetings and special programs.

EPIPHANY CHURCH GROUP MEETS FOR TEA

The Yale street home of Mrs. Richard A. Harlow was the scene of a beautiful tea last week when the hospitality committee of the Tuesday Group of Epiphany Church entertained new members of the church. The tea table presented a lovely fall picture and the co-chairmen in charge of the tea, Mrs. Theodore A. Hultgren and Mrs. Edward Little, received many compliments on the graciousness of the setting. The following guests were present:

Reverend and Mrs. Dwight Hadley, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, and Mesdames A. C. Buffum, Kenneth Colony, A. S. Crockett, Henry Fitts, Jr., Donald Wright, J. W. Bledsoe, Warren Haley, Robert G. Thomason, William Barasker, Philip Bartlett, Barry N. Wilton, Clifford Williams. The following guests were especially honored: Mesdames Robert Barlow, John Bird, Austin Broadhurst, J. W. Gibson, Robert Heavisides, Erwin Hutchings, Robert Hyers, Warren Price, Chester Schwerys, Everett Schenck, George Snow, Norman Thompson, Robert Wight and Arthur Winningham.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Home and Garden Club will hold their next meeting on Wednesday, November 15 at 2 p. m. in the Art Room of the Public Library. The speaker will be Mrs. William P. Sloan with a talk on Horticultural Hall with Mrs. program showing how to make David Barnes speaking on "Winter decorations, favors, and small gifts. Interests in the Garden". All are in a demonstration talk called welcome.

"Merrie Christmas". There will also be stories and legends of Christmas.

Be sure to bring pencil, paper and scissors if you wish to start at once.

On November 27 the Horticultural Meeting will be held at 10:30 in Horticultural Hall with Mrs.

LEWIS PARKHURST MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

On Wednesday, November 1st, in the Auditorium of the school, the Lewis Parkhurst Mothers' Association held its first meeting of the season.

Mrs. Lyndon Burnham, the president, opened the meeting by welcoming the mothers, with a special greeting to the new mothers attending. Mrs. Burnham then introduced Dr. Forbes Norris, superintendent of schools, who gave the mothers a clear insight into the many school problems facing Winchester. He made a special plea that all parents read and consider carefully the Secondary School Report before town meeting and to consider what is best for the children and not how cheaply it can be done.

Mrs. Quentine Roberts then read the secretary's report and Mrs. George Farrar read the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Edward Peabody introduced the room mothers by asking them to rise.

Mrs. Richard Fisher explained the fund raising project, to be sponsored by the Association, as being a Children's Christmas Bazaar to be held in the Auditorium of the school December 13th, at 2:15. All gifts are to be under one dollar and there will be special tables where gifts may be purchased for each member of the family - old or young, male or female.

Mrs. Pasquale Bruno has formed a costume committee to build up a workable collection of costumes for school use.

Mrs. Burnham next introduced the principal, Miss Martha Cunningham, who complimented the mothers on their remarkable cooperation in school affairs. She stressed the need for a single set of standards for home and school so that life won't be made any more complex than it is for the child. She also requested that parents try to keep their dogs from following their children to school. The dogs find the numerous Parkhurst doors intriguing, but quite frequently do not care for other dogs they meet. Dog fights can be dangerous in or around a school. It would be best if the children did not arrive at school before 8:30 in the morning or 1:00 in the afternoon.

At the close of her talk Miss Cunningham demonstrated and explained the usefulness of the radios and phonographs bought last year by the Mothers' Association, while waiting for the other teachers to join the mothers for a social hour.

Tea was served by Mrs. George Herrick and her committee consisting of Mrs. Ronald Davis, Mrs. Paul Comins, Mrs. Benjamin Wild, Mrs. Frank Kelley, and Mrs. Robert Lowry. Mrs. Ronald Davis poured.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FAIR

All streets in Winchester will lead to the Centennial Fair at the First Congregational Church on November 15th and 16th. The numerous committees are busy as beavers making final plans and promise all sorts of unusual attractions as well as the usual features.

Shoppers will be able to purchase simple and useful gifts as well as something very choice for the most discriminating. Delicious home made foods and candy will tempt all appetites and a children's luncheon, snack bar and coffee bar will be special features.

The Country Shop will have exciting bargains in slightly used clothing and the chairmen of the White Elephant table have gathered an unusually fine group of treasures and will be glad to send out gift coupons. Mrs. Otis F. Hall (Mrs. Otis F. Hall, WI 6-2561 or Mrs. George E. Cannon, WI 6-2257-M

[illegible] Tuesday's [illegible] Christmas decorations early and [illegible] will be good [illegible] to have [illegible] be more careful during the long winter months.

A delicious home cooked luncheon will be served at noon on November 15th, priced at $1.25. Tickets for the affair may be obtained from Mrs. Carl J. Strangeo, WI 6-1575 or Mrs. John Tarbell, WI 6-0826-W.

The women of the church are striving to make the fair the ideal spot to do your Christmas shopping early, successfully and pleasantly.

FIELD HOCKEY NOTES

The WHS field hockey team has been playing a full schedule lately. On October 19, the girls trounced Lexington 5 - 1. Bette Kneeland, speedy center, scored all five points for Winchester with assists by Harris MacDonald, Jane Chiswell and June Ryan. Anna Fiorenza, center on the second team, made two goals for her team to blank the Lexington seconds 2 - 0. Last year Winchester was the first to defeat a strong Lexington team in four years by edging them 2 - 1.

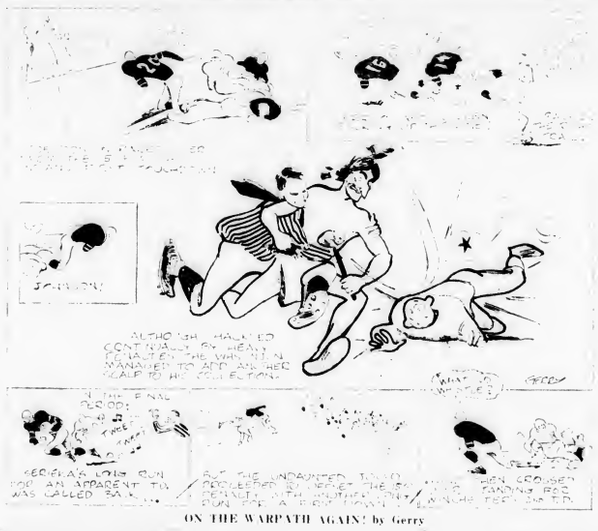

Braving icy winds in their first taste of cold weather on October 26, Winchester rolled over Belmont High 6 - 0. Bette Kneeland was again high scorer with three goals, followed by June Ryan with her first two of the year, and Jane Chiswell who accounted for one more. The second team won its first decisive victory over Belmont 3 - 0. Center forward Jan Easton drove across two of these while sophomore Sonia Smith made the third. Halfback Cynthia Nichols and goalie Callie Callahan shone on the defensive.

WHS took to the field again on October 31 against a strong Arlington team. The varsity game was fast and exciting, the crowd at the sidelines tense. Arlington scored first, early in the first half, but that ended the scoring for that half. In the second period Winchester tied up the game with a goal by Jane Chiswell. After that each side fought for the advantage but the game ended a tie although Winchester threatened in the closing minutes of the game. The seconds battled hard but only succeeded in tying with the same score. Gretchen Daschbach flipped the ball across for Winchester's tally, and Callie Callahan "saved" the day with her brilliant goalkeeping. It was the first time that either Arlington team had been scored against this year.

Mr. Dana M. Cotton of 5 Oneida road was one of a group of dinner guests recently at the Algonquin Club, Boston. Mr. Cotton is a member of the Advisory Council of the School of Practical Art in Boston and following the annual meeting was the dinner guest of President Alan W. Furber and Director Harold C. Pollock of the school.

Penalties and Fumbles Marred Poor Game

Winchester came back far enough to beat a ragged appearing Belmont High team, 13 - 0, Monday afternoon at Belmont in a game postponed from last Saturday because of rain. As usual with games postponed neither team had much fire and both were guilty of fumbles while the eager-beavers in the white pants seemed continually breaking up attempts to advance the ball with costly penalties against both teams, assessing Winchester a cool 70 yards and Belmont 50.

The Indians had the edge statistically, making 12 first downs to nine for Belmont and rushing for 231 yards to 150 for the big Red; and they were big on the rushline at least, with one burly back in True who gained a lot of ground through the weak middle of Winchester's line.

Neither team did anything much through the air. Winchester tried two passes, completing neither of them while Belmont in eight tries finally completed a pass for 13 yards and first down on the last play of the game. Each team fumbled three times, most of the bobbles being very costly.

The Indians scored the second time they came in possession. Starting at the Winchester 15 Johnson bulled his way through for a 1st down at the Belmont 45. A back in motion penalty set the locals back to midfield, but Johnson made up the penalty and five yards besides only to have Winchester lose another five for offside.

With the ball at the Belmont 45 Johnson was pulled down away back on Winchester's 44, but Donlon got away outside to the Belmont 43 and Johnson cracked off left tackle for a first down at the Belmont 33.

"Jocko" Sericka, on the first of several fine dashes outside, got down to the 15 for another first down and Johnson in two bucks reached the 12. Here Joe Donlon circled right end to go over for the touchdown, but Langdon Smith failed to kick in the extra point.

The Indians had another good scoring chance midway through the second period when a bad pass from center went over the Belmont kicker's head and he was just able to boot the ball back to the line of scrimmage, Winchester taking over at the 24.

Johnson on an outside play drove inside the 10 but fumbled when he was piled up and Belmont recovered.

Belmont ground out a first down and then kicked, Donlon booting the ball around down deep and finally getting out to his 32 yard line on some grand individual running.

"White pants" was in like a streak to assess Winchester 15 for clipping and the ball went back to Winchester's one yard line. Johnson and Sericka made it first down at the 18, Johnson added two and Michelsen sneaked for another four. Donlon then got away on a great gallop out to the 45, but "white pants" was in on the ball again to call an illegal use of hands penalty and the ball went back to the 16.

A five yarder against Belmont eased the strain but Sericka kicked short to his 30 and Belmont had a good chance to score. Two passes fell incomplete, however, as the half ended, though the second looked as if the Belmont boy lost the ball in the sun with a T. D. beckoning.

Belmont came back strong in the third period. Just after Sericka got away a swell punt from his own 32 to the Belmont 18, Winchester lost 15 yards for unnecessary roughness, giving the home team a first down on its 38. True busted through to the Winchester 47, but on the next play Crowley recovered a fumble, only to have Winchester fumble in turn and lose the ball at the Belmont 44.

Then "white pants" picked on Belmont with successive penalties of five yards for back in motion and 15 for illegal use of hands, putting the ball back on the 25.

Here Zola broke through the line and legged it all the way to Winchester's 30 where he was brought down by Sericka who climbed over a blocker to make the last ditch tackle.

True busted through for eight, but on the next play Belmont lost five for back in motion and on the next Sericka recovered a fumble to give Winchester the ball on the Indians' 26.

The locals couldn't go and True made a courageous running catch of Sericka's towering punt to get back to midfield. Mayo got nine in two thrusts at the line and True barely made a first down at Winchester's 39.

Three plays gained nothing, but on what looked like a pass on fourth down Zola circled to take the ball on a modified statue of liberty play and streak for a first down at the 28.

After Belmont ground out five yards at center the teams changed places for the final quarter and Winchester's defense stiffened, the Indians taking over at their 33.

From this point the Indians went all the way. Donlon picked up five in two tries and Michelsen on a bootleg made first down at the 44. Sericka whirled and drove to the Belmont 44 for first down, Johnson bucked for four and Joe Donlon literally bulled his way to the Belmont 26 for another.

Sericka picked up eight at tackle and Johnson got outside for a first down at the 14.

Donlon on an attempted sweep was dumped back on the 20, but on the next play got back to the 15, from where Sericka slid off his left tackle and picked his way neatly into the end zone.

Once again the whistle tooters were in there like a flash to assess Winchester 15 yards for illegal use of hands, the ball going back to the 30. Sericka, however, on some grand individual running with a couple of assisting blocks at the line of scrimmage, got all the way back to the 10, and then twisted and drove to a first down at the two.

On the next play "Jocko" sliced into the line over right tackle and went over standing up. There was an audible sigh of relief from the Winchester rooters when the officials let the play stand and Smith booted in the extra point.

Belmont made two first downs after Errico's long kickoff, advancing from its 28 to the Winchester 43 where the only good pass of the ballgame was completed as time ran out.

The play of Winchester's one dozen was very weak, especially in the second half, with Errico, Cullen, Sericka and Donlon stopping most of the Belmont runners at the line of scrimmage. The Indians were without the services of Bob Bolton, out with a leg injury, and Griffin, his number one substitute and regular kicker, was also out with a leg injury.

NEEDLE-WORK GUILD OF AMERICA

The twenty directors, their contributing members, and heads of welfare groups were rewarded when they met on Wednesday, November 8 on the annual distribution of gifts to needy families in town.

Hearts will be warm, when all these fresh new articles are received, since they show in tangible form the spirit of sharing, which is the keynote of the Guild.

The high mark of 766 articles was reached, and the variety, from infants' wear to sheets and blankets will supply many needs.

Samples may be seen in Miss Tilley's Lingerie Shop at 36 Church street. Mrs. Wiklund, our new supervisor of Nursing brought us a clear picture of the work done here in Winchester, bringing comfort and help, courage and healing in time of illness.

Tea was served by Mrs. Robert Armstrong and helpers.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY UNIT 97

Bring all your friends to the Turkey Bridge and Whist on Monday evening, November 20, at the Legion Home. An enjoyable and profitable evening is planned with many excellent prizes and a chance to get your Thanksgiving Turkey, so don't miss it. This promises to be our best Bridge Party of the year.

There will be a Blood Donor Party in December. All members who have participated in these parties before as well as those who wish to give their first donation are urged to take part in this very worthwhile project. Call Dot Mc Cormack if you are interested and receive further details.

Middlesex County Conference to be held in Winchester on Saturday, November 25. Keep this date in mind.

MOUNT HOLYOKE BOOK TALK

[illegible] Tuesday, November 7 in the Art Room of the Public Library. Her next Book Talk will be on Tuesday, December 5 at ten a. m. in the same place and will deal with "Books to give for Christmas."

Mrs. Bond, thinking perhaps that people have to be led by the hand for an introduction to books of humor, spoke briefly of "Fractured French", a book of pictures, well-known French phrases and very free translations of them; and then of "Best Humor of 1949 - 50"

BLITHE SPIRIT

A three-act comedy by Noel Coward. Presented by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire under the direction of Harlan F. Grant on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 2, 3 and 4, with Mrs. Otis Hammett as production chairman and the following cast:

Edith .... Barbara Hammond
Ruth Condomine .. Marion T. Blake
Charles Condomine ... Henry K. Fitts
Dr. Bradman ... Robert P. Blake
Mrs. Bradman ... Constance B. Hessler
Madame Arcati ... Constance Elrod Morrill
Elvira .... Nancy E. Worthen

When the Parish Players chose "Blithe Spirit" to open their silver jubilee season they selected a play that needs a bit of doing. Consequently their smooth-moving, excellently paced production is the more to their credit. Whether you liked the play or not, and most of the audiences seemed to, it was mighty well done, by an invariably good cast who succeeded quite well in making the rather silly story almost convincing.

"Blithe Spirit," though to be sure she didn't seem very blithe most of the time, is the deceased wife of one Charles Condomine, who is conjured back to earth at a seance at her ex-husband's home, and once back, is unable to return to the spirit world, to the intense discomfort of the succeeding Mrs. Condomine.

To get her former husband for herself again the ghost-wife, who is visible and audible only to her husband, plans to kill him, but her plans come a cropper when the earthly Mrs. Condomine is killed in the automobile accident the spirit-wife had planned for Charles.

The newly-dead wife also returns to earth and Mr. Condomine is harassed by his two ghostly ex-spouses until the medium who brought back the first of the spirit women finally succeeds in wafting both back to "the other side."

There you have it! You can imagine the possibilities, one way or the other! Well done, as the Players did it, the show had a lot of sparkle, humorous situations, clever satirical dialogue and sustained interest. Poorly handled it could just as easily have been, as the plagued Mrs. Condomine suggested to her husband in one of their discussions of the returned spirit-wife, "something you ate!"

The play revolves around Charles, the much wanted husband, and as played by Mr. Fitts, he was in very capable hands. New to the Players, Mr. Fitts established himself in favor at once with a well rounded performance that only a slight stiffness in carriage at times prevented from being perfection. Further casting of Mr. Fitts will be eagerly awaited. He has a fine stage presence, spontaneity and an excellent voice. The Players have cashed up another nugget.

Equally high praise can be lavished on the remaining members of the cast, particularly Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Morrill. As Ruth, the earthly wife fighting a duel for her [illegible] and with a ghost, Mrs. Blake gave her usual splendid reading of one of the play's leading roles, her attempt to sooth her harassed husband after her earlier belligerency being neatly handled. As the medium, Madame Arcati, Mrs. Morrill had a wide scope for the humorous, but she was careful to keep her characterization in perspective and not to make her presentation too ridiculous. She contributed much to the play, as did Miss Hammond, the maid, whose handling of the difficult hypnotizing scene was well done. It surely helps to have the lesser roles at production level.

Mr. Blake and Mrs. Hessler as Dr. and Mrs. Bradman did well the little that was asked of them though Mrs. Hessler might well have made her pleasant sounding voice a bit more distinct.

This leaves "Blithe Spirit," or Elvira, played by Mrs. Worthen. It was good to see her, and to hear her again, even in such a strange role; one that needed skilled handling to maintain on the high comedy plane.

She did well by the spirit wife, so well indeed that many a mere man has probably been boning up on spiritualism. If there are gals like "Blithe Spirit" in the spirit world, then "Death, where is thy sting!"

"Blithe Spirit" was well staged. John MacLellan's set was so attractive it got an enthusiastic hand as the opening curtains parted. Makeup and lighting were all right. So was business, and what an added "umph" the Saturday performance got when the glass candlestick was blown from the foyer table at just the psychological moment as Waldo Bond helpfully opened a window for a breath of fresh air.

The hall was terribly hot Saturday and the show twenty minutes late getting started. Waits between scenes seemed inexcusably long, and the audience, straggling back from the coffee hour marred the opening of the final act.

EPIPHANY CHURCH BAZAAR

If you should happen to [illegible] day and see a large [illegible] turning paddles, you will be witnessing the climax of [illegible] easy preparation and fun which the ladies of Epiphany Church have put into their annual bazaar. The two energetic and capable Chairmen, Mrs. A. P. Aitken and Mrs. William Holden, will no doubt be found somewhere on the premises looking [illegible] as they survey their handiwork and that of their committee members.

SECOND CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Collins, 265 Main street have just received a cablegram from Bamberg, Germany, announcing the arrival of a second child, a daughter, Carol Ann to Lieutenant and Mrs. Edward F. Crowley. Mrs. Crowley is the former Rita Collins. Mr. and Mrs. Collins are quite proud having a granddaughter; they already have four grandsons.

Winchester voted "no" on all the liquor referendum proposals and was against increasing the old age assistance, State lottery, flat rate for automobile insurance, and pari-mutuel betting on licensed horse and dog racing. The town was for clarifying the date when State incumbents take office and the succession in office in the event of the death of the governor; also for increasing the names necessary to put initiative and referendum petitions on the ballot and to continue federal rent control until next June.

Following is the election summary:

ROTARY NEWS

The speaker last Thursday at Rotary Club was Dr. A. Warren Stearns, former commissioner of correction for the state and the present medical director of the State Farm at Bridgewater as well as professor of sociology at Tufts College. Dr. Stearns spoke on 'Crime Problems' using the analogy of medical development to the development in handling the crime problem. He said that the usual reaction to either sickness or poverty was one of pity or sympathy whereas in crime there was no such reaction and certainly not one of sympathy. Yet many of our present-day problems in crime stem from almost pure medical reasons in the field of public health. The present day attitude of retaliation has not changed down through the ages, but has merely been modified.

There is a definite ratio between the manner of living conditions and crime. Likewise there is a definite ratio between playground area and juvenile crime. Broken homes are the largest single factor in producing young criminals. Dr. Stearns pointed out, however, that today there are many attempts being made in the scientific world to aid criminals in obtaining a respectable status after sentences have been served.

Our two new Junior Rotarians were present at this meeting. They are Gordon Bird, Jr., and John Foley, for the first half of this year.

The awakening to see man's immortality, experienced more and more through Christ-like thinking and living, will be the central topic of the service held in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Mortals and Immortals."

The Apostle Paul's statement from I Corinthians (15:48) constitutes the Golden Text: "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly."

Among the selections contained in the Lesson-Sermon are these:

From the Bible (King James Version): "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Philippians 4:8).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: [illegible] We [illegible] and noble lives [illegible] goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love — the kingdom of heaven — reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear" (p. 248).

Annual Memorial Mass Saturday

The K. of C. annual Memorial Mass for deceased members of the council will be held at St. Mary's Church on Saturday, November 11, at 9:00 a. m. The mass will be celebrated by the Council Chaplain, Rev. John P. O'Riordan, Pastor of St. Mary's. All members are urged to attend the church service. At the recent meeting of the Council, P. G. K. Thibeault and G. K. Boyle made pleas for a fine turnout.

Barn Dance

The K. of C. Barn Dance took place at the council Hall on Friday evening, November 3. A three-piece musical aggregation consisting of Bucky Doherty of Woburn on the sax, Herb Cleary, Winchester's own, on the piano, and Bob Fiore of the K. of C. on the drums, provided the music for dancing. The Hall was gaily decorated in a fall "motif" with streamers and balloons galore extending from corner to corner, all the result of the tireless work of the Committee Chairman, Coleman G. Foley, Jr.; Bill Daily and Rob Fiore. These gentlemen worked several hours on the decorations commencing in the afternoon. Brother Jimmy Cullen entertained with his harmonica and dancing while Mrs. Cullen sang.

Red Feather Campaign

The Council voted a donation to this worthy cause at the recent meeting.

Those Blood Donations

The council is asked again to volunteer as many as possible for blood donors to meet the Bloodmobile on December 1 from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. at the Congregational Church. Contact Charles Craven right away.

Bowling

P. G. K. Barnard announced that there are 12 teams in the K. of C. League and urged that from henceforth all members of the bowling teams get down to the Bowling Alleys on time. He also announced that there would be refreshments after the matches.

4th Degree Coming

An exemplification of the 4th degree will take place Sunday, November 12, at the Copley Plaza in Boston. This degree is open to 3rd degree members and it is interesting to note that Winchester Council has a total of 68 members who are members of the 4th degree with three more slated to be included in this select group on Sunday.

The O'Rourkes Entertain

Ted and Phil O'Rourke entertained the members at the recent meeting with their "stock in trade," fine harmony singing. Phil was a guest at the meeting and belongs to Holy Cross Council, K. of C. Brother Ted is soon to say "Hello" to Uncle Sam.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters met at the home of Mrs. Earl Carter on November 1st. Mr. Elliot Boardman, Assistant Cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank, was the speaker. He showed charts covering the span of many years of industrial production; wholesale prices; total consumer credit in use; installment credit; factory employment and factory payrolls; and the national debt. He spoke of the fear that production might drop sharply after World War II contracts had been terminated, but because of the accumulated demand for houses, automobiles, radios, television sets, etc., production again began to expand.

The ending of price controls combined with shortages of many consumer items, increasing wage rates and greater consumer incomes resulted in a spiral of inflation. The regulations which have again been imposed to decrease consumer credit should help curb inflation. The national debt of the United States, which hit a World War II peak of 280 billion dollars, is currently about 260 billion dollars, and is likely to increase during the next 18 months principally because of expenditures for our military establishment.

Pastor and associates at dinner. Wilson Armstrong, Donald Maxwell, Milton Gallucio (chairman, standing), Harry Dyson, Rev. Snook, Bruce Tallman and Vincent P. Clarke.

Methodism's carefully planned program in the Advance for Christ and His Church is gaining momentum, with the emphasis on "Our Church." The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church in Winchester, Mass., stepped into the "swing of spiritual things" when 30 men responded to the pastor's plea in the Action Program in Evangelism, as the church endeavor to fill its quota for membership this year.

Every man in the local church who accepts the challenge and becomes active in the visitation program of evangelism, automatically becomes a pastor's associate.

The pastor, the Rev. John Snook, Jr., says that the church will conduct at least two programs of visitation during the year. Twelve of the associates will take charge of the six precincts in town.

GLEE CLUB INVITES NEW SPONSORING MEMBERS

Letters are now in the mail to the many supporters of the Mystic Glee Club of Winchester, inviting them to become Sponsoring Members of the Club, on to renew old memberships. It has been the intention of the committee to include on the list the names of all people in the several communities who have indicated an interest in the Club and its concerts.

The Sponsoring Member plan was started several years ago at the suggestion of some of the Club's supporters, and has proved most satisfactory, both to the Club and to the Sponsors. Sponsoring Members receive two tickets to each of the Club's two formal concerts, in December and in the Spring. During the past few years the concerts have been almost completely subscribed by this method. Persons interested in receiving an invitation, and who have not received one within the next few days should write to The Mystic Glee Club, Box 1, Winchester.

Several new applicants for active Singing Membership in the Club were present at the last of rehearsal. Following Voice Tests, their applications will be considered by the Voice Committee, and announcement of the names of those admitted will be made.

The program being rehearsed for the December concert in Winchester is rapidly taking shape, and promises to be one of the best of recent years. Two very interesting new spirituals are included, and several numbers in the light and humorous vein, in addition to the more serious selections and the new traditional group of Christmas songs and carols.

SHERMAN M. DODGE MEN'S CLUB

The night of November 13, at 8 p. m. the Sherman M. Dodge Men's Club will hold its annual square dance at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Mr. Charles Tolman of Arlington, who has appeared at the church several times, will do the calling for the dance. Cider and doughnuts will be served for refreshments.

All club members and friends are invited to attend this evening

HOLY NAME TO HEAR LAY SPEAKER

On Sunday morning, November 12th, the members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society will attend the 8:00 o'clock mass and receive Holy Communion in a body.

During the mass the new members will be received and regular members will renew their Holy Name Pledge. Community hymn singing will be led by Music Director Edward J. McDevitt.

After the church services the men will adjourn to Lyceum Hall in Winchester Square for light breakfast which will be in charge of Refreshment Chairman Coleman G. Foley, Jr., aided by Michael J. Connolly, Society Delegate. During this breakfast period, entertainment will be provided by Herb Cleary at the Piano, Newt Purrington on the Accordian and County Commissioner Jimmy Cullen. The guest speaker is a distinguished lay man, Charles Birmingham of St. Agnes Parish, Arlington, well known attorney, whose subject, "The Church and the Negro" promises to be of much interest.

Mr. Birmingham graduated from Boston College in 1910 and from Boston University Law School in 1916. Former president of the Catholic Inter-Racial Council of New York City, he is presently Professor of the Philosophy of Law at Suffolk Law School and is a former lecturer at Boston College, and at the Law Schools of Boston College and Boston University.

During the past two weeks the Precinct Chairmen and their assistants have been canvassing the entire town distributing membership cards and collecting annual dues. Many new members have joined the Society and we urge any men who perhaps have not been called on, to come to the services next Sunday, November 12th and join the Holy Name Group. They are most welcome. The precinct Chairmen are: General Chairman Eric W. Johnson, Vice President of the H. N. S. Chairman; Joseph H. Foley; Precinct 1, Philip Savage; Precinct 2, Herbert J. Cleary; Precinct 3, James O'Connor; Precinct 4, Joseph Moran; Precinct 5, Normand Phaneuf; Precinct 6, Charles Haggerty. Former President William A. Croughwell who is an official for the entire South Middlesex Area no doubt will be proud of his home community when the results of this drive are published.

Mrs. Marshall Fay and Mrs. Archie Anderson have returned to their home in Western Springs, Ill. after visiting with Mrs. Robert Fay of Park avenue.

The time the children got lost

"I couldn't imagine what had happened to my niece and nephew. They were to have met their uncle on a certain street corner, but when he got there, the children were nowhere in sight. And they didn't turn up at home, either."

For almost two hours Mrs. Howard waited. Frantically she had telephoned every place she could think of . . . and notified the police. When there was nothing more she could do, she sat and stared out through the rain-blurred window into the gathering darkness.

"Suddenly the telephone rang. I ran to answer it with my heart pounding. It was a man—a stranger who had noticed the children crying as they waited on the wrong street corner. They were safe.

"When I put the receiver down I actually patted it.

"The telephone can bring so much peace of mind—so quickly—and yet costs so little."

(An actual incident as related by Mrs. Mary D. Howard of 5 Elston Road, Waltham, Mass.)

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, was held Wednesday evening in the General Committee Room of the Town Hall. Next year's fund campaign was discussed.

Winchester Gray Ladies began their duties at the Winchester Hospital last Sunday. A Gray Lady will be in attendance every afternoon and evening.

The Motor Corps made two trips to the Children's Hospital this week; one of them for physiotherapy treatment for a little girl stricken with polio. Last week the Corps made two trips to Massachusetts General Hospital.

A great impetus was given to the drive for blood for the American Red Cross today, when it was announced that plans were being worked out with the cooperation of 50 units of the National Guard not yet activated—which would provide about 8,000 new blood donors. A few hours will be reserved by many local units on the day when the Bloodmobile visits towns where there are National Guard units.

Three shipments of 4,000 pints of whole blood has been shipped to Philadelphia, where it will be fractioned and shipped as plasma to the Armed Forces.

Self-help is the most important thing in Civilian Defense. If we learn to help ourselves, then we can help others. A person who knows what to do never becomes panicky during a disaster. Evacuation plans are now being made for all the hospitals; bed patients first, ambulatory next. Home aides will play a big part in case of a bombing attack.

Industry is being mobilized for blood donations. The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, and twenty-seven others are sending a few donors a day to the Regional Blood Center in Boston.

Since we only have 1 30th of the amount of blood needed for stockpiling, it is a great spurt to have industry take such an active interest.

About 12,500 pints per month are needed, as against 6,251 pints collected last month. That's why we should all make a special effort to be on hand to donate a pint of blood when the Bloodmobile visits Winchester on December 1. For your appointment call Winchester 6-2300 your local Red Cross Chapter.

Fourth Grade Tea

On Wednesday afternoon, November 1, Mrs. John Catrone of 120 Loring avenue graciously opened her home for a tea in honor of the mothers of the fourth grade and Miss Mary Sullivan, fourth grade teacher.

Miss Lenore Rich, principal, presided at the attractive tea table, the mothers enjoying a social hour before the discussion period.

Miss Rich and Miss Sullivan took charge of the "Question and Answer Box", in which the mothers took an active part. The importance of history was stressed by Miss Rich; also the marking of report cards was brought up. Mrs. Harrison McLeod, room mother, had charge of arrangements and she was assisted by Mrs. Walter Meehan and Mrs. Mary Mazzarella.

Mrs. Lawrence Donlin of 70 Hemingway street was hostess to the teachers and mothers of the second grade at a tea on Thursday afternoon, November 2. Miss Sheehan, Young and Miss Mary Doherty shared honors as guest teachers.

A most delightful social hour was held previous to the discussion period. Miss Lenore Rich poured.

Many problems pertaining to the growth and habits of the second grade child were discussed. Miss Rich again spoke on report cards and everyday courtesies.

Mrs. Alfred Poole, room mother, had charge of arrangements and she was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Collins, Mrs. Frank Doherty, Mrs. Ralph Marchesi and Mrs. George Sauerman.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Ruth F. Graham's combination third and fourth grade has started in the field of journalism, and it is now putting out a newspaper every Friday.

A trip to the Woburn Public Library highlighted the combination fourth grade's week. The children were very interested to see so many of the things about which they had been studying. However, the old-fashioned kitchen was the center of attraction.

"Flat Boat Pioneers," a movie about the early settlers, inspired Grade six students as they began a new unit in social studies. They are preparing a unit on pioneers who moved west.

Busy were the students of Grade five as they were finishing up a unit on rocks and minerals for science and one concerning Columbus and his hardships. Safety on Hallowe'en was discussed.

A lively discussion took place among the students of Miss Barbara Haley's second grade and Mrs. Eleanor Wells' third grade. The discussion concerned the topic, "How the pupils of George Washington might become better citizens." The reason for this discussion was the filmstrip on good citizenship.

DADS NIGHT AT THE GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

On Tuesday evening, November 7th, George Washington School held Open House especially for its Dads who have little opportunity, if ever, to visit their children's classrooms and talk with the teachers, during the day.

The classrooms were gay with paintings and handwork done by the pupils, and on each child's desk an attractive folder was displayed, filled with samples of his classroom work.

Following inspection of the rooms, the parents gathered in the auditorium where they were welcomed by Mrs. Thomas Purtle, President of the Washington Mothers' Association, who then introduced Mrs. Robert Holland, Chairman of the Program Committee.

Mrs. Holland was very fortunate in obtaining as her guest speaker, Mr. Gordon MacKinnon, teacher of the Dale Carnegie Course at Babcock, who gave a most inspiring and thought-provoking talk entitled: "They Know not Joseph."

In his talk he referred back to the days of King Pharaoh when Joseph, by his excellent government, was instrumental in making Egypt the richest, most influential country of that time. However, when Joseph's good government precepts were not adhered to, Egypt's power diminished. He compared America of to-day with Egypt in its richness and influence, but pointed out that, even as Egypt was undone by wrong governing of itself, so might any nation be. For a nation or an individual to become and remain a success, Mr. MacKinnon stressed four essentials:

I The Absence of Fear
II The Need to be different.
III Sincerity.
IV Enthusiasm.

Guided by these essentials, Mr. MacKinnon feels that it cannot be said of us, as individuals or nations, that "We Knew Not Joseph".

Following Mr. MacKinnon's talk, Mr. Charles Jellison who serves both on the Junior, Senior High Building Committee, and the School Committee, gave an interesting report on the progress being made by the Junior, Senior High Building Committee.

Light refreshments were then served by Mrs. Donald Abbott and her social committee.

BAPTIST MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will speak to the Men's Brotherhood at 9:30 Sunday morning, November 12th, on "The Church Thanks of Her Laymen".

Sunday, November 19th, the monthly Brotherhood Breakfast will be held at 8:45, when Dr. Forbes Norris will be the speaker. The ladies are to be the Brotherhood guests at this breakfast and it is hoped many of them will join the men in this friendly fellowship hour.

The Brotherhood, Mr. Seymour Bingham, President, has an active program planned for the year and all men are cordially invited to be a part of it.

Miss Barbara Vincent of Manchester road is to be maid of honor and Mr. Frank H. Jary, Jr., of Lloyd street, one of the ushers at the marriage of Miss Mary Lyman Osgood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Osgood of Marblehead, to Thomas Snowden Malcolm on Friday evening, November 17, at the Tabernacle Church in Salem.

NOONAN SCHOOL TEAS

Fourth Grade Tea

On Wednesday afternoon, November 1, Mrs. John Carbone of 129 Loring avenue graciously opened her home for a tea in honor of the mothers of the fourth grade and Miss Mary Sullivan, fourth grade teacher.

Miss Lenore Rich, principal, presided at the attractive tea table, the mothers enjoying a social hour before the discussion period.

Miss Rich and Miss Sullivan took charge of the "Question and Answer Box", in which the mothers took an active part. The importance of history was stressed by Miss Rich; also the marking of report cards was brought up. Mrs. Harrison McLeod, room mother, had charge of arrangements and she was assisted by Mrs. Walter Meehan and Mrs. Mary Mazzarella.

Second Grade Tea

Mrs. Lawrence Donlin of 70 Hemingway street was hostess to the teachers and mothers of the second grade at a tea on Thursday afternoon, November 2. Miss Sheilah Young and Miss Mary Doherty shared honors as guest teachers.

A most delightful social hour was held previous to the discussion period. Mrs. Lenore Rich poured.

Many problems pertaining to the growth and habits of the second grade child were discussed. Miss Rich again spoke on report cards and every day routines.

Mrs. Alfred Poole, room mother, had charge of arrangements and she was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Collins, Mrs. Frank Doherty, Mrs. Ralph Marchesi and Mrs. George Sauerman.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Ruth F. Graham's combination third and fourth grade has started in the field of journalism, and it is now putting out a newspaper every Friday.

A trip to the Woburn Public Library highlighted the combination fourth grade's week. The children were very interested to see so many of the things about which they had been studying. However, the old-fashioned kitchen was the center of attraction.

"Flat Boat Pioneers," a movie about the early settlers, inspired Grade six students as they began a new unit in social studies. They are preparing a unit on pioneers who moved west.

Busy were the students of Grade five as they were finishing up a unit on rocks and minerals for science and one concerning Columbus and his hardships. Safety on Hallowe'en was discussed.

A lively discussion took place among the students of Miss Barbara Haley's second grade and Mrs. Eleanor Wells' third grade. The discussion concerned the topic, "How the pupils of George Washington might become better citizens." The reason for this discussion was the filmstrip on good citizenship.

DADS NIGHT AT THE GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

On Tuesday evening, November 7th, George Washington School held Open House especially for its Dads who have little opportunity, if ever, to visit their children's classrooms and talk with the teachers, during the day.

The classrooms were gay with paintings and handwork done by the pupils, and on each child's desk an attractive folder was displayed, filled with samples of his class room work.

Following inspection of the rooms, the parents gathered in the auditorium where they were welcomed by Mrs. Thomas Partle, President of the Washington Mothers' Association, who then introduced Mrs. Robert Holland, Chairman of the Program Committee.

Mrs. Holland was very fortunate in obtaining as our guest speaker, Mr. Gordon MacKinnon, teacher of the Dale Carnegie Course at Boylston, who gave a most inspiring and thought-provoking talk entitled: "They Know not Joseph". In his talk he referred back to the days of King Pharaoh when Joseph, by his excellent government, was instrumental in making Egypt the richest, most influential country of that time. However, when Joseph's good government precepts were not adhered to, Egypt's power diminished. He compared America of to-day with Egypt in its richness and influence, but pointed out that, even as Egypt was undone by wrong governing of itself, so might any nation be, or a nation or an individual to become and remain a success. Mr. MacKinnon stressed four essentials:

I The Absence of Fear
II The Need to be different.
III Sincerity.
IV Enthusiasm.

Guided by these essentials, Mr. MacKinnon feels that it cannot be said of us, as individuals or nations, that "We Knew Not Joseph".

Following Mr. MacKinnon's talk, Mr. Charles Jollison who serves both on the Junior, Senior High Building Committee, and the School Committee, gave an interesting report on the progress being made on the Junior, Senior High Building Committee.

Light refreshments were then served by Mrs. Donald Abbott and her social committee.

WAGE INCREASE FOR TOWN EMPLOYEES

Recommended for March Town Meeting With January First Dating

At a meeting of the Public Works Council held at the Town Hall last week and attended by heads of the various town departments it was recommended that the important question of increases in wages to town employees be given consideration at the annual town meeting in March. This action was taken in response to a petition for wage increases and which was expected to come before the town at the coming special meeting.

The action of the council would make any action by the annual town meeting retroactive to January 1st. Since any action at the coming special meeting could not go into effect until 1951, an increase in pay would not immediately take place. Furthermore the time given for consideration by the Finance Committee would be too short for careful consideration.

The Council voted that:

"The subject matter of the petition for wage increases be presented to the special Town Meeting to be held November 30th. The Public Works Council would recommend that further consideration be postponed until the annual town meeting in March 1951 and that any adjustment voted at that time be made retroactive to January 1, 1951."

This action resulted from several points brought out in the discussion. It was noted that even if an adjustment were voted in a 1950 meeting the law provides that it could not be paid in 1951 until the necessary appropriation from the tax levy was voted at the annual town meeting.

It was thought that one of the reasons for presenting the petitions in advance of the regular meeting was concern over a possible "wage freeze." It was pointed out that during the last period when prices and wages were controlled, municipal wages were not included in the control order.

The Council felt also that the subject should be given serious thought and study and that a retroactive adjustment made next March probably would be more equitable than one hastily made now.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

After weeks of intense preparation, final plans have been completed for the "Acquaintance Party and Reception" to the new members of St. Mary's Sodality.

This is the first "Get-Together" social since the reorganization of the Blessed Virgin Sodality a few years ago, and the enjoyable affair will be held on Tuesday evening, November 21st, in the Music Room of St. Mary's School immediately after a very brief meeting in the lower Church at 7:45 p. m.

A short program of entertainment has been arranged and refreshments will be served. For some time now, the members have looked forward to a social gathering of this nature since it will furnish an opportunity for mutual introductions among themselves. An exceptionally large number are expected to be on hand for the occasion.

The present and past officers who assisted in the arrangements to insure the success of the evening are: Prefect, Mrs. Margaret Murray; Asst., Mrs. Marion Manoli; Treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Connor; Secretary, Mrs. Mary Gorman and Past Prefects, Miss Sadie Foley and Mrs. Gertrude Barry.

Members of the Sodality are also reminded that the Organization will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass on next Sunday, November 19th, and a special section of the middle aisle will be reserved for this purpose. All are requested to make a special effort to attend.

JOHN W. SMITH

NEW MEMBER, BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS

John W. Smith, Jr., of 28 Fells road, recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of Kenneth F. Caldwell on the Board of Park Commissioners, is the son of John W. Smith of Sheffield road, vice president of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

The new commissioner has lived in town since his boyhood and while attending Winchester High School played first base on the varsity baseball team back in the coaching days of Wendell Mansfield. He later attended Deerfield Academy and was a member of the class of 1942 at Dartmouth when he left college to enter the Army.

Mr. Smith was elected to the town's Recreation Committee last March. Better known as "Bill", he has been active in the local recreation program and has managed one of the teams of the Community Softball League. He is married to the former Margaret C. "Peggy" Coulson of this town.

ONE WEEK TO GO!

Charles Butler, local head of the Red Feather Campaign announced that $43,402.15 is the total subscription today, this represents 75% of the total, so if you haven't been solicited or haven't given, please get your money in by Thanksgiving.

Time is running out. With but six days to go before the close of the Red Feather campaign on Thanksgiving Eve, volunteer leaders are deeply concerned over the outcome. Unless every one of the 94 communities and campaign units make their respective goals, failure will inevitably be the result.

While pointing with pride to the few units which have won through to success, these leaders exhort their fellow citizens to uphold the true Yankee tradition of caring for their own. The Metropolitan Boston community cannot afford to let their neighbors and themselves down, they declare.

This is the season of Thanksgiving. The generosity of the people of this community in giving unsolicited Red Feather dollars, and giving more where they can, will make it a real Thanksgiving. Even a little sacrifice of some coveted luxury would help turn the tables. Now is the time to demonstrate thankfulness for the blessings of living in a free country, for the Red Feather hospitals, the visiting nurses, the youth leaders, the family counselors - all at the call of everyone.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Geerts of 36 Calumet road announce the engagement of their daughter, Jaclyn, to Walter Garrett Snel, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garrett Snel of Macopin, New Jersey. Miss Geerts graduated from Winchester High School, the Brimmer and May School and Centenary Junior College, and is now employed by the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Mr. Snel graduated from Butler High School and Syracuse University. At present he is employed by the Friden Calculating Machine Company in New York City.

MYSTIC SCHOOL ACCEPTED

Paying tribute to the spirit of cooperation that has made the Mystic School Addition a reality, community leaders accepted from Contractor Romeo Vara the keys to the new building last Wednesday evening.

On the occasion of Open House at the Mystic school, in the presence of a full auditorium of parents, teachers, and other interested citizens, Chairman John A. Volpe presided over a brief ceremony and during which keys to the building were passed through the hands of Contractor Vara to Architect Frank W. Crimp and to Mr. Volpe, who formally presented the building to the Town of Winchester.

In a brief acceptance speech, Chairman Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., of the Board of Selectmen accepted the school addition for the Town and turned the keys over to Chairman Howard R. Bartlett of the School Committee.

Calling the new construction an example of what can be done when people work together, and expressing the hope that all building problems can be solved as well, Mr. Bartlett finally handed over the keys to Principal Joseph Forte, who promised to see to it that the school would be put to its best use.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Volpe told the history of the Mystic School and the increasing enrollment which made the new structure necessary. He praised the work of the Mothers' Association in making an accurate survey of the child population, of Dr. Forbes H. Norris for his assistance in the planning, of the teachers for carrying on during the year of construction, and the work of his committee that had resulted in the functional new addition housing six classrooms, an administrative office, health office and waiting room, kitchen, teachers' room, and an enlarged auditorium.

Visitors were interested in the color scheme, similar to that used in the Parkhurst school, and also recommended by Professor Kepes. Walls of the new corridors are finished shoulder high in glazed tile. All floors are of asphalt tile, and lighting is supplied by indirect incandescent ceiling fixtures.

Built in such a way as not to encroach on the play area, the new wing houses at its extreme southerly end two large kindergarten rooms equipped with movable furniture, climbing and building apparatus, adequate storage and work space. Besides the modern artificial lighting, the kindergarten rooms have glass brick walls on the east and west sides respectively. The south wall of each kindergarten is a tremendous clear glass window. Between these two rooms is a corridor serving as a cloak room and leading to the southern exit at grade.

The other new classrooms, besides having at least one glass brick wall and being spacious and well equipped with shelves and storage space, have work rooms containing lavatory and drinking fountain, and set off from the main room by a panel wall made largely of windows. Easels in these rooms indicated one phase of the work carried on in them. Adequate bulletin boards on three sides of the rooms were abundantly supplied with instructional material and specimens of the children's work.

Teachers in their classrooms explained their work and consulted with parents before and after the acceptance ceremony.

On the stage with the speakers were members of the Building Committee, Earl G. Carrier, Marion N. Chandler, Earle F. Littleton, and Rowland V. Patrick; Selectmen Harry E. Chefalo, Richard C. Cunningham, and Harrison Lyman, Jr.; School Committeeman Charles Jellison; and Town Moderator Philip Wadsworth, who appointed the Builiding Committee. Dr. Forbes H. Norris, Superintendent of Schools, was unable to remain for the entire program because of a speaking engagement at the Noonan School Open House.

SHIRLEY BONNELL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Bonnell of Fells road announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley H. Bonnell, to Charles F. Doe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Doe of Cambridge.

Miss Bonnell was graduated from Winchester High School and from Lasell Junior College. Mr. Doe attended Kimball Union Academy and served in the Armed Forces in the European Theatre in 1945 - 46. A winter wedding is planned.

Just take your tree, wreaths or greens to the rear of the Station off the Winchester place parking area and the firemen will do the rest.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED

Winchester's veterans of World War I and II observed Armistice Day last Saturday, their observance commencing the night before with the resumption of the Legion's Pre-Armistice Day Ball at the Town Hall. The attendance was disappointing, and those who stayed away missed a nice party.

The hall was most attractive looking with its decorations of bunting and red-white-and-blue streamers. A large cluster of balloons was suspended in the center of the hall, to be released during the special balloon dance. Preceding the dancing the Winchester High School Band in their colorful scarlet and black uniforms played a program of marches and patriotic airs from the stage under the direction of Legionnaire Fred Felmet.

A nine o'clock, as the band played a medley of World War I music, the Colors of Middlesex County American Legion were carried into the hall, followed by those of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion; Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars; George A. Campbell Post, 101, American Legion, of Woburn; Tewksbury Post, 259, American Legion; and Burlington Post, 273, American Legion.

In a colorful ceremony the flags were posted along the front of the stage and while the color bearers and guards stood regidly at attention the band played the "Star Spangled Banner" as all in the hall rose to their feet and those in uniform stood at salute.

Bernie Gould's Orchestra played for the dancing which included several specialty numbers for which prizes were awarded. At 11 o'clock there was a Grand March, led by Post Comanmder Lester C. Gustin, Jr., and Mrs. Gustin, followed by County and Post officers and their ladies.

Commander Gustin was ex-officio head of the committee in charge of arrangements, the other members being Senior Vice Commander Joseph McKee, President Rita Meek of the Auxiliary to Post 97, A. L.; Past President Ruby McKee, Lola Bennett and Fred Felmet.

Dedication Ceremony

Armistice Day at 10:30 the Legion's new flag and flagpole were dedicated at the Post Headquarters on Vine street. Commander Gustin officiated at the dedication ceremony, and the new Colors were raised for the first time by Roland K. Colgate and Norman Clark.

The flag is the gift to the Post of Frank A. Edwards of Vine street, and the new steel flagpole was presented to the Post by Past Commander Richard Parkhurst. It stood originally at the home of Past Commander Parkhurst's father, the late Lewis Parkhurst, on Oak Knoll, and was cut down with an acetylene torch by Commander Mark Kelley of Aberjona Post, VFW, a member of the Winchester Park Department. Park Department men, headed by Superintendent Stanley Mullen, took the pole to the Legion house and set it up under the direction of a professional rigger and steeple-jack.

Memorial Decorated

At the tradition hour of 11 in the forenoon details of Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars esorted their Colors and color guards to the World War Memorial Monument on the High School lot where simple ceremonies were held.

Commander Gustin and Past Commander John Horn led the Legion and Veterans' details, and placed wreaths at the base of the statue. Then as 11 o'clock struck two trumpeters from the Winchester High School Band, Ed Tarr and Todd Wallis, sounded echo taps. Preceding the brief ceremony and at its conclusion Mary Ranton Witham played appropriate selections on the Downs Memorial Chime of Bells at the Unitarian Church.

Afternoon Ceremony

Between the halves of the Winchester-Wakefield football game on Manchester Field Armistice Day afternoon the Winchester High School Band faced the home stands and formed two large crosses, such as those used to mark soldiers' graves, standing quietly in this formation while one of their trumpeters sounded taps. Fans in both stands stood with bared heads during the simple but very effective ceremony.

FOSTER PLAN DISCUSSED

More than 300 went to the high school Wednesday evening for the public discussion of the Foster Plan for solving the problem of adequate high and junior high school facilities and providing traffic relief in the center.

Harold Bates of Lewis road presided and the plan was first described by its author, Architect Jerome Bailey Foster, its most desirable features being elaborated upon by Lester C. Gustin, Jr., coworker with Mr. Foster in the proposed project.

Briefly the features stressed were:

1. Rerouting of traffic to take through traffic out of the center by means of new roads and overpasses; also providing additional parking space.

2. Closing off Main street between Washington street and the Parkway and using this area for a connecting wing between the present senior and junior high school buildings to effect a solution of the secondary school needs in a unified plant, great stress being laid upon the flexibility and economy of such a plan.

Alexander Clark, chairman of the Finance Committee, announced this committee's opposition to the proposal to erect a new junior high school on Lake street.

Fred Hatch, chairman of the Planning Board spoke favorably of the traffic angle of the Foster Plan, and Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water and Sewer Board recorded himself in favor of the plan, adding there is nothing in the proposal to which the Water and Sewer Board would object. Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald stated the Selectmen are requesting the State to locate underpasses as reommended by the Foster plan, even though the entire plan has not as yet been accepted.

John C. Wakefield, chairman of the George Washington School additions committee stated he is impressed with the flexibility and possibilities of joining the two present school buildings. He recorded himself in favor of the entire plan.

A discussion period followed the speakers. There was no opposition to the plan expressed.

TAX RECEIPTS LESS!

The Board of Assessors has written the following letter to the Finance Committee in connection with the recent announcement by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long that the amount being returned to cities and towns of the Commonwealth from corporation and personal income taxes collected in 1950 will be substantially less than estimated by the Commissioner for tax rate purposes:

November 16, 1950

Alexander M. Clark, Chairman
Finance Committee
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Mr. Clark:

The Board of Assessors has recently received a letter from the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation which indicates that the receipts from corporation taxes and personal Income Taxes for the year 1950 will be about twenty per cent (20%) less than anticipated.

This might mean that the share to be distributed to the Town of Winchester would be $55 - 60,000 less than was allowed in establishing its 1950 tax rate.

Fortunately, the drop in income from this source will be partially offset by the collection of $25 - 30,000 more than expected from the Motor Vehicle excise.

However, this would still leave a possible balance of $25 - 30,000 which would have to be made up from other sources, or the Town will experience a revenue deficit for the year 1950.

One such source would be unexpended appropriation balances.

Very truly yours,
Board of Assessors
Ernest B. Dade
Marshall R. Pihl
Alfred D. Elliott, Ch.

Ed. Note: The loss of tax revenue is a state-wide situation and nothing for which either Commissioner Long or Assessors' Boards are responsible, inasmuch as it has always been the custom to base estimates of taxes to be returned to cities and towns on receipts of the previous year. This year the revenue from corporation taxes fell substantially below expectation, despite greater gross receipts in many instances. Increased operation costs, such as those for materials and labor, caused many corporations to make net profits far below those of the previous year.

In Winchester unless the town can find revenue to offset the loss in return from State taxes there will be an estimated deficit at the end of 1950, amounting to roughly $1.50 per thousand, which will have to be added to the 1951 tax rate.

CHRISTMAS TEA FOR BAPTIST PARENTS AND TEACHERS

At what has become an annual affair, when the parents, teachers and friends of the First Baptist Church Church School meet in the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday afternoon, November 26th, at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. H. Grant Payne, Director of Religious Education of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, will speak and will conduct a discussion period. Plans for the religious observance of Christmas will be discussed. This opportunity for an exchange of ideas has proven most helpful in placing the proper emphasis upon the Christian meaning of Christmas for our children.

Tea will be served following the afternoon program and parents, teachers, friends and the Pastor will have an opportunity to enjoy a fellowship together around the tea table.

It is hoped many parents and friends of the Church School will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to drink together in a wonderful season of the year.

AN OMISSION

The obituary of Edward B. Ladd, late of 48 Yale street, which appeared in last week's Star, omitted reference to the retired New England Trust Company vice president's connection with the Winchester Boat Club.

Mr. Ladd was once a member of the club's 50th Anniversary years of 1925-26. It was a critical time in the club's history of the organization. It was in part due to Mr. Ladd's leadership in financial matters that the organization was put on a strong position.

Holl, Jr., Miss Katherine Mc-Serve; Mrs. W. Henry Fulton, and Mrs. Seth Shorey. Mrs. Richard Bolster, director of the Upper School, has previously announced the teachers working with her, but serving as substitute teachers under both directors are: Mrs. Robert B. Williams, Mrs. Frederick Wier, Mrs. George Blair, Mrs. Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Lynwood Bryant, Mrs. Robert Low, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mr. Frank Moore, Mr. Earle Littleton, and Mr. Dermot Townley-Tilson. Assistants to the teachers this year are: Miss Joy Hewins, Miss Barbara Bolster, and Miss Virginia Wadsworth.

And on Sunday evening the Junior High Fellowship, also in their first year, will take part in a Know Your Church scavenger hunt, designed, with a discussion to follow it, to better acquaint them with everything about the Unitarian Church including plans, history, maintenance, memorials, and many other things. This group has just had appointed as counselors Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Dermot Townley-Tilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, and as a new advisor, Mrs. Edgene P. Newell.

WYMAN SCHOOL NEWS

On Thursday evening, November 2, Open House was held at Wyman School. A great many parents took advantage of the opportunity to meet the teachers and to become acquainted with the school. The auditorium was decorated in the class colors. Coffee was served in the lunchroom from 7:30 to 9 p.m. by the social committee. Comments by the parents indicated their appreciation of an evening well spent.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The November board meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, held November 9th in the Nurses' Home, was marked by warm enthusiasm of its members for the many worthwhile projects now being carried on to assist the hospital through these volunteer workers. Membership in the Friends is open to everyone and it is hoped that many more will join this service organization before the year is over.

Mrs. Henry Bonzagni, 111 Pleasant street, Wakefield is treasurer, and dues should be mailed to her. At the Thursday meeting, Mrs. Bonzagni reported an encouraging number of members, all paid, with more coming in all the time.

Mrs. George A. Marks, chairman of the "Know-Your-Hospital" evenings, reported excellent attendance at the meeting October 26, and notified members that the next evening lecture, the second in the series of six, will be held on November 21st, 8 p.m. at the Nurses' Home.

Mrs. Robert Fowle of Reading, who has served so capably as the recording secretary, has resigned from her post, but she is agreeing to stay on, but will continue to assist the Friends until the post is filled. Mrs. Fowle has served the Friends as secretary since the Winchester Hospital Shop days, early days of the war.

Miss Rogers, superintendent of nurses, thanked the Friends for the many assistances given the hospital, and for the flowers and cream sent to the hospital after the October meeting.

The duties of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. John L. Donovan, chairman, were more fully outlined at this meeting, to include selection of a place for meetings, securing of chairs, and tea arrangements.

Mrs. Frank d'Eseaux, in the absence of Mrs. John Page, Ways and Means chairman, reported work going forward on the ticket sale for "Iolanthe." This production is to be staged by Staff and Key Society December 8 and 9, and the Friends of the Winchester Hospital will receive half of the net proceeds for their work. Those wishing to see this colorful performance (and at the same time aid the cause of the Friends), are urged to secure tickets now from Mrs. Page, WInchester 6-2366.

Mrs. Barleigh, chairman of the group making favors for patients' trays at the hospital, announced that her committee will make holiday favors, ten cents each, for anyone wishing them. Money from the favors will cover crepe paper costs and enable the women to make still more cheery favors for the trays.

To date, there are 107 active, energetic and useful volunteers in the Friends of the Winchester Hospital's volunteer Services — all working on specific tasks, all helping in some way to serve the Hospital. There are 8 fields of service and all of them can use more women. If you wish to be a part of this work, call Mrs. Everett Stone or Mrs. Howard Morrison today.

The board voted to include a Red Cross representative on the board, since three Red Cross services are already serving the Hospital — transportation, aides, and gray ladies.

The next board meeting will be held on December 14, 9:45, at the Nurses' Home, with Mrs. Fulton Bream presiding.

NEEDLESS CONCERN OVER REGULATION X

Russell P. Brown, President of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League, declared that in his opinion there is needless concern on the part of the public over Regulation X, and the effect it may have on home-buying and owning.

"I believe it to be true" said Mr. Brown, "that a goodly proportion of all loan applications to co-operative banks are for the purchase of existing houses, that is, those built previous to August 3rd of this year. I would hazard a guess that 17 out of 20 are in this category, and thus not under Regulation X, and our banks may consider them in normal fashion, guided only by the law of the Commonwealth."

Mr. Brown called attention to the foreword, or preface, to the Regulation as appearing in the pamphlet issued by the Federal Reserve System, which begins with this sentence: "This Regulation applies to real estate construction credit with respect to property on which a new residence, or a major addition or major improvement to an existing residence, is begun after 12 o'clock meridian, August 3, 1950."

"Regulation X thus applies" said Mr. Brown, "only to the purchase or construction of a home, the building of which was begun after August 3, and to major changes, the amount exceeding $2,500, and the only effect of Regulation X in those cases is to prescribe the down payment required to be made on the increase, this in most cases being no more than lending institutions have always required of other than veteran borrowers."

Mr. Brown further said, "Co-operative bank loans may not exceed 80% of value (except to veterans) and Regulation X does not require even so much as a 20% down payment, until the transaction price reaches $9,000 and then only 21.1%. It is true many of our loans do not exceed 70% of value, and one may buy and mortgage a house changing hands at $15,000 and by Regulation X be required to pay down but 28.7%!

"While the 'down payment'," said Mr. Brown, "may not be made with borrowed money (except on a life insurance policy) a person, whether a contractor and builder, or just a man who is 'handy with tools' may consider under this Regulation that his outlay for materials, labor and even his own labor may go to make up the down payment."

"All in all, it appears people are much more scared than they are going to be hurt," according to Mr. Brown, who is also President of the Beverly Co-operative Bank, and a member, representing the state-chartered co-operative banks and savings and loan associations in New England, of the Advisory Committee set up by President Erickson of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Working with her were Mrs. R. Richard Kavesa, Ticket chairman; and Mrs. Donald Lewis, publicity chairman; while assisting at the High School Auditorium were Mrs. Harold McCarthy and Mrs. Robert M. BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

George James Richardson, Labor Leader
Born: November 25, 1893 at Winchester, Mass.

George James Richardson is ranked among the major officials of the American Federation of Labor. The son of John (a machinist) and Sarah (McLean) Richardson, and a former student at Winchester High School, he has been identified with the labor movement, and in particular with the International Association of Fire Fighters (A. F. of L.), during his entire career.

Transferring his activities to international headquarters, he next served as vice-president from 1920 to 1922 and has since been international secretary and treasurer.

As indicative of the scope of Mr. Richardson's responsibilities and duties, it should be noted that the International Association of Fire Fighters, according to the October 1950 issue of its monthly publication, has 796 affiliated locals in this country and Canada. In addition, mention should be made of the fact that he is the author of numerous articles and pamphlets pertaining to fire fighting and protection, and that he was a member of the National Advisory Committee on Fire Protection, Office of Civilian Defense, during the recent World War.

Married to Gertrude M. Gant in 1914 and the father of three children, Mr. Richardson maintains offices in the American Federation of Labor Building, Washington, D. C. and makes his home in Silver Springs, Maryland.

GRIFFIN GOT A PICTURE OF HIMSELF

Arthur Griffin of Euclid avenue who has photographed many notable sportsmen and fishermen during his many assignments in color for national magazines caught a 50 pound striped bass last week off Cuttyhunk, at his first attempt at fishing. He was the guest of Capt. John R. Peterson, owner of the Cape Codder Hotel in Falmouth, who is an expert angler and a great student of lures and the habitat of the striped bass and tuna in Cape waters. Mr. Griffin has no explanation for his amazing feat, but feels that in the years he has been with fishermen, while working on assignments he evidently picked up a great amount of experience in carefully watching the habits and techniques of his subjects.

While camping out with Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis, for a week this past summer, away up the serpentine river in Newfoundland, he observed that the Viscount had a certain twist in his casting. This past fall he was with Gene Tunney up in Nova Scotia, when Gene was the only fisherman to float a tuna into a catch during three days of fishing after the hurricane. He noticed that Gene had certain rites that he religiously followed.

Some of Griffin's neighbors are ardent Ike Waltons and during many one way conversations with them, he also feels that he must have unconsciously gathered in expert lore. All these years Griffin felt that he couldn't properly fish and take pictures at the same time, but knew that he could at least cut down his pictures which was more than he could do, if his friends success with rod and reel was a good example of what he might catch. Anyhow, last week he decided that this was the time, place, tide and moon to give his combination of assorted techniques a try. He did for a bit, let-down after receiving two bites, one to only get a few fifteen pounders, but really thinks that fishing is a bit over-rated and not quite as difficult as it is cracked up to be and wonders if fishing with slings-shots or bow and arrow might not give the fish an even break.

MOUNT HOLYOKE BOOK TALK

Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond delivered another of her enjoyable and informative lectures on Tuesday, November 7 in the Art Room of the Public Library. Her next Book Talk will be on Tuesday, December 5 at ten a.m. in the same place and will deal with "Books to give for Christmas".

Mrs. Bond, thinking perhaps that people have to be led by the hand for an introduction to books of humor, spoke briefly of "Fractured French", a book of pictures, well-known French phrases and very free translations of them; and then of "Best Humor of 1949-50", edited by Louis Untermeyer and Ralph E. Shikes, a book of amusing repunts of humorous articles of 4 pages long. She mentioned as a very good buy, containing quantities of information, "Year: Mid-Century Annual, 1900-1950", a book of pictures and captions describing each field of life separately and by decades. Mrs. Bond has been deluged by books on the Atomic bomb and the Hydrogen bomb, having received at least twenty, which seems more than are needed to cover the subject.

Mrs. Bond spent the rest of the time on recent novels. She began with "Across the River and into the Trees" by Ernest Hemingway, which she says has a few passages of beauty and perception in the old Hemingway style but in general is unpleasant and uninspired or worse. She recommended as good reading and a book of poetic power "The Peacock" by Jon Godden, a book relating the story of four Englishmen and one woman in a jungle in northern India and of their personal upheavals.

"The Abandoned" by Paul Gallico is a book of fantasy, the tale of a little boy who in his delirium after an accident becomes a pure white cat, Peter, and meets a pretty little cat named Jenny. Into the story of their adventures is woven a sensitive and penetrating commentary on human nature.

Mrs. Bond read a letter from Mary Borden which relates her inspiration for her book "Cat's Paw". Although she is not a Catholic she was imbued with great mental excitement in Rome on Easter Sunday 1949 when she listened to Pope Pius's speech against Communism. So she wrote the story of an unhappy youth who thought he was given hope by Communism but who finds in the end he has been deluded and destroyed by Moscow.

"The Disenchanted" by Budd Schulberg, author of "The Harder They Fall" and "What Makes Sammy Run", is patterned on the story of F. Scott Fitzgerald. Mrs. Bond considers that this will be one of the two or three important books of 1950-51. It is written in the best prose style throughout. It is the story of young "Shep" and Manly Halliday who go from Hollywood back to Webster (otherwise Dartmouth) College to make a moving picture of the Winter Carnival. It is a picture of the "gay and torrential twenties" and of an alcoholic, showing the disintegration of a genius. It is not a pleasant story but has wit and humor and understanding.

"The Sign of Jonah" by Nancy Hale is more or less a story of decadent life and the tale of Hope, a ruthless and ambitious woman. The book strives at greatness as a psychological or a social novel but fails to pull it off in either direction. "Son of a Hundred Kings" by Thomas B. Costain is the story of his own youth in Canada. It shows the color, grace and ease of living and the tranquility of the nineties. It is warm, human and exciting and contains nothing to offend.

"The Mill on the Po" by Ricardo Bacchelli is another one of the books we are receiving from Italy. This is a long but brilliantly written historical novel of Italy in the period of 1812-1876. Bacchelli has been called the Dumas of Italy and has been honored by the Italian nation. In a poll of critics 55% chose this as the best historical novel. At the next lecture you will find out what to give Grandma, Father, Sister or the little one for Christmas.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The Mighty P. T. Barnum, who once said "The Public likes to be humbugged", and who was the greatest believer in publicity, was the delightful subject by Dr. Russell L. Carpenter, Professor of Zoology at Tufts College, at the Fall Meeting of the Winchester Historical Society last Thursday evening. The illustrated lecture was given in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library, with Mrs. George E. Connor, presiding.

In the early part of the glittering 1800's, one dynamic figure shone that century, and lived until almost the end of it. That figure was Phineas Taylor Barnum, who made entertainment history. He was born in 1810 in a lovely saltbox house in Bethel, Connecticut, and at 18, opened a general store. Later he went on to New York City, owning a still larger grocery store, saving his spare dimes to go to the theatre whenever he could.

At that time, a friend told him of Joyce Heath, a negress 160 years old, reported to have been George Washington's nurse. Barnum saw her, was impressed, purchased her, and exhibited her in grandiose style in New York and Boston, for 25 cents per person. This was his first venture in the entertainment world. Then he purchased the American Museum, re-named it, and his fame began. He put on "The Drunkard" to packed audiences — he advertised an unusual "horse with his tail where his head should be" (and when sightseers came, they found a horse standing backwards in his stall!).

Barnum brought Jenny Lind to America — as history duly records — but history does not show that most of their concert receipts, which were tremendous, went to charity.

The Barnum Museum had mishaps, fire, and was re-built — and his second museum burned. But Barnum was wealthy now, and he put his money into developing Bridgeport Park, giving it to the City. He was a plain citizen, retired — and he hated not being busy. So he re-entered a hectic life in 1876, and developed the "circus" — with special trains to convey the whole circus from city to city. Instead of one ring, he had two, then five rings, to give the public its money's worth. And in that first year, his circus netted over one million dollars. In 1873, he built Madison Square garden for his winter circus. Three years later he bought out his only competitor, James A. Bailey, and formed the Barnum and Bailey circus, with great winter quarters in Bridgeport.

At the height of his circus fame, Barnum purchased Jumbo, the fabulous animal which is now on exhibition at the Tufts Barnum Museum. It weighed seven tons, and cost $10,000 — but in the first week of his visit to America, he made $200,000 for Barnum! Dr. Carpenter told the Jumbo story with feeling — and when the audience heard of Jumbo's death before the onslaught of a freight train, there was a lump in many a throat, last Thursday night. Dr. Carpenter made Jumbo very real, and one almost felt that Barnum was in the same room, listening.

Mrs. Carpenter assisted with the slides. Reports were read from Miss Louise Bancroft, secretary; Miss Laura Tolman, treasurer; Miss Clara R. Russell, curator of the Historical Room in the Library.

Membership in the Historical Society is open to all residents who are intetested in its work, and in preserving the valuable and significant things of other years. Miss Tolman will accept any membership applications, and the dollar a year entitles Winchester members to Bay State League meetings as well as to those of the local Society.

Miss Dorothy Buracker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Buracker, 12 Stratford road, is a member of the Water Ballet at Mount Holyoke college. Miss Buracker is a member of the sophomore class.

Four Winchester men have registered this Fall for evening courses at Franklin Technical Institute, Boston. Studying various engineering and technical subjects are John F. Murphy of Clark street, Robert P. Knoetner of Sachem road, Frank J. Faieta of Loring avenue, and Francis L. Judge of Chesterford road.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION DADS' NIGHT

As a fitting observance to National Education Week, the Noonan School Mothers' Association held it's annual Dads' Night Program on the evening of Wednesday, November 8th in the school auditorium, in recognition of the vital part that today's education will play in the future of our democracy.

The classrooms were open from 7:00 to 8:15 o'clock, which gave the parents a splendid opportunity to visit the work-shops where their children live during the day; meet the teachers and inspect the work of the child which was enclosed in a gaily decorated folder on the desk of each pupil.

At 8:15 the parents assembled in the auditorium, where they were welcomed by the President of the Mothers' Association, Mrs. Clarence Donaghey. She then introduced Miss Lenore Rich, Principal of the Noonan School, who gave a most interesting talk on "Some Factors Influencing Personality Growth".

The program was then turned over to Miss Eleanor Anifantis, who directed the following members of the High School Octette in a group of five songs to the enjoyment of a most appreciative audience:

WINCHESTER, 20; WAKEFIELD, 0

Donlon Scored Twice, Errico Once

Winchester High beat Wakefield High, 20 - 0, Armistice Day afternoon before a holiday crowd on Manchester Field. As at Belmont the Indians looked both good and bad, but generally speaking their showing was better against a much more aggressive foe. Fans should remember that the loss of Bob O'Brien, ace fullback and blocker, hasn't helped the local cause.

Winchester made seven first downs to five for Wakefield and ran up 165 yards on the grounds to 74 for the visitors. In the air Wakefield completed five of 13 passes for 53 yards and had two intercepted. Winchester threw only two passes, completing them both for 41 yards. The Indians drew 45 yards in penalties, three fifteen yarders for that old illegal use of hands. Wakefield lost 35 yards in penalties and lost the ball on each of its three fumbles. Winchester recovered two of its four bobbles.

The Indians pushed over a quick score, with Johnson taking the kickoff on the 20 and getting back to the 31. Donlon picked up four but Johnson was piled up away back on the 24 on an attempted sweep.

Taking a pitchout, and getting an assisting block or two, big Joe Donlon swept around his own right end to drive to a first down at the Wakefield 17. Scrieka picked up six at tackle and Michelsen sneaked through center for a first down at the 31.

Three tries by Scrieka and Johnson left a yard needed for first down and Donlon bulled through for seven more than were needed, reaching the 14. Johnson busted through for six, but with two needed for first down a sweep was called and Donlon was wrestled down back on the ten.

Scrieka fumbled on the next rush but Johnson managed to recover the ball for a two yard advance and on the next play Donlon tore around the Wakefield left flank for the touchdown. Smith missed the try for goal at placement, his boot going off to the left.

The Indians had a great chance when Kostandin fumbled the kickoff and Winchester recovered at the Wakefield 40. The locals immediately lost 15 yards for illegal use of hands, putting the ball back on the Winchester 45, and Scrieka was dumped back on the 41 on a try at tackle.

Johnson got back a yard, but on the next play Michelsen was ganged up behind the line and passed back to Scrieka, who fumbled with Wakefield recovering on Winchester's 31.

Winchester yielded a yard in three attempts to advance the ball and a 15 yarder against Wakefield for holding forced the visitors to kick. Winchester had to kick in turn, and after taking the ball on downs at its 36, on a great tackle by Ed Cullen, Winchester lost it at once when Scrieka fumbled after getting a smashing punch in the face as he was going wide on a sweep.

Two yards were all Wakefield could get in four tries, and Winchester in turn was stopped at its 36. Time ran out before Wakefield could go anywhere.

Winchester had its usual third period lethargy and things looked bad for a minute or two as Scrieka, trying to punt got a bad pass back from center and had to run with the ball. "Jocko" made a good attempt but lacked running room and was knocked outside at Winchester's 37, Wakefield taking over.

A pass, Langyel to Rich went to the 29 and Girardin made first down at the 27. Wakefield lost five for offside but Kostandin got them right back on a sweep and Langyel passed again to Porter for a first down at the 12.

Girardin was piled up at center for a yard loss; LoPresti, on an attempted pass play, was tripped up back on the 18. A pass intended for Kostandin was grounded and on fourth down LoPresti running wide on an attempt to pass was spilled at the 15, Winchester taking over as the teams changed goals for the final quarter.

Donlon and Michelsen made first down at the 35 but Winchester lost 15 yards for illegal use of hands and the ball went back to the nine.

Taking a pitchout Donlon tossed off a high wobbly pass that Johnson gathered in at the 30, bulling ahead to the Winchester 42. Griffin immediately broke through for a second first down at the Wakefield 4 and from there the locals sputtered ahead to a first down by inches on their last try when Michelsen just made it on a sneak at the 35.

Johnson broke through to take the ball just inside the 25, but on the next play Griffin fumbled, McElhinney recovering for the gain of a yard at the 24. Donlon then found a big hole in the Wakefield line and smashed through it, straightening out to go all the way standing up. Smith converted and the Winchester coaching staff took it's second long breath.

Frautten ran Errico's kickoff back to the Wakefield 27 and on first down LoPresti passed to Stanton who was hit hard by Cullen at the 38. The Wakefield boy lost the ball and Cullen recovered.

Winchester then had a great chance when a Wakefield boy tripped Flaherty as he was going out after a Thomson pass at the Wakefield 12. A 15 yard penalty for illegal use of the hands nullified this, and Michelsen kicked from the Wakefield 26, aiming the ball for the sidelines.

The Wakefield receiver was hit hard by Walden and the ball squirted out of his hands, Walden picking it up and running into the end zone.

The ball was brought back to the 10, where the fumble was recovered, and Winchester scored in two plays. A Thomson to Walden jump pass went to the two, and Vinnie Errico bulled through his right tackle for the score. Smith again converted and the game ended a few plays later as Thomson intercepted a Wakefield pass at the Wakefield 29. The summary:

Winchester — Walden, Cardoza, lg; McElhinney, Murphy, lg; Keyes, Gerardi, c; C. Lentine, rg; Pelton, Smith, rg; Kenniston, Crosby, Smith, rt; Cirurso, Flaherty, qb; Michelsen, Cullen, Thomson, lhb; Donlon, Wheaton, rhb; Johnson, Errico, fb; Scrieka, Griffin, Buckley, ends.

WINCHESTER TO WIN AT WOBURN

by Mack

As the Star runs its story of the game at Woburn this Friday, I would probably miss my prediction on the result of the game which I give annually in the Times, the Wednesday before the game, so this year I am giving it out on the Friday after the game. I am giving the Star my view point as to the result so your readers may have it before the game.

From what I have seen and the record of Woburn this season I pick Winchester to win by at least three touchdowns. It may possibly be sticking my neck out, but I do not think so. All I want is the "Win" to remain in Winchester!

WINCHESTER AND WOBURN AWAIT THANKSGIVING

Winchester and Woburn High Schools, football rivals since 1891, with one of the oldest schoolboy series in Greater Boston, are awaiting the latest meeting on Thanksgiving Day forenoon at the Woburn High Field, the kickoff scheduled for 10.

Neither team sports an unbeaten record going into the game and there are no championships at stake. Winchester's won and lost record is far the better of the two, the Indians having won eight and lost one while the Tanners have won three and lost five. Each team has faced opposition of about equal strength.

Winchester and Woburn have faced three teams in common, Wakefield, Reading and Stoneham. The Tanners beat Wakefield 32-6 at early season, Winchester won from Wakefield Armistice Day, 20-0.

Both teams lost to Reading, Winchester, 13-0, and Woburn, 32-12. Winchester beat Stoneham, 39-2, with the Tanners dropping a 25-23 decision to Tony DeTeso's team. On the basis of these scores a rash man might say Winchester is the better club, having an offensive record against the same three teams of 79 points and a defensive record of 15. Woburn has run up 69 points and yielded 71. The Indians' net record is better, but the Tanners have scored 13 points more against Wakefield, Reading and Stoneham than Winchester could tally, scoring against all three, while Reading shut out the Indians. Ponder that one a bit. The Tanners have scored 1 to 32 points all season for a losing club.

Defensively the Orange and 'n' have been potent, yielding 71 points to Wakefield, Read ng and Stoneham, teams able to score only 15 points against Winchester.

In the eight games Woburn has scored 126 points and had 256 points scored against it. Winchester has tallied 139 points in nine games and yielded only 35. It does look from mathematics as if Winchester ought to win by at least three touchdowns.

The two teams' records against comparative scores are not very good, at least to Winchester fans, when spirit means so much and breaks are so important. Woburn has had a rough season. Injuries have deprived the Orange of Kerrigan, a great end, and Soave, a capable guard, during much of the fall. Co-Captain Scrieka, a fast scatback who rimmed the Indians last year, won't be eligible to play against Winchester, according to report.

For all that, as expect the Tanners to give Winchester a hell of a ballgame. They can win! They jolly well can, if Winchester doesn't play four-period football. The Orange doesn't rate the favorites nod this year, but it didn't last year on a comparative scores basis, get it won, with a little help from the linesman on that lateral forward pass play in the final moments.

Winchester is better than it was a year ago. It was much better Saturday in the Ipswich game than before, granted this year's frosh-ore is nothing to rave over.

Those who have followed Woburn don't rate them quite as potent as last year, but the Tanners have never been good sacks, the kind that can break away for the distance any time. A hopped-up Orange, with an early game scare, will be hard to beat.

Winchester and Woburn have played 43 games since 1891, Winchester winning 20, Woburn 16, and seven being tied. That's close enough not to mortgage the cat to plunge in either team. If you must have to bet the games on the game, Winchester has the better record, but if you wager anything bigger than a buck, you are crazy!

Here are the records. Winchester's does look the better on paper!

The money to erect the Jennie A. Downs addition to the Winchester Library, which was recently dedicated — something in which the community can take a great pride. It is done in excellent taste, but even if it were not, the thought behind the memorial, a room in which one can sit down and refresh himself with good music or enjoy the cultural satisfaction that is to be found in the world's great works of art, would make the place particularly fitting to perpetuate Jennie Downs' name and memory to frequenters of the library. A loud, garish place would not do! Mr. Downs loved fine things and by the terms of his will indicated that he wanted to share that love with his fellow townspeople. How better could he give proof of that desire than through his generous bequest to the library, a place dedicated to improving the mind and broadening the cultural horizon of any one who seeks what it has to offer. Mr. Downs did not earmark his bequest to the library. He did not specify that it should go for this thing or that project, and that it should be administered by a trustee perhaps wholly out of sympathy with what the library would like to use it for. He put it with no strings and the trustees and librarian have done well to use a portion of his bequest for the new music and art room which is to be not only a memorial to Mr. Downs as a library benefactor but also a place for everyone to enjoy and benefit by. Mr. Downs would like that. He would like the soft green of the broadloom, the plain white walls, the attractive hangings in harmonizing rose and green over neutral beige, the attractive modern furniture in green, rose, yellow and cedar plastic, the blond elmwood tables and the modernistic lamps of brushed chrome with their spun glass shades. Above all he would like the bookshelves on both sides of the long room, on which will be kept books on music and art, making these works more easily available and affording real relief to the over-stuffed library stacks. Racks for records line the inside end of the room and on Wednesday afternoon and evening there will be audible programs played on the finest of phonographs. Whatever comes of the music and art room, it is certain that it will be a delightful addition to the library and a fitting memorial to Mr. Downs. Many townspeople will be grateful to the trustees and librarian for having planned and created the place. Never afraid to be up-to-date, they were also able to keep what was best and to avoid what was merely modern. Mr. Downs would have liked it. A Dollar Bond [illegible]

ORGANIZED RESERVE CORPS

Editor of the Star:

Basically as we are organized and trained at present, the Reserve Corps is the backbone of the USAR to go over the top in any emergency that arises. They have now gone down to answers and speak for themselves. In the Winchester Star, we hope I answered your question.

What is the difference between the Reserves and the National Guard?

The National Guard of the United States is a reserve component of the Army of the United States and is made up of Federally recognized units and members of the Inactive National Guard of the several States, Territories and the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, together. The National Guard is basically under state jurisdiction and subject to gubernatorial call. When called into Federal service it becomes part of the Armed Forces of the nation.

The Organized Reserve Corps consists of officers and enlisted personnel and units, and is a Federally controlled reserve component of the Army of the United States.

2. What class of men are the officers in the Reserve Corps?

Officers in the Reserve Corps come from all walks of life. A large percentage are college graduates, and specialists in technical or scientific fields. Some of the leading citizens of this state are reserve officers. A board of officers, generally Regular and Reserve, pass on their qualifications before they can be commissioned.

However, men are not prevented from becoming reserve officers because of lack of college training. The army provides its own schools to train men to fill needs in special fields, and for this, the highest type of men are selected.

Standards for retention as an officer in the United States Army are such that conviction by a civil court, or anything other than minor traffic violations, or anything affecting adversely the character or morals of an officer, make such an officer subject to relief from his commission, thereby the standards of officers in the Army must remain on a high level.

3. If my son joins the Reserves will it keep him out of the draft?

No - but his classification will probably be changed to a lower classification. To our knowledge, draft boards have not drafted active reservists.

4. Do they learn anything in the Reserves but how to march?

Marching plays a very minor part in reserve training. Some reservists are trained as fighting men; others as specialists. Men in designated combat units are given the type of training which is best designed for protection to themselves and to the nation; administrative personnel are given opportunities to go to school, and this opportunity is extended also to personnel interested in the technical fields found in the Army. In addition to training men for specific duties, troop information periods acquaint them with the particular problems facing the United States.

5. Does joining the Reserves mean having to give up one's vacation for two weeks in camp every year? Do employers allow men extra time off to go to camp?

This is entirely up to the employer of the reservist. In many cases and in most of the larger business firms, reservists are given extra time in addition to their regular vacations in order to attend summer camp. This extra time is almost always without pay. However, there are many instances, particularly in small businesses where, due to the nature and size of the business, it is impossible that the employer grant time in addition to the regular vacation for attendance at summer camp, and there is no law requiring an employer to give time off for attendance of reservist employees at summer camp. These questions have to be settled by the reservist with his employer."

If we have not answered a question in your mind about the Organized Reserve Corps, please watch for the answers in the Star next week. If we do not cover your question in this series, please let us have it and if we don't know the answer we will get it for you from the Army Base.

Very truly yours,
G. Tove, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

FREE ENTERPRISE - OR SOCIALISM?

Do You Want a Program of Socializing Our Economy by More Federal Authorities to Develop Our Rivers?

Editor of the Star:

President Truman has issued a Directive to all of the Federal Agencies having to do with land and water resources to furnish him with a report by July 1, 1952, covering the water sheds of the principal rivers in New England and also including New York State and in particular the St. Lawrence River.

This directive went out to the heads of the several departments including the Army Engineers and the Federal Power Commission early this Spring and soon after the passage of the Omnibus Rivers and Harbor Bill, under which projects were authorized totaling $18 billion. The President apparently has used the Valley Authorities set up in New England and which would in fact, if successful, extend authority up to the whole country. But the Authorities.

The people of New England at once started to take action against the [illegible] Administration's [illegible]

Two planned Bills in Congress would cut the country into nine Authority blocks. Not water alone, but all natural resources; not power alone but other industries would suffer.

The President through the nine Authority Boards made up of political appointees would operate under his General Supervision.

This gives the President too much authority. Congress is left out, the States also, and likewise the people. To my way of thinking the President already has too much power, much having been authorized by the controlled Congress of Roosevelt and the present administration.

These Valley - or Regional Authorities as now proposed are not obligated to submit to an accounting, but can do as they "Damn well please," as does the Tennessee Valley Authority, which was set up by F. D. Roosevelt who called it a "Noble Experiment." Now Mr. Truman wants to engulf the whole country with "Noble Experiments" - in other words - Socialize the whole country.

I presume he and his planners think they can do a better job than the English Socialistic Government is doing, which up to date smells to high heaven; and if these U. S. Socialistic planners think this is what our people want then we should put on our cullboots to throw them to the wolves.

Read John T. Flynn's book "The Road Ahead." Send to your Congressman for a copy of the bill to creat the Columbia River Valley Authority. Also get a copy of "Government by Authorities" from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Washington, D. C. These will show you why you should take action now to combat not only this scheme but all others that are being sponsored by these Socialistic Planners.

The Governors of the three southern states of New England are backing the Federal Administration in this scheme - should the people of these States elect men who believe in turning our country into a Socialistic State?

Once these River Valley Authorities are set up under a three man administration, free enterprise will disappear. Is that what this country wants? I think not! Elect men who believe in free enterprise and those who will not wreck our economy, as are those who now are in power, and their backers are doing with their Crackpot - Socialistic theories.

We want no such form of Government as England has at present since it comes mighty close to Communism.

REPRESENTATIVE CHADWICK THANKS VOTERS

Editor of the Star:

I should like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Winchester for the splendid expression of confidence shown to me at the polls last Tuesday.

I interpret their vote as a continued desire for progress with sanity, and the rejection of near-term political expediency at the expense of the next generation. I can assure the electorate I will do my best to see that they get the quality of representation they demand.

Yours very truly,

Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Man's immortal selfhood or spiritual individuality, as the image and likeness of God, will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The Lesson also will discuss the use of the term Soul as applied to God.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 84:11: "The Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include II Corinthians 5:1.

"To us, know if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The immortality of man is no less tangible because it is spiritual and because its life is not at the mercy of matter. Mortals grasp at the spiritual facts; immortality makes man more real, more tangible than earth and sunlight. Life is eternal, and death is an unreality." (p. 17)

PARKHURST FIELD TRIPS

Recently the Parkhurst Fifth Grade visited the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain. The class went to see the special exhibits on seeds and seedpods, and also to see a film on the unit on seed-producing plants. After the film the children had the opportunity to see some of the other interesting displays and exhibits at the museum. All agreed that it was an afternoon well spent. The class is very grateful to these mothers for providing transportation: Mrs. Dana Cotton, Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, and Mrs. William C. Walden.

As the final activity of their science unit on Life in the Sea, the Fourth Grade at Parkhurst School visited the Boston Aquarium at Marine Park. They were allowed to observe at leisure the tanks which line the walls, and then to gather at the office with their notes and questions for the curator. Of special interest was the story of the seals, and the baby octopus preserved in formaldehyde. Giving their services that morning that the children might have this trip were Mrs. Herbert Black, Mrs. William Wilson, and Mrs. George Herrick.

LEGION EXPECTS HELP FROM AUXILIARY

With The American Legion facing what its leaders consider the most strenuous days in its thirty years of patriotic service, it is looking to the American Legion Auxiliary for important help, according to Lester C. Guston, Jr., Commander of Winchester American Legion Post No. 97.

Commander Guston has asked all members of the Legion to urge the women of their families to enroll in the Auxiliary to add strength to the Legion for the activities of 1951, he said.

"Always in the past we have depended upon the women of our own American Legion Auxiliary to help us in all of our activities. Their help has been of highest value in carrying on the Legion's work for the disabled veterans and their families, for the program of the community and for the security of the nation. Now, it appears, we will have to ask our Auxiliary women for more help than ever before."

POSTAL EMPLOYEES PARTY

The Winchester Postoffice Association held a most enjoyable party recently in Waterhill Hall with guests including former Assistant Postmaster Jerry Mahoney and Bill Dunn.

High School Athletic Director Henry Knowlton showed sports pictures including an Irish Harling film that was enthusiastically received. Dan O'Donnell assisted Coach Knowlton and there were movie selections by Sonny Sawyer, Bill Cleary and Ray Ross.

Other entertainment was provided by Catherine Chamberland, Fay Chamberland, Diana Collins and Hank McEnaney. Chris Anadore, Parkie Barney Callahan and Glen Dixon were the committee in charge of arrangements.

CONRAD THIBAULT, BARITONE

Conrad Thibault, baritone, opened the Community Concert Association's season in auspicious fashion Monday evening with a song recital at the high school auditorium for the benefit of the Winchester Smith College Club scholarship fund. An audience that completely filled the hall heard the following program:

Arnold; Flow Thou Regal Purple Stream from "The Castle of Andalusia"; Mozart, To Chloe; Wagner, Song to the Evening Star from "Tannhauser"; Schubert, The Linden Tree, and Whither; Debussy, Beau Soir; Bizet, Toreador Song from "Carmen"; Grieg, I Love But Thee; German, Charming Chloe; Sacco, Brother Will, Brother John; Fox, My Heart is a Silent Violin; Dvorak, God is My Shepherd; Howell, By the Waters of Babylon; Malotte, The Lord's Prayer; Malotte, Dreamer; Enders, Diana; Carpenter, To One Unknown; and Kern, Ol' Man River from "Showboat".

Alderson Mowbray, the accompanist, played Rameau, Sarabande; and two selections by Chopin, Valse in G Flat Major and Etude in C Minor, Opus 25, No. 12.

Listening to Conrad Thibault sing is both a pleasing and rewarding experience. His program Monday evening had variety with that happy blending of the classical with the semi-classical and popular which offers something for every taste. It flatters people to find music they know on a concert program and to hear their old favorites done as Mr. Thibault did them proved in double treat. Splendidly virile voice of wide range and ample power, well placed and skillfully managed, enabled the singer to cope with every technical challenge of the music while his artistry and wide musical experience made his interpretations especially rich and appealing.

The rollicking abandon of the drinking song that opened the program, the grandeur of the beautiful "Evening Star", the braggadocio of the Toreador's Song, the dignity of the sacred group, the humor of the Sacco and Enders songs, the popular appeal of The Linden Tree and the familiar Grieg song, and the poignant drama of Old Man River were each beautifully projected, the singer's handsome stage presence and simple direct style making the perfect audience approach.

Mr. Thibault is not afraid to sing in forthright manly fashion and the ringing climaxes of his full voice packed his program with thrills. The audience enthusiastically recalled him and he was very generous with encores, singing My Old Kaz Ned, Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes, Sing a Song of Sixpence, arranged by Albert Malotte; Annie Laurie, Some Enchanted Evening from "South Pacific", (beautifully done), All You Want on Prairie in the Saddle, arranged by Guion; Schubert's Serenade, Sailor Men (I am as Tired as Ned is), and Look for the Silver Lining, with the audience joining in the final chorus.

Mr. Thibault didn't stop after his superb singing of the lovely Serenade, one of the outstanding numbers of the evening, only he knows! The Sailor Men and Kern song were very anticlimax!

Mr. Mowbray proved a most competent pianist and sympathetic accompanist, playing all sorts of difficult scores with ease and understanding. He too was forced to respond to an extra after his well done group.

Mrs. Gilbert Hood was in charge of arrangements for the concert.

REP. KEENAN FILES 3 BILLS TO EASE TRAFFIC

Representative Henry E. Keenan of the 28th Middlesex District filed three Bills this week at the State House for the purpose of making an easier flow of traffic along the Mystic Valley Parkway and Alewife Brook Parkway.

The first was for the building of an over-pass, underpass, or traffic circle at the junction of Alewife Brook Parkway at Massachusetts Avenue, on the Cambridge-Arlington line.

The second bill calls for the extension of the Mystic Valley Parkway on the east side from Medford Square to the Medford side of the Mystic River from High street in Medford, opposite the present Mystic Valley Parkway that comes down on the east side of the Mystic Lakes. This roadway will follow along the banks of the river and along the bed of the roadway, now known as Arlington street, and will continue across Harvard avenue, to a point opposite the new traffic circle at the Alewife Brook Parkway and the Mystic Valley Parkway. There a new bridge will be proposed to be built over the river to connect with the traffic circle on the Medford-Somerville line in the vicinity of the present MDC sewage pumping station.

The purpose of the legislation is to keep the traffic now flowing down from the east side of the Mystic Lakes from Winchester and Woburn on the Medford side of the Mystic River so it will not have to double back into Arlington.

The alarm from Box 7-7-57 at 1:55 Wednesday afternoon was for a bad brush fire and log fire at the rear of the Stone Estate at Cambridge and High streets. The firemen fought the bog fire for nearly three hours, laying more than 1500 feet of hose from the hydrant on High street opposite the Stone estate.

THANKSGIVING SUNDAY AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

At the Thanksgiving Sunday Morning Sanctuary service, November 19th, the members of the Church School will bring their gifts of food for the needy in the Processional, led by the Youth and Senior choirs. The children will be assisted by four Boy Scouts who have received their God and Country awards; Philip Dresser, Donald MacFeeley, James Ekstrom, and David Ripley. The gifts of food are to be given to the Herb Christian Center and the Baptist Bethel in Boston. The Heath Center will provide Thanksgiving baskets and the Bethel will serve Thanksgiving dinners to the needy.

The Pastor will preach on "Christian Gratitude" and the Youth Choir will sing "Give Thanks" by Williams, and the Senior Choir "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" by Maunder.

The children of the Church School will have their Thanksgiving assembly in the Chapel at 9:30, followed by the regular classes. The children will then form in the Processional with their gifts for the Morning Sanctuary service at 10:45.

This is one time of the year when we visibly show our gratitude for the many blessings we have received and try to show this gratitude in a tangible way for those not so blessed. Let both parents and children attend this Thanksgiving service and show their appreciation to God for all they have received during the past year.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

Open House at Washington School last week consisted of the customary visits with the teachers in their classrooms, inspection of the instructional materials and equipment, and interested study of the children's work.

Following the tour of the classrooms, parents gathered in the auditorium to hear an address by Mr. Gordon MacKinnon, supervisor of Boston Gardening, on the Backyard Garden.

Pictures in "The Court Council at Work", "Our South American Neighbors", and "Aesop's Fables", a festive, entertaining night on the part of the children and their parents, were shown during the past week.

Clay models of people and animals have been made by the pupils as part of their art study, the most notable of which are glazed in the ceramics kiln at the Junior High School.

Colored chalk drawings illustrating the exploration of Columbus and the Discovery of America were on display during Open House.

Fifth grade arithmetic classes are finding out the practical value of their grades in arithmetic, thus taking some of the suspense out of the wait for report cards.

TUESDAY GROUP IS TOLD OFF!

A good old-fashioned scolding was administered to a spell-bound audience last Tuesday when the Reverend Angus Dun of Grace Church, Medford spoke to the Tuesday Group of Epiphany Church. Lack of Christian fellowship in today's lousy life was the theme of the "lecture" and the tall personable rector completely won his audience by the frankness of his speech and the timeliness of his subject matter.

Following the meeting which was presided over by Mrs. A. C. Bifrum, chairman of the Tuesday Group, coffee was served under the supervision of Mrs. Percy Fisher.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly's society afternoon on Monday, November 13th proved by all standards to be high-ly interesting, entertaining and impressive. The business meeting with the President, Mrs. Kenneth Hixson in the chair, was opened by singing, followed by pledge of Allegiance to the Stars and Stripes and with an invocation by Mrs. Lora Rhodes. Reports from Committee-chairmen were next in order. Mr. Paul H. Howard, chairman of Education notified the members of a meeting scheduled for December 4, at 10:00 a. m. to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Mason, 42 Wedgecote avenue. Mrs. Adele Emery gave a very interesting report of a finished project under the committee of Cooperation with our veterans. The Building House Fund Committee reported activity in a way of reminding the members present that a food sale was then in session at the back of the hall. Mr. Hector Clement of Winchester was then introduced who spoke briefly of a proposed project by music lovers of Winchester to organize a local Orchestra. He appealed to the Fortnightly members for moral support and also invited any member who played any kind of instrument to assist in the project.

A call from the Red Cross, Winchester Chapter, requesting blood donors was read from the chair.

The afternoon's entertainment began with an amusing performance by a very clever magician, Mr. Leo Ryan of Boston.

A musical program followed, provided by the Winchester High School Octette with Miss Eleanor Arifantes as director. It was a pleasure indeed, to listen to the lovely young voices, ably accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Ried. The solos, "Thinking of You" sung by Miss Shirley Cary and "Morning" sung by Miss Dorothy Brandt were a delight to hear.

The latter half of the afternoon was given over to the Girl Scout organization, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Executive Director of the Winchester Girl Scouts, gave a very illuminating summary of a bicycle tour through England and Scotland, made this summer by a group of Winchester Girl Scouts, the only group of Girl Scouts from the United States who has ever attempted a tour of this type.

A formal Tea was served at the close of the entertainment, under the direction of Mrs. Conrad Rosander, Chairman of the Social Committee.

The day's program was rounded out beautifully when in closing the Fortnightly's President shared with the Club members a Thanksgiving Prayer as expressed in the following poem:

"I know three things must always be
To keep a nation strong and free:
One is a hearth stone bright and dear
With busy, happy loved ones near.
One is a ready heart and hand
To love and serve and keep the land.
One is a worn and beaten way
To where the people go to pray.
So long as these are kept alive
Nation and people will survive
God keep them always, everywhere
The hearth, the flag, the place of prayer."

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The Motor Corps of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter put in a busy week last week. On November 7 the Corps brought supplies to Bedford Hospital for a veterans' party. The next day they brought six pints of blood from Boston to the Winchester Hospital. On the 9th two trips to the Children's Hospital were made. Monday and Wednesday of this week the Red Cross drivers went to Massachusetts General Hospital. Bay State Cab mistresses were driven from Boston to Bedford Hospital Wednesday evening.

The Planning Committee of the 1951 Red Cross Fund Campaign held a meeting last night in the Town Hall.

This part of the service will come as a surprise to Mr. Douglas.

TROOP 12 SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts of Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church enjoyed for their invited speaker at the most recent meeting on Wednesday evening, November 8, no other than Chief James Callahan of the Winchester Fire Department. Invited to the meeting by Scoutmaster Bob Foote, Chief Callahan pointed out the many dangers against safety in the home, the woods and elsewhere. Calling upon the scouts for assistance Chief Callahan warned of the dangers lurking at every corner and stressed the need for eternal vigilance in fire-prevention. He declared that in the event of catastrophic participation in the event of bombing by an enemy, that the scouts of Winchester would be called upon in the emergencies that would inevitably arise and would on advancement becoming paramount now and more boys will be given an opportunity to show their the scouting skills that they have learned. The scouts were asked by Troop Chief to bring their Christmas trees to the F to Station to help celebrate and thereby add to the funds.

CHAMOIS SKI CLUB MEETING

With parse attendance but with all those present enjoying the new ski stove, the Chamois Ski Club had its second meeting of the season on Wednesday evening, November 1st. The stove, a new addition provided by Gordon Chandler, made the air inside Chandler's Barn almost as warm as it was outside, and one of the big questions of the meeting was to decide whether or not the club should reimburse the Chandlers. It was decided to find out the cost of the stove before making any rash decisions.

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the club Square Dance, to be held in Lyceum Hall on Friday, December 1. Al Smith of Winchester is to be the caller and the evening is sure to be a hit; the club is looking forward to a huge turn-out!

The question of what to do with 7 or 8 oak chairs belonging to the club was discussed, and if anyone wants them let us know and they are yours, for a small price.

Cider, doughnuts, and a movie on French Skiing for Linguists ended the meeting.

Incidentally, members are reminded that when their dues become 60 days in arrears they cease to enjoy full membership privileges.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM BLANK MALDEN

Both Winchester hockey teams, the varsity and the J. V. squads blanked Malden at Ginn Field on November 2. The varsity, sparked by Bette Kneeland who scored four of the Winchester goals, won easily 5-0. Jane Chiswell made the remaining goal. The seconds won 3-0 with Anna Fiorenza and Jan Easton doing the scoring.

Winchester traveled to Melrose on November 7 and the varsity won again by a score of 4-1. Bette Kneeland scored three of the goals, one of them 45 seconds after the first bully and another in a goalie bully, a rare thing in high school games. Jane Ryan accounted for one goal in the first half. The second team did not fare as well. Melrose gained the victory by a single score, 1-0. The game was close and hard-fought all the way, but Melrose inner Thompson slipped by the defense to score the one, all-important, goal. The games were played on the Melrose football field and the turf was a little the worse for wear, but the poor conditions didn't seem to affect Winchester's smooth teamwork.

Woburn came to Winchester to play our second team recently. The Tanners beat our girls running but Winchester's Chris McKay came through with a goal to defeat them 1-0.

Samuel Seaton Reynolds, 16 Sargent road, has been placed in charge of Transcriptions and Sound Effects at Boston University's FM Radio Station. As a Graduate Student at Boston University's School of Public Relations and Communication, Mr. Reynolds received his B. C. Degree in Journalism as an under-graduate student, at Boston University.

CROSS COUNTRY SUMMARY

With four lettermen back from the undefeated team of 1949 the season looked to be a case of building for a 5th runner. The results were two opening losses to Everett Voc. and Woburn. Following these two reverses the squad found itself and raced to 5 straight victories.

In the Pioneer Division Meet the squad placed 2nd behind Woburn. Then injury and illness hit the squad and the loss of Charlie Murphy and John Foley hurt the harriers in the league and state meets.

With a patened up group of 3 varsity and 3 jayvee runners Winchester managed to finish 7th in a field of 26 teams at the state meet.

During the year marked improvement was shown by Dick Rush, Ricky Phippen, Tom Wilder and Hank Hooper, all Juniors. Les Godwin, Sophomore flash, continues to show real promise and Freshmen Henry Morgan and John Becker look like outstanding prospects in the years to come. Three-year veteran Charlie Murphy and Sophomore dependable Peter Coon look to be two of the strongest members of next year's team.

WINCHESTER SEVENTH IN STATE HARRIER MEET

Winchester High School's cross country team scored in season Saturday, November 4, by placing seventh in Class B of the annual State Cross Country Meet at Franklin Field. Class A, in which the larger schools compete, had 140 starters from 21 schools, and Class B runners from 26 schools including Winchester, going to a starting line in Class B.

Winchester was hard hit by injuries and illness, being without Charlie Murphy, brilliant junior, and Co-Captain John Foley, key runners all season. This left the Indians three varsity runners, augmented by three jay-vees, no very good prospect for the toughest competition of the season.

Running their hearts out, the three regulars and the scrubs gave an excellent account of themselves, with Co-Captain "Buzzy" Bird turning in his best race of the season to finish in 49th place. Peter Coon also ran a great race to come home 143rd, a far cry from his 123rd place a year ago.

Dick Rush, a steadily improving junior, placed 148th with Sophomore "Les" Godwin, in championship competition for the first time, finishing a respectable 63rd. Tom Wilder, drawn on to replace the ailing John Foley, was Winchester's final boy to place, finishing 165th.

CARS DAMAGED

Three car owners reported their machines tampered with over the past week-end, the ornamental make-insignia being ripped from a car in the Theatre parking lot Friday night and a rear view mirror being broken off a car parked in the town hall parking lot during the Armistice Eve ball. A third owner told the Police boys had broken his windshield with bb. shots while he was driving through Border road.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY THRONG CHURCH AND HALL

The membership drive conducted by St Mary's Holy Name Society these past few weeks terminated successfully on Sunday, November 12th, when the old and new members attended the 8:00 a. m. Mass and received Holy Communion in a body. During Benediction the brief reception ceremony of new members took place, in which all pledged to honor and praise the Holy Name of Christ. With the added new members, the hymn singing seemed the best ever with Music Director Edward J. McDevitt and Society Marshal Philip O'Rourke singing the hymn, "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" at communion time accompanied by Miss Kay Roache, society organist.

Following the church services the men adjourned to Lyceum Hall for light breakfast, during which they were entertained by Herb Cleary at the piano, Newt Perry on the accordion and Jim Culkin in song and dance and harmonica selections.

Rev. William Nash, Spiritual Leader, announced that this season there will be only one communion breakfast instead of the usual eight, each society during their affairs. Instead there will be at the Town Hall a Family Breakfast in February.

President Arthur W. Hart announced a drive for the armed forces for religious articles such as rosaries, literature, etc. Past Marshal Leonard Hurley is Chairman of this activity and members are to bring him any articles at the December meeting or contact the officers beforehand.

Vice President Eric W. Johnson, who was general chairman of the membership drive, announced that to date 125 new members had joined making a total of 430 active members. Secretary Robert Barstow read the minutes of the last meeting while Harry J. Bennett, sick and yard chairman, reported including Frank Rogers and Jake Glendon.

Father Walsh introduced the guest speaker, Charles Birmingham, Attorney of note who chose for his topic, "The Church and the Negro".

He deplored the lack of consideration shown our brethren, the negro, stating that our ancestors came to this country to seek liberty, but the negro came to this country to lose his liberty. Quoting from the bible frequently, and citing the parable of the "Good Samaritan", Mr. Birmingham charged his listeners to remember that the negro was created by God even as you and I and that we should observe more closely the meaning of "Faith" instead of the vile, malicious and unchristian standards practised by both the North and Southern States towards him.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Abstraction in art reigned supreme at the second monthly meeting of the Winchester Art Association in the Art Gallery of the Public Library last Tuesday evening when Mr. Jack Berkman of Taos, New Mexico, spoke before that body. On the walls were his paintings some of them done when he was known as a conservative artist but many of them executed when he had turned to the art of abstraction. Many appreciated his "Indian Woman". They understood it. When it came to his "Guitar" there was a mental pause for few understood it although the speaker said that the picture really told his concept of the guitar even though the figure of the woman playing the instrument overshadowed the guitar. The color the artist said was chosen to startle. It did. Yet when the observer backed away from the picture it took on a completeness, a certain self containment and became pleasing as to color and composition.

"The Navaho Fire Dance" was interesting for its play of color. Color was added when the artist said that the Indians became so intent in their dance that they grasped fire brands and threw them at each other. In the picture the treble clef of the music piece was used to indicate the motion of the dance. The entire picture had about it an irregular white line as though a stream of fire played about the picture. This white line served the same purpose as the white line about the Guitar picture.

The artist in his lecture told of the oriental way of having panels or blocks behind each other, directly, to either side and even above. This overcomes the eastern or European tendency of having a road, a tree or even the sky lead off the picture. His two pictures of buildings and houses in a city carry out this idea so that each picture is contained.

Mr. Berkman was especially well pleased with the manner in which the pictures were hung. Mr. Robert H. Eason, the library building superintendent, just did as he has done many times before. He placed the pictures with due regard for color and size.

Mrs. Grace Ashtine was the hostess of the evening and had as her aides, Mesdames: Vivian Frazier, Ruth Chipman, Helen Walker, Blanche Barnard, Lavinia Wadsworth, Alice Rainie, and Miss Emma Boardman.

While the man from Taos was in the spotlight and his pictures graced the walls of our Public Library Art Gallery one of the Winchester art groups members of long standing has a one man show in Marblehead during this month. Mrs. Elizabeth Lobingier the well known art teacher and painter is showing not only conservative art but her idea of the abstractionist's art. Many Winchester art lovers are journeying to Marblehead to see her exhibit and to compare the two interpretations.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH MEN'S CLUB

The first evening meeting of the Men's Club was held on Thursday, November 9th in the Parish Hall with Mr. Murray S. Moore, President, presiding. After a few introductory remarks, including the fact that the next regular meeting would be deferred to December 5th, instead of November 30th, Mr. Moore introduced Dr. A. Warren Stearns, who spoke on "Modern Concepts of Crime."

Dr. Stearns, having had many years of experience in this field as Psychiatrist to the Mass. State Prison, Mass. Commissioner of Correction, Medical Director of the State Farm at Bridgewater and Professor of Sociology at Tufts College, briefly traced the history of penology in Massachusetts and compared the various types of modern crime with those in the past, indicating that the sociological changes over the years in the public's attitude toward the various types of wrong doing. In summarizing his remarks, Dr. Stearns urged that Massachusetts overhaul its Civil Service organization in order to do away with the slow and old-fashioned methods being presently used in this branch of the Service. He suggested that many more persons than are now available for this work be trained at once in this important function of government, and that training and experience be the measure of appointment, rather than patronage, as practiced today.

Rev. Howard P. Kellett, Protestant Chaplain at the Charlestown State Prison, was the next speaker, his subject being, "Protestant Fellowship in the Prison." Having had experience at Deer Island, prior to his present post, Rev. Kellett told many actual stories of the many opportunities he has had to help these men live useful lives within the prison, thus changing them from forgotten, bitter and lost souls to men with a purpose in life and in some cases men who are returned to their communities, stronger characters from their experience.

"The needs of the men at Charlestown are small, but very important," said Rev. Kellett. "They need help, friendship and a chance for rehabilitation." He stated that the present items needed at Charlestown were: books (fiction, westerns, biography); all kinds of magazines; records (Gilbert and Sullivan, if possible); combs, toothbrushes, toothpaste, razors and razor blades; flower seeds and bulbs.

The President, thanking the speakers for their most interesting talks, asked all those present to bring any of the above items to the next meeting, December 5th. Coffee, ice cream and cake were then served before the closing of the meeting.

GLEE CLUB ANNOUNCES CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The Mystic Glee Club has announced its annual winter concert to be held on Friday, December 15th at the Winchester High School Auditorium. The first Winchester concert of the Club's eleventh season will follow the pattern of previous winter concerts with program emphasis being placed on music of the Christmas Season.

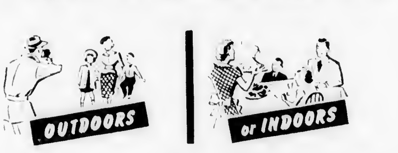

Announcement of the concert was made in letters recently sent to the Club's Sponsoring Members in which were enclosed renewal membership applications. Response to date indicates that this year will be a repetition of recent years with complete subscription of the two Winchester concerts by the Sponsoring Members, with no public ticket sale. Members are urged to return their applications promptly.

Preparation of the concert is proceeding under the direction of Keith D. Snyder, Club's Director. Feature of the approaching concert will be the participation by the audience in singing of several traditional Christmas Carols.

RECOUNT PETITIONED

Mr. Purcell has suggested to other town and city clerks that they hold off their recounts until the result of that held in Medford November 24-25 is known. Unless he can make a substantial gain in that city his chances of success in a complete recount would be negligible.

Tie Moral Victory for Tanners

Woburn High School's under-dog football team outplayed Winchester at the Woburn High field Thanksgiving day, emerging with a 7 - 7 tie as the traditional rivals battled before a huge holiday throng on a field that was little better than a quagmire at best and literally a mudhole at its worst.

Apparently the playing conditions bothered the Tanners much less than the Indians, for Woburn was in the driver's seat all morning, except for a couple of spurts by Winchester, one resulting in a touchdown five plays after Bob Johnson ran the Woburn kickoff from his 25 to his 33, and the other at the very end of the game when the Indians had the ball literally on the Tanners' goal line when time ran out.

Except for those two flashes the game was all Woburn, the Tanners making 10 first downs to 5 for Winchester and having a big advantage in rushing, 213 yards to 159. In the air Woburn tried two passes, completed neither and had one intercepted. Winchester, with one interception, completed two of six passes for 62 yards and missed completing another for a score when Billy Walden was so bogged down in the mud he just couldn't get to a wobbly Donlon toss while all alone in the clear.

Both teams lost five yards in penalties, with numerous others especially against Winchester being refused. Each team fumbled once, with Woburn recovering its bobble.

A Woburn offside gave Winchester a first and five at its 33 following the kickoff, and after Donlon picked up eight in two carries, Johnson broke through for 10 yards and a first down on the Woburn 46. From here O'Brien broke off right tackle to log it 46 yards into the Woburn end zone with Langdon Smith kicking in the all important point at placement.

The Indians couldn't go after the kickoff and McLaughlin's kick to the Winchester 41 had to be returned by Michelsen after three tries had netted only 4 yards.

Jost's boot traveled to the Tanners' 18, and from there, aided by a Winchester offside and fortunate recovery of a fumble, Woburn ran Winchester ragged with savage stabs at the line by Piazza and McLaughlin.

REV. HOWARD P. KELLETT

STATE PRISON CHAPLAIN TO ADDRESS THE FORUM

On Sunday evening the Forum of the First Congregational Church will assemble at 5:30 for food, fun, fellowship, worship and an address by Rev. Howard P. Kellett, Chaplain of the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown, using as his subject, "My Job as a Prison Chaplain." This is the third in a current series of topics on Christian Vocations. Mr. Kellett has been ten years at the Charlestown Prison and was before that a probation officer of the Boston Juvenile Court, two years member of the Crime Survey of Harvard University, and five years a chaplain at the Deer Island House of Correction.

A delegation of young people from Waltham Methodist Church will be on hand to participate in the evening's program to see the Forum in action.

Sunday morning at 10:45, the Forum will attend church in a body, sitting in the balcony. Don Cameron will be the chaplain and Rob Traut will train the boys who take the offering and Douglas Hawkins will be in charge of the ushers. Dr. Chidley will preach a special youth sermon, "Cruising with God." The combined Junior and Senior choirs will sing under the direction of J. Albert Wilson.

DEDICATION AT MARYCLIFF

On Tuesday evening, November 28 at 7:45, His Excellency Archbishop Cushing will dedicate the new classroom building of Marycliff Academy in Winchester and bless a shrine of the Blessed Virgin presented to the school by the parents of one of the students.

Before the dedication ceremony a short musical program will be given in the auditorium by the academy Glee Club, after which the Archbishop will address the assembled guests.

Open House will follow in order to give parents and alumnae the opportunity to visit the new building and meet the faculty; the senior students will serve as ushers. The addition to the academy contains nine extra classrooms, a library, a chapel, a music studio, and a kitchen and cafeteria.

A large committee formed of members of the Marycliff Guild is in charge of the refreshments and decorations for the occasion.

WOBURN POLICE HELPED

While the Winchester Police were having their annual ball at the town hall last Thursday evening Sgt. Sweeney with Officers Walsh, Maguire, Kelley, Folan and McDonald of the Woburn Department were doing Police duty here. Harry Goodwin was at Headquarters with Sgt. Sweeney.

POLICEMEN'S BALL PACKED THEM IN

The town hall bulged as usual last week Thursday evening as a capacity crowd gathered there for the annual Concert and Ball of the Winchester Police Relief Association.

Nearly two hours of high grade vaudeville preceded the dancing under the personal direction of Jack Collier of the George A. Hamid Office of Boston.

Getting the bill away to a flying start were Luck and Lucky, a colored boy and girl who ranked with the best dancers seen at the town hall in years. Judy Lane pleased with xylophone solos and Theo Martin offered something a bit different in a hypnotic act, in the performance of which he was assisted by youthful "stooges" from the audience, including several members of the high school football team.

Terri Mayfair proved a sweet voiced singer of popular songs and Marc Balleto offered jokes and imitations which were well received. The Bouncing Bodos, a team of aerialists from the Continent, were covered until they finally ran out of stunts as the audience begged for more.

The show ran nearly half an hour longer than usual and many said it was one of the best in these popular police series. Dancing was enjoyed after the show until midnight with music being furnished by Ruby Newman's Orchestra directed by Bill Crosby.

Heading the committee in charge of arrangements was Sgt. Edward F. Bowler as chairman and Lt. Edward W. O'Connell as treasurer. Chief Charles J. Harrold was floor marshall with President John F. Hogan of the Relief Association as chief of aides.

CHARLES LAUGHTON IN PERSON

The Winchester Mothers' Association brought Charles Laughton to Winchester last Thursday evening to tell his stories and do his readings for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. An audience that completely filled the high school auditorium and overflowed into the gymnasium heard the famous stage and screen star read from Dickens and Shakespeare, Thomas Wolfe, Francis Jammes and James Gilover Thurber, as well as from Aesop's Fables and the Bible, adding two speeches of Abraham Lincoln, a short political speech and the immortal "Gettysburg Address."

Mr. Laughton is an artist and as such has his "moods" as the program announced. He would have none of the musical selections which had been arranged to accompany the seating of the audience and he turned thumbs down on two microphones on the platform, which the hosts, seemed to think necessary t have the readings heard well in the gymnasium. Before his appearance the star got forty winks on the floor of the auditorium stage, wrapped in his overcoat and without benefit of pillow.

The microphone business bothered the unmannerly brute a bit and resulted in those who had paid to hear the readings in the gymnasium getting their money back, a good break for them as things turned out, for Mr. Laughton's voice, especially after intermission, came through very well and every one stayed around and enjoyed the show for free, including refreshments, which wasn't just the way the committee had planned it.

Mr. Laughton did go to the gymnasium personally and talked to the crowd there, being especially gracious to a group of young guests from Perkins Institute of the Blind, whom he promised to visit the next time he is in Boston He autographed programs for young fans in the gymnasium and was a good fellow generally while Mrs. George Marks, president of the Mothers' Association, killed time on the auditorium stage with remarks about the Scholarship Foundation and outstanding recipients of scholarships for a good fifteen minutes after the scheduled starting hour of 8:30. After the show the artist left immediately for Keene, N. H., missing a nice party which had been arranged in his honor.

Mr. Laughton finally came on, introduced by Mrs. Marks and carrying a pile of well dog-eared books. He is a biggish chap with blond hair, which he was continually tousling, and a most expressive face capable of expressing almost any emotion. He wore horn-rimmed spectacles, over which he peered for the most part jovially, and he was dressed in a double-breasted blue suit with a blue shirt and a dark fore-in-hand tie. As a lectern he used a white four-legged stool atop one of those small square tables you've seen around high school for years.

Mr. Laughton put on quite a show, ranging through the entire gamut of humor, drama, and recitation and pathos to that utter simplicity of presentation which is often the most dramatic of all. Witness his Gettysburg address, done without the declamatory flourishes we have come to associate with this masterpiece and in the simple direct style which was very probably Lincoln.

His reading of that little French thing about the prostitute and Sarah Bernhardt, by Francis Jammes, 1868-1938, the Thoreau of France, was beautifully done; and another gem was the Christmas trip to the farm from the "Pickwick papers." Mr. Laughton so lived this story that you forgot you were listening to him and saw before you Mr. Pickwick, Sam Weller, the Fat Boy, the Old Woman and all the rest. This is artistry of a high order, and it carried over to the reading of the 139th Psalm, "What is Man that Thou Art Mindful of Him," a real experience to listen to. A big part of the audience was enthusiastic over the train trip across country by Thomas Wolfe, and undoubtedly there were not a few who regretted not hearing more of "that old stinker, Captain Bligh."

Readings is hardly the word to describe the Laughton performance. He has most of his things by heart and simply clutches an open book to his left breast while he declaims.

Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, headed a large committee in charge of arrangements for the performance. Mrs. Alexander Clark headed the program committee.

Lyndon B. Burnham headed the usher corps.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Protestant Churches of the town held their annual Union Thanksgiving Service Sunday evening at the First Congregational Church.

A congregation of good size attended the service, for which the invocation was given by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. Rev. John William Cook, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, read the Governor's Thanksgiving Proclamation and the prayer was offered by Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Robert A Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, read the scripture lesson and the sermon was presented by Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, whose subject was "Thank You, Bobby."

Bobby was a little boy who wanted to do something for Rev. Snook's birthday, and lacking ready money, went to his attic and cut from crepe paper a small cross. Making an envelope to enclose the cross, he presented it to Mr. Snook touching the minister deeply because of the thought behind the gift.

Paradoxically, many people will pass Thanksgiving day without thanks giving. The great tree of our Christian democracy has been able to grow and cope with the winds of pagan philosophies and totalitarian uprisings simply because its roots are grounded in a noble but costly heritage. But the cross, involved in every crisis, has eventually turned into a crown, and we have become the beneficiaries of freedom out of the great sacrifices of our forefathers. All that has passed was the prologue to something better. The cross was only the prologue to a crown.

The Polyphonic Choir of the Church under the direction of J. Albert Wilson sang the Thanksgiving musical program and led in the singing of appropriate hymns. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, host pastor, pronounced the benediction.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE SPONSORS FORUM TO APPRAISE FINAL REPORT

At a public forum held last Monday evening the Winchester School Committee announced that both plans presented by the Enlarged Junior-Senior High School Building Committee provide the necessary indoor facilities needed for the secondary school program. It also announced that it unanimously preferred the alternate proposal of the Building Committee over the Foster Plan, insofar as the school buildings and facilities of the latter are involved, as distinguished from the proposed solution of the traffic problem.

Before several hundred citizens, the Building Committee presented two plans for solution of the building problem made acute by the pressure of an enrollment that looms largest in Winchester history, estimated to be an upsurge from the present 1050 to 1540 ten years from now.

Professor Howard Bartlett as moderator told of the increase in enrollment, pointing out that the number of graduates in 1949 was ninety-six per cent of the number in the first grade twelve years earlier. In 1925 only about thirty per cent of the first grade pupils reached the twelfth grade.

Mrs. Rachel Kimball, Chairman of the Building Committee, presented the two plans of her committee, stating that all of the recommendations of the School Committee and the Superintendent of Schools are incorporated in the proposal to erect a new junior high school building on the town-owned lot located near the Palmer street tennis courts and beach, but not encroaching on those important recreational facilities. It was further stated that a building on that site would permit adequate space for all the inside activities and for outdoor athletic fields and playground. Furthermore, that proposal allows the eventual organization of the secondary schools in a recommended 6 - 3 - 3 system, that is, a junior high school for grades seven, eight, and nine, and a senior high school for grades ten, eleven, and twelve.

Continuing, Mrs. Kimball said that solution of the senior high school building problem is contained in the same plan in that the Junior High School building would be adapted for a high school program by the addition of several classrooms, gymnasium space, cafeteria, and auditorium. Its proximity to Manchester Field makes that building especially desirable as a high school because of the extensive interscholastic athletic program.

Mrs. Kimball then outlined the alternate plan, which calls for renovating the High School building for a two-year junior high school, and expanding the facilities of the Junior High School building so that it becomes a four-year senior high school. She also said that her committee believes the matter of providing adequate facilities and buildings and the solution of traffic problems are unrelated. She stressed the fact that the plans of her committee, not dependent on the grade crossing elimination project, can proceed at once and that if Main Street is closed at some later date her committee's alternate plan would be materially aided. One point not previously noted was that the Building Committee's alternate plan, with Main Street closed, would still permit access to the center for pedestrians from Main Street, whereas this would be blocked by the building under the Foster plan.

VETERANS INVITED TO UNITARIAN VESPERS

Because of the special meaning it holds for all men who have borne arms, the Unitarian Choir's presentation of "The New Earth" for their Choral Vespers on the afternoon of December third has been brought to the attention of all Veterans' Organizations in Winchester, and a community-wide interest has developed to include not only all lovers of music but all those who want to hear a musical message of hope most appropriate to the state of our world today.

The augmented choir will sing under the direction of Mary Runyon Witham, and those rehearsing have been thrilled with the dramatic power of this music by the well-known contemporary, Henry Hadley. The libretto, a poem by Louise Ayres Garnett, holds within it a recognition of the reality of war in our times and a vigorous declaration of the final triumph of peace. The Reverend Robert A. Storer will conduct the service, which begins at four o'clock, and for all those who are performing with the Choir, the afternoon will end at the home of Mrs. Merian Norian of Robinson Circle, who has invited them, including husbands and wives, to her house following the service.

McCARRON — HILL

White city-anthemums and candlelight decorated the Immaculate Conception Church on November 11 when Miss Anne Elizabeth McCarron, daughter of Mr. John McCarron and the late Anne E. McCarron became the bride of Mr. Charles Regan Hill of Everett, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hill.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Jeremiah McCarron, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin entrancing. A matching braided coronet held in place veil of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Bernard J. Golden was her sister's only attendant and wore a gown of brick red taffeta with a full skirt with matching plumes in her hair. She carried talisman roses. The best man was Mr. Lawrence Glennon of Everett with Mr. Bernard J. Golden of Woburn and Mr. William Sullivan of Wakefield as ushers.

Assisting the bridal party in receiving were Miss Marguerite McCarron, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Hill, aunt of the groom.

Following a reception at the Sheldon Roof Mr. and Mrs. Hill left for a wedding trip to Florida and Havana. After Thanksgiving the couple will make their home in Chestnut Hill.

YOUR INDULGENCE, PLEASE

To bring you the result of the holiday Winchester-Woburn football game this week we had to print this week's Star later than usual.

As a consequence your paper is a day late in reaching you. Thursday holidays always make publication a problem, and doubly so this year because of the curtailment of postal service. Our friends at the Winchester Postoffice regretfully informed us that a Friday afternoon delivery of mail was out of the question and that the best they could do is get the Star to our Winchester subscribers Saturday morning. We ask your indulgence!

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, November 15 the Winchester Home and Garden Club met in the Library with Martha Prichard, Mrs. Frank J. Robinson in the chair. After the various reports, Mrs. Robinson called attention to the class in Flower Arrangement, and announced that it was open to any member of the Club desiring the training. Mrs. Norman N. Mitchell, the next class will be at 10 a. m. on Thursday, December 7.

The President then announced that Mrs. Mitchell was given Honorable Mention for the Hospital Service basket, which she arranged for a table center-piece for the Garden Club Federation meeting at the New Ocean House on October 6.

She also thanked the following members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club for the beautiful arrangements on November 3 for the Dedication of the late A. Downs Memorial Room at the Library: Mrs. Willard Hodson, Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Mrs. William W. Goodline, Mrs. Harold Twombly, and Mrs. Herbert West.

Our next meeting will be in the Social Hall at the Baptist Church, and will be the Annual Christmas meeting followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. Frederick W. Cole, Program Chairman, then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. William P. Sozio of Mattapoisett, whose topic was "Merrie Christmas". She spoke about the customs and legends of Christmas in foreign countries, as well as the olden and present customs in different parts of this country. She then demonstrated novel gifts, favors and decorations, easily and inexpensively made. These and her tiny trunk of gifts proved most instructive and interesting.

"KNOW-YOUR-HOSPITAL" NIGHT A SUCCESS

The second "Know-Your-Hospital night of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, held in the nurses' Home Tuesday evening with a packed audience of interested men and women, was a most interesting one, with the audience taking an eager part in the panel discussions. Edward F. Hart, Chief Engineer, and Ernest Fitzsimmons, Chief of Maintenance, were the speakers, with Mrs. George A. Marks the panel chairman of the evening. There will be four more lectures in this series, to which townspeople are invited.

Mr. Hart, who brought imagination and humor to his telling of "The Power Plant," incorporated reminiscences of 25 years with his talk. for the Panel took place two days before he celebrated his 25th year of service. Mr. Hart came to the Hospital when there was no refrigeration — when ice was delivered in 100 pound cakes, which the janitor had to carry to the various floors. He came to the Hospital when the hot water system was so poor that whenever the laundry was in operation, there was no hot water for the rest of the Hospital" His talk took his listeners back to the days when the nurses' home was moved from Highland avenue to its present site — moved with the nurses still living in it!

Mr. Fitzsimmons stressed the splendid job of landscaping and planting at the Hospital in recent years — of the gift of $10,000 from Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson Mead to provide for all types of shrubs, flowering bushes, laurel, hemlock, spruce, pine — and how much was accomplished with the greatest economy.

"How steam, electricity, and water serve the hospital" was the theme of Mr. Hart's talk. "A visitor coming to the engine room sees first of all the two high pressure boilers — the source of our steam — each with one hundred horse power capacity . . . to the right are two hot water heaters for the hospital and laundry. The original provision for this supply was a 250 gallon capacity, to which a 1,000 gallon booster has been added . . . Behind these heaters is another, which brings the temperature of the water to 200 degrees or more before it goes into the boilers."

Mr. Hart went on to describe the pumps, the flash or blow-off tank, and the storage of fuel at the left of the boilers. "We have our own mixture of fuel, made by us and used successfully all these years with resulting large savings to the hospital." About 600 tons of fuel is burned annually.

In the remodeled Winchester Hospital, a central sterilizing system will replace the smaller autoclaves by larger equipment capable of doing a days' work in two operations. Distilled water, which has many uses in the hospital, is stored and used directly from tanks on the fourth floor.

The kitchen has used steam for cooking since 1927, and all vegetables are cooked by live steam. As to electricity, "all our electricity is supplied by Edison, and enters the power house on three separate lines. The hospital makes all its own ice with electrically-driven 1200 pound capacity machines, and has its own ice crusher. There is a deep freezes unit for fruits, vegetables, meats, —"

Mr. Hart's department also gives service in connection with the anaesthesia apparatus, the tents for administering oxygen, operation of sterilizers, and the air conditioning of the operating room. Thus the story of the Power Plant is a long one, with many chapters, many exciting passages. In his story, Mr. Hart tried to take his audience into the recesses of his machinery and its functions — tried to make them understand his part in "What Makes the Hospital Work."

Mr. Fitzsimmons' "Maintenance story" was equally eye-opening to the men and women present. He and his department keep the hospital in repair — keep the service buildings in order, the nurses' home, the grounds. (And the grounds alone comprise 5 and one-half acres.) He explained that the plantings came from the Harlan P. Kelsey nurseries and were unusually fine specimens. When the present building is completed, Mr. Fitzsimmons plans a garden of annuals (it was for such a purpose that the Nancy Harrington Garden Fund was given.)

This department of the Hospital is wide-spread — in winter — snowfall, there is work to be done, urgently. In the summer months, there are the grounds to be cared for. The time of the second man in this department, Ralph Montevalvao, is divided between maintenance and housekeeping and storekeeping.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club met November 16 at the charming home of the hostess, Mrs. Donald G. Crowell. Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood at the Coffee Urn.

A most interesting arrangement of butternut squash, many onions, Tokay grapes and dark Autumn leaves was on a long tea table with its lovely pink homespun-effect tablecloth — this was in front of scenic windows overlooking the rolling hills.

The president, Mrs. William W. Goodline, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Donald G. Crowell brought an urgent message from Mrs. Futlon Brown, president of the newly organized Friends of The Winchester Hospital, the need for a cheery spot in the Waiting Room. The Club is taking this new service with Mrs. E. H. Robinson as Chairman, Mrs. Robinson will appoint her committee. A special Committee was appointed relating to club activity with Mrs. Herbert T. West as Chairman and serving with her are Mrs. Willard Hudson, Mrs. Herbert Maynard, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Miss Mildred Stone.

Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, Conservation and Horticultural Chairman, gave the club timely suggestions as to what we as individuals could do in our gardens now; pot bulbs now for forcing, she gave clear instruction for doing this; soak very thoroughly all shrubs and trees before the ground freezes. After three years of drought, all trees are beginning to suffer.

Mrs. Goodline presented the Program Chairman, Mrs. Herbert T. West who introduced Mrs. Flora Osgood Pease whose subject was "Thanksgiving — Homecoming." Many original sketches were shown for different table settings for Thanksgiving. She urged the members to keep the day rugged and homespun, and to use our old-time "homey" recipes, and to get back to that kind of life. Mrs. Pease set two tables — one she called "Mrs. Money Bags" and the other, "The Homespun Table."

The November meeting of 1950 adds its contribution to the club — a perfect setting for the meeting, a stimulating business meeting, valuable Departmental information and a God-given thought by the speaker, "Let us keep the day (Thanksgiving) rugged and homespun."

Committee Activities

Literature - Miss Gertrude Hall, Chairman.

On November 6 a group of Fortnightly members met at the Winchester Public Library for the first of a series of discussions on notable recent biographies of distinguished authors of the past. As Miss Caroline Everett reviewed "The Life of Ralph Waldo Emerson" by Ralph Leslie Rusk, the influence of environment as well as heredity was brought out. Emerson came from a line of scholars and lived in an atmosphere of culture. The philosophical discussions he heard in his home as a boy contributed to his independent thinking as a man, and to his love of truth and the polished expression of it. His essays established his reputation here and abroad as one of our greatest thinkers.

Miss Everett reviewed her subject in a delightfully informal manner. Presenting her narrative almost entirely without the use of notes she took her audience from scene to scene in a most realistic portrayal of Emerson's life as seen through Rusk's new biography. It was an hour well spent.

Mrs. Theodore Dissel in charge of the second half of the program gave a colorful review of "The Life of Henry David Thoreau" by Joseph Wood Krutch, Professor of Dramatic Literature at Columbia University. "Thoreau" stated Mrs. Dissel "was the arch example in our history, perhaps in all literary history, of a man who believed in doing what he wanted. His genius had other qualities, he was a poet, a naturalist - probably the best in any literature - he was a good historian and a prose writer of the highest distinction. He was a wit, not a humorist, he was cantankerous, a shrewd Yankee and an uncompromising philosopher. Among Thoreau's works "Walden" is probably the most popular and the most influential. "A week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers" is one of the unique works of all literature and Thoreau's address "The Plea for John Brown" belongs to the great orations in the history of the Republic and is quite indispensable to a complete understanding of Thoreau. It is a lesson on morals and politics."

Mrs. Dissel's comprehensive grasp of her subject and the effortless clarity with which she rendered her paper conveyed to her listeners a special value and charm. Indeed the entire program through the combined efforts of Miss Everett and Mrs. Dissel, presenting a vivid picture of Old Concord was like a lovely old theme with, perhaps, a new setting.

Special Committee - Philanthropy Fund

Mrs. George Budd - Chairman, wishes to express her gratitude to all Fortnightly members who supported so wholeheartedly the philanthropy fund raising project - the Food Sale held on November 13.

Miss Louise Lane, a freshman at Centenary Junior College, Hackettstown, N. J., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Lane of 1 Drexel avenue, was elected to a position on the Student Government at exercises held in Whitney Chapel last Tuesday.

PARKHURST KINDERGARTEN TEA

The last of a series of teas given for the Parkhurst teachers was held Wednesday afternoon, November 15th, at the home of Mrs. R. Everett Mitchell, 54 Emerson road, for Miss Nancy Carroll.

The assembled mothers enjoyed hearing Miss Carroll explain the Kindergarten program and how she is trying to stress courtesy during the school day. At the close of her talk Miss Carroll answered questions asked by the individual mothers.

Tea was served by Mrs. Mitchell and her committee consisting of Mrs. Oscar Carlson, Mrs. Hollis Cooley, Mrs. Joseph Cerra, Mrs. Andrew Peterson, Mrs. Benjamin Wild, Mrs. Aaron Newton and Mrs. Richard Fisher. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Wild poured.

HONORS MYSTIC SCHOOL PUPIL

A boy, sacking on a Winchester street the other day chanced to look down and see a blueprint lying there. It would have been an easy matter to pass it by, but this boy didn't. Being careful and thoughtful he picked it up. Clearly it was a blueprint, and might be important. The boy did not know what should be done with it, for he believed his principal would, so he took it to him.

Alfred Doherty was that boy, a sixth grade pupil at the Mystic School. Mr. Forte showed him that it was a blueprint of an elevator for Amherst College, and belonged to the F. S. Payne Company, makers of elevators. It was decided to return the blueprint to the company, and the letter left no room for appreciation which Alfred received from the president explains the rest of the story.

November 16, 1950

Master Alfred Doherty
15 Sargent road
Winchester, Ma.

Dear Alfred:

I have just received your letter telling me that you found a blueprint and returned it to the school which you attend. This print was forwarded to the company.

This blueprint was evidently lost by one of our employees and I want to thank you for your honesty and integrity and also for so having the print returned to the company.

This is certainly a shining example of high principles for which you are to be commended.

As a token of the writer's appreciation for what you have done, I am enclosing a five dollar bill which no doubt you can use to advantage.

If we had more young men as honest as you, our communities would never have to worry about juvenile delinquency.

Again, my sincere thanks.

Sincerely yours,
F. S. Payne Co.
F. A. Smith, President

Mr. Forte, knowing that Alfred had received this letter, asked him what his next step was going to be. "Oh, I've already taken that step, Mr. Forte," Alfred replied, "I banked the five dollars this morning!"

COLLEGE CLUB ART GROUP

The Dodge MacKnight Memorial exhibition at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts will be the goal of the College Club Art Group on Friday, December 1st at 11 a. m. This is the third in the series of Museum trips planned for this group under the chairmanship of Mrs. Murray Moore.

The exhibition honors the memory of one of Boston's own artists who died this year at the age of ninety, after a lifetime of creation and success. Dodge MacKnight was a contemporary of Van Gogh, Sisley, and other French post-impressionists with whom he studied and by whom he may have been influenced, but his own individuality asserted itself in his brilliant palate and skillful brushwork.

In the exhibition there are pictures which he painted in Spain, Morocco, Majorca, New Foundland, Canada as well as on nearby Cape Cod. His popularity in Boston is a tribute not always accorded to the native artist.

At the Institute of Contemporary Art there is an exhibition "Design for Christmas" as well as a display of color photographs newly developed by a special technique by Eastman Kodak.

Another popular Boston artist, Louis Kronberg has a show at the Guild of Boston Artists, of ballet and figure studies, Parisian street scenes and genre pieces executed with gay spirit and skill.

The Worcester Museum has an exhibition of unusual interest, of Art objects owned in and near Worcester which will continue through January 1st.

BARN DANCE

Everybody loves a barn dance, especially when it is sponsored by the Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church in Winchester as the feature of their annual Husband-Night. So, come in couples, or come alone, or come in threes, but come anyway, on Tuesday evening, November 28th. Members of the Jr. Mrs. Guild, their husbands, their friends, all are cordially invited. There will be partners for everyone.

Wear your farm clothes and feel at home in the hayloft atmosphere. There will be fast music with the popular Edgar N. Weber of Watertown as caller of the dans. And at intermission in the midway, there will be Christmas shopping at the auction of Small Fry gifts and necessities.

Mrs. Lawrence Poston is arranging the dance and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald assisted by Mrs. William Bates is in charge of refreshments. The bill of fare includes popcorn, cider, doughnuts and toothpicks.

Remember the date, November 28th; the time, 8:00 p. m.; the place, the Parish Hall. See you there.

EVERYONE SHOULD READ REPORT ON NEW SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

The Report of the Junior and Senior High School Building Committee is now in the hands of all citizens. It is the result of more than a year's study on the part of the Committee. We urge that it be carefully and thoroughly read before the date of the special town meeting to be held on Thursday, November 30th. We especially recommend that thoughtful comparison be made between the plans presented, in terms of the long term secondary school building needs of the town and with practical consideration given to educational values as well as to cost.

Junior, Senior High School Building Committee

APPRECIATION FROM LAUGHTON COMMITTEE

Editor of the Star:

The Ways and Means Committee of the Winchester Mothers' Association wishes through the Star to express its sincere thanks to all those whose assistance in any way aided in the success of the Charles Laughton Lecture last week. It is impossible to reach individually all those who helped and the committee in this way hopes to make clear to everyone its deep appreciation.

The Ways and Means Committee
Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, chairman

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

County Council will be held at the Legion Home on Saturday, November 25. Luncheon will be served from 12:30 to 1:30 and the meeting will be opened at 2:30 with Adelaide Fitzgerald, our State Department Secretary-Treasurer as the principal speaker. This promises to be a most interesting Council with a large attendance from all over the state and Unit 97 Members and prospective members are urged to arrive early and assist our President in welcoming the guests.

Invitations to enroll are now being sent to all women of wur service families in Winchester. Already the largest women's patriotic organization in the U. S., with nearly one million members, the Auxiliary is seeking a large increase in enrollment during the coming years in order to expand its activities to meet current needs.

Patriotic service will keynote the activities of the Legion Auxiliary during the coming year. The Auxiliary will work closely with the American Legion to help give America the unity and strength that the world situation demands, Mrs. Rita Meek, our President has promised.

At this time no American can sit on the sidelines. Everyone must be actively at work for America - there is something for all of us to do, and we must forget selfish considerations in serving our county.

TOWN BASKETBALL LEAGUE NOTICE

A meeting of representatives of the teams wishing to play in the Town Basketball League this season is being called for Monday evening, November 27, at the Legion House on Vine street at 8 o'clock. New teams are welcome and are urged to be represented at this meeting.

Miss Mary Cecil Dodge Field Representative of Albertus Magnus College, last week addressed the junior and senior students at Mary-cliff Academy on Catholic Education.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

Mrs. Virgil Giordardini and Mrs. Edward McDevitt attended a Red Cross council dinner at the Veteran's Hospital in Bedford last week. Plans were completed for Christmas parties for the patients on December 16. Winchester will provide a party for 100 men on the Infirmary ward. Mrs. McDevitt was appointed secretary to the monthly meetings of the Council.

Mrs. Richard F. Fenno and Mrs. Louis K. Foster will attend a Red Cross training course for five days beginning next Monday in Framingham. The course is given to trained nurses who will teach home care of the sick in the community.

The Town Hall and Wedgemere Avenue Sewing Groups of the Red Cross are working on forty pairs of curtains for the Veterans Hospital in Bedford. The Motor Corps brought the material and gauze from the Hospital this week. The Corps also made four trips to the Children's Hospital in Boston.

Mrs. Daniel Kelley, a Red Cross worker in Winchester for many years, is now in the Fairlawn Nursing Home in Lexington.

The Boston Mobile Blood Unit will visit Winchester again next Friday. The Unit will be stationed at the First Congregational Church from 1 to 7 p. m. to receive blood donations. Not only do our servicemen benefit from the Red Cross blood service, but also Winchester residents themselves. Only last week three pints of blood were supplied to a Winchester patient at New England Deaconness Hospital. One pint of the rare O negative type blood was supplied for another requirement on Saturday. And on Monday four more pints were supplied by the Winchester Chapter.

But while the demand has been great, the response to the call for blood donations has not been equal to it. It is largely due to the blood program that the death rate for Americans wounded in Korea has been kept to the record low of 1%, according to Time Magazine on November 6. But as stated above, this is only one side of the picture. From the inception of the Massachusetts Regional Blood Program, whole blood and blood products to the value of $3,920,510.00 have been returned to the people of Massachusetts. During the month of October, 425 walking donors were supplied to local hospitals. In the same month, 7,290 donors gave blood for processing.

If each Chapter can recruit 146 donors, the commitments of the Red Cross blood program can be met. That means about six donors every 15 minutes for the six hours of the Unit's visit. So don't delay. There is no artificial substitute for human blood. Make an appointment with the Red Cross today. The Unit's equipment has been approved as sanitary by the National Institute of Health.

CHURCH SCHOOL CONFERENCE AND TEA

Parents, teachers and friends of the children of the First Baptist Sunday School! Remember the opportunity you have to think together at the conference and tea being held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Church. Dr. H. Glenn Payne, Director of Religious Education of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention will speak and there will be a discussion period. The Young Adult group of the church will serve the tea following the conference and a fellowship time will be enjoyed.

Parents, this is a great opportunity to hear a man well qualified to talk with you on the subject of your child's religious education. Do not neglect to take advantage of it

CHAMOIS SKI CLUB SQUARE DANCE

Now that we've finally had some snow, the Chamois Ski Club's season is ready to get under way, and with a bang, too! On Friday night, December the first, we are sponsoring a repeat Square Dance. Last year's was such a success that we felt it would be the only thing to do, but this year there is the added attraction of a Winchester caller, Ed Smith. As an entertainer of excellent reputation, and definitely is not to be missed! The dance will be held in Lyceum Hall, right over the Foley Real Estate Co., at the corner of Mt. Vernon and Main streets; the time, 8:00 p. m. For those who need eating appeal, cider will be on hand. All you have to do to get tickets is to drop in at the Sport Shop, or call Winchester 6-0334. Come along; you'll really be missing a bang-up affair if you don't!

Mrs. Harry Waud, 432 Washington street, who is confined at the Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston, is reported to be getting along satisfactorily.

Title of the Lesson-Sermon is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The lesson admonition from I Corinthians 16:13 is the Golden Text: "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong."

Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon include these passages:

"The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." Romans 13:12-14. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them" Ephesians 5:11.

Selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes:

"The march of mind and of honest investigation will bring the flesh with its deeds will chain, with fetters of some sort the growing sensitism of this period up. Then will be the deep symbolic inborn of in mortal mind and always germinating in new forms of creation, must be rooted out through the action of the divine Mind" (p. 225).

WYMAN SPECIAL EVENTS

Children's Book Week, sponsored by the Children's Book Council, was observed in the Wyman School last week, the children taking for their motto: "Make friends with books."

Book jackets, book displays, listings of favorite books, and displays to illustrate the proper care of books were classroom projects.

Fifth graders in Mrs. Helena Hatchell's room as a part of their study of Peru have prepared an exhibit of items brought from their homes.

"Thanksgiving in Tiny Town", a play by the second graders, showed how the people of a little town, working together and helping each other, were able to have a glorious Thanksgiving.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FORUM

Mr. William Davies then explained the construction details and the over-all design of the new construction necessary for either plan by using photographic slides.

Appearing for the School Committee, Mr. William J. Speers, Jr., emphasized the fact that the Building Committee's plans do afford greater flexibility and do isolate the school building problem from the traffic problem and yet are fully as flexible if plans for closing Main Street materialize.

Questions from the floor were then entertained by Mr. Bartlett. Requests for information about the 6 - 3 - 3 plan were answered by the members of the School Committee and by Dr. Norris. The basic reasons pointed out were the desirability of segregating pupils of such different ages, the desirability of the more evenly balanced administrative setup and the benefit to pupils resulting from their twice reaching positions of leadership, in the ninth grade and again in the twelfth.

At the request of the moderator, Mr. Alexander Clark, Chairman of the Finance Committee, spoke for that committee. He summarized their views more or less as follows: (1) Action by the Town for immediate construction of school buildings is necessary; (2) The Finance Committee will recommend unfavorable action on the Palmer Street plan; (3) No decision has been reached on the alternate plan of the Foster Plan, the cost to the Town being approximately the same in either case.

Mr. Jerome B. Foster, when asked to comment, said that his plan tries to encompass in one building all necessary school facilities.

At the conclusion of the meeting it appeared that the School Committee and the Finance Committee are agreed on the immediacy of the need for the voting of an appropriation and the beginning of construction of the necessary buildings. The School Committee and the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee are agreed on the importance of two separately administered school units, a junior high school and a senior high school.

EPIPHANY CHILDREN BROUGHT GIFTS

Members of the kindergarten and primary grades of the Church School at the Church of the Epiphany brought gifts of fruit and vegetables to the service of Morning Prayer last Sunday, presenting them to the church to be given to the children at the Home for Little Wanderers in Jamaica Plain.

A special prayer was made by the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, who received the children's gifts for the church, and the children joined the congregation in saying the Lord's Prayer.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AUCTION

The auction sale held at the Second Congregational Church last Saturday headed by Mrs. Ralph Perkins and Mrs. W. O. Whiting was a huge success. M. J. Foley and Son were the auctioneers and conducted the sale with humor and imagination. An overflow crowd came and went throughout the afternoon. Food, antiques, household articles of all kinds were auctioned to the highest bidders. The committee wishes to thank everyone who helped to make the sale the success it was.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Last Sunday the Methodist Youth Fellowship enjoyed a speech titled "The Responsibility of being a Christian." The speech was presented by Mr. Ralph Pingree.

Next Sunday, November 26, at 6:30 p. m. they will enjoy another entertaining evening at the church.

WINCHESTER, 7; WOBURN, 7

A ten yard jaunt by McLaughlin gave Woburn first down at the Winchester 34, and Piazza broke through the porous center of the Indians' line for five. McLaughlin, however was stopped with a scant yard to sweep and on the next play, the Woburn ace was beautifully cut down by Crowley for a two yard deficit.

That left the Tanners six yards short on fourth down, and just as a year ago the Winchester line wasn't equal to the emergency, the irrepressible McLaughlin just making the distance at the 21, a measure being necessary.

A lateral out to McLaughlin got less than a yard, but on the next play Piazza busted through the line again and this time went all the way. The Tanners showed their disdain of Winchester's frontier by electing to rush for the equalizing extra point, McLaughlin skirting his own left end for the yardage.

That is really the story of the game, though Woburn threatened at the start of the second quarter when Michelsen's kick was blocked and recovered by Bevilacqua at Winchester's 31. McLaughlin got away from the 29 to the 7 yard stripe, but Winchester took over on downs at the six, throwing McLaughlin for a two-yard loss on fourth down.

Winchester had to kick and Michelsen's boot from the end zone went out only to the 30. With Johnson doing some great running, carrying three times from the 27 yard line to Winchester 6, the Tanners were threatening again, but once more the Indians held for downs, taking the ball at the five.

The Tanners' next advance was stopped by Tony Cirurso, who intercepted a pass at the Indians' 12. Immediately a Winchester pass was intercepted by Woburn, but time ran out two plays later.

Winchester had a great chance commencing the new half when a McLaughlin punt was blocked on fourth down with Winchester taking over at the Woburn 27. The Indians could make only four yards in four tries and lost the ball on downs.

McLaughlin's next kick reached the Winchester 40 and three plays later Michelsen fumbled with Bevilacqua recovering at Woburn's 42.

Winchester stopped the Orange at its 36, and Johnson in three tries made a first down at the 50, only to have Dolan on a pitchout slip and lose six yards in a sea of mud. It was after this that big Joe tossed off that wobbly forward that could have meant something if Walden had not been absolutely cast in the mud.

Sericka's attempt to punt was blocked, and as usual recovered by Woburn at Winchester's 36. The Indians stopped the Orange at the 30 and a Donlon-to-Walden pass made a first down at the Tanner's 20.

O'Brien couldn't gain and passes from Donlon to Cirurso and Michelsen to Walden fell incomplete and Sericka kicked, his boot just rolling into the end zone for a nice break for the Orange.

Woburn reeled off a first down at the 31, but then had to kick. Donlon taking McLaughlin's boot at the 45 and getting to midfield.

Michelsen failed to gain but Donlon picked up four and then tried to hit Cirurso with a pass that fell incomplete.

Sericka dropped back to his 18 to kick, but instead of booting the ball ran with it beautifully to a first down at the Orange 34. Immediately Donlon passed to Cirurso for a first down at the six and the Winchester stands were wild.

Donlon lost a yard but Bob Johnson bulled through to the one on second down and on the next try, two of the three officials ruled he was stopped at the edge of the goal line, despite the fact that Johnson was lying in the end zone with the ball well over the goal line. There was more than a minute remaining after the disputed play, but while Winchester players were trying to find out how a guy could drive into the end zone and not score, the watch, for some unaccountable reason, was permitted to run, and time was up before another play could be made.

The summary:

Woburn — Collins, lg; Regan (c), Cutter, lg; Andrews, c; Bevilacqua, rg; Canty, rt; Lundquist, re; Marciano, qb; McLaughlin, lhb; Johnson, rhb; Piazza, fb.

Winchester — Cirurso, re; Kennison, rt; Barbanik, rg; Lentine, c; Kress, lg; McElhinney, lt; Walden, le; Michelsen, qb; Johnson, rhb; Donlon, lhb; O'Brien, fb.

Winchester substitutions — Tackles, Amundson, Crowley; Smith, guard; Pelton, backs; Errico, Cullen.

Score by periods	1	2	3	4	Total

FORUM YOUNG PEOPLE OBSERVE WORK-DAY FOR CHRIST

The young people of the Forum, High School youth group of the First Congregational Church, earned $278 which was presented Sunday morning to Mr. Earl Douglas, Executive Secretary of the Boston City Missionary Society, by doing many different kinds of work on the week-end of November 3 and 4. Above top, left to right: Nancy Mead washing windows, Edward Tarr washing and waxing floors, Scott Cunningham baby-sitting, Harold McKinley washing windows, Carolyn Padelford washing woodwork, George DeCamp who collected newspapers, Dave Archibald and Ralph Blaeden with a pile of leaves they raked, and Lester Godwin washing storm windows. These were typical of the many kinds of work the young people did. 126 Forum members worked and gave their earnings to the fund.

"IOLANTHE" HAS MANY STARS

"Iolanthe", the fairy tale set to music by Gilbert and Sullivan and seldom presented by amateur groups, will be staged by Staff and Key Society on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 8 and 9, in the High School Auditorium, with part of the proceeds going to the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

The operetta is a delightful one, with some of the most tuneful of the Gilbert and Sullivan melodies. Mrs. Gordon C. Bennett (Cushla deLanger) has the leading role — she is the charming lady who sang Yum Yum in "The Mikado" last year — while Louis Parks of Stoneham will sing the role of Strephon. Mr. Parks, a busy attorney who makes music his hobby, is a Staff and Key member, and assisted the Parish Players when they produced "The Gondoliers" two years ago. His splendid voice and diction make an excellent combination for the exacting role of Strephon.

Dr. F. Milne Blanchard, a favorite of theatre-goers in Winchester, who seems equally at home in a straight Parish Players drama or a Staff and Key musical, will portray Private Willis. The role of Iolanthe will be taken by Miss Helen Goodwin, supervisor of music in the Winchester Public Schools. Miss Goodwin is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, and while keenly interested in voice, is actually an instrumentalist. This will be her first singing role here.

Miss Dorothy Mary Hickey of Salem street, a local graduate who is now studying voice, will be "Leila", bringing her pleasing coloratura soprano voice to that part. Miss Hickey has been doing straight dramatic work this past summer with the Eastern Slopes Players, and this is her first role locally. Miss Lorraine Keane, who plays the Queen, comes from Wintrop — commuting to and from rehearsals willingly because she enjoys singing. She is a master student at the New England Conservatory, has done some operatic work, and has worked under Boris Goldovsky.

Gordon C. Bennett will sing the part of Earl Tolloller, and Miss Genevieve Croyo of Reading — last seen as one of the Three Little Maids in "The Mikado" — will enact the part of Celia. Miss Croyo is studying at the Longy School, and has been in several Staff and Key productions. With her, as Fleta, is another "Little Maid", Pauline Anifantis of Arlington, a member of Staff and Key, Arlington Friends of the Drama, and the Arlington Philharmonica. Those who saw her dance in "The Gondoliers" here two years ago will remember her vividly.

Wilfred Russell, "Lord M. Arrarat", is a distinguished addition to the cast this year, for he is a concert artist and voice teacher, with personal appearances in Town Hall, Carnegie Hall, and Radio City Music Hall. Born in Derby, England, he is a former member of the 51st Infantry, U. S. Army. Joseph Hancox, who plays the "Chancellor", is an old friend of Winchester audiences, and as usual, travels from Danvers just to join Staff and Key in the Gilbert and Sullivan productions he enjoys so much. His last appearance here in "The Mikado", as Ko-Ko, definitely "stopped the show."

These, and many other men and women with fine voices, make this year's Staff and Key production, "Iolanthe", a very special one. Mr. Hassler Elaridge is directing, Mrs. Edward Center coaches the dances, and Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushman is the pianist. Mrs. Henry Fernald is production chairman, and Mrs. John Page is the Ways and Means Chairman for the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Hall Gamage is in charge of the printed program. Punch will be served during intermission by Mrs. Donald L. Birchall and her committee.

Mr. Philip Burbank of Wayland, who died suddenly last week, was a brother-in-law of the late P. Stewart Newton of this town. He had many Winchester friends who mourn his sudden death.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NEWS

Thanksgiving Day Assembly

Thanksgiving was the subject of the Assembly given by the children in Miss Jurgenson's fourth grade on Wednesday, November 22 in the Mystic School Assembly Hall.

The first part of the program entitled, "We Give Thanks", was done in choral verse by the entire class.

The following poems made up the second part of the program:

Thanksgiving — Lynne Goodwin
The World I'd Like — Linda Smith
The Turkey and the Pumpkin — Henry Kiley and Peter Bryant
Thanksgiving Time — Nancy Clark
We Thank Thee — Kathryn Saisbery
Thanksgiving Acrostic by Reginald Bracey, Nancy Clark, Joanne Cox, Robert deRivera, Diane Falvai, Judith Ghirardini, Andrea Loustaunau, Gerard Patrick, Barbara Pooler, Marcia Smith, Kathryn Saisbery and Donna Violante.

Gerard Patrick announced the play called, "Larry Makes a List", which stressed the idea of being thankful, not only at Thanksgiving time, but every day in the year. The characters in the play were:

Larry — David Littleton
Mother — Andrea Loustaunau
Goblin — Oliver Peterson
Brownies — Paula Colclough and Donna Violante
Fairies — Marcia Smith and Nancy Byrnes

At the close of this very interesting and timely program Nancy Byrnes wished all a pleasant Thanksgiving.

Teachers' Luncheon

The first in a series of luncheons for the teachers of the Mystic School was held on Tuesday, November 14 during the noon hour. Mrs. Maude Dover and Mr. Joseph Forte were special guests.

The luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell, 39 Grove street. Mrs. Caldwell and her committee served a delicious luncheon, which was a great success. The general arrangements were in charge of the chairman of Teachers' Luncheons, Mrs. Albert Fisher.

ROTARY NEWS

Last week, November 16, Rotary Club of Winchester had an open meeting. President Wade Grindle gave a very impressive speech in his 'charge' to the three new members that were formally inducted into the club. The three members thus officially accepted were as follows: Edward Cullen, Sam Perkins, Jr., and Paul Lajoie.

The week previous the club were 100% in attendance for the first time since Ernie Dade's presidency. It is hoped by Chairman of Attendance Vin Ambrose that this will become a habit rather than an exception.

The bowling league is well into the first half of competition with two teams tied for first place. The previous Wednesday Captain Allan Wilde by careful use of both gutters was able to lose four points to the underdog team captained by Vin Ambrose who bowls both alleys simultaneously.

MISS MARJORIE SHEPHERD
GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

You won't want to miss our next meeting on Tuesday, November 28th, when we shall have the pleasure of presenting local merchants and friends. Miss Marjorie Shepherd, who has a reputation for excellency as a dramatic reader.

A graduate of the Leland Powers School of the Theatre, Marjorie Shepherd has been well trained in her work, and her programs are finished productions, carefully balanced between humor and the more serious side of life.

In addition to her very full scheduled of platform engagements, Miss Shepherd manages to find time to instruct classes at the Carter-Jr. School of Speech in Boston. Her life is by no means one-sided, however, and she spends as much time as possible in her pleasant home, with her husband and small son.

If the world and its problems seem too much for you lately or if you're just worrying about what to buy Aunt Minnie for a Christmas present, plan to forget it all for the afternoon of the 28th. Call your friends and come down to hear Miss Shepherd. We guarantee you will come away refreshed and relaxed and ready to tackle the work-a-day world again.

News from the Bazaar . . . Hundreds of our members and friends turned out again this year to make the success of our annual bazaar and to purchase unusual and attractive Christmas gifts. The country Store had another of its displays of darling dolls that make you want to be a little girl again, while the Apron Table had its usual supply of customers who wait to buy Guild aprons every year; the White Elephant Table, as always, was one of the busiest spots at the Bazaar. Both were menaces and tradists, the Pantry Shelf again attested to the good cooking of our members, by the way, and in which all the cakes and home-cooked foods sold out so fast and the Notions and Novelties Table had a host of choice gifts including lovely handkerchiefs and linens. An added feature of this year's bazaar was the attractive Garden Shop with its darling Wishing Well. By the way, we hope all your wishes came true. Last, but definitely not least, a great deal of credit is due the Snack Bar Committee for the delicious luncheon and the efficient orderly manner in which they served so many people.

Our heartfelt thanks to every one who contributed in any way to the success of our Bazaar and we don't forget our date on Tuesday, the 28th, to hear Marjorie Shepherd in an Afternoon at the Theatre.

Harry Easton, 2nd, and Bill Bird, back, received their varsity football letters at a recent fall sports award banquet at the University of Maine. Both were members of the "defense platoon" which held opponents to 172.4 yards per game. Maine won five, tied one and lost one.

THE SAME BUT DIFFERENT

A resident of the Highlands called Police Headquarters last Friday afternoon reporting that a woman, absolutely unknown to her, had arrived at her home in a taxi and refused to leave, claiming that she lived at the Highlands address.

Officer Edward Flaherty went to straighten things out and had quite a time of it. The stranger insisted that she had come in the cab, and after considerable discussion succeeded in getting across to Officer Flaherty and the house wife that she had once some years ago worked at the house in question, then.

The woman seemed badly mixed up and the cab driver was ordered to take her back to the out-of-town address from which she had come.

ONE LAST BINGE!

Sunday morning at 3:54 a resident of the North End called Police Headquarters and excitedly reported that a man was attempting to gain access to her house.

Officers James F. Noonan and Thomas Kennedy responded and arrested a West Side young man on a charge of drunkenness. At Headquarters the authorities learned that the young man was celebrating his last leave before going abroad with the army and had gotten mixed up in his way to his home, landing at the North End address by mistake.

Most apologetic and disclaiming any intention to alarm any one, the young man was held at Headquarters until daylight made it more simple for him to find his way home.

WRONG ADDRESS

Early Monday afternoon a resident of Ramsdell Ridge called Police Headquarters reporting a man had gotten into the family car in front of the house and refused to get out. Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Officer Thomas Parsons responded and found an elderly man in the machine. At Headquarters he said he had come to Winchester to visit his son and had evidently become confused in his attempt to find the right house. His daughter-in-law came to the Station and took him home.

LINCOLN SCHOOL NEWS "WHO IS JESUS?"

The Boston Edison Company's cooking demonstration at the Lincoln School Mothers Association meeting was very entertaining. Mrs. Comstock, assisted by Miss Davidson, cooked several complete meals, explaining cooking tricks as they went along. An electric stove and two ovens were set up on the stage, so the audience could watch several items at the same time.

Apple pie, orange cream cake, and tuna casserole were only a few of the fragrant recipes used during the session. The mothers were told to ask any questions that they wanted as the cooking progressed, and many were asked, proving real interest in the show.

At the beginning of the meeting, everyone was given a set of the recipes to be used, a measuring spoon, and a plastic refrigerator bag. After the demonstration, the foods were given away, as well as sets of light bulbs, electric cords, and several beautiful spruce pants with colored tops. Names were drawn from a pan, appropriately.

Miss Cullen's third graders gave a very interesting assembly program for the mothers and the rest of the school, last week. The subject was "Indians", and the class wore costumes made by their teacher. They did war dances, sang songs, showed drawings they had made on various phases of Indian life, and explained angles of their life, while gathered about a campfire. Everyone enjoyed the program very much, and it was hard to realize that this was the group's first formal assembly entertainment.

Last Sunday evening Officer James F. Noonan recovered on Palmer street a Ford coupe which had been stolen last Friday in Lowell. The owner, Nathan Brand of 355 Princeton Boulevard, Lowell, called for his machine at Headquarters.

"WHO IS JESUS?"

With the Christmas season just around the corner and the great proclamations and commemorations of the coming of the Christ child, Mrs. Comstock, assisted by Miss Davidson, cooked several complete meals, explaining cooking tricks as they went along. An electric stove and two ovens were set up on the stage, so the audience could watch several items at the same time.

He reported that big "Jawn" had little opportunity to go anywhere with the ball, due to the inferiority of the Harvard line. He did however block well and threw the vital block that set up the game-winning touchdown.

VACCA — LoRUSSO

On Saturday, November 11 at 10:30 a. m. in St. Mary's Church, Miss Josephine LoRusso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo A. LoRusso of 502 Washington street, became the bride of Mr. Antonio Vacca, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Vacca of 42 Morton avenue, Medford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, rector of St. Mary's Church. Rev. Charles Arzibino was celebrant and the nuptial mass which followed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight white satin, re-embossed and the train of which was appliqued here and there with orange blossoms held in place by fingertip length veil of imported tulle. Instead of a bouquet she carried a prayerbook with orchid and streamers.

The maid of honor, Phyllis LoRusso, sister of the bride, wore a gown of gold velveteen with a velvet jacket, a braided headpiece and mitts. She carried a bouquet composed of yellow and amber baby chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Speranza of Boston, Miss Mary D'Napoli of Medford, and the junior bridesmaid were Lillian LoRusso and Virginia Balukovich, cousins of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of moss faille taffeta with teal blue velveteen bolero jackets, mitts and hats. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow baby chrysanthemums.

The junior bridesmaid wore dresses of orchid faille taffeta the hems of which were scalloped and trimmed with deep purple bows, they carried nosegays, and they wore sweetheart bonnets.

Daniel LoRusso, brother of the bride, was best man. The usher corps was comprised of Robert Agrippino, uncle of the bride, and Anthony Nocco, friend of the groom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Bear Hill Golf Club in Stoneham. The couples were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Medford, Mass.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's School and Winchester High School.

The groom served with the Navy for 2 years during World War II.

Mr. Robert Dezaney of Pittston, Penn., has bought the former home of the late Ida F. Ripley at 34 Wedgemere avenue, and is now occupying the property with his wife and five children. The sale was made through the Fessenden Office of this town.

The candidate must be in the top 25% of his class scholastically, must take college board exams, and must participate actively in 2 extra-curricular activities of which athletics need not be one. But in weighing his attributes, scholarship and college board exams will count 50%, extra-curricular activities 20%, leadership 10%, personality 10%, and appearance 10%. The scholastic grade to be maintained in order to hold the scholarship is set low enough above passing, that the winner will have time to take part in college activities and to develop his leadership qualities, and at the same time choose courses of study which he should take rather than easier ones to hold his scholarship average. That is a unique feature.

Besides arts, science, and engineering courses in all of which Lafayette holds top ratings, Lafayette has a School of Civil Rights teaching subjects pertaining to government and law; also a School of International Affairs with curriculum approved by The State Department. Language Tables (mess) are conducted by students from countries throughout the world.

The 1800 students at Lafayette are divided equally between the Arts (900) and Sciences and Engineering (900). It is probably the first college in the U. S. to combine Arts, Science, and Engineering in one college.

Besides dormitories with refectories it has 19 fraternities with residence on campus. Lafayette is situated in a valley so rich with natural resources and world-known industries that the valley is called The American Ruhr, and Lafayette men find opportunities in a progressive and growing area.

In the worst year of the depression, Lafayette's graduating class faced the world, 88% with jobs — one of the best records in the country.

Another unique feature of this scholarship is that a rich boy has the same competitive opportunity as a poor boy to win it.

Procedure

A member of the Committee for the Scholarship acquaints the Principal and or Guidance Director of the High School with it; leaves folder of candid shots of college and activities; a catalog; and a poster for bulletin board. Boys who are interested confer with Guidance Director and Principal. (In Winchester Wade L. Grindle and Norton E. Demsey)

Any boy must have a letter of strong recommendation from his Principal. The local committeeman will talk with boys recommended. Candidates with proper credentials appear before Lafayette's N. E. Alumni Scholarship Committee, and recommendations are made by them to the College.

The committee may take a group of the candidates on a week-end trip to Lafayette without expense to candidates to give them better bases for their judgements. Sociability and interpretation of the college's facilities and campus life will be given chop by the college. The college will aid in the decision for the scholarship award.

Marquis de Lafayette, for whom the college was named, said in 1777: "I read, I study, I examine, I reflect, and out of all this I try to form an idea into which I put as much common sense as I can." He lived in complicated times, too.

"IOLANTHE" DECEMBER 8, 9

"Iolanthe," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta which Staff and Key Society will present in High School Auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, December 8 and 9 at 8:30 o'clock, will benefit the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, a volunteer service organization which assists the hospital in many branches. On Thursday evening the cast will give a special dress rehearsal for students.

Mrs. Henry Fernald is Production chairman for this fourth Staff and Key presentation, assisted by an energetic committee. In charge of costumes are Miss Ruth Allen, Mrs. Rebecca Zimmerman, Mrs. William R. Langford; properties, Miss Barbara Vincent, Mrs. Mary Jane Hooper, Miss Marie Barron; lights, Miss Joan Donaghey, Don Suppers, Robert Loftus, Henry Dellicker; stage crew, George E. Connor, John R. MacLellan, H. Kimball Archibald, George Gowdy; program, Mrs. Hall B. Gammon, Mrs. Paul Collins, Mrs. Richard E. Riley, Miss Mary Louise Allen, Mrs. Frederick R. Brown, Jr.; publicity, Mrs. George E. Connor; tickets, Mrs. John E. Allen, Mrs. George Hebb, Mrs. E. W. Zimmerman, Miss Marjorie McGaw; ushers and refreshments, Mrs. Donald Birchall, chairman; orchestra, Miss Helen Goodwin, librarian. Costumes, settings, and scores have been secured from the Tracy Music Library.

Frances Kneeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Kneeland, 99 Wildwood street, has been a member of the J. V. field hockey team at Kents Hill School, this season. She received High Honors on the Effort Honor Roll and is participating in Dramatics this year.

BADMINTON NEWS

The badminton season got off to a slow start, the spring-like weather discouraging many who normally sought exercise with the shuttlecock to ward off cold and slowly congealing blood streams, but interest in the game is awakening as the temperature drops and word of the forthcoming competitions spread.

The Class 'D' Championships will be held on December 9 and 10 at the Dedham High School. This tournament has been played in Winchester for the past two years but we hope to have just as many entries from our Club this year even though we have to go to the tournament rather than it coming to us. Chairman Parker Symmes has changed the date of the handicap mixed doubles tournament to December 5 and 7. Everyone is invited to join in, so please remember the dates.

Symmes has changed the date to December 5 and 7. Everyone is invited to join in, so please remember the dates.

The League schedule for men's doubles team, captained by Jack Tarbell, is as follows:

Thursday, December 14th - Quincy at Winchester.

Thursday, January 18th - Maugus at Winchester.

Sunday, February 18th - Winchester at Bunker Hill.

Thursday, April 5th - Needham at Winchester.

Monday, April 16th - Winchester at Boston Y. M. C. A.

The mixed doubles team with Ed Williams and Marjorie as co-captain, will play:

Thursday, November 30th - Winchester at Needham.

Thursday, January 4th - Bunker Hill at Winchester.

Thursday, February 1st - Universal Club at Winchester.

Thursday, March 1st - Winchester at Quincy.

Wednesday, March 21st - Winchester at Maugus.

WALSH AND EDINGTON RECEIVE BERKSHIRE AWARDS

Frederick R. Edington and Ralph L. Walsh of Winchester were awarded major letters at the Berkshire School Fall Sports banquet last week. Edington received his award as captain of the football team, which he played left halfback for the fourth consecutive year.

Walsh, a graduate of W. H. S. last June, played center halfback on the varsity soccer team. In his first year at soccer, Walsh distinguished himself at the most difficult position.

Both Edington and Walsh are seniors. Fred hopes to attend Middlebury College upon graduation, while Walsh would like to enter Dartmouth College.

Charles Hermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hermann of Winchester and a member of the Senior class at Hackley in Tarrytown, New York was at home during the Thanksgiving holiday.

FIELD HOCKEY

Hockey sticks and shin guards are put away again and the Field Hockey team is resting on its laurels. Both teams played nine games and wound up with approximately the same records. The varsity had six wins, one tie, and two defeats, while the J. V.'s won five, tied three, and lost one.

The varsity did some fancy scoring this year. Wins like 6-1 against Stoneham, 5-1 against Lexington, 6-0 with Belmont, and 5-0 against Malden are unusually high scores for field hockey. Responsible for twenty points in nine games, Bette Kneeland was one of the spark plugs on an excellent team. Betty, Harris, MacDonald, and Jean Notley were chosen for the All-Star Hockey Team at the Concord Play Day, while Jean Farquhar played opposite them on the All-Star Reserve Team.

Winchester defeated Stoneham here in the first game of the season. The Stoneham game is played by classes, the WHS seniors and juniors won, but the inexperienced sophomores lost out by one point. WHS scrimmaged to a second tie and the varsity won 2-0 while the still inexperienced WHS second-some held to a scoreless tie. The local varsity rolled over Lexington 5-0 at Ginn Field, while the J. V.'s held up their end by winning 2-0. Belmont proved an easy mark as WHS won 6-0 and 3-0. Arlington was a different story. Undaunted, undefeated, and untied upon, Arlington held Winchester to a 1-1 tie in both hard-fought, fast moving games. Close on the heels of the Arlington game, Winson, the only private school on the schedule, came to Ginn Field to hand the varsity their first defeat 1-0. Winson plays hockey in grammar school and the extra years of practice make the difference. The Second Team played Woburn and won 1-0 on Gay Chi McKay's goal. Malden was next on the agenda and both Winchester teams blanked their opponents, 5-0 and 2-0. WHS homesped to Melrose to play on the Melrose football field, which was in poor condition for field hockey. Despite the conditions, the varsity won 1-1, but the Melrose second team managed to defeat WHS by a single goal 1-0. The girls played their last game against undefeated Watertown, a team that proved to be a little too much for the WHS first team, which was defeated 1-0, while the seconds came through with a 1-1 tie.

Coach Carroll loses all but three members of her varsity this year, Mary O'Connell, Lynne Stevens, and Ruth Peel, but several second team members are all ready to step into varsity shoes. Lorraine Cullen and Sona Notian both saw service with the varsity this year. There were two full teams on the second team and every girl played in every game. The players who become the varsity next year will have had plenty of game experience.

IOLANTHE PRIMA DONNA EXPERIENCED PERFORMER

Cushla de Lange, who will play the leading role in the Staff and Key production of "Iolanthe" on December 8 and 9 at the high school auditorium, is a native of Simla, India. Educated in England, she later lived in New Zealand and it was while doing war work during World War II that she met her husband, Gordon Bennett, while the latter was hospitalized in Melbourne, Australia, after service with the Marines.

Following experience in amateur theatricals in 1938 in New Zealand, Miss de Lange won a personality contest sponsored by the New Zealand Broadcasting Company, and was sent to Australia to study voice under the former basso of the Berlin Opera, Adolf Spivakowsky.

She made her professional debut soon after, singing in such musical comedy hits as "New Moon," "Katinka" and "The Firefly." She also attained popularity on the radio and concert platform, both in New Zealand and Australia. She gave freely of her time and talent entertaining Anzac and American troops during World War II.

A year ago Miss de Lange sang "Yum Yum" in the Staff and Key production of "The Mikado." Those who heard her then are looking forward to her appearance in "Iolanthe."

The coming show will mark the first appearance of Miss de Lange and her husband together on the stage. Mr. Bennett being also cast in "Iolanthe." A graduate of Winchester High in 1939, Mr. Bennett attended Bowdoin before enlisting in the Marines and sailing with the 3rd Marine Division for Wellington, N. Z., in 1942.

HOLIDAY GIFT SHOP TODAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Beginning this morning (Friday) at 10 a. m. and continuing until 9 p. m. the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will conduct its annual fair. It is a big item in the church calendar as it represents the culmination of a year of work in making all sorts of articles to raise money in aiding the administrative program of the church.

The title for the fair "holiday gift shop," is very appropriate as most of the articles are ideal for the Christmas shopper. Children's articles as dolls, dresses and such, will again be an attraction. The attic treasures room last year kept the women so busy, they are putting on extra help. The fine handwork of the ladies has always delighted the Christmas shopper.

There will be a Snack Bar for those in town who like a nice fellowship luncheon, and at 4 o'clock special movies and plenty of grab bags.

The usual climax to a real Methodist program reveals an excellent supper at 6:30 p. m.

"Going to the Fair" is a traditional date with most people and from the experiences of the past it's a real pleasurable experience. The fellowship is worth the price of a meal ticket and above all it proves to be profitable to the gift hunter.

PLAYING IN "THE THREE SISTERS"

Miss Sylvia Farnham of Roanoke, Virginia is the guest of Mrs. Clinton E. Farnham. Miss Farnham, as Irina, is currently playing in Chekhov's new production, "The Three Sisters" sponsored by the Brattle Theatre Company in Cambridge, starring Eva LeGallienne and Margaret Webster.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS' THANKSGIVING PROGRAMS

Throughout Winchester elementary schools this week have been having school assembly programs featuring the season of Thanksgiving with large casts presenting plays about the Pilgrims before and after their arrival in America and other historical plays and pageantry highlighting the season. Programs of the schools have been reported somewhat as follows:

Noonan School

The pupils of the fifth grade presented a play about the Pilgrims consisting of original stories told by Richard Russo, Lawrence Nadeau, Marie Muse, Daniel McLeod, Maureen Haggerty, Ann Bresnahan, Joyce Fiore, and Charles Bond.

The cast of an original play "The Thanksgiving Feast" consisted of the following: Nicholas Roca, Joyce Fiore, Donald Seaver, Mary Franson, Judy Mercon, Joan Chamberland, David Cullen, Ronald MacArthur, Ann Flaherty, Patricia McGoonan, Evelyn McLeod, Charles Bond, Robert Donaghey, and Harry Morgan.

Original stories "What Thanksgiving Means to Me" were told by Evelyn McLeod, Harry Morgan, and Judy Mercon. The program closed with the two-part singing of "Harvest Hymn." Edward Lynch was the announcer.

Parkhurst School

Helpers on Parade was the theme of an assembly by the Parkhurst second grade recently. Stories, songs, pictures, and film strips were important aids to establishing the idea that a community must have helpers of all kinds in order to carry on.

In a play announced by David Burke, community helpers were portrayed as follows: milkman, Billy Morton; grocer, David Doane; butler, Jeff Spence; butcher, Steven Wilson; carpenter, Eric Peabody; plasterer, Ernest Kenney; plumber, John Tutty; tailor, Bert Comins; storekeeper, Philip Mead; telephone girl, Susan Gray; librarian, Linda Wallace; doctor, Floyd Horn; nurse, Ciel Herrick; policemen, Arthur Schmidt and Robin Reynolds; fireman, Robie Orr; postman, Bobbe Leander. Poems were recited by Phyllis Rogde and Martha Wood and songs were sung by Lynne Pettingell, Carolyn Davis, Martha Wood, Jane O'Malley, Eugenia Ransdell, Nancy Watkins, and Jeanne Wilson.

Washington School

The fourth grade at the Washington school presented two versions of the Pilgrim story; one in Holland and the other in America. Announcer Janet Donovan helped to tie together a story which concerned canals, dikes, windmills, storks, wooden shoes and other things the Pilgrims saw in Holland. The characters were Lois McClintock, Doug Thomson, Sandy Campbell, Gail Hendricks, Janet Lorentzen, Judy Janson, Robert Gardiner, Kenneth MacArthur, Dorothy Chapman, and Patty Chaff.

Characters in the second play were Charles Huckins, Roberta Watson, Barbara Burr, Bobby Thompson, Bruce Bonnell, Judy Hanley, Stephen Tucker, Catherine Cavanagh, Richard Crockford, Priscilla Bertolucci, Donald Crede, and Jimmy Bravacos.

Map making and reading became more meaningful for Washington school fifth graders as they charted the explorations and discoveries of Magellan and Columbus. Following that by illustrating the lives of the Pilgrims and Indians, the youngsters were able to put together the story of the early beginnings.

The sixth grade went exploring with Daniel Boone and the Lewis and Clark expeditions, often improvising their own stories and pictures as each sought to express what the westward movement meant to him. Jimmy Barbaro told a story about Daniel Boone which Ben Carr illustrated. Donald Wyman read his report on Lewis and Clark and the chorus sang an old American country dance number "Daniel Boone", and two Kentucky mountain ballads, one of which is "Down in the Valley".

Phyllis Schiraura, Ben Carr, Nancy Towle, and Emily Allen read stories and Carol Eaton wrote a play about pioneer life.

IF

Editor of the Star:

If the town had dredged the mud from Little Winter Pond and;

If we had a sudden freeze;

The children of Winchester would now have a good safe place to skate.

The town would have a big supply of excellent loam separating.

The town would have another beauty spot with a healthy place for fish and a wild bird sanctuary.

But

The town now has a hideous marshy swamp which;

If frozen, is dangerous to children who break through the many weak spots caused by the grass and sink to their waist in thick oozy mud;

Under the muck is a sandy bottom. If Little Winter and the bay of Big Winter were relieved of this mud there would always be a little water, enough to freeze quickly for safe skating and eventually would fill with fresh clear water as it has in years past. At least it would be clean to look at and a start perhaps to bigger ideas.

Let's do something to this eyesore! A little action from somewhere please!

A HEARTY THANK YOU!

May we take this opportunity, through the Star, to thank all those generous individuals whose assistance made it possible for us to provide Holiday cheer of food, clothing and fruit for our less fortunate neighbors at Thanksgiving.

We especially appreciate the assistance afforded us by the Winchester Branch of the Salvation Army, the Winchester Chapter Red Cross; the town Churches and Societies; the Brownies and Girl Scout Troops, and the individuals who helped at Thanksgiving.

We are also very grateful to Mr. Bruce Wilson for his part in donating space in his paper, the Winchester Star.

May we ask your continued generous assistance through the Christmas Season, especially on behalf of the Town's needy children, who must look to you for the means to make their Christmas a merry one.

ORGANIZED RESERVE CORPS

Editor of the Star:

We are glad to find, from telephone calls received, that answering questions received in re the Reserve Corps has been of some help. To continue:

Q. If my son is rejected in the draft for physical reasons can he join the Reserves?

A. Yes, under certain conditions he can join the reserves if physically qualified. Such personnel should contact the Mass. Military District (Liberty 2-6000, Extension 405) in regard to their particular case.

Q. Do the men get paid for attending meetings? If so, how much, and are the meetings compulsory as in the National Guard?

A. The reserve is divided into two main groups - active and inactive - the active reserves get paid, others do not. For a two-hour training period, a reservist receives one day's pay, equivalent to the amount he received in the Army, according to his grade. He is obliged to attend meetings or risk loss of his status for failure to do so. Both in National Guard and the active Reserve, attendance at meetings is compulsory.

Q. Why do they take married men in the Inactive Reserve while men in the Active Reserve are not taken?

A. All men in the Reserves, Active and Inactive, are subject to call. At the present time the Army is calling inactive reservists mainly to active duty, although active reserve units have been called in. This enables Active Reserve units to remain intact and ready for call in case of a greater emergency.

Q. Are the Reserves part of the Army and under Army jurisdiction, or are they just civilians playing at being soldiers?

A. The Organized Reserve Corps is a civilian component and as such part of the Army of the United States, and trained to assume responsibility for defense of our country in case of an emergency. The large share of our present Army is made up of reservists who are on extended active duty, and in the case of officers, many have been on duty since the start of the last war. The mere fact that many reservists were called to active duty and have been used in Korea in recent fighting, certainly establishes the importance of this component of the Army.

Q. What percentage of Reserve Officers in this area served overseas in War II? Are their present ranks recognized by the Regular Army? Who passes on promotions?

A. A large percentage of reserve officers served overseas in World War II exact figures for this area are unavailable). Their rank is recognized by the Regular Army and if called to active duty, these officers would go in the grade now held. All promotions are approved by The Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.

Q. If my son joins the Reserves will what he learns with them be of any advantage to him in the way of self-protection should total mobilization come?

A. The entire purpose of the Organized Reserve Corps program is to train men adequately to protect themselves in order that they may effectively preserve the nation, when, and if, an emergency arises. Furthermore, any training which he gets prior to mobilization certainly should help him for promotion later on."

It is a healthy sign to see so much interest being taken in the Reserve Corps. The defense of this country rests basically on the citizens of this country and we are glad we are able, with the cooperation of the Winchester Star, to pass on this information.

Very truly yours,
Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

THE LEAGUE'S POSITION

Editor of the Star:

Through the good offices of the Star the League of Women Voters of Winchester would like to bring to the attention of the townspeople its position on the Secondary School Building Problem.

The Board of the League at its meeting November 21 stressed the urgency of making a decision and starting construction at the earliest possible moment. For this reason the Board voted unanimously its opposition to the Foster Plan.

The League favors the Building Committee's recommended plan for a three year Junior High on Palmer Street as representing the best plan educationally for the development of the schools of Winchester. This plan separates the age groups and removes from the center of the town more than half the pupils concentrated there. It moves the Junior High to a location where there is adequate room for an outdoor physical education program. It allows for the best possible long range planning.

However, should the Town not wish the Palmer Street school, the League Board voted unanimously to give strong support to the Building Committee's Alternate Plan. This meets the requirements laid down by the School Committee, provides good indoor facilities, is architecturally attractive and maintains flexibility for future town planning.

Sufficient time and thought have been given the school facilities problem by several special town committees and the townspeople. This Town Meeting has the opportunity and the duty to appropriate money to put the engineers and the steam shovels to work.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Rodney W. Long
President

WELLESLEY CLUB

The third and final program of the Winchester Mornings, sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club, was held at the Music Hall on Friday, November 17th, with Saville Davis of the Christian Science Monitor as the speaker. At the coffee table were Mrs. Paul B. Leverette and Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, and Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood was in charge of decorations, which consisted of an attractive and appetizing arrangement of colorful fruit and vegetables.

After a few words of welcome by Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, president of the Wellesley Club, Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, chairman of the Mornings committee, introduced the speaker. Dr. Davis, although American News Editor on the Christian Science Monitor, has a vast knowledge of the situation abroad and amazed his listeners this year, as last, with his ability to cover a tremendous amount of ground in the short space of time allotted him. He spoke of the great change that has taken place in the world since June 25, 1950, the time of Korean intervention — of the extraordinary complexity with which we are faced as a new power in world affairs and of our being forced to tighten our holding operations against the Russians and use strong arm politics and economics.

Mr. Davis covered the results of the Korean intervention very thoroughly, saying that we have put our foreign policy on a firm foundation and are building up adequate ground and air forces. We have shown the Russians that we would take a stand against aggression. He said another result of our going into Korea was the vindication in the accusation that he is basically soft toward communism. He discussed the miracle that has happened in the United Nations situation — how they have been revitalized by the trouble in Korea. In closing he advised his audience to watch the disarmament offers of Vishinsky made at Lake Success, since they may or may not be "booby traps".

After the lecture Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee entertained her Mornings committee at luncheon in her home. Among those present were Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Thomas M. Downes, Mrs. Lindsay B. Caldwell, Mrs. Paul B. Leverette, Mrs. Austin B. Bunker, Mrs. Wayne E. Davis, Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, Mrs. W. B. Lunsford, Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, and Mrs. Lawrence W. Lunt, Jr.

MISS JENNIE L. SPRAGUE

Miss Jennie L. Sprague of 8 Grove street died at her home Wednesday, November 22, after a long period of failing health.

Miss Sprague was 88 years old, having been born August 16, 1862, in Craftsbury, Vt. As a young woman she was known as an organist and pianist, and she was for many years organist of a church in Bedford. She lived in Bedford and in Arlington before coming to Winchester 35 years ago to make her home on Grove street with her sister, the late Martha Sprague Mason, who died in September of last year. Miss Jennie Sprague was the last of her family.

Services were held on last Friday afternoon at the late residence with Dr. Howard J. Chidley, minister of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

O'LEARY — KENTON

Wearing ivory satin and carrying a prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of baby white carnations, Miss Barbara Ann Kenton, daughter of Mr. Samuel M. Kenton of Winchester and the late Mrs. Kenton, was married at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, November 25, to John Madden O'Leary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. O'Leary of Kendall street. Rev. Joseph P. Mahoney of St. Joseph's Church, Medford, performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o'clock, and a nuptial mass followed. Arnold Callahan, lyric tenor, was soloist.

Miss Kenton was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, which was trimmed with seed pearls, was fashioned with a long train and her fingertip-length veil was caught to a matching Juliet cap.

Miss Marjorie M. Collurdey of Winchester was the bride's only attendant, wearing a blue satin dress [illegible] matching headpiece, and carrying a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Daniel J. O'Leary, Jr., of Winchester was best man for his brother, and the ushers were James P. McGoldrick of Medford and Samuel M. Kenton, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield with the father of the bride and Mrs. Edmund J. Mahoney, sister of bride, assisting in receiving with the parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Mahoney wore a receiving dress with black velvet accessories and a corsage of baby orchids. Mrs. O'Leary, mother of the bridegroom, also wore orchids with her blue velvet dress and matching hat.

After a wedding journey to New York City Mr. O'Leary and his bride will make their home on Highland street in Woburn. Both are graduates of Winchester High School, and Mr. O'Leary, who saw active service overseas in World War II, is a member of the Star pressroom staff.

MISS HANSON ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Hanson of 21 Governors avenue, Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emily Bradshaw Hanson to Mr. Raymond Bernon Tourtellot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thurston Tourtellot of 9 Penn road, Winchester.

Miss Hanson is a graduate of Winchester High School and Colby Junior College.

Mr. Tourtellot is a graduate of the Irving School, Tarrytown, New York. He attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and is completing his studies at Tufts College. He served two years in the Merchant Marine.

MRS. VIRGINIA ELIZABETH IRVING

Mrs. Virginia Elizabeth Irving, widow of Charles P. Irving and formerly for many years residing at 20 Ridgefield road, died Saturday night, November 25, at a nursing home in Woburn on the day following her 99th birthday.

A native of Maine, Mrs. Irving spent her early married life in Chelsea where she was active in the "Oaks," a charitable organization well known in the city at that time. She came to Winchester 30 years ago with her husband who was a member of Irving and Casson, well known furniture manufacturers and dealers for many years. Mr. Irving died in September, 1925.

Mrs. Irving leaves a son, Arthur P. Irving of Winchester, two grandsons, Wendell D. Irving and Charles R. Irving, and a great-grandson, Wendell Allan Irving, all of this town.

Private funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Woodlawn Chapel in Everett by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

DESIGNS ACCEPTED FOR CHRISTMAS SCENES

Miss Jennie Lou Elliot of Winchester was one of the artists whose designs for Christmas scenes have been accepted for display on the Boston Common. Her particular design is a scene called "Santa's Workshop," using small figures, representing Santa's helpers, in a Christmas work-shop setting.

Mr. Tirone, famous Italian sculptor and in charge of the entire Boston decoration program, required plans for this portion of the display and asked Miss Elliott to submit her ideas. Later he notified her her design had been accepted and asked if she would be able to sculpture her little "pixies." Unfortunately, due to lack of time, she was unable to do so.

GRADE CROSSING ENGINEERS ENGAGED

Senator Harris S. Richardson announced on Wednesday that Thomas Worcester, Inc., engineers, of 84 State street, Boston, has been engaged by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works to proceed with engineering plans for the elimination of Winchester's grade crossing by raising the track of the Boston and Maine Railroad running through the town.

The Worcester firm are bridge experts, and in addition to the grade crossing elimination in Winchester, have been retained to do a similar job in Belmont. They handled the work for the State and have an excellent reputation. It will be their job in Winchester to make a complete survey, starting from scratch, make plans for the overhead structure through town and prepare specifications.

Senator Richardson also told the Star that the State Traffic Department will start right away a new origin and destination traffic count of cars going through Winchester square to determine where such cars come from and where they are going.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Elliott of 11 Herrick street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jennie Louise Elliott, to Mr. Richard Furlong Brackett, son of Mrs. Martin Richard Brackett of 153 Cambridge street and the late Mr. Brackett of Great Neck, Long Island, New York.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

The much larger size of the community Christmas Tree on the Common this year makes it necessary to secure many more lights to cover its 25 feet.

Since there are no funds available to procure such lights and other decorations it has been suggested that interested citizens make whatever contributions they can to defray the extra expense of lighting the tree and Common for the holiday season.

Such contributions can be sent to Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell at Bonnell Motors, Winchester, Mass., who has consented to serve as treasurer for the decoration fund. Here is a chance for those who have felt that Winchester's Christmas decorations were on the shabby side to help make them better.

RED CROSS

Winchester is host to the Boston Bloodmobile today. Two trained nurses, Mrs. Lewis Foster and Miss Richard Kirkpatrick, are assisting the staff of the mobile unit at the First Congregational Church. Nurse's Aides on duty between 1 and 7 p. m. are: the Mesdames Beale, Armstrong, Field, Moore, Butler, Stone, Nutter, Easton, Mann, and Dickson.

The Red Cross Motor Corps made two trips to the Children's Hospital, one trip to the Massachusetts General Hospital, and one trip to the Winchester Hospital last week. This week the Corps made two trips to the Children's Hospital and one trip to the Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston.

Winchester Red Cross has received a large quota of gauze to be made into surgical dressings for the Veterans' Hospital at Bedford. Anyone interested in helping in this work should go to the Red Cross classroom in the old Selective Service quarters in the basement at the rear of the Town Hall on Tuesday afternoons or call Winchester 6-2200.

Mrs. Richard E. Fenno and Mrs. Lewis K. Foster attended a Red Cross Nurse's training course at Cushing Hospital in Framingham this week.

The Junior Red Cross supplied place cards for the Thanksgiving trays at the Veterans' Hospital in Bedford. The Community Service of the local Red Cross recently sent the last of its annual quota of games and other supplies to the Bedford Hospital.

Boston Edison repair crews were served coffee by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter during last week-end's storm.

Winchester's Junior Red Cross received letters last month from children in Japan who were given boxes from local schools. About one hundred boxes of games, toilet articles, etc. are collected in our schools every fall. The boxes are crated by the Town's Senior Red Cross workers and shipped to Red Cross Headquarters in Washington. From there they are shipped to school children in all parts of the world. Each box bears the name and address of the class and school that filled it. This year some of Winchester's boxes went to the Ninoshima Orphanage School, Ninoshima - cho, Hiroshima - shi, Japan. Here are some of the letters received from orphans of the world's first atomic bomb:

To Miss Jurgenson's Mystic School pupils:

Thank you very much to receive your nice gift box. I'm Mr. Yukio Kimura and am a Ninoshima Orphanage boy. I am twelve years old, and go to elementary school every day. This is really a charming place for its peacefulness and tranquility. I wish to go to America in future by all means. Now if we were a bird I would fly to America. Please tell me about your country. Good-bye. Please remember your teacher.

CHARLES GORDON SNODGRASS

Charles Gordon Snodgrass, a widely known resident of Winchester for half a century, died Monday forenoon, November 27, at the Winchester Hospital, following a short illness.

Mr. Snodgrass was born in St. John, N. B., February 24, 1864. He first worked for the old line firm of Kelley and Hawes after coming to Winchester, later having his own livery stable on Park street opposite the Kelley and Hawes stable.

With the advent of the automobile Mr. Snodgrass gave up his stable and was for a time night watchman at the Whitney Machine Company's plant until the company went out of business. Latterly until his retirement he had been custodian of the Waterfield Building, being a familiar figure about the center as he went back and forth from his duties at the building to his home.

Mr. Snodgrass leaves his wife, the former Elizabeth C. Reidburg; three daughters, Mrs. Eaton Thomas Moore of Wellesley, Mrs. Kenneth J. Vickers of Natick, and Mrs. Carlisle B. Knowlton of Cambridge; two sons, Ralph Gordon Snodgrass of Woburn and Arthur F. Snodgrass of Winchester; seven grandchildren and a brother, Thomas Snodgrass of St. John, N. B.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

There is a fine new fire-alarm mounted on the traffic control pole in front of the Winchester Drug Company in the center. It is of the dial type and of large size. How official it is we will have to wait and see.

WINCHESTER MEN INDUCTED

At 6:30 on the gloomy morning of the day after Thanksgiving four Winchester young men were inducted into the Armed Services at the Medford Office of the Selective Service Board at Medford City Hall. They were Salvatore Dattilo, 116 Swanton street, Fireman Robert K. Sharon, 29 Maxwell road, and Robert E. Nelson, 355 Main street, selected from this area, together with Edward F. "Teddy" O'Rourke, 26 Sunrise road, former Winchester High School athlete, who was enrolled for Selective Service in the Worcester area office in order to attend at Holy Cross College.

A committee has been appointed by the Board of Selectmen to receive them at Town Hall here, and the committee consisting of Commander Lester C. Gustin, Jr., of Winchester Post 97, the American Legion; President Rita Mooll of the Legion Auxiliary, Commander Mark A. Kelley of Aeriform Post 8719, Veterans of Foreign Wars; President Florence Lane of the Veterans Auxiliary and Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church. This committee was represented at the post-holiday induction and Rev. Mr. Bailey made a brief address to the boys.

Also present was W. Allan Wilde, Winchester's representative on the area draft board. Coffee and doughnuts were served and the inductees were presented with well equipped "duffy bag" kits, the presentation being made by Mayor McDermott of Medford.

After the induction ceremony the inductees went in town to report to the induction station at the Army Base in South Boston.

COUNTRY CLUB CURLERS START

That intrepid band of chillblain addicts, the Winchester Country Club curlers, opened their season officially Tuesday evening when eight rinks of members enjoyed intra-club competition on the indoor ice of The Country Club at Chestnut Hill.

Frank J. Lane, curling chairman, was in charge of the competition, welcoming new curlers and seeing to it that all veterans were duly decked out in their official bonspiel pins. Incidentally Jim Scott has received a goodly order of Winchester curling pins for distribution to local members.

Members are looking forward to the first cup competition of the season next Tuesday evening at The Country Club which is kindly loaning its indoor facilities to the local curlers until the outdoor rink at the Winchester Club is ready for use.

TOWN HAS FINE XMAS TREE

"It's an ill wind that doesn't blow some one good!" This old saw really applied to last Saturday's gale insofar as it concerned a fine large evergreen, one of two blown down at the old Gray place, 3 Ridge field road, now the home of Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Canty.

The town was given the tree by the Cantys and it was erected on the Common by a firm of tree movers under the direction of Park Superintendent Stanley Mullen, there to serve as the town's community Christmas Tree during the holiday season.

There is only one fly in the ointment. The tree is so much larger than those the town has been using for this purpose during the past few years that the lights available will not begin to cover it. Different plans will have to be made to light this towering spruce.

"THE NEW EARTH"

Many Winchester residents will be present this Sunday afternoon at four o'clock when the Unitarian Choir sings its first Choral Vespers of the year, presenting Henry Hadley's "The New Earth," a Choral Ode, at the Unitarian Church with the Reverend Robert A. STORM HIT WINCHESTER

The weather started tuning up for the big week-end blow well in advance of last Saturday, the previous Tuesday to be exact, when rain, snow and sleet dropped in to make conditions unpleasant for everyone and especially tricky for motorists. Enough snow fell to coat grass and shrubs, and the cold weather that arrived during the night left skim coats of snow on automobiles and in many places about town Wednesday.

The real day, to be fair with many skies and not too much wind, but by early afternoon the sky was overcast and Friday was an unpleasant day again, without any severe weather conditions, however.

High winds were blowing Saturday morning and the sky was once more overcast. By mid-morning there was a light drizzle of rain, but the increasingly high winds blew the moisture away and there was no rain during the afternoon, a break for those at the stadium, watching the referees chase their hats and hold the ball in place between the contending teams because of the gale.

Gale Increased

At sundown the gale increased and by early evening sheets of rain were being whipped about by heavy winds of almost hurricane proportions.

Trees and poles around town began to topple and telephone and light began to fail about seven o'clock in the evening.

A big tree went down on Grove street, with Sgt John Dolan and Officer Winthrop Palmer getting enough of it out of the road so traffic could keep moving. Another tree down on Sanborn street blocked traffic there. A large tree was blown down on Myopia Hill between the home of Mrs. William I. Palmer and Mr. James F. Driscoll. Big tree limbs were blown down on Church street and Wildwood street, and a small tree was blown down on Woodside road near Parker road. Another good sized tree was reported down on Hillcrest Parkway at the rear of Fells road. Many trees, especially evergreens, were reported down on private estates.

Light poles were reported broken at the southerly end of Main street and there were wires down on North Main street and Cambridge street, necessitating guards to protect the public.

Lights and Power Out

Lights and electric power were out in many parts of the town, [illegible] in the vicinity of Wedgemere avenue and in the Symmes Corner section, which was without either lights or power from shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday evening until about 9:30 Sunday morning. Candles were standard equipment everywhere in the area with occasional oil-burning lamps lifting their corners into the brilliantly illuminated class!

Telephone Service Impaired

The telephone service was not as badly hit as the electric service, though Wire Chief Charlie Farrar reported that at the height of the storm there were about 100 phones out of commission. Light and telephone repair crews were on the job all night Saturday and all day Sunday, with the result that much of the damage was repaired by Monday, though street lights were still out in many places around town Monday night. Only twelve telephone services remained out of order by mid-morning Monday, and both service organizations rate high praise for their handling of a serious emergency.

In the center the traffic lights went by the board early in the evening, and the big street lights to the north of the center were out. Fortunately there were lights, except for brief intervals, at both the Police Station and Fire Headquarters, both places being besieged with calls from householders all over town. The Winchester Hospital lights were not affected by the storm, and there the Star was informed that in the newly constructed wing there is to be an auxiliary lighting system which will care for the whole hospital in any emergency.

Theatre Lights Out

At the Winchester Theatre the lights went out soon after seven o'clock and patrons there were finally sent home with the provision that their tickets would be good for a succeeding performance. There were lights at the Country Club and the Post-game Harvard-Yale Dance was run off on schedule.

Actual damage reported about town was slight. A portion of the roof of County Commissioner James A. Cullen's big barn on Converse Place was blown away and a store located to the north of the doorway of the building inundated. Thornton Harvey rigged protective cloths to guard against water damage in his barber shop on the other side of the doorway.

Firemen Busy

The Fire Department put in a busy night of it as well as the Police. Trees down on wires caused arcing at Glen road and Church street, at 5 Wilson street and at Cambridge and Pond streets. Firemen had to go to a house on Sheridan Circle and cut a live wire arcing into a home there.

During the height of the storm Box 45 sounded for a fire at the Quezon Cordage Mills at 1021 Main street, caused it is believed by a short circuit in wiring in the partition of the building. A live wire was down across Main street at the time in the vicinity of Sheridan Circle.

The Firemen made two trips to the plant, the second time remaining there until after midnight. The fire was hard to fight because of the metal lining of the walls of the plant. It was necessary to cut a hole in the roof to fight the blaze which did considerable damage to stock and to one or two of the machines at the plant. On the first floor much of the plant was usable, but on the second floor things were badly gutted.

Besides this activity the Firemen rigged canvas over a window blown in during the night at the Central Hardware Company on Mt. Vernon street and went to the home of Mrs. Bert Callanan, 63 Franklin road, to give advice covering to guard against water coming through the wind-damaged roof.

The number one Fire Alarm circuit, taking care of the West Side was out of commission due to the storm from 11:30 Sunday night until 10 a. m. Monday.

FORUM TO SEE MOVIE ON THE NEAR EAST

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will convene in Ripley Chapel at 9:20 Sunday morning when they will have as part of their worship service, the showing of a movie, "South of the Clouds", depicting one phase of Christian work in the Near East. The scene is laid in Beirut, Lebanon, where a well-to-do Moslem girl and Christian girl of limited means find themselves room-mates in the University which is supported by Christian funds. The story is dramatic and moving as problems arise because of the high caste background of the Moslem girl.

Bouldin Burbank, Jr., will be the chaplain assisted by Stephen Yale. The offering will be received by Donald Lewis and Lester Godwin, while Peter Coon and George DeCamp will be the ushers.

Carolyn Padelford will make an appeal, representing the Forum Service Committee, for Christmas gifts for the men of Charlestown State Prison.

The service was planned by Donald Cameron, Jacqueline Chapman, Audrey Clark, Bouldin Burbank, and Carolyn Padelford.

At a recent meeting the Mystic Glee Club of Winchester elected to active singing membership the following new members:

Emmons S. Ellis, Tenor
Philip C. Efromson, Tenor
all of Winchester, and
Gilman G. Evans, Baritone
Robert E. Evans, Bass

These men have been rehearsing with the Club all during the Fall season, in preparation for the annual Winter Concert which is to be presented at the Winchester High School on Friday evening, December 15th.

The Club now has an active membership of more than sixty voices, and the new members contribute materially to the balance and blend of the organization. The December Concert promises to be up to the Club's best standards.

IRISH "CEILICHE"

What that would mean, we'd not be knowin', but according to "Mack" this word "Ceilichе" means "a hot time in the old town tonight," and as "Mack" is our authority for all things Gaelic, we will sting along with him.

At all events the party had sufficient drawing power to get more than 200 persons down to Knights of Columbus Hall in last Saturday night's gale for the big benefit staged for Rev. Terrance McGovern and his mission work in Lusk, Wyoming. They called it an "Irish Ceilichе" and every one loved it!

A varied program was enjoyed, featuring music by O'Leary's Band from Medford and songs by Maureen and Sheila Cullen, Donald Cullen, George Nelson and John Naughton, both of Cambridge. Step Dancing was done by Patsy Dolan of Cambridge, Peter Flaherty of Woburn and by Commissioner James A. Cullen of Winchester, as well as by the "Little Maddenettes," Arlene Travers, Maureen Carroll, and Nancy McGaffigan of Medford.

Past Grand Knight Henry P. "Doc" Murray was master of ceremonies, and Father McGovern spoke of his work in Lusk, expressing his thanks for the assistance tendered him by the "Ceilichе."

MISS NORRIS ELECTED

Miss Marjorie Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris, 31 Church street, was recently elected to Who's Who Among Student's in American Universities and Colleges, annual directory of distinguished students from more than 500 schools throughout the country.

A senior at Rollins, Miss Norris is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, president of Libra and Key Societies, a member of Gamma Mu, secretary of the International Relations Club, and active in varsity basketball, volley ball, tennis, archery, and hockey. She is majoring in History.

Of all the types of books to be found in the Students' Room at your Public Library, perhaps the one which offers the widest variety of interest is biography. Four recently purchased biographies will bear witness to this fact. "Elephant Bill" by Williams tells of the author's twenty-five years spent in Burma learning the habits and accomplishments of the elephant, who haul Teak wood. "My 66 Years in the Big Leagues" by Connie Mack is a — are put with any baseball fan and century is a history of our most popular national game. "The Peabody Sisters of Salem" by Tharp is a delightful account of three famous sisters, each of whom played an important role in our country's history and literature. "Gandhi, Fighter Without a Sword" by Eaton is an excellent biography of one of the really great men of our time. You will be sure to find a biography in the Students' Room which will make enjoyable as well as beneficial reading.

"Everyone, everywhere likes milk." So said our new in the glass on the Boys' and Girls' room in the library. It is exhibit is on now from the New England Dairy and Food Council and will be on view during the next two weeks.

Two dolls in this exhibit wear typical costumes of the various countries represented. In some countries today the national costumes is seldom seen but in others every small boy and girl has its distinctive dress. Boys and girls of Winchester will enjoy seeing this exhibit.

Your librarian calls attention once again to a pamphlet now available at the library entitled "Survival Under Atomic Attack." Other informational materials on the subject are also available at the library. It is well for all individuals to be informed on what to do for themselves and what to do to help others.

BOOKS FOR CHRISTMAS

A book is a worthwhile gift if it is chosen carefully to fit the person. Do you still have an Aunt Agatha who definitely doesn't want to read a book that is too out-spoken? Or are all your aunts like Maude who likes them modern? Do you want something that grandfather can read a little at a time? What is your he-man father going to read and then discuss it with his friends? How about young people? Especially how about the children? Do you want them just to have pictures and stories or do you want them to have pictures that will really train their eyes and give them enjoyment, and stories that suit their age? Come to Alice Dixon Bond's lecture on Tuesday, December 5 at 10 a. m. in the Winchester Public Library and hear this subject competently discussed in detail and order your books on the spot. This lecture will not be reported in the Star so you will have to find out the facts for yourself.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly's American Home all day meeting was held Monday, November 27th at Masonic Hall. The morning program was in charge of Mrs. Hiram Moody, chairman of the American Home Committee. Mrs. Moody presented Mrs. Harold Bliss, who gave an interesting lecture on her fascinating hobby "Cups and Cookies". Among her china collection were cups from many countries, each one having a special story. Of particular interest were: An English china cup and saucer 150 years old decorated with Dickens characters in color, a very unusual Wedgewood in black, a Royal Dalton from Scotland with a thistle design, and a most striking Wedding Ring design on white English china. Mrs. Bliss spoke enthusiastically of her hobby of cookie making and her collection of cookie cutters. She had on display several unusual patterns in cookies, among them one known as the "Joe Frogger" cookie which has a legendary derivation. Years ago in Marblehead, Mass., the slaves rolled the batter on the rocks and added water from a nearby frog pond, which apparently belonged to a chap named Joe. Thus we get the name "Joe Frogger". The charm and enthusiasm with which Mrs. Bliss presented her subject, together with her unusual collection and the notable china exhibit by Fortnightly members, made this program outstanding.

The Snack Bar, opening at 12:30 p. m., under the direction of Mrs. George French and Mrs. Kingman Cass, served food to satisfy the most dainty or ravenous appetite.

During the noon hour Mrs. Lester Leathers, art chairman, introduced Mr. Leonard C. Field of Macefield's, silver smith of Winchester, who had an interesting exhibit of hand wrought jewelry and silverware in original design.

Following the regular business meeting at 2:00 p. m. the President Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoe presented Mrs. Lester Leathers, chairman of the Art Committee, sponsor of the afternoon program, which consisted of an illustrated lecture on World Madonnas by Mrs. Harold Christensen. A large attendance was held spellbound as Mrs. Christensen interspersed her fine exhibition of color slides with short stories, poems and brief biographical sketches of the artists. The colored slides included, not only the familiar but many modern and equally beautiful Madonnas expressed not only in paint, but in wood carving, stone and bocce lace. Her slides represented not only the Renaissance period, but brought to us the genius and talent of modern artists from many countries.

Mrs. Christensen gave her audience an intuitive appreciation of many finer points with her moving sympathy and understanding with the artist's medium of expression. It was an afternoon of educational entertainment, great beauty and stirring emotion, and left one with a deeper appreciation of this expressive art.

An exhibit of Madonnas by Fortnightly members was greatly admired, one outstanding collection was that owned by Miss Mason.

Art Committee Activities
Mrs. Lester P. Leathers, Chairman

American Art Week, Nov 1-7, was observed by The Fortnightly in an art exhibit displayed in Filene's window, Winchester. This exhibit included the painting, "Toward Pigeon Cove" by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Lobingier which was presented to The Fortnightly by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, for their promotion of Art during the year 1949-1950. The exhibit also included "Far Away Hills" a painting by Mrs. Paul Howard and "Manadnock Region" by Mrs. Marshall Symmes. Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Symmes are past presidents of The Fortnightly.

On November 7 a group of Fortnightly members participated in a conducted tour of the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Fenway Court, Boston. This museum, well known to art lovers from all over the world is a point of interest at anytime of the year but the Fall Months provide a particularly colorful floral display. The Court, as one enters, with its columns, lusstrades of the eight balconies capitals and inset reliefs representing many periods and with its balcony from Ca'd'Oro in Venice, adorned with an imposing arrangement of yellow and golden chrysanthemums of many varieties presents and unforgettable scene. This massive expanse of golden flora casting a mellow glow over the entire court is considered unique and alone is well worth a trip to the museum. At the end of the tour, the group gathered in the Tapestry Room to enjoy a program of music presented by the following artists: Jane Schleicher, soprano vocalist, Dolores Rodriquez, accompanist and Leonard Halanson, pianist.

Social Hour-Morning Coffee
Mrs. Paul Howard, chairman

Fortnightly members and guests are invited for Morning coffee, December 4, 10:00 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Mason, 42 Wedgemere avenue. Please come early, bring your knitting and be prepared to spend a profitable morning. Mr. W Waterhouse, Assistant Director of Perkins Institute will speak on Education of the Blind.

Literature Committee
Mrs. Gertrude. Hall, chairman

The Literature Committee will present their second of a series of reviews on "Notable Recent Biographies of Famous Literary Figures of the Nineteenth Century" on December 1, 2:00 p. m. at the Winchester Public Library. Miss Eva M. Sherman will present "The Life of John Greenleaf Whittier, Friend of Man", by John A. Pollard. Fortnightly members and guests are welcome.

The Star received its first Christmas card of the season yesterday morning, all the way from Ankara, Turkey, and old Winchester friends, Harold and Nita Smith, formerly of Francis Circuit. Mr. Smith is in the government service with TUSAG in Turkey. He used to sell Nash automobiles in and around Winchester, his wife being prominent in social and Women's Republican circles hereabout. The same to you, Harold and Nita, and many of them.

CUBS HAD SPORTS NIGHT

Sports Night for Cub Scout Pack 3, meeting in the Parish Hall of the First Congregational Church on Wednesday, was a great success, when the boys and their parents enjoyed hearing from two of Winchester's football greats, John West impressed everyone with his modesty as he described a Harvard player's preparations for the Yale game. Then his former coach, Henry Knowlton talked inspiringly to the Cubs, after which he showed movies of the Woburn game of 1946 when Winchester "creamed" its rival 26 to 0. The questions which followed the movies showed tremendous interest and not a little knowledge of football on the part of the Cubs.

Sunday School is held at the same hour as the church service.
Wednesday evening meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace off Thompson Street. Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

God, the great Cause of the universe, and of all that really exists, will be the topic for the Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science services next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator." The Golden Text is from Acts 14:15: "The Lord that made God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is."

Readings from the Bible include this admonition from the Sermon on the Mount: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matthew 6:19-21).

Selections from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered for man and all others; spiritual causation relates to human progress in Truth. . . . Belief in a material law, from which may be deduced all rationality, is slowly unclog to the idea of a metaphysical basis, looking away from matter to Mind as the cause of every effect" (p. 288).

ANNUAL EVERGREEN DANCE

The Wednesday Night Club of the First Congregational Church will hold its annual Christmas Dance on Friday evening, December 8. This dance has become a "must" on the date calendar for a great many of the people in Winchester. This year, as in the past, the dance will be preceded by a dessert party at the homes of a group of hostesses.

This practice of beginning the evening at a small dessert party was started in an effort to get newcomers acquainted before they arrived at the dance. If you feel that you are too new in town to come to our dances — forget it — just call Mrs. F. Meredith (Peg) Cooper, Winchester 6-2571-W and she will tell you where you will go for your dessert party.

After the parties are over the dance will begin at about 8:30 in the Parish Hall. An excellent orchestra will provide the music for the group dancing in the gayly decorated hall.

Formal dress is the attire for the evening and the price is $3.00. So remember,

Twill be a few nights before Christmas
When all through the Hall
Folks from all Winchester
Will be dancing at our Christmas Ball.

ROUTE 3 TO BE RELOCATED

Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington was in conference with the project engineers of the State Public Works Department last week relative to relocation of Route 3. The representative was informed that the latest plans call for the building of a Dual Highway with a center safety island from the junction of Route 4 and the new Lowell Turnpike in Chelmsford to the New Route 128, near Woods Corner in Burlington. This will widen the present Lowell Turnpike that was built just before the war, and continue it to Route 128 through new territory between Route 4 and the present Route 3.

When the proposed new road approaches the new 128, it will swing over to the old Middlesex Turnpike near Woods Corner and the new underpass at the new Route 128. This new road improvement will speed up traffic from the new 128-North, and traffic coming down from New Hampshire will come into the new 128, and will be able to by-pass Metropolitan Boston.

Further studies are being made by State engineers as to where the Lowell Turnpike will be located on the inside arch of the new 128 and Boston. Cities and towns in this area will be consulted on this proposed location of Route 3.

Those cities and towns will include Arlington, Lexington, Medford, Winchester and Woburn.

CAMPBELL ELECTED

Robert P. Campbell, Republican, of Medford, who was elected State Senator in the 6th Middlesex District, succeeding Harris S. Richardson, is now conceded officially elected by his Democratic opponent, Joseph A. Purcell, who filed for a recount after the election.

It was conceded to change the result Purcell would have to make substantial gains in Medford, and this he failed to do. In Woburn there was no change in the result and recount petitioned for in Arlington and Winchester were called off.

IRAQ'S PAST SERVES AS A BLUEPRINT FOR HER FUTURE

The cradle of western civilization is slowly beginning to rock again.

The land of Iraq — whose ancient cultures embraced democracy, lawmaking, letters, literature, philosophy, rich arts and mathematics — is now pushing ambitious plans for development; plans which are designed to improve greatly the impoverished lot of a people whose nation enjoyed a high standard of living some 5,000 years ago.

From the distant day until the present one, the life, fortunes and advancement of this Middle East region have depended largely on the proper management of its two famous but capricious rivers, the Tigris and Euphrates, notes the National Geographic Society. Their waters, controlled and channeled into irrigation canals, once turned the hot, dry lands into gardens when Iraq was known as Babylonia, Assyria, Mesopotamia.

Today, the record of the past is Iraq's dream of the future. To harness the rivers for irrigation, flood control and power, Iraq has assigned by law the whole of its sizable oil income, scheduled to reach an annual 55 million dollars by 1955. Additional aid for the program has come from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development in a $12,800,000 loan.

Riches and Rags

Paradoxically, Iraq is at once both immensely rich and tragically poor. Its fabulous and a half million people are estimated to have a lower per capita income than any of the neighboring Arab lands. Without proper irrigation they have been able to cultivate only one-fifth of their country's 116,000 square miles, and without flood control they have seen much of their ripening crops yearly devastated by floods.

Yet, Iraq's oil resources are among the largest in the Middle East. Estimated given its petroleum reserves, only partially tapped to date, at six billion barrels. Its soil is known to be fertile and productive, provided it is watered.

Even on his present meager farm lands, the Iraqui farmer produces 80 per cent of the dates sold on the international market. Other crops that do well along the river banks or in irrigated patches are wheat and barley, rice, tobacco and long staple cotton. Livestock is another important source of income, especially in the Kurdish mountains of Iraq's north. The nation claims an estimated 15,000,000 head of sheep and goats, valued at about $240,000,000.

Golden Age

Historically, Iraq is a nation of many lives. During man's earliest days on earth, successive civilizations along the Tigris and Euphrates rose and fell, building and destroying the famous cities of Ur, Nippur, Kish, Babylon, Nineveh and Eridu. The Golden Age of Iraq began, however, with the Arab conquest of 647 A. D. and lasted more than 500 years.

Under the Abbasid caliphate the Arab mind, according to one writer, "blazed out with a brilliance second only to that of the Greeks during their best period." While western Europe was in its so-called Dark Ages, Baghdad — capital of modern Iraq — was a center of learning, attracting poets, musicians, philosophers and doctors from all over the Moslem world.

Iraq's conquest by the Mongols in 1258, and by the Turks, in 1534, destroyed its culture and extensive irrigation system, but the traditions of its people lived on for a rebirth in the 20th century, when the nation won its independence following World War I.

Today, Iraq's government, a constitutional monarchy, is working to raise levels of education and health, in order to prepare its people for the increase in farm lands and influx of industries hoped for with the completion of its vast hydro-electric program.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Japan's crowded population, its mountainous character, and location on the rim of a sharp slope dropping miles deep into the sea make this country probably the world's worst earthquake risk, notes the National Geographic Society.

Experiments indicate that dogs have no perception of color, that life to them is a study in black and white.

A unique "lost treasure" in old coins probably lies in deep water at the base of Halfway Rock in Massachusetts Bay, notes the National Geographic Society. In old days mariners leaving the ports of Salem and Marblehead threw coins at the rock in order to purchase good luck for their voyages.

The tornado, literally meaning "twister" in Spanish, was so named by the early conquistadores, who encountered such storms in their exploration of North America.

Foxes abound on America's Aleutian Islands in three colors — red, white and blue. The blue foxes are really white ones with a dietary deficiency, notes the National Geographic Society.

The Laotians of northern Indochina and Thailand (Siam) fire crude skyrockets from lofty platforms to scare off evil spirits.

The elephants of a circus herd never lie down to sleep all at one time, notes the National Geographic Society. Apparently some instinct from former jungle life keeps one or more standing on guard against the possibility of attack.

Trainers of war dogs prefer animals are capable of responding to intangible rewards, such as approval and disapproval, as well as to specific prizes. Dogs with little sensitivity to either caress or correction are considered undesirable for milliltary training, notes the National Geographic Society.

COLUMBIUM, WAR-VITAL STEEL ALLOY FORGOTTEN METAL FOR 100-ODD YEARS

Little-known columbium, now barred from U. S. civilian markets because of national defense needs, is a "Johnny-come-lately" metal which has toiled up a spectacular success record within the last two decades.

Before 1928, industry had found no use for columbium, notes the National Geographic Society. Then technicians of an American metallurgical company began making experiments with this element which had first been observed, in 1801, when an British scientist analyzed a shipment of ores originating in New England.

The modern metallurgists soon discovered that the long forgotten columbium had invaluable properties for strengthening and stabilizing steels. It afforded, for example, a super alloy that was extremely resistant to mineral acids and other chemical corrosives, and to the deterioration caused by high temperatures. It was also found to be useful in rendering stainless steel easier to weld.

Helped Jet Power

With the later development of high-powered jet-propelled engines, rockets, guided supersonic, and other military equipment, columbium's capacity to withstand the effects of temperatures up to 1,600 degrees Fahrenheit made it one of the most strategic and critical materials of World War II.

In 1946, Congressional action provided for its continued stockpiling, along with other essential supplies, for future U. S emergencies.

Columbium, which is often found with its "twin" metal, tantalum, comes from columbite ore, mineral usually recovered as a by-product of other mining, especially of tin operations.

The British protectorate of Nigeria is the outstanding source of the metal (known as niobium in Great Britain). Nearly 90 per cent of the world's high grade columbite concentrates, it is estimated, have come from this West African country.

But the last few years have seen a decline in the long accumulated, columbite-rich dumps of Nigeria which gave up their treasure during the late war. In 1949, U. S. imports of columbium ores, chiefly from Nigeria, totaled less than more than 1,550,000 pounds, compared with more than 2,800,000 pounds in 1917.

Scattered Over World

There are a number of countries around the world which produce columbium ore, but so far, both in quantity and quality, the output has fallen far short of the Nigerian contribution. Hence the current demand, and the curtailment of civilian supply for such promised postwar uses as jewelry and tableware.

The United States — despite its part in the discovery of the metal and the fact that columbium was named for "Columbia" — is negligible as a source of supply. Peak production has accounted for only a few thousand pounds annually, gained in connection with mica, quartz, beryl, and other mining.

Relatively important producers, as now known, are the Belgian Congo and Brazil. In 1946, it was reported that rich columbium deposits had been found in the Ural Mountains of the Soviet Union. The southern part of Manchuria, from which Chinese Communists have been moving in on the Korean struggle, was said, in 1947, to contain uranium and other ores, mixed with columbium. Within recent weeks, Norway has announced plans for working newly found columbium-holding deposits.

FIREMEN HAD EARLY CALLS

At 4:55 yesterday morning Mrs. Clifford Sundburg of 67 Pond street notified Fire Headquarters that her house was full of smoke. The firemen found a defective air condition motor was responsible.

Just an hour later Mrs. M. L. Loftus of 5 Meadowcroft road reported an explosion in the basement of her home. The firemen found delayed ignition in the heater had caused the explosion, the force of which blew the smoke pipe off the kitchen range. Smoke and soot damage were done in both instances.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Uncle Sam mass-produced so many Liberty and Victory cargo ships during World War II that considerable ingenuity was required to find names for them, notes the National Geographic Society. Including types, about 3,100 were built. Most Liberties were named for outstanding American men and women; others commemorated merchant seamen killed in action. U. S. colleges, towns, and cities, and the members of the United Nations, also gave their names to Victory ships of various types.

Clouds and fogs are both made of tiny water droplets. A cloud is a high fog. A fog is a mist hanging low enough to reach the earth.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

One of the most delightful programs we have had in a long time was that of Tuesday, November 28th, when through the cooperation of our Program Chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Flynn, we had the pleasure of presenting Miss Marjorie Shepherd, an extremely talented artist, in a series of original character sketches. In the midst of the grim war news of late, Miss Shepherd's program was as refreshing as an ocean breeze.

No mother present could fail to recognize her own halting efforts in teaching Junior the Facts of Life in the humorous sketch of The Birds and the Bees. A reflection of our modern times was the whimsical sketch on The Housing Shortage with its accompanying frayed nerves and tempers. Didn't you recognize that dear friend of yours, or was it yourself, in that member of the Garden Club who really did love some of her little dogs? To anyone who has ever mounted one of the "nervey" beasts the hilarious sketch on Horseback Riding brought back many a painful memory. In a brief change of mood Miss Shepherd presented the lovely and touching poem, Motherhood, by Mary Agnes Lee, and the dramatic word picture of The Creation by James Weldon Johnson. The delightful and true-to-life portrayal of The Demonstrator in the ten cent store who wouldn't dream of using the Pink Petunia Hormone Cream on her own skin, kept the audience convulsed with laughter and the final and closing sketch of Any Mother on Any School Day Morning really brought down the house. This last sketch was so realistic we can only say that, either Miss Shepherd is a wonderful student of human nature, or she has been peeking in our kitchen windows some schoolday morning.

Tea was served by Mrs. William A. Buckley and her hospitality committee. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Normand Phaneuf, Mr. Leo T. Manoli, Mrs. Eugene Lane, Mrs. Daniel J. Doherty, Mrs. C. Douglas Wheeler, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. William Perkins, Mrs. Owen Logue, Mrs. Talma Greenwood and Mrs. John Madden.

At our next meeting on December 12th we shall hold our Reception to New Members with Mrs. Theodore Dissel in charge, followed by a program on Christmas Decorations with Mrs. Virgil Chiardini and Mrs. Norman Mitchell. Plan to drop in and get acquainted with our many lovely new members and also take a little time out from your hectic Christmas shopping to learn new arrangements for your Christmas decorations so that "on the night before Christmas, all through the house" everything will be beautiful when the jolly, old gentleman arrives. May we expect you on the 12th?

LINCOLN SCHOOL NEWS

The mothers of first graders were entertained with the two first grade teachers, at the home of Mrs. Sanborn Vincent, last Monday. Mr. Foote spoke briefly to the group, and Miss Cochrane and Mrs. Buckley were given the opportunity to get to know the mothers better, on an informal basis. This is the first of a series of such teas to be given during the next few weeks, covering all the grades at Lincoln School.

Tea was served, and all of the guests agreed that having meetings of this sort in the homes of the members of the Mothers' Association was an excellent idea.

HOUSEWIFE WITH MAID CAN BREATHE EASY!

Now the housewife who hires a maid can breathe more easily. Gone are elaborate account keeping, report filing, and other time consuming obligations under social security laws are set at rest. Today the Internal Revenue and the Social Security Administration unwrapped their plan for reporting regular household workers who come under social security on January first. It was a small package.

James T. Phelan, manager of the Cambridge social security office, displayed the small envelope that will be used. In form and in size, it resembles those in use by private insurance companies, magazines circulation departments, and other commercial firms. It is a one-piece pre-addressed return envelope. There is space on the inner flap for the essential but brief items on the employee's wage, and a pocket for transmitting the social security tax. That's all!

Mr. Phelan estimates that approximately 2,000 housewives in the Cambridge area will need this envelope form. They will be used for making the first reports on regular household employees in April.

Under the new social security law, household workers who are paid as much as $50 by one employer in the three-month period, January through March (a calendar quarter), and who have worked for that one employer on 24 days or more in that quarter, or the preceding quarter, will have their wages count toward old-age and survivors' insurance. The tax to be remitted in the envelope form will be 3% of the worker's cash wages for the three-month period. The housewife may deduct one-half of this 3% from her employee's wage. One and one-half percent is the share of the tax.

To illustrate how the envelope report system will work, Mr. Phelan took the case of a housewife. If employs one maid on Tuesdays a week during the first three months of the coming year. At any time during April, the housewife, he explained, should fill out the envelope form which she will receive in March. The inner flap of the envelope will be already imprinted with the employer's name and address. On one line she will enter the worker's name and social security number, together with the total amount of cash wages paid during the three months. If the wages were $10 per week, and since there are 13 weeks in the three-month period, the total would be $130. The 3% social security tax would amount to $3.90. One-half of this ($1.95) is the worker's share. The employer will match this amount. The total tax of $3.90 is entered on the last line of the form. A check or money order in that amount is put in the pocket of the envelope. With the envelope sealed, stamped, and dropped in the mailbox, the housewife's social security report work is completed until July. No other records will be required.

"We are confident that as the household employer and her worker come to realize the mutual advantages of a more secure future for the employee, they will cooperate to make this simple procedure work," declared Mr. Phelan. He feels that it will promote a more stable and lasting employer-employee relationship, and believes that the provision of free social security for the protection of the caretaker, the cook, the hired man, and the laundress is an important step in encouraging domestic employment.

Before January 1, every regularly employed household worker should have a social security account-number card. The social security office is the place to get it. Right away, every housewife should read the booklet, "Do You Have a Maid?" The back page of this informative booklet is a postage-free post card addressed to the collector of internal revenue. When mailed, it will place her on the list for the March mailing of the envelope report form.

Copies of "Do You Have a Maid?" may be secured free of charge from the social security office at 2 Trowbridge street, Cambridge, the office of the collector of internal revenue, or from any post office.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Well, you can't say we didn't warn you! We said Woburn would give Winchester a rough-tough ballgame, and didn't they?

How the game would have turned out on a dry field no one knows, of course. Many in Winchester feel the locals would have won convincingly. Others are not so sure, thinking that boy, McLaughlin, would have been a "divil t'shtop entirely" with good footing.

And if Woburn had Scire, Kerrigan and Soave in its lineup! Whew!

Winchester's outside plays with Donlon and O'Brien carrying were useless on the holiday and they have been the Indians' meal tickets all season. Line bucks from the "T" don't go well with no outside threat to keep the middle of the defensive line honest.

Single wing advocates had some ammunition for their contention that you can really generate power from that formation as opposed to the "T". Woburn used the single wing all morning. Winchester used it when it started to go late in the game.

It's too bad the game had to end on a sour note again this year. Winchester isn't at all happy about the officiating of that last play sequence, and of course local followers are not forgetting that for the second straight year the white pants have taken the game away from the Indians in the closing moments of play.

There were Winchester followers who were a bit doubtful about that forward lateral thing last year, but we have encountered no local rooter in a position to see the play who does not think Johnson went over on his second buck into the Woburn line. He had less than a yard to go and the rules say if any part of the ball is on, above or beyond the goal line, the play is a touchdown!

The Winchester players are sure Johnson got over the line and say when the teams were pulled apart he was lying in the end zone with his entire upper body and all of the all-important football over the line. Deciding that he was stopped six inches short of pay dirt was certainly cutting it a bit thin, to say the least.

What the local coaches are upset about is the fact that no one called the play when it happened. The Winchester kids were sure the ball was over and when the officials, after a conference, decided it was not, naturally they were upset.

Woburn contenders say Winchester talked themselves out of the touchdown, but is there any one in the Tanning City who will argue there would have been no squawk from the Orange had conditions been reversed and Woburn denied a winning touchdown it believed it had earned?

Certainly the watch should have been stopped while the officials talked things over if it were not while Winchester protested. If the officials can not decide what is a touchdown without a conference, the players should not be penalized.

Of course there are those who will say that Winchester should have varied its offense on that touchdown drive, but the Indians covered six yards in two rushes and with the going the way it was Thanksgiving that surely is par for the course.

Woburn was delighted with its tie, and Winchester very downhearted. The Tanners had all the better of the first half, after Winchester's quick score, but the second half, after Winchester changed its defense, the going was pretty even, with Winchester having an edge in first downs, four to two.

The happy Woburn boys carried Coach Paul Dorrington off the field after the game; Dorrington announced he was through at Woburn before the battle. Maybe the win will bring him back, but reports have it he has had a rough time of it at Woburn this year.

Mud sure is a great leveler, and doesn't spirit cover a multitude of weaknesses in objective games. Year after year, Woburn has the old will to win to a much greater degree than Winchester. The Tanners on the holiday were a hungry win-starved bunch of battlers, who really wanted that game, and darn near got it.

Speaking of mud, it was that and that only that prevented a Winchester touchdown at the end of the third quarter when Walden couldn't reach a Donlon pass when all alone in the clear about the Woburn 30. The pass was near enough to cover but Billy just couldn't change direction to reach it. His feet were going frantically in the right direction but he was making no progress in the slime. It really should have been an easy chance!

Another good chance went by the board when a Woburn punt was blocked early in the third quarter at the Woburn 35. The ball bounded into the air without hitting the ground and settled into the eager hands of big Langedon Smith, who just had to hang onto it and run into the end zone for a score. The slippery ball however slithered off his fingers and that was that.

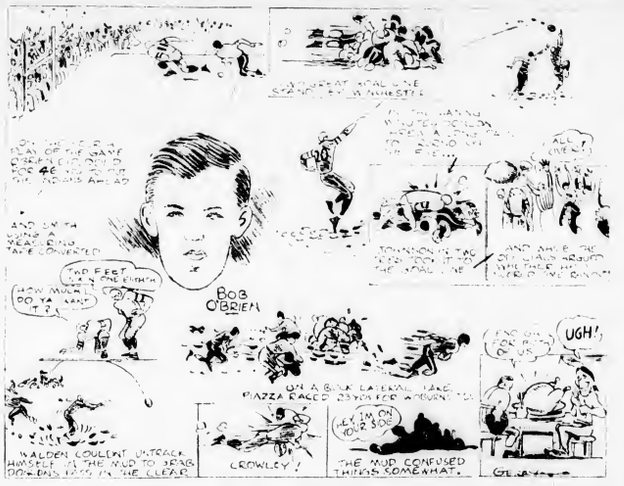

We had the wrong player making Woburn's all important point after in the first quarter, crediting McLaughlin instead of Johnson. The players were so muddy it is no wonder our spotters missed the runner's identity.

And incidentally, and by the way, that point after was a mighty close one to call too, wasn't it!

Before you laud Woburn too far skyward don't forget the Orange had first downs at the seven and the 11 yard lines when it was going great guns in that third quarter and still couldn't score.

With the ball at the three, third and goal to go, the Tanners wound up on the six the first time, and the second time with a second and five at the six, Winchester took over at the five. At least, Winchester did better than that when it finally got a chance in the closing minutes of play.

About all Winchester can do now is wait for next year with the Red Sox. Maybe the Indians will want that old ballgame enough in 1951 to go out there and win it, who knows!

"The Guiding Star", another beautiful Christmas story, will also be shown. Everyone will have an opportunity to sing the well-loved Christmas carols, with Dr. Cecil Pride directing.

This Christmas service for the whole family, inaugurated a few years ago, has grown steadily in interest and attendance, for the whole family can be together to hear and see the Christmas story retold in song and pictures.

GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. Barbara Metcalf assisted by two or three girl scouts showed the pictures of their trip to England at the home for aged on Mt. Vernon street on Monday, November 27. Mrs. Hewis, leader of the sixth grade group at the Lincoln School, assisted by Mrs. Fish took the following girls to the girl scout cabin the week-end of November 17; Eleanor Hewis, Carol Sweet, Rita Amico, Marion Fish, Cynthia Procopis, Kathleen Picopulus, Betty Foster, Linda Lutes, Alice Fitzgerald, Virginia Ferrina, Marie Amico, Jean Scaturo, Virginia Jacobellis. The campfire was built inside and the Scouts enjoyed indoor games and singing around the fire. Good instruction was as much a part of the program as the entertainment, however, and all agreed on an early return date.

The chance to learn the fundamentals of skiing will be at the Dri-Ski-School for all Girls on Saturday, December 2 at 10 a. m. The school will be held at the cabin. Each girl is asked to bring with her any equipment she now owns. The instructors will be prepared to advise each one of proper equipment needed and available. Mrs. Harry Pollard of Reading will instruct the older girls while Mrs. Parsons will help the Brownies.

The Girl Scouts' Chorus has met twice with Mrs. Witham to prepare their program of Chorals for presentation at Filene's during the holiday. This Chorus is of Scouts who are in 6th grade and up.

Other holiday plans include a town-wider roller skating party for Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts. This will be held at the Bal-a-Rone on December 28th.

The Health Center Christmas Party is taking the immediate attention of all concerned in the plans. The deadline on gifts to be made is set for Monday, December 18th. Leaders: Please note that the articles should be turned in between 2:30 and 4 at the Board of Health office. Two girls selected from each troop will be responsible for the delivery of the articles. Some materials, such as, Tarleton for stockings and dolls to be dressed, should be picked up at once. The party is to be held Tuesday, December 19th from 3 to 4 at the Board of Health Office, 9 Mt. Vernon street.

Scouts are busy but not one will want to let a crowded schedule keep her from a chance to share her Christmas Joy.

Troop 44 reports wonderful progress on the child care badge, beginning with a meeting at Mrs. Ennis's nursery school, where she explained the methods and materials used in handling the pre-school child. There followed two troop meetings under the direction of Mrs. Dwight Bellows designed to acquaint the girls with games, plays, and songs suited to that age group, and ending with several wonderful parties given by the girls working in groups of four.

One highly successful party for ten four year olds was directed by Natalie Bellows, Martha Lincoln, Judy Cairneross and Lydia Wyman. The young guests were Virginia Stearns, Dwight Bellows, Jeff Russell, Ricky Stockwell, John Winterivgham, Brian MacCormack, Debbie Cameron, Debbie Hitchcock, David Strout, and Peter Baros.

Another equally successful party was planned and carried out by Cynthia Ahlfors, Catherine and Cynthia Ayer, and Judy Moller. The guests were Laurie Baune, Caroline Ahlfors, Jackie Sawer, John Stabile, Jay Stewart, and Jeffry White.

A gay party for three year age groups was given by Virginia D'Elseaux, Linda Witham, Carole Ann Wallace, and Andy Litchfield. The young guests were Todd Wadsworth, Ellen Aubrey, Ann Lamphier, and Peter Haynes.

The Rotary Club will be entertained on December 14th with pictures of the Senior Scouts' trip to England. On December 6th the Leaders' Club will meet at the office. There will be a film on Scouting and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Barbara Metcalf will not be in the local office December 7 - 8 - 9 as she will be attending the meeting of the National Association of Girl Scouts Executives at Northampton.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Two artists come to Winchester next Tuesday evening, December 5, at the opening of the exhibition of water color illustrations of Dickens novels by Robert Wilkie. Robert Wilkie will be there but through his paintings will he be known. It is said that Homer is known through his books so this Boston artist is known through his paintings which are better known than the artist who did them. In person will appear Mr. Edward F. Payne, Dickens scholar and artist.

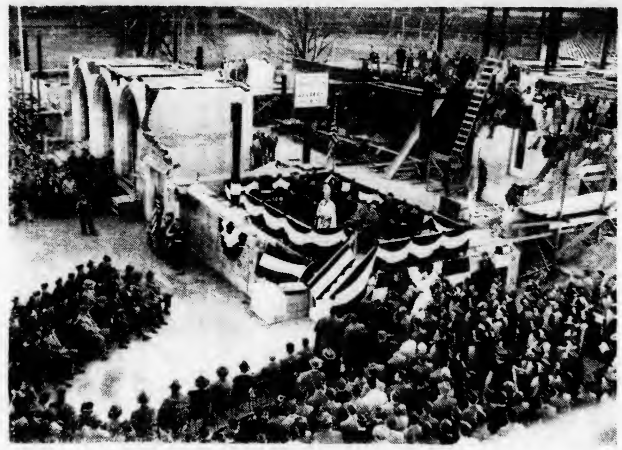

Mr. Wilkie was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, in 1828 and passed on at his son's home in Swampscott in 1903. His first exhibition came in Halifax in the years 1849 and 1850 thus this is his centennial year of exhibition. Gleason's Drawing Room Companion carried the artist's first signed work in 1853. It will be recalled by the members of the art association that Louis Prang a German-American engraver, art educator and publisher, was mentioned as connected with the greeting card business during the evening made possible to the association by their fellow member Ernest Dudley Chase himself a greeting card publisher. Mr. Wilkie, about and during the year of 1899, did sixty pictures for Prang here in Boston. During the residence of Mr. Wilkie in his adopted country his prolific brush did over one hundred and twenty oil paintings. He traveled to many places that the artists of today visit among them Marblehead and Salem.

Robert C. Vose Galleries' catalogue gives a list of one hundred and eight paintings of Dickens' characters done by this artist. Fifty of these paintings by Mr. Wilkie are loaned to the Winchester Art Association to be exhibited during the month of December in the art gallery of the Winchester Public Library, according to the information released by Miss Edith Lothrop Caverly who is in charge of the exhibit for the association. The work of this little known artist has become a collector's item.

As this year is practically the one hundredth anniversary of Mr. Wilkie's first appearance as an exhibitor in the city of his birth we may hark back to 1912 the one hundredth anniversary of Dickens celebrated in Boston. At that exhibit many of Wilkie's drawings were exhibited. The guest demonstrator appearing before the Art Association next Tuesday evening, Mr. Edward F. Payne, wrote the explanations for many of Wilkie's drawings shown at the one hundredth anniversary exhibition in Boston. Mr. Wilkie was contemporary with Charles Dickens (1812-1870) being in Boston at the second visit of that great British novelist in 1867 and did not fail to meet him.

Mr. Payne comes to us not only as an authority on Dickens but as one who has close touch with that famous novelist. The Dickens devotee will tell of other illustrators and of his own drawings as he works that evening. Mr. Payne next Tuesday night will do crayon drawings in color of Mr. Pickwick the first character that Dickens made a success with and Sam. Waller. Sairah Gamp from Martin Chuzzelwit with Mr. and Mrs. Micawber from David Copperfield will be sketched. You see Mr. and Mrs. Micawber still appear together in support of Mrs. Micawber's declaration made so many years ago to the effect that "I will never desert Mr. Micawber." Of course Mr. Scrooge from the famous "Carol" will end the evening's cultural digest. For work well done as chairman of the Speakers' Committee Mrs. Sue Gleason receives the thanks of the association.

Vivien Frazier, (Mrs. Richard H.), chairman of the Hospitality Committee announces that Mrs. Robert Williams will preside with her committee at Le petit Gourmet to complete the union of the mental and physical culture for the evening.

AT CORNER STONE LAYING FOR BOSTON COLLEGE BUILDING.

Volpe, Winchester, is president. The four-story Gothic building will cost $1,500,000 and is to be ready next fall.

WOBURN GAME PICTURES TELL STORY

Coach Henry Knowlton of the Winchester High School football team showed the Star sports writer the moving pictures of the Thanksgiving Day football game with Woburn Wednesday evening.

The pictures, taken as usual by Reggie and Jake Wentworth, were very illuminating and showed conclusively the big edge Woburn enjoyed in the battle of rushlines during the first half. Continually the Woburn backs, McLaughlin and Piazza, had big holes in which to run while the Winchester backs, except for O'Brien on his touchdown gallop, had to make what distance they could through massed Orange defenders. Woburn blocked like demons while Winchester, except in rare instances just brushed against the Woburn boys, if indeed they didn't run right by them.

For all that, Winchester showed it could halt the Orange when Woburn had firstdowns at the seven and 11 yard lines before the half and couldn't score, but around midfield, however, the Orange ran wild and showed the best back Winchester faced all year in McLaughlin.

The pictures show the controversial touchdown play at the end of the game, and though it is of course too late to do any good, they show that Johnson got over all right. As a matter of fact most of the big pile surrounding him is in the end zone. How the officials figured he didn't make it, in view of the pictures, is hard to understand, especially when you bear in mind the rule that if any part of the ball is on, above or across the line, the play is a touchdown. Granted Woburn richly deserved its tie, it is still too bad Winchester's fine last-ditch offense, covering 50 yards and featuring, in view of conditions, a great long pass from Donlon to Crayton, didn't pay off officially as local supporters figure it did every other way.

One thing the pictures show to avoid a doubt is that no important football game should be played under conditions such as those prevailing at Woburn Thanksgiving.

AND A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL ---- FROM FILENE'S IN WINCHESTER!

TOWN MEETING ECHOES

Well, we finally solved the secondary school problem, or did we? There were reports of a referendum Friday, and a town-wide vote could upset the applecart. Two-thirds votes are not easy to get with everybody voting.

It is hard to see how Mrs. Kimball could have presented her committee's report better or more impartially. She got the meeting away to just the right start, and it surely wasn't her fault if it didn't remain on the same high plane all the way through.

In view of the strong opposition voiced to the Foster Plan, it was nice to hear Mr. Hatch of the Planning Board praise it as something well worth serious study. Mr. Foster and his associates put a lot of time and effort, as well as some little expense into a plan they hoped would benefit the town in which they make their home. The meeting did well to follow Mr. Mellor's suggestion and include them in its vote of thanks. They deserved it!

Many at the meeting were sorry about that back-hander Mr. Davies handed Mr. Gustin. It took some of the edge from the Davies admirable explanation of the School Building Committee's slides. And of course there is just the possibility that Mr. Gustin was right about something. "Wrong about everything else" covers quite a lot of territory!

And by the way, where were all those Foster Plan enthusiasts you were constantly running into before the only meeting that really counted?

The provision of the Foster Plan for a parking space for 250 student cars prompted one town meeting member to question during the discussion the fact that no landing field for planes was provided. We suppose the young men are not so far away from air travel at that!

When Mr. Bartlett got through with his remarks any plan but the "alternate" was a dead duck, and the vote could have been made right then. Additional knots in the ballyhard were tied by Mr. Farnsworth of the Selectmen and Mr. Clark of the Fine Comm. The latter really turned all plans but the alternate.

Mr. Farnsworth made one of the better cracks of the evening when he reminded the delegates that the center of gravity and school population was at the Gann Estate when it was proposed to build a school there. Now it has apparently shifted to Palmer street.

"Vinnie" didn't do so well when he tried to convince Mr. Hewis that you couldn't take money out of E and D to pay town employees a bonus, but then Mr. Hewis is a hard man to convince.

Gosh, wasn't it awful to think, as Mr. Clark suggested, that the State and Federal Government might not go ahead with the grade crossing elimination, if we were to block off Main street.

Somehow we didn't think "Mrs. Mac" was quite at the top of her form for this meeting. Of course she would have known all about it if she hadn't been late! She got in a good quip when she described every one voting for everything, pro and con, as "illuminating." Lots of new things these days, Elizabeth!

As to Captain Rush's contention about the proposed gymnasium for the enlarged high school, we wouldn't know, but we sure hope it will work out better than the one added to the present high school building. The committee will do well to, and undoubtedly will call to the head of the Physical Education Department before any actual installations.

Undoubtedly many at the meeting shared Mr. Farnsworth's concern over the looks of the additions to the present good looking Junior High School. It was nice that he "smiled" when he described his opinion of the proposed new wings and the designers!

There wasn't much doubt about the Fine Comm.'s wanting some action taken on the schools at the special meeting. Mr. Clark really made that pretty clear. A purist might even have called his remarks a "mandate," whatever that is.

We don't get as many "previous question" moved as we used to, but they always seem to be just as confusing to the delegates. We suspect that Mr. Tansey wasn't the only person a bit hazy over what was happening after Mr. Worthen's motion. The "previous question" was a favorite of the late Harper Blaisdell, and it always used to bother the late "Joe" Laraway no end, or he pretended that it did. Really, there wasn't much about a town meeting, hot or cold, that Jonas didn't know about. And wouldn't he have a great time at some present day sessions!

Correct us if we are wrong, but we thought Mr. Hatch rather "relented," as Andy would say, that crack about there being no master plan for Winchester's development.

That was quite a plug for Physical Education the unannounced speaker made at the rear of the hall. If, as it was reported, the speaker was Dr. Makechnie of the B. U. Sargent School, he really knew as much as he appeared to know about the subject. That, of course, is not always the case.

Mrs. Woodside really wasn't objecting to building a school or anything, but she did want to know what kind of a school she was helping to pay for. She was on her feet on that "previous question" business but missed the Moderator's eye.

Mr. Sarace had a point when he objected to audible shushing and remarks to "cut it short" aimed at him informally while he was speaking on the employees' pay business late in the meeting. He reminded the weary delegates that he had unsuccessfully tried to adjourn considerably earlier in the evening, and was slapped down but hard! At that point he was prepared to stay until 5 a. m., if necessary!

We might well have been there until 5 had there been any debate on that nursery school zoning bylaw business. Referring that to a committee was a fortunate expedient.

Mr. McKee was not at all sure that President Truman can't freeze municipal employees' wages, and judging by what the President has done, we think Tom could have something there!

Mr. Vincent Farnsworth answered Mr. Hewis' question about paying an employee's bonus out of E and D by saying "Mr. Clarke (town counsel) is shaking his head." "Which way," asked Mr. Hewis? The answer was of course, across, not up and down!

There was no debate over getting rid of old Mystic School property and little preaching over the remains. Many have felt that property should have been sold long since.

Mr. Wadsworth might have missed an occasional person who wanted to be heard during the hurly-burly of the meeting, but he surely picked out Mr. Rowe with unerring accuracy when it came time to dissolve. Twouldn't be official if that final motion wasn't put by Mr. Rowe.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Edgar Isherwood of Winchester is one of the soloists for the annual Christmas Concert to be given Sunday evening, December 10 at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Medford by the four choirs of the church. Dr. Arthur J. Watzinger of Wellesley, organist and minister of music is directing the concert to be sung by a chorus of 100 voices with guest artists, organ, piano and bells. The public is cordially invited to attend.

PATRICK QUIGLEY

Patrick Quigley, a long time resident of the North End, died Wednesday, November 29, at his home, 17 Loring avenue, following a short illness. His 88 years made him one of the town's older residents.

Mr. Quigley was born in Malin Head, County Donegal, Ireland, coming to this country as a young man and making his home in Winchester for more than 70 years. During his active years he was a leather worker. His wife, Alice McElhiney Quigley, died in 1939.

Mr. Quigley leaves five daughters, Mrs. Hannah Rafter of Woburn, Mrs. Sarah Frazier of Braintree, Mrs. Rona Brow of Swanton, Vt., Miss Mary Quigley and Mrs. Alice Duran of Winchester; three sons, Charles Quigley of Woburn and Thomas and James Quigley of Winchester; 16 grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren and a brother, James Quigley of Boston.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the Moffett Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Rev. Fr. Stephen E. Burke was celebrant, assisted by two curates from St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. William Walsh as deacon and Rev. Fr. Charles Anadore as subdeacon. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

"Dave" Eberle, son of Mrs. Alice Eberle of Hillcrest Parkway and the late Paul G. Eberle, a veteran of World War I, left Wednesday for San Antonio, Texas and service with the United States Air Forces. "Dave" attended Winchester High and Huntington Preparatory School.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Sargent, and was attended by Miss Louise Castonguay. Miss Cousins, of Medford, was best man. The bride was beautifully attired with flowers for the ceremony and reception which followed. A delightful buffet supper was served to fifty relatives and friends.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Gifts

The stock of the Winton Club Gift Shop in the hospital lobby is again drawing purchasers to its unusually attractive display of Christmas gifts. These are suitable for one's friends outside the hospital as well as those who are spending pre-Christmas days here. Skill and imagination on the part of the committee has resulted in a fascinating and useful variety. There are the cosmetics and toilet sets, the stationery, including Christmas cards, holiday gadgets, and even means of adding comfort to patients during their stay in bed, as well as the ever-wanted gay scarfs and sets for the head. Arrivals for the Shop are welcomed at the Gift Shop desk and will be received from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. All profits are devoted to various hospital uses.

Careers

The Hospital had a part in a Vocational Guidance Institute sponsored for the tenth consecutive year by the Guidance Department and Student Council of the Saugus High School, with the cooperation of the Saugus Lions Club. This Institute, held on the evening of Wednesday, December 6th, opened with a session for parents and other adults, followed by discussion groups on various career opportunities. Eighteen fields of choice for future careers were presented to the young people, ranging from the armed services, through business, electronics, music, the theatre, the sciences, and teaching. Winchester Hospital had special interest in the presentation of medical technology in a session addressed by Miss Anne Dove, M. T., A. S. C. P., head technician in our Clinical Pathological Laboratory. Another session, attended by a large number of students was on Nursing, ably led by Miss Ruth S. Fernandez, Instructor in Obstetrics in the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing.

Orchids

The hospital and its patients sincerely appreciate gifts of cut flowers, only isolated and inadequate thanks are given. Hence on this gift week we hasten to report how much it gave each pleasure to see missing staff during the past two weeks. A segment of the orchids, sent from Hawaii, was in evidence on the corridors, and we are sure everyone ought to acknowledge during the offering season. The thoughtfulness of the gift will not be forgotten.

VOLPE TO ADDRESS HOLY NAME

On Sunday morning, December 10th, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold their regular corporate Communion Sunday at the 8 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church. Breakfast will follow at Lyceum Hall.

The invited Speaker is the Society's former president, John A. Volpe, well known contractor, who has been a much sought after speaker these past several years.

Mr. Volpe will present color movies of his recent pilgrimage to Rome as a member of His Excellency Archbishop Richard J. Cushing's party, and no doubt will be prepared to answer questions after his remarks.

On Sunday, December 3rd, at 3:00 p. m. the officers went to the Bradford Hotel in Boston for the annual Diocesan Convention of Holy Name Societies, at which they were addressed by Archbishop Cushing. Those attending were Spiritual Director, Rev. William H. Walsh; President Arthur W. Hall; Vice President Eric W. Johnson; Secretary Robert J. Barstow; Treasurer Albert T. McDougal; Delegate Michael J. Connolly; and Delegate Sam Vangel.

The Membership Booklet of the Society is under preparation and those members who have not given their name to their precinct Chairman or to the Treasurer are urged to do so in order that the roster of members may be complete.

TROOP 12 HEARD POLICE CHIEF HARROLD

At the Troop meeting on Wednesday, November 29th, Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church were treated to a fine sincere talk by Chief Charles J. Harrold of the Winchester Police Department, who won the boys immediately when he told them that he was proud of their part in being good boys and for their cooperation, particularly in giving the Police no trouble on Halloween. He declared that the boy scouts are tops on the list in his line of work and urged Troop 12 to continue to be good boys — that their parents, particularly, will continue to be proud of them.

He cautioned the boys on the folly of the use of air rifles and sling shots, pointing out that many cases of entire or partial loss of eyesight are the result of the use of these instruments. He announced that anyone giving an air rifle to a boy under 15, who is found using one, is subject to a fine of $50.

Chief Harrold warned the scouts not to leave their bikes unlocked and to ride them with due respect for safety and laws. Continuing, he urged the boys to refrain from fighting if they should be so disposed and reminded the boys that they were pledged to service to their community just as the Police are. "You have a lot of people backing you up," declared the Chief, "who want you to be 'tops' in your endeavors."

Concerning the Civil Defense Program, Chief Harrold told the boys that they would be called upon to render Messenger Service and First Aid in emergencies, thus putting in practice all the training they have received which would prove invaluable to the Town. During the last war while serving in the Navy, the Chief had many occasions to use signalling and other Scout skills, and at the conclusion of his talk he spent a bit of time showing the scouts that he still could "tie 'em." It was announced to the boys that an "Explorer Dance" would be held on December 15th at Lyceum Hall for the entire Council which is a yearly affair.

New boys joining the troop are Dan Doherty, Jack Rogers, Larry Bairstow, Peter Dee, James McElholm, and James Nease who was accompanied to the meeting by his mother Mrs. Charles Nease.

Scoutmaster Bob Fiore announced that on the following Saturday he would conduct the cooking and fire-building tests and the following boys passed: John DiBona, Dick Diminico, Tommy Grace, Dave Fortiere, Billy McCormack and Dave DeCourcy. Mr. Albert Thorne, Sr. and son, Bob, assisted Scoutmaster Bob Fiore and enjoyed sampling the scout's cooking. Points will be awarded to patrols who have boys advancing and all boys have to advance at least one notch for the next meeting, declared Scoutmaster Fiore.

Following the troop meeting the committee held a special meeting at which Albert T. McDougal was elected Chairman of the Committee for another term. Albert Thorne, Jr. was appointed Assistant Scoutmaster and this ex-G I is expected to be a real asset to the troop. Mr. Sam Vangel was made Chairman of Refreshments; Daniel Doherty, Sr. was made Treasurer for another term, and Vin Erhard Publicity and Entertainment and Explorer Advisor. Albert Thorne, Sr. Advancement.

A Parents' Nite is scheduled for early in December with points to be awarded the scouts who bring parents and guests along.

The following Den Chiefs were appointed by the scoutmasters: Tim Sullivan, Bob Winn, John DiBona, Dave Fortiere, Bill McCormack and George Wheaton.

Rev. Francis O'Neil Troop Chaplain is very pleased at the initiative the troop is taking and all are looking forward to a planned Scout Sunday Service with light breakfast following soon, in December at St. Mary's Church where the scouts will attend Mass and receive Communion in a body, in uniform.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT FLORENCE CRITTENTON MEETING

The members of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion have a special treat in store for them in the musical program arranged by Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham for the December 15 meeting.

First on the program will be George Fortune a very fine baritone bass. Mr. Fortune is from Boston and sings in the Winchester Unitarian Church Choir. He is an extremely talented young man and all who have heard him predict a brilliant future for him. Mr. Fortune will sing familiar classical arias and music from "South Pacific."

Our next artist will be Grace Norman of Winchester who is already a pianist of note in circles of her youth. Both she and Mr. Fortune are under twenty years of age. Miss Norman is musical assistant at the Unitarian Church. She has recently appeared with the Reading Symphony and in a Boston recital of her own. She is not only charming but unusually talented. She will play both classical and modern selections.

Our third artist will be Constance Elrod Morrill who is well known here and is quite active in dramatic circles. Mrs. Morrill is an especially fine monologuist, who finds time to pursue her art in her already full role of wife and mother.

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills, 3 Burroughs street at 2 p. m. It is requested that all those who plan attendance of the opportunity of hearing these fine young artists each of whom excels in his own field

Just Mainsheets quarterly, on the high school eleven this year, was given honorable mention by Boston Globe in its selection of an honorary eleven announced last Sunday

WINCHESTER RESIDENT ADDS TO CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

Again this Christmas season the beautiful scene of the Nativity will be shown and the familiar carols will be wafted on the air of Winchester, when Mr. James H. Buzzell, of 299 Mystic Valley Parkway, will show a magnificent Bethlehem scene on the left of the walk leading up to his house, and on the right a projector will throw scenes of the Holy Land on a huge screen, automatically changing each minute. There are forty-two of these scenes. Christmas carols will be broadcast for a period of about half hour each at 6, 7, 8 and 9 p. m.

In addition each Sunday afternoon at 1, 3 and 5 o'clock there will be a concert of religious music, other than carols. If the popularity of these religious concerts warrants there will be such a concert each weekday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Tuesday through Saturday.

Mr. Buzzell's library of recordings numbers over 300 religious musical selections, with an additional 60 to 70 Christmas recordings.

EN KA SOCIETY ENTERTAINS AT HOME FOR THE AGED

On November the tenth, Miss Eleanore P. Dow and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Warren F. Goddu, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Leslie J. Scott and Mrs. Albert D. Swasey, planned a delicious supper at the Home and it was most heartily enjoyed by all.

Two High School girls, Miss Deborah French and Miss Shirley Kinney, played an interlude of piano duets making the evening even more entertaining.

All of the members at the Home were more than enthusiastic about the Philco television and told how much enjoyment and interest it had brought to each in quite different ways.

How the family endear themselves in a very special way to En Ka for their deep feeling of appreciation for the little gestures of friendliness shown to them! Imbued with the spirit of the Home, En Ka always leaves with a glowing warmth of happiness which the family in turn have given to us.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Last Sunday the Methodist Youth Fellowship had " A Study of the History of Protestantism." This was presented by their pastor Rev. Snook and resulted in an animated discussion.

Next Sunday, December 10, at 6:30 p. m. they will have movies presented by George Roghaar.

Mr. Michael Penta of 336 Washington street, who is associated with the Barker Lumber Company of Waltham, attended the 50th anniversary banquet of the Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' Association at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston as the guest of the vice president of the Concrete Construction Company which has just been awarded the contract for the new Everett Housing Project.

MRS. ESTHER NEERGAARD LAWSON

Word has been received of the sudden death on Monday morning, December 4, at Ogunquit, Me., of Mrs. Esther Neergaard Lawson, a former resident of Winchester and wife of Stanley Lawson, a star baseball player while at Winchester High School in 1912 and '13.

Mrs. Lawson, who had been making her home for several years in Ogunquit, was born May 4, 1897, in Woburn, the daughter of Marinus, and Christiana (Petersen) Neergaard. She was educated in the Woburn schools and at Woburn High School, making her home in that city until her marriage to Mr. Lawson July 7, 1919. They lived after their marriage on Washington street in this town until moving to Maine about five years ago.

Mrs. Lawson was a member of the Women's Club in Ogunquit and also of the Legion Auxiliary there. Her husband has been in poor health for some years.

Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mrs. David Littlefield and Mrs. George Jacobson, both of Ogunquit; two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Scott and Mrs. John Sorenson; a brother, Henry Neergaard, all of Woburn; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lawson's daughter, Mrs. Jacobson, in Ogunquit. Interment was in Wells, Maine.

It is too bad that "Big Jim" Fitzgerald of Church street, former all eastern tackle while playing at Tufts, didn't happen along last Saturday evening when jokers were pushing his wife's car from where she had parked it on Salisbury street to the junction of Salisbury street and Foxcroft road. We would predict that would be the last machine those parties bothered in quite some time!

MRS. FLORENCE C. JONES

Mrs. Florence Clifford Jones of 247 Washington street, wife of Harry L. Jones died Sunday, December 3rd after a long illness.

Mrs. Jones was born in Gilmanton, N. H., 82 years ago. The daughter of the late Charles F Swain and Sophie Webster of Concord, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have lived in Somerville and Medford before coming to Winchester Arms nine years ago.

She is survived by her husband Harry L. Jones and her daughter Eleanor Webster Stoneman of Winchester, formerly of St. Louis, Missouri.

The funeral services were held at Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery and conducted by Rev. William T. Howe, pastor of the Broadway Winter Hill Congregational Church. Mrs. Jones was one of their oldest members. The ultimate burial will be in Concord, N. H.

REFERENDUM PETITIONS FILED

Petitions calling for a referendum on the two school votes of the School Building Committee's "Alternate Plan" were filed yesterday afternoon with the Selectmen by Arthur Hewis, Jr., Michael Saraco and Capt. Richard Rush. In the event the names on the petitions are certified by the Registrars of Voters, the Selectmen must hold a meeting within ten days of the filing date, and issue a call for the town-wide ballot vote which must be within fourteen days of the date of the Selectmen's meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Adams of Mystic avenue are ill at the Winchester Hospital, having entered the hospital on November 27. Mr. Adams is on the danger list. Both are long time and widely known residents of the town.

DR. J. CHURCHILL HINDES

DR. HINDES GIVING UP PRACTICE

Dr. J. Churchill Hindes, after more than half a century in the profession, is being forced by an eye condition to close his offices in the Star building and give up the practice of Dentistry.

Dr. Hindes graduated from the Harvard Dental School in 1898, and for several years practiced in his home town of Vergennes, Vt. Apr. 1, 1905, he took over the practice of Dr. Francis Harding in Winchester, continuing at the Harding office in the Brown and Stanton Block until the Star Building was opened in 1915, when he took offices on the second floor above the Church street entrance, remaining in that location ever since.

Dr. Hindes has had a large practice and has been popular in town, particularly in musical and social circles, a genial personality winning him a wide circle of friends, while a trained bass voice of fine depth and quality, always artistically used, was heard regularly for years as soloist and in the quartet at the First Congregational Church, as well as in concerts and local musical shows. Many recall with pleasure his singing of "Asleep in the Deep" at a "Seth Parker Gathering" at the Methodist Church several years ago, and he has been a regular member of the Mystic Glee Club since its inception. He has also been an active member of Winchester Rotary, acting as the club song leader.

Dr. and Mrs. Hindes, the former Patience Mason and herself a fine musician and pianist, make their home in Stetson Hall. It is good news that they plan to continue to live for the present, at least, in Winchester.

MANCIB — FAIRFIELD

At the United Parish Church in Fort Fairfield, Maine on Saturday afternoon, December 2, Miss Jacqueline L. Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant A. Hunt of Fort Fairfield, became the bride of Richard Allen Mancib, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Mancib of Yale street. The 2 o'clock ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John H. Olsen, in an attractive setting of emerald greens from the Hawaiian Islands, white chrysanthemums and pink snapdragons.

The bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin that buttoned down the back and had a nylon net yoke embroidered with seed pearls, a fitted bodice with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt extending into a cathedral-length train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was caught to a cap of ivory satin embroidered with seed pearls and her flowers were white snapdragons arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Miss Marilyn Ann Hunt of Fort Fairfield was her sister's only attendant. She wore an off-the-shoulder dress of light blue net over taffeta, having a net draped yoke with blue rhinestones and cap sleeves. White gloves and a light blue Juliet cap with a border of flowers matching her bouquet of pink and rose snapdragons completed her costume.

Captain Robert Bruce Mancib, U. S. Air Force, was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Ray Lamoreau of Easton, Me., Tom Thornton of Fort Fairfield, Me., and Albert Sloan of Limestone, Me.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Plymouth Hotel. After a wedding journey through New Hampshire and Vermont Mr. and Mrs. Mancib will make their home at 41 Monroe road in Lexington.

The bride attended Fort Fairfield High School and was graduated from Chamberlayne Junior College in Boston. Mr. Mancib graduated from Winchester H. S. School and from Tufts College. He served for three years as an ensign in the United States Navy and is now associated with the A. S. Mancib Company in Somerville.

FORUM TO SPONSOR MISTLETOE DANCE DECEMBER 9

Members of the Senior Forum's efficient Social Committee under the leadership of Tina Tonon and Norman Makechnie are working closely with the decorating committee of the Wednesday Night Club to "deck the hall" in gay holiday attire for the week-end dances. On Saturday night when the Forum sponsors the dance, crowds of High School young people will be making their way to the First Congregational Church at 8:00 for their greatly anticipated Annual Mistletoe Dance.

Attractive posters have been made by Joan Moore, Nancy Doten and Jacqueline Chapman. Scott Cunningham, Robert Trant, and Paul Leverette are in charge of the lighting arrangements. The refreshment table will be in charge of Donald Lewis. Music will be furnished by the Novettes, the orchestra of High School young people who played very creditably at the dance sponsored by the Metcalf Union recently.

Also helping on committees for the dance are Jacqueline Sturtevant, Phyllis Chapman, Nancy Barnard, Donald Cameron, Marcia Cunningham, Nancy Ayer, Janet Archibald, Barbara Hammett, Sue Melanson, Janey Macaulay, Judy Higgins, Nancy Morse, Ricky Phippen, and Edward Jones.

PAUL COON WINS THIRD VARSITY LETTER IN SOCCER AT AMHERST

Paul Coon of Winchester finished his third season as a varsity regular on the Amherst College Soccer Team Saturday, November 18 when the Lord Jeffs captured their eighth victory in nine games by defeating Williams College 2 - 1. As a result of this victory in which Coon scored one goal, Amherst gained second place in the final New England League standings, relinquishing the title it won in 1949 to Yale.

A senior, he finished third in the league in individual scoring with 8 goals, one less than teammate Howie Burnett and Yale's Bill Cordes who tied for the lead in that department. Coon who is a Beta Theta Pi affiliate won his numerals in freshman baseball and soccer upon graduation from Deerfield Academy and three varsity awards as a right inside in soccer thereafter.

WYMAN SCHOOL NEWS

Once again the Christmas wreath has been hung at Wyman School, ushering in the Christmas season. The carol singing, on the front stair landing, started last Monday morning from 8:45 to 9 and will continue every day until school closes for the holidays. A rotation system is used starting with the sixth grade down through the kindergarten so that every child has a chance to participate. This is a long standing tradition that the children eagerly await.

The sixth grade students, under the direction of Miss Murray, are diligently painting the back drop for the annual Christmas play. This is good news as most parents look forward to this event with enthusiasm. The title of this year's play is, "Christmas in United States," and will be presented to the parents on Tuesday, December 19, at 2 p. m.

Friends of the Reverend Henry Francis Smith of 22 Lakeview road regret to learn that he is under operation at the Deaconess Hospital. Dr. Smith has had more than his share of misfortune since coming to Winchester three years ago.

WINCHESTER HAD GOOD FOOTBALL SEASON

With the controversial Woburn Game on Thanksgiving Day, Winchester High School completed another football season which can only be considered very successful in view of several handicaps under which the club labored all season.

A record of eight wins, one loss and one tie is a good record in any league these days, and in the case of Winchester much better than any one closely acquainted with the team had reason to expect.

The Indians scrapped their old single wing formation, from which they had attacked since the days of Wendell Mansfield and adopted the "T" this year. Since spring training is tabu in Winchester, that meant starting from scratch to learn an entirely new offense this fall.

For two games, Winchester had little or no defense, except that provided by the natural ability of the players, since the Coaching Staff had to concentrate on making its new offense work at least passably.

In view of this the Indians were lucky to get by their first two games with Milton and Swampscott. That 13 - 12 win over Milton was a real achievement considering the short time Winchester had worked on its new offense and the strength of the opposition. Swampscott was not strong this year, fortunately, and Winchester was able to get by the Sculpins, 8 - 0, without still showing too much, either offensively or defensively.

The Indians played their top game of the year against Watertown, and granted the arsenal towners were not as good as usual this year, Winchester's 7 - 6 victory over the Scarlet, rated one of the major upsets of the season hereabouts. The Indians were good both offensively and defensively that warm fall afternoon, and it can also be said with entire truthfulness that they were never as good again all season. Behind Watertown Winchester's best showings were against Stoneham and Framingham.

After making a game of it the first half Winchester blew up against Reading and lost a game by two touchdowns it could have won with anything like its Watertown form. Reading seemed much better prepared for the game than Winchester and its spirit was much the better of the two teams. A couple of defensive lapses gave Reading both it's scores while two or three bad breaks, at least one caused by the slippery condition of the field, prevented Winchester from tallying and perhaps pulling out a win after all.

Anyone who followed the Indians closely and has seen previous Winchester teams in action will have to admit that the quality of the opposition the locals faced this season wasn't too tough. Most of the teams Winchester faced seemed definitely below what they have shown in past seasons. Swampscott, Watertown, Framingham and Wakefield were notable cases in point.

Winchester was better than in 1949. This year's team had much better balance in the backfield than last year, and its line was at least as good as the frontier of a year ago. It had to be!

This year's line, as in 1949, was the Achilles heel of the club, and it was fortunate that no more teams elected to run up the Indians' admittedly weak middle. Most clubs tried to run outside and pass against Winchester and the locals did very well in stopping both such offenses. Lack of a competent passer made the Indians' good running game the more to be wondered at, for most clubs did not bother to loosen up their lines after a few minutes of play, feeling they had little to fear from Winchester through the air.

At times Winchester had good spirit, notably at Watertown, and against Milton and Stoneham, Framingham and Wakefield. At other times, particularly against Winthrop, Reading, Belmont and Woburn the Indians had little or no spark.

The Woburn game of course was played under impossible conditions, and the pictures show that Winchester really scored a winning touchdown that the officials failed to see. A win against the Orange would have made the locals' season much more successful.

Playing regularly at the ends this year have been Captain Cirurso and Billy Walden. Dave Kennistion and Bob McElhinney have been the regular starting tackles with Prep Keyes, Sandy Burbank and Tony Pelusо, the guards, "Dyna" Lentine has played much of the offensive center for the club.

In the backfield the starters have been Jost Michelsen, quarterback, Joe Donlon, left halfback, Bob Johnson, right halfback, and Bob O'Brien, fullback. Behind these boys have been Dick Errico and Eddie Cullen, defensive backers-up, Stu Thomson, quarterback, Frank Wheaton, halfback and Sericka and Griffin, fullbacks, Griffin being the team's best punter. The all around play of Donlon really made this year's team, though the fullbacking of Bob O'Brien was another helpful asset. The loss of O'Brien and Burbank for several games through injuries, really hurt.

Up front Flaherty and Carleton played reserve ends, Langdon Smith, Crowley and Murphy, tackles, and Amundsen, guard. Smith did all the place kicking of extra points, Borden was student manager of the team.

Coach Henry Knowlton has been assisted this year with the team by Ted Bartlett and Andy Lentine, his assistants of 1949, with Mr. Bartlett's services going back to Coach Knowlton's arrival in Winchester and beyond. It is this writer's opinion, for what it may be worth that in winning eight and losing but a single game of ten with this year's team the coaching staff did an exceptional job.

IF YOU

know about the work of Macefield you don't have to read this description. We are a little surprised now to find we are still unknown to some Winchester people who would be interested in what we do, for we begin to be quite well known in surrounding towns and Boston and New York City. We have appeared as guests on Louise Morgan's Television Show with some of our hand wrought jewelry and silver-smithing. This was an experience as well as a help to being better known. We have had write-ups in several newspapers and are occasionally give talks and exhibitions before clubs and other groups. Then a number of our patrons and friends have become so interested in our designs that they have caused many new people to visit our showroom. All this is very gratifying to us and makes our hard work the more worth-while.

It is hard work to create original one-of-a-kind jewels from sketches and raw materials all by hand but it is enjoyable because we are able to maintain high standards, consistently artistic, with more variety. It is a pleasure to be able to take stones from old setting and design a beautiful new setting suitable to the client's taste and personality. It is fun too to take our own stones escaping around them classic or more unusual settings for our showcase, to be selected in time as the right person comes along.

If you do not know our work as more you're on those who do and visit our work shop and showroom at 16 Winchester Street to see us. We work and treat we do — especially if you are wondering what something nice you might get for December 25. You might find it or have it made at Macefield. Many ladies find it quite enjoyable.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

[illegible] Guild [illegible] Night Meeting [illegible] at 8:00 p. m. [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Ethel H. Bacon [illegible] "Let's Go To Town" [illegible] to provide delightful entertainment for members. Mrs. Bacon's talks for adults are [illegible] and clever [illegible] the [illegible] drama [illegible] the Sea on [illegible] plays. A graduate of South College, Phi Beta Kappa, Miss Bowen has spent several years on the professional stage where she acted in productions with Paul Muni and Edward G. Robinson.

Mrs. Talmage Ells, Eighth District Director, will be the Guest of Honor.

Mrs. Conrad S. Rosander, Mrs. Eedra H. Kelley and Mrs. Richard A. Smith will be hostesses at the coffee hour.

On Monday morning, December 18, at the home of Mrs. Anna Mason, 15 Wedgemere avenue, a group of over forty Fortnightly members gathered for coffee, a social hour, and a most enlightening and inspiring talk on the Education of the Blind.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Gladys Peppard assisted by Gertrude Foltz, and Florence Aldrich. Assisting as hostesses were Lillian House and Gladys Foltz. Pourers were two former Education Committee Chairmen, Mrs. Veda Norris and Mrs. Ruth Priest.

Mrs. Hiscox, President of The Fortnightly, spoke a few words of greeting. The speaker was Mr. Edward J. Waterhouse, Administrative Assistant and Manager of the Home Materials Press at Perkins Institution and Massachusetts School for the Blind. Mr. Waterhouse stressed the importance of the attitude which seeing people have toward blind people. There is the embarrassed person who "just doesn't know what to say" and finally says, "Well, good day!" Or there is the person who does not see a hand outstretched in greeting. And there is the child who stares and shows the blind man his tongue. "Don't be nice again in my office!"

As we were not there at all to answer for himself! It is inevitable that shocks and many other experiences of this kind are registered in the minds of blind people, and the problem of how to live in a seeing world.

Perkins Institution has not invested funds, excepting bequests since 1900, for it's regular work. But for its specialized department of teaching the deaf-blind, the "children of the silent night," it does make an annual request for contributions. This particular phase of the work was most interesting, as described by Mr. Waterhouse during the half-hour question period which followed his lecture. Questions came thick and fast from an intensely interested audience. Miss Fannie Young recalled having once met Helen Keller and played for her. Mrs. Wightman asked about a device for reading which a friend of hers had invented. Many friends of Winchester's own lovely Norma Farrar spoke in admiration of her outstanding success at the University of New Hampshire after graduation from Perkins.

Miss Mary Jane Badger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Badger of Prospect street, will make her debut at a dinner dance to be given in her honor at the Algonquin Club in Boston on December 28, during the height of the holiday season.

MISS NORIAN PLAYED

Also to Appear at Christmas Musicale

Miss Grace Norian of Robinson Circle appeared last week as guest artist with the Reading Symphony Orchestra in the first concert of the season at the Joseph Weston L. Bramhall school, Reading. Miss Norian, who regularly accompanies the Winchester Unitarian Choir in their Choral Vespers, is soloist of this group.

Miss Norian, who gave such an excellent performance with Mr. Bramhall and Mr. Hague, tympani, at their December 2 Choral Vespers at the Unitarian Church, will be heard as soloist and accompanist at a Christmas Musicale to be given at the home of Mr. Gerald Y. Hills on Dartmouth street for the December meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League. Other artists will be George Fortune, young basso of the Unitarian Choir and Constance Elrod Morrill, mezzo-soprano.

Miss Jane Beggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Beggs, Jr., of 14 Winthrop street, is one of 120 students in the Mount Holyoke college Glee Club which will present its 26th annual Christmas carol concert in Town Hall, New York city, December 15. Secretary of the Dance Club for 1950, Miss Beggs was named a Sarah Williston scholar in September. She is a graduate of Winchester High School.

THE MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church, in Winchester will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 12th at 1:00 p. m. Mrs. Grace Dvand and Mrs. Margaret Sands will direct the sewing session at 10:00 a. m. and there will be a Mission Union Board Meeting at 12:00 noon.

Mrs. Erskine White and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton will be chairmen of the committee which will serve lunch at 1:00 p. m. in the Social Hall to members of the Mission Union Guild and the Home Church Guild. At 2:00 o'clock the two guilds will meet jointly in Ripley Chapel for the annual Christmas candlelight service. The directors of both Guilds will participate in this service, and there will be Christmas devotions, Christmas carols and special music with the organ and violin.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Kiyo Yimasa, wife of Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, president of the International Christian University. Of her, a Japanese publisher has said, "Give me a thousand women like her, and we'll have quite a country." Mrs. Yuasa represents the new woman of Japan, having participated widely in civic projects and having a deep interest in current education.

The former Kayo Ukai, she is a grand-daughter of the famous Madame Kaji Yajima, the pioneer woman leader, world traveler and advocate of international cooperation, who delivered a Japanese women's peace message to President Harding when she was 87. Her father, Tai-ami Ukai, was one of Japan's leading ministers for nearly fifty years.

An alumna of Joshi Gakuin Mission School for Girls in Tokyo, Kayo Ukai went to Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa in 1918 and graduated with honors in June, 1922. A year later she was married to Dr. Yuasa, who had recently received his Doctor's degree in entomology from the University of Illinois. The next two years the young couple spent in Europe where Dr. Yuasa worked and studied on a Japanese fellowship. The Yuasas then moved to Kyoto where he became head of the biology department at the Imperial University. Ten years later he was elected president of the Christian Doshisha University. In 1937 the war-bound Japanese militarists forced Dr. Yuasa into exile in the United States. Mrs. Yuasa remained in Japan with her son Yo. The family was reunited in 1946.

Ever since Dr. Yuasa was elected president of the International Mrs. Yuasa shares a deep concern. Have you read about these people?

IF YOU HAVEN'T, YOU'D BETTER—YOU'LL LOVE 'EM!

Lots of our passengers and freight shippers have remarked that they could "write a book about the B and M." But nobody did — till R. M. Neal came along.

He came all the way from the University of Missouri to do it — just because he wanted to. He took a ride — all over our system — and here and there he takes us for a little ride too. But mainly "High Green and the Bark Peelers" tells the story of our railroad, in layman's language — and it makes mighty good reading!

When you read this book, you'll hob-nob with our enginemen, our trainmen, our signal tower operators. You'll command snouty black diesel switchers taking freight cars in and out of factories and warehouses. You'll learn railroad hand signals and railroad lore. You'll see a hundred or more of your loaded cars picked up by the B and M's famous diesel powered freight trains, such as "The Bullet" running between Portland and New York.

You'll admire that great fast freight, but then you'll boss a local freight yourself. You'll cut off a tanker at an oil plant, you'll trundle boxes and crates with hand trucks. You'll handle paint and plumbers equipment, and a canoe . . . and you'll proudly deliver a new fire truck to Milford, N. H. You'll realize incidentally that the communities that cluster beside the tracks depend on the B and M's local freight train.

You'll patrol tracks in a rainy drizzle or blinding snow storm. You'll be the eagle eye of safety. You'll realize that those fast freights pound out 4800 tons of merciless pressure upon a track, so you'll inspect daily, looking for that slight chance of an unfavorable condition and correct it at once. This is painstaking, hard work . . . but you, and the men you work with, will examine every foot of right-of-way with care, knowing the fine safety record of the B and M is your responsibility.

You'll be the boss of the latest passenger equipment — power and cars of the most modern type. Your "consist" will be a 2000 HP Diesel, B and M silver air conditioned streamliners, and a parlor car. You'll run 115 miles in 120 minutes. You'll carry 1200 gallons of fuel oil. You'll check the gauges, study the dials for oil pressure and engine temperature. As you pull out of the yards you'll see the signals clear and distinct and finally it's "High Green," and "our speedometer shows seventy-five miles an hour."

From the time you meet the "bark peelers" from the hills above Sanbornville to the time you see a B and M gateman at North Station tip his hat as he answers a lady's question, you'll sense the loyalty, the quiet, inflexible attention to duty, the cheerful confidence that are as much a part of the B and M Railroad as its right-of-way.

Yes, this book really tells the story of the joys and challenges of railroading in Northern New England.

It tells it so well that we'd like a lot of people on our lines to learn more about us.

If three or more people in any community served by the Boston and Maine will take the trouble to request a copy for their local public library, we'll present a copy of "High Green and the Bark Peelers" to that library — with our compliments!

Write to G. H. Hill, Publicity Manager, North Station, Boston.

ABOUT B and M — BUT NOT FOR B and M

This book is the author's and not ours. We had nothing to do with the text or the publishing.

Here is what he says in a letter to us:

"I wrote the book honestly — I wrote what I believed, not what you or anyone else might have wished me to write. You had enough confidence in your road to turn me loose and let me see for myself, with no attempt to color or slant what I saw." (signed) R. M. Neal.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

Two Teachers Elected

The Winchester School Committee at their regular meeting on Monday evening elected two new teachers, Mrs. Frances Houghton of Woburn, and Mrs. Katherine Riegert of Cambridge, to fill vacancies caused by the resignations of Mrs. Judy Brown and Mrs. Frances Procopio.

Mrs. Houghton, a graduate of Boston Teachers' College, will teach grade three at the Washington school. Mrs. Riegert, a graduate of the University of Cincinnati, will teach grade four at the Wyman school.

The report of Dr. Frederika Moore, who gave physical examinations to all junior and senior high school girls, was received and placed on file.

The Committee considered and discussed a report on wages and salaries submitted by the Superintendent of Schools.

The Committee has received a letter from the State Department of Education stating that it has been recommended to the General Court of 1950 that there be appropriated the sum of $525.66 as reimbursement to Winchester for tuition of pupils in vocational schools for the year ending August 31, 1949.

Schools to which tuition fees have been payable are Boston Trade High School, Medford Vocational School, Boston Evening Industrial School, Somerville Evening Industrial School, Medford Evening Industrial School, Medford Part-Time Apprenticeship School, Boston Agricultural Department, Boston Part-Time Distributive Education, and Boston Evening Distributive Education.

WINCHESTER PLACE

A quiet little street (compared to the shopping center) but busy enough. Take a walk along this street off Mt. Vernon street and among the establishments you will find are a beauty shop, an upholsterer, the new bowling alleys, hand wrought jewelry and silver smithing (opposite police station), and next door enameling on copper, a barber shop, sign painting, furniture repair, etc. There are "unlimited parking" lots, too. Get to know these places and you will find them a convenience to you. Interesting little shops tucked away from every day traffic are fun to "discover."

Harvard Coach LLOYD JORDAN with Captain PHIL ISENBERG

Members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church count themselves fortunate to have the privilege of hearing Mr. Lloyd P. Jordan, head football coach at Harvard University, make his first public address in his home town of Winchester. At 9:30 o'clock Sunday at Ripley Chapel, Mr. Jordan will speak to the local high school youth group upon the subject, "Athletics and Christian Character." Mr. Jordan was head football coach at Amherst for many years before coming to Harvard this year. It is believed by many that Mr. Jordan's having an excellent foundation for the fine start at Harvard by the excellent sportsmanship characteristic of the team this past season. The coach is well qualified by experience and as a man to speak upon the subject he has chosen.

The Forum Worship Committee, Donald Cameron, Jacqueline Chapman, Tina Tomon and Carolyn Padelford planned the service of worship to give the setting for Mr. Jordan's address. The chaplain will be Archie Bolster assisted by Carter Fairbanks. Ushers will be Thomas Wilder and Douglas Hawkins, and the offering will be received by Clinton Swonger and Harold McKinley.

BASKETBALL NIGHT

Local basketball fan have a big treat in store for them tonight when the first Annual Middlesex League Basketball Night will be held at the Belmont High School gym. The general public is invited to attend with no admission charged and basketball fans from all the towns represented in the Middlesex League are expected to swarm to Belmont High tonight for the season's unofficial opener.

The program gets underway at 7:30 p.m. with brief introductory remarks by the Middlesex League president Wade L. Grindle, principal of Winchester High. This will be followed by a short rules interpretation clinic by leading school-boy officials who will interpret and explain changes in the rules that go into effect this year. This will prove interesting and informative to those who like their high school basketball.

Following this there will be an all-star exhibition game during which the more important rules will be further explained and demonstrated. The members of the all-star teams will be composed of two players from each school in the League, making two teams of eight players each. For purposes of this all-star exhibition the League is to be divided into two divisions with two players from Belmont, Lexington, Concord and Reading making up one team and two players from Winchester, Stoneham, Melrose and Wakefield making up the other. Representing Winchester on this team are Tony Cirurso and Johnny Farrell of this year's Red and Black quintet.

Lending additional local interest to the program is the fact that Winchester's Ted Bartlett has been selected to coach one of the all-star teams while Belmont's Mel Wenner will handle the other. These two friendly rivals have long been considered among the leading coaches in this area and it is a well-deserved honor for each of them to have been chosen to handle the all-star teams in this first annual affair.

Between the halves of the exhibition game a foul shooting contest will be staged. Each school will be represented by its best foul shooter and the winner will be awarded a medal in recognition of his achievement as the best foul shooter in the Middlesex League. The other leaders of all eight schools will be on hand to enliven things during the evening and it will present an impressive scene as approximately 80 cheer leaders gather on the floor to lead the mass cheering. All in all it should be a very interesting evening and one that no local basketball fan should want to miss, offering as it does a review of the number of the opposition to be faced by the Red and Black this winter.

WINCHESTER HOOPMEN OPEN WITH DANVERS

The Winchester High hoopmen are practicing daily in preparation for their season's opener at Danvers High next Friday night. Coach Bartlett has been busy weeding out the large number of candidates for the team and cutting down the size of the squad to workable numbers. An unenviable task confronts Coach Bartlett this year as there is not a single returning letterman to form a nucleus around which to build this year's team. Along with the absence of returning veterans is a lack of experience as most of this year's team is composed of juniors who have had only one year of junior varsity playing behind them.

Scrimmages have been held during the past week with Matignon High and Arlington High and the Red and Black performed satisfactorily against these two admittedly superior teams. Although the team lacks speed as well as experience it does have good height and should do well on the backboards. Other scrimmages will be held during the coming week against Medford High and the Tufts Freshmen which will prove valuable to Coach Bartlett in selecting his starting five for next week's opener.

Various combinations have been experimented with in the past two weeks in an attempt to find the five that functions most smoothly. At present it seems that Stowell Symmes and John DiIorio have nailed down the forward berths which will provide the Red and Black with good height in the front court. Doug Hawkins and Rod Long are waging a terrific battle for the center position and it looks now that they might divide the time equally at that spot. Tony Cirurso, Charlie Murphy, and Johnny Farrell are on a par in the battle for the guard post, and all three will undoubtedly see an equal amount of action.

The above named seven performers will undoubtedly make up the first team while twelve others have been selected to make up the junior varsity squad. Those who have been chosen to "see action" are: Pete Coon, Bob Forrester, Kit Carleton, John Atkinson, Bob Flaherty, Stu Thompson, Joe Donlon, Norman Howard, Fran Mawney, Bob Arnott, Nick Fitzgerald, and Steve Yale. Coach Henry Knowlton is assisting with the junior varsity squad, in addition to handling the Freshman team.

VISITING IN HARTFORD

Mrs. J. R. Foster of Stetson Hall is spending several days in Washington and Philadelphia as a guest of Mrs. Frank S. Hale and Dr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Hale. Mrs. Foster is a graduate of Bates College and a former resident of Winchester. Mrs. Hale is the former Miss Ruth Foster and Mr. Hale is a graduate of Winchester High School.

REFERENDUM PAPERS IN CIRCULATION

December 5, 1950.

Editor of the Star:

The elected representatives in the Winchester Town Meeting of November 20 authorized the spending of $1,119,100 for the conversion of the present high school to a junior high school and the construction of a new senior high school in accordance with the Alternate Plan of the H. S. Read and Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee.

This vote was taken after receiving from the Chairman of an unanimous School Committee the unequivocal assurance that the building shown in the preliminary plans met ALL REQUIREMENTS of the educational program of a four-year high school for all the children of this town.

Contrary to every tenet of Yankee common sense and cautious procedure the vote was rushed through without any semblance of full discussion and without passing to secure even semi-intelligent rebuttal to the specific charges of inadequacy, unnecessary cost and lack of safety presented by the single speaker who was permitted to offer any constructive criticism before debate was ruthlessly strangled.

Further, those representatives voted the spending of another $231,000 for "remodeling and reconstructing etc." the present senior high school building to make it a suitable junior high school building on the basis of several lines in the Building Committee's Report and with NOT A SINGLE PLAN offered as evidence of what is proposed. A quarter million dollar PIG in a POKE?

The town meeting members are not entirely to blame. These actions took place in a kaleidoscopic welter of motions, hurried votes, demands for adjournment, previous questions and moderator errors until many of them did not know what they were voting for at any given instant. At least one of them, Mr. Tansey had the courage to stand up and say so and to request more temperate procedure.

The meeting was first stampeded by Pooh Bah ORDERS from the advisory Finance Committee to DO SOMETHING on the school question TONIGHT; then hypnotized by the lurid picture drawn by the Building Committee of our junior high school engulfed by a wave of children and the statement that that school will in 1951 pass its MAXIMUM OPERATING CAPACITY with FIFTEEN PER-CENT OF THE SEATS STILL EMPTY!

Then the meeting was well lathered by the Chairman of the School Committee who, rushing to the aid of the floundering Building Committee then under attack, protested that these were only preliminary plans that could not be expected to show what the school would be finally like and that he had confidence in the GOOD INTENTIONS of the Building Committee. What a basis upon which to buy a $1,419,400 high school building that is going to be with us for a long, long time! That noise you just heard was the hard-headed forefathers of this New England town turning over in their graves.

The Building Committee has had TWENTY MONTHS to work on this problem. They quickly found out about this tidal wave of enthusiasm and its time pressure but they could not recommend anything last March after a full year's effort. Could it be that the special town meeting was not held in order to allow the Building Committee time to complete its plans?

[illegible] $1,419,100 to [illegible] Mr. Tansey moved that the [illegible] plans be referred back to the Building Committee with instructions to [illegible] the present building [illegible] Mr. Tansey's motion was defeated by a standing vote of [illegible] to [illegible]. Mr. Tansey then moved that the vote be reconsidered. This motion was defeated by a standing vote of [illegible] to [illegible].

The Town paid Dr. Fowlkes and his staff $10,000 in 1944 to point out among other things in their Survey of the Winchester Public Schools "a conspicuous lack of industrial arts – absence of machine and metal working shops — no provision for electrical work — etc." Since that date everyone interested in our schools has paid lip service to the determination of providing in any new or improved high school the accommodation for a full program of industrial and domestic arts. How does it come then that we find this present School Committee UNANIMOUSLY approving a forty year high school without adding any additional shop space whatever beyond the two woodworking shops in the present building?

And how does it come that the shops were not provided by a Building Committee which stated on page 11 of their printed Report amongst present facilities "Lack of shops and workrooms for instruction in Industrial Arts and Practical Arts prevents a well-rounded program for the boys and girls who have no intention of going to college?" WHO is supposed to trust WHOM? Who is cast as the Mutineer Snerd of this act? Could it be the TAXPAYER?

Space prevents the listing of the highly undesirable, overly expensive and downright unsafe features of the high school plans. The voters should study those plans to find out how 1100 spectators to be packed into the seats of the gym and another 200 or so of standees at a Woburn game are going to get into the place. There is a door from the playing field – no walk or roadway to the street — and they can take their families and friends in among the disrobed gladiators on past the toilets in to the gym. If they do not care for that they can all traipse in through the main entrance of the school and find their way down two levels with unrelated stairwells. The school principal and the janitors will like this solution! But there were NO OTHER DOORS shown on the plans presented and it was on the basis of THOSE PLANS that the $1,419,100 was voted — not on new plans hastily revised since! No one should be fooled by those two long windows at each end of the gym that go up two stories.

Now then, HOW is that crowd going to get OUT OF THERE in event of fire, explosion, stampede or other emergency? The situation has created [illegible] potentialities of a Cocoanut Grove.

The taxpayers can [illegible] on the record as to what Mr. Harold Farnsworth had to say on the Town Meeting floor about the proposed building with its yellow brick, flat-topped, factory-like new wings at the two ends of our graceful, red brick, Georgian junior high school. He called it an ARCHITECTURAL MONSTROSITY and made a pungent reference to the mental condition of its designer. Well, the Chinese have an old proverb that reads "He who speaks the truth must have one foot in the stirrup". I thought I heard the sound of a galloping horse — or was that the shade of Paul Revere that flashed by?

The Taxpayers and mothers and fathers of Winchester should call upon the members of the School Committee and ask them to explain how they came to UNANIMOUSLY approve the plans of such a high school. Without any doubt they will "pass the buck" to the Superintendent of Schools whom we pay $8,600 a year to know all about such things! How does that Oath of Office go?

In conclusion it can be reported that the interests of the Winchester taxpayers have been looked after. Referendum papers are in brisk circulation and X will mark the spot where the voters will bury the hatchet. Let us make this a Declaration of Independence from committee-rule and from the fatuous fixers of Town Meeting actions and perhaps re-educate some of the Representative Town Meeting Members who nurture the notion that they are BIGGER than the PEOPLE who begat them!

Very respectfully,
Richard M. Rush,
Captain, U. S. N. Ret.
Former School Committeeman

SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Editor of the Star:

In order of answer more fully certain questions raised on the floor of the Town Meeting, the Senior High-Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee has prepared the following statement.

The principal differences between the plans prepared for the four-year Senior High and those shown in the printed report for the three-year Senior High lies in the ground floor as shown on Page 28 of the printed report. In the four-year scheme, the Kitchen-Cafeteria, Faculty Dining Areas are placed in the area below the Auditorium now marked on the plan "unexcavated." In order to give light to this Cafeteria area, the ground to the north of the Auditorium wing will be graded down further, thus admitting light and air from both sides at the Cafeteria level. The area shown on the three-year plan as devoted to Kitchen-Cafeteria, will be used for Domestic Science and classroom purposes.

Two full shops are provided in each school building. This makes a total of four full shop rooms for the two schools as compared to the two which now serve the entire secondary school plant. Furthermore, there is a Lumber Storage room; Finishing room, and a Machine Drawing room. (Page 28 printed report) in the four-year Senior High School which are additional shop facilities not provided in the three-year scheme as shown in the plan.

The present Senior High School Building will contain full size Stages on the northeasterly side of the basement. Assembly areas are not ordinarily illuminated by artificial lighting, as daylight is not sufficiently reliable for Shop work. In the four-year High School set-up, a total of 378 boys per day could work in a Shop, or take Mechanical Drawing, in the Junior High School over 200 boys per day could take Shop work. The instructions from the School Committee to the Building Committee recognize the need for more space to be allotted to the General Course of the High School. As has been shown above, this need has been amply met.

In the present Senior High School building, a new heating and ventilating system will be installed; there will be new electric light fixtures throughout; increased toilet facilities will be provided and the present ones will be modernized; asphalt tile will replace the wood flooring in corridors, stairways and classrooms; there will be space for Home Economics, two teachers' rooms, one speech room, and an infirmary; acoustic treatment will be given ceilings in the corridors and certain rooms; the interior will be painted throughout. The roof and cornice will be repaired, also.

The gymnasium in the proposed Senior High School Building has six (6) exits. All Auditoriums and gymnasiums must, of course, be approved by the Director of Public Safety.

APPRECIATES SCHOOLS' HELP!

Save The Children Federation

November 30, 1950

Superintendent
Winchester High School
Winchester, Massachusetts
Dear Friend:

We wish to thank your schools for the contribution which they recently made in our public school clothing collection.

The generous response from you young people was inspiring to us and gladly received. It was indeed a pleasure to have your schools participate in the Save the Children Federation's National Children's Clothing Crusade, and I hope that you genuinely enjoyed the experience and that you will help us again later in the year.

American school children in remote rural districts need clothing. In the war torn countries overseas the variety of clothing is unbelievable. Those of us who have part in relieving this distress may take the greatest satisfaction.

In this effort to save children we are not "saving" but sharing with the less fortunate. That is the spirit in which our clothing collection is conducted. Faithful to such a spirit, our creed will relieve suffering and have a true educational value.

Sincerely yours,
W. Howard Pillsbury

BETTER CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS!

Editor of the Star:

For several years many of our Winchester Merchants and Organizations have had the feeling that our holiday decorations in the Square and in Winchester Common did not do justice to our Center.

Mr. Mullen, Superintendent of the Park Department, will supervise and install any decorations which can be obtained by popular subscription. Several of the Civic Organizations have expressed an interest in the project and are willing to make contributions.

I have been approached to act as Treasurer and realizing the fact that Winchester should have a more representative display, I will be glad to receive your donations.

Very truly yours,
Ralph H. Bonnell

PROFESSOR MANNING SUBJECT OF POST ARTICLE

Prof. George C. Manning of 28 Symmes road, acting head of the Department of Naval Architecture and Engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology since Vice Admiral Edward Lochrane of Cambridge left the Institute to become chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, was the expert quoted by Fernando Glad in a recent article in the Boston Post Sunday Magazine on the new merchant ships which can make 20 knots an hour, or attain a speed in excess of present cargo ships by about one-third.

Prof. Manning stated in the article that at the start of World War I merchant ships made about eight knots an hour, but that during that war the speed was increased to about 11 knots. Between World War I and II this speed was increased to 15 knots, and now the speed is again being advanced to 20 knots, which means that a submarine can not overtake a merchant ship of this class.

A native of Washington, D. C., and a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Prof. Manning is one of the Nation's leading marine architects. He came to M. I. T. after World War I when he served at the Naval Station at New Orleans. He received his Master's Degree in 1920 and was then assigned to the Charlestown Navy Yard, returning from the construction corps there to Annapolis as an instructor.

Later he worked on modernizing battleships at the Boston Navy Yard and then came two years with the Asiatic Fleet, followed by a tour of duty in New York. In 1935 he returned to Boston in charge of [illegible] at the Navy Yard. He was [illegible] Navy.

For [illegible] years prior to his present Prof. Manning had been teaching naval architecture at M. I. T. and he became associate professor of the department in 1926. That same year he entered the officer ranks of the naval reserve, obtaining his architect's [illegible] in New York, but in 1940 he was recalled to active service. After setting up a curriculum in naval architecture at the Naval Academy he returned to Technology as professor of naval architecture.

Sunday Services at 11 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the church service.
Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Spiritual protection from danger, accident, persecution, lack, and fear — through active, prayerful understanding of the ever-presence and power of God will provide the topic for Christian Science services next Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "God the Preserver of Man."

David's song of thanksgiving (II Samuel 22:2, 3) furnishes the Golden Text: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, the God of my rock, in him will I trust: he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour."

Among the selections from the Bible (King James Version) is the following: "Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee" (Isaiah 26:3).

This promise is further emphasized in the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy which include: "In divine Science, where prayers are mental, all is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals" (p. 12).

MAN REPORTED BEATEN NEAR WEST SIDE TOWER

Police Headquarters was notified last Saturday night by phone that two young men had come to a Ridge street home reporting a man had been assaulted near the Water Tower off Forest street in Arlington on the Arlington Winchester line.

Sgt. John J. Dolan and Officer Charles Dunbury went to investigate and the Arlington authorities were notified.

Sgt. Dolan and Officer Dunbury were told by two Cambridge young men that they had been parked with girls at the Water Tower off Forest street in the west side hill district when another car drove up. Two young men got out of the car with a third young man, whom they watched between them to the end of the parking area.

There they punched their victim several times, and then pushed him over a 15 foot ledge. After the assault the pair got back into their car and drove off.

The two Cambridge men were unable to give either the make or registration of the machine, nor could the officers locate the victim of the assault.

MISCHIEF ON WEST SIDE

Several cases of malicious mischief were reported to the Police as taking place on the West Side Wednesday evening.

Youngsters set fire to hay placed on a new piece of sidewalk on Wedgemere avenue beyond Wildwood street, calling out the Fire Department at 9 o'clock, and some girls' underclothing on the clothesline at a Cabot street address was ripped and slashed.

An automobile was pushed from the driveway of Mr. Thornton Jesdale's home at 48 Cabot street and left in the road, with another machine rolled from the driveway into the street at the home of Mr. Karen Kollegian, 71 Wedgemere avenue. An unsuccessful attempt was made to steal a spotlight from an automobile owned by Mr. Harry E. Damon of 70 Arlington street, and parked on High street near Arlington street.

KEEPING TRACK OF NAMESAKES A PROBLEM FOR OLD FALMOUTH

Mayor A. V. Baker, of Falmouth, England, may find a surprise awaiting him on this side of the Atlantic — another little Falmouth in the family.

The mayor is just embarking upon a good will tour which was scheduled to take him to 11 other Falmouths in Nova Scotia, the United States, and Jamaica. But the historic British seaport has an even dozen namesakes in the general area Mayor Baker will visit, notes the National Geographic Society.

No hard-and-fast itinerary for the Mayor's 15,000 mile tour has been announced, but here is the geographical lineup of the 12 Falmouths: Nova Scotia has one; the United States can point to nine, and the British West Indies claims two.

Was one little Falmouth unwittingly overlooked in preparing the mayor's schedule? Some of the mother town's offspring are so small that they might not have come to attention across the Atlantic.

For instance, there is the Falmouth of Jasper County, Illinois. Mayor Baker could sit down with the little community's entire population at a family dinner table, since there are only about a dozen residents. The town, which seldom attains the distinction of a place on general maps, receives its mail at near-by Newton.

Or perhaps the Falmouth of Rush County, Indiana, near Carnbridge, was overlooked. This namesake has some 80 residents, just about the same number as a third inconspicuous little Falmouth in Lancaster County, Pa., on the Susquehanna River near the state capital at Harrisburg.

Other United States Falmouths are better known. The largest is in Barnstable County, Massachusetts, in the famed Cape Cod summer resort area. According to the present census, this community has a population of 2,704, but the surrounding Falmouth Township has about 8,500 residents.

Virginia's Falmouth, a Stafford County community near Fredericksburg, has historic record. It was laid out as a town in 1727 to serve tobacco and flour traders plying the Rappahannock River. Continental troops during the Revolutionary War depended upon its town founder for much of their ordnance.

A group of settlers from Falmouth, Va., migrated to Kentucky in 1776 and chose a likely looking town site at the confluence of the Main and South Licking Rivers. What name did they choose? Why, Falmouth, of course. It is now the seat of Pendleton County, often called "the county that came back." When crop lands in the area became depleted, farmers planted clover and turned to bee keeping, which is now an extensive business in the county.

To complete the Falmouth picture in the United States, here are three others, all of them on the small side: Falmouth Foreside, Maine, an agricultural community a few miles north of Portland on Casco Bay; Falmouth, Florida, located between Lake City and Tallahassee; and Falmouth, Michigan, a village in Missaukee County.

Nova Scotia's Falmouth lies in the Avon River Valley in the maritime province of Hants. It is surrounded by fine orchard lands devoted to the popular "Northern Spy" apples. In contrast to these rustic surroundings are the valuable manganese mines near the community.

Mayor Baker has said he will visit Jamaica, but what about Antigua? Both are in the British West Indies, and both have Falmouths. The Jamaican namesake, with its well sheltered harbor, is known for its sugar and rum exports, its courthouse with portraits of the island's governors, and one of the New World's earliest churches.

In contrast, the Antiguan Falmouth is now only a ghost of its former prosperous self. In early colonial times it did a brisk traffic in slaves, but now most of the town is abandoned and decayed. However, its remaining citizens boast of one attraction which might draw a visit from the mayor. Admiral Nelson is supposed to have carved his name there in 1784 on a wall which is still standing.

FORGETFULNESS NO DETERRENT TO QUICK-WITTED ELEPHANTS

Elephants, like men, do occasionally forget. Yet, a herd of wild pachyderms now ravaging the Transvaal presents new evidence of the animals' good memories and "thinking" abilities, notes the National Geographic Society.

The South African elephant outlaws found pickings slim in their native Kruger National Park and sent scouts to survey the nearby countryside. Seeing that the farm lands around the Blyde River district were rich and flourishing, the scouts returned to the park, tipped off their friends and led the migration to greener pastures.

Such head work is not unusual in the animal that is believed to be just below man and the anthropoid ape in intelligence.

Consider the example of the Sabbath-keeping elephants in Burma. An English lumber firm which observed Sunday as a day of rest permitted its working elephants the same privilege.

One Sunday the yard was threatened by flood and the elephants were ordered to move valuable logs to higher ground. Almost every one of the animals refused to obey — one showing his indignation by tossing a trainer over the fence.

While this seems to indicate clearly that it many another instance may need be done to show that confident reliance on ... mind quite as much as training. There's the time an aged gunner refused to ... a truck which had broken down with her on the road. She insisted on walking some 20 miles ... rather than risk another accident.

A TREASURE HUNT

A treasure hunt to find the owners of abandoned savings accounts moves into its final phase this month with the publication of the names and last known addresses of the owners of these accounts in the newspapers of the state by the 189 Massachusetts mutual savings banks according to Thomas W. Symons, president of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. During the past few months the banks have been vigorously searching for these owners but have failed as yet to locate them. If publication in the press does not find the owner, the account must be paid over to the Commonwealth on January 1, 1951. "This action, however," Mr. Symons emphasized, "does not deprive the owner of his rights to the account since under the law, the state must pay such an account with interest to the owner upon proof of ownership."

In the past, savings accounts were paid to the state after 30 years of inactivity, but a new law passed this year defines a bank account as abandoned if, for a period of fourteen years, there has been no deposit or withdrawal, or the addition of interest on the passbook, or if the owner has not communicated in writing with the bank. Thus savings accounts which have had no activity since July 1, 1936 are defined by the law as abandoned property and must be paid to the state to be held until claimed by the rightful owner.

"In their search for the owners of these accounts," Mr. Symons said, "banks have sent letters to the last known address, combed through city directories of many years and followed up any likely lead to discover the present location of the owner or his heirs. As a result, the lists which will be published this month are substantially smaller than they were at the start of the search. We hope, in view of this law, that all depositors will make it a practice to bring or mail their passbooks to the banks at regular intervals."

It is also a fact that the great majority of the abandoned accounts are for only a few dollars each. The owners of these accounts have completely forgotten about them — perhaps have moved away and may have died. Probably few such owners will be located.

"It is more difficult," Mr. Symons said, "to understand how the relatively small number of accounts of several hundred dollars or more should have been neglected by their owners. It is hoped that publication in the press will jog the memory of the owner or perhaps that of a friend or relative. The banks will welcome information which will lead to the location of the owners of these accounts."

Faith and Elaine Gambino, coloratura soprano and contralto will provide the entertainment at the Winchester Women's Republican Club meeting December 13 at 1:30 p. m. Masonic Hall

OPEN FOR PRAYER

The Winchester Unitarian Church announces the opening of Meyer Chapel to the public. Entrance to the chapel is on Mystic Valley Parkway. It is felt that such a retreat from the busy world is greatly needed by all people at this time of tension. Please feel welcome to drop in anytime during the day.

During December, the Winchester Unitarian Church Choir is presenting Special Christmas Music. They are singing selections from the Messiah, and rare Carols. The Men's Choir will be heard during the month. The Choir will be augmented by members of the Choir who will be home from College for the Christmas season.

DR. MURRAY BANKS HIGHLY ENTERTAINING

The enthusiastic audience which greeted Dr. Murray Banks at the High School Auditorium on the evening of December 1st under the auspices of the Winchester Women's Republican Club gave constant and audible evidence of its enjoyment. Wave after wave of laughter rocked the hall. It is safe to say that no other lecturer who has ever appeared in Winchester has more completely captured the attention and approval of his hearers. It was the night after a particularly late Special Town Meeting. Many were tired and not quite sure what to expect, yet they came away relaxed, refreshed, and inspired.

Dr. Banks made it clear that it is not the problems we face in life, but the way in which we face them which determines our mental stability. And the most important aid in facing life is a sense of the ridiculous. Happiness does not consist in satisfying all our wants, but rather in learning to adjust ourselves, to appraise our own personalities, and to achieve a sense of balance.

By his own overflowing wit and his magnetic personality Dr. Banks charmed and stimulated those fortunate enough to hear him.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The first nineteen pints of blood collected last Friday by the Red Cross in Winchester were on their way to the Korean battlefront the same day. The whole blood was prepared by Bloodmobile personnel in the First Congregational Church Parish House and rushed to Logan Airport to complete a shipment waiting there. Winchester donated a total of 103 pints in the short time between 1 and 7 p. m. Here is a list of the Winchester workers in the project: Gray Ladies: Mrs. Everett Mitchell, Mrs. Roy W. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Farrar, and Mrs. Allan P. Lindblad. Nurse's Aides: Mrs. James Beal, Mrs. Robert W. Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Bucler, Mrs. Harvard Mann, Mrs. R. Earle Dickson, Mrs. Harry Nutter, Mrs. Daniel P. Morse, Mrs. John J. Collins, Mrs. George B. Field, Mrs. Everett P. Stone, Mrs. Harry M. Easton. Canteen: Mrs. Ray E. Manger, Mrs. William O. Wallbank, Mrs. Carlo Zimmerman, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Walter P. Keyes, and Mrs. Kingman P. Cass. Staff Aides: Mrs. F. Myrne Blanchard, Mrs. Frank W. Hawkins, Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon, Mrs. Virgil J. Ghirardini, Miss Helen M. Monroe, Miss Ruth E. Leydon, Mrs. Lester Gristin, Sr., and Mrs. Ruth E. Hilton. Motor Service: Mr. Charles Farrar, Mrs. Leonard J. Raymond, and Mrs. Harry C. Goodwin. Junior Red Cross Girl Scouts: Catherine E. Goss and Nancy Downing. Nurses: Mrs. Lewis M. Foster and Mrs. Richard D. Kirkpatrick.

Though the Cinderella trips are over for the year, Winchester's new Red Cross station wagon will be busy with the many activities of the local Chapter. Last week Motor Corps drivers took Mrs. Lewis M. Foster to the nurse's training course in Framingham. The Corps also made its usual trips to Children's Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital. Motor Corps driver Warren Johnson delivered coffee and sandwiches to Edison workers repairing damage from the recent storm.

The Junior Red Cross began its annual drive for Christmas cards yesterday. Cards collected during the week-long drive will be sent to the Bedford Veteran's Hospital. Over 1,500 cards were received last year.

The Symmes Corner sewing group delivered 940 surgical dressings to the Red Cross recently. Bathrobes and draperies finished by the Wednesday group at the Town Hall have been sent to the Veteran's Hospital at Bedford. The Fortnightly under Mrs. William Priest is working on sleeveless sweaters for the Red Cross.

Workers from the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross staffed the Blood Center at 314 Dartmouth street, Boston, on Wednesday.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A Fellowship Supper following the Christmas theme will be held at the Second Congregational Church, Thursday, December 14 at 6:30. A committee composed of Mrs. George Hendricks, Mrs. Gordon Lecuttier, Mrs. Clarence Eddy, Mrs. Bruce Carlson, and Mrs. Norman Whiting are seeing to the details of the planned pot-luck meal. The Rev. Ralph L. Minker, Mr. Vernon Clark of Boston, will tell of a Christmas experiment he tried in a church not long ago. There will be a Church Meeting following the program. A program of special instrumental and vocal music has been arranged. There will be carol singing by the entire group. Come and sing the whole family. There will be no charge, of course.

HIGH SCHOOL ELECTS CO-CAPTAINS

Donlon and Errico to Lead '51 Eleven

At a meeting of the letter players last Friday, Dick Errico and Joe Donlon, backs, were elected co-captains of the Winchester High School football team for 1951. Errico is a junior and Donlon a sophomore.

Both "Dick" and "Big Joe" have been outstanding members of this year's eleven. Errico played as a sophomore in 1949, but this is Donlon's first year of varsity competition, and he has been a real iron man, playing both on offense as left halfback and on defense as safety man, being perhaps the team's surest tackler, as well as an excellent ball carrier on sweeps and tackle slants.

Errico has played mainly on defense this season, backing up the line in excellent fashion in the fullback slot. He, too, is a deadly tackler, the hardest hitting on the club. Though Dick ran very little with the ball, he did score against Wakefield, getting a great hand from his teammates, coaches and the stands.

EN KA PROVISIONAL TEA

On Friday, December the first, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer opened her beautiful home for a tea for the members of En Ka Society to meet and welcome this year's provisionals to active participation in all activities of the 1950 - 51 season.

The Board stood three to greet Mrs. Daniel F. Bucci, Mrs. Earle G. Carney, Mrs. Thomas M. Downes, Mrs. Harry A. Dellicker, Mrs. Maurice F. Freeman, Mrs. Carl G. Richie, Jr. and it was a very festive scene as they received in front of a large picture window flanked by a stunning arrangement of potted white stocked cyclamen with a background of green lawn, trees and the lake sparkling in the distance.

Mrs. Meyer's genuine warmth of gracious hospitality was everywhere in evidence, and the dining room was perfectly lovely with its centerpiece of heather and yellow roses, silver candelabra, gleaming softly, and trays of beautifully decorated sandwiches and cakes which proved to be also delectable.

Pouring at the tea and coffee urns were two former presidents, Mrs. Percy Bigbee and Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman, and also two Street Fair chairmen, Mrs. Donald F. Conners and Mrs. Richard A. Harlow, all gracing the occasion with smart outfits and the last word in chapeaux.

It was a most happy affair as one caught snatches of convex-sation about gay times of their youngsters' Thanksgiving week-end of dancing and fun, and the afternoon ended with much cheer for a Merry Christmas for all.

A HAPPY REUNION

A happy reunion took place when two former Winchester residents who were school girls together on Foxcroft road met at the Hotel George Washington in New York City on Thursday last. They were Carolyn Lampee Hawks now of St. Louis and Natalie Tufts Robbins of Pitman, New Jersey. They were guests of Nate Tufts, Managing Director of the George Washington.

DR. LILLEY EATON

Lilley Eaton, M. D., a former practicing physician in Winchester, died November 25 at a nursing home in Enfield, N. H. He left town in 1908.

Dr. Eaton was named for the Hon. Lilley Eaton, at one time historian of the Town of Wakefield. He was born in Wakefield April 14, 1874, son of Everett W. and Alice F. (Lilley) Eaton. He was assistant superintendent and physician at the Children's Hospital at Baldwinsville, from 1892 to 1895, and assistant superintendent and physician of the Adams Nervine Asylum in Jamaica Plain from 1895 to 1897.

For five years previous to coming to Winchester in 1897 Dr. Eaton practiced in Athol. His office was for many years on Church street, and in addition to the practice of medicine he was a member of the Winchester Board of Health in 1906, and '07 serving as chairman of the Board in 1907. He was a member of the former Calumet Club in Winchester and also of Wilder Parkman Lodge, A. F. and A. M. He was married to Miss Mabel A. Pettes of Somerville December 29, 1898.

Dr. Eaton was a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, American Medical Association and Millers Rivers Medical Society, which he served for some years as secretary and treasurer.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

JUNIOR HIGH TO BE HIGH SCHOOL

Old High School to House Two-Year Junior High

At last Thursday night's special town meeting 185 of the 2,4 precinct members voted to solve the secondary school problem which has been plaguing the school authorities since 1927 by enlarging and remodelling the present junior high school building on Main street to house a four-year senior high school, and by remodelling the present high school building on the knoll above the mall pond to become a two-year junior high school.

The sum of $1,419,400.00 was appropriated for the enlargement of the junior high building, of which $1,400,000. will be raised by an issue of 20 year bonds and $19,400 by a transfer from the Excess and Deficiency fund. An additional $231,-000. was appropriated for remodelling and renovating the present high school building. $150,000 to come from an issue of ten year bonds and $81,000 from the Excess and Deficiency account.

Add to these figures an appropriation of $25,000, transferred from Excess and Deficiency to purchase or take by eminent domain the Felt, Hill and Gorman properties on Warwick terrace and Main street to make room for one of the new wings of the enlarged junior high building.

In deciding to interchange the use of the two buildings with necessary alterations and additions the meeting voted to accept what was known as the "alternate plan" of the High School and Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee which has been studying the secondary school problem in town since its establishment at the March Meeting of 1949.

The committee, headed by Rachel T. Kimball and including Howard R. Bartlett, chairman of the School Committee and School Committeeman Charles Jellison, William Davies, Robert Fletcher, Charles H. Gallagher, Ruth Higgins and Leslie A. Tucker, recommended as its first choice for the solution of the problem of secondary schools for the town the construction of an entirely new building on Palmer street to house a three-year junior high school, and the subsequent enlarging and remodelling of the present junior high school to house a three-year senior high school. The estimated cost to the town for this plan, exclusive of state aid was given as $2,855,500.00. State aid on the project was estimated as $910,750.00, reducing the cost to the town to $2,345,070.00.

Mrs. Kimball outlined the Committee's two plans admirably, stating that its members recommended the Palmer street plan because they felt they should bring to the attention of the town what they felt would be the ideal solution of Winchester's secondary School problem, leaving it for the town to decide whether the cost of the ideal plan was excessive and whether as a consequence it would prefer the Committee's alternate plan, which Mrs. Kimball explained provided adequate educational and recreational facilities sought by the School authorities, but from the standpoint of outdoor recreational and athletic facilities is inferior to the ideal Palmer street plan.

Mrs. Kimball made no effort to "sell" the town on either plan, nor did Mr. Bartlett, reporting for the School Committee, though he did state the School Committee felt the Palmer Street Plan would be ideal. In view of costs he said the School Committee would be satisfied with the building committee's "alternate plan" as providing all necessary indoor facilities. While the School Committee favors a three-year junior high and three-year senior high, as provided by the Palmer street plan, it does not oppose the four-two setup of the "alternate plan".

Mr. Hawes of the School Building Committee amplified Mrs. Kimball's remarks and showed graphs and pictures, indicating school population trends and layouts of the proposed buildings under both the Palmer street and "alternate" plans.

Mr. Foster, author of the third plan under consideration by the meeting, explained his plan at some length, pointing out particularly that it was not evolved to oppose the plans of the School Building Committee but rather to serve as something of a master plan to guide the further civic development of the center of the town along desirable lines.

As he saw the problem the schools should fit into such a master plan, and be a part of it, being considered together with traffic flow problems and the elimination of the Grade Crossing instead of as a separate entity.

Briefly his plan called for the blocking of Main street from Washington street to the Parkway with over and under passes for traffic and a new highway starting from Washington and Main streets, proceeding across the Skillings estate and Black Ball Pond to Main street at Lake street.

His solution of the school problem proposed the joining of the present senior and junior high school buildings by a wing extending across what is now Main street to provide a three-year junior high school and a three-year senior high school with the economies made possible by grouping the present buildings and the advantages of keeping the two buildings to some extent separated by the new wing.

Mr. Foster, hampered by lack of slides, claimed his plan would not only fit the schools into a beautification campaign, but would save money, his estimate being $1,725,-000, with estimated state aid of $225,000.

In talking of the school phase of his plan Mr. Foster emphasized the flexibility of his plan as opposed to the others and particularly called attention to its provision for shops and industrial arts. He felt that his particular plan would be nicely timed to fit into the elimination of the grade crossing when the center would be torn up for two years or so, providing an ideal time to do the necessary traffic rerouting for adequate relief both for traffic flow and parking.

Mr. Foster was warmly applauded when he left the platform and at the suggestion of Mr. McDavitt both he and his associates, and the members of the School Building Committee, were given votes of thanks by the meeting for their efforts and public spirit.

Mr. Bartlett, at some length voiced the unanimous opposition of the School Committee to the Foster Plan. In general the committee objected to a tie-in of schools and traffic, believed there are too many question marks in the Foster Plan and that it would not be wise to have the necessary additional school facilities dependent upon blocking Main street, which could result in lengthy litigations because of the street's status as a county way.

Continuing, Mr. Bartlett stated the Foster Plan committed the town to have its secondary school buildings permanently at one point, whereas the Committee's "alternate plan" left the door open for the erection of a new school at another spot should this prove desirable in the future.

Mr. Hewis felt that the Palmer street plan would raise the tax rate much more than the School Building Committee's estimate and that neither of the Committee's plans provided adequate shop facilities.

Mrs. Long reported that the League of Women Voters, after careful study, approved the Palmer street layout, but if the town decided this plan too expensive, the League favored the "alternate plan".

Mr. Farnsworth, speaking for the Selectmen, voiced that Board's approval of the "alternate plan". He stated the Board felt the Palmer street plan would send the town debt beyond a safe limit and that the Foster Plan tied schools with traffic when the two should be separate problems. He also questioned some of the road-building figures in both the Foster and Palmer street plans.

Mr. Clark, chairman of the Finance Committee, prefaced his remarks by urging action on the school problem at once, stating that some $27,000 have already been spent studying the problem and no further study is likely to produce better solutions.

He questioned the desirability of closing Main street now, feeling that in the event the chief traffic artery through town is blocked, the State and Federal Government might well decide not to eliminate the grade crossing at all.

The great defect of the Foster Plan, in the Committee's opinion, is that it can not be undertaken unless Main street is blocked off and the schools can not wait until after the elimination of the grade crossing to see whether the town wants to close the street. In the opinion of the Finance Committee, the street should not be blocked off until after the grade crossing elimination is completed.

The Finance Committee recommended the adoption of the alternate plan" and so did the Planning Board, Mr. Hatch reporting for this board and stating that to the Palmer street plan should be added the cost of renovating and remodelling the high school building for town offices, as recommended, adding $200,000 to the cost of this plan.

Mr. Gustin defended the road-building figures of the Foster Plan and held up this plan as bold new designing of a type that would be a credit to Winchester. He also stated, as an advantage of the plan, that the pupils could go to classes as usual in the two buildings to be joined while the new wing between them was being built.

At the beginning of the meeting the Town Counsel suggested that sense of the meeting votes be taken on each of the three plans as preliminary to the actual votes making the necessary appropriations for the plan chosen.

This was done, the Palmer Street Plan getting 27 votes in favor and 138 opposed. The Foster Plan had 16 in favor and 121 opposed. The winning "Alternate Plan" had 159 in favor and two opposed.

The vote for the successful plan on the appropriation was 162 in favor and four in opposition, the High School and Enlarged Junior High School Committee that evolved the plan being retained to carry through the necessary enlarging and remodelling of the buildings.

The vote authorizing the necessary land takings for the plan was passed 159 to 2. It was voted to postpone action on the proposed taking of the Dr. McManus property, and also to postpone consideration of petitions of town employees for cost-of-living pay raises until the March Town meeting, with the provision that any raises voted then be retroactive to January 1. A motion introduced by Mr. Hewis for a 10 percent pay raise for the last three months of this year was defeated.

A committee of five, to be appointed by the Moderator, was provided to consider "possible changes of the Zoning By-Law in connection with kindergartens and nurseries, and in particular to that portion of Section 2B which permits in a single residence district a private school, college, library, museum or other educational purpose."

The meeting finally authorized the Selectmen to sell the old Mystic School property on Bacon street, after which Mr. Rowe moved the meeting be dissolved at 12:52 Friday morning. Pax vobiscum!

LIBRARY ACTIVITIES

Recorded music in the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room Wednesday, December 13 at 3 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m.:

Concerto for violin and orchestra - Mendelssohn
Rhapsody in Blue - Gershwin
Symphony No. 8 "Unfinished" - Schubert
Carmen Suite - Bizet

The film "Uncle Jim's Dairy Farm" will be shown this Friday evening, December 8th during Family Night At The Library at 7:30 p. m. If you have never visited an "Uncle Jim," viewing the film is a good way to see what life is like on a dairy farm.

According to the library's regular plan the same film, which is in color, will be shown on Saturday morning at 10:15 a. m. Remember that all children who come on Friday night must be accompanied by adults.

Miss Corinne Mead, Librarian, has announced that visitors to the library during the last two weeks have shown a good deal of interest in the doll exhibit there. Both the film and the exhibit have been loaned by the New England Dairy and Food Council through the courtesy of Mrs. Virginia Bardwell, Staff Nutritionist. The dolls will be in the library until December 15th and if you plan to bring the family to Friday's program it will be an excellent chance to see the exhibit as well.

While the film tells the story of milk in the United States the display is titled "Everyone, Everywhere Likes Milk" and the dolls are dressed in the national costumes of many other lands. Although milk is a food which is used all over the world they don't say it the same way in other countries. You'll learn from the exhibit that in Mexico they say "leche" when they ask for another glass of milk, in Holland it's "melk" and Sweden "mjolk" . . . but whenever the language they always like milk.

Other films to be shown at the Family Night program of educational films this week Friday evening at 7:30 and Saturday morning at 10:15 are: Men of Medicine, The Bus Driver, and Headlines in the News (Story of the Boston Globe).

"THE NEW EARTH"

The choir of the Unitarian Church, directed by Mary Ranton Witham and augmented by twenty-six voices, presented "The New Earth", a musical ode for full chorus and soloists by Henry Hadley, with poem by Louise Ayres Garnett, in the church auditorium last Sunday afternoon. Weston L. Brannen was the organist. Grace Norian played a specially scored piano accompaniment and Thomas Hoag was tympanist. Soloists were Eleanore Howe, soprano; Muriel Thorley, alto; Richard Smith, tenor; and George Fortune, bass. Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister, introduced the ode and conducted a brief service of worship.

"The New Earth" tells the story of the creation of a new civilization through the sacrifices of those who have given their lives in battle against tyranny; and the coming of a new order based on love, service and brotherhood. Its music is the sort that is easy to listen to without lacking in substance. At its best it approaches the heroic and constantly throughout the score there recur passages full of drama, pathos, splendid description and sheer beauty.

It was well done last Sunday by the chorus and soloists, assisted by Miss Norian and by Messrs. Brannen and Hoag. Mrs. Witham has her own ideas about both the story and music of "The New Earth" and she was very successful in getting the effects she wanted from her attentive singers.

Mrs. Witham is never afraid to sacrifice the mere choral for an overall orchestral effect when she thinks the score calls for it and as a consequence last Sunday there were times when the voices did not get through the organ and tympani, though the dramatic effect of the ensemble was there. In the softer passages the conducter got a fine light tone that diminished to merest whispers in those recurring references to the "Song of the Marching Men". Particularly fine was the release after the last of these passages before the final chorus, and there was another equally as good, though not as sustained, after the first of them. In all these brief hints at the final movement the cadence was effectively pronounced.

Especially appealing were the singing of the lovely "Lullaby" by the women's choir and the final movement of the "Song of Peace" with its soprano obligato above the women's group. The men responded nicely to Mrs. Witham's demand for tubato in their stirring "Winds of Strength", and the dramatic effect of the great operatic and climactic closing choruses was nicely emphasized, though here some of the stronger voices detracted a bit from the smoothness of the ensemble.

The soloists gave good accounts of themselves, Miss Thorley's singing of the lovely "Agnus Dei" being perhaps outstanding, though Mr. Fortune also scored with his dramatic singing of the virile "I been querable". Incidentally, here is a voice of great promise! Miss Howe's voice is especially agreeable in its middle registers and Mr. Smith's performance of the beautiful "Comrades of the Chancel" was particularly noteworthy in view of a bad attack of laryngitis with which he was afflicted.

Mr. Brannen did well, as he always does, by the organ score, though there seemed times, doubtless because of the physical limitations of the chancel, when he and Mrs. Witham seemed momentarily at odds. Mr. Hoag's tympani was artistically used and added greatly to the dramatic effect. Miss Norian's assistance was also noteworthy in several movements where the piano was helpful. W. H. Fulton, sound engineer with the Yankee Network, recorded the entire performance, assisted by James Connolly of the Winchester Camera Shop.

Though the middle sections of the church were well filled the attendance was a bit disappointing and nothing like what the excellence of the performance warranted.

FOOTBALL PICTURES DECEMBER 11

Head Coach Henry Knowlton of the Winchester High School football team will show motion pictures of the past season's games at the high school auditorium Monday evening, December 11, commencing at 7:30. Only adults will be admitted. There is no admission charge.

These pictures taken again this year by "Reggie" Wentworth and his son, "Jake," are well worth seeing, and will in many instances change the impression of games held by spectators.

Come down and decide for yourself whether that second touchdown at Woburn was really scored, and just how badly Winchester was actually outplayed at Reading.

If you have questions, or strong opinions, voice them. Insofar as possible Coach Knowlton will be glad to answer them and explain why the coaching staff does such utterly stupid things as the grandstand quarterback think that they do throughout the season.

Strangely enough, the coaches really want to win games quite as intensely as unofficial experts in the stands and on the corners. A great many times there are very reasonable answers to the questions that bother the team's supporters. Come down Monday night, and see these football pictures. You'll enjoy them and your pride in this year's team may be strengthened after you see again what really happened.

Two Winchester boys received varsity football letters from Norwich University this season, Richard Smith, a player, and Manager John Moriarty. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Smith of 88 Church street. Moriarty is son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Moriarty of 20 Sheffield road.

HINGSTON — GRAD

Miss Carol Elizabeth Grad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad W. Grad of 202 Washington street, was married on Saturday evening, November 25, at the Harvard Lutheran Church in Cambridge to Allan Jennings Hingston, son of Mr. John A. Hingston of 26 Ackers avenue, Brookline. Rev. George O. Lillegard performed the 7 o'clock ceremony, for which the church was attractively decorated with white chrysanthemums. Miss Alice Lillegard played the bridal music and the soloist was Mr. Kristen Hanson.

Miss Grad was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown with a lace bertha and a chapel-length veil caught to a white satin cap studded with seed pearls. Her flowers were white gladiolas and lillies of the valley arranged in a shower bouquet.

Mrs. Lawrence O'Brien of Chittondale was her cousin's matron of honor, and two more cousins, Mrs. William Dutton of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. Frank S. Smith of Alexandria, Va., were bridesmaids. All the bridal attendants wore period dresses of American Beauty velvet with rose headpieces and carried old-fashioned bouquets.

John W. Hingston of Brookline was best man for his brother and the usher corps comprised Jack Roycroft of Brookline, cousin of the bridegroom; Harold Messina of Medford, cousin of the bride; Herbert H. Fuss, also of Medford and another cousin of the bride; and Edmund Davidson of Brookline, a classmate of the bridegroom at Northeastern.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge, with the parents of the bride assisting in receiving, with the father, and the sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Warren Gilespie, Jr., of Hampton, Va. Miss Doris Taylor of Weymouth was in charge of the guest book.

After an extended wedding journey to Washington, D. C., Atlantic City and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Hingston will make their home in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of the Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School. Mr. Hingston is completing his studies at Northeastern University, where he is a member of the Class of 1951.

WINCHESTER POST NO. 97 PLAYS HOST TO CUSHING V. A. HOSPITAL PATIENTS!!!

At the Regular meeting of Winchester Post No. 97 The American Legion scheduled for next Thursday evening, the local Post will play host to a large group of patients from the Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital.

This meeting is under the sponsorship of the Post Rehabilitation Committee and a variety of entertainment has been planned which should prove of interest to both the guests of the evening and also the entire membership. Heading this entertainment program is the outstanding West Coast comic-legionnaire Jerry Friedman.

Commander Gustin has announced that little if any business will be transacted at this meeting.

NEW LOOK AT CALLAHAN'S

"Barney Callahan's" restaurant and ice cream store at 360 Main street, Woburn, has been undergoing extensive alterations and renovations, which with the addition of a snack bar will make this popular eating place more popular than ever. Bernard J. Callahan, or "Barney" as he is known far and wide, makes his home in Winchester on Church street. He has made his own ice cream for some 30 years, learning the business under the late P. H. Randall, former proprietor of Randall's ice in this town. For a time "Barney" ran a store here in Winchester on Mt. Vernon street, but had to give it up to devote all his time to his business in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Watts, Jr., (Roberta Ray) are the parents of a second son, born December 6 at the Children's Hospital in Buffalo. The maternal grandparents are Prof. and Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard of Calumet road.

O'CONNOR — CORBETT

There is much Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Immaculate Conception Church in Stoneham on Saturday morning, December 2, when Miss Mary Josephine Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Corbett of Morton street, Stoughton, became the bride of James H. O'Connor, Jr., M. D., son of Dr. and Mrs. James H. O'Connor of Winchester. Rev. William F. Gunn officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a nuptial mass, at which the choir of the church sang. Red Poinsettias and holly combined in the decorations with white gladiolas.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Corbett was attended by her sister, Miss Cornelia Corbett of Stoughton, as maid of honor, and Miss Winifred Toomey, also of Stoughton, as flower girl. Miss Jean Sullivan of North Easton and Miss Eileen Kearn of Stoughton were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a traditional gown of ivory slipper satin, embroidered with seed pearls and having a sweetheart neckline and a cathedral train. Her long French style matching veil was caught to a regent crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white cymbidium orchids.

The honor maid wore a dress of emerald green velvet with an ermine headpiece and carried a muff trimmed with holly and poinsettias tied with red velvet ribbon. The bridesmaids costumes were of velvet, one each dress being Cardinal red velvet and the ribbon tying the holly and poinsettias on their muffs, emerald green. They, too, wore ermine headpieces as did the small flower girl whose red and white dress was styled like those of the other bridal attendants and whose muff was trimmed with emerald green.

Dr. O'Connor had for his best man Dr. Russell Gouldbaurn of New York City, a classmate at the Tufts Medical School. Two more medical school classmates ushered, Dr. Warren Mills of Belmont and Dr. Sigmond A. Wesolowski of Boston, with Charles Forlin of Stoneham, a classmate of the bridegroom at Tufts College.

A reception was held in the Oval Room of the Hotel Copley Plaza in Boston, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants. A wedding breakfast was served, each table being decorated with white pom pom chrysanthemums and poinsettias.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Connor are spending their honeymoon in Bermuda, and upon their return will make their home in Mashpee Village on Cape Cod.

The bride is a graduate of the Hebon School and of Boston University. Dr. O'Connor prepared for college at Winchester High School and is a graduate of Tufts College, where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity, and of the Tufts Medical School. He holds the commission of lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy, but has been loaned by the Navy to the Army and is presently serving as a surgeon at Camp Edwards.

DEAN SCOTT

Dean Scott, a familiar figure about the center and well known about town, died Thursday morning, December 7, following a two weeks illness. He made his home at 14 Mt. Vernon street and had been a resident of Winchester for the past 25 years.

Born May 11, 1879, in Glasgow, Scotland, Mr. Scott served as a young man in the Merchant Marine and it was while in this service that he received an injury that crippled him badly in his later years.

During his residence in Winchester Mr. Scott was for some years employed as a shoe shine boy at the Shoe Hospital. He also was for several years in charge of lanterns for the Highway Department. He had been retired in recent years, and leaves no family.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the lane Funeral Home with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN'S CLUB

The first supper meeting of the year was held at 6:30 p. m. in the Parish Hall of the First Congregational Church and a delicious beef meal, prepared by Dr. Pollard and his assistants, was quickly devoured by the members and their guests.

President Murray S. Moore then opened the meeting, disposing of a few business matters before introducing the High School Girls' Octette, composed of the Misses Janet Archibald, Dorothy Brandt, Shirley Cary, Patricia Carroll, Phoebe Greenwood, Joanne McFarlane, Mary and Louise Orgettas, and Margaret Reid at the piano, all under the able leadership of Miss Eleanor Anfuntis. The hearty applause following each number of the half hour concert, including solos by Patricia Carroll and Dorothy Brandt, showed the appreciation of the audience for this well rendered and selective program.

Mr. Ned Barr McKenney, principal speaker, was then called upon. His subject being "I Saw the Marshall Plan At Work". Mr. McKenney gave us some very interesting facts and figures in connect on with the conditions in Europe, follow ing World War II, describing the many problems these countries had in dealing with hunger, rebuilding of homes and industries in 1945 and 1946, and the setting up of the European Economic Co-operation Administration by the United States in 1948, following General Marshall's announcement at Harvard University of this program in 1947.

The E. C. A., better known as the Marshall Plan, required a separate organization in each country in which it operated, being available only to Free Democratic Countries and requiring that funds so received must be spent for basic economic or social uses. In France the railroads were rebuilt and put in order and in England these funds were used for the building of housing units, so necessary after such constant bombing. Europe's 270,000,000 people couldn't produce what they needed, nor could they afford to buy these costly products, both of which problems are being lessened by the passing of years and the funds from E. C. A. to help them solve their most urgent needs.

The speaker travelled for eight weeks in England, France, and West Germany, having the opportunity of discussing the various local problems with such men as Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord Halifax, Commissioner McCloy, and General Taylor. He also talked with men in all walks of life in each country in order to get their thoughts on the present and future, finding out first hand that the Marshall Plan had reduced considerably the power of the Communists in politics, it had helped England to a point that they are now producing 25% more than before the War, it has restored economic stability and expanded productivity in West Germany, as well as building goodwill for the United States. France is now back to pre war productivity in spite of the fact that their morale appears to be very low and the government leadership has changed sixteen times since World War II.

In closing, Mr. McKenney stated that it was his opinion that if home would unite as fast as their problems require it and that a war should come in the near future, they will do so immediately, as this is their only solution for future economic, social and political well being.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Thank you for your patronage during the years which has made it possible to improve and expand our building. Today we have modern equipment to give your car complete service such as body and paint work, Bean front end visualiner equipment, modern electrical test equipment, plus skilled and trained mechanics.

We are especially proud of the fact that five of our employees have been with us over twenty years — William G. Ryerson, Cecil Porter, Elery McKeil, Joseph Haggerty and Edward G. MacDonald. We appreciate their loyalty and suggest to you that "nothing takes the place of experience."

The automobile industry hit a record high production for the year 1950. Production in 1951 will be cut substantially because of material shortages. However, we do not believe in scare advertising and feel certain that the necessary cars will be available barring unforeseen world events.

HY MOODY

Winchester's Pontiac Dealer

Hy Moody, Winchester's Pontiac dealer, and head of Moody Motors, is now showing the new models of this popular car at his showroom, 632 Main street. Mr. Moody has sold Pontiacs to many Winchester drivers, all of whom are showing great interest in the new models.

Seventeen mechanical advances, including an improved Hydra-Matic transmission, highlight the 15 models in the 1951 Pontiac line.

The new Pontiacs were announced publicly (December 11) in conjunction with unveilings across the country in dealer showrooms.

Connoting the silver anniversary of Pontiac Motor division, the 1951 models also boast 27 styling innovations. These are concentrated in the front and rear ends.

Pontiac has enlarged the horsepower of both its engines, while keeping the compression ratio at 6.5-1. The eight now delivers 116 horsepower and the six, 96.

An improved cooling system with both powerplants and a new carburetor for the six are among other mechanical changes.

The new Hydra-Matic, again a Pontiac option, allows easier reverse shifting for "rocking" out of snow, mud or sand. A new reverse inhibitor prevents reverse shifts at speeds exceeding 10 miles an hour.

Pontiac buyers again are offered either an eight or six-cylinder motor, either Chieftain notchback or Streamliner fastback styling in the two-door sedan and either Standard or Deluxe styling in all models but the convertible (Deluxe) and Catalina.

The Catalina is available for 1951 in Deluxe or Super Deluxe treatment, but the Streamliner four-door sedan has been abandoned. Standard or Deluxe station wagons may be obtained in two-tone paint or with simulated wood panelling.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER OF THE D. A. R.

Mrs. Robert S. Seddon, 8 Wedgemere avenue, will open her home on Monday, December 18, at 2:30 p. m. to the Committee of Safety Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. William W. Goodhue, Regent, will preside at a short business meeting after which Miss Brenda Ericson of Boston and New York, monologist and dramatic reader will present a well selected program suited to the Christmas season. Miss Ericson has studied at Boston University and the Yale School of Drama. Her appearance before womens' clubs and church organizations, her performances in summer theatre and her television experience are a few of the evidences of her successful background which also includes teaching voice and diction at Cain Park Theatre. She will appear as leading lady in a stock Company in St. Augustine, Florida, beginning January 1, 1951.

Possessing a keen sensitivity, rare artistry and unusual versatility Miss Ericson brings a high order of interpretation to her work.

This program will be followed by a Christmas tea.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESCUED LOCOMOTIVE

The second Boston and Maine's No. 25, en route from Woodsville, N. H., to Boston made her regular stop in Winchester at 10 o'clock last Sunday night. Up to then everything had been routine and as before, the engineer and fireman were.

What's hot, however, at about 10:30 o'clock found the first that the oil burning engine was out of water supply had run out. Therefore, one of the two hose connections between the tender and the locomotive having become disconnected. Steam locomotives don't do so well without water and by the time the train crew could carry enough water in buckets from the Aberjona to replenish the lost supply the railroad schedule would have been badly disjointed.

In their dilemma the trainmen turned to the Winchester Fire Department and stated their case, confident that help would be forthcoming.

[illegible] confidence was not misplaced. The Central Station dispatched Engine 4 to the scene with Captain Ray Harcourt and Firemen Charlie Moran and Jay Haggerty.

The Sears was hooked up to the pumping and Engine 4 went into action, hooking onto a hydrant and pumping congratulations of water into the tender's empty tank. This done, the train moved along into Boston with the crew singing "Hip, hip, hooray" for the Winchester Firemen. Right you are, boys! Our firemen are always ready to lend a helping hand, or nozzle!

Grace Anne Paddelford, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman J. Paddelford, 6 Ravenscroft road, sang in the alto section of the 250-voice choir that gave the 96th annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in Seasey Chapel at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, Sunday, December 10. She is a member of the junior class.

ANNUAL MEETING

Winchester National Bank

[illegible] annual meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester National Bank will be held in the banking room in Wyman Hall, Main street, Winchester, Mass., on Tuesday, January 16, 1951, at 10 o'clock a.m. for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Adolph F. Fiorentini, cashier

Mrs. William L. Thompson of 38 Calvert street entertained the Boston Intercollegiate Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma at a luncheon meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Jack W. Stephenson arranged a Christmas party to follow the luncheon business meeting, and Mrs. James P. White was chairman of luncheon hostesses who included Mesdames Henry Harris, J. Fife Wright and Donald King Lewis of Winchester.

ST. MARY'S H. N. S. HEARD MR. VOLPE

With a special remembrance in their prayers for His Excellency, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, the members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society received corporate communion at the 8 o'clock Mass at the church last Sunday. Rev. William J. Walsh Spiritual Director preached on St. John the Baptist, urging the Society to imitate Our Lord's example and heed the preachings of St. John.

Breakfast was served after the mass in Lyceum Hall. Members Herb Cleary and Newt Purrington favored with piano and accordian selections, Bob (Rusty) Donaghey singing "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen" and "Galway Bay."

Arthur W. Hall, President announced that for the "Family Communion Breakfast" to be held at the Town Hall on Sunday, February 11th, the guest speaker would be "Jim Hegan" of the Cleveland Indians, who is a member of St. Joseph's parish in Lynn. Jim's wife and 8 year old son will attend as guests of the Holy Name Society.

Color film of the "Pilgrimage to Rome" was shown by Mr. John A. Volpe, a member of Archbishop Cushing's party.

Mr. Volpe declared that the Pilgrimage was the most thrilling experience he had ever had.

Touching on the audience with the Pope, with throngs of visitors present, Mr. Volpe was struck by the Holy Father's superb command of the English language and his pronouncing of the names of many of our States perfectly. Mr. Volpe declared that Italy is pulling itself gradually up by her bootstraps and that in his estimation France, in contrast, seemed a bit indigent. He remarked that communism seemed little in evidence in Italy and the people were very friendly.

Mr. Volpe had several scenes of his parents' home which were very interesting. He declared, however, that he is grateful for America and what it has done for not only his parents but for himself.

PARTY TO RECEIVE BELGIAN GIFTS POSTPONED

Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, chairman of the Hemroulle Friendship Committee in charge of arrangements for the party to be held at the high school to receive the gifts being sent the Town of Winchester by the people of Hemroulle in Belgium as a token of their appreciation of what was done for them during and after the dark days of World War II, has announced that the date of the party has been postponed from the day before Christmas to Sunday, January 7.

December 24 had been chosen as the date for the party because of its special significance as the anniversary of the Battle of Bulge, during which the 101st Airborne Troopers, commanded by Colonel Jack Hanlon of this town, saved Hemroulle from capture by the Nazis.

Postponement to Sunday afternoon, January 7, seemed wise to the committee because the gifts from the people of Hemroulle have not reached this country yet and may not get to Winchester in time for the December 24th booking.

Going back a bit to the Battle of the Bulge, Colonel Hanlon, when preparing to meet the Nazis asked the people of Hemroulle to give his men sheets to camouflage them in the snowy setting, promising to return the precious bedclothing after the battle.

Afterwards, however, Col. Hanlon and his men moved on at once, and it wasn't until after the war, and then with the assistance of the people of Winchester, that "Jack" was able to make good his promise.

The collection of the sheets and their being sent to Hemroulle in the fall of 1947 came in for international attention, and the people of the little Belgian Village were deeply touched at the friendliness shown them by the people of Winchester.

Now they in turn want to send gifts to Winchester, to "the churches that rang the bells" to summon Winchesterites to the high school with their sheets.

For the most part poor and numbering only 125, the Belgian villagers could not afford to buy presents. So they are sending to Winchester what means most to them in their everyday lives, the ancient oil paintings depicting the Stations of the Cross that have hung in their little chapel for over 60 years. The paintings, well over 100 years old, hung in a Belgian convent before going to the Chapel of Hemroulle. Many are ripped and torn by Nazi bullets.

It is the plan to have each of Winchester's churches receive one of the pictures. They will be presented by the Belgian Consul in Boston on Sunday afternoon, January 7, at the high school in a simple program commencing at 4 o'clock.

The program is to be broadcast to Hemroulle by WRUL and tape recordings are to be made to send abroad.

The committee in charge of arrangements urges every one to save Sunday afternoon, January 7 for this international friendship party at the high school. Here is an opportunity to do something constructive for international good will. Our friends in the little Belgian Village have given us conclusive proof that "they remember." It would be unfortunate if Winchester should seem "to forget."

LEGION SPONSORING SQUARE DANCE

Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, is sponsoring a Free Gala Square Dance at the Post Headquarters on Vine street Saturday evening, December 16, commencing at 8:30.

Ted Sannella and his Square Dance Band will play, and Ted will do the calling. Beginners will receive expert instruction in how to approach the intricacies of square dancing in a way that is fun, while experienced "stompers" will find things moving in a way to provide full scope for their abilities.

As an added attraction 22 turkeys will be awarded as prizes during the evening. Every one is urged to come and enjoy this fine party. Remember it's for Free!

Latham Owens, formerly of Winchester but now of Rochester, New York, has been a recent guest at the Hotel George Washington in New York City. Also recently registered at the Washington has been Lt. Col. Hamilton of 74 Nelson street.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Editor of the Star:

With due regard to the current world situation, it would seem advisable that some sort of a permanent Civil Defense Organization be set up in the Town of Winchester. It should consist of representatives from the Police Department, Fire Department, American Legion, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, and Winchester residents who are members of the Army and Navy reserves, and the National and State Guard, the Radio Amateur Emergency Corps, and any other groups interested actively in Civil Defense.

This group should organize plans for dealing with an A-Bomb attack, or any other great disaster. It would handle air-raid wardens and other services of that nature if it should become necessary. And it would coordinate and thus prevent duplication between agencies which are bound to be set up in a national emergency.

I feel that a Civil Defense Organization on a town level is far more important than any at a higher level, and these are already established.

If others feel as I do, I suggest that they write the Winchester Star with further suggestions.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS DINED

Twenty-four letter players on this year's Winchester High School football team were guests of a small group of local business men at a steak dinner at Chickland last Saturday evening. Coaches Henry Knowlton and Ted Bartlett were also guests at the dinner with Trainer Lou Goddu and Manager John Borden. "Charlie" Koch of the Winchester Sport Shop was M. C.

The party was especially appreciated by the boys because it was entirely gastronomic with the whole speaking program consisting of such representative remarks as "pass the pickles" or "can you reach that plate of ham?"

Incidentally Big Joe Donlon, star left halfback and co-captain elect of next year's team, distanced all competition in the bun-eating contest, consuming 13 of the large size rolls in addition to his regular dinner. Critics of Joe's ability were silenced after dinner when he offered to eat a roast chicken on display in the Chickland lobby, though in fairness to the doubters it should be said that only lack of funds prevented their buying the bird to see how Joe would do. Old timers present were drawing comparisons between him and "Charlie Muggs" Tranfaglia, star tackle on the team back in the early thirties and later a Norwich University line luminary at about 150. Any comparison with "Charlie" as a trencherman is praise of a high order.

It should not be understood that only Donlon enjoyed the banquet menu and did full justice to it. At buttering Joe stood alone, but Jost Michelsen, who poured the "T" at quarterback this fall, turned in a very creditable performance at the table with Reserve Fullback "Dick" Errico and Center "Dyna" Lentine also indicating no need to get their vitamines out of bottles. "Charlie" Koch was a little disappointed in "Eddie" Cullen, rugged defensive center, but Eddie was able to excuse his mere one-man-and-a-boy capacity by explaining that he had supper before the banquet.

RECOGNITION SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday, at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, recognition will be given to members who have been affiliated with the church for forty years or more. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr. will read the list of names and mention the years of service.

It is interesting to note that twenty-nine members, now on the records, represent a total of thirteen-hundred fifty-eight years of associated membership.

Mrs. Lillian O. Hatch heads the list, having joined the church in the year Eighteen-hundred eighty-three.

Mrs. Beth LeRoy and Mrs. Grace Bancroft are working in collaboration with the pastor in this special service.

REFERENCE LIBRARIAN RESIGNS

Mrs. Erskine Goes To New Post In Newton

Mrs. Hugh J. Erskine of 41 Lake street, for the past five years reference librarian at the Winchester Public Library, has resigned to accept the position of librarian at Newton High School and at Newton Junior College, the latter an institution established in 1946 and under the jurisdiction of the Newton School Department.

Mrs. Erskine is a graduate of Acadia University in Wolfville, N. S. She has done graduate work in library subjects at Simmons College and before coming to Winchester was reference librarian at the Robbins Memorial Library in Arlington. She was also for a time first assistant in the Educational Department of the Enoch Pratt Library at Baltimore, Md., one of the finest libraries in the country.

Mrs. Erskine concludes her duties at the Winchester Library this week, and assumes her new position January 2. Many who have experienced her helpfulness at the local library will learn of her departure with regret, while wishing her every success in her new field.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Salice's third grade pupils invited their parents to an Indian Program on Friday, December 8 at 2:30 p. m. in Mrs. Matson's Kindergarten Room. The program was the culmination of their study of Indians and the children, all dressed in Indian costumes, gave a fascinating performance. Tomtoms, a peace pipe, and a real Navajo blanket were among many of the properties which helped to create a very realistic effect.

Sandra Wolsey announced the program which was as follows:

1. Martha Dyer told about some of the Indian Tribes that lived in America.

2. Clark Chandler showed on a map of the U. S. where these tribes lived.

3. The Peace Pipe Song was then sung by all the boys in the class.

4. Shaun Scanlon and David Kennedy read two original Indian stories.

5. Janet Kearns, Judith Davis, and Suzanne Fisher explained our weaving.

6. Cornelia Frazier, Linda Maroney, Dorothy March, Martha Bond, Joan Caldwell, Nan Shorey, Judith Davis, Mariana Ross sang a Pueblo Song - Grinding Corn.

7. The following pupils read stories that they wrote about the Indians:

James Towle
Nancy Morrison
Mariana Ross
Nan Shorey
Cornelia Frazier
Judy Davis
Stephen Murphy
John Johnian
Dorothy March

8. A Song "My Bark Canoe"
George Tisdale
David Kennedy
Clark Chandler
Robert Williams

9. Bill Schiveers told about his Navajo blanket.

10. All the boys did An Indian Hunting Dance.

After the program, the parents visited the third grade where they observed the children playing number and spelling games.

THE JR. MRS. GUILD

The Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church in Winchester will hold a Christmas party on Tuesday evening, December 19th in the Social Hall of the Parish House. Coffee and dessert will be served at 7:45 and will be followed by a program of games, a Christmas reading by Mrs. David Choate, and group singing with Mrs. William Sleeper at the piano. There will be an exchange of the simple Christmas gifts which each member is asked to bring to add to the festivity of the party.

The chairman of the evening will be Mrs. George Whitten, assistant director of the Jr. Mrs. Guild. Mrs. Charles Whitten has charge of the decorations, and the refreshment committee consists of Mrs. Richard Caldwell, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Palmer, Mrs. Roberdell Whitley, Mrs. Charles W. Tozier, Mrs. Robert M. Mulford, and Mrs. Charles Ungerman.

The Jr. Mrs. Christmas party is always a gay occasion, and it is hoped that a large number of the members will be present.

CHRISTMAS EVE SERVICE

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church is happy to announce the coming of Bishop Newell S. Booth to bring the message at 11 p. m. the night before Christmas. It will be a traditional Christmas Eve Candle Lighting service.

The service has grown in popularity and last year witnessed a church filled with people eager to greet the first minute of Christmas day in a unique fellowship where every individual has a part. The public is cordially invited.

MRS. CAROLINE GREY GRIFFITH

Mrs. Caroline Grey Griffith of 45 Cross street, widow of George Clayton Griffith, died Thursday evening, December 7, at the Winchester Hospital following a three months' illness.

She and Mr. Griffith were married December 25, 1912. He died November 6, 1950.

Mrs. Griffith was a member of the New Hope Baptist Church and a member of the church's Flower Circle.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of Billy the Boy Artist, whose Daddy was the guest speaker reciting passages from the lives of Dickens' characters as he cartooned them.

This was Dickens' evening. Lovers of art and the works of Charles Dickens thoroughly enjoyed themselves as Edward F. Payne worked while he and the audience were surrounded by Robert Wilkie's pictures of Dickens' characters hanging on the four walls. Sergeant Fuzduz, the barrister, whose plea before the jury cost Mr. Pickwick several pounds. This plea Mr. Payne recited before an imaginary jury much to the delight and satisfaction of his audience many of whom knew the plea almost word for word. Sairy Gamp with the moist eye of course entered the evening's entertainment which ended with Mr. Scrooge. And, as Mr. Scrooge took form under the artist's crayons the Christmas Carol was told by Mr. Payne.

Mr. Payne was introduced not only as a Dickens scholar and authority but as Daddy of Billy the Boy artist, which strip has appeared for fifty years in the Boston Sunday Globe. Today it is the second oldest comic strip in the nation. The cartoonist was well pleased to learn that in his audience we men and women who got much pleasure years ago when the strip started, that nearly every state in New England was represented by these older fans and the young people of this generation still look for Billy the Boy Artist today.

Robert Wilkie whose paintings adorned the walls of the library art gallery first showed his paintings in his home town of Halifax, N. S. in 1879 and 1880 before coming to Boston where he worked until he passed on in Swampscott in 1903. Mr. Wilkie was not here in 1842 at the time of Charles Dickens' first trip to this country but he was here during the second trip to Boston in 1867 and had the opportunity to meet the great English novelist.

From his contacts Wilkie developed a love for the characters of Dickens and portrayed them as shown in the Robert Vose Gallery selections that will hang in the Winchester Public Library during the month of December. The work of Mr. Wilkie, this early disciple of Dickens, and Mr. Payne met in 1912 at the one hundredth anniversary of the author's birth which was celebrated in Boston by his pictures being shown at the Twentieth Century Association. The captions for these pictures were written by Mr. Payne for that occasion. At the Twentieth Century Association in March works by members of the Winchester Art Association will be shown. Mr. Payne is president of the Dickens Fellowship of this area.

Not only is Edward Payne, an artist, cartoonist, reader but he is also an author. One of his books, "Dickens' Days in Boston," of interest to those who enjoyed the December fifth meeting of the art association will be found at the public library and call for it have already been made.

While his was not an anniversary, the distinguished visitor of the evening Dr. Albert Schweitzer was there very nearly in person so well did Mr. Arthur Heintzelman etch this man of untiring energy and good will for his fellow man. Dr. Schweitzer up to the age of thirty filled the concert halls of Europe to listen to his organ recitals. Then, he deserted the concert stage to spend seven years studying medicine that he might go to French Equitorial Africa, to the town of Lambarene to establish the hospital of his dreams in a hen house. Today that hospital has grown into excellent buildings with three hundred beds and over, fifty of them for whites and the rest for the colored folks for whom Schweitzer left his music and Europe especially to aid. Dr. Schweitzer was here in the United States in 1949 at the two hundredth anniversary of the poet Goethe for the doctor is an authority on the poet's life and works and came here from Africa for that purpose. The Schweitzer Fellowship took the opportunity to raise funds for the work at Lambarene and Mr. Heintzelman did the etching to further that purpose.

December 5, 1931 was the opening of the present library building making this meeting of the art association the nineteenth anniversary of that event. One of the building committee and a speaker at that event nineteen years ago was in Mr. Payne's audience, Ralph Tracy Hale. Mr. Hale was a friend of Mr. Payne's both having served as officers of the Boston Authors' Club. Mr. Hale was president at the time that Mr. Payne was vice-president and then Mr. Payne became head of that excellent organization.

Elizabeth Williams, (Mrs. Robert B.) was the hostess of the evening. She displayed her baker-atorial art by making a diminutive Christmas tree of cookies. Starting at the base she used a large cookie cut star shaped and covered with green frosting or should we say icing, other cookies followed growing smaller in size until the top was reached. This tree caused many pleasant remarks and added to the joy of the occasion. Assisting Mrs. Williams were: Grace Aseltine, Elvira Grindle, (Mrs. Wade), Dorothy Critchfield and Mary Ballard (Mrs. Stanley).

"BOSSES' NIGHT"

Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes of Canterbury road, as county director of the Suffolk-Essex-Middlesex Group of the Massachusetts Association of Insurance Women, inaugurated the organization's most successful "Bosses' Night" which attracted 140 insurance women and their employers to the Hampshire House in Boston last week. The success of the party led many to predict it will become an annual event.

Mrs. Barnes has done much to increase the membership and vitalize the group of Massachusetts Insurance women, of which she is the county director. When she became affiliated with the group five years ago it had a membership of 46. It now has a membership of 150, welcoming 61 new members since October.

LYCEUM BUILDING BADLY BURNED

GENERAL ALARM FIRE DID $50,000 TO $75,000 DAMAGE

Lyceum Building Before Alterations

A general alarm fire in Lyceum Building, a landmark in Winchester Center for many years, did damage estimated between $50,000 and $75,000 yesterday. These figures do not include loss to stocks of the first floor stores nor to the furniture and equipment damaged in the business and professional offices on the second floor. Above these floors is Lyceum Hall, used for dances and parties and as a lodge hall by Winchester Lodge of Elks. This hall is virtually destroyed.

The fire was discovered shortly after 7 o'clock by "Jack" Murphy, who takes care of the building's heater. Officer Joseph Quigley of the Police Department also noticed smoke issuing from the building and called Headquarters from the box in the center, Lt. Joseph Derro relaying his call to the Central Fire Station. Meanwhile Murphy had run to the Central Fire Station to give the alarm, two rounds being sounded from Box 23. Chief James E. Callahan called for assistance from surrounding Departments as soon as he saw the seriousness of the fire, Medford and Arlington sending their aerial ladders to the center at once, to be followed by apparatus from Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Melrose and Woburn. Chief Eames of Reading, Chief Jacobs of Wakefield, Chief Fields of Melrose, Chief Kane of Woburn, Chief Crosby of Stoneham and Chief Gorham of Medford were personally on the scene with Winchester's former Chief, David H. DeCourcy.

The fire started in the basement of the building, in or near the boiler-room; it was hard to tell just where it originated according to firemen who found the boiler room a mass of flames when they arrived at the building.

From the basement it worked up in the partitions of the building, principally off the alleyway above the bulkhead entrance at the rear of Tarbox electrical shop and Levine's tailoring establishment.

Metal walls made it difficult to stop the fire in the partitions and the flames quickly raced up to the blind attic at the top of the building, mushrooming out both ways upon reaching this open space.

A metal ceiling over the hall below the blind attic, with in some places two plaster ceilings above the metal made it particularly difficult to fight the fire from the hall, while the slate roof made it equally difficult to get at the raging furnace in the blind attic from above.

Firemen swarmed up the three big aerial ladders and attacked the blaze from the roof. A good half of the roof from the gallery in Lyceum Hall to the easterly end of the building was burned through, but there was little evidence of fire in the front end of the attic, though flames did break through at one point there.

As soon as holes could be made in the roof the firemen got several big lines on the fire, and water commenced to pour down through the building, literally running a river out of the entrance in the square. Floors were warped throughout the building and there was extensive damage from smoke and water, but the second floor suffered relatively little from fire. Water damage on the second floor was worst in the establishments of Judy's Hairstyles, Attorney Leo Garvey and Dr. James H. O'Connor, veteran dentist. The Harper Method, hair dresser, and Waterfield Opticians were chiefly damaged by smoke.

On the first floor the stores damaged worst were Chitel's Men's Shop, completely destroyed, Rutherford Equipment and the Arlington Gaslight Company. The fire in the basement was largely under Chitel's and the floor at the rear of his shop was burned away, while firemen broke the big show windows to get water in on the flames. Richardson's Market in the Building beside Lyceum Building had water damage in the basement and the market, Fred the Hair Stylist and the Branch Office of the Winchester Trust Co., were damaged by smoke.

John Rutherford, with the assistance of his wife and interested friends succeeded in getting much of his stock out of his store and it was removed from the center by "Mike" Penta in his truck. "Mike" and his "bully boys" also removed furnishings from P. T. Foley's. The Edison Shop suffered from water and smoke while the real estate and insurance office of P. T. Foley suffered from water principally. On the other side of the building Tarbox Electrical Shop and Levine's Tailor Shop suffered principally from smoke.

In the basement firemen worked in water hip-deep and as soon as possible auxiliary pumps were put to work pumping out. Winchester's big new Mack pump worked at the fire from the hydrant at the corner of Mt. Vernon street and Winchester Place with Engines 2 and 4 and a Reading pump at other hydrants about the center.

It was between 10:30 and 11 before the fire was considered under control and Chief Callahan believed it would be in the vicinity of 5 or 6 o'clock before the "all out" could be sounded.

The Splendid Lunch was early on the street with coffee for the firemen and policemen. Brown's Lunch on Main street also sent down a big urn of coffee and the Red Cross also provided coffee and sandwiches with Leon Smith, section of the First Congregational Church, making the coffee, 20 gallons of his "nonpareil brew"!

Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water Department stated the fire created the biggest demand for water he could recall but that even the unprecedented demand caused the pressure to drop very little and there was at all times plenty of water.

A big crowd jammed into the center to watch the firemen, and the Police had quite a job protecting the venturesome from flying slate and keeping traffic moving.

Chief Charles J. Harrold took personal charge of the police detail with Lt. Derro and Sergeants Cassidy and Dolan and men of the night shift remaining on duty until relieved by the day officers. Traffic was routed out of the center, cars from Woburn, headed south, going through Swanton street and Washington street to Main street and Bacon street. Traffic from Arlington was also routed over Bacon street, that for Stoneham going around Mr. Cormack's and north through Swanton street. The Police did an excellent job and things moved very smoothly considering the conditions. Highway crews sanded the streets to cover the ice which quickly formed in the frigid air.

High School students were everywhere in evidence until Chief Harrold communicated with the school. The arrival of Principal Grindle and some of the teachers caused a noticeable drop in student attendance and a quick shift of youngsters out of the center.

ATTENTION WINCHESTER VOTERS!

Do we need additional secondary school facilities?

Yes. Secondary school enrollment will soon exceed the capacity of our present buildings. Three committees have studied this problem at a cost to the Town of $33,500 and have all arrived at this conclusion. The recommendations of the present building committee to provide additional facilities were overwhelmingly adopted at the recent Special Town Meeting.

Do we need these facilities now?

Yes. Increased elementary school enrollment, new elementary schools recently built or enlarged and others now demanding expansion are definite proof that present secondary school facilities will be inadequate within the next two years.

Does the plan adopted by the Town Meeting by a vote of 162 to 4 provide these facilities?

Yes. The School Committee, elected to represent you, says so. The School Building Committee says so. The plans for these enlarged facilities were presented by architects of recognized ability in the field of school design, Killam, Hopkins, Greeley and Brodie. Your Board of Selectmen and Planning Board approve the adopted plan.

The Finance Committee, on the basis of its own independent studies, urgently recommends IMMEDIATE action. Your elected Town Meeting Representatives who heard a full and complete debate of the matter voted 162 to 4 in favor of the adopted plan.

Minor details of construction and "educational specifications" must be left to the discretion of qualified committees charged with these responsibilities.

"YES" votes on the Referendum Questions will insure immediate action to meet the needs of our secondary schools.

Signed: Junior and Senior High School Bldg. Comm.

The group flew to Nassau on British Overseas Airways' Stratocruiser, on a four and a half hour flight. They will be the guests of Sir Oliver Simmons during their stay in Nassau and will return the first of next week via British Overseas Airways.

During his stay in Nassau, Mr. McGrath will renew his acquaintances with his many friends connected with the travel industry and hotels on The Island.

SANTA TO FLY OVER GREATER BOSTON TOMORROW

You can believe your eyes if you see Santa Claus flying over your house tomorrow! But don't get excited and think that Santa has mixed up his dates.

Fact of the matter is that Santa and his eight reindeer will be pulled through the sky on an advertising banner. It's all part of a stunt by H. P. Hood and Sons of saying "Merry Christmas" to Bostonians.

Santa will be flying over Boston this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday and the weekend before Christmas.

ATTENTION CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

Again this year Manager Stranger of the Winchester Theatre has very graciously consented to allow parking in the theatre yard up to 5 p. m. for the convenience of shoppers, for the next two weeks.

We urge shoppers to co-operate in the matter of clearing the parking space promptly in order not to deprive the theatre patrons of their usual parking service.

CHARLES STANTON ADAMS

Charles Stanton Adams of 11 Mystic avenue, retired taxi operator and a widely known resident of Winchester, died early Friday morning, December 8, at the Winchester Hospital after a ten days' illness.

Mr. Adams was the son of William, and Emma Isadora (Stanton) Adams. He was born in Winchester June 8, 1870, in the house on High street, now occupied by Mr. Thomas Vinson, in which he spent his boyhood and early married years, and in which his son, Arthur, was born. He had lived on Mystic avenue in the old Spurr house since 1906.

All of Mr. Adams' life was spent in Winchester, with the exception of two years of his boyhood, which were spent near Concord, N. H., while his father was running the Birchdale House, a hotel, there.

Mr. Adams was for many years identified with the grocery and provision business in Winchester. As a young man he worked for the late C. C. Stanton in his grocery store on Main street, then located at the site of the present Winchester Provision Co. Later he was for some years a clerk for the late George E. Morrill in the old grocery store on Church street torn down at the erection of the Star Building in 1915.

Leaving Mr. Morrill's employ, Mr. Adams formed a partnership with an associate at Montvale, the late George Dupee, and the two conducted a successful provisioning business for several years on Main street in the old two-story building near the corner of Thompson street which was razed when the Locatelli Building was built.

For a time after the dissolution of his partnership with Mr. Dupee, Mr. Adams conducted "Adams' Specialty Shop", in the old block of stores on Main street that was replaced by the present Locatelli Building, dealing in a line of fancy groceries and food specialties. He gave that up to go into the taxi business in 1922, remaining in that business until he retired because of poor health in the spring of 1949.

Mr. Adams was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons and of Aberjona Council, Royal Arcanum. A man of an exceptionally genial personality, he had a great capacity for making friends, and those who knew him best loved him for his friendliness, his cheerful outlook on life and his willingness to be of service wherever he could. Many about town will miss his cheery smile and friendly greeting.

In an old account book Mr. Adams wrote:

"When you've got to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on!"

His fine philosophy is well expressed in these words!

On July 10, 1895, Mr. Adams married Grace E. Newhall of Stoneham, who survives him, though seriously ill in the Winchester Hospital. Also surviving are a son, Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, and until recently president of the University of New Hampshire; a brother, George Stanton Adams of Winchester; a grandson, John Stanton Adams, who is a second year student at the Cornell University Law School and three great granddaughters, Holly, Dorothy and Carol Adams.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Dr. Adams' successor at University of New Hampshire, Dr. Robert F. Chandler, Jr., headed a delegation from the University at the funeral. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET CATE WOOD

Mrs. Margaret Cate Wood, widow of the noted marine artist, Worden Wood, and a former resident of Winchester, died December 6 at St. Luke's Hospital in Jacksonville, Florida. She was on her way to St. Petersburg from her home in New York City and became ill on the train, lapsing into a coma 60 miles north of Jacksonville. She was taken from the train at Jacksonville to St. Luke's Hospital where she died a few days following the onset of her illness. Her death was caused by spinal meningitis.

Mrs. Wood was born in Winchester February 26, 1885. She was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1904, and afterward studied art in Boston. For a time before her marriage she was an artist in the advertising department of the Boston Globe. She and her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Cate, a well known dressmaker, made their home for many years on Myrtle street and will be remembered by many older residents of the town.

After her marriage Mrs. Wood made her home in New York, she having been a resident of that city for thirty years. She was a frequent visitor to Winchester and had many friends here. Her husband died some years ago.

Mrs. Wood's remains were cremated in Jacksonville. Memorial services will be held in New York City.

SHOWED MOVIES AT WOBURN FOOTBALL DINNER

Coach Henry Knowlton and Captain Tony Cirmiso of the Winchester football team were invited guests Wednesday evening at the dinner given the Woburn High School football team at the Hunt Room of the Town Line by Dr. Daniel Joyce, Woburn team physician.

Mayor Francis Murray of Woburn headed the guests from that city, others being Faculty Manager James E. Brennan, Trainer Johnny McGovern, Coaches Paul Dorrington, Tim Tobin and Jim White and Former Faculty Manager Wilfred Walsh.

Coach Knowlton showed motion pictures, among them being those of last Thanksgiving's football game between Winchester and Woburn with its controversial touchdown play. Coach Knowlton stopped the camera and ran it backwards to show exactly the play on which Winchester contends it scored a winning touchdown. When Coach Knowlton stated that the pictures showed the ball was over there were loud, but very good natured cries of "No! no!", which all were only to be expected. Unofficial comment, however, after the dinner was much the same as it was at the Victory Dance at the town hall Thanksgiving night, very illuminating!

The volume of mail handled this year at the Winchester Post Office to date, indicates a new high in parcels and Christmas cards. Patrons are urged to mail now to insure delivery before Christmas. An open letter to the voters of Winchester.

A referendum has been filed to submit the action of the recent town meeting on the appropriation of funds for the enlargement of the secondary schools to the voters at large. Two motions were passed authorizing the expenditure of funds.

1. To issue bonds in the amount of $150,000 to finance the renovation of the senior high school. (Passed by the town meeting with a vote of 153 yes and 5 no.)

2. To issue bonds in the amount of $1,400,000 to finance the addition to the junior high school. (Passed by the town meeting with a vote of 162 yes and 4 no.)

Additional amounts authorized to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund by these motions bring the total to $1,675,400 for the entire project.

In order to sustain the action of the town meeting, it will be necessary to have a two thirds majority vote in favor of both questions. The Selectmen, Planning Board, and Finance Committee unanimously approve of the action taken.

If you voters agree with your duly elected and appointed committees and representatives and if you agree that the action of the town meeting in this matter should be sustained, vote YES on both questions in the coming referendum.

Respectfully yours,

Vincent Farnsworth, Chairman Board of Selectmen
Frederick S. Hatch, Chairman, Planning Board
Don S. Greer, Acting Chairman, Finance Comm.

"TOM" MARRINAN RECALLED IN WINCHESTER

The death of Thomas H. Marrinan in Woburn on December 11 recalls memories to old time music lovers in Winchester of the days when "Tom" led his famous Woburn Brass Band in their always enjoyable concerts in the now departed band-stand on Ad Mauricio on Field Pond, and head of the Woburn March Company. Mr. Marrinan was a gifted cornetist, who trained with many bands and orchestras in and around Boston, and, appearing as guest soloist with bands and Woburn Brass Band.

Mrs. Mathilda Montgomery, who passed away on Sunday, December 10 at her home in Dorchester, in her 96th year, was the mother of Mrs. T. Parker Clarke of 122 Mt. Vernon street.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

With one of the largest turnouts of the year thus far, our meeting on Tuesday was a most pleasant one. After a short business meeting we held our Reception to New Members. The new members, distinguishable by gay corsages, were introduced by Mrs. Theodore Dissel and warmly welcomed into the Guild of the Infant Saviour by our gracious president, Mrs. John Lennon. In the receiving line with Mrs. Lennon were Mrs. Eugene B. O'Keefe, Mrs. Carl H. Thomas, Miss Talmn T. Greenwood, Mrs. Martin P. Higgins and Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian.

May we add our welcome and that of all the members of The Guild to our new members: Mrs. Joseph Crowe, Mrs. James McLoughlin, Mrs. William McGann, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. William Hickey, Jr., Mrs. John W. Gahan, Mrs. Joseph Kerrigan, Mrs. Norman Phaneuf, Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Thomas Tuohey, Mrs. Alfred S. LaPointe, Mrs. Leonard N. Kiely, Mrs. Percy Cliff, Mrs. Benjamin Mullen, Mrs. John Van Dyke, Mrs. Donald Abbott, Mrs. Patrick Mullaney, Mrs. Richard Knight, Mrs. John Colgate, Mrs. Daniel Gaynor, Mrs. Norman Hall, Mrs. George Lonergan, Mrs. Frank Horie, Mrs. Dennis Collins, Mrs. Harold McCarthy, Mrs. Warren O'Leary, Mrs. Margaret M. Grace, Mrs. Frank McGowan, Mrs. James McGilloin and Mrs. James Cullahan. We hope that their association with The Guild will be a long and happy one.

Following the Reception to New Members Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini and Mrs. Norman Mitchell presented a delightful and instructive program on Christmas Decorations. Using the theme "'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house", with incidental readings by Mrs. Ghirardini, interspersed with the playing of traditional Christmas carols, Mrs. Mitchell decorated a mythical house from the front door, through the reception hall to the dining table and on into the living room. No stranger to The Guild, Mrs. Mitchell again displayed her amazing artistry in arranging striking for home and taste. With her settings and suitable decorations charming and informal manner of presentation and the apparent ease with which she accomplishes her beautiful arrangements, Mrs. Mitchell has a faculty for inspiring her audience to rush home and try out new ideas. Judging from the keen interest and eager questions on Tuesday, we may expect many novel and unusual decorations in our Winchester homes during the coming holiday season.

Hostesses for afternoon tea were Mrs. Vincent Ambrose, Mrs. George L. Connor, Mrs. George Dolloff, Mrs. Guy Brooks, Mrs. Vincent Scanlon, Mrs. John Ryan and Mrs. Joseph Shaw.

Because of the proximity to Christmas there will be no regular meeting on December 28th. However, a group of our members are planning a Childrens' Party for that date to be held in Lyceum Hall with a puppet show, movies and, of course refreshments. If you are worn out from holiday activities or would just like an afternoon to yourself, why not bring Junior along to the hall and leave him with the assurance that he will be well taken care of and well entertained.

Our first meetting of the new year will be a dessert bridge party on January 11th. More news of that later. Now, on behalf of the officers and members of the board of The Guild of the Infant Savious, we extend to all our members best wishes for a Very, Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM, PRECINCT 6

A most important precinct meeting to discuss the ways and means of bettering our school situation will be held Friday evening, December 15th, at 8:00 p. m., at the Noonan School Auditorium.

This meeting deals with the Referendum to come up immediately after Christmas to vote on an appropriation to provide adequate Junior and Senior High Schools in Winchester.

This vitally concerns all citizens of Winchester.

CHRISTMAS CARD FROM GREECE

The Star acknowledges with thanks a Christmas Card all the way from the Cedric Seagers in Greece.

The card is illustrated with a painting of the Monastery of the Vlakhernes on the Island of Corfu, the chief city of the Ionian Islands and described by Mr. Seager as an artist's paradise. He writes that he has put much time and effort into the restoration of Corfu after its terrific pummeling during the war, adding the humorous note that if he was in Greek, he could run for Deputy there and win hands down! He spent much time since his return to Greece, after his vacation in Winchester last summer, travelling among the Ionian group in connection with his job in the ECA.

Mr. Seager sends his own and his family's best wishes for the holidays to their Winchester friends. He gets the Star regularly and we at this office are pleased to learn that the entire Seager family are ardent Star readers. Our best to these good people for the New Year!

CIVIL DEFENSE

Every effort is being made to keep police Warden Otis Deering's plans moving ranging delays in receipt of training and other essential material. A copy of the booklet "Protection from the Atomic Bomb" was delivered to every home in Winchester last Saturday, December 9, by the Boy Scouts. A careful reading of the information and suggestions outlined in this booklet will give a better understanding of what to expect and what to do under atomic bomb attack.

Orders have been placed for the necessary facilities preliminary to reinstallation of the aid-raid warning signals used during World War II. It is expected that this work will reach the testing stage at an early date. Citizens will be notified of details when the signals are ready to be placed in service.

Cooperation has been excellent in the setting up of the local Civil Defense organization. A partial list of the key personnel and the assignments thus far made are as follows:

[illegible] part of the [illegible] season at the Winchester [illegible] will take [illegible] Sunday noon when [illegible] Masque will be presented [illegible] Unitarian [illegible] Young People's [illegible] Lower [illegible] groups and young [illegible] are under the direction of [illegible] and Lucy A. Storer, the [illegible] story-teller.

The afternoon will open at 5:30 o'clock with the singing of some [illegible] carols by the Mary Witham Singers under the direction of Mrs. Witham. The Masque, a story by Alice Marion Hamlet, is a portrayal of the familiar Nativity pageant in an unfamiliar way, and the first chance Winchester has had to see the work of Mr. Storer, who is a pioneer in this area in the field of motion choir technique. Tone and Movement, the unique use of rhythmic motion, music, and poetry, while this modern adaptation makes use of a verse speaking choir, a motion choir, and a choral background. The costumes, which were executed by the Sewing Group of the Alliance, are stylized and very colorful.

Mr. Storer has been working with his Motion Choir group since October, and much enthusiasm and interest in it has developed throughout the town. His work in this field, an art which is being used increasingly by all denominations, has been described in a book by Margaret Palmer Fiske, "The Art of the Motion Choir," published by Harper's just this fall.

Taking the following parts in the Masque are: The Narrator, Henry A. Dellicker, Jr.; The Spirit of All Nations, Polly Knoll; The Spirit of Peace, Marcia Symmes; Herald Angel, Barbara Bolster; Virgin Mary, Jane Fraser; Baby Jesus, Christine Sutter; Linda Freeman, Victoria Wadsworth; Ann Winwood, Judith Wadsworth; Linda Witham; The Shepherds: Stephen Dugal Eldridge, Theodore Freeman, Warren Goodnow, John McLean, Robert McNitt, Richard Reed, Robert Smith, Richard Spaulding, Dale Townley-Tilson, Sears Walker, Charles Cornwall; The Kings: Walter Keyes, Jost Mortensen, Stowell Symmes; The Cherubs: Virginia Wier, Sara Fisher; Mary; Martha Hewins; Joseph; John S. Mills; The Verse Speakers; Members of Metcalf Union; The Choristers; Mary Witham Singers; and also children from the Primary Department. Organist for the afternoon will be Mary Ranton Witham, and rehearsal organist has been Grace Norman. The lights will be taken care of by Clark Hottel and Edward Johnston, decorations have been arranged by Mrs. and Mrs. Harold F. Meyers, and Alliance Sewing Group, aided by all the mothers, have worked on costumes.

It now appears that the boys will be out of Korea by Christmas after all.

WONDERS IF THE CAPTAIN STRUCK OUT!

Editor of the Star:

Last week you published a very exercised letter from Capt. Richard M. Rush, U. S. N., Ret. Capt. Rush was quite outraged by the results of the official Town Meeting which voted a solution to the much studied, imperative Junior High-Senior High housing problem. Capt. Rush objected violently to the actions taken and decisions made by 1, the Moderator, 2 the School Committee, 3 the Finance Committee, and 4, the Building Committee; and he has now initiated a referendum in order to try and reverse these decisions. I did not attend the Town Meeting and consequently am somewhat in the position of the fan in the stands who missed the play at the ball park. But from the angry outburst of player Rush down on the field this observer wonders if it isn't quite possible that he could have struck out?

Most Sincerely,
Barbara A. Powers

SPLENDID WORK BY POLICE

Chief Charles J. Harrold

Dear Chief Harrold:

I would like to take this opportunity of publicly thanking and commending your Department, and in particular Officer William E. Cassidy for the splendid work he did in apprehending the boys responsible for breaking the windows in the houses under construction on Nathaniel road.

Very truly yours,

TO THE CITIZENS OF WINCHESTER

At an recent Town Meeting the Senior High School-Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee presented a solution to our secondary school problem, which was overwhelmingly approved by Town Meeting Members.

Certain questions, however, have been raised about the adequacy of the space provided for a program of Industrial Arts — commonly referred to as shop work. The School Committee wishes to answer these questions.

First of all an Industrial Arts program must not be confused with Vocational Training. The latter requires intensive training in a specific trade and can be provided economically in a school system only when large numbers of students desire such specialized instruction. At present the School Committee is paying the tuition and transportation of seven high school students who desired vocational training. They go to larger communities which maintain schools specially equipped for this type of education.

An Industrial Arts program is much more general in its objectives. Its purposes are to discover and develop interests and aptitudes which may help a student choose his vocation, and to give training in manual dexterity, co-ordination and useful skills. It develops an appreciation of the value of honest work and a respect for its place in the community.

For the proposed four-year senior high school the buildings, as adopted by the Town Meeting, include two shop areas, each equivalent in size to two standard classrooms, a separate print shop, a separate mechanical drawing laboratory, and space for the storage of materials. The two shop areas will provide equipment for woodworking, metal working, radio and electrical work. The operation of general shops such as these planned is much more economical than separate special shops because they can be kept in use full time, and the teaching staff can supervise groups doing different types of work in the same shop. In the proposed junior high school the shops together with the print shop and the mechanical drawing laboratory will provide facilities for more than 600 pupils a day. At present the average number of senior high pupils using our present shop facilities is 64 per day. Of this number 20 are taking mechanical drawing, 52 shopwork and 12 printing.

The plans for the proposed junior high school provide a new shop area equivalent to more than three standard classrooms. This area will be equipped for home mechanics, woodworking, and elementary metal and electrical work. It will accommodate more than 200 pupils each day. At present the average number of junior high pupils taking shopwork each day is 64.

In considering the question of shop facilities and industrial arts training in Winchester schools, one must not forget that many college and commercial course students who might wish to elect shopwork find that their courses of study do not allow many hours for it. In other words, our industrial arts program is planned primarily, but not exclusively - for pupils electing the General Course. The present enrollment including both boys and girls by courses in our high school is: College Course 498; Commercial Course 148; General Course 100. Since these proportions are typical of our student body, the indication is clear that the shop area afforded is sufficient.

The School Committee is satisfied that the Building Committee's plans provide adequate shop areas for our secondary school needs and that these areas can be operated economically and efficiently.

DANIEL McKENZIE

Daniel McKenzie, who died December 7 in Manchester, Conn., was a native of Winchester and the brother of Edward P. McKenzie of Symmes road, Winchester correspondent for the Woburn Daily Times.

Born November 17, 1869, the late Mr. McKenzie spent his early life in Winchester, and as a young man was a call man in the Fire Department. He left town 50 years ago to take a position with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York, living in the Richman Hill section of New York for 40 years until his retirement from the Telephone Company. At that time he moved to Manchester, Conn., where he had resided for the past 10 years.

Mr. McKenzie leaves, besides his brother in Winchester, his wife, Margaret (O'Neil) McKenzie; two sons, Daniel, Jr., and Walter McKenzie, both members of the Connecticut State Police; and two sisters, Mrs. John J. O'Brien of Somerville and Mrs. Joseph P. McKay of Woburn.

The funeral was held on last Saturday morning at St. James Church in Manchester, Conn., with burial in St. James Cemetery.

The office of the Board of Health in the White Building was closed on Thursday afternoon and will remain closed Saturday, due to fumes from a flooded oil burner in the basement.

WINCHESTER TAXPAYERS AND VOTERS

1. The supporters of the school referendum are not against the general proposition of the Alternate Plan provided it is a final solution for the foreseeable future — at least twenty years — and provided it is done properly.

2. The plans presented to the Special Town Meeting are grossly defective. Some of the important defects are:

A. Changes within the present J. H. S. building involve every stairway (despite the denial of the Building Committee at the Meeting), every entrance except the main entrance and all locker rooms (corridor lockers excepted). We believe that the building will be practically uninhabitable during the alterations.

B. Absolutely no provisions are made for the industrial arts program beyond the two wood-working spaces now in the building and already insufficient for that work.

C. The Building Committee proposes to use the cafeteria and kitchen spaces shown in the basement plans of the 3-year high school in the Report to provide the 8 additional classrooms needed to change that school to a 4-year school. Basement classrooms are not proper classrooms.

D. Insufficient exits in the gym. The Committee's contention that the plans presented show doors in the lower halves of the two-level window openings at the ends of the gym is not borne out because no entrance platforms or steps are shown as they are for every other outer door.

E. Classrooms are shown added to the top (5th level) floor, making worse an undesirable feature of the present building.

F. The boiler room in the present J. H. S. building should become the central heating plant for both schools. It already furnishes some 40% of the steam used by the senior H. S.

G. The factory-like, yellow-brick wings to be added to the present J. H. S. will make the building an architectural eyesore, not up to Winchester standards.

H. No plans whatever of changes to be made in the present S. H. S. building were presented to the Town Meeting.

3. The spending of $1,650,000 on a project which manifestly received insufficient attention from the Building Committee while it polished the Palmer street plan and for which defective and inadequate plans have been presented is contrary to the best interests of Winchester.

4. Between now and March the plans can be properly revised so that we can all support them. If requirements of national safety do not then permit the use of such building materials the school finally approved by the Special Town Meeting could not be built anyway and the Town will be better off without a one million six hundred and fifty thousand dollar project around Financial neck.

5. The referendum is not to blame for delay on the schools. The Building Committee sat on the project for 20 months! And the Korean War began last June!

6. Will Winchester permit pressure groups — with however commendable basic purposes — to impose their will on all the taxpayers and voters of this town? That such groups will, in their hysteria at opposition, stoop to unworthy levels was shown by the action of the Mothers' Association in impressing the school children to carry home their political propaganda mimeographed in the schools with materials paid for by all the taxpayers; again by their failure to invite a single citizen known to be opposed to their project to be present and speak at their meetings; and by the shabby attempts by others to threaten the Building Committee of the Washington School Addition that unless they supported the votes of the Special Town Meeting they would not get the addition to that school next March! If we can not have better democracy than that here at home then our soldiers are fighting for nothing in Korea!

Votes of NO on the referendum will be votes FOR better secondary schools.

Referendum Group,
by Richard M. Rush

WINCHESTER YOUNGSTERS AT FRIENDSHIP FESTIVAL

Several Winchester young people attended the Friendship Festival at New England Mutual Hall in Boston last Friday afternoon, a part of the program being broadcast to young people all over the world.

Opening and closing the broadcast program was the old favorite "Jingle Bells," in which all those present joined in singing to the accompaniment of St. Joseph's Band, Malden. Speakers included Miss Edna MacDonough, executive secretary of the International Friendship League, Hon. William Phillips, former Ambassador to Italy and Mr. Raymond Dennett, director of the World Peace Foundation.

Carols were sung by a choral group from the Cheverus School in Malden and by the Arlington Street Junior Choir, Boston.

Members of the International Friendship League sent personal messages to "pen pals" throughout the world, and in this portion of the program Ann Peters of Winchester participated. Among others who participated in the program were Peter, Vincent and Suzanne Murphy and Francis Hurley.

Mr. Dennett announced the afternoon that Santa's Flying Sleigh will leave International Friendship League Headquarters at 40 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, Wednesday, December 20, laden with gifts for children in Austria and South Germany. Winchester boys and girls are much interested in this project and are working to ensure its success.

A rear light was ripped from the automobile of Mr. Arthur Agnew of 92 Bacon street last Sunday night while the machine was parked on Stratford road with another car owned by Ronald Wyman of 7 Conley street. Mr. Wyman's car had been moved and the light from the Agnew machine was found on its rear seat.

RAN CAR ON LORING AVENUE FIELD

Police were notified last Sunday morning early that a car was being driven on Loring avenue Playground.

Sgt. Edward F. Bowler and Officer D. Irving Reardon went to investigate and found a Chevrolet sedan, driven by a Woburn man stuck in heavy ruts on the newly graded field about 100 feet from Fitzgerald avenue.

The Police assisted the operator to his car off the field. Before rebuilding the field there had been a roadway of sorts in the location where the car was found and the operator told the Police he did not know it was no longer there.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The popular belief that it may be too cold for snow is not true, although usually very cold air does not hold much water vapor, notes the National Geographic Society. Alaska has had snowfall when it was -52 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

When the Aleutian Islands were discovered in 1741 they were populated by from 20,000 to 25,000 natives, more than the aboriginal Indian population of New England.

Hail storms in the United States may cause several times as much damage during the year as tornadoes, says the National Geographic Society. Hailstones as big as baseballs have been known to kill people.

IMPROVED HELMETS FOR U. S. FIGHTERS LATEST MODEL IN AGE-OLD PROCESSION

A new look in helmets, combining old Roman design with modern materials, is in the offing for Uncle Sam's fighters of the 1950's. Now being field-tested by the U. S. Army, the proposed headgear is described as having a liner of plastic and an aluminum cover, the latter useful for extra-martial purposes as water carrier, cook pot, shaving mug, and wash basin.

One interesting aspect of the new protective device, notes the National Geographic Society, is the fact that although its shape was derived from ancient Roman helmets, it has bulge enough at the sides to allow for today's radio earphones.

It is also light in weight. Totaling about three pounds, the prospective model is reported to be more than a pound lighter yet stronger than the Army's present steel and plastic helmet. It would therefore be especially suited to modern airborne forces, as well as easier on the brow of the foot slogger.

Variety Through Centuries

In various shapes, helmets have been part of man's fighting equipment from the earliest of recorded times. They have been made of wild-animal skins, leather, bronze, brass, iron, and steel.

There have been curious openwork or "spider" helmets, and styles with neck guards known as lobster tails. Some were like basins; others were like conventional hats with brims, or simply like round, flat, or peaked skull caps. Still others were tortured into ornamented forms whose sweeping crests and odd embellishments were militarily useless.

As early as 870 B. C., metal helmets worn by the Assyrians were decorated with high and unwieldy fan-shaped crests. This style was a handicap to the wearer in both weight and lack of balance. Yet centuries later such "war toppers" were still popular for Greek and Roman warriors.

Most of the Greek and Roman helmets were open-faced designs, sometimes with an added nose guard. Many of the well-armored Norman conquerors of England wore conical helmets over a cowl of chain mail. The Crusaders' clanking armor, whose massive weight caused much loss of men and horses, was surmounted by "pillbox" and other strangely-shaped head covers.

Some Monstrous Creations

Increasingly popular during the 13th century were certain monstrous styles, used only in action, which completely encased the head, resting on the shoulders.

Such "close helmets" are especially familiar now in illustrations of the age of tournaments, when knighthood was in flower. With visors of beaklike and piglike projections, and complex gadgetry to permit breathing, seeing, and eating, they gave warriors of the period the look of fantastic creatures from another world.

When new types of warfare developed after the 1600's, the vogue for heavy metal helmets declined, along with the use of armor in general. It was not until World War I, when trench fighting brought new dangers to exposed heads, that helmets again came into military prominence.

Shallow light-steel helmets, were adopted by the Allies and later by the Germans. One successful, shrapnel-resisting model of manganese-strengthened steel was introduced in 1915 by the British and afterward supplied the Americans. Another outstanding type, developed by the Germans and revealed at the Battle of Verdun, was made of chrome-nickel steel, and weighed a little over two pounds.

OCTOBER 15 AND NOVEMBER 1 DATES FOR MAILING G. I. XMAS PACKAGES

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun has asked the Star to publish the following information concerning the mailing of Christmas Packages to persons in the armed services:

"Christmas parcels and mail for overseas for Navy and Marine Corps personnel in the most remote areas should be mailed not later than October 15, and not later than November 1 for surface transportation to Japan, Korea and the islands in the Pacific.

"Parcels are limited to 70 pounds, except that a limit of 50 pounds has been set for parcels addressed for delivery to A. P. O.'s 124 and 125, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

"Because of the great distances, boxes must be of strong, double-faced corrugated fiberboard, wood, metal, or solid fiberboard testing at least 200 pounds. Each box should be strongly tied; sealing flaps is not sufficient. Gift-type wrappers are not acceptable.

Weight Rates

"Matches and lighter fluids are prohibited from all parcels in addition to articles normally prohibited.

"Xmas parcels for the armed forces are subject to the zone rate. For instance, air mail articles up to eight ounces, six cents an ounce or fraction; over eight ounces, 80 cents a pound or fraction.

"Addresses must be typewritten or in ink. It is preferable that addresses be hand-printed on the wrappers rather than on labels. It is important that a slip of paper containing name and address of both sender and addressee, as well as a list of contents, be enclosed inside each parcel.

Currency Barred

"Address must be complete in every detail, including full first name, rank, serial number, branch of service, organization, A. P. O. or F. P. O. number and post office through which the mail is to be routed. Letters may not be included in parcels.

"Greeting cards for overseas personnel must be deposited prior to November 15 to insure timely delivery. Greetings for army and air force must be sent in sealed envelopes at the first class rates.

VISITORS BARRED FROM BONNEVILLE TO PROTECT POWER FOR MILLIONS

To Korean war casualties add that stateside "must" tourists: huge Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River.

It is now out of bounds for reasons of military security, notes the National Geographic Society, and this means some 600,000 visitors annually will be denied a look at the awe-inspiring engineering project. However, the security precautions invoked since the conflict in the Far East are designed to insure the development's continued contribution to millions—from the near-by housewife in her electrified home to the distant fighter pilot in a U. S.-made aluminum airplane.

Bonneville — named for Captain Benjamin Bonneville, noted explorer of the Pacific Northwest — lies 42 miles east of Portland, Oregon, in the heart of the spectacular Columbia River Gorge. Actually, two dams span the divided river there at Bradford Island, to turn back incoming tides from the Pacific Ocean and to impound the seaboard waters of the Columbia in a 47-mile reservoir for electric power production.

Economy Changed

When Bonneville first went into operation in 1938, the Pacific Northwest — with 13 per cent of America's land area and only three per cent of its population — was devoted primarily to agriculture, forestry and fishing. Cheap, abundant electricity, provided by Bonneville and a sister dam at Grand Coulee, literally changed the face of the region's economy.

War industries, especially in light metals, flocked there. Near-by Hanford, Washington, mushroomed as a major atomic energy installation, tapping an undisclosed volume of power to rival the area's aluminum industry as Bonneville's No. 1 customer. Other buyers in the area include: 24 public utility districts; 15 municipalities, 31 co-operatives, seven private utilities and four military establishments.

Today Bonneville's ten generators are running at full tilt to produce an estimated capacity of 518,000 kilowatts. But still the power supply is not adequate to handle demands of fast-growing industries and population across Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and western Montana. This whole section has the smallest power reserve — about 5.9 per cent of its total capacity — of any in the nation.

Another chapter in the Bonneville story features the dam's navigation canal which has opend a new door to Washington's inland empire around Spokane. Before the dam — with its canal, locks, and deep water pool — little more than 400,000 tons of shipping plied beyond the Bonneville site on the unruly Columbia. Today the canal moves more than a million tons annually and makes it possible for ocean-going vessels to proceed 200 miles inland on the river to load or discharge cargoes.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Large desert areas help to hold down Australia's overall population density to a sparse 2.6 persons to the square mile. In comparison, notes the National Geographic Society, South America's figure is 14.7, Africa counts 15.1, North America 21.3, Asia 77, and Europe 145.3.

Montana has coal reserves of about 222 billion tons, current estimates show. Easy to mine, though generally below good industrial quality, it holds bright promise for synthetic liquid fuel.

The huge Pentagon building, headquarters of the Department of Defense, has the largest and busiest private branch telephone exchange in the world. Approximately 225,000 interoffice calls and 90,000 outside calls are handled daily in normal times by the exchange, which contains 68,000 miles of trunk lines.

The Federal Government now owns three-eighths of all the land in Montana.

The nearest relatives of the beautiful birds of paradise are the plain crows, notes the National Geographic Society. Actually the simplest of paradise birds, the manucodes, also resemble small glossy crows. The fancier species, however, such as the King, the Sicklebill, and the Magnificent, with their multicolored and fantastically shaped plumage, seem a world away from their dull appearing cousins.

Of Egypt's more than 380,000 square miles of territory, only about three per cent is cultivated, notes the National Geographic Society. This green and fertile area is almost entirely along the Nile River, where some 13,000,000 people live.

Although dogs are far superior to man in their keenness of smell and hearing, their vision has been found to be considerably less acute, notes the National Geographic Society. It is believed that dogs see objects best when they are 20 or more feet distant.

Third biggest city in the Americas is Buenos Aires, Argentina's capital. Its 3,000,371 inhabitants rank it behind New York and Chicago and ahead of Philadelphia.

GIRL SCOUTS

Christmas shoppers will be even happier because of the good luck and generosity of our local girl Scouts. Through the Gift Wrapping and Sun Co. of Boston are loaning a Wurlitzer Electric Organ to be placed in Filene's the week of December 18th. A musical program will be enjoyed each day from 3:45 p. m. to 4:15 p. m. Miss Grace Norian and Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham will be the organists. The Girls Scouts chorus consisting of sixty voices will be heard at a special program during the week. This Christmas music will be directed by Mrs. Witham.

Last Notice — Don't neglect to deliver gifts and cookies for the Christmas clinic party on December 18th from 9 to 11 at the Scout Office or 2 to 4 at the Board of Health Office, Mt. Vernon street. Let no one be disappointed through neglect on a Scout's part.

All who have tickets to the Roller Skating Party circle the date on the calendar and arrive on time at the Arena. The 750 girl registered at our Scout Office can use a good deal of help to keep up and we are sure Santa Claus will be pleased at an early opening for the Yuletide meeting. The attending were entertained by a group of girls who gave a demonstration of how to make a Christmas wreath. The next meeting will be held January 2nd.

It is hoped that Mr. Barbara Mott, Director of Girl Scouts Association of the New England Section at the Annual Meeting.

Mrs. Marion Lasky with her Troop 66 of eighth grade girls enjoyed an outing at the cabin this past weekend. The weather in no way dampened the spirits of the girls.

The Dri-Ski School met for the second time and reports that the greatest need now is for second hand equipment — if anyone has any articles to sell, will you please call Mrs. F. Parsons at Winchester 6-1313-J.

Plans for January are underway.

The March of Dimes Campaign Comm. has again asked the Girl Scouts to assist by stuffing and addressing 5,000 envelopes. Though the material has arrived the work hours will be announced later.

CHRISTMAS OBSERVANCES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The observance of Christmas at the First Baptist will begin with the presentation of White Gifts for the less fortunate. These will be brought by the Church School members in the Processional at the Morning Sanctuary Service, Sunday, December 17th. The Pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, will preach on "The Treasures Upon Earth."

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 17th, the Primary department of the Church School will have their Christmas party. In the evening the Youth Fellowship will present the pageant "And So They Came to Bethlehem," assisted by the Senior choir. The cast of the pageant is as follows: Prophet, Stewart Carlisle; Innkeeper, James MacLeod; Mary, Patricia Dade; Joseph, Sherman Josephson; Two Shepherds, Cecil Pride and David Ripley; Shepherd boy, Richard Bingham; Three wise men, Margaret Reid, Emily Allen, Sally Parkin; Herod, Richard Foster; Three Kings, James Ekstrom, Russell MacLeod, Walter Bosselman; Two Candle bearers, Linda Leavitt and Barbara McLatchy. John Hunt Chapple is directing the pageant.

On Thursday afternoon, December 21st, at 3 o'clock, the Nursery and Kindergarten Christmas party will take place. The Juniors have their party at 3:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, December 22nd, and the Junior High and Senior High group meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening for their Christmas celebration. The Cubs will have their Christmas party at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, December 23rd.

At the Morning Sanctuary Service, Christmas Sunday, December 24th, the three choirs of the church will sing. The Pastor will preach on "A Child is Born." In the evening the members of the Youth Fellowship will meet at the church to go caroling to the homes of the parish, returning to the Church for refreshments.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these Christmas services.

SENIOR FORUM CHRISTMAS SERVICE

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will hold its Christmas service in the Social Hall at 9:30 Sunday morning.

The Forum Dramatic Club will present a beautiful Christmas Play, "White Christmas," by Dorothy Clarke Wilson. The cast is as follows:

William Marshall ..... Dick Reid
Kate Marshall, his wife ..... Catherine Gordon
Bob Marshall, his son ..... Bob Burnham
Carolyn Marshall, his daughter ..... Joan Moore
Junie Marshall, his small daughter ..... Tina Tonon
Charlie, his Chinese servant ..... David Archibald
The Small One, Charlie's daughter ..... Nancy Ayer
Mr. Milton Craig ..... Jacqueline Chapman

The scene is the living room of the Marshall's home and the time is Christmas Eve.

Following the play there will be a lovely Christmas service of worship with carol singing by the Forum, two special numbers, "Holy Child," and "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings," by the Forum Choir under the direction of Dorothy Brandt and several special numbers by the Forum Instrumental Music Group under the leadership of Scot Cunningham.

Norman Malcolmine will be the chanter assisted by Peter Coon. The offering will be received by Peter Jones and John Butler, and ushers will be Joan Atkinson and Phil Lee.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly annual Christmas Party will be held Monday, December 18th, at Masonic Hall. A large attendance was present. After the singing of Christmas Carols directed by Music Chairman, Mrs. Milton Galucia and a short business meeting, the President, Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoe presented Mrs. D. Talmadge Eib, Eighth District Director and our guest of honor, who brought greetings from the State Federation.

The program, "Let's Go To The Theatre", consisted of a dramatization of the Season's best plays by Miss Ethel H. Bowers. It was indeed a pleasure to tour the New York Theatres with Miss Bowers in the following plays: "Call Me Child," and "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings," by the Forum Choir under the direction of Dorothy Brandt and several special numbers by the Forum Instrumental Music Group under the leadership of Scot Cunningham.

Norman Malcolmine will be the chanter assisted by Peter Coon. The offering will be received by Peter Jones and John Butler, and ushers will be Joan Atkinson and Phil Lee.

"Season In The Sun", "Affairs Of State", "The Happy Time", a comedy with interest for the whole family. "Member Of The Wedding" is a drama that helps one to understand the great spiritual and emotional problems of the younger generation. "The Cocktail Party", by T. A. Elliot, appreciated much by New Yorkers, is a "Real Creation", a psychological study of human nature universally. Miss Bowers considers "South Pacific" simply a wonderful play. A love story with music and the song with which it closes, "You Have To Be Taught To Hate And Fear", brought home to the audience that none are born with race prejudice. Miss Bowers gave her audience a delightful entertaining and understanding selection of the individual and current plays.

At the conclusion of the program, while the ringing of Christmas bells were played, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Conrad S. Rosander, Mrs. Erskine H. Kelly, Mrs. Richard A. Smith.

The pleasure of the Guest Night meeting was further augmented by Mr. Sidney Barr, a "Fortnightly" husband who added a great deal to the evening's entertainment by his piano accompaniment for the Christmas Carols and for an informal Musicale during the social hour.

Committee Activities

Literature Committee — Miss Gertrude Hall, Chairman.

On Monday, December 4, at the Winchester Public Library, Miss Eva M. Sherman, member of the Literature Group, reviewed a new biography of the poet, John Greenleaf Whittier, "Friend of Man" written by John A. Pollard.

"Whittier," stated Miss Sherman "born of Quaker parents in Haverhill, Mass., was endowed with a strong religious faith as revealed in his love for truth and beauty and expressed in the many beautiful hymns which he composed and which are included in the hymnody of Churches of nearly all denominations. He is still considered the most deeply religious poet bred in the United States. Another powerful factor in Whittier's life was his firm faith in democracy. An outstanding Social thinker of the 19th Century, he was ever ready to challenge that which perverted any principle of what is good, noble and outstanding." Whittier's interests, however, became more and more all the embracing as he grew older.

Miss Sherman's presentation was scholarly, and was received with great interest and an animated discussion followed by the following business meeting.

Peace Service — Mrs. William Priest, Chairman.

Mrs. Priest reports Fortnightly Members busy knitting sweaters for our men in the Navy. Also in response to a request from the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, The Fortnightly contributed a large Christmas box to "Tarkington House", London, England — a home for the aged, operated by the Women's Voluntary Group of London.

Marie P. Herlihy of San Francisco, California is visiting her mother, Mrs. Grace Herlihy for the Christmas Holidays.

THE MARY WITHAM SINGERS

The Mary Witham Singers are this season assisting in musical programs at the Unitarian Church. Most of the members took part in Mrs. Witham's recent presentation of Henry Hadley's cantata "The New Earth," augmenting the choir to give desired volume and balance, and assisting in the fine quality and sensitive response of the women's choral parts. In the Christmas Masque to be given at the church this coming Sunday afternoon they will again take part, singing a program of lovely carols as a prelude to the Masque.

The membership of the Mary Witham Singers is as follows:

Louise Baghdoyan, Olive Bird, Sabina Brandt, Claire Curtis, Caroline Fitts, Barbara Gaston, Marjorie Galucia, Elizabeth Gardner, Sophia Gardner, Susan Graves, Siron Hovnanian, Nellie Hoggren, Mary Hyde, Irene Kane, June MacKenzie, Lillian Mountain, Elizabeth Moynahan, Mary Nolan, Laura Parsons, Evelyn Sprague, Frances Walker, Helen Ward, Madeleine Zimmerman, and Mrs. Norian, accompanist.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Henry Bethel announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Patricia Pollock, of New York City, to Ronald H. Hamann, also of New York, and formerly of Winchester.

TROOP 12 PARENTS' NIGHT DECEMBER 16TH

Troop 12, B. S. A., of St. Mary's Church, will hold a Parents' Night at Knights of Columbus Hall on Saturday evening, December 16, at 7:30 p. m. The scouts will present a varied program of scouting exhibitions and there will also be an entertainment period of musical selections and a couple of humorous skits.

Scoutmaster Robert Fiore has announced that a guest speaker will be present as will Rev. John P. O'Riordan, sponsor of the troop. The scouts will be awarded points for their particular troop based on the number of parents and friends, for whose presence they are responsible. Refreshments will be served. A movie of the outdoors in relation to scouting is being sought, and the awarding of badges and attainment will be made in the ever popular, colorful, candlelight ceremony.

That the troop is growing is evidenced by the fact that another patrol has been created, this making a total of 5 patrols in the troop.

At the most recent meeting of the troop, a welcome visitor was Scout Executive McFeeley who expressed himself well pleased at the "humming" activity he witnessed. Accompanying Mr. McFeeley was Scouting Commissioner Muncaster. Defense "Atom" leaflets were distributed to the scouts for circulation through the town.

Don't forget the date Parents and Friends of Scouting, Saturday evening, December 16th at K. of C. Hall.

On Tuesday evening, December 12, the Junior Circle of the Winchester Florence Crittenton League had its annual Christmas party at the Florence Crittenton Maternity Home.

Miss Manning Morrill entertained everyone with several of her delightful monologues, and Mrs. Joseph Butler played for the community Christmas Carols which followed. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

In selecting "Iolanthe" the Staff and Key Society chose a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta that wants a bit of doing, and this should be kept firmly in mind in appraising this up and coming group's production. Your reviewer saw the show Saturday and enjoyed it, particularly the second act. The opening act seemed to lack pace and vitality, and was neither sung nor acted as well as Act 2. A lot is asked of amateurs to put over that fairy stuff at the opening of the operetta, a very light touch and experienced personnel being pretty necessary.

The second act, with its grand setting was much better, perhaps because the irrepressible Mr. Hancott was on more, and when he is on things happen fast and furiously. His Lord Chancellor was a complete delight, his agility, facial expression, miming and stage business being at professional level. You marveled at his diction in the difficult nightmare song and continued to hope he would return for even another encore in his hilarious song and dance number with Mountararat and Tolleller, ad libbed back stage by Private Willis.

This skit really stopped the show and the contributions made to it by Mr. Russell as the Earl of Mountararat, Mr. Bennett as Earl Tolloller and Dr. Blanchard as Private Willis should not be forgotten. All were tops and teamed together beautifully. The same was true of the quartet number of the second act, in which Mountararat, Tolloller and Private Willis were joined by Phyllis, the heroine of the show, sung by Miss de Lange.

Miss de Lange was an attractive Phyllis, singing and acting the role in the finished fashion that comes with professional experience. As her lover, Strephon, Mr. Parks seemed not too well cast, though he acquitted himself very acceptably.

Vocal honors were shared by Miss Keane as the Fairy Queen and by Mr. Russell as Mountararat. Miss Keane displayed a fine sense of the dramatic and a well schooled contralto voice, entirely equal to the demands of the role and beautifully used in the solo, "Ah Foolish Fay," perhaps the out-standing musical number of the show.

If it were not, then Mr. Russell's, rousingly sung ode to the old days of Queen Bess and King George surely was, the singer's well placed baritone and clear diction being very effective. Nor should we forget to praise the all around singing and acting of Mr. Bennett, his tenor voice being very pleasant to listen to.

Dr. Blanchard, once more, had to do the best he could in a bass role with a voice intended by nature to be a tenor. He is improving and with the coming years may yet get down to that low F. Meanwhile his handling of the comic aspects of his role could not have been better, but should his troubles not have been black?

Miss Goodwin did very well by the role of Iolanthe histrionically, her handling of the final scene with the Chancellor and Queen being especially well done. Vocally she was on the light side though her voice is pleasant. Miss Crowe, Miss Anifantis and Miss Hickey were better in their singing than their spoken lines, their overly affected speech making it hard to get what they were talking about.

As a matter of fact the diction in the show as a whole was away below that of the "Mikado" a year ago. Perhaps the show itself is to blame, perhaps more emphasis was placed on singing this year. Certainly the singing was improved, if you will forget the Chorus of Peers, which however was hilariously funny.

The show was well staged and costumed, and, the lighting was good except in a few instances when faces were more in the shadow than they should have been. The chorus sang with enthusiasm and the women were very effective in their numbers with the Queen. The finale was well done, and you couldn't help thinking as you watched and listened what a long way the Staff and Key has come from Trial by Jury, its first modest production in 1918.

With this improvement come added responsibilities, such as in the matter of casting, chorus as well as principals, and seating of those who support the shows as the audience. Noticeably late starting doesn't add to the pleasure of those risking pneumonia and stiff neck in the seats near the doors.

Mr. Einzig took the music at a good pace and kept the show capably in hand. He had to go to the platform at the finale to acknowledge the applause, both of the audience and the performers. Mrs. Cushman, the invaluable accompanist, and Mrs. Center, the dancing coach, deservedly shared the platform and applause.

The orchestra did pretty well with a score that isn't too easy for amateurs, and Mr. Einzig insisted on their taking a well deserved bow. May we suggest that much more of their pre-show practising could better have been done before they took their places in the pit?

Rita Fernald was production manager with Ruth Albee, Rebecca Zimmerman and Mrs. W. B. Lunsford in charge of costumes, Barbara Vincent, Marie Barron and Mary Jane Hooper, properties; Joan Donaghey, Don Suppes, Robert Loftus, Henry Dellicker and Alvan Smith, lighting; and George Connor, John MacLellan, George Gowdy, H. Kimball Archibald, Raymond Carter and W. Allan Wilde, Jr., stage crew.

K. OF C. CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN

There will be candy and ice cream of course as no party is complete without these goodies. Volunteers among the members of the K. of C. are urged to visit the Town Hall on Sunday morning from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon to assist the Chairman in arrangements.

EDAVILLE CHRISTMAS SOUTH CARVER, MASS.

Dedicated to the love and goodness that the late Ellie D. Atwood had for little children and significant to the program which he himself had planned prior to his sudden and tragic death on November 30th, the Christmas Lights display at Edaville in South Carver, Mass., was turned on at 4:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, December 7th.

This was the announcement of Mrs. Elethea Atwood, wife of the man who had brought happiness and Christmas cheer to the hearts of thousands of New Englanders through his narrow gauge railroad and his annual Christmas display.

When the lights were turned on Thursday evening there was no ceremony as of other years but the 12,000 lights which will soon to January 2 will carry the message of Christmas which Mr. Atwood had left in his passing.

Immediately as the lights were turned on, the first train of the Christmas season left the Edaville station for its journey over the five and one-half miles of track through the cranberry bog country and past the many Christmas settings that have been erected for the coming Christmas season.

"It's Always Christmas Time" the inside theme of the display, a re-creation by Harry E. Fraser, decorator of Norwood, of the little country village display of 1911, "Edaville" has been set up some fifteen minutes' ride on the train out of the Edaville station and can be seen only from the train. Motor vehicle traffic on the highland was to be excluded. To supplement "Edaville" here was over 12,000 Christmas lights with Christmas trees, stories, polar bears, Snow White and the seven dwarfs, cribs and nativity scenes, Santa Claus and his reindeer and many other surprises along the picturesque train route.

Edaville station was a splendor of Christmas lights, the screen house, the museum and other buildings in the area being adorned with lights of Yule colors.

Mrs. Atwood, who herself will carry on this year with the same spirit of her husband, the late Mr. Atwood, announced that two trains would be operated daily at intervals of fifteen minutes. The trains will start at 1:30 o'clock each afternoon with the last train each night leaving the station at 10 p. m.

More than seven people rode on the train each day during the month of December, and an even larger number is expected this season.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The December board meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association, held last Friday in the General Assembly Room of the Town Hall, was enlivened by several topics introduced by the Executive Director, Mrs. Doris Wiklund, and by committee chairmen. Mrs. Henry E. Moffette presided.

The report of 145 patients cared for by the nurses during November [illegible] visits to home and 7 office [illegible] the necessary purchase of a blood pressure machine; plans [illegible] January [illegible] Defense [illegible] when printed in black and white, were accompanied [illegible] spirited discussion at the meeting.

The many Winchester women who have had the privilege of serving on the board of the Winchester District Nursing Association in the past, and those on the present board, know full well how interesting and challenging these monthly meetings are, and how filled with usefulness and a sense of accomplishment. Each board member brings a definite talent and contribution to the board — and does not hesitate to express sincere opinions!

The meeting on Friday was no exception. Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth reported on a recent conference her Education committee attended with an excellent panel discussion on Union Health Departments. Such Unions are planned for communities of 35,000 people non-political departments to make the seven basic health services available to all citizens. Such a union is already being tried in Lincoln and neighboring towns, and 10 other towns have met and are ready to launch similar plans.

On this timely subject of "health unions", the board had many opinions. And some members felt strongly that since health unions would be supported by taxes, citizens would give less and less support to private agencies spreading the feeling of "let the government and taxes do it" idea. Other board members felt that "this would open the doors wide to socialized medicine — starting with organized health programs locally, then on the wider level". Members felt that the health unions would be excellent if rigid control were kept on them by the towns themselves.

Still another group of board members felt that health unionism was a piece of legislation passed too hastily, with a "slap at our excellent State Department of Public Health." All in all, the topic came in for heated and intelligent discussion.

When it was suggested that "health unions" be a topic for the January meeting, the board agreed that it was a good topic — but that the subject of Civil Defense, at this time, was a more vital one. The vote to have the latter the subject for the Annual Meeting (date to be announced) was unanimous.

At the Friday meeting, the resignation of Mrs. Charles Brown of Grove street was accepted with regret, and Mrs. Sears Walker was welcomed to the board, replacing Mrs. Walcott Thompson who has resigned.

Reports

Mrs. Sears Walker was appointed to the Education committee, with Mrs. Vaughan Harmon serving on the Nursing Committee.

Mrs. Wiklund's always-stimulating report on the work of the nurses showed that the cases to date this year are fewer than last year, but with a notable increase in the full-pay patients and more who are paying [illegible] dollar [illegible].

She [illegible] the blood pressure machine, and polio pack, steamer and sterilizer which En Ka will pay for, has been ordered by the nurses "on approval".

As of January, a new form will be used by patients requesting a reduction in the customary fee of two dollars — a form to be filled out by the nurse on the case in cooperation with the family.

Mrs. Wiklund told the recent meeting of the nurses with the Medical advisors to go over the standing orders, and to bring the Visiting Nurses' Manual up to date. At this meetnig, Mrs. Moffette and Mrs. Guy Livingston of the Nursing Committee were in attendance.

Lovely and useful gifts from the Needlework Guild were listed by Mrs. Wiklund, some of which have been given out to needy patients — and others of which are being saved for Christmas giving.

Miss Helen Monroe, finance chairman, reported that the Association's budget had been approved by the local Red Feather budget committee, and will be sent to the Boston office.

From Mrs. [illegible], the board received the proposed nominations for the Association for 1951-52, to be presented in January, at the annual meeting.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. C. William Ross of 7 Wyman Court announce the birth of a second son, Robert Michael, on November 12 at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Ross is the former Kathryn Murray.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Murray of [illegible] avenue; and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ross of Green [illegible].

HOOPSTERS TO BE HOST TO CONWAY TEAM

Winchester High opens its home basketball season tomorrow night when it entertains Kennett High of Conway, N. H. at the high school gym. It appears that the locals have chosen a toughie with which to open their season as Kennett High won the Class B championship of the State of New Hampshire last March. The visitors have three regulars from that championship team of a year ago which gives them a big edge in experience over the Red and Black which is building from scratch this year with no returning lettermen. Another big factor favoring the invaders is that they have already played four games, winning three of them, while the locals will have only one game under their belts.

Leading the New Hampshire boys are their co-captains, Fred Hale and Danny Quint, with Hale posing the big problem for Winchester. Big Fred was selected as the center of the all-tournament team last March and is definitely the one the locals must stop. The Red and Black know him from past experience as he threw in 22 points against them last year in the game at Conway. Co-captain Quint is a rangy, three year veteran forward who knows his way around the court. The other veteran is "Pee-Wee" French, a small, tricky guard who is the outside man and playmaker for the visitors. A fourth returning letterman is John King while a six-foot newcomer, Drew Webster, will complete the starting five. This combination will give the Kennett boys considerable height and experience and will present the locals with a tough hurdle to overcome in their first home game.

Coach Bartlett has selected a seven-man first team made up of John DiLorio and Stowell Symmes at forward, Rod Long and Doug Hawkins at center, and Tony Ciruiso, John Farrell and Charlie Murphy at guard. Others who will see action with the first team are Bob Forester and Peter Coon at the forward berths and Joe Donlon in the rear court. This combination offers good height but lacks speed and experience which is bound to prove costly in a tight game. Scrimmages have been held in the past week with Matigiom High and Medford High and the locals have not looked impressive as their offense is not functioning smoothly. They have looked aggressive, however, and the aggressiveness along with their height may prove valuable factors in their gradual development.

A preliminary game between the Winchester Seconds and the Arlington High Seconds will get underway at 7:30 p. m.

BASKET BALL NIGHT AT BELMONT

A very successful first Annual Middlesex League Basketball Night was staged at Belmont High last Friday night before an appreciative gathering of over 600 fans. Lewis "Polly" Harris of Belmont acted as master of ceremonies for the affair and kept the program running smoothly. League president, Wade L. Grindle, welcomed the gathering and presented the Good Sportsmanship Trophy to Coach Karl Elerin of Stoneham, the 1950 winners.

Coach Kenneth Creighton of Concord, chairman of the Basketball Night, explained that one of the purposes of the program was educational as coaches and league officials alike are concerned about the rising growth of spectator unsportsmanship as contrasted with the exemplary conduct of the players. He praised the high quality of the basketball played in the Middlesex League, stating that it is the best Class B basketball in Eastern Massachusetts.

An enlightening discussion of the changes in the rules for this year was presented, after which the all-star game was played. Coach Ted Bartlett's all-stars from Belmont, Lexington, Concord and Reading were easy victors over Coach Mel Wenner's all-stars from Winchester, Melrose, Stoneham and Wakefield. Tony Ciurso and John Farrell represented the Red and Black on the losing all-star aggregation.

A foul-shooting contest was held during the half of the all-star game which proved hotly contested and interesting to the spectators. Polese of Belmont High won the trophy awarded the winner as he successfully netted 14 free throws in 15 attempts. Winchester's Doug Hawkins placed second with a commendable record of 12 successful conversions in 15 attempts.

The cheerleaders of all eight schools were present to enliven proceedings as they led cheers for their particular heroes as well as massed cheers for the whole league. A souvenir booklet was distributed to all in attendance which presented historical and present background material, final league standings of recent years, and individual league scoring records of recent seasons. The concensus of opinion was that it was definitely a worthwhile program and one well worth repeating in future years.

RAINBOW CHRISTMAS PARTY

On Friday evening, December 8, the Winchester Rainbow Girls held their annual Christmas party. A very beautifully decorated tree surrounded by gifts gave the hall the necessary Holiday spirit. Santa Claus appeared from the North Pole early so that he would be on hand to wish all the "good girls" a Merry Christmas. He gave presents to all and each girl sat on his knee and told him what she wanted for Christmas.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of cream puffs, filled with ice-cream, topped with chocolate sauce and tea and coffee were served.

The playing of games after the refreshments concluded a well planned evening, and a good time was had by all.

The committee deserved much praise for their efforts in making the party successful.

The next big event to be given by the Winchester Rainbow Girls will be a "Variety Show", at Masonic Hall, Friday evening, January 5, at 8 o'clock. Further information will be published later. An enjoyable evening of entertainment is in store for all those who attend.

The Fire Department had two runs on Tuesday, going at 10:05 a. m. to take care of an oil burner leak in the basement of the home of Mr. James N. Jones, 41 Ledyard road. At 4:47 p. m. a leaky smoke pipe caused oil burner fumes to alarm the occupants of the home of Mr. John McGuerty, 10 Loring avenue.

Dr. Rogers continued in Winchester in his own office, practicing in town for 15 years before opening an office on Commonwealth avenue in Boston. He lived in this town from 1902 until 1940 when he moved to Scituate, and while here married Fanny Rich, who was then teaching in the Winchester schools.

PLANS FOR HEMROULLE FRIENDSHIP MEETING OUTLINED

The committee in charge of arrangements for receiving the gifts sent to the churches of Winchester by the people in Hemroulle, Belgium, met with representatives of the churches Wednesday evening at the home of the committee chairman, Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, 91 Mystic Valley Parkway.

The meeting was called to acquaint the church representatives with the tentative program for the meeting to be held at the high school auditorium on Sunday afternoon, January 7, when the town will officially accept the pictures from the chapel in Hemroulle which the people of that little village are sending to the people of Winchester in appreciation of what Winchester did for them in returning sheets loaned by the Hemroulle villagers to camouflage Col. John Hanlon's Paratroopers during the days of the Battle of the Bulge.

Col. Hanlon could not return the sheets after the battle and it wasn't until after the war that he got the people of his home town of Winchester to collect sheets to be sent to Hemroulle to pay the debt he made with the people of the village.

The Hemroulle villagers were deeply moved by the return of their sheets and are sending to Winchester pictures from their chapel to hang in our churches as proof that they have not forgotten.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Kenneth Toye, who headed the Sheets Collection campaign in 1947, is preparing a program for the acceptance of the gifts on January 7, the program to be broadcast to Belgium.

Representatives of the churches present Wednesday evening were Commander Rony Snyder, Second Congregational Church; Malcolm D. Bennett, Church of the Epiphany; Mrs. Leon Leavitt, First Baptist Church; Ernest Wright, First Church of Christ Scientist; Milton Galucia, Crawford Memorial Methodist Church; Prof. Eugene G. Rochow, Unitarian Church; and George T. Davidson, First Congregational Church. Mrs. John J. Gorman, representing St. Mary's Church, was unable to be present, and a representative of the Immaculate Conception Church has yet to be assigned. Edward A. Bartlett, who is to be master of ceremonies on January 7, was present, as was Selectman Nicholas Fitzgerald, representing the Board on the committee; and Fred Felmet, who will be in charge of music. The complete program of the meeting to be held January 7 will appear in next Friday's Star.

Football Coach Henry Knowlton with left guard, Prep Keyes, and left halfback, Joe Donlon were guests of the Cornell Club of New England Tuesday evening at a football dinner held at the Hotel Brunswick. Before the dinner Coach Knowlton was one of a number of high school coaches from Greater Boston who met with the Cornell Coach, Lefty James, for a football talkfest. Following dinner the coaches again convened to see Cornell football movies and discuss plays and strategy with Coach James.

TROOP 12 PARENTS' NIGHT

On Saturday evening, December 16th at K. of C. Hall Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church presented a Parents' Night.

"Assembly" was conducted by Scoutmaster "Bob" Fiore, after which Chairman of the Troop Committee, Albert T. McDougall, welcomed the parents and friends of the boys. He introduced individually the members of his committee and called upon messrs. Winn, DiBona and Russo who are scout dads to take a bow for their assistance during the past year on several occasions. He also asked Scout George Wheaton to show his many swimming medals and also son, Alan McDougall, who though still too young to be a scout had amassed a few swimming medals of his own in swimming competition in his own class.

A Troop Exhibition was held under the direction of Scoutmaster Bob Fiore and Asst. Scoutmaster Albert Thorne, Jr., Scout Tom Morrissey explained "Atomic Defense"; Scouts Robert Thorne, Peter Cullen, Henry Quill, Laurence Erhard and Richard DiMinico demonstrated different knots and explained their purpose. Scout George Wheaton and David Fortiere demonstrated the Fireman's Lift while the Fireman's Carry was done by Henry Quill and Thomas Grace. Scout Peter Cullen ably explained the purpose of each item in a Full Scout Pack and artificial respiration was displayed by John DiBona, George Wheaton and Peter Cullen.

Highlight of the demonstrations was the amazing "breakfast" cooked up by Scoutmaster Bob Fiore in the quickest of winks. Using a large grapefruit tin can with part of one side cut and bent out, he cooked bacon and an egg on the top, with fire going inside, and made toast on the extended side bent outwards.

The entertainment period featured Scouts Tony Doyle and Laurie Erhard, Joe Russo, Henry Quill and Tom Morrissey, John DiBona, and Laurence Erhard, with the scout quintet composed of Robert Thorne, Dick DiMinico, Henry Quill, Robert Winn, and Tommy Grace, with Laurie Erhard on the piano, presenting two Christmas Carols, a Scouting song and the new popular "Lady of Fatima."

Mr. McDougall called next upon "Mr. Scouting" himself, Staff Rogers, head of Explorer Scouting in Winchester, who pointed out that Scoutmaster Bob Fiore is the fifth scoutmaster, he has witnessed who had been one of his scouts. He spoke on the meaning of camping and its value and read a poem entitled, "There's a Campsite Far Away," which he said modestly, he had picked up somewhere. Field Executive McFeeley, who followed Mr. Rogers, announced that the poem was Staff's own creation, and a beautiful summation on "Camping"! "There are three reasons for camping," said Mr. Rogers, "Health, Knowledge, and Happiness."

Rev. Francis O'Neill, Troop Chaplain, expressed his pleasure at the many parents present and declared that scouting, as in other youth organizations or groups, also needs their support. He announced the coming departure of the Grace family to California and called upon Scout Tommy Grace to come forward and be presented by Fran Bees, representing the troop, with a beautiful scout ring, while his own "Apache" patrol also presented him with a pen and pencil set. Field Executive McFeeley's movie of "Scouting" in color was an excellent presentation.

Before the serving of refreshments under Mr. Sam Vangel's jurisdiction, awards were made in an effective "Candlelight Ceremony" as follows:

Star Scout, Safety, Service Star and Perfect Attendance, L. Erhard; Star Scout and Perf. Att., Tom Morrissey, Tenderfoot Badges; Dave DeCourcy; Owen Reardon; Bill McCormack; Dave Fortiere; John Fentross; Peter Dee; Larry Bairstow; Ernest Reardon; Charlie Allan; Ed McPartlin; James McElholm; John Neas; George Wheaton; Service Stars, Scouts Quill; Russo; DiMinco; Grace; Cullen; Winn; DeCourcy; O.Reardon; McCormack; DiBona; Allen; E. Reardon; and Perfect Attendance, Tim Sullivan. A Five Year Service Pin was presented to S. M. Fiore by Mr. McDougall. Mrs. Albert Thorne and Mrs. Vincent Erhard were the recipients of Star Scout "Mother" pins, miniatures of the ones their sons received.

Representing the Winchester District Nursing Association at the first of a series of monthly meetings scheduled during the winter and spring to coordinate health activities in the 20 cities and towns served by Red Feather visiting nurses were Mrs. Henry E. Mofette and Doris L. Wiklund, R. N., executive director.

MAKE LONG DISTANCE CALLS EARLY

Make Christmas greeting long distance calls early, too — during the day on Sunday or even as early as Saturday — the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company suggests.

For on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day long distance lines all over the country will be crowded and on some routes delays are bound to occur, the Company says.

In its five-state area the Company expects a Christmas Eve-and-Day volume of long distance calls that may exceed last year's by as much as ten per cent. In Metropolitan Boston this means that operators will be handling some 50,000 calls to all parts of the country.

To meet the nationwide rush all telephone companies will adjust long distance circuits and operating procedures to the unusual conditions of holiday calling. This is made necessary not only by the high volume of calls but by the out-of-the-ordinary distances and places that people want to call, plus the fact that conversations are longer and answers at called telephones a little slower. Even "Don't answers" run higher than average. All of which eats up the circuits and makes for delays.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Scott of New Meadows road, with their sons Dick and Doug are spending Christmas with Mrs. Scott's parents at Buckstown, Penna.

"How many cars, son?"

How many warm, lighted cars and how many hundred people headed home?

We could count them I guess . . . we might even guess pretty close at the people. But we couldn't even estimate the happiness that rides those trains — the Christmas dinners and holiday gifts that ride that freight and, aboard the passenger train, the happiness of reunion . . . the happiness of anticipation . . . the happiness of being on the road home — and nearly there.

The Boston and Maine — the road home for so many New Englanders — hopes that this Christmas will be joyous for you and your family . . . and that the coming year will bring peace and prosperity to you — our neighbors and our friends.

1950 / 1951

As we turn the page to a new half century, we look at the progress we are making to improve our service to northern New England. Today, all main-line passenger routes are Dieselized. 95% freight train Dieselization now means faster schedules, more continuous service. Roadbeds are better . . . heavier rails have been laid . . . plants and facilities much more completely mechanized . . . signal systems are of the most modern type.

Yes, these have been years of progress . . . and the years ahead will mark even greater improvement.

WINCHESTER HOOPSTERS WON OPENER

Winchester High pried the lid off its 1950 season by taking a high-scoring 65 - 48 victory from Danvers High at Danvers last Friday night. The Red and Black surprised even its most sanguine rooters by presenting a smooth functioning and sharp shooting attack in its initial outing to give evidence that this quintet may become a higher scoring outfit than its predecessor. A pleasing feature of the high scoring was that it was not confined to one man as no less than four of the locals hit for double figures.

Winchester jumped away to a 19 - 11 lead at the end of the first quarter and increased it by three points in the second period to lead 31 - 20 at the half. The third period saw Danvers show its only real offensive punch of the contest as they cut the Winchester lead to seven points at 45 - 38 at the end of that period. Superior condition enabled the Red and Black to run away from the opposition in the final quarter as they doubled the Danvers output to win easily. The turning point of the game came early in this final quarter on three quick breakaways by Stowell Symmes for baskets which broke the Danvers' attack and provided the locals with a comfortable 13 point lead.

Rodney Long paced the Winchester attack with 15 points as he distributed his scoring over each of the four periods. Charlie Murphy and Stowell Symmes were vital cogs in the Red and Black offense with 11 and 10 points respectively. Coach Bartlett was pleased with the way his charges set up their plays to score on frequent easy layups which accounted for the amazing 45% shooting percentage the locals compiled. It was a highly satisfactory opening performance and one that augurs well for the future.

In the preliminary game the Winchester High Seconds pulled out a thrilling 36 - 34 victory over the Danvers High Seconds. Peter Coon was the hero with a clinching foul shot in the final seconds of play while Norman Howard was the high scorer with 11 points.

BANE NEAR WEIGHT MARK

Big Tom Bane of Glengarry, competing for Tufts against Harvard in an indoor track meet last Saturday, was within three inches of a new world's record for the 35 pound weight as he got the big ball with the triangle-shaped handle out 60 ft. 4⅞ in. The accepted mark is 60 ft. 7¾ in., made last year by Jim Schultz of West Point.

Bane, a senior at Tufts, has the build to be a great weight man, standing six feet four inches and weighing 220 pounds. At that he is 30 pounds lighter than he was a year ago and the loss of weight seems to have helped him.

A fine 16 pound hammer thrower, the Winchester boy has been bothered by fouling in this event, though last year he was generally conceded to be the best in New England collegiate circles and was beaten in the New England AAU meet only by the great Sam Felton of Harvard.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Bane, Tom has his eye on the Olympics in 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray and daughter Elsie of 9 Everett avenue are flying down to Miami Beach, Florida, December 15th and will be at the Kenilworth Hotel for six weeks.

THANK YOU EVERYBODY!

Sometimes it takes a misfortune to make us realize how fortunate we are.

That's the way we feel about the kindness that has been shown us since the fire that burned out our shop and stock last Thursday.

Everyone has been so kind, both in expressing sympathy at the time of the fire and in cheerfully accepting our make-shift quarters in the former market at 596 Main Street, that our spirits have been revived, and we are facing the future confidently.

We want everybody to know how much their kindness and loyalty means, and has meant to us.

With deep appreciation of everything that has been done for us, we in turn will do everything possible to prove worthy of such friendly spirit!

WINCHESTER TURNED BACK N. H. INVADERS

Winchester High opened its home basketball season on the right note by pinning a 55 - 30 defeat on Kennett High of Conway, N. H. last Saturday night. The New Hampshire boys appeared to show the effects of their long ride as they seemed sluggish in contrast to the locals who were sharp in their shooting and set up their plays very smartly. The Red and Black turned in a real high scoring period in the second quarter when they poured in 22 points in that stretch to put the game out of the reach of the visitors.

The game started slowly as Winchester led by a score of 6 - 5 at the end of the first period. The sagging defense employed by the visitors bothered the locals who could not set up their plays to drive in for lay-up shots. The injection of Johnny Farrell in the second quarter ignited the spark for the Red and Black, however, as he began to connect from outside the Kennett defense and his teammates loosened up to tally 22 points to take a 28 - 12 halftime lead. The locals made it 40 - 20 at the three-quarter mark and added five points to their winning margin in the final period.

The lion's share of the praise for the Winchester victory must go to Doug Hawkins who did a very effective job of covering Hale, the high scoring Kennett center and the man the locals had feared the most. John Dilorio with 14 points and John Farrell with 10 points were the big guns in the Winchester attack as nine of the ten local performers entered the scoring column. The Red and Black continued their accurate marksmanship by making good on 38% of their shots, many of which were arching shots from outside the bunched Kennett defense.

In a preliminary game the Winchester High Seconds showed tremendous improvement in defeating the Arlington High Seconds 46 - 42 in a close game. Peter Coon and Bob Forester scored 12 points apiece to lead the Winchester attack while Joe Donlon and Stu Thomson were very effective in sweeping the defensive backboard.

WINCHESTER BOY IN SHOW AT COLONIAL

Sam Main, son of Mrs. Charles R. Main and the late Mr. Main, formerly of this town, is cast in "Death of a Salesman" in the Elia Kazan production of Arthur Miller's play now running at the Colonial and staying in Boston through the holiday season.

"Sam," who went to Winchester High and graduated from Dartmouth, played Bernard in the Boston production just as he did for the whole year that the show ran in London, starring Paul Muni.

The Winchester boy has played on Broadway in "John Loves Mary," the Helen Hayes-Maurice Evans "Twelfth Night," "The Army Play by Play," and "Brooklyn Biarritz." He also toured with "Charley's Aunt" and in the pioneer USO production of "Junior Miss" with Barbara Bel Geddes.

UNITARIAN NATIVITY MASQUE

The true and everlasting spirit of the Nativity was vividly imparted to a large and much moved audience Sunday afternoon when the young people of the Winchester Unitarian Church presented a modern Nativity masque in a very unusual and beautiful manner.

Introducing this first event of the Christmas season at the Church the Mary Witham Singers opened the afternoon with a series of minstrely heard carols beginning with the spirited French "Noel Nouvelet," doing an especially fine rendition of the haunting Praetorius "Lo, How a Rose," sung acappella, and ending with the delightful Slovakian "Carol of the Sheep Bells." The young people then took over and presented the Masque, which they had prepared under the direction of the Reverend Robert A. Storer. To many in the audience this still unfamiliar art of the motion choir was a new experience, and all were impressed with the way in which the motion choir, the choral background, the speaking choir, narrator, and tableau principles combined together to capture all the pageantry of Christmas and at the same time convey the basic meaning of Christmas with a direct simplicity. This unique way of presenting the familiar story had the double effect of bringing the audience back into the past to the original Nativity, and bringing the Nativity into the present.

The story opened in the darkened Church with the spirit of all Nations (Polly Kroell) searching for light. She was encouraged by the voices of the unseen speaking choir (Metcalf Union) exhorting her to "Ask and it shall be given you. Seek and ye shall find. Knock and it shall be opened unto you." She was answered by the candle-bearing Spirit of Peace (Marcia Symmes), telling her to "Lift up thine eyes. . . . The people that walk in darkness shall see a great light." The Narrator (Henry A. Dellicker, Jr., who spoke with a voice of good force and detachment) then began to tell the story of the Nativity, written in a manner combining a fresh, simple style with the biblical passages. The motion choir of twelve Angels, each bearing a lighted white candle, entered from the side aisles against the musical background of "Angels We Have Heard on High" (Mary Witham Singers) and made their way around behind the audience and down the center aisle to the chancel. Using their candles to accent their slow contrapuntal movement, they executed in graceful motion a visually lovely pattern. The Narrator then continued and introduced the Shepherds, a motion choir of twelve boys, clothed in simple green tunics and carrying over-large wreaths of green, also made their way to the chancel in a procession marked with harmony of movement. Next appeared the Three Kings bearing gifts, entering in solemnity and costumed most effectively, and following them Mary, Joseph, and two engaging Cherubs. With this scene set, a group of little Children (Primary School) went up and presented gifts of their own making as their offering. The Narrator then summed up the feeling of fellowship of love on that "calm night so long ago," and on the pulpit the Spirit of Peace lighted the candle of the Spirit of all Nations and concluded with a stanza poignant to the contemporary ear: "Arise, shine, for thy light has come. In the light of brotherhood and love, men shall beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation. Neither shall they learn war any more. They shall go out with joy and be led forth with peace." To hear it was to remember that the message of peace, though it be obscured by present events, is, in truth, everlasting.

Throughout the Masque the musical background changed and was expertly blended by Mary Witham as she played organ accompaniment to some parts and then led the Mary Witham Singers who sang choral music which included "Come All Ye Shepherds," "We Three Kings," and "O Come, All Ye Faithful." The entrance of the little Children was introduced by the Brahms Lullaby, with Marian Wright soloing. To Mr. Storer, through whose spirit, originality, direction, and hard work on detail, this impressive Masque was presented, the audience gave hearty and sincere thanks after the performance. The offering which was received at the end of the Masque is to be given to the Unitarian Service Committee for their non-sectarian work at home and abroad.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Last Sunday, the Methodist Youth Fellowship heard a very inspiring talk entitled "Gifts and Giving." It was presented by Mrs. Harris G. Leroy.

Next Sunday, December 24, they will meet at the church at 7:00 p.m. to go caroling. They will return to the Griffiths' and then to the church for the 11 o'clock service.

James M. Daschbach, 21 Crescent road, has been awarded a 25-year Service Emblem by Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, in recognition of his long record of continuous service at the company's coke plant and blast furnace in Everett. Mr. Daschbach is superintendent of the coke plant division.

CHRISTMAS EVE PAGEANT AT EPIPHANY

Candles, the smell of pine and fir, angels with scrubbed faces and the old and beautiful story of the coming of the Wise Men will be combined in the traditional pageant which is being given on Sunday afternoon at Epiphany Church. Due to the large enrollment of this year's Church School there will be two identical services — one at 3 p.m. for the parents and children of the Lower School (Nursery through Third Grade) and a second service at 4:30 p.m. for the parents and children of the Upper School (Fourth through Eighth Grades.) This year's pageant is being directed by Mr. J. Raymond Graham. Traditional Christmas music will be furnished by the Church School Choir under the direction of Mrs. Harlow Russell and accompanied at the organ by Mr. Enos Held. Costumes have been under the supervision of Mrs. Paul Lamarche, Mrs. Albert Baffum and Mrs. Robert Joyce. Mrs. Kenneth Morris is in charge of distributing the traditional figures each child will receive to put on his Christmas tree, and will be assisted by Mrs. Warren Haley, Anne Marks, Louis Towner and John Cotton.

The following children will take part in the pageant:

Mary ..... Cynthia Hill
Joseph ..... John Lynch
Wise Men ..... Donald Folkerts, Peter Stanton and Judson Curtis
Shepherds ..... Dana Lewis, Seth Weston and Charles Urmson
Angels ..... Pamela Miller (Archangel), Margaret McCreery, Martha Hall, Gail Cullen, Diana d'Elseaux, Jean Randlett, Marcia Harris, Leslie Harmon, Joan Sweetser, Gail Collins, Martha Lincoln, Judith Horn and Jane Adams.

The following children will carry Christmas stockings filled to the brim with toys brought by the children of the Parish for the City Mission:

Diane Nolan, Sharan Nycre, Martha Bond, Alice Ann Morse, Gail Pettengill, Susan Ballard, Deborah Whitaker, Sydney Lewis, Deborah Wadsworth, Ronalee Fairfield, Jean Withers, Victoria Russell, Nancy Watkins and Stephanie Miller.

Home for the Christmas holidays from New England School of Art in Boston is Elmira A. Baldacci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giustino Baldacci of 28 Harvard street. Miss Baldacci is an honor student in her freshman year, majoring in Commercial Art and Advertising Design.

A CORRECTION

An error occurred in the publication of the political advertisement headed "Winchester Taxpayers and Voters?" which appeared in last week's Star over the signature of Captain Richard M. Rush of 6 Woodside road.

As it was intended to appear the paragraph follows:

"6. Will Winchester permit pressure groups — with however commendable basic purposes — to impose their will on all the taxpayers and voters of this town? That such groups will, in their hysteria at opposition, stoop to unworthy levels was shown by their persuading of the Mothers' Association, an organization which has the deepest respect of us all, to impress the school children to carry home political propaganda mimeographed in the schools with materials paid for by all the taxpayers; again by failure to invite a single citizen known to be opposed to their project to be present and speak at meetings; and by the shabby attempts by others to threaten the Building Committee of the Washington School Addition that unless they supported the votes of the Special Town Meeting they would not get the addition to that school next March! If we cannot have better democracy than that here at home then our soldiers are fighting for nothing in Korea!"

The Star was entirely responsible for the impression which the original publication of Captain Rush's letter may have conveyed, that the Mothers' Association had conceived the idea of using school children to carry home political propaganda.

We regret the error, the more so because of the intense interest in the coming referendum on the secondary school question, and also because of Captain Rush's tolerant attitude toward the mistake.

ATTENTION

WINCHESTER VOTERS!

Do we need additional secondary school facilities?

Yes. Secondary school enrollment will soon exceed the capacity of our present buildings. Three committees have studied this problem at a cost to the Town of $33,500 and have all arrived at this conclusion. The recommendations of the present building committee to provide additional facilities were overwhelmingly adopted at the recent Special Town Meeting.

Do we need these facilities now?

Yes. Increased elementary school enrollment, new elementary schools recently built or enlarged and others now demanding expansion are definite proof that present secondary school facilities will be inadequate within the next two years.

Does the plan adopted by the Town Meeting by a vote of 162 to 4 provide these facilities?

Yes. The School Committee, elected to represent you, says so. The School Building Committee says so. The plans for these enlarged facilities were presented by architects of recognized ability in the field of school design, Kilham, Hopkins, Greeley and Brodie. Your Board of Selectmen and Planning Board approve the adopted plan.

The Finance Committee, on the basis of its own independent studies, urgently recommends IMMEDIATE action. Your elected Town Meeting Representatives who heard a full and complete debate of the matter voted 162 to 4 in favor of the adopted plan.

Minor details of construction and "educational specifications" must be left to the discretion of qualified committees charged with these responsibilities.

"YES" votes on the Referendum Questions will insure immediate action to meet the needs of our secondary schools.

Wreck of the car, in which "Don" Berridge of Winchester was riding last Saturday night when he was fatally injured as the machine, driven by Karl Proctor of North Reading, left the road on West street in Wilmington and struck two trees. Berridge died 14 hours after the accident in the Choate Hospital, Woburn, without regaining consciousness. Proctor was also hospitalized, but was not critically injured. Berridge and Proctor were two of a group of young men in two automobiles returning to Winchester from Proctor's home in North Reading.

DONALD H. BERRIDGE

Donald H. Berridge, former Winchester High School track star, who made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McDevitt, Jr., at 34 Everett avenue, died Sunday, December 17, at the Choate Hospital in Woburn of injuries sustained Saturday night about 10:30 in an automobile accident in Wilmington. Berridge was one of a group of young men who had been together at his home and had gone to North Reading to pick up Karl Proctor, Jr., 22, Norwich University football player and son of Paymaster Karl Proctor of the Somerville Ford plant. As the party was starting back to Winchester, Proctor decided to take his car and Berridge went with him in his machine.

Police have identified Proctor as driving the car when it left the road and crashed into two trees on West street in Wilmington. Berridge was rendered unconscious by the force of the impact and sustained multiple injuries. He and Proctor were taken to the Choate Hospital in Woburn where Berridge died 14 hours after the accident without regaining consciousness. Proctor was believed at first to be critically injured, but later reports were more reassuring and on Monday he was believed to be on the road to recovery.

Berridge, or "Don" as he was known to his classmates and friends in Winchester, was born August 19, 1930, in Winthrop, the son of Gordon F. Berridge and the late Edith (Carder) Berridge. After the death of his mother, and his father became ill he came to make his home with the McDevitts in Winchester, graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1948.

"Don" was a track star while at high school and one of the best sprinters to represent the school. As a senior he was unbeaten at his favorite distance, the 220 yard dash, winning this event in both the Quadrangular and State Interscholastic meets and aiding materially in bringing the schoolboy State Class D Championship to Winchester in 1948.

Recently "Don" had been working for Stone & Webster in Boston and going to night school at Northeastern University. He was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Surviving, besides his uncle and aunt in Winchester; are his father, in North Reading; two brothers, Gordon, Jr., and Kenneth, both of North Reading; and William of Mattapan.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Anadore. Bearers were: Richard Zarse, Stephen Packhurst, Philip Livingstone, Peter Harris, Willis Carrier, and William Ellis.

Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, North Reading, where the committal prayers were read by Father Anadore.

MEN'S CLUB FATHERS' AND SONS' NIGHT

On Thursday evening, December 14, 1950, the First Congregational Church Men's Club held its popular annual Fathers' and Sons' Night program of fun and entertainment for young and old members and guests.

Forum Basketball and Membership Dues were briefly discussed in the opening remarks of the President, Murray S. Moore, who then called on Lyndy Burnham to carry on as Master of Ceremonies for the three big acts which followed.

Coach Henry Knowlton was then called upon to show his interesting movies of the 1950 Winchester-Woburn football classic, during which he reversed the film at various spots to discuss the most effective plays on each team, as well as proving to all in attendance that the contested Winchester touchdown should certainly have been counted to break the official tie score recorded. The Coach then answered questions from the floor in connection with the strength of the 1951 team and its prospects for another successful season.

Following the movies, Dick Anderson provided mystery and fun for all ages, as he gave a series of demonstrations in magic, many of which acts were picked up while Dick was a G. I. in Japan. The Chinese Rings of solid steel were locked and interlocked at will by our magician, and our genial M. C. loaned his coat and vest for Dick to [illegible] in a heavy and sharp pair of [illegible] the rear of the [illegible]. Il events [illegible] double [illegible] and [illegible] of those present, our magician obtained [illegible] of interested [illegible] owner. So one will ever know what happened to the quart of "milk" that was poured into the conical [illegible] of late Magazine and did the poor kid get killed, or did he get away unharmed? From later discussion of this act, it would seem that the fathers were more mystified than their sons.

The last act was given by the Harvard Cheerleaders, led by David Smith, and included many types of tumbling, most of which are seen at football games and others developed merely for the act itself. Cartwheels, backflips, and forward full body turns were soon followed by more difficult dives and living statuettes, all of which drew considerable applause.

President Moore then thanked all those who had provided such excellent entertainment and invited those in attendance to join in the refreshments, as the meeting came to a close.

WINTHROP HERE TONIGHT

With two victories safely tucked away the Winchester High hoopsters hope to make it three straight tonight when they meet Winthrop High at the high school gym. Winthrop annually turns out top flight quintets and this year's edition furnished evidence of its ability by taking a four-point victory from Melrose High in its opening game last Friday night. This game will provide a real test for the locals and will pretty well indicate what can be expected of the Red and Black in the tough Middlesex League competition which opens next week.

Coach Bartlett is hopeful that his charges will continue their high scoring performances of last week in which they scored 120 points in two games. The boys looked good in rolling up those scores last week and if they can continue to average 60 points a game, they will lose very few games. No lineup changes are contemplated which means that John DiIorio and Stowell Symmes will open at forward, Rodney Long and Doug Hawkins will share the center spot, and Tony Ciruzzo, Charlie Murphy and Johnny Farrell will operate at the guard berths.

Ruth G. Miller of 326 Main street will be home from Bennington College, Bennington, Vermont, for several days over the Christmas holidays.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NEWS

The two gay wreaths above the Main street door and the door to the Principal's Office on Madison avenue were donated by a sixth grade boy, John "Bill" Nichols.

As a part of the Christmas activities, carols and Christmas songs were sung on the landing at the Mystic School every morning for two weeks before Christmas. Beginning with the 6th grades and working down through the lower ones each room took a turn for one morning as their contribution to Christmas cheer. Besides the traditional carols, "The Twelve Days of Christmas, "Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer" and Bing Crosby's "White Christmas" were included as showing another side of the Christmas spirit. The caroling lasted from 8:45 until 9:00, during which time the doors of the classrooms were left open so that all of the children might enjoy the really lovely music created by the children's voices.

As part of the Junior Red Cross activities and their motto "I serve", the Christmas spirit of giving is being emphasized.

The little children are concerned with making things for those they know and love, as mother and father; while the older grades, able to take a slightly more altruistic view, often make things for veterans' hospitals or old people's homes. This year Miss Dogherty's kindergarteners have made cranberry jelly as a Christmas gift for mother, while Daddy will receive frozen fruit juice cans painted and spattered with gold and silver dust to serve as pencil holders. Mrs. Matson's pupils have made similar gifts, although the pencil holders were covered with pictured wallpaper. Thes children also trimmed a large cut-out Christmas tree with colored paper decorations.

The two first grades have been making desk calendars for gifts. The children in Mrs. Laughner's room have also painted a mural entitled "Christmas Morning", while Mrs. Kirkpatrick's pupils have been painting Christmas scenes.

Miss Littlefield's 2nd Graders have also been making desk calendars for Christmas gifts, and have painted a mural — Santa's Work Shop. Mrs. Hartwell's pupils have made recipe folders for mother, and calendar folders for father They have painted two murals — Santa's Trip and Away in The Manger.

The children in the third grades have been very busy rehearsing and singing Christmas carols.

Miss Salice's pupils have painted a mural of Santa's Work Shop and made gifts for mothers and fathers, which are carefully guarded secret. Mrs. Glass has had her class make a Christmas poster from "The Night Before Christmas". The children have also decorated candy boxes for father's gift, and painted decorations on ice cream cartons to use as twine holders for mother's kitchen, as well as designing Christmas cards for their sisters and brothers. They have also made decorations for a tree donated by Francis Alla.

The fourth grade pupils have spent considerable time on their Christmas Carols, and Miss Jurgenson's children, besides painting Christmas pictures, have painted a mural of carollers. Miss Woodell's room has also been busy with Christmas pictures.

"The Carollers" was the subject of the mural painted by Miss Wood's 5th graders, who have also made Christmas cards.

Both sixth grades have been especially active, working on the choir for the Christmas Assembly. Mrs. Thompson's class have made posters and a mural — The Manger Scene. Mrs. McLean's pupils gave a presentation of "The Night Before Christmas" in the classroom as arranged by Miss Helen Goodwin, music supervisor.

LONGO DOG REHABILITATED

King, big German shepherd dog whose devotion to his dead master, Paul Longo, formerly of Wedgemere avenue, seemed likely to cost him his life, has been rehabilitated by Burt Turnquist, founder of the American Dog Training Association.

Turnquist has had King at his Scituate kennels since October 14, working on him with kindness and gradually getting the big dog away from his strongly formed association with man. Little by little King responded and now he is completely cured, so much so that he is going to live with Mrs. Lillian Bonneau of 10 Benton road, Medford, and six year-old Robert Methelis, who with his parents occupies the same house.

Mr. Longo was killed by an explosion at his drive-in theatre in Medford about 10 weeks ago. After his death his dog, King, refused to leave the front porch of the house where he kept a lonely watch for the return of his master. Even after the family left town he stayed at his vigil until Mrs. Bonneau interested Turnquist in his case.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of three calls for the Fire Department last week-end came Sunday forenoon for a short circuit in electrical wiring at the home of Mr. William E. McDonald on Hill street. Sunday evening there was a slight fire in the kitchen of the home of Mr. Charles LaMarca, 103 Church street, and also a chimney fire at the home of Mr. James Livingstone, 8 Sanborn street.

Over the week-end several windows, including the frames, were broken in a house being built by Mr. William J. Murray on High street extension. Two windows were also broken at the home of Mrs. Jenny Frye on Dotham street, which is in the same general neighborhood. The damage was reported to the Police.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Alexander Neiley of 4 Myopia road, and Alastair MacDonald of 37 Wedgemere avenue, students at St. Lawrence University, have returned home for the Christmas holidays. The recess is scheduled through January 2.

Miss Frances Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dodd, 86 Bacon street, is returning home from Vermont Junior College for the Christmas recess, which began December 16 and ends January 2.

WINCHESTER SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The annual meeting of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was held December 5th at the home of Mrs. George Gowdy, chairman of the General Committee.

The nominating committee which consisted of Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, Mrs. Alexander Clark, and Mrs. Walter P. Keyes, presented the following slate of new officers: Mrs. George Gowdy, chairman, Mrs. Edward Stacy, secretary, and Mrs. John Swith, publicity.

Mr. Benjamin Snyder retired after two terms as chairman of the Scholarship Committee. After Mr. Snyder presented his excellent report, a special vote of thanks and appreciation was given for the hours and effort he has so generously spent. Mr. Snyder has worked unceasingly with his able committee to make the Scholarship Foundation the successful project it is today.

This year, as in all the years of the Scholarship Foundation there was sufficient money to send to college, or to some accredited school of higher education, all the students who required aid, and who fulfilled the Committee's requirements. The outstanding aim of the Committee always is to help the worthy student achieve what he wishes most to achieve.

It is of special interest to know that 35 organizations and 30 individuals of the Town of Winchester contributed financially toward the Scholarship Foundation this year. The widespread interest and support that exists is gratifying.

The Scholarship Foundation enjoyed a special honor this year. The Senior Year Book, the Abercona, was dedicated to it. Mr. Benjamin Snyder was present at the Class Banquet when the dedication was made.

New appointments in the Scholarship Foundation are as follows:

Mr. Thomas Morrison, Scholarship Committee, four year term.

Mrs. George Marks and Mrs. Robert Tonon, Gift Committee.

A pleasant coffee hour followed after the meeting was adjourned.

EN KA AND SALVATION ARMY DISTRIBUTE GIFTS

Through the combined efforts of the En Ka Society and the Salvation Army Christmas day will be a much brighter one this year for many needy families in Winchester.

Gifts of warm clothing, sweaters, shoes, and toys will be distributed on Christmas morning. Mr. Davenport Davis of the Winchester Trust Co., and Treasurer of The Salvation Army for Winchester, has made possible this philanthropy.

The purchasing and distribution of the gifts is under the supervision of the very capable Mrs. Dickey of En Ka Society and her assistants: Mesdames D. Barnard, H. Dellicker, T. Downes and Robert Smith.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Committee Activities

Members of the Co-operation With War Veterans Committee, of which Mrs. Stewart Chaffe is chairman, have been very busy during the past weeks in preparing Christmas bags to be sent to the Chelsea Naval Hospital. One interesting feature of work accomplished through this committee was a recent opportunity to assist a United States Army Official located in the Korean area, in the presentation of a Bible and Testaments to a group of Korean soldiers. This American Officer, alone, one evening in his tent sat listening to a group of Korean boys singing the familiar hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." Later, the American upon visiting the group learned of a desire on the part of a Korean Sergeant for a Bible - a Sergeant, who had won his stripes for outstanding work in morale building —, and who wished to continue his work through Scriptural aids. This story was conveyed to Mrs. Adele Emery, a friend of the American Officer, who with the help of Fortnightly members and the assistance of a Bible Society in Boston promptly mailed one large Teacher's Bible for the use of the Sergeant and 30 New Testaments for his group of Korean boys.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Russell Murphy of 409 Main street entertained the Winchester Garden Club at a delightful Christmas meeting on Thursday afternoon, December 14. Each member on arrival was presented with a charming Christmas boutonniere by the hostess.

A colorful Christmas dessert was served in the dining-room where red carnations combined with evergreen and candles made a beautiful centerpiece for the table. Mrs. Frederic L. Oliver poured.

After the business meeting at which the President, Mrs. William W. Goodhue, presided, the Program Chairman, Mrs. Herbert T. West, presented Mrs. Norman Mitchell, who gave a most interesting and useful talk on decorations for the holiday season. Mrs. Mitchell had made most enchanting wreaths, swags and table decorations of varied kinds, a notable one being an out-door scene of old-time carolers before a little white picket fence, with snow on the ground and on the small trees a miniature olden street lamp lighted by a tiny electric light. Mrs. Mitchell had also arranged two beautiful Madonnas with bodyguards of pine. She favors the use of simple materials such as greens and cones and leaves with a minimum of artificial objects.

The pleasure of the afternoon was enhanced by the very lovely decorations in the living-room where the meeting was held. The Club is most grateful to Mrs. Murphy for her generous unfailing hospitality and to Mrs. Mitchell for a Christmas program of great charm.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On December 13 there was an all-day meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club at the Baptist Church Social Hall, where members worked busily on Christmas decorations and favors both for themselves and for the Winchester Hospital, the Home for the Aged and the Public Library, where the Club usually meets.

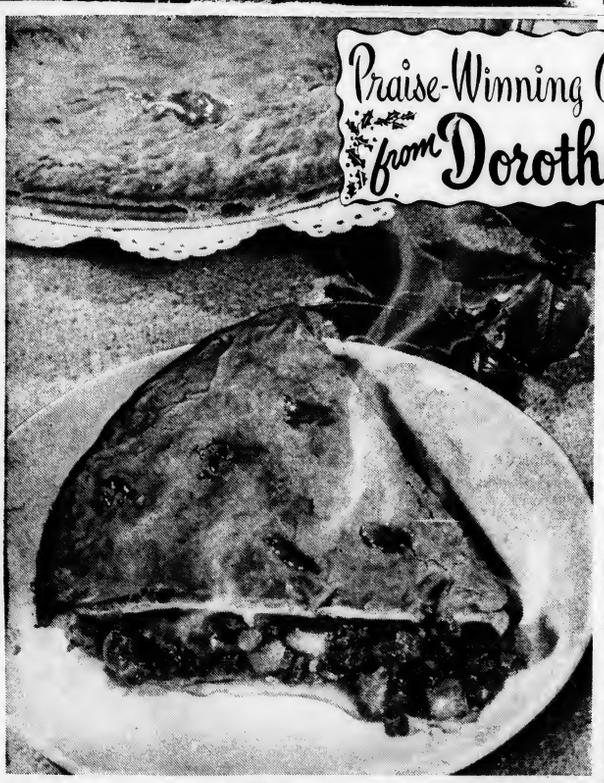

Mrs. Alexander Aitken and Mrs. Roger Burgoyne made a large wreath for the front door of the Hospital and a table basket for the Nurses' Home, as well as a sleigh of greens for the front door of the Home.

For the Home for the Aged Mrs. James A. Newman and Mrs. Helen Monroe made and donated individual sewn and Christmas bouquet-holders filled with candy for the Residents and Staff. Fir cones and pine sprays were made into wreaths by Mrs. William Hoyt, Mrs. C. Stewart Chaffee, Mrs. Frederic Kraft, and Mrs. Elenor Bancroft.

A short business meeting followed a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. George French and her committee: Mrs. Sidney Burr, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, Mrs. John C. Gilbert, Mrs. Edward J. McDavett, Jr., Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Mrs. Clifford Williams, Mrs. Barbara Sherburne, and Miss Louise Bancroft.

Miss Marcia Kraft recently was pledged to membership in the Alpha Pi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta national sorority. Miss Kraft is a freshman at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB CHRISTMAS MEETING

... meeting of the ... an Club of Win... last Wednesday, was a gala affair starting with dessert of sherbet and cookies which were made by members of the Social Committee. The hostesses were past Presidents Mrs. Louis K. Snyder and Mrs. Marshall Pihl. The meeting was opened by the singing of America the Beautiful with Mrs. Kenneth Biscoe, President of the Fortnightly as accompanist. This was followed by a Christmas prayer offered by Rev. Robert A. Storer, Pastor of the Unitarian Church.

Speakers were Mrs. Philip Woodward, Legislative Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Toye, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission of Winchester, and Mrs. Charles Howard, Secretary of the Republican National Committee. Mrs. Woodward told of the referendum on which we must vote December 28th which concerns the school bond issue that was approved at the special Town meeting. She stressed the urgent need of the school improvements and commended the plans as submitted.

Mrs. Toye told of the gift of paintings of the Stations of the Cross which the people of Hemroulle, Belgium, are sending to Winchester. These paintings were taken from their chapel and represent something very dear to the hearts of the citizens of Hemroulle. It is a touching and welcome gift.

Mrs. Charles Howard told of a meeting of the Republican Committee at Washington from which she had just returned. She said the Capitol city is permeated by a feeling of urgency. People are worried by our danger and the lack of leadership. There seem to be no plans for important decisions. They are seeking strong leadership and it is now up to Republicans to see that they get it.

The Christmas gift from our President, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, to the Club was a beautiful program of Christmas music presented by Misses Faith and Elaine Gambino, two lovely young sisters, coloratura soprano and contralto, who enthralled everyone with their beauty and charm and their delightful rendition of Christmas Carols of all nations. They were assisted by Mr. Harvey D. Sprague, pianist. All agreed it was the perfect way to start the Holiday season.

The Club takes this opportunity of wishing all Winchester a Merry Christmas and success in the New Year.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, Keith Snyder conducting and with Mary Louise Middleton as accompanist, opened its eleventh season last Friday evening with its annual winter concert at the high school auditorium.

The program was: "The Agincourt Song", 15th Century Melody, arr. by Healey Willan; Kennedy-Fraser, "An Eriskay Love Lilt"; Hayden, "Great and Glorious"; Spirituals, "Soon Ah Will Be Done" and "Wade In De Water"; Otheguaven, "The Handergan Man"; Hector, "Romany Life"; Bantham, "A Song of Cheridam"; Beethoven, "Turkish" "The Orchestra Song", arr. by William S. Hiram; Sjoberg, "Vision"; Readings, "O Come, All Ye Faithful", arr. by Ralph Baldwin; Leontovich, "Carol of the Bells"; "In the Bleak Mid-Winter", arr. by Leslie Woodgate for Glee Club and Boys' Voices; and Handel, "Hallelujah" from "The Messiah".

The guest artist, Alice L. Farnsworth, soprano, sang Mozart, "Porgi Amour Le Nozze Di Figaro"; Bachelet, "Chere Nuit"; Verdi, "D'Amor Sull' Ali Rosee" from "Il Trovatore", Williams, "Orpheus With His Lute"; Wolf, "Iris"; Speaks, "There's a Song in the Air"; and Adam, "Cantique De Noel".

The usual large and friendly audience gave evidence of thoroughly enjoying this latest effort of the Glee Club, which, however, was not one of its better concerts. The program did not seem especially well chosen, either for Winchester or for the capabilities of the club and there was much more difficulty with pitch than is usual at these concerts. The club, particularly the tenors, could not seem to warm up to their music before intermission, its performance being woodeny and lack-luster. The choir dotted noticeably in the middle sections of the second of the spirituals, and again, in the extra number, "Steal Away", and "The Handorgan Man", the performance of which was very uneven. Pitch aside, the "Steal Away" was well done and there were other good things in the first group of songs, the "Soon Ah Will Be Done", for instance, also the "Eriskay Love-Lilt", finely rendered; and the "Romany Life", which was spirits Ry song with obligato by Miss Farnsworth and excellent accompaniment by Mrs. Middleton.

This last nice bit of singing seemed to carry over into the second half of the program which was invariably much better done. Especially effective was the sustained bright singing of the Cherubim Song, though here again the pitch was faulty. Pitch was good in the Brahms' Lullaby and the humming of the final verse was especially effective.

The humorous "Orchestra Song", in which the various sections of the club imitated wind instruments, was both interesting and well done, the "horns" speaking out right lustily! The number by Sjoberg was given a very finished rendition on the whole and in the group of carols the Bell number was well done with a fine light tone and without deviation from pitch. Notable in this selection was the final low release of the basses, and it might be said that the basses and baritones had much smoother ensembles than the upper choirs where one or two strong voices stood out. The bass leads of the Russian number were particularly well sung, the whole section sounding like a single voice.

The highlight of the entire evening was "In the Bleak Mid-Winter", and the club has done nothing more effective or moving. The addition of a group of boys from the Junior High School was a particularly pleasing feature of this number, the boys adding both musically and dramatically to the selection. Incidentally the glee club's singing was at its best when the boys and a really artistic performance. Mr. Snyder conducted a nice set of directions and after the audience had tried vainly for a repeat, graciously asked Miss Eleanor Anifantis, vocal director of music in the third and junior high schools, who had trained the boys, to take a bow. Douglas Barnard, Richard Clark, Paul Donlon, Robert Ennis, Peter Frotton, William Harlow, Robert Kneeland, Stephen Marshall, Robert McNitt, Donald Murphy, Ronald Reed, Rich Rimbach, Harlow Russell, Lewis Stowe and Richard Thompson were the boy choristers.

The program closed with the majestic Hallelujah Chorus from "Messiah", and here the men's creditable performance undoubtedly suffered by very probably unconscious comparison with the traditional and generally accepted scoring of this great number for mixed chorus. The tenors, too, couldn't quite cope with the taxing demands of the music in this number for which the audience stood, as usual.

Miss Farnsworth brought to the concert possibly the outstanding voice to be heard by Glee Club audiences since John Herrick of the early days. She displayed a voice of great size and tremendous power, which she controlled admirably, shading it at will from a silky softness to almost overpowering fortissimi that made the rafters ring. Her voice seemed a bit throaty and on the harsh side in the louder passages but much of that was undoubtedly due to the fact it was being heard in a hall too small to accommodate its full power. In this connection Miss Farnsworth on short notice was that of an accomplished accompanist, and as usual she could not over-estimate her helpfulness to the Glee Club. Enhancing Miss Farnsworth's singing was her pleasing stage presence and poise. A friendly artist, she recognized the fine deportment of the boy choristers waiting through the evening for their appearance when they were as she expressed it "probably bored stiff", and she sang to them the first encore after her final group, the familiar and fast moving "Sleigh". Recalled again, she sang the radio favorite "If I Could Tell You" to the smiling Glee Club. The audience lilted Miss Farnsworth and recalled her after her first group, when she sang that familiar and acrobatic tune about the Italian girl who is going out dancing.

Mr. Snyder has a pleasing way of conducting, and he varied the tone and pace of his singers effectively. He deserves credit for his ability to prevent a complete talespin in the Handergan number.

As an added feature of this concert and as a tribute to Christmas the Glee Club and Boy Choristers were joined by the audience in singing three familiar Christmas carols just before the closing number.

CHARLES HENRY DAVIS

Charles Henry Davis of 88 Hemingway street, a native and lifelong resident of Winchester, died at his home early Thursday morning, December 21, after a year's illness.

Mr. Davis was the son of Nathaniel, and Minerva (Peppard) Davis. He was born June 8, 1869, in Winchester, his boyhood home being on Pond street in the old Davis homestead overlooking big Winter Pond.

Educated in the Winchester schools, Mr. Davis as a young man learned the carpenter's trade, and during his active life was a building contractor. Among others, he built four houses on Hemingway street including the home in which he lived for half a century. He was known as a real craftsman in the very finest types of wood-working, was a member of the Winchester Carpenters' Union and had formerly belonged to both the Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges.

Mr. Davis was a widower, his wife, the former Agnes Clerke, having died in 1942. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Gertrude Davis, with whom he made his home, and by two brothers, Lester S. Davis of Providence, R. I., and Elmer S. Davis of Springfield.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Visiting hours at the chapel will be Friday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Wright, Jr., of Lexington, Mass., and formerly of Winchester, a son, third child, Allan Steele, at Winchester Hospital on December 20.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayden of Center Ossipee, N. H. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Wright of 11 Lloyd street.

REFERENDUM VOTE ON SCHOOL QUESTION DECEMBER 28

The Board of Selectmen has set Thursday, December 28, as the date for the town-wide referendum vote on the proposal to enlarge the junior high school to house a four-year senior high school and to remodel the present senior high school to serve as a two-year junior high school. Every registered voter in town is eligible to vote in the referendum, for which polls will be open at the town hall from 7 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night.

The referendum grew out of votes passed at the special town meeting of November 30 when the precinct delegates voted the sum of $1,419,400 for constructing and equipping the addition to the junior high school, and $231,000 for remodelling and renovating the senior high school building with the necessary equipment and furnishings.

Of the amount appropriated for the junior high school project it was voted to raise $1,400,000 by issuing 20 year bonds and $19,400 by transfer from the Excess and Deficiency account. The senior high school appropriation is to be raised by a ten-year bond issue amounting to $150,000 and by a transfer from the Excess and Deficiency account of $81,000.

The vote on the junior high motion was 153 affirmative and five negative. That on the senior high motion was 162 affirmative and four negative.

There was little actual opposition to the projects at the meeting, as the votes would indicate. There were however objections raised by Captain Richard M. Rush, former School Committee member and by Arthur J. Hewis, Jr., and shortly after the meeting referendum papers were in circulation.

These petitions were subsequently filed by Mr. Hewis, Captain Rush and Michael Sarace. Examination of the names by the Registrars of Voters found the requisite 250 signatures and the call was issued by the Selectmen for the referendum as provided by the town's limited town meeting act. Since the call has been established as a fact there, has been much activity, particularly on the part of the school proponents. The necessity for securing a two-thirds majority in the town-wide vote, because of the bond issues involved, poses a difficult task for those favoring the School Building Committee's proposal, since such a majority has been difficult to obtain in past instances.

The School proponents have been working hard. Meetings have been held at the various schools to acquaint everyone with the issues involved and to provide such concrete information as was thought necessary to enable any doubtful person to decide his preference. Mothers' Association members have been active in support of the school program, and a leaflet was distributed with the warrant for the referendum in which the School Building Committee makes a supplement report to its previously published leaflet, seeking to answer questions raised by those opposing the building program and to explain more fully points in its proposed construction about which doubts have been expressed.

Those opposing the School Building Committee's proposals feel that too little specific information was given the town meeting delegates at the November 30th meeting on a project entailing the expenditure of $1,650,400, with little or no detail given of the proposed alterations to the high school.

Opponents of the plan contend it was a makeshift, hastily conceived and poorly worked out, the Committee having devoted most of its time and energies to the unsuccessful plan to build a new junior high school on Lake street.

Other objections have been raised to the plans for the gymnasium at the enlarged junior high school, and to what objectors contend is insufficient shop space for an industrial arts course at both schools.

These objections and questions the Building Committee and the School Committee have been trying to answer in the full satisfaction of everyone ever since the referendum became a certainty.

How well they have succeeded will not be known until the votes are counted sometime next Thursday evening. Meanwhile the odds have shortened on the outcome of the referendum with some good judges of elections believing the school proponents will get their necessary two-thirds vote.

A large vote, or at least a vote large enough to be representative, is desirable, and both sides of the question are urging every one eligible to express his preference next Thursday.

TO REPAIR LYCEUM BUILDING

Some Tenants Back in Quarters Tuesday, Others to Follow Soon.

P. T. Foley, owner of Lyceum Building and head of the firm of P. T. Foley & Co., realtors and insurance brokers, announced on Thursday that he plans to remodel and renovate the long-time landmark of the business center which was badly damaged by a general alarm fire last week Thursday, December 14.

Mr. Foley told the Star he is presently planning to remove the top story of the building, which was badly gutted by the flames shooting up in the wall partitions and mushrooming out when they reached Lyceum Hall on the third floor. The remainder of the building, except for one spot on the Mt. Vernon street side in the vicinity of the boiler-room, was damaged principally by water and smoke, and Mr. Foley believes most of the tenants can return to their old quarters at once, or in the near future.

Some were able to use their stores and shops the day after the fire, though there was of course no heat, water or lights, and those in the building did not remain there for long at a time.

By Tuesday there was heat in the building and Mr. Foley was back in his office at the corner of Mt. Vernon and Main streets, making arrangements to take in the Arlington Gas Light Company, until their former office is again habitable.

Judy's Hair Styles has been taken in by Fred the Hair Stylist until her newly opened quarters on the second floor of Lyceum Building can be recommissioned. The Harper Method Beauty Shop on the other side of the second floor, after occupying temporary quarters with Eva Anderson in the National Bank Building, is back in her old shop. The Edison Light moved immediately into a vacant store on Common street and the Waterfield Opticians went across the street with John Mercurio in the Hovey Block, these moves being made the day of the fire. Rutherford Equipment has been operating temporarily from his home until he can return to his old quarters and both Tarbox, the electrician, and Levine's Tailor Shop were back on the job in their shops on Wednesday.

Dr. James H. O'Connor, who has been practicing dentistry for 43 years in Winchester, was back in his office Wednesday and Leo F. Garvey, attorney, got back into his law offices the same day.

Chitel's Men's Shop is temporarily located in the former Colonial Market at 596 Main street, and thereby hangs a tale that is worth the telling. Of all the stores and offices in Lyceum Building Chitel's was damaged the worst, there being virtually nothing worth saving, either of fixtures or stock, at a time when the holiday business was at its height. Many a man would have bemoaned his luck and given up in the face of such a blow.

Not so Jack Chitel, son of the founder of the business, the late Philip Chitel; Jack was partially overcome saving his business records and papers, but this done, he decided to act promptly to salvage what business he could before Christmas.

Hopping a plane to New York the night of the fire, he picked up haberdashery stocks of all kinds, conferring with Pat Foley by telephone about the possibility of a place to operate. Assured by "P. T." that some place would be available, Jack completed his shopping tour and returned to Winchester late Friday afternoon with his newly purchased stock in a large moving van.

Meanwhile telegrams to the owner of the former Colonial Market in California secured the use of that building at 596 Main street. Attorney Leo Garvey, administrator of Philip Chitel's estate, succeeded in getting lights installed and tables that survived the inferno of Lyceum Hall were contributed by "Pat" Foley to display goods. Some hangers from the old shop completed the furnishings, and aided by his good wife, Mr. Garvey, and other volunteers, Jack Chitel worked all night Friday night so that the shop could open in the old market Saturday morning.

Customers trooped in, prompted by the Chitel enterprise to reward such spirit and determination. Business has been good, according to Jack, and though his loss has been considerable, he is still optimistic and planning for the future, a future incidentally that contemplates nothing better than getting back in his old shop and serving again the fine people of Winchester whose confidence and assistance helped so much to keep his business alive at this vital time.

PICTURES FROM HEMROULLE

The pictures which the villagers of Hemroulle in Belgium are sending to Winchester to be presented to the churches of the town have arrived in Boston, according to information received yesterday by Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, chairman of the Hemroulle Friendship Committee.

Arrangements have been completed to have Winchester officially receive the pictures at a ceremony to be held on Sunday afternoon, January 7, at the high school auditorium, commencing at 4 o'clock. The program for the afternoon will be announced in next week's Star.

The pictures being sent to the local churches are very old, having hung in the little Hemroulle Chapel for over 60 years. Before that they hung for a long time in a Belgian convent, so that they are believed to be well over 100 years old.

They represent the stations of the Cross, and many of them bear bullet holes and other injuries, sustained during the Nazi invasion of Hemroulle during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II.

One of the pictures has been in Winchester for some time and is of much interest. It is well done in pleasing colors which have mellowed through the years into most attractive shades. In selecting these pictures as gifts to be sent to Winchester, in return for past favors, the poor and very few inhabitants of Hemroulle are sending the things most precious of all to them!

The Hemroulle Friendship Committee is urging every one to save Sunday afternoon, January 7, and attend the ceremony at the high school. It is to be broadcast to Hemroulle and a large attendance is hoped for, so that our friends in the little Belgian village can understand that the people of Winchester appreciate their generosity and sacrifice.

IN THE EVENT THE RED ALERT IS THE FIRST ALARM RECEIVED, MOBILIZATION OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE FORCES SHALL BE DELAYED UNTIL IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE ATTACK RATHER THAN RISKING THE EXPOSURE OF THE ORGANIZED SERVICES TO THE HAZARDS OF ATTACK. THE 'RED ALERT' PUBLIC WARNING WILL BE SOUNDED BY MUNICIPALITIES WHEN THE KEY POINT WARNING STATIONS, OPERATED BY THE CONTINENTAL AIR DEFENSE, U. S. AIR FORCE, HAVE RECEIVED THE SIGNAL THAT ENEMY AIR ATTACK IS IMMINENT. 'WHEN THE 'RED ALERT' WARNING IS SOUNDED, THE PUBLIC SHOULD ACT IMMEDIATELY

TWO ACCIDENTS DURING FRIDAY'S STORM

During last Friday afternoon's snowstorm there were two automobile accidents reported, the first taking place shortly after 4 o'clock at the junction of Wedgemere avenue and Calumet road.

According to the Police a Nash sedan, driven south on Wedgemere avenue by Frances A. O'Loughlin of 48 Gould street, Stoneham, was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, headed west on Calumet road and being driven by Edward S. Mitchell of Riveredge road, North Billerica. No injuries were reported, but both cars were disabled, the Nash being towed to Moody Motors by Charles Haggerty's wrecker and the Chevrolet being towed to its owner's home by Logan and Chrusz.

Shortly before 5:30 a Buick convertible coupe, driven by Charlotte E. Wilson of 19 James street, while headed west on High street, skidded on a slight incline near the residence of Mr. Adolph Caterino, 187 High street, and became struck at the left side of the road.

The second automobile involved in this collision was a Chevrolet sedan, being driven east on High street by Sam Bellino of 95 Irving street. Bellino attempted to stop his car to avoid colliding with the Buick but was unable to do so because of the slippery condition of the road, the Chevrolet skidding into the other car.

No one was hurt, but both cars were damaged, the Chevrolet being towed to the Mirak Chevrolet in Arlington. The Buick was able to leave the scene under its own power.

Miss Ellen Shoemaker, a senior at Centenary Junior College, Hackettstown, N. J., is spending her Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker of 1 Wildwood street.

MRS. MALINDA A. SIMONDS

Mrs. Malinda A. Simonds, wife of Roland E. Simonds of 16 Myrtle street, died Monday afternoon, December 18, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been seriously ill for two weeks, entering the hospital a week before her death.

Mrs. Simonds was the daughter of William and Abigail (West) Greenough. She was born December 28, 1873, in King's County, N. S., but went with her parents as a baby to Eastport, Me., where she spent her early life and received her education.

Mrs. Simonds was twice married. In 1904 in Boston she married F. Jerome Foster who died in 1914. Following a short residence in Worcester, she came to Winchester in 1924, and before her second marriage, while living on the Parkway, she enjoyed a reputation as a cook of fine cakes and fancy pastries which she made to order for parties. She was a member of Winchester Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star; of the Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church and of the First Universalist Church of Haverhill, which she joined while living in that city.

On December 27, 1947, she married Mr. Simonds, who survives her with a son and two daughters by her previous marriage, Jerome Bailey Foster, architect, of Winchester; Mrs. Bruce Hamblin of South Acton and Mrs. John Palace of Winchester. Also surviving are five grandchildren, three brothers, George Greenough of South Acton, Haynes Greenough of Stoneham and James Greenough of West Medford, and a sister, Mrs. Belle Aldrich of Cambridge.

Funeral services were conducted on Thursday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel by Rev. John Prescott Robertson, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Braintree, who married Mr. and Mrs. Simonds. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

INJURED AS CAR LEFT ROADWAY

Two men and a young Army recruit sustained injuries shortly before midnight last Saturday when the automobile in which they were riding left the road on Cambridge street near High street.

According to the Police George L. Catone, 24, of 64 Falcon street, East Boston, was driving a Chevrolet sedan south on Cambridge street when the machine got out of control and crossing to the easterly side of the road, jumped the curbing and knocked over a hydrant at the corner of Calumet road. Continuing along the sidewalk for some 35 feet, the car then crossed the street again to crash through the hedge on the property of Marycliff Academy at the corner of High street.

Catone told the Police the lights of an approaching car blinded him, causing him to lose control. The car he was driving was badly damaged and had to be towed to the Medford Auto Company.

All three were taken to the Winchester Hospital by Sgt. John J. Doyle and Officer William E. Cavanaro, and treated by Dr. Charles Cerel. They were released at the hospital.

LEFT DAUGHTER IN WINCHESTER

Mrs. Sarah Francis of Jamaica Plain, who died Saturday morning, December 16, at a convalescent home in West Medford, was the widow of Patrick Francis and mother of Mrs. James E. Callahan of Bernal road, wife of the Chief of the Winchester Fire Department.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning with solemn requiem high mass at St. Thomas Church in Jamaica Plain. Burial was in New Calvary Cemetery, West Roxbury.

WINTER'S EVE CONCERT

A few Winchester people were fortunate in attending the "Winter's Eve Concert", the delightful piano Recital given by Vivian Giles, internationally renowned concert pianist from Argentina in the Ball Room of Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts at 16 Beacon street on December 13. Mrs. Giles is the guest of Mrs. Walter W. Winship for a short time.

She chose for her program, the love-inspired compositions — Adagio From Moonlight Sonata-Beethoven, Devotion-Robert Schumann, Etude, Opus 10, No. 3 — Frederic F. Chopin, Liebestraume — Franz Liszt, Love's Awakening — Moritz Moszkowski. She preceded each presentation with the description and story of its composition. Her rendition of these compositions was a delight to listen to and her audience was loath to let her stop. She is an artist who really interprets the composer's true feelings.

CHRISTMAS TREE IS BRIGHT SPOT IN WORLD SHADOWED BY WAR FEARS

In these troubled times, one symbol of peace and good will at least is flourishing — the Christmas tree.

The evergreen forests now moving toward U. S. city markets for the coming holidays are expected to be larger — and bigger than ever, notes National Geographic Society. Even the natural green of many of the trees is reported to be deeper this year, the result of a late-September frost that gripped important areas of Canada's woodland producers.

In the U. S., the "golden" fraternity of the trade has been on the job as usual, making dull trees greener and spraying others silver and white for the patrons of glitter.

Some processing plants really do their tinting early. One mass-scale merchant of the tablesized family product cuts his trees not before but soon after Christmas. Treated quickly with a preservative mixed with the coloring solutions, such trees can be stored in chilled warehouses until the next season. Most of the regular cutting, however, is left as early in the fall and the cut trees are kept moist with plenty of water.

Christmas Cheer Shipped

[illegible] will be on hand to supply Uncle Sam's 1950 [illegible] Not since the men [illegible] in the armed forces [illegible] been forgotten. The Navy and other military transport agencies already have shipped thousands of Yuletide evergreens to distant posts, from the Pacific to the Caribbean.

The United States is the world's leading source of supply as well as the No. 1 buyer in this industry which is now rated beyond the $50,000,000 mark. Most of the gala trees come from New England, New York, and Pennsylvania, the north Middle West, and the Northwest Pacific regions. A newcomer in the field is New Jersey, whose farmers this year are expected to cut at least 100,000 trees for local use.

Canada long has been an outstanding supplier of the holiday greens, its contributions from Nova Scotia, Ontario, British Columbia and elsewhere running well into millions of trees.

Germany Started Custom

The origin of the Christmas tree [illegible] is decided in legends that go back to the hazy period of Druid tree worship long before Christianity. It was in Germany, however, [illegible] during the 16th or 17th centuries according to general belief that the modern custom of tree decorating along with gift giving got its start. Gradually the practice spread to other parts of northern Europe and America.

In recent decades, the outdoor Christmas tree, living or set up, has become a special feature of U. S. community spirit. Among the best known are the annual displays on the White House lawn and at the Rockefeller Plaza in New York City.

This year, the New York tree is a Norway spruce 85 feet tall, 10 feet higher than the famous live oak which is decorated each December at Wilmington, North Carolina. The giant of all the evergreens so far planned for 1950's Christmas observances appears to be the 212-foot Douglas fir scheduled to spread holiday glow at Seattle, Washington.

BADMINTON MARCHES ON

Winchesterites of late have not been taking their badminton as seriously as they were wont, so if this means, gentle reader, that you have been remiss in duty towards yourself, to say nothing of duty towards old badminton cronies, maybe you will begin to perk up some that and join us on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the High School gymnasium. Never the less we did get around to getting ourselves a sort of pre-Xmas party in the form of a draw mixed doubles handicapped tournament. Olive Miller and Jack Tarbell stepped victors over the [illegible] Bean and Harry Bean, [illegible] 15. Then Lotti teamed up with Al Buros to yield to Doris Maxwell and Bert Miller 15 - 7. Anne Greene and Brad Hersey defeated Pat Buros and Art Greene 15 - 13. (Have you noticed by now that the girls sort of appear all over the lot? Maybe that's your fault!)

Second Round

Dot and Bing defeated Lois Hersey and Larry Palmer 15 - 2. Olive and Jack defeated Marjorie and Jim 15 - 8. Pat and Harry got a bye. Anne and Brad defeated Doris and Bert 15 - 12.

Finals

Olive and Jack defeated Pat and Harry 18 - 15. (A perfect final, wasn't it? Shows excellent handicapping on the part of the committee. Just think, you might have been in it! "For of all sad words of tongue or pen, ... " - Whittier).

Joseph Flaherty, a fifth grade boy, donated the Christmas wreath which is above the Westley street door.

TWO ALARMS TUESDAY

The Fire Department had two alarms on Tuesday, the first during the late afternoon from Box 573, being for a slight fire at the Downes home, 84 Cambridge street, caused by an overheated flatiron. Damage was chiefly that done by smoke. Tuesday evening's alarm from Box 271 in the Grove street section was found to be false.

The reaction of the Citizens of Winchester to the fire which did so much damage to Lyceum Building last week is something in which we can all take pride. While the fire was in progress everywhere was expressed sympathy for those who were being forced out of their business or professional homes and with the final subjugation of the flames came the most heart-warming manifestation of all. Business and professional associates of the stranded tenants of the building immediately came forward with offers of temporary quarters in their own establishments until those burned out could get back into their old places of business. Mr. Foley, the owner of the building, did everything humanly possible to help his tenants at the time of the fire and to rehabilitate the building so that those not entirely burned out could get back into their shops and offices at the earliest moment. The complete loss of Lyceum Hall came at a time when there had never been so many demands for its use for holiday parties and other functions. Two of the town's fraternal orders offered the use of their halls to care for the Lyceum Hall commitments. Everyone did his best to help, and you have only to talk to any of those burned out to realize how much public sympathy and assistance meant to these men and women denied the use of their workday quarters at the height of the busy holiday season. Winchester may squabble over this or that! Some like one thing and some another! But when disaster strikes the community stands four-square to help the unfortunate. Mr. Foley in his "thank you ad" in another part of the paper says Winchester people have "eyes to see, hearts to feel and hands to do." How right he is! We have a great town, and we have it because through the years there have been people in Winchester who care! No doubt about it!

Elsewhere in this issue appears a picture of the automobile, or what was left of it, after the accident in which a Winchester boy lost his life. The Star was asked to publish this picture by relatives of the dead young man in the hopes that it would bring home to the parents of our young people the dangers inherent in operating a motor vehicle. Properly used, an automobile makes a big contribution to our American way of life. Recklessly or carelessly operated, a motor car is a potential instrument of death and disaster. We know nothing of the details of the fatal accident which cost Don Berridge his life, but he, a young man on the threshold of life, is gone, as all together too many of our young and not so young people are going these days, mute victims of the power and speed built into automobiles too often entrusted to those whose judgement is faulty or immature. The death of a neighbor or friend, in this case a town boy who had made a reputation as a schoolboy athlete, brings home to all of us the danger that goes with driving an automobile. It ought to provide food for sober thought among parents who already are, or are contemplating, entrusting the family automobile to their boys and girls.

GREETINGS FROM ENGLAND

Counell Offices,
Witham, Essex, England
December 1, 1950.

Editor of the Star:

You have probably heard or read that this Country is to hold a "Festival of Britain" in 1951, to tell and show the rest of the world how the British live and what they do. Running parallel with and included in this national scheme, practically all towns, large and small, will put themselves "on show" at various times and varying periods during that year.

This small town of Witham, Essex, is holding its Festival during the period, June 24th to July 7th 1951, and in this connection we are anxious to bring ourselves to the notice of our friends in the United States of America.

The finest bonds of goodwill between nations are made by the friendships formed between the ordinary men and women citizens of those nations. During the late war, we had here in Witham many of the G. I.'s of the 8th and 9th U. S. Airforce, and many friendships were made. Some of our girls became their brides and are now resident in your great country. Today when men talk of the U. S. Airforce and the war years, the general comment is — "They were a grand bunch".

Therefore, I am writing to you, to ask if you will give some publicity to us in your newspaper, so that those of your readers who already know us will refresh their memories, and those who do not yet know us will read of a town that will be well worth a visit.

If you will agree, I shall be pleased to send you reports periodically of what we are doing to make a visit happy and interesting and what will be "on show" for all to see.

I wonder just how many of your readers remember the Rivenhall Airfield, the dances held there and in the Village Hall at Silver End; the happy "pints" that were drunk and the games of Darts at the "Pubs" around, amongst which can be named — "The George", "The Red Lion", the "White Hart", "Spread Eagle" and the Silver End Hotel?

Should any of your readers wish to write direct, they may do so, either to me or to the Secretary of the Witham Festival Committee, at the above address, and we shall have much pleasure in replying.

I thank you in anticipation of a favorable reply.

Yours faithfully,
W. A. Baker
Overseas Publicity
Witham Festival Committee

I wish you and your Readers a Happy Christmas and peace and prosperity in 1951.

ALL SCHOOLS CHECKED FOR FIRE SAFETY

Editor of the Star:

In answer to the statement by the Referendum Committee that the proposed Senior High School will be unsafe from a fire and exit standpoint, I think the people of Winchester are entitled to know that before any building plans for a school are turned over to a contractor in their final state, they must be approved by the Construction Division of the Massachusetts Department of Public Safety. When they have cleared that department, they must meet with every modern standard for the elimination of fire hazards and the protection of life. The construction of the additions to this school will be fire resistive and must provide sufficient exits so that the children can get out in the event of fire.

I hope you will publish this so that the people can more fairly judge the true merits of the plan.

P. S. Reference to this procedure of clearing plans through the Department of Public Safety is also contained in Paragraph 4 of the Supplemental Report of the Building Committee dated December 18, 1950.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE FIGURES

Editor of the Star:

We are being told that overcrowding in our schools makes vitally necessary the building of a sizeable addition to our Junior High School and the remodeling of our high school to provide additional room and accommodations there. Graphs have been shown with black lines zigzagging up and down across squares to illustrate the dire consequences we may expect if we do not do something now!

Doing something isn't necessarily the same as doing the right thing. We are finding that out in Korea and elsewhere.

Somebody somewhere once said, "figures don't lie". Here are some figures I found in the Winchester Town Reports for 1946, '47, '48 and '49. I offer them without further comment!

REPLY TO LADY BASEBALL FAN

Editor of the Star:

May I reply to the lady baseball fan who commented in your last issue on my batting ability?

That "night game" on November 30 was a postponed one that should have been played last March and they were trying to use a hollow ball after the pretty new one was knocked over the fence in the first inning.

We made some hits all right — even against the "emery" pitching — but we couldn't get to first base. They had a big steam-roller right in the middle of the base path!

The owners of the park are going to get a chance to reverse that decision on December 28.

Anyway, the World Series is on again! We are all going to play together in that one.

ANOTHER VIEW ON THE SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

I was very much disappointed to learn that the town meeting members at a special town meeting held on November 30 voted $1,650,000 for school house construction and repairs. With the shortage of building material together with the advanced prices for same, and the restrictions placed by the national emergency, also the threat of total war ahead of us, it seems unwise to undertake such a large project at this time.

Further, it would seem that the promoters of such an expensive project should have brought the matter before the regular town meeting in March instead of forcing the issue through a special meeting.

INJURED IN CAMBRIDGE STREET SKIDDING ACCIDENT

Skidding is blamed for the collision of two cars on Cambridge street at 12:45 last Saturday morning, resulting in extensive damage to the machines and minor injuries to three persons.

Police say Thomas A. Cunningham of 24 Avalon street, West Roxbury, was driving a Buick convertible coupe north on Cambridge street, and was passing a northbound car opposite the Winchester Conservatories when his machine skidded and collided with a Pontiac coach being driven south on Cambridge street by William J. Scannell of 111 Webster avenue, Cambridge.

The Buick was able to leave under its own power after the accident, but the Pontiac was disabled and had to be towed to a garage in Arlington.

Joseph Devine of 29 Wachusetts avenue, Arlington, and Joan O'Rourke of 310 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, passengers in the Buick, were treated at the Symmes Arlington Hospital as was Helen Mulligan of 387 Arlmont street, Dorchester, a passenger in the Pontiac. Devine was shaken up and had a cut on the forehead. Miss O'Rourke was shaken up. Miss Mulligan was also shaken up and sustained a bruised knee.

URGES CARE DURING HOLIDAYS

The National Safety Council is urging everyone to try in every way possible to avoid accidents, both in their homes and on the highways during the Christmas and New Year holiday season.

The Council, and its 161 cooperating national organizations, are waging a nation-wide campaign to cut down the accidents that take such toll of life and property at a time when everyone wants to be happy.

Christmas holidays bring extra hazards. Traffic accidents reach their peak during this holiday season because of winter weather, earlier darkness and holiday festivity. Home accidents also increase. But if we all assume personal responsibility for a safe celebration for ourselves and others, whether we are walking or driving in traffic, and when we are at home, we can all have a safe and happy holiday.

Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The loving ministry of Christ Jesus, who taught and demonstrated the healing Truth available to receptive hearts in every age, will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read at next Sunday's Christian Science services.
Isaiah's prophecy constitutes the Golden Text: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder" (Isaiah 9:6).
Jeremiah's prophecy of the coming of Christ Jesus is included in passages read from the Bible (King James Version): "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth" (Jeremiah 23:5).
The readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Jesus was the most luminous example of the perfect man. He was inseparable from Christ, the Messiah, the divine idea of God outlook the flesh. . . . Angels announced to the Wisemen of old this dual appearing and angels shall still herald the hungering and thirsting heart in every age" (p. 482).

CHRISTMAS PLAY AT PARKHURST

"The Truest Answer," a story in words and music of two people's search for the real meaning of Christmas was presented by the children of the Lewis Parkhurst School to their families and friends on Thursday afternoon, December 21. In five scenes the children depicted partial interpretations of the season to a couple who had never had Christmas explained to them developing external observances of the season, and subsequently leading to the couple's discovery of the real significance of the day and the realization that Christmas is for everyone.

All of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade children and representatives from each of the lower grades participated this year in the Christmas production.

The new angel costumes seen for the first time in this performance were provided by the Lewis Parkhurst Mothers' Association, and were designed by Mrs. P. Bruno and executed by Mrs. Bruno and Mrs. William J. O'Malley. The palm plants were used through the courtesy of Mr. Lester G. Whittaker.

NORRISES GAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris at their annual Christmas party Wednesday afternoon were members of the teaching staff, their husbands and wives, and members of the School Committee.

Music for the Christmas Carols was furnished by the Music supervisors, Mr. Fred Felmet, Miss Eleanor Anifantis, and Miss Helen Goodwin.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake and coffee were served.

A partially obscured sprig of mistletoe caused some consternation but no serious casualties.

With well over a hundred in attendance, the Administration Building was taxed to capacity to accommodate those who came to accept the Norrises' hospitality.

BURNED BY STEAM

Harvey Chaffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe of Warren street, is at the Symmes Arlington Hospital undergoing treatment for second degree burns about the face, sustained on Tuesday when an automobile radiator cap blew off and the steam from the radiator hit him in the face. Chaffe, who is a junior at Winchester High School, is reported as getting along nicely.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Up to mid-forenoon yesterday the Fire Department had sprayed more than 250 Christmas trees and wreaths at the Central Station. Contrary to some information being broadcast on the subject, our Fire Chief recommends spraying all Christmas greens to guard against fire.

Mrs. Edward C. Stacy is flying this Saturday to Tampa, Florida. She will spend the Christmas holidays with friends in St. Petersburg and fly back the first of the year.

The cold weather of this week has caused the ponds of the town to freeze over and there was skating Wednesday on Winter Pond. The weather has hardly been cold for long enough to make large ponds at all safe for skating as yet, and parents will do well to warn their offspring against unnecessary danger from thin ice.

"Wimp" Burnett continues to score goals for the Boston College hockey team, tallying Wednesday evening in the Eagles' losing game with Harvard at the Garden. "Wimp" is a former Winchester High football and hockey player.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON CHRISTMAS MEETING

On December 15 the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills, 2 Dartmouth street.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. John I. Lynch. The Rev. Dwight W. Hadley offered the invocation.

After the reports of the various committees Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham took over the meeting introducing three young and very talented musicians. First on the program was George Fortune, baritone bass who sang selections in French and German including Wagner's "Evening Star." By request he sang "One Enchanted Evening." He was both an attractive and gracious entertainer and too much cannot be said in praise of his splendid voice of which he gave so generously.

Mr. Fortune was accompanied by Grace Norian who is an accomplished and noted pianist in her own right. She played several selections both modern and old including Beethoven's "Pathetique Sonata." Miss Norian is a resident of Winchester and one of whom the town is justly proud.

Constance Morrill gave an original monologue taken from the book "The White Cliffs of Dover." Her interpretation was a very moving one. Mrs. Morrill is also one of Winchester's own very talented young people.

We are indeed indebted to Mrs. Witham for making it possible for us to hear these three charming and unusual young people who were all so enthusiastically received.

A delicious tea was served by Mrs. Percy Bugbee and her committee. Pouring at the tea table were Mrs. Richard Harlow and Mrs. Sanborn Vincent.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

A large group of mothers attended the meeting of the Noonan School Mothers' Association held in the school hall on Thursday, December 14th.

Mrs. William Haggerty, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, gave the report of the Bridge and Whist party which was held in November. This party was a huge financial as well as social success that is held each year in aid of the Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Francis Misso's house party was well attended and all who went enjoyed the delicious sandwiches, Irish bread, cake and coffee.

After the business meeting Mrs. Philip Woodward, a member of the School Committee, spoke on the School Building Program. A general discussion of the program followed and Mrs. Woodward answered the questions and also asked for any suggestions for the new school addition and alteration.

Miss Marion Phipps, Remedial Reading Consultant, spoke to the mothers on the reading problems in the elementary schools. Miss Phipps's talk had to be limited because of the lack of time. She was unable to show the slides. However, we hope to have Miss Phipps at another meeting sometime after the first of the year.

A swap Party, each mother bringing a 25c gift, and refreshments wound up the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Clarence Donaghey, President of the Association, wishes her Board and mothers of the Association, and the teachers of the Noonan School a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary wishes to extend to all its members and friends a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year. Our sincere thanks for all of you who have assisted us in our activities for Veterans' Rehabilitation and a plea to continue this important work with renewed effort throughout the coming year.

GIRL SCOUTS

[illegible] Cookies are [illegible] Attended the [illegible] Leader by Mrs. [illegible] Willing, Co-[illegible] M. Barbara Metcalf, Donna [illegible]

[illegible] Party on December 13th [illegible] Brownie Leader [illegible] Santa Claus [illegible] Sandra [illegible] Brownies didn't [illegible] special thanks [illegible] the decorating committee [illegible] group of girls and leaders who worked both Monday and Tuesday to create this Fairyland. Mrs. Willing wants each Leader and Scout to know that she was especially happy with the gifts, all were beautifully made and showed imagination and hard work. The number one reason the party was such a success was the guidance of Mrs. Thomas Murray of the Winchester Board of Health.

We shall be forever grateful to a generous citizen, Mr. Al Korn of the Winchester Appliance Co., Thompson street, who again helped the Scouts, this time by allowing us to sell our skating tickets at his shop this week. All skaters planning to go by bus to Bal-a-Roue are to meet at the Woburn Bus Stop (Lyceum Hall corner Shore road) at 9:30 a. m. December 28.

The chance to help those who have suffered with Polio is welcomed by every Girl Scout. She may now serve this course by helping at the Scout Office any morning during vacation. Only requirement is to bring your own pen and lots of pep. It's a big job to address 5,000 envelopes but those who helped last year will remember that the good fun and chatter made the work go quickly.

ROTARY CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Winchester Rotary Club held its annual Christmas Party last evening in Masonic Hall, commencing at 6 o'clock, with the children of Rotarians as special guests. Gifts were given each guest by Santa Claus, and the High School Girls' Octette, directed by Miss Eleanor Anifantis, sang a program of appropriate selections which were warmly applauded.

President Wade L. Grindle presided at the brief business meeting and made special reference to the venison luncheon to be served at the regular meeting on December 28, with the added attraction of "Hunting and Fishing by Air", a sporting film that is sure to prove both interesting and entertaining.

RED CROSS NOTES

The Winchester Red Cross Canteen served coffee, sandwiches, and doughnuts to the men fighting the general alarm fire in the Lyceum building on December 14. Twenty gallons of coffee were made in the Red Cross Canteen at the Unitarian Church by Easton Leon Smith. Five more gallons were donated by Mr. Emil Bricklamp. Watson Caterer, Mrs. Ray Manger had as her assistant in preparing and distributing the food, which the Red Cross is giving next month. Call Red Cross headquarters, Winchester 6-2300, Ward at the Bedford Veteran's for details.

The patients in the Infirmary Hospital were given a Christmas party by the Winchester Red Cross last Saturday. Four Junior Red Cross students will fill nut cups at the Veterans' Hospital tomorrow. On Monday six Winchester people wrapped Christmas gifts at Bedford, and on Tuesday four trimmed trees there. Five Bedford patients were taken on a Christmas shopping trip to Chestnut Hill on Wednesday. That evening the Winchester Motor Corps brought entertainers from the Boston Buddies Club to Bedford. The Junior Red Cross ended its drive for Christmas cards for Bedford Hospital last week.

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes all its friends a Merry Christmas.

The December 16 Magazine Section of the Christian Science Monitor had a picture of one of the children in the Ninoshima Orphannage, Japan. It was this orphannage that sent the letters to the Junior Red Cross which were published in the Star recently.

The following letter was received by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter this week:

December 14, 1950

Greetings:-

The luncheon served during the fire today was deeply appreciated by my men and myself.

It is regrettable that many persons do not realize the many fine acts of the Red Cross Chapters. Such units, always prepared to step in and aid any one any time, are a valuable asset to any community.

I am happy to be able to say that in our town there is a very close tie between the Red Cross units and the Five Department and I feel that we cannot give to them what they have done for us.

Feel assured that, should any assistance be needed, we will be happy to render such service as we are able.

Carry on your good work. I remain,

Sincerely yours,
Hugh L. Eames, Chief
Reading Fire Department

It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed 10 per cent.

CHRISTMAS AT THE POST OFFICE

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun wishes to thank everybody for their cooperation in mailing early this year.

With the idea of having the post office cleared of mail by Saturday evening, Mr. Gilgun has had his experienced men sorting continuously from six in the morning to ten in the evening. The results of using experienced men shows to great advantage at this season of the year.

Those who mailed packages to southern and western states during the embargo because of the train strike found that it cost considerably more to mail their packages by air parcel post. So those who mailed early were rewarded.

Stamps sales are running close to last year and indications are that when final tabulations are made, they will show a substantial increase.

Barring unforeseen circumstances Postmaster Gilgun expects to be able to have all parcel post delivered by Saturday, and should it be necessary, trucks will be used to deliver any parcel post that comes in Sunday so that no one will be disappointed.

All Christmas cards mailed before Friday night will be delivered on Saturday and Mr. Gilgun will give all the men a well deserved two day holiday to enable them to rest and enjoy a Merry Christmas with their families.

HONG KONG, IN RED CHINA'S SHADOW, DISTURBED BY WAR EVENTS IN KOREA

Communist China's aggressive role in Korea has had world-wide reverberations — but the echoes seem particularly ominous in Hong Kong, the little British crown colony whose situation may be compared to that of a village clinging to the slope of some great and notoriously unstable volcano.

Hong Kong is a treaty port maintained by the British for more than a century on China's southern coast, notes the National Geographic Society. It was seized by the Japanese during World War II, but through the years Hong Kong's main source of concern has been China whose internal strife has threatened the colony's trade on several occasions.

Good relations with China have been a "must" in British colonial policy throughout the past. Protection of Hong Kong was reported a strong consideration in London's early recognition of the Red China government. The belligerent attitude of Peiping's representatives at the UN, however, has stirred uneasiness as to the future of this colony, where the headlines from Korea raise the question: "Are we next?"

Hong Kong proper is a once-barren island 11 miles long and two to five miles wide. It is separated from the mainland by a magnificent harbor some 17 square miles in extent — the only safe deep sea anchorage in the typhoon-ridden belt between Shanghai and Indochina. Britain obtained island and harbor in 1841 after a minor war with the Chinese.

Buffer Strip is Leased

Near-by Stonecutter's Island and Kowloon were acquired in 1860. To protect these territories from China's seemingly endless civil disturbances, the English leased a strip of the mainland known as the New Territories. The lease expires in 1997. Today the total area of the entire colony is 391 square miles, a mere dot on its neighbor's vast land mass.

But Hong Kong's importance greatly exceeds its size. It is a free trade port and the principal key to commerce with South China. Moreover, the colony has long played an historic middleman role in Far Eastern trade. Cargoes from scores of lesser Asiatic ports are sent there for handling and reshipment because of the port's modern and efficient installations.

In early times the area gave little promise of future greatness. Hong Kong is one of the Ladrones, or "Thieves Islands," which in the last century were a hideaway for pirates. British pioneers found the island rocky and practically devoid of vegetation. But the strategic importance of the harbor, commanding principal trade routes, was obvious.

Today the modern city of Victoria stands on the island. Victoria Peak, overlooking the harbor, has become a summer homesite for wealthy merchants. Nearly 2,000 feet high and no longer barren, the hill is served by a cable tram and buses which climb picturesque twisting roadways. The view of the harbor lights from the peak is comparable to the famed night scene of glittering Rio de Janeiro.

Colony is a Refugee Haven

Kowloon, on the mainland, also has been effectively modernized. The twin cities long have attracted refugee Chinese, the nationality which comprises some 90 per cent of the colony's estimated population of nearly two million. The British garrison has been reinforced since the Communist victory on the mainland.

Chinese governments have been intermittently hostile to the British. One example is the boycott of 1925-27 which excluded Hong Kong traders from South China ports. Chiang Kai-shek's followers became increasingly friendly after the Japanese invasion of Manchuria. Munitions flowed through Hong Kong to Chiang's Nationalists.

Hong Kong fell to the Japanese shortly after Pearl Harbor. It was reoccupied in 1945 by the British, who very quickly reasserted their old trade supremacy. To date trade relations with the Communist-controlled mainland have been surprisingly good. But residents long have been aware that Chinese gun batteries command the entrance to their harbor.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

FROM 1861 TO 1865, MATTHEW BRADY FOLLOWED THE ARMIES FROM BATTLEFIELD TO BATTLEFIELD, WITH HIS CUMBROUS CAMERA—AND GAVE US A GREAT PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THAT WAR. HE WAS THE FORERUNNER OF NEWS PHOTOGRAPHERS, BUT HIS OWN PICTURES WERE HISTORY, NOT NEWS, BY THE TIME THEY WERE PUBLISHED.

TODAY'S NEWS PHOTOGRAPHERS, AIDED BY THE TREMENDOUS ADVANCES IN PHOTOGRAPHY AND THE TRANSMISSION OF PICTURES BY WIRE AND WIRELESS, GIVE US THE NEWS PICTORIALLY WHEREVER AND WHENEVER IT HAPPENS, IN PEACE OR WAR. THROUGH THEIR EFFORTS WE GAIN A SENSE OF HISTORY IN THE MAKING, AND OF PARTICIPATION IN THE EVENTS OF OUR TIMES. THESE MODERN "BRADYS" THEREBY HELP ALERT AND INFORM THE PEOPLE, TO THE ADVANTAGE OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

FARM ALMANACS BURGEON, FORECAST 1951 WEATHER

You might as well face it — next summer's national holidays will be wet ones. Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day are all going to be rainy.

New Year's Day will be c-c-c-cold. January and February will have more than average snow, the white blanket lasting well into March. To begin the last week of the year just ahead, there will be a white Christmas.

Call all that one man's opinion or "guesstimate," if you wish, comments the National Geographic Society. But as part of the full year's weather forecast by Mr. Weatherwise in the Old Farmer's Almanac, it is typical of weather predictions in many farm almanacs that are gospel of a sort in many hundred thousand rural households.

Almanac Teams with Bible

Published at Dublin, N. H., the Old Farmer's for 1951 is No. CLIX — the "159th continuous year of publication." Only a few years its junior is the Hagerstown Town and Country Almanack of Hagerstown, Md. Many others have strong followings in various farm sectors. Some are house organs, barking, for example, one manufacturer's line of patented remedies for man or beast.

January 18 — Feed the birds now; 22 — Many chimney fires now; 25 — January thaw predicted; 30 — Charles I beheaded; February 7-8 — Set your hens now; March 8 — Iceberg patrol starts out; 19 — Swallows arrive at San Capistrano, California; April 22 — Witches around tonight. Thus are history, philosophy, counsel on farm operation, and a record of certain or conceivable events set up for every day of the almanac year.

Roman calendar-almanacs carved in stone more than 2,000 years ago listed feast days, advised when to hoe the vineyard, plant grain. Manuscript almanacs appeared in Europe in the 13th century. From Vienna in 1457 came the earliest one printed from type. Dutch and Flemish compilers paced the almanac field in the 16th century, their annual issues being translated into English and other languages.

In many farm households today, the two most important books are the Bible and the almanac. The same was true in Europe in Pilgrim times, and it was the case in America during the 18th century. William Bradford published the first American almanac in 1687. Benjamin Franklin's Poor Richard's Almanac, still much copied in style, appeared annually from 1732 to 1757.

Red-letter Days

Still true today, though to a lesser degree than of yore, is the literal view often taken of almanac prophecies. To avoid panicking readers, the early publishers learned the trick of being ambiguous in their forecasts. A model of caution is this weather forecast of 1580: "The Summer and Autumne shall sometime incline unto dryness, sometime unto moist ure: so the winter shall be partly rough and partly mild."

Present day farm almanacs retain some of the woodcut flavor of their early predecessors. Many contain the Man in the Moon — a figure of a man's surrounded by the signs of the Zodiac, with lines to indicate the part of the body under domination of each planet. Some list the birthdates of "famous" persons, and report "days to be observed" — a practice which gave rise to Poor Richard's quotable days.

The old-fashioned "Medicine almanac" does, however, have its place. Supplied by the makers of a patent medicine, it may contain little but such modern Lunes bage times as London's Wettaker's Almanack, dating from 1869; New York's World Almanac, publishing in 1951 its 65th issue, and the free-enterprised Information Please Almanac, fattest to date (1,008 pages).

Song For Christmas

Sing a song for Christmas,
Of silver-crusted snow,
Of bells that ring in hill and dale,
Of lights that twinkle so.

Sing a song for Christmas,
Of childlike ecstasy,
Of lovely fir trees gaily trimmed,
Of Yuletide melody.

Sing a song for Christmas,
Of sparkling stars above,
Of "Peace on Earth, good-will to men,"
Of God's eternal love.

Of precious Baby King,
Sing a song for Christmas,
Of how He came that we might live,
Sing, weary world — oh, sing!

WOMAN INJURED IN SWANTON STREET COLLISION

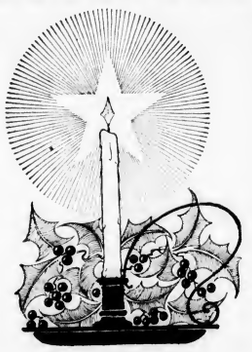

Mrs. Nellie Thompson of 500 Main street, Stoneham, was taken to the Winchester Hospital for injuries she sustained at 7 o'clock last Saturday evening when the car in which she was riding was in collision with another machine on Swanton street at Holland.

According to the Police Mrs. Thompson was a passenger in a Ford sedan being operated west on Swanton street by Shirley A. Jefferson of 500 Main street, Stoneham. Following the Ford was a Hudson coach, driven by Robert F. Laskey of Bedford street, Billerica.

As the Ford came opposite Holland street it skidded on the icy street. The driver of the Hudson applied his brakes, but his machine also skidded into the Ford, damaging it badly about the right side. The Hudson sustained damage about the front end.

Mrs. Thompson complained of pains in her left arm and shoulder and of being shaken up. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital by relatives. Thomas Hanlon, John Boyle and John Knott, and treated by Dr. Carter Rooney. Mrs. Jefferson received a cut on her own right arm in Stoneham.

Miss Mercedes Mercedes, a graduate student in Fashion Illustration at the New England School of Art in Boston, is now on display in the show windows of Whitcomb Radiators at 95 Main street. Miss Mercedes, an art student majoring in commercial art and fashion drawing at the school, was featured as a model in the December Fashion Sketch, one of the most popular annual winter events of the school for which she was chosen to show several stunning suits and gowns designed by students in the Fashion Design Department.

TO THE VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

The plan for enlarged secondary school facilities adopted by a vote of 162 to 4 at the recent special Town Meeting is to be the subject of a Referendum. Because of its desire to acquaint voters with the issue the Senior High and Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee wishes to answer several questions raised in public discussions since the Special Town Meeting:

1. Is the adopted plan the only plan under consideration by those voting in the Referendum?

   Yes. The Town Meeting rejected both the Palmer street proposal and the so-called Foster Plan.

2. Has the Committee revised the adopted plan in any way since its presentation at the Special Town Meeting?

   No. The plan for enlargement of the present Junior High and renovation of the present Senior High is identical with that described and shown at the Special Town Meeting.

3. Did the Building Committee give as thorough consideration in its studies to the adopted plan as it did to the Palmer street proposal?

   Yes. The Committee, in fact, devoted much more time in studying proposals and plans for converting the old Senior High to a two year Junior High and for making necessary additions and improvements to the present Junior High in order to convert it to a four year Senior High than it spent on the Palmer Street proposal. An entirely new building on a ten acre site presented much less of a problem to the Committee than the adopted plan which involved renovations and additions to an existing building.

4. Have the Committee's studies required 18 months of consideration?

   Yes. The Committee has worked steadily and carefully over this period examining all possible solutions. Only seven months elapsed between the appointment of the Committee and the last annual Town Meeting. The Committee has felt that the problem was of sufficient magnitude to justify a Special Town Meeting devoted solely to the school building program.

5. Was the adopted plan adequately described and explained at the Special Town Meeting?

   Yes. Floor plans of the four year Senior High School were shown on the screen at the meeting. The exterior of the four year school was described as identical to the plan shown in the Committee's Report showing the three year Senior High building. It was explained that additional space required for the four year school would be obtained by excavation of the area under the 1,100 seat auditorium.

6. Will it be possible to change and enlarge existing stairways in the present Junior High without disrupting classroom instruction to an intolerable degree?

   Yes. New stairways will be constructed outside the present building walls. The interior of the present building will not be worked on during the school year but during the summer months.

7. Are there sufficient exits provided for the new gymnasium?

   Yes. There are six large exits planned. Exit requirements are specified by the State Department of Public Safety.

If you have any suggestion, question or criticism in connection with the school building program the Committee would appreciate hearing from you.

Vote "Yes" at the Polls on December 28th.

KENNETT HIGH BOYS ENTERTAINED

The basketball team from Kennett High School in New Hampshire was entertained last Saturday afternoon before its evening game with Winchester High at the high school gym.

George T. Davidson, Jr., former Winchester High and Bowdoin athlete, is principal of Kennett High and it is due to this fact that a healthy rivalry in athletics is being built up between Winchester and his New Hampshire school. Winchester played at Kennett a year ago and the return game was last Saturday here.

During the afternoon, through the influence of Coach Ted Bartlett, former Air Force Lt. Colonel, and Mrs. Gladys Toye of the Winchester Military Manpower Committee, the Kennett boys and Principal Davidson were taken by Athletic Director Henry Knowlton and Coach Bartlett to the Bedford Air Field where they were shown through big Army transport planes and saw how the weather station at the field operates.

After the visit the boys returned for supper at the Splendid, and then went on to high school for the game, spending the night with Winchester High athletes at their homes.

GOOSE FINALLY CAPTURED

After vainly trying to round him up since cold weather set in last fall, John Lang finally caught the lone ranger goose at the bridge over the Mill Pond yesterday morning. The big bird's capture was effected by warily dropping wire netting around him from the bridge as he swam around, wholly unsuspecting attack from above. He has now joined his former associates at "Dot" Lord's farm in North Woburn.

WRITE HIM A LETTER

The Star is informed that Mr. Robert L. Stuckey of Bluffton, Ind., formerly of Oneida road, is confined to the Wells County Hospital in Bluffton in a paralyzed condition following a shock which he had on October 25. He would appreciate hearing from his old Winchester friends. Mrs. Stuckey died the month before he was stricken.

DOG PULLED FROM MILL POND

Thursday morning shortly before 10 o'clock a woman arrived at Fire Headquarters in a hurry, reporting a small black and white terrier was struggling in the water of the mill pond near the bridge on Mt. Vernon street.

Captain J. Edward Noonan and Fireman John Nash quickly ran to the spot indicated with a plastic hook and quickly succeeded in dragging the half frozen animal from the icy water.

The dog was in a state of collapse, and was quickly taken to the boiler room of the Central Station, where, after a brisk rubdown he was made comfortable with blankets in front of the heater. His owner, James P. De Salvo of 10 Russell road, picked the dog up later in the day after he had completely thawed out.

POND HEADS CEMETERY BOARD

At a meeting of the Board of Cemetery Commissioners held Monday evening Kenneth P. Pond of Prospect street was elected chairman to succeed Joseph L. S. Barton, formerly of Swan road, who resigned from the Board upon leaving Winchester to take up residence in Egypt, Mass.

Mr. Pond was elected to the Cemetery Board upon the death of Charles A. Gleason, who was for many years chairman. Son of the late Preston Pond, he has served as chairman of the Board of Selectmen and comes of a family long prominent in civic affairs in Winchester.

BOY BROKE THROUGH MILL POND ICE

Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a call came in to the Central Fire Station asking assistance for a boy who had broken through thin ice on the Mill Pond at the rear of the Winchester Laundry Building.

The Fire Department lifesaving boat made a quick trip to the spot indicated but the boy had succeeded in extricating himself before the firemen arrived. He gave his name as "Al" Simone and his address, 38 Kenwin road.

FIRE IN CULLEN BARN

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Fire Department was called to the Cullen Barn on Shore road where a flooded oil burner serving the apartment of Mr. Tom Morris at 23 Shore road, had caused a slight fire.

The appearance of apparatus at the barn caused a stir in the center as many had visions of another fire like that at Lyceum Building last week. Fortunately the trouble this time was of a very minor nature, and what damage there was done was caused by smoke.

DON'T GIVE CHRISTMAS TREES TO CHILDREN!

Fire Chief Callahan strongly urges all those who have Christmas trees this year to refrain from giving them to children who may try to collect them after the holiday season. Several potentially bad fires have resulted from bonfires started with Christmas trees collected by youngsters in past years, and the Chief is trying to prevent any serious fires this year. Have your tree taken to the town dump when you are through with it. Do not give it to the kiddies!

COLD WEATHER

Winchester experienced the coldest weather of the winter this week. On Monday the temperature started to drop and the glass went into the low 20's. Tuesday saw 10 to 12 above and on Wednesday it really got cold with early morning temperatures from 6 to 10 below zero. Wednesday was a really cold day, and yesterday morning was fully as cold. A light snow Tuesday afternoon covered the ground sufficiently for the kids to try out their new sleds, but there was just enough snow to spoil the skating. More snow is in the forecast.

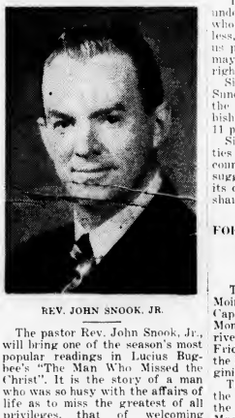

MISS ALICE FARNSWORTH

NEW YEAR'S EVE SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday evening at 11 P. M. the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will conduct a Watch Night Service.

Miss Alice Farnsworth of Lynn, well known all over New England as possessing one of the finest of soprano voices, will be the guest soloist. She will sing such favorite numbers as The Holy City, O Holy Night, O Divine Redeemer, There's A Song In the Air and Yesu Bambino. Miss Farnsworth is soloist at Tremont Temple Baptist Church, Boston.

REV. JOHN SNOOK, JR.

The pastor Rev. John Snook, Jr., will bring one of the season's most popular readings in Lucius Bugbee's "The Man Who Missed the Christ". It is the story of a man who was so busy with the affairs of life as to miss the greatest of all privileges, that of welcoming Christ as the guest of his house. Later in life he discovers the tragedy of his mistake. Out of a new resolution, he consecrates his life to God and at last finds that peace which he had been searching down through the years.

In making plans for New Year's Eve, the Methodist Church cordially invites the public to spend one hour of the Sabbath evening in Church.

THE METHODIST FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Last Sunday the Methodist Youth Fellowship went caroling and then returned to the Griffiths home for refreshments. They went to the 11 o'clock service at the church.

Next Sunday, December 31, they meet at 6:30 to plan their program for the next 3 months.

THE CALL TO PRAYER

Local Methodists will join Sunday, December 31, with the denomination's nearly nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace, it was announced today by the Rev John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

He said the call to special prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church's General Board of Evangelism in view of the "exceptionally grave condition of the world today."

In a letter to pastors of 42,000 Methodist Churches, the board urged every congregation to unite in "a chain of prayer on Mid-Century Sunday, beseeching God's guidance in converting a world crisis to a just and lasting peace."

Declaring that "mankind's hope for freedom is in desperate jeopardy," the plea for prayer coincided with a similar request by the Council of Churches, Episcopal president of the new National Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, of New York. He urged all Protestants to offer prayers on December 31 for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The letter to pastors, stressing individual and group participation, stemmed from the following call by Methodist Bishops:

"With a sense of deep urgency we call our fellow Methodists and all others who will to join us in special prayer.

"Let us pray daily for the leaders of our country and of the United Nations that God will give them wisdom and courage to seek and to do His will.

"Let us pray for all who are under the shadow of war; for those who do battle for us . . . the homeless, the hungry, the children. Let us pray for our enemies that God may lead them in the way of righteousness and peace."

Since New Year's eve is on a Sunday, Rev. Snook is including the suggestions given by the bishops in the Sunday morning and 11 p. m. New Year's Eve service.

Since doors will be open for parties and gay affairs all over the country, the Board of Evangelism suggests that the church open wide its doors that people may come to share in this Watchnight service.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL'S HUSBAND COMMANDS CRUISER

The heavy cruiser, USS Des Moines (CA-134), commanded by Captain Henry Crommelin, USN, of Montgomery, Alabama, will arrive at the Boston Naval Shipyard Friday, December 29, 1950, from the Mediterranean via Norfolk, Virginia.

The Des Moines was built by the Bethlehem Steel Company at the Fore River Yard, Quincy, Massachusetts, and was commissioned in Boston on November 16, 1948, as the first in a new class of 17,000-ton heavy cruisers, mounting eight-inch rapid firing guns. She is a sister ship of the USS Saleun.

The Des Moines left the Mediterranean recently where she served in the Sixth Fleet. While in the Boston Naval Shipyard the vessel will undergo routine shipyard repairs.

Captain Crommelin and his wife, the former Sally Huntress, daughter of George Huntress, former well known resident, lives with their four children, Diane, 19, Henry, Junior, 15, Sally, 12, and Harriet, 4, at 22 Marlborough street, Boston.

POLICE BEAT STORK TO HOSPITAL

The Winchester Police beat the stork to the Winchester Hospital early on the morning of the day before Christmas, the call for their service coming in at 1:15 o'clock.

At that time John W. Stanley of 94 Chestnut street, Wilmington, arrived at Headquarters to report that he was taking his wife, Virginia, to the Winchester Hospital to have a baby and was unable to get up Mt. Vernon street in his car because of the slippery condition of the road. Could the Police do anything about it? If he (Mr. Stanley) was any judge, the baby was about due right then.

The police not only could do something about it, but they did! Lt. Joseph Derro, on desk duty, dispatched Officer Henry Dempsey and Officer William Haggerty in the Department's ambulance to take over.

Mrs. Stanley was transferred to the big Cadillac and the two policemen started for the hospital. They made it all right, but toward the end of the drive Officer Dempsey reported they could hear the fluttering of the stork's wings!

HEMROULLE FRIENDSHIP PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, chairman of the Hemroulle Friendship Committee, has announced the program which is to take place at the high school auditorium on Sunday afternoon, January 7, when Winchester will officially accept the pictures being sent to the churches of the town by the villagers of Hemroulle, Belgium, in recognition of what the T[illegible] of Winchester did for Hemroulle in 1947.

At that time residents of Winc[illegible] took to the high school sheets to replace those loaned by Hemroulle villagers to Lt. Col. Jack Hanlon of Winchester to camouflage his paratroopers during the dark days of the Battle of the Bulge.

Hanlon promised the villagers their sheets would be returned to them after the battle, but he and his troops were rendered busy before he could make good his promise and it wasn't until after the war that he was able to return the sheets that had saved the lives of many of his troopers in the fighting of World War II.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Toye, aided Hanlon in publicizing his campaign for sheets and in arranging for a meeting held at the High School in the fall of 1947, to which the townspeople brought sheets as tickets of admission.

The gathering of the sheets to repay a war debt came in for international publicity and both money and sheets poured in to Mrs. Toye from all over this country and abroad.

The return of the sheets touched the people of Hemroulle deeply, and they have never forgotten their overseas friends. Wishing to send gifts to Winchester in turn, the Hemroulle villagers, both poor and few in number, have taken from the walls of their little chapel the oil paintings representing the Stations of the Cross, undoubtedly the things in the entire village meaning most to these devout people.

These pictures they have sent to this country, to be given, one each to the churches of Winchester, the "churches that rang the bells" in 1947 to summon the residents of the town to bring their gifts of sheets for Hemroulle to the high school hall.

The pictures have hung in the little Hemroulle chapel for more than 60 years, and that they hung in a Belgian Convent, their age being placed at well over 100 years. They are painted in oils and their colors, mellowed with age, are most attractive. Some are slashed and pierced with Nazi bullets.

Since mid-fall arrangements have been in the making to get the pictures to this country. Original plans called for having the acceptance ceremony at the high school on the day before Christmas, the anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge. Because of the uncertainty of the pictures arriving in time for that date, the affair was postponed until Sunday, January 7, at 4 o'clock.

At that time the pictures will be presented by Dr. Albert Navez, Belgian Consul in Boston, and accepted by Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, the Selectmen's official representative on the Hemroulle Friendship Committee, headed by Mrs. Toye.

Selectman Fitzgerald will in turn present the pictures to the Winchester churches, giving them to the pastors of the churches, or to some other specially designated representative. Edward A. Bartlett, who served as master of ceremonies so ably at the time that Winchester collected its sheets for Hemroulle, will again serve in that capacity on Sunday, and a simple but effective program has been arranged.

Through Station WRUL a broadcast of the program will be made from the stage in the high school auditorium to Hemroulle, and it should be understood by those who attend the program, that with the exception of Consul Navez, every one participating will be speaking directly to the Belgian villagers.

After a series of meetings held by the Hemroulle Friendship Committee the following program, necessarily brief because of the broadcast time limits, has been arranged:

Music by Selected Group of High School Bandsmen, Fred Felmet conducting
Invocation, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany
The Star Spangle Banner, Audience
Opening Remarks Edward A. Bartlett, M. C.
Belgian National Anthem
High School Girls' Octette, Eleanor Anifantis, conducting
Official Greetings to Hemroulle Vincent Farnsworth, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen
Remarks by Lt. Col. John Hanlon, commander of the Paratroops that saved Hemroulle in the Battle of the Bulge.
Presentation of Pictures from Hemroulle to Winchester — Dr. Albert Navez, Belgian Consul in Boston
Acceptance of Pictures Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald
Presentation of Pictures to Church Pastors or Representatives — Selectman Fitzgerald
"Auld Lang Syne" Audience
Benediction Rev. John P. O'Riordan, Pastor of St. Mary's Church

ECKBERG TO CONSTRUCT HIGHWAY DEPT. BLDG.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Archeologists having dug deep to find an ancient city site date the time of the city by the fragments of pottery found among the ruins. Yet, few people know how pottery is made. Pottery shapes formed by ancient Chinese influenced the art of Paul Revere shortly after the American Revolution; still we know little about it. January second, nineteen hundred and fifty-one in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library Carol M. Nickerson, of Winchester will illustrate with the aid of her pottery wheel the ancient art of pottery throwing for the members of the Winchester Art Association at their first meeting of the new year. Mrs. Nickerson studied with the Paul Revere Potteries, Child Walker School and the Englishman, Reginald Pearce, well known in this country and England. She is a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Crafts. Miss Sue Gleason arranged the details for this part of the evening's program.

England again appears in the background of the new year's opening of the Winchester Art Association's exhibit and tea. May Bennett Brown daughter of the British stage where she exhibited her flower studies before coming to New York and then later to settle in Rockport will show fifteen of her flower studies in the exhibit that remain on the walls of the art gallery through January. These pictures are oils. The artist will be at the galleries the night that the exhibit opens.

Marion Ladd Symmes Winchester's own artist and deeply interested in the art movement in the Merrimack region of New Hampshire will share the wall space in the January opening and exhibit. She is a past president of the Winchester Art Association and the Studio Guild of Winchester as well as the Fortnightly. In New Hampshire where her summer home is she is a member and exhibitor in The Creative Arts Association of the Monadnock Region showing her pictures in the Marlboro Community House each year. Mrs. Marshall Symmes, (Marion Ladd) taught art in the Malden School after her graduation from the Massachusetts School of Art until she met one of Pershing's men and settled down in Winchester maintaining her interest in art, however, with her other interests. Mrs. Symmes has exhibited, in addition to the Monadnock association, at Hillsboro and Conway pictures of New Hampshire landscapes. She also has shown pictures in the City Club of Boston, the Copley Society and at Rockport. Pauline Goodrich, chairman of the Exhibition Committee of the Art Association, had the inspiration to hang this exhibit of January second so that the townspeople of Winchester may see how their fellow townsmen, artists, work as shown in their pictures. Yet to come before this season closes is an exhibition by Alfred Lowe of Highland avenue and the Seniors of the Winchester High School art department. Next year it is hoped to have the opportunity to view at the Winchester Public Library Art Galleries the works of another well known and highly respected Winchester artist and teacher.

Mr. Pratt was born July 16, 1884, the son of Frank S., and Elizabeth (Howe) Pratt. His father he was born in the old Pratt Homestead, now torn down, but then situated at what is now Harrington road off Bacon street. He was educated in the Winchester schools and at Winchester High School where he was a member of the Class of 1903.

Most old time paddlers would rate Mr. Pratt Winchester's outstanding paddler, and this despite the fact that he nearly lost an arm in an accident when he was a junior at high school.

He and "Jim" Newman were shooting ducks on lower Mystic Lake when a premature explosion of a shotgun bore away part of Mr. Pratt's arm. A tourniquet applied by Mr. Newman kept the bleeding in check and Mr. Pratt was taken by Mr. Newman and William E. Little to the office of Dr. G. N. P. Mead, a Winchester physician of that time, the carriage of Miss Frances Elder, the present Mrs. Howard J. Chidley of Grey Rocks, Fernway, who happened to be driving by the lake at the time of the accident.

After preliminary treatment by Dr. Mead, Mr. Pratt was rushed to Boston and the arm, which it was at first thought would have to be amputated, was saved. It was after this accident that Mr. Pratt made his reputation as a paddler, being the last of the Winchester Boat Club group at a time when canoe racing was a sport of importance.

Several times he won the Mystic Valley single blade trophy and he often competed with success at American Canoe Association national meets. He served as fleet captain of the Winchester Boat Club and along in 1925 when there was a return flurry of canoe racing on Mystic Lake he coached the Winchester Boat Club crews. He was an honorary member of the Winchester Boat Club and was an official last June when the club observed its 50th anniversary. An all around athlete, he played on the Winchester Boat Club football teams in their annual games on Thanksgiving Day with Medford.

Mr. Pratt was employed at the time of his death as sales manager for C. E. Hall and Sons, Somerville trucking firm. Before that he had been a tire and truck salesman. He lived for a time during his early married life on Loyal street, after living for many years in Burlington until moving to Woburn two years ago. He was a Mason and a member of the old Phi Delta Society of Winchester.

On July 16, 1907, Mr. Pratt married Lena Harrington, a Woburn school teacher, who survives, with a son, John, of Castine, Me., a grandson, two sisters, Mrs. Robert M. Symmes of Marblehead and Mrs. Henry Norton of North Anson, Me.; and a brother, Clifford E. Pratt of Bartlett, N. H.

The funeral services will be private. Interment will be in Burlington.

Winchester experienced the coldest weather of the winter this week. On Monday the temperature started to drop and the glass went into the low 20's. Tuesday saw 10 to 12 below and on Wednesday it really got cold with early morning temperatures from 6 to 10 below zero. Wednesday was a really cold day, and yesterday morning was fully as cold. A light snow Tuesday afternoon covered the ground sufficiently for the kids to try out their new sleds, but there was just enough snow to spoil the skating. More snow is in the forecast.

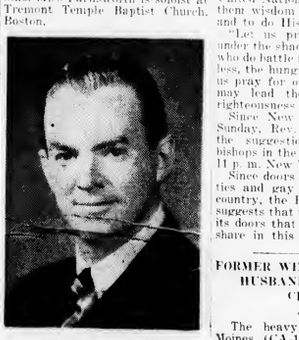

MISS ALICE FARNSWORTH

NEW YEAR'S EVE SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday evening at 11 P. M. the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will conduct a Watch Night Service.

Miss Alice Farnsworth of Lynn, well known all over New England as possessing one of the finest of soprano voices, will be the guest soloist. She will sing such favorite numbers as The Holy City, O Holy Night, O Divine Redeemer, There's A Song In the Air and Yesu Bambino. Miss Farnsworth is soloist at Trement Temple Baptist Church, Boston.

REV. JOHN SNOOK, JR.

The pastor Rev. John Snook, Jr., will bring one of the season's most popular readings in Lucius Bugbee's "The Man Who Missed the Christ". It is the story of a man who was so busy with the affairs of life as to miss the greatest of all privileges, that of welcoming Christ as the guest of his house. Later in life he discovers the tragedy of his mistake. Out of a new resolution, he consecrates his life to God and at last finds that peace which he had been searching down through the years.

In making plans for New Year's Eve, the Methodist Church cordially invites the public to spend one hour of the Sabbath evening in Church.

THE METHODIST FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Last Sunday the Methodist Youth Fellowship went caroling and then returned to the Griffiths home for refreshments. They went to the 11 o'clock service at the church.

Next Sunday, December 31, they meet at 6:30 to plan their program for the next 3 months.

THE CALL TO PRAYER

Local Methodists will join Sunday, December 31, with the denomination's nearly nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace, it was announced today by the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

He said the call to special prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church's General Board of Evangelism in view of the "exceptionally grave condition of the world today."

In a letter to pastors of 42,000 Methodist Churches, the board urged every congregation to unite in "a chain of prayer on Mid-Century Sunday, beseeching God's guidance in converting a world crisis to a just and lasting peace."

Declaring that "mankind's hope for freedom is in desperate jeopardy," the plea for prayer coincided with a similar request by the Council of Churches, Episcopal president of the new National Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, of New York. He urged all Protestants to offer prayers on December 31 for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The letter to pastors, stressing individual and group participation, stemmed from the following call by Methodist bishops:

"With a sense of deep urgency we call our fellow Methodists and all others who will to join us in special prayer.

"Let us pray daily for the leaders of our country and of the United Nations that God will give them wisdom and courage to seek and to do His will.

"Let us pray for all who are under the shadow of war; for those who do battle for us . . . the homeless, the hungry, the children. Let us pray for our enemies that God may lead them in the way of righteousness and peace."

Since New Year's eve is on a Sunday, Rev. Snook is including the suggestions given by the bishops in the Sunday morning and 11 p. m. New Year's Eve service.

Since doors will be open for parties and gay affairs all over the country, the Board of Evangelism suggests that the church open wide its doors that people may come to share in this Watchnight service.

The Des Moines left the Mediterranean recently where she served in the Sixth Fleet. While in the Boston Naval Shipyard the vessel will undergo routine shipyard repairs.

POLICE BEAT STORK TO HOSPITAL

The Winchester Police beat the stork to the Winchester Hospital early on the morning of the day before Christmas, the call for their services coming in at 1:15 o'clock.

At that time John W. Stanley of 94 Chestnut street, Wilmington, arrived at Headquarters to report that he was taking his wife, Virginia, to the Winchester Hospital to have a baby and was unable to get up Mt. Vernon street in his car because of the slippery condition of the road. Could the Police do anything about it? If so (Mr. Stanley was very judgmental), the baby was about due right then.

The police not only could do something about it, but they did! Lt. Joseph Derro, on desk duty, dispatched Officer Henry Dempsey and Officer William Haggerty in the Department's ambulance to take over.

Mrs. Stanley was transferred to the big Cadillac and the two policemen started for the hospital. They made it all right, but toward the end of the drive Officer Dempsey reported they could hear the fluttering of the stork's wings!

HEMROULE FRIENDSHIP PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Kenneth B. Foye, chairman of the Hemroulle Friendship Committee, has announced the program which is to take place at the high school auditorium on Sunday afternoon, January 7, when Winchester will officially accept the pictures being sent to the churches of the town by the villagers of Hemroulle, Belgium, in recognition of what the Town of Winchester did for Hemroulle in 1947.

At that time residents of Winchester took to the high school sheets to replace those loaned by Hemroulle villagers to Lt. Col. Jack Hanlon of Winchester to camouflage his paratroopers during the dark days of the Battle of the Bulge.

Hanlon promised the villagers their sheets would be returned to them after the battle, but he and his troops were ordered away before he could make good his promise and it wasn't until after the war that he was able to return the sheets that had saved the lives of many of his troopers in the fighting of World War II.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Foye, aided Hanlon in publicizing his campaign for sheets and in arranging for a meeting held at the High School in the fall of 1947, to which the townspeople brought sheets as tickets of admission.

The gathering of the sheets to repay a war debt came in for international publicity and both money and sheets poured in to Mrs. Foye from all over this country and abroad.

The return of the sheets touched the people of Hemroulle deeply, and they have never forgotten their overseas friends. Wishing to send gifts to Winchester in turn, the Hemroulle villagers, both poor and few in number, have taken from the walls of their little chapel the oil paintings representing the Stations of the Cross, undoubtedly the things in the entire village meaning most to these devout people.

These pictures they have sent to this country, to be given, one each to the churches of Winchester, the "churches that rang the bells" in 1947 to summon the residents of the town to bring their gifts of sheets for Hemroulle to the high school hall.

The pictures have hung in the little Hemroulle chapel for more than 60 years. Before that they hung in a Belgian Convent, their age being placed at well over 100 years. They are painted in oils and their colors, mellowed with age, are most attractive. Some are slashed and pierced with Nazi bullets.

Since mid-fall arrangements have been in the making to get the pictures to this country. Original plans called for having the necessitance ceremony at the high school on the day before Christmas, the anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge. Because of the uncertainty of the pictures arriving in time for that date, the affair was postponed until Sunday, January 7, at 4 o'clock.

At that time the pictures will be presented by Dr. Albert Navez, Belgian Consul in Boston, and accepted by Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, the Selectmen's official representative on the Hemroulle Friendship Committee, headed by Mrs. Foye.

Selectman Fitzgerald will in turn present the pictures to the Winchester churches, giving them to the pastors of the churches, or to some other officially designated representative. Edward A. Bartlett, who served as master of ceremonies so ably at the time that Winchester collected its sheets for Hemroulle will again serve in that capacity on Sunday, and a simple but effective program has been arranged.

Through Station WRUL a broadcast of the program will be made from the stage in the high school auditorium to Hemroulle, and it should be understood by those who attend the program, that with the exception of Consul Navez, every one participating will be speaking directly to the Belgian villagers.

After a series of meetings held by the Hemroulle Friendship Committee the following program, necessarily brief because of the broadcast time limits, has been arranged:

Music by Selected Group of High School Bandsmen, Fred Felmet conducting
Invocation, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany
The Star Spangle Banner, Audience
Opening Remarks, Edward A. Bartlett, M. C.
Belgian National Anthem
High School Girls' Octette, Eleanor Anifantis, conducting
Official Greetings to Hemroulle
Vincent Farnsworth, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen
Remarks by Lt. Col. John Hanlon, commander of the Paratroops that saved Hemroulle in the Battle of the Bulge.
Presentation of Pictures from Hemroulle to Winchester — Dr. Albert Navez, Belgian Consul in Boston
Acceptance of Pictures
Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald
Presentation of Pictures to Church Pastors or Representatives — Selectman Fitzgerald
"Auld Lang Syne" Audience
Benediction
Rev. John P. O'Riordan

ECKBERG TO CONSTRUCT HIGHWAY DEPT. BLDG.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Archeologists having dug deep to find an ancient city site date the time of the city by the fragments of pottery found amongst the ruins. Yet, few people know how pottery is made. Pottery shapes formed by ancient Chinese influenced the art of Paul Revere shortly after the American Revolution; still we know little about it. January second, nineteen hundred and fifty-one in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library Carol M. Nickerson, of Winchester will illustrate with the aid of her pottery wheel the ancient art of pottery throwing for the members of the Winchester Art Association at their first meeting of the new year. Miss Nickerson studied with the Paul Revere Potteries, Child Walker School and the Englishman, Reginald Pearce, well known in this country and in England. She is a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Crafts. Miss Sue Gleason arranged the details for this part of the evening's program.

England again appears in the background of the new year's opening of the Winchester Art Association's exhibit and tea. May Bennett Brown daughter of the British stage where she exhibited her flower studies before coming to New York and then later to settle in Rockport will show fifteen of her flower studies in the exhibit that remain on the walls of the art gallery through January. These pictures are oils. The artist will be at the galleries the night that the exhibit opens.

Marion Ladd Symmes Winchester's own artist and deeply interested in the art movement in the Monadnock region of New Hampshire will share the wall space at the January opening and exhibit. She is a past president of the Winchester Art Association and the Studio Guild of Winchester as well as the Fortnightly. In New Hampshire where her summer home is she is a member and exhibitor in The Creative Arts Association of the Monadnock Region showing her pictures in the Marlboro Community House each year. Mrs. Marshall Symmes, (Marion Ladd) taught art in the Malden School after her graduation from the Massachusetts School of Art until she met one of Pershing's men and settled down in Winchester maintaining her interest in art, however, with her other interests. Mrs. Symmes has exhibited, in addition to the Monadnock association, at Hillsboro and Conway pictures of New Hampshire landscapes. She also has shown pictures in the City Club at Boston, the Copley Society and at Rockport. Pauline Goodrich, chairman of the Exhibition Committee of the Art Association, had the inspiration for having this exhibit of January second so that the townspeople of Winchester may see how their fellow townsmen, artists, work as shown in their pictures. Yet to come before this season closes is an exhibition by Alfred Lowe of Highland road and the Seniors of the Winchester High School art department. Next year it is hoped to have the opportunity to view at the Winchester Public Library Art Galleries the work of another well known and highly respected Winchester artist and teacher.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

As a result of the steadily increasing interest in an organized Ski School program, the Council at its last meeting voted to make such a program available to all members of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts Inc.

We feel that we are fortunate in engaging Mr. Harry Jollard, Jr., (CSMSA) to direct the Ski School. Mr. Pollard comes to this program with 15 years' past experience as a Ski teacher and organizer. For the past two seasons he has been responsible for the Girl Scouts, Waterville, N. H., trips, where he acts as a staff instructor. He has also directed the Belmont Day School Ski program.

Several preliminary meetings have already been held at the Cabin Area and judging from the enthusiasm the new classes will soon be filled to the maximum of 50 girls. Classes will start at the Winchester Country Club on January 5th at 3 p. m. providing of course there is sufficient snow. The lessons will average between 1½ and 2 hours each session and will be held on Friday 3:00 - 5:00 (approximately) and Saturday 10:00 - 12:00. The Winchester Country Club has graciously allowed us the use of the 14th fairway area for those classes.

The fee for a series of 6 lessons will be $10 and each subscriber will be given a serially numbered book containing the 6 tickets which will be for either the Friday afternoon or Saturday morning classes. Mr. Pollard and his staff feel that there should be no more than 25 girls on the slope in the different groups during one lesson period so it will be a question of first come first served on the Friday or Saturday session.

Books for both lesson groups may be purchased for any girl. The issue of any book entitles the holder to 6 scheduled lessons and an attempt will be made to schedule 13 classes in order to provide a make-up period. The girls will bring their ticket books to the class and turn in the proper numbered ticket for each lesson. Members of the Girl Scout organization will be present at each lesson to collect tickets and supervise the session. As a further benefit, Mr. Pollard has agreed to hold classes for any group of 10 adults during any week day morning from 10 to 12 on the same fee basis.

Ticket books will be on sale at the Girl Scouts office from 9 to 4:30 on January 2 - 3 - 4. Remember, there is a limit of 50 girls for these classes. All information relative to holding classes (snow conditions) will be available at the office on Friday 9 to 12 and from either Mrs. Hersey at WInchester 6-0093 or Mrs. Parsons WInchester 6-1335-J on each Saturday morning.

There will be a ski class given by volunteers (no charge) which will be announced later in the Star. Watch the Girl Scout column in the Star.

TROOP 12, CHRISTMAS PARTY

On Wednesday evening, December 20th, Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church held their annual Christmas party with each boy of the troop bringing a gift for another member. Refreshments were served with the Troop Committee furnishing the "cokes" and the boys themselves bringing cakes, candies, cookies, doughnuts, etc.

The troop has been busy selling Christmas wreaths and prior to the party the results of the sale were made known with the treasury of the troop enrichened a bit more by the results of the boys' efforts.

The boys held an election with Scout Thomas Morrissey being elected Senior Patrol Leader and Scout "Tony" Doyle, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Scout Laurence Erhard was named Troop Scribe and Scout George Wheaton, Quartermaster.

Rev. Francis O'Neill, Troop Chaplain, announced that he would be conducting the tests for the "Ad Altare Dei" award which is made annually each February at the Cathedral in Boston by His Excellency Archbishop Richard J. Cushing. To date Scouts Thomas Morrissey, Henry Quill, and possibly Tim Sullivan, Ernest Reardon and Peter Cullen will have passed their first class tests and will strive for this high award. Last year Scouts Thomas Gallagher, Robert Thorne and Laurence Erhard passed the tests and were awarded the medal.

For entertainment the scouts sang Christmas Carols with scout Erhard at the piano, and scout Dan Doherty, Jr., obliged with several carols on the trumpet. So well played were these latter that it is a foregone conclusion Dan is the Troop Bugler as of now. Little Alan McDougall, son of Chairman of the Committee, obliged the troop also, with his contribution of "From a Wigwam" on the piano.

New members joining the troop were John Bradley and John Fitzgerald, the latter the son of the Basketball Coach who also is a teacher at Everett Senior High School.

Mrs. V. F. Erhard, who was delegated by the Chairman of the Winchester Hospital Christmas Party Committee to furnish several numbers for the entertainment of the nurses, staff and patients, led a group of Scouts to the hospital on Friday, December 22nd, to sing carols. Included were Scouts Bob Winn, Bob Thorne, Laurie Erhard, Peter Dee, Tommy Grace and Coleman F. Foley, son of Pack 12 Cubmaster Coleman G. Foley, Jr. Scoutmaster Mr. Robert Fiore also accompanied the group with Mrs. Erhard, who directed. First the group visited the Nurses' Home where they were met by the Superintendent of Nurses, Miss Rogers. Accompanied by Scout Erhard on the piano, the group sang several carols for the nurses and hospital staff and then repeated their program at the Hospital proper, where the patients enjoyed the program. The boys were very natty in their scout uniforms, while their voices were very pleasing.

1950 WAS "YEAR OF IRON TIGER" IN MUCH OF THE TROUBLED WORLD

At the mid-mark of the century, 1950 more than lived up to its Tibetan characterization as the "Year of the Iron Tiger," notes the National Geographic Society in its annual survey "Months in Review."

The Earth, seen in a zoological calendar, starts the month tiger period as "year of danger and terror," suffers a crisis October 10, Chinese significance.

In Korea, the war which began June with the North Korean communists' attack on the South turned against the United Nations forces at the end of the year in overwhelming numbers of Chinese troops from Red China poured into the conflict and raised the threat of World War III.

East in Turmoil

The iron tiger was abroad in French Indochina, now officially called the Associated States (Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia) of the French Union. Within this wide peninsula, which stretches from the border of communist China much as Korea dangles southward from Red Manchuria, French military forces in 1950 continued their years' long battle against the increasingly strong arms of the Moscow-trained communist leader, Ho Chi Minh. One bright spot was seen in the political situation, near year's end, when negotiations for genuine self rule by the former French possession resulted in agreements for the transfer of practically all imperial powers from France to the Associated States.

There was trouble at various point among the lofty Himalaya states of Asia. In fruitless and unpublicized Nepal, a struggle between Thai and mainland Indian power flared against the government of the aristocratic Prime Minister, Mohun Shumsher Jung Bahadur Rana. Tibet, which has long claimed independence of China, was deprived and cut off from India. Hostilities ceased in Kashmir, scene of the new government, with a cease-fire order going into effect January 1.

Further to the west, the former mandate-ridden state of Kashmir changed its shawls and scenery, remained a sore spot of armed strife between Pakistan and India. All UN efforts to mediate the problem of Kashmir's allegiance through either plebiscite or partition met with failure, as each of the interested governments found itself unable to accept the conditions imposed by the other.

Kipling Country Disputed

Next door to Kashmir, another "powderkeg" area involved Pakistan with Afghanistan, and aroused fears that the diverse surrounding nations — the Soviet Union, China, India, and Iran — might be brought into the fracas. The region concerned — home of the Pathan warriors and colorful setting for Kipling's stories of the North-West Frontier — is a border stretch whose inhabitants voted in favor of Pakistan at the time of partition of the Indian subcontinent in 1947. The current controversy stems from an Afghan-supported movement for the independence of the territory known as "Pukhtunistan" or "Pushtoonistan." Violence broke out in 1950, with charges and counter charges of invasions and bombings.

Newly independent Indonesia suffered growing pains in a year that was not without iron-tiger symbolism for this immense island chain off the southeast coast of Asia. The federation known as the United States of Indonesia, which had been set up the previous year by agreement with the Netherlands, became a single state, the Republic of Indonesia. Organized under the leadership of the able and respected Sukarno, the Republic has done much to bring national unity to the 3,000 islands in the East Indies. It has earned a place in the United Nations and has been recognized by most of the countries of the world. Its relations with the Netherlands, however, have been strained by the dispute over the status of Netherlands New Guinea.

Europe's Problems Simmer

Compared with the "hot wars" boiling over the Orient, Europe's complicated border disagreements merely simmered during 1950.

One of the gravest of the post-war frontier problems began to heat up in the summer, when Soviet-dominated East Germany signed an agreement with Poland to recognize the Oder-Neisse river boundary. This boundary, which marks the already-existing Polish administration of nearly 40,000 square miles of rich, former German territory, had been set only tentatively by the big powers at the 1945 Potsdam Conference. Hence, East Germany's action called forth strong protests from the Western Nations and West German leaders.

On the German-French border, another old trouble spot, the coal-producing Saar, made headlines again as the result of a series of agreements between France and Saar which provided, among other things, the local Saar autonomy and 50-year coal leases to France. While the final settlement of the Saar's status awaits the conclusion of the long deferred German peace treaties, the present alignment of the Saar with France brought West German protests on the grounds that it would influence the district's political future. Instead of such economic arrangements, the Germans proposed either a general plebiscite to determine the Saarlanders' allegiance, or the establishment of an international authority.

UN Follows Through

In Africa, various commitments made earlier for the disposition of former Italian possessions were put into effect in 1950. East African Somaliland, which had been administered by the British since it was won in World War II, was returned to Italian rule in April in the form of a UN trusteeship. With the trusteeship went special instructions for the preparation of the one-time colony for independence by the end of ten years.

North African Libya, with its three parts, Cyrenaica, Tripolitania, and Fezzan, obtained its independence in November. Its new National Constituent Assembly almost immediately designated as king the long spiritual and temporal leader of the Senussi tribesmen, M hammed Idris el Senussi.

The future status of another ex-Italian holding — the steaming Red Sea area of Eritrea — also was decided on late in the year, when the UN General Assembly acted in favor of a federation plan for the federation of this middle-sized territory ad-jacent to landlocked Ethiopia.

One more country — Palestine — was divided in 1950, with the Arab section going to Jordan and the Israeli section to the new state of Israel. Jerusalem, the Holy City, was split in two, with Israel controlling the new city and Jordan the old city. Jerusalem's future status remained in dispute as the year ended.

WINCHESTER BRICK CO CHRISTMAS PARTY

One hundred and forty officials and employees of the Winchester Brick Company, with their ladies and invited guests, enjoyed a Christmas Party last Saturday evening at Knights of Columbus Hall. Philip H. Gallagher of Cabot street, treasurer and general manager of the Company, had originally planned to have the party in Lyceum Hall, but the recent fire in Lyceum Building made it necessary to seek a new spot. A catered roast beef dinner preceded the merrymaking.

After the employees of the company had been presented with bonuses by the management, Joe Corsetti, in the role of Santa Claus, began the gift distribution from a gaily decked Christmas tree near the head table, assisted by Mary DeTeso, secretary to the manager.

Each company employee and his lady received a gift, and in addition to the bonuses there were distributions of $80.00 and $40.00 to lucky employees, as well as five 15 pound turkeys with all the fixin's necessary for complete Christmas dinners.

Drawings for the ladies included such gifts as silver candlesticks, cake dishes and flat ware. Ronson lighters were presented to the guests.

A pleasant surprise took place when Joseph Alpedo, veteran employee of the Company, approached the head table and presented Mr. Gallagher and his wife with a barometer to be used in the business and an eight day clock, gifts of the employees.

Dancing and a grab-bag followed the distribution of gifts, with refreshments, cigars and cigarettes, for the good cheer of the employees.

The Winchester Brick Company, situated off Cross street in North Winchester, manufactures white bricks for the building trade. Under Mr. Gallagher's management it has developed into one of the town's major industries.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department answered three alarms over the past week-end, with three more coming in on Christmas Day.

At 10:45 Friday forenoon there was a brush and grass fire at the rear of the home of Mr. James Malloy, 25 Baldwin street. Sunday morning at 12:36 the department was called to the home of Mr. Salvatore Lentine, 44 Swanton street, where trouble with the electrical wiring was discovered on the outside of the building. The Edison repair crew was notified and took care of the situation.

Sunday morning at 2:27 the Police discovered a fire in the basement of the barn at 23 Shore road, owned by County Commissioner James A. Cullen of Bacon street. The men found that an oil burner in the basement serving the apartment of Mr. C. A. Morris had flooded and set fire to oil in the heater pit, also igniting a pile of rubbish near the boiler.

The men used a smoke ejector to clear the cellar of smoke. Capt. J. Edward Noonan of the Fire Department, while working on the heater fan cut his right thumb and was treated by Dr. Richard W. Sheehy.

Christmas activity for the firemen commenced at 11:22 in the forenoon when there was a rubbish fire at a garden on Water street. Two still alarms were telephoned in for the fire, the second reporting a pile of old wood afire. Box 7 - 7 - 11 was put on after the second still alarm.

At 11:25 Christmas night the department was called to put out a fire in a pile of old railroad sleepers beside the spur track going in to the Winchester Brick Company, column with Kit Carleton leading the way with 18 points, followed by John Atkinson with 13 and Norman Howard with 12.

WINCHESTER WON OPENER

Winchester High won its third straight hoop victory of the young season by defeating Winthrop High 30 - 30 at the high school gym last Friday night. It was a nice victory for the locals as Winthrop had come here with victories over Melrose and Wakefield and is being hailed as the prospective Northeastern Conference champion for this season. It was a much closer game than the final score would indicate and the locals showed good poise in pulling out their hard-earned victory in the last quarter.

Both teams covered very closely and as a result the scoring was held to a minimum in the first half, Winchester led by a score of 7 - 5 at the end of the first period and had a one-point edge at 15 - 14 at the half time. The tempo of the scoring increased during the third period with the locals adding four points to their margin to lead 29 - 24 at the end of that period. Once again the Red and Black showed the results of superb condition as they added five points to their lead during the last period to win going away.

Winchester was not hitting the basket last Friday night with the same degree of accuracy they had in their two previous games. None of the Red and Black performers hit double figures but it was pleasing to Coach Bartlett to see the scoring so well distributed among his seven regulars. The locals are playing very aggressive ball and even when they are not shooting well as was the case last Friday night, that aggressiveness is paying dividends. They are showing a great deal of poise, too, for an inexperienced team as they refused to become rattled when their shots were not dropping but kept pegging away until they finally began to go into the hoop.

The Winchester Seconds swamped the Winthrop Seconds 74 - 15 in the preliminary game. This was probably the biggest score ever run up by a Red and Black second team as the locals could do nothing wrong and everything they threw up at the hoop went in. This was especially true in the final period when the locals outscored the opposition 26 - 1. Ten of the eleven Winchester performers entered the scoring column with Kit Carleton leading the way with 18 points, followed by John Atkinson with 13 and Norman Howard with 12.

WINCHESTER PLAYS READING TONIGHT

Winchester High opens its Middlesex League schedule by entertaining Reading High tonight in a game that should pack the local gym to capacity. The schedule-makers showed the locals no favors in assigning them Reading High as the opening game for the Reading quintet is one of the strongest in the League as evidenced by their one-sided victory over Johnson High last Friday. Reading-Winchester contests of late have all been hard-fought and with the memory of the recent football game still fresh, this one should be no exception.

For the football minded the Reading quintet presents three of last season's football stars in their line-up. Captain Bob Sardam was their rangy, pass-catching end, Bob Gibson their fleet halfback, and Tommy Lyons their smart quarterback. These three boys make up the front court trio for the visitors and provide them with a lot of speed and height in the front court. To combat this height advantage, Doug Hawkins may be shifted to a guard position for this game so that he can set Rodney Long can be in the court at the same time to give the locals added height. Coach Bartlett is confident that his charges have hit their stride and are ready to battle the favored invaders every minute of the game.

A CHRISTMAS BROADCAST!

Some weeks ago Edwin C. Hill, widely known radio commentator, called attention to an advertisement he had seen in the Winchester STAR, inserted by Rev. John Snook, Jr., in which the popular pastor of the Crawford Memorial Church advertised for pew sitters to occupy slightly used pews at his church. In commenting on the ad and Mr. Snook, Mr. Hill had some nice things to say about the STAR, clearing from the Editor a note of thanks. Mr. Hill in turn sent the STAR a copy of his annual Christmas Eve Broadcast with permission to publish it. We are pleased to do so and offer it herewith, with Mr. Hill's letter to the Editor:

Edwin C. Hill
1136 Fifth Avenue
New York City
November 29, 1950

Dear Mr. Wilson:

It must be that my training as a reporter on the old New York Sun - the original morning Sun — Dana's Sun, and the nursery of journalistic humanities, gave me a telepathic kinship with the Winchester Star, and your community generally.

I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy of my annual Christmas Eve broadcast — which, if I may say so, has enjoyed considerable favor throughout America for many years. You are free to publish it (if you care to do so) without any obligation except to write a note once in a while to tell me more about Winchester and the admirable red haired minister and diplomat, John Snook, Jr.

E. C. H.

"In distant Palestine a colorful procession makes its way from Jerusalem to the little town of Bethlehem. Along the modern highway of today, but the same road where Solomon's golden chariots rolled three thousand years ago, and the lumbering elephants of the Queen of Sheba, are moving now shining carriages, drawn by beautiful milk-white Arabian horses; glittering motorcars from Detroit; stately ships of the desert carrying converts from the land of the Pharaohs; palanquins, borne on the backs of slaves and shielding from the common gaze noble ladies of India. Men and women of every degree, and every race and color. The surly camel and the patient donkey are in the thick of a slowly - trudging mass of pilgrims - a great human tide endlessly flowing toward the Creator of the Nativity - toward the very spot where a star, set majestically in the heavens, years this tremendous legend in Latin: "Here, of Mary the Virgin, was Jesus Christ born."

If we could be transported to some distant Star where earthly events of two thousand years ago are now visible, we would be thrilled by the drama of the Nativity. We would be looking upon Bethlehem as it was those twenty centuries ago: the scattered stone houses; the brown-robed villagers, the shepherds bringing their sheep in from the fields. The road is untraveled except for a bearded man who leads a donkey which is bearing the burden of a young woman who has veiled her face against the dust of the road. They make their way wearily to the village inn, but they are turned away. The house is crowded with merchants and farmers bound for Jerusalem to pay their taxes to mighty Rome. There is no room in the inn, that warm and cheerful hostel, for wayfarers as poor and humble as this man and this woman. In their distress, they take shelter in the stable, among the fowls, the cows and the calves, the sheep and their lambs, and the fateful hour comes for the woman, and her son is born and laid in a manger.

In the tavern, the attention of the travelers is fixed upon three richly - attired strangers. Oriental princes, it is thought, and curiosity turns to amazement as these distinguished personages unpack their cases, and with their own hands bear rich gifts to the man and woman in the stable, and kneel down and worship the Child lying in the manger.

How could the people in the inn foresee that this episode at a wayside inn was to change the course of human life as nothing before or since? Because of a letter written to the Roman Senate by a law-officer stationed in Judea to report on all matters of unusual interest, we know what Jesus looked like as he walked the earth, a man among men: The letter was as follows: "There has appeared here" he wrote, "a man who is attracting attention by his discourses. He has attained a following among the poor and unfortunate, but has incurred the anger of the priests. A man of stature somewhat tall, and most comely, with a very reverend countenance such as the beholder may both love and fear. His hair is of the color of chestnuts, full ripe; plain to his ears, whence downward; it is more orient and curling, waving about his shoulders. In the midst of his hair is a seam or partition, after the manner of the Nazarenes. His forehead very plain and delicate. His face without spot or wrinkle - beautiful - with a lovely red. His nose and mouth are formed as nothing can be represented. His hands and arms most beautiful to behold. His beard is thickish, and in color like his hair - not very long, forked. His look innocent and moderate. His eyes clear and quick. In reproving he is terrible; in admonishing, courteous and fair-spoken; very temperate, modest and wise. It cannot be remembered that any have ever seen him laugh, but many have seen him weep. A man for his singular beauty surpassing the children of men."

THANKS FROM RED FEATHER COMMITTEE

Editor of the Star:

Through your column, I should like to express my sincere thanks to the 637 workers, and the 3,148 subscribers that enabled Winchester to achieve 92.2% of its $58,418.00 quota in the Greater Boston Red Feather Drive. Although the drive officially ended on Thanksgiving Eve, it has not been until this week that our books have been closed. I feel that Winchester can be proud that it attained second place in the eight communities making up the North Metropolitan area. In the solicitation of $53,859.00, special praise should go to the Chairmen of the top divisions as follows:

Office Administration for 100% efficiency, under Mrs. Neil H. Borden; Advance Gifts, under Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., and Mr. James N. Nowell, 92.2%; Residential, under Mr. Carleton B. Heard and Mr. Joseph W. Butler, Jr., 87.7%; Retail, under Mr. Lewis B. Snow, 87.3%.

Again many thanks for your assistance, and I hope that you will support your next year's chairman as well as you have supported me.

WHAT IS A CUSTOMER?

This is the definition Chevrolet Motor Company gives of a Customer:

A Customer is the most important Person In Any Business. A Customer is not dependent on us - we are dependent on him.

A Customer is not an interruption of our work — he is the purpose for it.

A Customer does us a favor when he calls — we are not doing him a favor by serving him.

A Customer is part of our business - not an outsider.

A Customer is not a cold statistic - he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.

A Customer is a person who brings us his wants; it is our job to fill those wants.

A Customer is the life-blood of this and every other business.

A Customer is deserving of the most courteous and attractive treatment we can give him.

Good advice. It is always the marginal few who seem to forget the importance of such advice. The result is that all business suffers because of those few.

WHAT YOUR MONEY BUYS

You don't buy a newspaper — you buy news.

You don't buy glasses — you buy improved vision.

You don't buy an awning — you buy shade.

You don't buy life insurance — you buy education for your children, payment of the mortgage on your home, a life income for your wife.

You don't buy a membership in the Better Business Bureau — you buy cooperation of the most able business-men in Boston. Almost 1,200 firms, like your own, join hands in promoting better business for themselves and for your community by providing leadership for better business.

Truly big men, men of national and international influence, have founded and made possible Better Business Bureaus as we know them today. They are strong believers in the work of Better Business Bureaus — they know that the Bureaus render invaluable service to business and the community alike.

Your support of the Better Business Bureau of Boston buys vital, active, cooperative force, which is making this a better city in which to live, and in which to do business. It brings you the help of your fellow businessmen in the mutual task of building confidence in all business. You could not afford to hire the leaders of almost 1,200 businesses but, through the Bureau, you benefit directly from their combined efforts.

It has been found that many surrounding cities and towns have chaplains attached to the Fire Department, to be called upon in cases of emergency. The appointments here are in line with general Fire Department policy.

Sunday Services at 11 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hours as the church service.
Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Theme of the Christian Science services next Sunday will be the revelation of Truth to mankind, and the eternal rule available to humanity by which the sick are healed through understanding God. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Christian Science."

The words of Christ Jesus, from John 16:13, provide the Golden Text: "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come."

Readings from the Bible (King James Version) include the following statement of Christ Jesus: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

The selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine Principle of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin. This healing power of Truth must have been far anterior to the period in which Jesus lived. It is as ancient as 'the Ancient of days.' It lives through all life, and extends throughout all space" (p. 146).

CHURCHES THRONGED FOR CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Churches everywhere in Winchester were thronged at the special services arranged for Christmas. Especially were large attendances reported at the midnight masses and services that ushered in Christmas Day.

People were forced to stand at the midnight masses at both St. Mary's Church and the Immaculate Conception Church where there were special musical programs. Extra seats were necessary at the Church of the Epiphany where the midnight service of Holy Communion was preceded by the singing of carols by the vested choir in the balcony at the rear of the church. Bishop Newell S. Booth presided at the Christmas Candle Lighting Service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church which commenced at 11 o'clock the night before Christmas. Another Christmas Eve Candle-lighting Service was held at the Second Congregational Church at 11:30.

Most Protestant churches held their Christmas Services on Sunday December 24 with special musical programs by the choirs. Catholic churches and the Church of the Epiphany had services on Christmas Day. Young people from the societies of several of the churches went about town caroling to shut-ins.

The Church of the Epiphany held its usual Sunday School Christmas Eve Pageant at the Church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the Sunday preceding there was an authentic Christmas Masque at the Unitarian Church.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. John Armstrong of Winchester is among the ushers for the big Christmas Dance being held during the holiday season at historic Salem Hall in Salem.

Workmen commenced this week the job of removing the top story of Lyceum Building damaged in the recent fire. When the job is completed the building will be only slightly higher than the block housing Richardson's Market and the Winchester Trust Company Branch Office. A new oil burner has been installed in the building by Fitzgerald Fuel Company, replacing the old coal burning system.

Guests at yesterday's meeting of the Rotary were former President Don Simonds of Osterville and Donald J. Lewis, former treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company.

Town officials are seriously considering the suggestion made by Edmund C. Sanderson, veteran chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, that sprinklers be installed in the town hall. Estimated cost is $15,000.

Selectman Nicholas H. Fitzgerald reports that plans for the elimination of Winchester's grade crossing by raising the Boston and Maine tracks through the town are progressing satisfactorily and that shortly after the first of the year the Board of Selectmen will confer with Thomas Worcester Inc., engineers, to go over the plans and make any suggested changes that would be for the benefit of the town.

TOWN OFFICIALS MET WITH COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

On Tuesday, December 26, the Board of Selectmen and the Planning Board and Town Engineer James A. Wakefield, Jr., met with the County Commissioners at their office in East Cambridge to go over plans for the relocation of High street and Johnson road as Chapter 90 projects.

At the meeting were Selectman Nicholas Fitzgerald, Chairman Fred Hatch and Frank E. Rowe of the Planning Board. Chairman James A. Cullen of the County Commissioners, following the usual procedure, did not sit upon the Board since the matter under discussion affected his home town.

Mr. Thomas M. Vinson of High street as an abuttor to the project, made some suggestions and spoke in favor of the High street plan.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Kathleen Ruth McCullough, daughter of Mr. Milton W. McCullough and the late Mrs. McCullough of Trenton, New Jersey to Mr. William Hodge, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hodge of 32 Grove street, Winchester.

Miss McCullough, a graduate of Ursinus College, class of 1949, is studying for her Master's degree in English at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hodge, a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1950, served with the Navy for three years during the war.

J. H. WINN'S SONS HAD CHRISTMAS PARTY

With their plant running at full capacity, J. H. Winn's Sons' employees and management took time out on the evening of December 20, 1950 to enjoy what was indeed one of their most successful and largest annual Christmas parties. The guests this year included Rev. W. L. Bailey, Mr. E. A. Bradlee, and Father J. P. O'Riordan. Father O'Riordan unfortunately was not able to attend.

Mrs. James P. Barry has already been warned that because of her stellar job as Mistress of Ceremonies that she is in line to assume this position regularly.

Edward "Duke" Herland's orchestra again this year provided the music which was excellent.

As customary, a banquet started the festivities, at the conclusion of which Mr. Ernest B. Dade, President, gave an absorbing talk on the business of the company. This was followed by Rev. Bailey's inspiring speech on seeking the star as a means of winning out over world conditions as they now are, thus triumphing over darkness.

Mr. Leroy W. Newcomb then gave his fellow employees a short lecture on Civilian Defense at which he is well versed.

Mr. Dade, always full of surprises, at this point really provided a masterpiece. He requested Henry Clark and Roger Holmes to put a large box on the stage in which there turned out to be a television set. He then requested Rev. Bailey to select a slip from a box in which the name of every employee had been placed, and which Mr. E. H. New had had shaken most vigorously. Mr. Bailey said, "Samuel H. Griffin." Too bad a camera was not available to take a picture of the winner who was overcome with pleasant surprise.

After a short intermission a show was presented of various acts which were made up 100% by personnel of the organization itself. James Milnes, William Chaddock, and Creighton Horn worked hard to make these performances which are listed below successful.

1. Marjorie Quimby - Song - God Bless America followed by a salute to the flag.
2. Baton Twirling - Evelyn O'Neill
3. Song and dance number by Rose Pandolph and Helen Hinchley
   Music - "Together" and "Let's Do It Again." Dance - The Charleston
4. The Swamii - James Milnes and Herman Soule
5. Musical number by Howard Chase, Jr. Music - "My Foolish Heart" and "Scattered Toys."
6. Spray Room Harmonizers - Music "Harbor Lights" and "White Christmas."
   Leader - Marjorie Quimby. Shirley Scott, Dorothy Carroll, Agnes Pereira, Violet Lavesque, Mary E. Kelly, Ann Donahue, and Kathleen Quigley
7. William Chaddock's Personality Girls - Muriel Doane, Alice McManus, Wilma MacDonald, Rose Pandolph, Kathryn Carey, Eunice Churchill
8. J. H. Winn's 1951 Fashion Show - Herman Soule, William Chaddock, Howard Chase, Jr., James Milnes and James Caulfield
9. "The Thing" - song and dance Anna Dulong, Jennie DiMambro, Pauline Taylor and Evelyn O'Neill
10. Christmas Tableau and Carols - Office girls, Anna Hermanson and Eleanor Hyer

Considering the limited amount of time available for preparation of the above, each member of the cast is to be individually congratulated for demonstrating outstanding talent which in many cases their fellow employees did not even know existed.

Dancing then followed the entertainment.

CHRISTMAS AT WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Many kinds of good fortune combined to make it a pleasant Christmas at Winchester Hospital. Flowers and greens in the Hospital lobby, in the Nurses' Home living room, and on the entrance doorways, donated and arranged by the two Garden Clubs of Winchester, struck the holiday note early. Christmas trees of full room height in both the Hospital and the Nurses' Home had, as last year, the master hand of the office staff in their decoration, and were the best kind of greeting for the pat ent visitors and for those who celebrated on December 21st and 22nd in the Nurses' Home.

The professional staff party on the evening of Thursday, December 21st, was voted the best ever. The doctors attended almost to a man, and the nurses acted as hostesses, with the addition of a group of entertainers from the Lexington Grange. Dancing throughout the evening was specially enjoyed, with musical accompaniment to which Dr. Edward Halligan as pianist and Dr. Bouve with his accordian added spirit. On Mr. Paine's committee for the party Miss Rogers acted as co-chairman, Miss Esther Lynch had charge of the decorations, Miss Curran of the program, and Miss Mildred Bagley of the early and late collations, which in quality, variety, and attractive arrangement will be long remembered.

On the afternoon of Friday, December 22nd, there was another successful party in the Nurses' Home, this time with the employees as special guests, and Mrs. Walter Doyle in charge. Four numbers supplied by entertainers, included the talented Johnson family of acrobatic dancers, carols by a group of Boy Scouts from Troop 12, directed by Mrs. Vincent Eckhard, and other music by Geraldine DeFilippo and Maureen Cullen. Social and square dancing and delicious refreshments were also much enjoyed by the thirty guests.

For the patients Christmas Day was made as nearly homelike as could be managed, with family and friends welcomed throughout the day so far as the necessary nursing care made possible. At intervals arranged by Miss Rogers, carols were sung by the Staff and Key Society, by Troop 12 of the Boy Scouts, Troop 10 of the Girl Scouts, and a group from the Junior High School. The Dietary Department and Mr. Paine sent greetings on gaily decorated trays with Christmas breakfast, and the note of cheer and good wishes from the hospital staff was repeated with mid-day dinner to supplement the excellent menu.

As this reporter has gone about on the day after Christmas, talking with patients, staff members, and employees, the feeling is of a very pleasant celebration, carefully planned by the administration with full cooperation of everyone in the hospital. The result seems to be that convalescence has been hastened for all those who had to spend Christmas in the Hospital.

John E. Mackley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Mackley of 125 Highland avenue, a senior at Wilbraham Academy, is spending the holiday season at home with his parents.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

A copy of the textbook used by this class is available at the Library to those interested in seeing what the course covers.

The Red Cross Motor Corps brought four pints of blood to the Winchester Hospital on December 21. Junior Red Cross members were brought to Bedford Hospital to fill nut cups last Saturday.

Mr. Thomas Duddy, a Director of the Winchester Red Cross, has arranged to have 28 veterans from Bedford Hospital shown through the diesel shops in Charlestown next Wednesday. These veterans have been taking correspondence courses in engineering.

The Winchester Red Cross wishes all its friends a Happy New Year.

SENIOR FORUM ENJOYS CHRISTMAS CAROLING

Even a downpour of rain did not deter the Senior Forum who started out at 6:30 Christmas Eve for the annual Christmas Caroling to sick and shut-ins of the church. Dick Fernandez and Mary Jane Davis, Forum Transportation Committee, had been busy all week securing cars for the carolers. Dorothy Brandt led the singing and Scott Cunningham and Ed Tarr of the Forum Music Club added accompaniment on saxophone and trumpet. A police escort helped the young people keep together and find the various places where sick and shut-ins of the church were looking forward to a Christmas Eve brightened by young people's cheer and good will.

At the close of the visits, the party made their way to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Chidley where a short program of fun and music was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served. The young people were very appreciative of all the people who helped make the evening a success, and the shut-ins were very grateful to the young people for bringing them the carols.

EARTH, UNIVERSE YIELD SECRETS TO 1950'S EXPLORATION LEGIONS

From the tropical jungles, tallest mountain, ocean depths, the stratosphere, and inter-stellar space in 1950 yielded nuggets of new knowledge to bolster depleted armies of explorers with boundless curiosity.

Science took a searching look at today's living world, at fossils of creatures that lived perhaps 200 million years ago, and at plenty in between, says the National Geographic Society. It employed new techniques, such as the "carbon-14" radioactivity test for age of "ancient" earth as revolutionizing knowledge in archeology.

Record Meteorite in Canada

Drama-packed are the implications behind a Canadian geologist's recognition of the nature of a lake-filled depression two and one half miles in diameter in the solid granite plain of northern-most Quebec. It is a meteorite crater gouged out perhaps 4,000 years ago by a shooting star weighing millions of tons which struck with the force of 10,000 A-bombs. It dwarfs Arizona's three-quarter-mile Diablo crater, largest previously known.

Smithsonian Institution geologists in Alaska's Brooks Range were the men to probe back 200 million years, finding that upthrust region rich in marine fossils of such an ancient age. Carbon radiation counts on primitive tools taken from sites in northwestern Alaska were expected to add proof that North America's first human inhabitants came to Alaska from Siberia. Carbon counts also dated an Aleutian mould culture to 4,000 years ago and labeled wood spear shafts unearthed near Lovelock, Nevada, as 7,000 years old.

New Mexico rocks gave University of Kansas delvers bones of lemurs, monkey ancestors that disported 60 million years ago. Wyoming produced the jawbone of a shrew of a period almost as old, perhaps the smallest mammal known to history. Arizona sandstone yielded bones of camel, horse, and dog types of a million years back, and a New Jersey road excavation brought a 100,000-year-old giant ground sloth to light. Smithsonian teams uncovered Indian relics at sites in Texas and the Dakotas soon to be drowned by great new dams.

Ivorybills Reported

Ornithologists were thrilled in March when a pair of ivorybills, second largest of the woodpecker tribe and long on the verge of extinction, were noted in Florida. the first reported since 1947. The National Audubon Society also noted the discovery of a colony of 3,500 American flamingoes in Yucatan state, Mexico, now the largest colony known.

Elsewhere in North America, the National Geographic Society-Bartol Research Foundation cosmic ray project in its fifth year probed for the source of the mysterious particles by sending instruments 20 miles above Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay, Canada . . . Among several who made the hazardous boat trip down the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, a Chicago art teacher became the first woman to solo the journey . . . At Ixcateopan, Mexico, manuscripts turned over to the village priest by an old family led to the grave of Montezuma's successor, Cuauhtemoc, last emperor of the Aztecs, hanged by the Spaniards in 1525.

South American Jungles Studied

In South America, wild Indian tribes of the vast Amazon River basin had their privacy invaded in 1950. A Brazilian government expedition in its seventh year of mapping a 2,500-mile jungle air and ground route from Rio de Janiero northwest to Manaus, made friendly exchanges with the Chavantes and Kalmpugos. Smithsonian ethnologist Kalervo Oberg, returning from four years in Brazil's Mato Grosso, reported contacts with the shy Nambiguara and Terena tribes, never before seen by white men.

From ten months in Ecuador, Charles Corder brought the New York Zoo 200 rare tropical birds, including two umbrella birds, 11 cocks-of-the-rock, 40 hummingbirds.

Samothrace Yields Nike's Hand

A New York University group on the Aegean island of Samothrace dug up the right hand and one finger of the renowned Winged Victory statue unearthed there in 1863. The find added evidence to date the masterpiece, now in the Paris Louvre, to about 200 B. C.

The American School of Classical Studies in Athens completed its 15th season of restoring the Agora by uncovering the altar of Ares and completing work on the Odeum restored lately. Outside modern Corinth, the School excavated a night [illegible] corner of ancient Corinth consisting of a courtyard lined with [illegible] and [illegible] by [illegible] jars, cups, dishes, and musical instruments.

New techniques of air photography highlighted the year's study by a British group of a wealth of Neolithic culture sites, unknown until 1939, on southern Italy's Foggia plain. In a cave on Levanzo, an island off Sicily's west coast, other workers found wall drawings of fish and animals, estimated to be 15,000 years old and comparable to recent discoveries in French and Spanish caves.

The island of Cyprus continued fruitful when one of the finest Greek paintings in color ever found came to light on the side of the Temple of Aphrodite at Kouklia. Specimens of post-Bronze Age sculpture and architecture also encouraged scholars at this site.

At Canterbury, England, knowledge of the plan of the Roman village there, already studied through research on foundations of buildings bombed out in World War II, was extended by delving in cellars of private homes. At Brixworth, a Roman basilica 80 feet long and 30 feet high, with arches well preserved, was revealed.

Continuing excavations under Vienna, Austria, defined more Roman antiquities. On a hilltop near Klagenfurt, progress was made in excavating a city of about 1,000 B. C. believed to be the capital of the pre-Roman kingdom of Noricum.

Himalayan Peaks Scaled

Considerable success attended mountaineers attacking high Himalayan peaks . Anapurna, 26,492 feet, conquered in June by a French team, became the highest peak ever climbed, though not the greatest climbing height man has attained. Swiss and British climbers topped 24,780-foot Abi Gaman, and a British-led party of eight made the first ascent of Bandar Punch, 20,742 feet, object of several attempts since 1947. Americans late in the year warmed up to a try at Everest, unscaled top of the world, reaching a 19,000-foot shoulder on a reconnaissance test.

Near Qala Bist, southern Afghanistan, French archeologists delved at Lashkari Bazar ("army market"), uncovering one of this four-mile-long site's three palaces of the 11th century Mahmud of Ghazni, who started the Muslim conquest of India.

Iraq, in their homeland nursery of Western civilization, unearthed a 4,000-year-old tablet that indicated the Sumerians had developed geometry 17 centuries before Euclid. Harvard's Peabody Museum group in Iraq found crude cave implements believed relics of men far pre-dating the Stone Age. Americans at Nippur found 700 clay tablets, a library of Sumerian law and literature.

Egyptologists Busy

At St. Catherine's Monastery, high on Egypt's Mt. Sinai, nearly 1,500,000 pages of records from ancient volumes and Biblical manuscripts were microfilmed for the use of scholars around the world as a project of the U. S. Library of Congress and the American Federation for the Study of Man.

A hundred feet under a native village on the east bank of the Nile, Egypt's Department of Antiquities discovered and identified the fabled, 3,500-year-old, two-mile-long Avenue of the Sphinxes, connecting the famous Temples of Luxor and Karnak. It is estimated that a similar [illegible] will be revealed by [illegible] to [illegible] to 1 to 4 [illegible] and [illegible] by the Egyptian [illegible].

North of Tindouf on the edge of the Sahara, a French group reported visiting ancient settlements believed to have been founded by refugees from Jerusalem, A. D. 70.

Separate British and American plant hunters combed central and west Africa gathering varieties of a creeping vine called Strophanthus. Their objects to determine if the [illegible] of [illegible] glycoside material of cortisone complex drug used successfully in treating rheumatoid arthritis. Mexican plants also continued under study for this purpose.

Polar Fingers Well Patrolled

Among several Arctic Institute-sponsored projects was a 15-man expedition to study glaciology on ice-capped Baffin Island. Flown in by Canadian plane, the group after four months returned aboard a Canadian Arctic patrol vessel.

A French team studied the Greenland icecap, making the first east-west crossing by motor (snow tractor), and leaving nine of their number to study weather through the winter. Commander Donald B. MacMillan made his 29th Arctic visit, taking Mrs. MacMillan and a crew of scientists and students to gather Arctic plant and animal specimens for American schools.

Antarctica was busy. A joint Norwegian-British-Swedish group completing the first of two years at Maudheim, Queen Maud Land, recorded a temperature of 132 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, on instruments sent aloft eight miles above their camp. Australians continued a camp at Atlas Cove, south from their continent. A French party spent the year mapping and studying Adelie Land.

Ocean Research Increases

A U. S. Navy-University of California survey crew reported a Mid-Pacific Mountain Range extending from Wake Island, 1,000 miles northeastward toward Hawaii, 100 miles wide at places, and having submerged peaks up to 14,000 feet high.

A joint U. S. and Canadian Navy task force of 350 men included scientists of five marine institutions who took data on the behavior of the Gulf Stream. Their use of loran for nothing current direction and rate of flow is a technique expected to speed shipping between Gulf and Atlantic coast ports.

In July, the National Geographic Society and the University of Miami initiated a continuing research on plankton, microscopic life on which all ocean fishes feed, in and near the Gulf Stream off Florida's east coast. A Danish exploration party financed by many small contributions by citizens set out on a two-year voyage in the Galathea on a possible sea-monster hunt. They will fish the greatest ocean depths in many parts of the world.

Sky Survey Opens Heavens

Discovery of two dwarf stellar systems previously unrecorded resulted in the course of the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory Sky Survey, a four-year project for photo-mapping the heavens began in mid-1949. Noted on plates exposed with the 18-inch Schmidt wide-angle telescope, one is the smallest galaxy so far known. Both are in remote space beyond the constellation Leo. A new comet of the eighth magnitude was observed in the constellation Ophiuchus. All such finds are marked for further study with Palomar's 200-inch "Big Eye."
